If no person is named as executor in the will, or selected by virtue of a power contained therein; or if, at any time there is no executor, or administrator with the will annexed, qualified to act; the surrogate must, upon the application of a creditor of the decedent, or a person interested in the estate of the decedent, or having a lien upon any real property upon which the decedent's estate has a lien, and upon such notice to the other creditors and persons interested in the estate as the surrogate deems proper, issue letters of administration with the will annexed, as follows:

1. To an executor or administrator of a sole legatee and devisee named in a will.

2. To one or more of the residuary legatees, who are qualified to act as administrators. A corporation which is a residuary legatee shall be qualified to act as such administrator, although not specially authorized by its charter or any provision of law.

4. If there is no such legatee or none who will accept, then to the husband, or wife, or to one or more of the next of kin, or to one or more of the heirs or devisees, so qualified.

If any of the above persons who would otherwise be entitled to letters is an infant or an adjudged incompetent, administration may be granted to his guardian or committee as the case may be, unless there is an adult or competent person equally entitled who will accept the same.

5. If there is no qualified person, entitled under the foregoing subdivisions, who will accept, then to the public administrator, and if there be none for the county, to the treasurer of the county or to the petitioner in the discretion of the surrogate, and if neither will accept, to any creditor or competent person designated by the surrogate.

Except as to the right of priority as provided in this section, the provisions of section 2588 of this chapter apply to an application for letters of administration with the will annexed.

Former § 2643 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 71, §§ 14, 17; L. 1881, c. 535; L. 1895, c. 734; L. 1901, c. 141; L. 1910, c. 585.

§ 2604. Id.; renunciation or exclusion of persons having prior right.

Where a person applies for letters of administration with the will annexed, as prescribed in the last section, and another person has a right to the administration, prior to that of the petitioner, a citation must issue accordingly unless a renunciation acknowledged or proved and duly certified of every person having such a prior right is filed. The surrogate may in his discretion issue a citation to a person equally entitled. The proceedings thereupon are the same as upon an application for administration upon the estate of an intestate.

Former § 2644 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 76, § 35.

§ 2605. How executor or administrator with the will annexed qualifies.

An executor from whom a bond is required as prescribed in this chapter, or an administrator with the will annexed, must, before letters are issued to him, qualify as prescribed by law with respect to an administrator upon the estate of an intestate; and the provisions of section 2591 of this chapter, with respect to the bond to be given by the administrator of an intestate, apply to a bond given pursuant to this section; except that, in fixing the penalty thereof, the surrogate must take into consideration the value of the real property, or of the proceeds thereof, which may come to the hands of the executor or administrator, by virtue of any provision contained in the will, and also how much of the estate, if any, has already been administered.

§ 2606. Appointment of administrator de bonis non.

When all the administrators, to whom letters have been issued, die or become incapable, or the letters are revoked as to all of them, the surrogate must grant letters of administration de bonis non to one or more persons as their successors, in like manner as if the former letters had not been issued; and the proceedings to procure the grant of such letters are the same, and the same security shall be required, as upon an original application; except that the surrogate may, in his discretion, in case where the estate has been partially administered upon by the former representative or representatives, fix as the penalty of the bond to be given by such successor or successors, a sum not less than the value of the assets of the estate remaining unadministered.

§ 2607. Petition to compel production of will.

Whenever it shall appear by petition of any person claiming to be interested in the estate of a decedent, that there is reasonable ground to believe that any person has destroyed, retained, concealed, or is conspiring with others to destroy, retain or conceal a will or testamentary instrument of a decedent, or has any knowledge as to such facts, the court must make an order requiring the respondent to attend and be examined in the premises, and may in such order or otherwise in the proceeding require the production of any will or testamentary instrument. Service thereof must be made by delivery of a certified copy thereof to the person or persons named therein and the payment or tender to each of the sum required by law to be paid or tendered to a witness who is subpœnaed to attend a trial in surrogate's court.

sufficient, and issue letters which as to such cause of action shall be limited to the prosecution thereof, and restraining the executor or administrator from compromise of the action or the enforcement of any judgment recovered therein until the further order of the surrogate made upon filing satisfactory security.

From former § 2664 of this Code, in part.

§ 2593. County treasurer appointed administrator to qualify and have fees.

A county treasurer appointed administrator of an estate shall qualify in the manner prescribed in section 2501; shall be vested with all the powers and rights of other administrators and be subject to the same duties and obligations; and shall be allowed the same fees for his services as are now allowed by law to administrators, which fees shall be in addition to the salary and fees now allowed by law to such county treasurer. Such treasurer may employ an attorney to act for him as such administrator other than the one, if any, appointed to act as the county attorney or the official attorney of such treasurer.

New.

§ 2594. Public administrator of Kings county.

The surrogate of the county of Kings shall, on or before the nineteenth day of October, nineteen hundred and eleven, and every five years thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, appoint a suitable person as public administrator of said county to hold office for the term of five years unless sooner removed for cause, the said term beginning on the nineteenth day of October, 1911. In case of a vacancy in said office by reason of death, resignation or otherwise said surrogate shall fill the same by appointing a suitable person as public administrator for the full term of five years from the date of such appointment and qualification. Before entering upon the performance of the duties of his office the person so appointed must take and subscribe before the county clerk, or a justice of the supreme court, the constitutional oath of office, and execute a bond with sureties to be approved by a justice of the supreme court, to the county of Kings, in a penal sum of fifty thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful discharge of all the duties of his office, and that he will fully and correctly account for and pay over all moneys and property that may come into his hands as such public administrator, according to law, which bond must be filed with the clerk of the county. He shall be entitled to retain from all moneys or property of any intestate that come into his hands after deducting all actual and necessary expenses the same commissions as are now allowed by law to executors or administrators, and he shall receive a salary for his services to be fixed by the board of estimate and apportionment of the city of New York upon the recommendation of the surrogate of the county of Kings, the same to be raised and paid each year in the same manner as are other county charges. The public administrator shall not receive to his own use any fees or emoluments in addition to his salary, and he shall pay into the treasury of the city of New York all commissions and costs received by him from any source whatever; such payments shall be made monthly and shall be accompanied by a sworn statement in such form as the comptroller of the city of New York shall prescribe, showing in detail the costs and commissions received and allowed to him. A suitable office for said public administrator shall be provided for him in one of the county buildings in the county of Kings. The surrogate shall also appoint a counsel and a clerk to said public administrator, their salaries to be fixed by the board of estimate and apportionment of the city of New York upon the recommendation of said surrogate and to be raised and paid each year in the same manner as are other county charges. He shall have the prior right and authority to collect, take charge of and administer upon the goods, chattels, personal property and debts of persons dying intestate, and for that purpose to maintain suits as such public administrator as any executor or administrator might by law in the following cases:

1. Whenever such person dies leaving any assets or effects in the county of Kings, and there is no widow, husband or next of kin entitled to a distributive share in the estate of such intestate, entitled, competent or willing to take out letters of administration on such estate.

2. Whenever assets or effects of any person dying intestate, after his death, come into the county of Kings and there is no such person entitled, competent or willing to take administration of the estate. In such cases intestacy is presumed until a will is proved and letters testamentary issued thereon. All provisions of law conferring jurisdiction, authority or power on, or otherwise relating to, the office of public administrator of the city of New York and to the office of public administrator in the several counties of the state, so far as applicable apply to and are conferred on the office hereby created. The surrogate of the county of Kings, in cases where now authorized by law to issue letters of temporary administration, may in his discretion issue letters of temporary administration to such administrator without further security than required by this section.

§ 2595. Public administrator of Erie county.

The surrogate of the county of Erie shall, within ten days after the passage of this act, and every five years thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, appoint a suitable person as public administrator of and for said county, to take office immediately, and to hold office for the term of five years from the first day of January succeeding his appointment, unless sooner removed for cause.

In case of a vacancy in said office by reason of death, resignation or otherwise, said surrogate shall fill the same by appointing a suitable person as public administrator, to take office immediately upon his appointment and qualification, and hold for the term of five years from the first day of January succeeding his appointment, unless sooner removed for cause.

Before entering upon the performance of the duties of his office, the person so appointed shall take and subscribe before the county clerk, or a justice of the supreme court, the constitutional oath of office, and execute a bond, with sufficient sureties to be approved by a justice of the supreme court, to the county of Erie, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, and that he will fully and correctly account for and pay over all moneys and property that may come into his hands as such public administrator, according to law, which bond shall be filed with the clerk of said county.

Said public administrator shall be entitled to retain from all moneys or property that come into his hands, after deducting all actual and necessary expenses, the same commissions as are now allowed by law to executors or administrators, and all provisions of law conferring jurisdiction, authority or power on, or otherwise relating to, the office of public administrator of the city of New York, and to the office of public administrator of the county of Kings, and in the several counties of the state apply to and are conferred on the office hereby created.

The surrogate of the county of Erie, where now authorized by law to issue letters of temporary administration, may, in his discretion, issue letters of temporary administration to such public administrator, without further security than required by this section.

New.

§ 2596. When and how temporary administrators may be appointed.

On the application of a creditor, or a person interested in the estate, the surrogate may, in his discretion, issue to one or more persons letters of temporary administration, in either of the following cases:

1. When for any cause, delay necessarily occurs in the granting of letters testamentary or letters of administration, or in probating a will.

An appointment of a temporary administrator, in a case specified in this subdivision must be made by an order, if a proceeding for grant of letters of administration or probate of a will is then pending. At least ten days' notice of the application for such an order must be given to each party to the proceeding who has appeared, unless the surrogate is satisfied by proof that the safety of the estate requires the notice to be shortened, in which case he may shorten the time of service to not less than two days. If no proceeding is pending, application shall be by petition and a citation shall issue in the usual manner directed to the persons entitled to letters of administration in a case where no will is known to exist; or to the executor or executors, trustee or trustees if any, and such legatees and devisees as the surrogate may direct to be cited, in cases where a will has been filed.

2. Where a person of whose estate the surrogate would have jurisdiction, if he were shown to be dead, disappears or is missing, so that, after diligent search, his abode cannot be ascertained, and under circumstances which afford reasonable ground to believe either that he is dead, or that he has become a lunatic, or that he has been secreted, confined, or otherwise unlawfully made away with; and the appointment of a temporary administrator is necessary for the protection of his property, and the rights of creditors or of those who will be interested in the estate, if it is found that he is dead.

Application for such an appointment, in a case specified in this subdivision must be made by petition, in like manner as where an application is made for administration in case of intestacy; and the proceedings are the same as prescribed in this title, relating to such last-mentioned application.

Such an application for the appointment of a temporary administrator in either case may also be made, with like effect, and in like manner, as if made by a creditor, by the county treasurer of the county where the person whose estate is in question last resided; or, if he was not a resident of the state, of the county where any of his property, real or personal, is situated. A temporary administrator must qualify as prescribed in section 2591 of this chapter with respect to an administrator-in-chief.

§ 2597. [Am'd, 1915.] General powers, etc., of temporary administrator.

A temporary administrator, appointed as prescribed in this article, has authority to take into his possession personal property; to secure and preserve it; and to collect choses in action; and, for either of these purposes, or for the purpose of determining the title to personal property in his possession, he may maintain any action or special proceeding. An action may be maintained against him, by leave of the surrogate, upon a debt of the decedent, or of the absentee whom he represents, or upon any cause of action to which the decedent or absentee would have been a party in like manner and with like effect as if he were an administrator-in-chief. The surrogate may, by an order made upon at least ten days' notice to all the parties who have appeared in the special proceeding, authorize the temporary administrator to sell, after appraisal, such personal property, specifying it, of the decedent, or of the absentee whom he represents, as it appears to be necessary to sell, for the benefit of the estate; or, if it appears that the safety of the estate requires the notice to be shortened, the surrogate may shorten the notice to not less than two days. The surrogate may, also, by order, authorize him to pay funeral expenses, or any expenses of the administration of his trust, or stenographer's or referee's fees on contest of a will or administration; and he may also direct the payment of a legacy or other pecuniary provision under a will or a distributive share or just proportionate part thereof, according to sections 2687 and 2688 of this chapter as though he were an executor or administrator.

Former § 2672 of this Code. From L. 1837, c. 460, § 24; L. 1864, c. 71, § 9; L. 1881, c. 535; L. 1915, c. 621 (in effect Sept. 1, 1915).

§ 2598. Id.; as to requiring creditors to present claims.

A temporary administrator, appointed upon the estate of either a decedent or an absentee, has the same power as an administrator-in-chief to publish a notice requiring creditors of the decedent or absentee to exhibit their demands to him. The publication thereof has the same effect, with respect to the temporary administrator, and also an executor or administrator, subsequently appointed upon the same estate, as if the temporary administrator were the executor or an administrator-in-chief, and the person to whom the subsequent letters are issued were his successor.

Former § 2673 of this Code. From L. 1870, c. 359, § 10.

§ 2599. Id.; as to paying debts.

At any time after the completion of the publication of the notice to creditors by a temporary administrator, the surrogate may, upon proof, to his satisfaction, that the assets exceed the debts, make an order, permitting the temporary administrator to pay the whole or any part of a debt, due to a creditor of the decedent or absentee; or, upon the petition of a creditor, a citation may issue to the temporary administrator, requiring him to show cause why he should not pay the petitioner's debt. When such a petition is presented, the proceedings are, in all respects, the same as where a creditor presents a petition, praying for a decree directing an executor or administrator to pay his debt, as prescribed in this chapter.

Former § 2674 of this Code. From L. 1870, c. 359, § 10.

§ 2600. Id.; as to real property.

When a temporary administrator is appointed and a proceeding is pending for the probate of a will of real property, or there is a delay in the granting of letters testamentary or administration on such a will or in the qualification of a trustee named therein, the order appointing him may confer upon him authority to take possession of real property, in the same or another county, which is affected by the will, and to receive the rents and profits thereof. The surrogate may, by an order, confer upon him authority to lease any or all of the real property, for a term not exceeding one year; or to do any other act with respect thereto, except to sell it, which is, in the surrogate's opinion, necessary for the execution of the will, or the preservation or benefit of the real property. For either of these purposes, he may maintain or defend any action or special proceeding.

Former § 2675 of this Code. From L. 1870, c. 359, § 13; L. 1901, c. 21.

§ 2601. Special powers of temporary administrator of absentee; may provide for family.

A temporary administrator, appointed upon the estate of an absentee, has all the powers and authority enumerated in the last section, with respect to the real property of the absentee. His acts, done in pursuance of that authority, bind the absentee, if living, or his heir or devisee, if he be dead, in the same manner as the acts of an executor or administrator bind his successor.

Upon proof, satisfactory to the surrogate, that the wife or any infant child of an absentee upon whose estate a temporary administrator has been appointed, is in such circumstances as to require provision to be made out of the estate for his or her maintenance, clothing, or education, the surrogate may make an order, directing the temporary administrator to make such provision therefor as the surrogate deems proper, out of any personal property in his hands, not needed for the payment of debts.

§ 2602. Notices required by this article; how given.

A notice required to be given, as prescribed in this article, to a party other than the temporary administrator, must be served upon the attorney of the party to whom notice is to be given; or, if he has not appeared by an attorney, upon the party, in like manner as a notice may be served upon an attorney in a civil action, brought in the supreme court. But where the attorney or party to be served does not reside in the surrogate's county; or where the attorney for a party has died, and no other appearance for that party has been filed in the surrogate's office; the surrogate may, by order, dispense with notice to that party; or may require notice to be given to him in any manner which he thinks proper.

Former § 2681 of this Code.

§ 2603. Letters of administration with will annexed; when and to whom granted.

If no person is named as executor in the will, or selected by virtue of a power contained therein; or if, at any time there is no executor, or administrator with the will annexed, qualified to act; the surrogate must, upon the application of a creditor of the decedent, or a person interested in the estate of the decedent, or having a lien upon any real property upon which the decedent's estate has a lien, and upon such notice to the other creditors and persons interested in the estate as the surrogate deems proper, issue letters of administration with the will annexed, as follows:

1. To an executor or administrator of a sole legatee and devisee named in a will.

2. To one or more of the residuary legatees, who are qualified to act as administrators. A corporation which is a residuary legatee shall be qualified to act as such administrator, although not specially authorized by its charter or any provision of law.

If any of the above persons who would otherwise be entitled to letters is an infant or an adjudged incompetent, administration may be granted to his guardian or committee as the case may be, unless there is an adult or competent person equally entitled who will accept the same.

5. If there is no qualified person, entitled under the foregoing subdivisions, who will accept, then to the public administrator, and if there be none for the county, to the treasurer of the county or to the petitioner in the discretion of the surrogate, and if neither will accept, to any creditor or competent person designated by the surrogate.

Except as to the right of priority as provided in this section, the provisions of section 2588 of this chapter apply to an application for letters of administration with the will annexed.

Former § 2643 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 71, §§ 14, 17; L. 1881, c. 535; L. 1895, c. 734; L. 1901, c. 141; L. 1910, c. 585.

§ 2604. Id.; renunciation or exclusion of persons having prior right.

Where a person applies for letters of administration with the will annexed, as prescribed in the last section, and another person has a right to the administration, prior to that of the petitioner, a citation must issue accordingly unless a renunciation acknowledged or proved and duly certified of every person having such a prior right is filed. The surrogate may in his discretion issue a citation to a person equally entitled. The proceedings thereupon are the same as upon an application for administration upon the estate of an intestate.

Former § 2644 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 76, § 35.

§ 2605. How executor or administrator with the will annexed qualifies.

An executor from whom a bond is required as prescribed in this chapter, or an administrator with the will annexed, must, before letters are issued to him, qualify as prescribed by law with respect to an administrator upon the estate of an intestate; and the provisions of section 2591 of this chapter, with respect to the bond to be given by the administrator of an intestate, apply to a bond given pursuant to this section; except that, in fixing the penalty thereof, the surrogate must take into consideration the value of the real property, or of the proceeds thereof, which may come to the hands of the executor or administrator, by virtue of any provision contained in the will, and also how much of the estate, if any, has already been administered.

§ 2606. Appointment of administrator de bonis non.

When all the administrators, to whom letters have been issued, die or become incapable, or the letters are revoked as to all of them, the surrogate must grant letters of administration de bonis non to one or more persons as their successors, in like manner as if the former letters had not been issued; and the proceedings to procure the grant of such letters are the same, and the same security shall be required, as upon an original application; except that the surrogate may, in his discretion, in case where the estate has been partially administered upon by the former representative or representatives, fix as the penalty of the bond to be given by such successor or successors, a sum not less than the value of the assets of the estate remaining unadministered.

Former § 2693 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 72, 78, §§ 19, 45; L. 1837, c. 460, § 33; L. 1846, c. 288; L. 1889, c. 503.

§ 2608. Probate of wills of citizens of the United States domiciled in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The last will and testament of any person being a citizen of the United States, or, if female, whose father or husband previously shall have declared his intention to become such citizen, who shall have died, or hereafter shall die, while domiciled or resident within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or any of its dependencies, which shall affect property within this state and which shall have been duly proven within such foreign jurisdiction, and there admitted to probate, shall be admitted to probate in any county of this state wherein shall be any property affected thereby, upon filing in the office of the surrogate of such county, and there recording, a copy of such last will and testament, certified under the hand and seal of a consul-general of the United States resident within such foreign jurisdiction, together with the proofs of the said last will and testament, made and accepted within such foreign jurisdiction, certified in like manner. Letters testamentary on such last will and testament shall be issued to the persons named therein to be the executors and trustees, or either thereof, or to those of them who, prior to the issuance of such letters, by formal renunciation, duly acknowledged or proven, and duly certified, shall not have renounced the trust therein devolved upon them; provided, that before any such will shall be admitted to probate in any county of this state, the same proceedings shall be had in the surrogate's court of the proper county as are required by law upon the proof of the last will and testament of a resident of this state who shall have died therein; except that there need be cited upon such probate proceedings only the beneficiaries named in such will.

Former § 2705 of this Code. From L. 1894, c. 731, § 1; L. 1909, c. 65.

§ 2609. Who may propound will; contents of petition.

A petition for the probate of a will may be presented by:

Any person designated in the will as executor, devisee, legatee, testamentary trustee or guardian;

A creditor of the decedent, or any other person interested in the estate;

Any party to an action brought, or about to be brought, in which action the decedent, if living, would be a proper party.

Such petition in addition to the general allegations contained in section 2521 of this chapter shall describe such will, and any other will of the same testator on file in the surrogate's office, and set forth the names and post office addresses, so far as they can be obtained with due diligence, of all the devisees, legatees and beneficiaries named in said will, or in any other will so filed.

Former § 2614 of this Code, modified. From L. 1837, c. 406, § 4; L. 1897, c. 177.

§ 2610. Who to be cited thereupon; contents of citation.

The following persons must be cited upon a petition, presented as prescribed in the last section:

If the will relates exclusively to real property, the husband or wife, if any, and all the heirs of the testator.

If the will relates exclusively to personal property, the husband or wife, if any, and all the next of kin of the testator.

If the will relates to both real and personal property, the husband or wife, if any, and all the heirs, and all the next of kin of the testator.

In every case, each person designated in the will as executor, testamentary trustee or guardian, and each person named as executor, testamentary trustee or guardian, or beneficiary in any other will of the same testator filed in the surrogate's office.

In addition to the general contents contained in sections 2523 and 2524 of this chapter, the citation must also set forth the name of the person by whom the will is propounded; whether the will relates exclusively to real property, or to personal property, or to both; and if the will is nuncupative, that fact.

Former §§ 2615, 2616 of this Code, consolidated and modified. From 2 R. S. (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 2), § 37; L. 1837, c. 460, §§ 5, 7; L. 1891, c. 174; L. 1892, c. 627; L. 1894, c. 118; L. 1905, c. 438; L. 1911, c. 433.

§ 2611. Witnesses to be examined; proof required.

Before a written will is admitted to probate, two, at least, of the subscribing witnesses must be produced and examined, if so many are within the state, and competent and able to testify. Before a nuncupative will is admitted to probate, its execution and the tenor thereof must be proved by at least two witnesses. The proofs must be reduced to writing. Any party to the proceeding may request the oral examination of the subscribing witnesses to the will and may examine such witnesses and any other witness produced by the proponent before the surrogate, without first filing objections to the probate of such will.

Former § 2618 of this Code, modified. From L. 1837, c. 460, §§ 10, 11; L. 1841, c. 129, §§ 1, 2, 3; L. 1913, c. 412.

§ 2612. Absent, etc., witnesses to be accounted for; dispensing with testimony; commission; proof of handwriting.

The death, absence from the state, or incompetency by reason of lunacy, or otherwise of a subscribing witness required to be examined as prescribed in this or the last section, or the fact that such witness cannot, with due diligence, be found within the state, or cannot be examined by reason of his physical or mental condition may be shown by affidavit or other competent evidence, and when so shown to the satisfaction of the surrogate, the surrogate may by an order entered in the minutes or recited in the decree dispense with his testimony; or in a case where such witness is absent from the state and it is shown that his testimony can be obtained with reasonable diligence, the surrogate may, in his discretion, and shall upon the demand of any party, require his testimony to be taken by commission. Where the testimony of a subscribing witness has been dispensed with as provided in this section, and one subscribing witness has been examined, the will may be admitted to probate upon the testimony of such subscribing witness alone.

If all the subscribing witnesses to a written will be dead, or incompetent by reason of lunacy or otherwise, to testify, or unable to testify, or are absent from the state and their testimony has been dispensed with as provided in this section, or if a subscribing witness has forgotten the occurrence, or testifies against the execution of the will, or was not present with the other witness at the execution of the will; the will may nevertheless be established, upon proof of the handwriting of the testator, and of the subscribing witnesses, and also of such other circumstances as would be sufficient to prove the will upon the trial of an action.

Former §§ 2619, 2620 of this Code, modified. From L. 1837, c. 460, §§ 10, 11, 20; L. 1882, c. 399; L. 1888, c. 508; L. 1902, c. 114.

§ 2613. Proof of lost or destroyed will.

A lost or destroyed will can be admitted to probate in a surrogate's court, but only in a case where a judgment establishing the will could be rendered by the supreme court, as prescribed in section 1865 of this act.

Former § 2621 of this Code. From L. 1870, c. 359, § 8; see 2 R. S. 68, § 67b.

§ 2614. Probate not allowed, unless surrogate satisfied, etc.

Before admitting a will to probate, the surrogate must inquire particularly into all the facts and circumstances, and must be satisfied with the genuineness of the will, and the validity of its execution.

If it appears to the surrogate that the will was duly executed; and that the testator, at the time of executing it, was in all respects competent to make a will and not under restraint; it must be admitted to probate as a will valid to pass real property, or personal property, or both, as the surrogate determines, and the petition and citation require, and must be recorded accordingly. The decree admitting it to probate must state whether the probate was or was not contested.

Former §§ 2622, 2623 of this Code, consolidated and modified. From L. 1837, c. 460, §§ 17, 10; 2 R. S. 58 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 1), § 14; L. 1877, c. 206, § 2.

§ 2615. Construction of will, how obtained.

An executor, administrator with the will annexed, or any person interested in obtaining a determination as to the validity, construction or effect of any disposition of property contained in a will, may present to the surrogate's court in which such will was probated, a petition setting forth the facts which show his interest, the names and post-office addresses of the other parties interested, and the particular portion of such will concerning which he requests the determination of the court.

If the surrogate entertains the application, a citation shall issue to all persons interested in the question to be presented, to show cause why such determination should not be made. On the return of the citation the surrogate shall make such decree as justice requires.

If a party expressly puts in issue in a proceeding for the probate of a will the validity, construction, or effect of any disposition of property, contained in such will, the surrogate may determine the question, upon rendering a decree, after notice given in such manner as the surrogate directs to all persons interested who do not appear on such application in person or by attorney; or, unless the decree refuses to admit the will to probate, by reason of a failure to prove any of the matters specified in section 2614, may admit the will to probate and reserve the questions so raised for future consideration and decree.

In part from former § 2624 of this Code. From L. 1870, c. 359, § 11; L. 1910, c. 584.

§ 2616. Notice of probate to legatees and devisees.

Before letters are issued, there shall be filed in the surrogate's court a written notice, entitled in the proceeding, stating the name of the testator, that his last will and testament has been offered for probate, or probated, as the case may be, and the name and post-office address of the proponent, and of each and every legatee, devisee or other beneficiary, as set forth in the petition, who has not been cited or has not appeared or waived citation, with proof by affidavit of the mailing of a copy of such notice to each of said beneficiaries.

New.

§ 2617. Who may file objections to the probate of an alleged will; jury trial.

Any person interested in the event as devisee, legatee or otherwise, in a will or codicil offered for probate; or interested as heir-at-law, next of kin, or otherwise, in any property, any portion of which is disposed of or affected, or any portion of which is attempted to be disposed of or affected, by a will or codicil offered for probate; or is interested as devisee, legatee, executor, testamentary trustee or guardian in any other will or codicil alleged to have been made by the same testator and not duly revoked by him; may file objections to any will or codicil so offered for probate.

Such objections must be filed at or before the close of the testimony taken before the surrogate on behalf of the proponent, or at such subsequent time as the surrogate may direct, and if a jury trial of any issue is desired the same shall be demanded in the objections.

New.

§ 2618. Notice to legatees and devisees of objections filed.

Whenever objections are filed to the probate of a will, the proponent shall file the notice specified in section 2616 and serve the same on each of the parties therein named, and upon any other persons directed by the surrogate to be notified, in such manner and within such time as the surrogate shall direct, which notice shall have the additional statement included in or endorsed thereon that objections have been filed to the probate of such will and that the same will be heard on a day or at a term of court therein stated. Proof of due service of such notice shall be made and filed in the surrogate's office, and any decree in the proceeding shall not affect the right or interest of any such person unless he shall have been so notified.

New; see former § 2617 of this Code.

§ 2619. Proceedings upon jury trial of contested probate.

Upon the trial before the court and a jury of the objections filed to the probate of a will, or codicil, or either, the verdict of the jury or any order or decision of the judge holding the court shall be entered in the minutes of the court; and if the trial was not held in the surrogate's court, such verdict, order or decision shall be certified by the clerk of the court to the surrogate's court, whereupon the surrogate shall enter a final decree accordingly.

New.

§ 2620. Wills to be recorded and retained; exception.

Every will admitted to probate, together with the decree, order or judgment admitting it to probate shall be recorded in the proper surrogate's court. Where a written will is proved, it must be filed and remain in the surrogate's office. But when it shall be shown, by affidavit or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the surrogate, that the decedent left real or personal property in another state or territory of the United States or in a foreign country, and that the laws of such state, territory or country require the production of the original will before the provisions thereof become effective, the surrogate may, at any time after probate, and upon such notice to the parties interested in the estate as he may think proper, cause any original will remaining on file in his office to be sent by post or otherwise to any court which, or to any officer of such state, territory or country who, under the laws thereof, is empowered to receive the same for probate, or may deliver such will to any person interested in the probate thereof in such state, territory or country, or to his representative, upon such terms as he shall think proper for the preservation of the will and the protection of other parties interested in the estate.

From former § 2620 of this Code.

§ 2621. Will certified, or record thereof, may be read in evidence.

The surrogate must cause to be indorsed upon, or annexed to, the original will admitted to probate, or the exemplified copy, or statement of the tenor of the will, which was admitted without production of an original written will, a certificate, under his hand, or the hand of the clerk of his court, and his seal of office, stating that it has, upon due proof, been admitted to probate, as a will valid to pass real or personal property, or both, as the case may be. The will, or the copy or statement, so authenticated, the record thereof, or an exemplified copy of the record, may be read in evidence, as proof of the original will, or of the contents or tenor thereof, without further evidence, and with the effect specified in this chapter.

Former § 2629 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 58, § 15; Id., 80, § 58; L. 1882, c. 399; L. 1910, c. 578.

§ 2622. Recording wills proved elsewhere within the state.

A certified copy of a will of real property, proved and recorded in any court of the state of competent jurisdiction, must be recorded upon the request of any person interested therein, in the office of the county clerk or register as the case requires of any county in which real property of the testator is situated.

Former § 2630 of this Code. From L. 1837, c. 460, § 68.

§ 2623. Records of certain wills heretofore proved; how far evidence.

The exemplification of the record of a will, proved before the judge of the former court of probate, and recorded in his office before the first day of January, in the year 1785, certified under the seal of the officer having custody of the record, must be admitted in evidence in any case, after it has been made to appear that diligent and fruitless search has been made for the original will.

A certified copy of the last will and testament of any deceased person, which has been admitted to probate, whether as a will of real or personal property, or both, and recorded in the office of the surrogate in any county of this state, shall be admitted in evidence in any of the courts of this state, without the proofs and examination taken on the probate thereof, and whether such proofs shall have been recorded or not, with like effect as if the original of such will had been produced and proven in such court, when thirty years have elapsed since the will was admitted to probate and recorded. And the recording of such will shall be evidence that the same was duly admitted to probate. The exemplification of the record of a will which has been proved before the surrogate or judge of probate, or other officer exercising the like jurisdiction of another state must, when certified by the officer having by law, when the certificate was made, custody of the record, be admitted in evidence as if the original will was produced and proved, when thirty years have elapsed since the will was proved.

Former §§ 2631, 2632 of this Code, combined. From 2 R. S. 59, § 20; L. 1871, c. 361, § 1; L. 1881, c. 705; L. 1894, c. 89; L. 1901, c. 540.

2624. Revocation of letters upon proof of will.

Where, after letters of administration, on the ground of intestacy, have been granted, a will is admitted to probate, and letters are issued thereupon; or where a subsequent will is admitted to probate and letters are issued thereupon; the decree, granting probate, must revoke the former letters.

Former § 2684 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 78 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 2), § 46.

§ 2625. When letters testamentary may be issued.

After a will has been admitted to probate any person entitled to letters thereunder who is competent by law to serve, and who appears and qualifies, is entitled to letters testamentary thereupon.

A person entitled to letters upon a contingency may appear and show that the contingency has happened by which he is entitled to such letters.

A person named as an executor by a person other than the testator under a valid power contained in a will, must appear and file an acknowledged or proved, and duly certified selection of himself as an executor within fifteen days after the date of the decree admitting the will to probate, in default whereof the power of selection is deemed to have been renounced, unless for good cause shown the surrogate extends such time or relieves the default.

New. From §§ 2636, 2640 of this Code.

§ 2626. Supplementary letters; executors not named in letters not to act.

If the disability of a person under age, or an alien named as executor in a will, be removed before the execution of the provisions of such will is completed, he shall be entitled, on petition being filed setting forth the facts to supplementary letters testamentary, to be issued in the same manner as the original letters, and authorized to join in the execution of the will with the persons previously appointed. A person named in a will as executor, shall be deemed to be superseded by the issue to another person of letters testamentary, and shall have no power or authority whatever as such executor until he appears and qualifies.

Former § 2613 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 70, 71, 72, §§ 5, 15, 16, 22; L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2627. Executor failing to qualify or renounce, how excluded.

If a person named as executor in a will, does not qualify or renounce, within fifteen days after probate thereof; or if a person chosen by virtue of a power in the will, does not qualify or renounce within fifteen days after the filing of the instrument designating him; or, in either case, if objections are filed, and the executor does not qualify or renounce, within five days after they are determined, in his favor, or, in a case specified in section 2567 of this chapter, within five days after an objection has been established; the surrogate must, upon the application of any other executor, or any creditor or person interested in the estate, make an order requiring him to qualify within a time therein specified; and directing that, in default of so doing, he be deemed to have renounced his appointment. Where it appears, by affidavit, or other written proof, to the satisfaction of the surrogate, that such an order cannot, with due diligence, be served personally within the state, upon the person therein named, the surrogate may prescribe the manner in which it must be served, which may be by publication. If the person, so appointed executor, does not qualify within the time fixed, or within such further time as the surrogate allows for that purpose, an order must be made reciting the facts, and declaring that he has renounced his appointment as executor. Such an order may be revoked by the surrogate in his discretion, and letters testamentary may be issued to the person so failing to renounce or qualify, upon his application, in a case where he might have retracted an express renunciation, as prescribed in the next section.

Former § 2642 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 70, 71 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 2), §§ 9, 10, 11, 12; L. 1883, c. 401.

§ 2628. Renunciation by nominated executor; retraction thereof.

A person, named as executor in a will, may renounce the appointment by an instrument in writing, signed by him, and acknowledged, or proved, and duly certified, or attested by one or more witnesses, and proved to the satisfaction of the surrogate. Such a renunciation may be retracted by a like instrument, at any time before letters testamentary, or letters of administration with the will annexed, have been issued to any other person in his place; or, after they have been so issued, if they have been revoked, or the person to whom they were issued, has died, or become a lunatic, and there is no other acting executor or administrator. Where a retraction is so made, letters testamentary may, in the discretion of the surrogate, be issued to the person making it upon such notice as the surrogate may require. An instrument specified in this section must be filed in the surrogate's office.

§ 2629. Ancillary letters upon foreign probate.

Where a will of personal property made by a person who resided without the state at the time of the execution thereof, or at the time of his death, has been admitted to probate or established within the foreign country, or admitted to probate within the state or the territory of the United States, where it was executed, or where the testator resided at the time of his death; the surrogate's court having jurisdiction of the estate, must, upon an application made as prescribed in this article, accompanied by a copy of the will, and of the foreign letters, if any have been issued, authenticated as prescribed in section 45 of the decedent estate law, record the will and the foreign letters, and issue thereupon ancillary letters testamentary, or ancillary letters of administration with the will annexed, as the case requires.

Former § 2695 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 67 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 1), § 68a; L. 1840, c. 384, § 2; L. 1888, c. 495; L. 1909, c. 65.

§ 2630. Id.; upon foreign grant of administration.

Upon application by the party entitled as hereinafter provided, or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact made as prescribed in this article, to a surrogate's court having jurisdiction of the estate, and upon the presentation of a copy, authenticated as prescribed in section 45 of the decedent estate law, of letters of administration upon the estate of a decedent who resided at the time of his death without this state, but within the United States, granted within the state or territory where the decedent so resided, or, in cases where the decedent, at the time of his death, resided without the United States, upon the presentation to such surrogate's court of satisfactory proof that the party so applying either personally or by such attorney-in-fact, is entitled to the possession in the foreign country of the personal estate of such decedent, the surrogate's court to which such copy of such foreign letters so authenticated, or such proof, is so presented, must issue ancillary letters of administration in accordance with such application, except in the following cases:

1. Where original letters testamentary or ancillary letters upon foreign probate have been previously issued, or the application therefor has not been finally disposed of.

2. Where original letters of administration, upon the estate, have been previously issued to a person entitled to the same, who is legally competent to act, or the application therefor has not been finally disposed of.

Former § 2696 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 75 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 2), § 31; L. 1881, c. 535; L. 1888, c. 495; L. 1909, c. 65.

§ 2631. To whom ancillary letters granted.

Where the will specially appoints one or more persons as the executor or executors thereof, with respect to personal property situated within the state, the ancillary letters testamentary must be directed to the person or persons so appointed, or to those who are competent to act and who qualify. If all are incompetent or fail to qualify, or in a case where such an appointment is not made, ancillary letters testamentary, or ancillary letters of administration, issued as prescribed in this article, must be directed to the person named in the foreign letters or to the person otherwise entitled to the possession of the personal property of the decedent, unless another person applies therefor, and files with his petition, an instrument, executed by the foreign executor or administrator, or person otherwise entitled as aforesaid; or, if there are two or more, by all who have qualified and are acting; and also acknowledged, or proved, and duly certified, authorizing the petitioner to receive such ancillary letters, in which case, the surrogate must, if the petitioner is a fit and competent person, issue such letters directed to him. Where two or more persons are named in the foreign letters, or in an instrument executed as prescribed in this section, the ancillary letters may be directed to either or any of them, without naming the others, if the others fail to qualify, or if, for good cause shown to the surrogate's satisfaction, the decree so directs.

§ 2632. Petition; citation.

An application for ancillary letters testamentary, or ancillary letters of administration, as prescribed in this article, must be made by petition which must set forth the amount of security given on the original appointment, the name and residence of each creditor, or person claiming to be a creditor residing within the state, and the amount of his claim so far as the same may be ascertained. Citation shall thereupon issue to the state comptroller, and to such creditors, and may issue generally to all creditors or persons claiming to be creditors.

Former § 2698 of this Code, modified. From L. 1863, c. 403, §§ 2, 3; L. 1899, 717; L. 1910, c. 234.

§ 2633. Hearing; security.

Upon the return of the citation, the surrogate must ascertain, as nearly as he can do so, the amount of debts due or claimed to be due, from the decedent to residents of the state. Before ancillary letters are issued, the person to whom they are awarded, must qualify, as prescribed for the qualification of an administrator upon the estate of an intestate; except that the penalty of the bond may, in the discretion of the surrogate, be in such a sum, not exceeding twice the amount which appears to be due from the decedent to residents of the state, as will, in the surrogate's opinion, effectually secure the payment of those debts; or the sums which the resident creditors will be entitled to receive, from the persons to whom the letters are issued, upon an accounting and distribution, either within the state, or within the jurisdiction where the principal letters were issued. If however there appear to be no such creditors, or transfer tax assessable, and a citation to show cause why such letters should not issue without a bond, has been directed generally to all creditors within the state and has been duly served by publication, such letters may issue without a bond.

Former § 2699 of this Code. From L. 1863, c. 403, § 1.

§ 2634. Persons acting under ancillary letters must transmit assets.

The person to whom ancillary letters are issued, as prescribed in this article, must unless otherwise directed in the decree awarding the letters; or in a decree made upon an accounting; or by an order of the surrogate, made during the administration of the estate; or by the judgment or order of a court of record, in an action to which that person is a party; transmit the money and other personal property of the decedent, received by him after the letters are issued, or then in his hands in another capacity, to the state, territory, or country, where the principal letters were granted, to be disposed of pursuant to the laws thereof.

Former § 2700 of this Code.

§ 2635. Id.; when they may be directed to pay, etc., without transmission.

The surrogate's court, or any court of the state, which has jurisdiction of an action to procure an accounting, or a judgment construing the will, may in a proper case, by its judgment or decree, direct a person, to whom ancillary letters are issued as prescribed in this article, to pay, out of the money or the avails of the property, received by him under the ancillary letters, and with which he is chargeable upon his accounting, the debts of the decedent, due to creditors residing within the state; or, if the amount of all the decedent's debts here and elsewhere exceeds the amount of all the decedent's personal property applicable thereto, to pay such a sum to each creditor, residing within the state as equals that creditor's share of all the distributable assets, or to distribute the same among the legatees or next of kin, or otherwise dispose of the same, as justice requires.

Former § 2701 of this Code.

§ 2636. Id.; general powers and duties.

The provisions of this chapter, relating to the rights, powers, duties and liabilities of an executor or administrator, apply to a person to whom ancillary letters are granted, as prescribed in this article; except those contained in title fourth thereof relating to the mortgage, lease or sale of real property, or where special provision is otherwise made in this article; or where a contrary intent is expressed in, or plainly to be inferred from, the context.

Former § 2702 of this Code.

§ 2637. How testamentary trustee shall qualify.

A testamentary trustee named in a will or appointed by the surrogate shall, before exercising the duties of his office, qualify by taking and filing with the surrogate an oath of office and such bond as may be required by the surrogate.

A trust company or other trustee exempted by law from taking an oath of office, and filing a bond, shall file a consent to accept such appointment duly executed and acknowledged.

New.

§ 2638. Appointment of successor.

When all the persons named in a will as testamentary trustees die prior to the probate of the will, or by an instrument in writing renounce the appointment, or when all the testamentary trustees die or become incompetent, or are by a decree of the surrogate's court, removed, or allowed to resign, or where one of two or more persons named in a will as testamentary trustees dies prior to the probate of the will, or by an instrument in writing, renounces his or their appointment, or where one of two or more testamentary trustees dies or becomes a lunatic, or is by decree of the surrogate's court removed or allowed to resign, and the trust has not been fully executed, the surrogate's court may appoint a successor or successors, unless such appointment would contravene the express terms of the will, or in a case where there is a trustee in office, unless all the beneficiaries waive such appointment in writing. Until a successor is appointed the remaining trustee or trustees may proceed and execute the trust. The successor may be appointed upon the application of any person interested and upon notice to such persons as the surrogate may designate.

Former § 2818 of this Code, modified, see L. 1870, c. 359, § 3; L. 1884, c. 408; L. 1903, c. 370.

§ 2639. Security to be required from a trustee or executor acting as trustee.

Whenever by any last will and testament, or by an order of the surrogate's court, a trustee is appointed, or an executor is appointed who is required to hold, manage, or invest any money, securities or property real or personal for the benefit of another, such trustee, or executor, before receiving any such property into his possession or control shall, unless contrary to the express terms of the will, execute to the people of the state of New York, in the usual form, a bond with sufficient surety or sureties in an amount to be fixed by the surrogate. Upon any judicial settlement and partial distribution of such estate or fund the decree may provide for the discharge of the existing bond, and the filing of a new bond covering the amount still remaining in the hands of such executor or trustee.

This section shall not affect any executor or trustee named in a will executed before this section takes effect.

New.

§ 2640. Proceedings where testamentary trustee is also executor or administrator.

Where the same person is a testamentary trustee, and also the executor of the will, or an administrator upon the same estate, proceedings taken by or against him, as prescribed in this chapter, do not affect him as executor or administrator, or the creditors of, or persons interested in, the general estate, except in one of the following cases:

1. Where he presents a petition, praying for the revocation of his letters, he may, also, in the same petition, set forth the facts upon showing which he would be allowed to resign as testamentary trustee; and may thereupon pray for a decree allowing him so to resign, and for a citation accordingly.

2. Where a person presents a petition, praying for the revocation of letters issued to an executor or administrator; and any of the facts set forth in the petition are made, by the provisions of this chapter, sufficient to entitle the same person to present a petition praying for the removal of a testamentary trustee; the petitioner may pray for a decree removing the person complained of in both capacities, and for a citation accordingly.

In either case, proceedings upon the petition for the resignation or removal, as the case requires, of the testamentary trustee, and for the judicial settlement of his account, may be taken, as prescribed in this chapter, in connection with, or separately from, the like proceedings upon the petition for the revocation of the letters, as the surrogate directs.

Former § 2819 of this Code.

§ 2641. Application of this chapter.

The provisions of this chapter apply to a trust created by the will of a resident of the state, or relating to real property, situated within the state, without regard to the residence of the trustee, or the time of the execution of the will.

Former § 2820 of this Code.

2657. Will or deed containing appointment to be proved, etc., and recorded.
2658. Guardian by will or deed; qualification, letters, etc.
2659. Appointment of successor.
2660. Guardian to file annual inventory and account.
2661. Affidavit to be annexed thereto.
2662. Annual examination of guardian's accounts.
2663. Proceedings, when account defective, etc.
2664. Surrogate may direct as to infant's maintenance.

§ 2642. Guardian by judicial appointment and approval.

A general guardian is one appointed by the supreme, or surrogate's court, for an infant, either over or under fourteen years of age.

A guardian by will is one appointed by the will of a father or mother in accordance with the provision of the domestic relations law and of section 1745 of the code of civil procedure, who has duly qualified pursuant to the provisions of this article.

A guardian by deed is one appointed by the deed of a father or mother in accordance with the provisions of the domestic relations law, who has duly qualified pursuant to the provisions of this article.

The term "guardian" as used in this chapter applies to all such guardians, except ancillary guardians.

New.

§ 2643. Power of court to appoint guardians.

The surrogate's court has the like power and authority to appoint a general guardian of the person or of the property, or both, of an infant, which the chancellor had, on the thirty-first day of December, 1846. It has also power and authority to appoint a general guardian, of the person or of the property, or both, of an infant whose father or mother is living, and to appoint a general guardian of the property only, of an infant married woman. Such power and authority must be exercised in like manner as they were exercised by the court of chancery, subject to the provisions of this act.

Former § 2821 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 151 (Part 2, c. 8, tit. 3), § 6; L. 1870, c. 341; L. 1871, c. 708.

§ 2644. Jurisdiction to appoint general guardian.

Where an infant has no guardian, a surrogate's court has jurisdiction to appoint a general guardian of an infant's person, or property, or of both, in the following cases:

1. Where the infant is a resident of that county, or has sojourned in that county for at least one year immediately preceding the application.

2. Where the infant is not a resident of the state, but has property, real or personal, situated in that county.

From § 2822 of this Code, in part.

§ 2645. Petition for appointment of general guardian of infant; by whom made.

A petition for the appointment of a general guardian of the person, or property, or both, of an infant over the age of fourteen years must be made by the infant, except that such a petition may be made by any person where such infant is of unsound mind or refuses to make such petition, and in the judgment of the surrogate it is necessary or proper that such a guardian should be appointed.

A petition for the appointment of a general guardian of the person, or property, or both, of an infant under the age of fourteen years may be made by any person in behalf of such infant.

From §§ 2822, 2826, 2827 of this Code, in part.

§ 2646. Petition for appointment of general guardian for infant; contents.

A petition for the appointment of a general guardian of an infant shall set forth:

1. The full name, residence and date of birth.

2. The names of the father and mother and whether or not they are living, and if living, their place of residence; the name and address of the person with whom such infant resides; and the names and addresses of the nearest next-of-kin of full age residing in the county, if both father and mother are dead.

3. Whether the infant has had, at any time, a guardian appointed by will or deed, or an acting guardian in socage, or a guardian of the person appointed pursuant to section 86 of the domestic relations law.

4. The estimated value of the personal property, and of the annual income from any other personal property or real estate, to which the infant is or will be entitled.

5. The facts upon which the jurisdiction of the court depends.

6. If either parent is living and there are reasons why the parent should not be appointed such guardian, the reasons therefor.

7. If the petitioner be a non-resident married woman, and the petition relates to personal property only, it must affirmatively show that the property is not subject to the control or disposition of her husband, by the law of the petitioner's residence, and must set forth the name and residence of such husband.

8. The petition may set forth the reasons why a person named therein would be a proper and suitable person to be appointed such general guardian.

From §§ 2822, 2823, 2827 of this Code, in part.

§ 2647. Who shall be cited; discretion of surrogate.

Upon presentation of the petition, a citation to show cause why the application should not be granted shall be issued as follows:

1. To the parent or parents, who are within the state and whose residences therein are known, or if there be none, to the grandparents who are within the county.

2. To the person having the care and custody of the infant, or with whom he resides.

3. If the application is made on behalf of an infant over fourteen years of age by any person on the infant's refusal to make such application, to the infant.

4. If the application is made by a married woman, to her husband only.

But no citation shall be necessary to a parent who has abandoned the infant, or is deprived of civil rights, or divorced from the petitioner because of his or her adultery, or adjudged to be insane, or to be an habitual drunkard, or judicially deprived of the custody of the child; or in case the petitioner is a married woman to a husband who has abandoned her, or is deprived of civil rights, or divorced because of his adultery, or adjudged to be insane or an habitual drunkard.

The surrogate must inquire and ascertain as far as practicable, what relatives of the infant reside in his county or elsewhere, and with whom the infant resides; and he may in his discretion cite any relative or class of relatives to show cause why the appointment should not be made.

From §§ 2823, 2824 of this Code, in part.

§ 2648. Hearing.

Where a citation is not issued, or upon the return of a citation, the surrogate must inquire into all the facts and circumstances regarding the infant, his condition in life and surroundings, and also must ascertain as nearly as practicable the value of his personal property or income from personal property and of the rents and profits of his real property.

From §§ 2825, 2829 of this Code, in part.

§ 2649. Decree appointing general guardian; term of office.

If the surrogate is satisfied that the allegations of the petition are true in fact, and that the interests of the infant will be promoted by the appointment of a general guardian, either of his person, or of his property, or of both, he must make a decree accordingly. The same person may be appointed general guardian of both the person and the property of the infant, or the guardianship of the person and of the property may be committed to different persons. The surrogate may, in his discretion, appoint a person other than the father or mother of the infant, or other than the person nominated by the petitioner.

The term of office of a general guardian so appointed expires when the infant attains the age of twenty-one years.

From §§ 2821, 2828 of this Code, in part.

§ 2650. [Am'd, 1915.] Qualification of guardian of property.

Before letters of guardianship of an infant's property are issued by the surrogate's court, the person appointed must take an official oath as prescribed by law and execute to the infant, and file in the surrogate's office his bond, with at least two sureties in a penalty, fixed by the surrogate, not less than twice the value of the personal property, and of the rents and profits of the real property, and of the annual income receivable by him from any funds of which the general guardian will not have possession, conditioned that the guardian will, in all things, faithfully discharge the trust reposed in him, and obey all lawful directions of the surrogate touching the trust, and that he will, in all things, render a just and true account of all moneys and other properties received by him, and the application thereof, and of his guardianship, whenever required so to do, by a court of competent jurisdiction; but the surrogate may, in his discretion, limit the amount of the bond to not less than twice the value of the personal property, and of the rents and profits of the real property or such annual income receivable by him for the term of three years.

Where the property of the infant does not exceed the sum or value of $2,000, as shown by the petition, the surrogate may, in his discretion, make an order dispensing with such bond wholly or partly, and directing that the guardian collect and receive the moneys and property of his ward jointly with a person designated in the order, and that all such moneys and other property, so far as the same are conveniently capable of deposit, shall be deposited in the name of such guardian, subject to the order of the surrogate, with such bank, savings bank, trust company, or safe deposit company as shall be designated in such order, and shall be withdrawn or removed only on the order of the surrogate.

The letters issued thereupon shall contain the substance of the order.

The cost of the safe deposit box shall be a county charge.

Former § 2830 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 150, § 8; L. 1881, c. 585; L. 1892, c. 559. Am'd by L. 1914, c. 520; L. 1915, c. 642 (in effect May 14, 1915).

§ 2651. Limited and restrictive letters of guardianship.

In a case where a guardian of an infant is named or appointed, and it appears to be impracticable to give a bond sufficient to cover the whole amount of the infant's personal property, the surrogate may, in his discretion, accept security, approved by him, not less than twice the amount of the particular portion of the infant's property which the guardian will be authorized under the letters to receive; and issue letters thereon limited to the receiving and administering only such personal property for which double the security has been given, and restraining the guardian from receiving any other personal property of the infant, until the further order of the surrogate, on additional further satisfactory security.

From former § 2830 of this Code, in part, rewritten.

§ 2652. Id.; of general guardian of person.

Before letters of guardianship of an infant's person are issued by the surrogate's court, the person appointed must take the official oath, as prescribed by law. The surrogate may also require him to execute to the infant a bond, in a penalty fixed by the surrogate, and with or without sureties, as to the surrogate seems proper; conditioned that the general guardian will in all things faithfully discharge the trust reposed in him, and duly account for all money or other property which may come to his hands, as directed by the surrogate's court.

Former § 2831 of this Code.

§ 2653. Appointment of general guardian by supreme court.

Where the supreme court, or any court other than the surrogate's court, appoints a general guardian of an infant's person, or property, or both, a certified copy of the order or decree appointing such guardian and of the bond or undertaking given by such guardian shall be filed by him in the surrogate's court of the county in which the infant resides, or if such infant be a nonresident, of the county in which such infant has property real or personal, and a minute thereof made and indexed in the book kept by the surrogate in which orders or decrees appointing guardians are entered. A guardian so appointed shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a general guardian specified in this title.

New.

§ 2654. Application for ancillary letters to foreign guardians.

1. Where an infant, who resides without the state, and within the United States, is entitled to property within the state, or to maintain an action in any court thereof, a guardian of his property, who has been appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, within the state or territory where the ward resides, and has there given security, in at least twice the value of the personal property, and of the rents and profits of the real property, of the ward, may present, to the surrogate's court having jurisdiction, a petition, setting forth the facts, and particularly whether or not there are any debts due or to become due from the infant to a resident of this state, and that the security given is sufficient in amount to cover the property sought to be obtained through such letters, and that the court had jurisdiction of the infant, and praying for ancillary letters of guardianship accordingly. The petition must be accompanied with exemplified copies of the records and other papers, showing that he has been so appointed and has given the security required in this section, which must be authenticated in the mode prescribed in section 45 of the decedent estate law, for the authentication of records and papers, upon an application for ancillary letters testamentary, or ancillary letters of administration. Such petition and authenticated records and papers shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein set forth in any court of this state.

2. Where an infant, who resides without the state, and within a foreign country is entitled to personal property within the state, or to maintain an action, or special proceeding in any court thereof respecting such personal property, a guardian of his property, authorized to act as such within the foreign country where the ward resides, may apply to the surrogate's court of the county where such personal property or any part thereof is situated, for ancillary letters of guardianship on the personal estate of such infant and the person so authorized must present to the surrogate's court having jurisdiction a petition setting forth the facts and such additional allegations regarding debts and security as required in subdivision one of this section, and praying for ancillary letters of guardianship on the personal estate of such infant. The petition must be accompanied with the exemplified copies of the records and other papers showing the appointment of such foreign guardian, or where such foreign guardian has not been appointed by any court, with other proof of his authority to act as such guardian within such foreign country, and also with proof that pursuant to the laws of such foreign country, such foreign guardian is entitled to the possession of the ward's personal estate. Exemplified copies of the records, where used pursuant to this subdivision, must be authenticated by the seal of the court, or officer, by which or by whom such foreign guardian was appointed, or the officer having the custody of the seal or of the record thereof, and the signature of a judge of such court, or the signature of such officer and of the clerk of such court or officer, if any; and must be further authenticated by the certificate, under the principal seal of the department of foreign affairs, or the department of justice of such country, attested by the signature or seal of a United States consul. Such petition and authenticated records and papers shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein set forth in any court of this state.

Where the surrogate is satisfied upon the papers presented, as prescribed in the last section, that the case is within that section, and that it will be for the ward's interest that ancillary letters of guardianship should be issued to the petitioner, he may make a decree granting ancillary letters accordingly. Such a decree may be made without a citation, or a citation may issue to such persons as the surrogate thinks proper, to show cause why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. But before the ancillary letters are issued, the surrogate must direct that any debts appearing to be due or owing from the infant to residents of this state be paid or security given therefor.

Former § 2839 of this Code. From L. 1870, c. 59, § 1; L. 1875, c. 442; L. 1892, c. 576.

§ 2656. Effect of such letters.

Ancillary letters of guardianship are issued as prescribed in the last section, without security except as provided in that section and without an oath of office. If issued in a case provided for in subdivision one of section 2654, they authorize the person to whom they are issued to demand and receive the personal property, and the rents and profits of the real property of the ward; to dispose of them in like manner as a general guardian of the property appointed as prescribed in this article; to remove them from the state, and to maintain or defend any action or special proceeding in the ward's behalf. If issued in a case provided for in subdivision two of section 2654, such ancillary letters of guardianship authorize the person to whom they are issued to demand and receive the personal property of the ward, and to dispose of it in like manner as a guardian of property appointed as prescribed in this article, and to maintain or defend any action or special proceeding respecting such personal property in the ward's behalf. But in neither case do such letters authorize such ancillary guardian to receive from a resident guardian, executor, or administrator, or from a testamentary trustee, subject to the jurisdiction of a surrogate's court, money or other property belonging to the ward, in a case where letters have been issued to a guardian of the infant's property, from a surrogate's court of a county within the state, upon an allegation that the infant was a resident of that county, except by the special direction made upon good cause shown, of the surrogate's court from which the principal letters were issued, or unless the principal letters have been duly revoked.

§ 2657. Will or deed containing appointment to be proved, etc., and recorded.

A person shall not exercise, within the state, any power or authority, as guardian of the person or property of an infant, by virtue of an appointment contained in the will of the infant's father or mother, being a resident of the state, and dying after this chapter takes effect, unless the will has been duly admitted to probate, and recorded in the proper surrogate's court, and letters of guardianship have been issued to him thereupon; or by virtue of an appointment contained in a deed of the infant's father or mother, being a resident of the state, executed after this chapter takes effect, unless the deed has been acknowledged or proved, and certified, so as to entitle it to be recorded, and has been recorded in the office for recording deeds in the county, in which the person making the appointment resided, at the time of the execution thereof. Where a deed containing such an appointment is not recorded within three months after the death of the grantor, the person appointed is presumed to have renounced the appointment; and if a guardian is afterward duly appointed by a surrogate's court, the presumption is conclusive.

Former § 2851 of this Code. From L. 1877, c. 206, §§ 4-7.

§ 2658. Guardian by will or deed; qualification, letters, etc.

Where a will, containing the appointment of a guardian, is admitted to probate, or a deed is recorded as provided in the foregoing section, the person appointed guardian must, within thirty days thereafter, qualify by taking and filing his oath of office, and a bond as fixed by the surrogate, unless contrary to the express provision of the will or deed, and by filing a petition or affidavit setting forth the facts which entitle him to so qualify and receive letters; except that a trust company so named, instead of filing such oath and bond, shall file a consent to accept such appointment duly executed and acknowledged; otherwise he is deemed to have renounced the appointment. But the surrogate, either before or after the expiration of thirty days, may extend the time so to qualify, upon good cause shown, for not more than three months. A person appointed guardian by will or deed may, at any time before he qualifies, renounce the appointment by a written instrument, acknowledged, or proved, and duly certified, and filed in the surrogate's office.

Former § 2852 of this Code. From L. 1877, c. 206, §§ 4-7.

§ 2659. Appointment of successor.

Where no guardian appointed by will or deed remains in office on account of resignation, removal, or death, a general guardian may be appointed by the surrogate's court, with all the powers conferred by the will or deed and with the effect prescribed in section 2563 of this chapter; unless such an appointment would contravene the express terms of the will or deed.

Former § 2860 of this Code.

§ 2660. Guardian to file annual inventory and account.

A guardian of an infant's property must, in the month of January of each year, as long as any of the infant's property, or of the proceeds thereof, remains under his control, file in the surrogate's court the following papers:

1. An inventory, containing a full and true statement and description of each article or item of personal property of his ward, received by him, since his appointment, or since the filing of the last annual inventory, as the case requires; the value of each article or item so received; a list of the articles or items, remaining in his hands; a statement of the manner in which he has disposed of each article or item, not remaining in his hands; and a full description of the amount and nature of each investment of money, made by him.

2. A full and true account, in form of debtor and creditor, of all his receipts and disbursements of money, during the preceding year; in which he must charge himself with any balance remaining in his hands, when the last account was rendered, and must distinctly state the amount of the balance remaining in his hands, at the conclusion of the year, to be charged to him in the next year's account.

3. The names and residences of the sureties on his bond; if natural persons whether they are living; and whether the security of the bond has become impaired.

Former §§ 2842, 2855 of this Code. From L. 1837, c. 460, § 57; L. 1913, c. 533.

§ 2661. Affidavit to be annexed thereto.

With the inventory and account, filed as prescribed in the last section, must be filed an affidavit, which must be made by the guardian, unless, for good cause shown in the affidavit, the surrogate permits the same to be made by an agent or attorney, who is cognizant of the facts. The affidavit must state, in substance, that the inventory and account contain, to the best of the affiant's knowledge and belief, a full and true statement of all the guardian's receipts and disbursements, on account of the ward; and of all money and other personal property of the ward, which have come to the hands of the guardian, or have been received by any other person by his order or authority, or for his use, since his appointment, or since the filing of the last annual inventory and account, as the case requires; and of the value of all such property; together with a full and true statement and account of the manner, in which he has disposed of the same, and of all the property remaining in his hands, at the time of filing the inventory and account; and a full and true description of the amount, and nature of each investment made by him, since his appointment, or since the filing of the last annual inventory, and account, as the case requires; and that he does not know of any error or omission in the inventory or account, to the prejudice of the ward.

Former § 2843 of this Code. From L. 1837, c. 460, §§ 57, 58.

§ 2662. Annual examination of guardian's accounts.

In the month of February of each year and thereafter until completed, the surrogate must, for the purposes specified in the next section, examine or cause to be examined, under his direction, all inventories and accounts of guardians filed since the first day of February of the preceding year. The examination may be made by the clerk of the surrogate's court, or by a person specially appointed by the surrogate to make it, who must, before he enters upon the examination, subscribe and take before the surrogate, and file with the clerk of the surrogate's court, an oath faithfully to execute his duties and to make a true report to the surrogate.

Former § 2844 of this Code. From L. 1837, c. 460, § 58; L. 1881, c. 535.

§ 2663. Proceedings, when account defective, etc.

If it appears to the surrogate, upon an examination made as prescribed in the last section, or by the report of such special examiner, that a guardian of an infant's property, has omitted to file his annual inventory or account, or the affidavit relating thereto as prescribed in the last section but one; or if the surrogate is of the opinion, that the interest of the ward requires that the guardian should render a more full or satisfactory inventory or account; or where the surrogate has reason to believe that sufficient cause exists for the guardian's removal, the surrogate may, in his discretion, appoint a fit and proper person special guardian of the ward, for the purpose of filing a petition in his behalf, for the removal of the guardian, and prosecuting the necessary proceedings for that purpose. And in a like case where said special examiner has been appointed, the surrogate shall make an order appointing said examiner special guardian of such infant with authority to procure the filing of an amended account or a proper account, and to prosecute a proceeding for the removal of such guardian when necessary. The surrogate in all cases of examination or prosecution as aforesaid shall fix the fees and compensation of such special examiner and special guardian, and may in his discretion make an order charging them in whole or in part upon the guardian personally, the fund in his hands, or upon the county, in which latter case he shall certify the items thereof to the board of supervisors of the county or in the city of New York to the proper officers, and the same shall be audited and paid as other county or city charges.

Former §§ 2844, 2845 of this Code. From L. 1837, c. 460, § 60.

§ 2664. Surrogate may direct as to infant's maintenance.

Upon the petition of the guardian of an infant's person or property; or of the infant; or of any relative or other person in his behalf; the surrogate, upon notice to such persons, if any, as he thinks proper to notify, may make an order, directing the application, by the guardian of the infant's property, to the support and education of the infant, of such a sum as to the surrogate seems proper, out of the income of the infant's property; or, where the income is inadequate for that purpose, out of the principal.

Former § 2846 of this Code.

TITLE III-A.

Funds of Estates to be Kept Separate.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Funds of estates to be kept separate.

§ 2664-a. [Added, 1916.] Funds of estates to be kept separate.

Every executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee shall keep the funds and property received from the estate of any deceased persons separate and distinct from his own personal fund and property. He shall not invest the same or deposit the same with any person, association or corporation doing business under the banking law or other person or institution, in his own name, but all transactions had and done by him shall be in his name as such executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Added by L. 1916, c. 588 (in effect Sept. 1, 1916).

TITLE IV.

Ascertaining assets and debts; payment of debts and legacies; powers and duties of executors and administrators; mortgage, lease or sale of real property for payment of debts, funeral expenses, expenses of administration, and to satisfy charges thereon, and for distribution.

Article 1. Appointment of appraisers and making and returning inventory. Proceedings to discover property.
2. Presenting claims, their allowance, rejection and trial. Payment of debts, legacies and expenses. Sales of real estate by executors, administrators with the will annexed, and testamentary trustees under power contained in the will. Deposit of money or securities.
3. Applying rents, and proceeds of mortgage, lease or sale of real estate to the payment of debts, funeral and administration expenses, and charges upon real estate. Sale for distribution, and conveyance in confirmation of title.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Appointment of appraisers, and making and returning inventory; proceedings to discover property.

Sec. 2665. Appointment of appraisers and making inventory.
2666. Appraisal in different places; appraisal of newly discovered property.
2667. Contents of inventory.
2668. Return of inventory.
2669. Return of inventory; how compelled.
2670. Exemption for benefit of family.
2671. Proceedings to compel set-off of exempt property.
2672. What shall be deemed assets.
2673. Assets; debts due from executor to testator; effect of discharge by will.
2674. Apportionment of rents, annuities and dividends.
2675. Proceedings to discover property withheld.
2676. Trial and decree.

§ 2665. [Am'd, 1916.] Appointment of appraisers and making inventory.

On the application of an executor or administrator, an order must be entered in the surrogate's court appointing two disinterested appraisers, as often as may be necessary, to appraise the personal property of a deceased person. The executor or administrator, within three months after qualifying and after giving at least five days' notice personally or by mail to the legatees or next of kin, residing in the county of the decedent, and posting a notice in three public places of the town, or city where he resided, specifying the time and place at which the appraisement will be made, must make a true and perfect inventory of all the personal property of the decedent. Before making the appraisement, the appraisers must take and subscribe an oath, to be inserted in the inventory, that they will truly, honestly and impartially appraise the personal property exhibited to them, according to the best of their knowledge and ability. They must in the presence of such of the parties interested as attend, estimate and appraise the property exhibited to them, and set down each article separately with the value thereof in dollars and cents, distinctly, in figures opposite to the articles respectively.

Former § 2711 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 82 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 3), §§ 1–5; L. 1873, c. 225; L. 1893, c. 686; L. 1901, c. 195. Am'd by L. 1916, c. 624 (in effect May 20, 1916).

Should any of the personal property to be inventoried be in different or distant places, the same appraisers may complete such inventory in any place where such property may be, and may adjourn the appraisal to such place; or, upon application duly made, the surrogate may appoint other appraisers to make the inventory of such unappraised property, and the same notice of such appraisal shall be given as for the local appraisal except the posting of notices.

If personal property not mentioned in any inventory come to the possession or knowledge of an executor or administrator, he must cause the same to be duly appraised, and an inventory thereof to be returned within one month after the discovery thereof; and the making of such inventory and return may be enforced in the same manner as in the case of a first inventory.

Parts of former §§ 2711, 2714 of this Code, combined and modified.

§ 2667. Contents of inventory.

The inventory must contain a particular statement of all bonds, mortgages, notes and other securities for the payment of money belonging to the deceased, known to the executor or administrator and of all debts owing by such executor or administrator to the deceased whether discharged by the will or not, with the name of the debtor in each security, the date, the sum originally payable, the amount due at decedent's death and the sum which, in the judgment of the appraisers, is collectible on each security; and of all moneys belonging to the deceased, which have come to the hands of the executor or administrator.

Former § 2714 of this Code, in part. From 2 R. S. 84, §§ 11–14; Id., 56, § 24; L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2668. Return of inventory.

Duplicates of the inventory must be made and signed by the appraisers, one of which must be retained by the executor or administrator, and the other filed in the surrogate's office within three months from the date of the letters. On returning such inventory, the executor or administrator must take and subscribe an oath, indorsed upon or annexed to the inventory, stating that the inventory is in all respects just and true, that it contains a true statement of all the personal property of the deceased which has come to his knowledge, and particularly of all money belonging to the deceased, and of all just claims of the deceased against him, according to the best of his knowledge. Any one executor or administrator, on the neglect of the others, may return an inventory; and the executors or administrators so neglecting shall not thereafter interfere with the administration or have any power over the personal property of the deceased; but the executor or administrator so returning the inventory shall have the whole administration, until the delinquent return, and verify an inventory in accordance with the provisions of this article.

Former § 2715 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 84, §§ 15, 16; Id., 86, § 23; L. 1888, c. 302.

§ 2669. Return of inventory; how compelled.

A creditor, coexecutor or coadministrator, or person interested in the estate may present to the surrogate's court a petition showing that an executor or administrator has failed to return an inventory, or a sufficient inventory, within the time prescribed by law therefor. If the surrogate is satisfied that the executor or administrator is in default, he must make an order requiring the delinquent to return the inventory, or a further inventory, or in default thereof, to show cause at a time and place therein specified, why he should not be removed or punished. On the return of the order, if the delinquent has not filed a sufficient inventory, the surrogate may revoke his letters, or issue a warrant of arrest against him, on which the proceedings are the same as on a warrant issued for disobedience to an order, as prescribed in article one of title twelfth of chapter seventeenth of this act. A person committed to jail on the return of a warrant of arrest issued as prescribed in this section, may be discharged by the surrogate or a justice of the supreme court, on his paying and delivering, under oath, all the money and other property of the decedent, and all papers relating to the estate under his control, to the surrogate, or to a person authorized by the surrogate to receive the same.

§ 2670. Exemption for benefit of family.

If a person having a family die, leaving a widow or husband, or minor child or children, the following articles shall not be deemed assets, but must be included and stated in the inventory of the estate as property set off to such widow, husband or minor child or children:

1. All house-keeping utensils, musical instruments, sewing machine and household furniture used in and about the house and premises, fuel and provisions, and the clothing of the deceased, in all not exceeding in value five hundred dollars.

2. The family bible, family pictures and school-books, used by or in such family, and books not exceeding in value fifty dollars, which were kept and used as part of the family library.

3. Domestic animals with their necessary food for sixty days, not exceeding in value one hundred and fifty dollars.

4. Money or other personal property not exceeding in value one hundred and fifty dollars.

Such property so set apart shall be the property of the surviving husband or wife, or of the minor child or children if there be no surviving husband or wife. No allowance shall be made in money or other property under subdivisions one, two and three if the articles mentioned therein do not exist.

Former § 2713 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 83, 84, §§ 9, 10; L. 1842, c. 157; L. 1874, c. 470; L. 1889, c. 406; L. 1867, c. 782, § 13; L. 1887, c. 680; L. 1890, c. 173; L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2671. Proceedings to compel set-off of exempt property.

Where an executor or administrator has failed to set apart property for a surviving husband, wife or child, as prescribed by law, the person aggrieved may present a petition to the surrogate's court, setting forth the failure and praying for a decree, requiring such executor or administrator to set apart the property accordingly; or, if it has been lost, injured or disposed of, to pay the value thereof, or the amount of the injury thereto, and that he be cited to show cause why such a decree should not be made. If the surrogate is of the opinion that sufficient cause is shown, a citation shall issue accordingly. In a proper case, the decree may require the executor personally to pay the value of the property, or the amount of the injury thereto.

Former § 2724 of this Code, modified. See L. 1881, c. 535; L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2672. What shall be deemed assets.

The following shall be deemed assets and go to the executors or administrators, to be applied and distributed as part of the personal property of the testator or intestate, and be included in the inventory:

1. Leases for years; lands held by the deceased from year to year; and estates held by him for the life of another person.

2. The interest remaining in him, at the time of his death, in a term of years after the expiration of any estate for years therein, granted by him or any other person.

3. The interest in lands devised to an executor for a term of years for the payment of debts.

4. Things annexed to the freehold, or to any building for the purpose of trade or manufacture, and not fixed into the wall of a house so as to be essential to its support.

5. The crops growing on the land of the deceased at the time of his death.

6. Every kind of produce raised annually by labor and cultivation, except growing grass and fruit ungathered.

7. Rent reserved to the deceased which had accrued at the time of his death.

8. Debts secured by mortgages, bonds, notes or bills; accounts, money, and bank bills, or other circulating medium, things in action, and stock in any corporation or joint-stock association.

9. Goods, wares, merchandise, utensils, furniture, cattle, provisions, moneys unpaid on contracts for the sale of lands, and every other species of personal property not hereinafter excepted. Things annexed to the freehold, or to a building, shall not go to the executor, but shall descend with the freehold to the heirs or devisees, except such fixtures as are mentioned in the fourth subdivision of this section. The right of an heir to any property, not enumerated in this section, which by the common law would descend to him, is not impaired by the general terms of this section.

Former § 2712 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 82, 83, §§ 6–8. See L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2673. Assets; debt due from executor to testator; effect of discharge by will.

The naming of a person executor in a will does not operate as a discharge or bequest of any just claim due or to become due which the testator had against him; but it must be included among the credits and effects of the deceased in the inventory, and the executor shall be liable for the same as for so much money in his hands at the time the debt or demand becomes due, and he must apply and distribute the same in the payment of debts and legacies, and among the next of kin as part of the personal property of the deceased. The discharge or bequest in a will of a debt or demand of the testator against an executor named therein, or against any other person, is not valid as against the creditors of the deceased; but must be construed only as a specific bequest of such debt or demand; and the amount thereof must be included in the inventory and, if necessary, be applied in the payment of his debts; and if not necessary for that purpose, must be paid in the same manner and proportion as other specific legacies.

Former § 2714 of this Code, in part. From 2 R. S. 84, §§ 11–14; Id., 56, § 24; see L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2674. Apportionment of rents, annuities and dividends.

All rents reserved on any lease made after June 7, 1875, and all annuities, dividends and other payments of every description made payable or becoming due at fixed periods under any instrument executed after such date, or, being a last will and testament that takes effect after such date, shall be apportioned so that on the death of any person interested in such rents, annuities, dividends or other such payments, or in the estate or fund from or in respect to which the same issues or is derived, or on the determination by any other means of the interest of any such person, he, or his executors, administrators or assigns, shall be entitled to a proportion of such rents, annuities, dividends and other payments, according to the time which shall have elapsed from the commencement or last period of payment thereof, as the case may be, including the day of the death of such person, or of the determination of his or her interest, after making allowance and deductions on account of charges on such rents, annuities, dividends and other payments. Every such person or his executors, administrators or assigns shall have the same remedies at law and in equity for recovering such apportioned parts of such rents, annuities, dividends and other payments, when the entire amount of which such apportioned parts form part, becomes due and payable and not before, as he or they would have had for recovering and obtaining such entire rents, annuities, dividends and other payments, if entitled thereto; but the persons liable to pay rents reserved by any lease or demise, or the real property comprised therein shall not be resorted to for such apportioned parts, but the entire rents of which such apportioned parts form parts, must be collected and recovered by the person or persons who, but for this section, or chapter 542 of the laws of 1875, would have been entitled to the entire rents; and such portions shall be recoverable from such person or persons by the parties entitled to the same under this section. This section shall not apply to any case in which it shall be expressly stipulated that no apportionment be made, or to any sums made payable in policies of insurance of any description.

§ 2675. Proceeding to discover property withheld.

An executor or administrator may present to the surrogate's court from which letters were issued to him, a petition setting forth on knowledge, or information and belief, any facts tending to show that money or other personal property which should be delivered to the petitioner, or included in an inventory or appraisal, is in the possession, under the control or within the knowledge or information of a person who withholds the same from him; or who refuses to impart knowledge or information he may have concerning the same, or to disclose any other fact which will aid such executor or administrator in making discovery of such property, and praying an inquiry respecting it, and that the respondent may be ordered to attend the inquiry and be examined accordingly, and to deliver the property if in his control. The petition may be accompanied by an affidavit or other written evidence, tending to support the allegations thereof. If the surrogate is satisfied, on the papers so presented, that there are reasonable grounds for the inquiry, he must make an order accordingly, which may be made returnable forthwith, or at a future time fixed by the surrogate, and may be served at any time before the hearing. Service thereof must be made by delivery of a certified copy thereof to the person or persons named therein and the payment, or tender, to each of the sum required by law to be paid or tendered to a witness who is subpoenaed to attend a trial in surrogate's court.

Former § 2707 of this Code, modified. From L. 1870, c. 394, § 1; Id., c. 359, § 7; L. 1886, c. 308; see L. 1893, c. 686; L. 1903, c. 526.

§ 2676. Trial and decree.

If the person directed to appear submits an answer denying any knowledge concerning, or possession of, any property which belonged to the decedent in his lifetime, or shall make default in answer, he shall be sworn to answer truly all questions put to him touching the inquiry prayed for in the petition. If it appears that the petitioner is entitled to the possession of the property, the decree shall direct delivery thereof to him. If such answer alleges title to or the right to possession of any property involved in the inquiry, the issue raised by such answer shall be heard and determined and a decree made accordingly.

Former §§ 2709, 2710 of this Code, combined, in substance, with new procedure. From L. 1870, c. 394, §§ 3-5; L. 1881, c. 535; see L. 1893, c. 686; L. 1903, c. 526.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Presenting claims, their allowance, rejection and trial; payment of debts, legacies and expenses; sales of real estate by executors, administrators with the will annexed and testamentary trustees under power contained in the will; deposit of money and securities.

Sec. 2677. Notice to creditors; affidavit of claimant.
2678. Effect of failure to present claim pursuant to notice.
2679. Determination of issues arising between representative and the estate; suspension of statute of limitations in certain cases.
2680. Effect of admission and allowance of claim or debt by representative.
2681. Rejected claim to be tried on judicial settlement; limitation of action by creditor.
2682. Payment of debts.
2683. Surrogate may authorize representative to compromise, or compound, or sell debt or claim.
2684. Sale of personal property for payment of debts or legacies.
2685. Surrogate's court may make direction as to the value, manner and time of sale of property.
2686. Proceeding to compel payment of funeral expenses.
2687. Proceeding to compel payment of debt, legacy or distributive share, or delivery of property.
2688. Payment of legacies.
2689. Petition to compel payment of legacy or delivery of property, etc., by a testamentary trustee.
2690. Id.; proceedings upon return of citation.
2691. Decree for payment of legacy, etc., on giving security.
2692. Payment of expenses incurred by representative.
2693. Power and duty of executor before probate.
2694. Power to sell, mortgage or lease real estate may be executed by qualifying executors.
2695. Administrators with the will annexed; rights, powers and duties.
2696. Power to sell, mortgage or lease real estate may be executed by qualifying trustees or successors.
2697. Conveyance of real estate by executor or administrator to holder of contract of sale made by a decedent.
2698. Surrogate may direct as to custody, where coexecutors, etc., disagree.
2699. Money paid into court and securities taken; how disposed of.
2700. Deposit of securities may be ordered on revocation of letters.

§ 2677. Notice to creditors; affidavit of claimant.

The executor or administrator at any time after the granting of his letters, may insert a notice once in each week for six months in such newspaper or newspapers printed in the county as the surrogate directs, requiring all persons having claims against the deceased to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to him, at a place to be specified in the notice, at or before a day therein named, which must be at least six months from the day of the first publication of the notice. The executor or administrator may require satisfactory vouchers in support of any claim presented and the affidavit of the claimant that the claim is justly due, that no payments have been made thereon, and that there are no offsets against the same to the knowledge of the claimant.

Former § 2718 of this Code, in part. From 2 R. S. 88, 89, §§ 34–39; L. 1859, c. 261; L. 1880, c. 245; L. 1890, c. 456; L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2678. Effect of failure to present claim pursuant to notice.

If a claim against a deceased person be not presented to the executor or administrator within six months from the first publication of the notice to creditors, or, if no notice be published, within one year from the date of issue of letters, the executor or administrator shall not be chargeable for any assets or moneys that he may have paid in satisfaction of any lawful claims, or of any legacies, or in making distribution to the next of kin before such claim was presented.

From former § 2718 of this Code, in part, modified.

§ 2679. Determination of issues arising between representative and the estate; suspension of statute of limitations in certain cases.

On the judicial settlement of the account of an executor or administrator, he may prove any debt owing to him by the decedent. Where a contest arises between the accounting party and any of the other parties, respecting property alleged to belong to the estate, but to which the accounting party lays claim individually; or respecting a debt alleged to be due by the accounting party to the decedent, or by the decedent to the accounting party, the contest must be tried and determined in the same manner as any other issue arising in the surrogate's court. From the death of the decedent until the first judicial settlement of the account of the executor or administrator, the running of the statute of limitations against a debt due from the decedent to the accounting party, or any other cause of action in favor of the latter against the decedent, is suspended, unless the accounting party was appointed on the revocation of former letters issued to another person, in which case the running of the statute is so suspended from the grant of letters to him until the first judicial settlement of his account. After the first judicial settlement of the account of an executor or administrator, the statute of limitations begins again to run against a debt due to him from the decedent, or any other cause of action in his favor against the decedent.

Whenever upon any accounting or judicial settlement of an account, the executor or administrator admits and allows a claim or debt against the deceased, other than his own claim, or has theretofore in writing admitted or allowed such a claim or debt, the validity of such claim or debt shall be thereby established.

When such a claim or debt has been so admitted or allowed, or a judgment against the executor or administrator has been obtained, whether either has been paid or not, any party adversely affected thereby may file objections thereto and may show that the claim or debt was fraudulently or negligently allowed, or paid, or that the judgment was obtained by fraud, negligence or collusion. If the surrogate shall sustain the objections in a case where the claim or judgment has not been paid, the claim shall be deemed to be rejected by the accountant at the time of such determination, and the time between the presentation of the claim, or the commencement of the action where the claim was not presented, and the time of such determination shall not be a part of the time limited in this act for commencing an action thereon.

New.

§ 2681. [Am'd, 1915.] Rejected claim to be tried on judicial settlement. Limitation of action by creditor.

If the executor or administrator doubts the justice or validity of any claim presented to him, he shall serve a notice in writing upon the claimant that he rejects said claim, or some part of it, which he specifies. Unless the claimant shall commence an action for the recovery thereof against the executor or administrator within three months after the rejection, or, if no part of the debt is then due, within two months after a part thereof becomes due, said claimant, and all the persons claiming under him, are forever barred from maintaining such action, and in such case said claim shall be tried and determined upon the judicial settlement.

Former § 1822 of this Code, modified; see also former §§ 2718, 2718a. From 2 R. S. 89 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 3), § 38; L. 1882, c. 399; L. 1895, c. 595. Am'd by L. 1915, c. 644 (in effect Sept. 1, 1915).

§ 2682. Payment of debts.

Every executor and administrator must proceed with diligence to pay the debts of the deceased according to the following order:

1. Debts entitled to a preference under the laws of the United States and the state of New York.
2. Taxes assessed on property of the deceased previous to his death.
3. Judgments docketed, and decrees entered against the deceased according to the priority thereof respectively.
4. All recognizances, bonds, sealed instruments, notes, bills and unliquidated demands and accounts.

Preference shall not be given in the payment of a debt over other debts of the same class, except those specified in the third class. A debt due and payable shall not be entitled to a preference over debts not due. The commencement of a suit for the recovery of a debt or the obtaining a judgment thereon against the executor or administrator shall not entitle such debt to preference over others of the same class. Debts not due may be paid according to the class to which they belong, after deducting a rebate of legal interest on the sum paid for the unexpired term of credit without interest. An executor or administrator shall not satisfy his own debt or claim out of the property of the deceased until proved to and allowed by the surrogate; and it shall not have preference over others of the same class. Preference may be given by the surrogate to rents due or accruing on leases held by the testator or intestate at the time of his death, over debts of the fourth class, if it appear to his satisfaction that such preference will benefit the estate of the testator or intestate.

Former § 2719 of this Code, in part. From 2 R. S. 87, §§ 27–30, 33; L. 1847, c. 80; L. 1888, c. 571; see L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2683. Disputed or unsettled debt or claim may be compromised, compounded or sold.

Upon the application of an executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee, the surrogate may, for good cause shown, authorize the compromising or compounding of any debt, claim or demand, due or to become due, which it is necessary to settle, adjust or liquidate in connection with the settlement of an estate or fund; and the selling at public auction, on such notice as the surrogate prescribes, of any uncollectible, stale or doubtful debt or claim belonging to the estate or fund; but any party interested in the final settlement may show on such settlement that such debt or claim was fraudulently compromised or compounded.

From former § 2719 of this Code, in part.

§ 2684. Sale of personal property for payment of debts or legacies.

An executor or administrator may sell the personal property of the deceased at any time for the payment of debts, or legacies, or for making distribution. The sale may be public or private, and may be on credit not exceeding one year, with approved security. Articles not necessary for the support and subsistence of the family of the deceased, or not specifically bequeathed, must be first sold; and articles so bequeathed must not be sold until the residue of the personal estate has been applied to the payment of debts.

Former § 2717 of this Code, in part. From 2 R. S. 87, §§ 25, 26. See L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2685. Surrogate's court may make direction as to the value, manner and time of sale of property.

Whenever the assets of an estate consist of real property which an executor is authorized to sell, or of personal property which it is necessary or proper to sell, and the value of the same is uncertain or is dependent upon the time and manner of sale thereof, the executor or administrator may apply by petition to the surrogate having jurisdiction of the settlement of the estate, for advice and direction as to the propriety, price, manner and time of sale thereof. If the surrogate, in his discretion, entertains the application, notice of such application shall be given to all persons interested or to such persons as the surrogate by order directs to have notice, in such manner as the surrogate shall prescribe. The surrogate shall inquire into the facts and circumstances and may hear the opinions of witnesses as to the value of such property and as to the best manner and time of sale thereof, and may give such advice and direction as shall seem to him for the best interest of the parties. A substantial compliance with the authorization so given shall relieve the said executor or administrator from any charge or objection that the said estate or persons interested suffered a loss on account of the time or manner of sale or the price realized.

New.

§ 2686. Proceeding to compel payment of funeral expenses.

Every executor or administrator shall pay, out of the first moneys received, the reasonable funeral expenses of decedent, and the same shall be preferred to all debts and claims against the deceased. If the same be not paid within sixty days after the grant of letters testamentary or of administration, the person having a claim for such funeral expenses may present to the surrogate's court a petition praying that the executor or administrator may be cited to show cause why he should not be required to make such payment. If upon the return of the citation it shall appear that the executor or administrator has received moneys belonging to the estate which are applicable to the payment of the claims for funeral expenses, and that the executor or administrator admits the validity of the claim or claims and the reasonableness of the amount thereof, the surrogate shall make an order directing the payment of the same, or of such part thereof as he may specify, within ten days thereafter. If the executor or administrator files an answer setting forth the facts, and therein disputes the validity of the claim or claims, or the reasonableness of the amounts thereof, the surrogate shall direct that the claim or claims so disputed be heard upon the judicial settlement of the accounts of such executor or administrator. If it shall appear that no money has come into the hands of the executor or administrator the proceeding shall be dismissed without costs and without prejudice to a further application or applications showing that since such dismissal the executor or administrator has received money belonging to the estate. At any time after three months from the date of the former order, if no answer was filed disputing such claim, a further application may be made by petition stating the facts upon which the belief of the petitioner that there are moneys in the hands of such executor or administrator applicable to the payment of his claim, is based. Upon such further application the issuance of the citation shall be in the discretion of the surrogate. If upon any accounting it shall appear that an executor or administrator has failed to pay a claim for funeral expenses, the amount of which has been fixed and determined by the surrogate, as above set forth, or upon such accounting, he shall not be allowed for the payment of any debt or claim against the decedent until said claim has been discharged in full; but such claim shall not be paid before expenses of administration are paid.

Former § 2729 (subd. 3) of this Code, modified. From L. 1901, c. 293.

§ 2687. Proceeding to compel payment of debt, legacy or distributive share, or delivery of property.

Where the executor or administrator has not begun the publication of the notice to creditors to present their claims, and three months have elapsed since the probate of the will or grant of letters of administration, any creditor of the deceased having a claim which has not been rejected, or any person entitled to a specific bequest, or to a legacy or other pecuniary provision under a will, or to a distributive share of an estate, may present to the surrogate's court a petition setting forth the facts and praying that the executor or administrator be cited to show cause why he should not pay said claim or pay or satisfy such bequest, legacy or distributive share.

Upon the return of such citation the executor or administrator may reject such claim, or show good and sufficient cause why he should not pay such claim, or pay or satisfy such bequest, legacy or distributive share in whole or in part.

The surrogate may dismiss such petition, or direct immediate payment or satisfaction thereof in whole or in part, or upon receiving a bond as provided in section 2688 of this chapter.

New. Compare former § 2722 of this Code.

§ 2688. Payment of legacies.

No legacy shall be paid by an executor, or administrator with the will annexed, before the completion of the publication of notice to creditors if such notice be published, or if none be published before the expiration of one year from the time of granting letters testamentary or of administration, unless directed by the will or by a decree on an accounting to be sooner paid. Bequests of specific articles of property, other than securities representing money, may be delivered at any time in the discretion of the executor. Whenever a legacy is directed by the will to be sooner paid, or specific property is bequeathed, the executor or administrator may require a bond, with two sufficient sureties, conditioned, that if debts against the deceased duly appear, and there are not other assets to pay the same, and no other assets sufficient to pay other legacies, then the legatees will refund the legacy so paid, or the value of the articles so delivered, with interest thereon or such ratable portion thereof with the other legatees, as may be necessary for the payment of such debts, and the proportional parts of such other legacies, if there be any, and the costs and charges incurred by reason of the payment to such legatee, and that if the will, under which such legacy is paid, be denied probate on appeal or otherwise that such legatee will refund the whole of such legacy, with interest, to the executor or administrator entitled thereto.

Former § 2721 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 90, §§ 43–45; see L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2689. Petition to compel payment of legacy or delivery of property, etc., by a testamentary trustee.

Where a person is entitled, by the terms of the will, to the payment of money, or the delivery of personal property, by a testamentary trustee, he may present to the surrogate's court a petition, setting forth the facts which entitle him to the payment or delivery, and praying for a decree, directing payment or delivery accordingly; and that the testamentary trustee and all other persons whose rights or interests would be affected by the decree may be cited to show cause, why such a decree should not be made. If the petitioner is so entitled, only upon the happening of a contingency, or after the expiration of a certain time, he must show in his petition, that his right to the money or other property has become absolute.

Former §§ 2804, 2806 of this Code, modified.

§ 2690. Id.; proceedings upon return of citation.

Upon the return of a citation, issued as prescribed in the last section, the surrogate must hear the allegations and proofs of the parties, and must make such a decree in the premises, as justice requires. In a proper case, the decree may require the testamentary trustee, who is unable to deliver personal property to which the petitioner is entitled, to pay the value thereof.

Former § 2805 of this Code, modified.

§ 2691. Decree for advance payment of legacy, etc., on giving security.

Whenever a person who will be entitled to the payment or satisfaction of any testamentary provision, or distributive share, is in actual need of the same or of some part thereof for his support or education, he may present to the surrogate's court his petition setting forth the facts, and thereupon, in the discretion of the surrogate, a citation may issue to the executor, administrator or testamentary trustee to show cause why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. If it appears on the return of the citation, that the amount of money and the value of the other property in the hands of the respondent applicable to the payment of debts, legacies and expenses, exceeds, by at least one-third the amount of all known debts and claims against the estate, of all legacies which are entitled to priority over the petitioner's claim, and of all legacies or distributive shares of the same class; and that the payment or satisfaction of any testamentary provision or distributive share, or some part thereof, is necessary for the support or education of the petitioner, whether adult or infant, or of his family, the surrogate may, in his discretion, make a decree directing payment or satisfaction accordingly, on the filing of a bond, as provided in section 2688 of this title.

Former § 2723 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 98 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 3), §§ 82, 83; Id., 90, § 44; see L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2692. Payment of expenses incurred by representative.

An executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee may pay from the funds or estate in his hands, from time to time, as shall be necessary, his legal and proper expenses of administration necessarily incurred by him, including the reasonable expense of obtaining and continuing his bond and the reasonable counsel fees necessarily incurred in the administration of the estate. Such expenses and disbursements shall be set forth in his account when filed, and settled by the surrogate.

New.

§ 2693. Power and duty of executor before probate.

An executor named in a will has no power to dispose of any part of the estate of the testator before letters testamentary are granted, except to pay funeral charges, nor to interfere with such estate in any manner further than is necessary for its preservation.

From former § 2013 of this Code, in part.

§ 2694. Power to sell, mortgage or lease real estate may be executed by qualifying executors.

Where any power to sell, mortgage or lease real estate or any interest therein, is given to executors as such, or as trustees, or as executors and trustees, and any of such persons named as executors shall neglect to qualify, then all sales, mortgages and leases under said power made by the executors who shall qualify shall be equally valid as if the other executors or trustees had joined in such sale.

From former § 2642 of this Code, in part.

§ 2695. Administrators with the will annexed; rights, powers and duties.

Where letters of administration with the will annexed are granted, the will of the deceased shall be observed and performed; and the administrators with such will have the rights and powers, and are subject to the same duties, as if they had been named as executors in the will.

Where power to mortgage, lease or sell real estate is given by a will to an executor or trustee, an administrator with the will annexed or a successor trustee may execute such power in any case where the original executor or trustee could execute the same, unless contrary to the express provisions of the will.

New. First sentence taken from former § 2613 of this Code.

§ 2696. Power to sell, mortgage or lease real estate may be executed by qualifying trustees or successors.

Where any power to sell, mortgage or lease real estate or any interest therein, are given to trustees, and any of such persons named as trustees shall neglect to qualify, then all sales, mortgages and leases under said power made by the trustee or trustees who shall qualify shall be equally valid as if the other trustees had joined in such sale. Where a successor trustee has been appointed by the court, or is named in a will, he shall have the same power as to such real estate as the trustee or trustees had who were named in the will, unless the exercise of such power would be contrary to the express provision of the will.

New. See § 2694, supra; also former § 2642 of this Code.

§ 2697. Conveyance of real property by executor or administrator to holder of contract of sale made by a decedent.

Where a decedent dies seized of lands after he has made a contract for the conveyance thereof, his executor or administrator may make a deed reciting said contract and conveying the said lands. The executor or administrator, or the vendee, his heirs or assigns, may file a petition praying for the confirmation of the act of the executor or administrator in delivering the deed, or for a decree that the same be made and delivered or the executor or administrator may pray for the like relief in a petition for the judicial settlement of his account. In either case, a citation shall issue to all persons interested, and the court shall make such decree as justice requires. A deed delivered pursuant to this section, upon its confirmation by such decree, shall be effectual to convey all the right, title and interest in the said lands which the decedent had at his death.

Where two or more co-executors or co-administrators disagree, respecting the custody of money or other property of the estate; or two or more testamentary trustees, or guardians of the property disagree, respecting the custody of money or other property, belonging to a fund or an estate which is committed to their joint charge; the surrogate may, upon the petition of either of them, or of a creditor or person interested in the estate, and proof, by affidavit, of the facts, make an order, requiring them to show cause, why the surrogate should not give directions in the premises. Upon the return of the order, the surrogate may, in his discretion make an order, directing that any property of the estate or fund be deposited in a safe place, in the joint custody of the executors, administrators, guardians, or testamentary trustees, as the case requires, or subject to their joint order; or that the money of the estate be deposited in a specified safe bank or trust company, to their joint credit, and to be drawn out upon their joint order.

Former § 2602 of this Code.

§ 2699. Money paid into court and securities taken; how disposed of.

Where a statute requires the payment of money into, or the deposit of a security with the surrogate's court, or the deposit of a security for the payment of money with the surrogate, the same must be paid to or deposited with the county treasurer of the county or to the chamberlain of a city, to the credit of the beneficiary, or of the estate, or of the special proceeding; unless the statute contains special directions for another disposition thereof. Each security so deposited with the county treasurer or chamberlain must be held and disposed of by him, subject to the direction of the surrogate's court; except that he must, unless otherwise so directed, collect the principal and interest secured thereby. All money collected by or paid to the county treasurer, or chamberlain as prescribed by this section, must be held, managed, invested and disposed of by him, in like manner as money paid into the supreme court in an action pending therein. The regulations contained in the general rules of practice as specified in subdivision 8 of section 4 of the State Finance Law, and the provisions of title third, of chapter eighth of this act, apply to money paid to and securities deposited with the county treasurer, or chamberlain as prescribed in this section; except that the surrogate's court exercises, with respect thereto, or with respect to a security, in which any of the money has been invested, or upon which it has been loaned, the power and authority conferred upon the supreme court by section 747 of this act.

Former § 2537 of this Code; see L. 1882, c. 309; L. 1908, c. 183; L. 1909, cc. 65, 240.

§ 2700. Deposit of securities may be ordered on revocation of letters.

When, upon the revocation of the letters of an executor, administrator or guardian, or the removal of a testamentary trustee, a decree shall be made in which such executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee is personally charged with or directed to pay a sum of money upon a finding that he has made an unlawful investment or disposition of the estate or fund in his hands, and the security or other instrument by which such investment or disposition is evidenced, or the property in the purchase of which such investment or disposition has been made, shall not be a part of the assets which his successor may be legally required to receive, the decree shall direct that such security or other instrument, or such property, if practicably capable of delivery under such direction, be forthwith deposited with a safe deposit company, authorized by law to do business as such, in such manner as to prevent the withdrawal of the same except upon the order of the surrogate.

ARTICLE THIRD.

Applying rents and the proceeds of mortgage, lease or sale of real estate to the payment of debts, funeral and administration expenses, and charges upon real estate; sale for distribution and conveyance in confirmation of title.

Sec. 2701. When rents of real estate may be applied in the same manner as proceeds of mortgage, lease or sale.
2702. What property subject to disposition for the payment of debts, funeral and administration expenses.
2703. For what purposes real property is subject to disposition.
2704. Sale to be refused if bond be given.
2705. When and how real property may be mortgaged, leased or sold.
2706. Trial and determination of claims and expenses; statute of limitations.
2707. Order to mortgage, lease or sell.
2708. Duty of executor or administrator to execute order after filing bond.
2709. Order to be executed and report made.
2710. Execution of order not affected by death, etc.
2711. Execution of the order; decree of judicial settlement; conveyance to heirs.
2712. Allowance on bid to creditor purchasing.
2713. Provision for payment of undetermined claims and debts not yet due.
2714. When conveyance not to affect purchaser or mortgagee from heir, etc.
2715. Effect of conveyance of decedent's interest under contract.
2716. Presumption where records have been removed.
2717. Right of life tenant to be considered in sale.
2718. Restitution from assets subsequently discovered.

§ 2701. When rents of real property may be received by the executor or administrator.

An executor or administrator may present a petition to the surrogate's court praying for leave to enter into possession of real property left by his decedent and to manage and control the same and receive the rents thereof. If from such petition it shall appear that a mortgage, lease or sale of such real property will be necessary unless the purposes specified in section 2703 of this title be otherwise fulfilled, a citation shall issue to all known persons within the state of New York who have the legal title to such real estate by descent or devise to show cause why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. Upon the return of the citation the surrogate may, in his discretion, grant the prayer of such petition upon such terms and conditions as justice shall require. The net rents so collected shall be held by the executor or administrator and be brought into court upon the judicial settlement of the account of such executor or administrator and there disposed of as provided in section 2711 of this title for the disposition of proceeds of mortgage, lease or sale of real estate.

New.

§ 2702. Real property subject to disposition for the satisfaction of charges against the same and for distribution.

The real property, or interest in real property, of which a decedent died seized, may be disposed of as prescribed in this title; except where it is exempted from levy and sale by virtue of an execution as prescribed in title second of chapter thirteen of this act, or where it can be disposed of under a valid power contained in a will for the purpose for which the same might be disposed of under this title.

But no such property, or interest in property, shall be mortgaged, leased or sold under a decree in surrogate's court to satisfy any claim, debt, or demand, unless a proceeding for a judicial settlement, or to compel a settlement, of the accounts of an executor or administrator shall have been commenced within eighteen months from the date when letters first issued to an executor or administrator.

From former § 2749 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 111, § 66; Id., 100, § 2; Id., 103, § 20; L. 1837, c. 460, §§ 40–42; L. 1874, c. 267; L. 1894, c. 735.

§ 2703. For what purposes real property is subject to disposition.

The real property specified in section 2702 of this title may be mortgaged, leased or sold for any or all of the following purposes:

1. For the payment of the debts of the decedent, including judgment or other liens, excepting mortgage liens, existing thereon at the time of his death.

2. For the payment of his funeral expenses, including therein suitable church or other services, a burial lot and a headstone erected thereon.

3. For the payment of the reasonable expenses of administration as allowed by the surrogate.

4. For the payment of any transfer tax assessed upon the transfer of such property.

5. For the payment of any debt or legacy charged thereupon.

No mortgage, lease or sale shall be ordered for the purpose of any of the foregoing payments, if there be personal property applicable to the full payment and discharge thereof.

Such real property may also be sold:

6. For the payment and distribution of their respective shares to the parties entitled thereto, where any or all of said parties are infants, proven or adjudged incompetents, absentees, or persons unknown, whenever in his discretion the surrogate may so direct.

From former §§ 2749, 2756 of this Code, modified.

§ 2704. Sale to be refused if bond be given.

An order empowering an executor or administrator to mortgage, lease or sell shall not be granted if any of the persons interested in the estate or property execute and file in the surrogate's office a bond in such sum and with such sureties as the surrogate directs and approves, conditioned to pay all the charges against the same proved and allowed so far as the goods, chattels, rights and credits of the deceased are insufficient therefor, within such time as the surrogate may direct. Except that in a proper case the real estate may be sold for the purpose of distribution of the proceeds as provided in subdivision six of section 2703, notwithstanding the giving of such bond.

Former § 2765 of this Code, modified.

§ 2705. When and how real property may be mortgaged, leased or sold.

Upon a judicial settlement of the accounts of an executor or administrator, any party to the proceeding may allege and show by proof that the personal property left by the decedent is insufficient for the payment of the just demands and charges against the same; or that the circumstances are such that the court has jurisdiction to order the mortgage, lease or sale of the real property left by the deceased for any of the reasons specified in section 2703. The petition and account filed in the proceeding shall be sufficient proof of the facts therein stated unless an issue is raised as to any of such statements. If any person interested in such real estate, or in any question raised with reference to the mortgage, lease or sale thereof, is not a party to such judicial settlement, the surrogate, before proceeding further shall cause such person to be brought in by supplemental citation.

New.

§ 2706. Trial and determination of claims and expenses; statute of limitations.

If any claim, demand, charge, or expense set forth in the account or presented on the judicial settlement is objected to by any party to the proceeding whose interest will be affected by its allowance or disallowance, such claim, demand, charge or expense shall be determined, notwithstanding its admission or allowance by the executor or administrator. Where a defense arises under the statute of limitations as to a claim so admitted or allowed the said claim shall be deemed to be rejected by the executor or administrator at the time of such objection, and the time between the presentation of the claim, or the commencement of an action where the claim was not presented, and the time of such objection shall not be a part of the time limited in this act for commencing an action thereon.

A judgment recovered against the executor or administrator upon a claim against decedent shall be prima facie evidence and proof of the claim against the real property of decedent, and the burden of disproving such judgment or of proving that the claim upon which it was rendered is invalid, or that the judgment was obtained by collusion, shall be upon the party disputing or objecting to the same.

New. In part, from former § 2755 of this Code.

§ 2707. Order to mortgage, lease or sell.

If it shall appear that it is a proper case for the disposition of the decedents' real estate, as provided in this title, on account of deficiency of personal estate, the surrogate shall make an order reciting the determination made, the amount and general nature of the various claims and demands which have been admitted or proved, a description of the property to be disposed of, and directing the executor or administrator to mortgage, lease or sell the whole or such part of the real property or interest therein, as the surrogate therein directs.

If it appears that one or more distinct parcels of which the decedent died seized has been devised by him or sold by his heirs the decree must provide that the several distinct parcels be sold in the following order:

1. Property which descended to the decedent's heirs and which has not been sold by them.
2. Property so descended which has been sold by them.
3. Property which has been devised which has not been sold by the devisee.

4. Property so devised which has been sold by the devisee.

Where an order is made directing the sale of the property, or interest, for distribution only, the order shall fix and determine the rights and interests of the respective parties therein, and if a person entitled to an estate or interest in the property sold is made a party as a person unknown, the court must provide for the protection of his rights, as far as may be, as if he were known and had appeared.

The proceeds of the sale of any real property sold by judgment of another court, which directs said proceeds to be paid into the surrogate's court subject to its order, may be directed by such order of the surrogate to be paid to the executor or administrator to be brought into the account on such judicial settlement and disposed of in accordance with the decree made thereupon.

After making the order for mortgage, lease or sale, the surrogate shall adjourn the judicial settlement to await the proceedings taken under the order.

Former § 2757 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 103, §§ 15-20; see L. 1904, c. 750; L. 1911, c. 435.

§ 2708. Duty of executor or administrator to execute order after filing bond.

Before proceeding to execute the order directing that property be mortgaged, leased or sold the executor or administrator must first execute and file with the surrogate his bond, with two or more sureties, to the people of the state in a penalty fixed by the surrogate, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon the principal by the order and for the accounting by the principal for all moneys received by him whenever he is required so to do by a court of competent jurisdiction; unless the order directs that the proceeds of sale or mortgage be paid by the purchaser or mortgagee to a bank or trust company to the credit of the executor or administrator, subject to the further order of the court.

Former § 2758 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 103, 104, §§ 21, 22; L. 1885, c. 213; L. 1894, c. 735; see L. 1904, c. 750.

§ 2709. Order to be executed and report made.

The executor or administrator shall thereupon execute the order, subject to the approval of the court, and make a report of his proceedings thereunder. The surrogate may confirm or reject the mortgage, lease or sale, extend the order to other parcels, or require a re-execution of the order upon such terms and on such conditions as he may direct, and he may relieve a purchaser from his purchase in a case where he might be so relieved in the supreme court, on such terms as justice shall require.

New.

§ 2710. Execution of order not affected by death, etc.

The death, removal, or disqualification, before the complete execution of the order, of all the executors or administrators does not suspend or affect the execution thereof; but the successor of the person who has died, been removed, or become disqualified, must proceed to complete all unfinished matters, as his predecessors might have completed the same; and he must give such security for the due performance of his duties as the surrogate prescribes.

Former § 2760 of this Code. From L. 1850, c. 162; see L. 1904, c. 750.

§ 2711. Execution of the order; decree of judicial settlement; conveyance to heirs.

When the order has been fully executed, the executor or administrator shall file, on or before the adjourned day of the judicial settlement, a supplemental account setting forth his proceedings under the order, the amount of the proceeds of the sale, and his expenses incurred thereunder. The surrogate shall thereupon continue and complete such judicial settlement and make such a disposition of the funds in the hands of the executor or administrator as justice shall require.

Where it is not necessary or advantageous to mortgage, lease or sell the real property of the deceased or of the estate, the parties interested may prove upon any such judicial settlement who are the real and true owners of any property devised by said will, or who are the only heirs-at-law of said deceased and entitled to succeed to his real estate, and thereupon such decree of judicial settlement may establish the rights and interests of the said parties and direct a conveyance to them by such executor or administrator according to their respective rights, in confirmation of their title thereto.

New.

§ 2712. Allowance on bid to creditor purchasing.

If, upon a sale for any purpose other than the distribution of the proceeds to the parties entitled thereto, a creditor of the decedent becomes the purchaser of any of the decedent's real property, the surrogate may, upon his application, direct the amount of his claim to be allowed, in the first instance, upon the purchase price; and such purchaser shall only be required to pay the balance at the time of the sale. But, in case the proceeds of the decedent's real property shall be insufficient to satisfy the cost and expenses of administration and the debts and funeral expenses of the decedent, the purchasing creditor shall be allowed and credited, upon the judicial settlement of the accounts of the executor or administrator, only the amount he may be entitled to receive upon his claim and shall then pay the difference between the amount originally allowed and the amount he is entitled to receive. In case any purchaser has credit on his bid, as aforesaid, no deed shall be delivered to him until the judicial settlement of the accounts of the executor or administrator nor until he shall have paid the entire amount required under the provisions of this section.

Former § 2764 of this Code. From L. 1904, c. 750.

§ 2713. Provision for payment of undetermined claims and debts not yet due.

If any claim remains undetermined at the making of the decree, or any debt is not yet due and the party holding the same does not consent to its present payment, the decree shall direct that sufficient funds be retained by the executor or administrator to meet any such claim or demand when determined, or when payable, and provide for the distribution of any surplus of the amount so retained.

New.

§ 2714. When conveyance not to affect purchaser or mortgagee from heir, etc.

A conveyance of real property, made pursuant to this title, does not affect, in any way, the title of a purchaser or mortgagee, in good faith and for value, from an heir or devisee of the decedent, unless letters testamentary or letters of administration, upon the estate of the decedent, were granted, by a surrogate's court having jurisdiction to grant them, upon a petition therefor, presented within two years after his death.

Former § 2777 of this Code, modified. From L. 1869, c. 845; L. 1873, c. 211.

§ 2715. Effect of conveyance of decedent's interest under contract.

A conveyance of the decedent's interest in all the real property, held by him under a contract for the purchase thereof, operates as an assignment of the contract to the purchaser; and vests in him, his heirs and assigns, all the right, title and interest of all the persons entitled, at the time of the sale, in and to the decedent's interest in the real property.

A conveyance of the decedent's interest in a part only of the real property, held under such a contract, transfers to the purchaser all the decedent's right, title and interest in and to the part so sold; and all rights, which would be acquired thereto, by the executor or administrator, or by any person entitled, at the time of the sale, to the interest of the decedent therein, by perfecting the title to the property contracted for, pursuant to the contract. Upon fully complying with the contract, the purchaser has the same right to enforce performance thereof, with respect to the part conveyed to him; and the executor or administrator, or his assignee, has the same right to enforce performance, with respect to the residue, as the decedent would have had, if he were living. Any title acquired by the executor or administrator, or his assignee, with respect to the part not sold, must be held in trust for the use of the persons entitled to the decedent's interest; subject to the dower of the widow, if any.

Former §§ 2782, 2783 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 111, § 69; Id., 112, §§ 74, 75.

§ 2716. Presumption where records have been removed.

Where the records of the surrogate's court have been heretofore, or are hereafter removed from one place to another, in either the same or another county or the records of such proceeding have been lost or destroyed and twenty-five years have elapsed after a sale or other disposition of real property, or of an interest in real property, as prescribed in this title, the due appointment of a guardian for each infant party to the special proceeding must be presumed, and can be disproved only by affirmative record evidence to the contrary.

Former § 2785 of this Code. From L. 1850, c. 82, §§ 1–3; L. 1869, c. 260; L. 1872, c. 92; L. 1878, c. 129.

Where any party to the proceeding has an existing or inchoate right of dower, or where any party to the proceeding has a tenancy by curtesy, or an estate for life or for years in the real estate directed to be sold, the court must determine whether the interests of all the parties will be better protected, or a more advantageous sale can be made of such real estate by including the sale of such right or interest; and if the court shall so determine there may be included in the order a direction that such right or interest be sold; and the purchaser, his heirs and assigns, shall hold the property free and discharged from any claim by virtue of that right. The regulations and provisions of article 2, title 1 of chapter 14 of this act, prescribing the rules of practice in relation to the right of dower, curtesy and estates for life, or for years in actions for the partition of real estate, so far as the same may be applicable, shall govern and control the disposition of moneys realized on such sale which shall belong to the owner of said right of dower, or tenant for life, or for years.

Former § 2800 of this Code, modified. From L. 1905, c. 430.

§ 2718. Restitution from assets subsequently discovered.

Where a decree has been made for the application of the proceeds of real property as prescribed in this title, and assets, which should have been applied thereto, are afterward discovered; or, for any other reason, money or other personal property of the decedent, which should have been applied thereto, afterward comes to the hands of the executor, administrator, legatee or next of kin, the heir, devisee, or other person aggrieved may maintain an action to procure reimbursement therefrom.

Former § 2801 of this Code. See L. 1894, c. 735; L. 1904, c. 750.

TITLE V.

Accounting and judicial settlement; effect and contents of decree on judicial settlement; costs, their amount, allowance and payment; fees of appraisers, referees, jurors and witnesses; commissions and allowances; appeals, how and to what court taken; undertakings and stay of execution; probate of heirship; definitions and application of other sections.

Article 1. Accounting by recording settlement or filing account; intermediate, compulsory and voluntary judicial settlement. Decree for payment and distribution and delivery of property.
2. Costs in special proceedings, when and how payable; security for costs. Compensation of special guardian, fees of appraisers, referees, jurors and witness. Commissions and compensation of executors, administrators, guardians and testamentary trustees.
3. Appeal, when, how and to what court taken, and power of appellate court. Undertaking to perfect appeal and stay execution.
4. Probate of heirship. Definitions, and application of other sections to this chapter.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Accounting by recording settlement or filing account; intermediate, compulsory and voluntary judicial settlement; decree for payment and distribution and delivery of property.

Sec. 2719. Recording instruments settling estates in part or in whole.
2720. Judicial settlement where recovery has been had in negligence action.
2721. Filing intermediate account voluntarily or by order.
2722. Proceedings where account is filed pursuant to order.
2723. Voluntary intermediate judicial settlement of the accounts of an executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee.
2724. Compulsory intermediate judicial settlement of the accounts of a guardian or testamentary trustee.
2725. Accounting by executor, etc., of deceased executors, etc.
2726. When surrogate's court may require judicial settlement of account.
2727. Compulsory judicial settlement; who may petition.
2728. Compulsory judicial settlement; citation; order to account and proceedings thereon.
2729. Voluntary judicial settlement.
2730. Voluntary judicial settlement; citation.
2731. Proceedings on return of citation.
2732. Affidavit to account.
2733. Accounting for profit and loss.
2734. Property of an estate or trust to be delivered upon order of the court.
2735. Decree for payment and distribution.
2736. Id.; when specific property may be delivered.
2737. Id.; when money may be retained.
2738. Adjustment of advancements.
2739. Id.; share of infant.
2740. Legacy, etc., to unknown person to be paid into state treasury.
2741. When legacy, etc., to be paid to county treasurer.
2742. Effect of judicial settlement of account; decree.

§ 2719. Recording instruments settling accounts in part or in whole.

There may be recorded in the surrogate's office any instrument settling an account in whole or in part, executed by one or more executors, administrators, testamentary trustees, or guardians, and one or more legatees, devisees, distributees, creditors or wards who have attained full age. Every such instrument to be recorded shall be acknowledged, or proved, and duly certified; and the record thereof, or a certified copy of such record, shall be presumptive evidence of the contents of such instrument and its due execution.

Former § 2502 of this Code, modified. From L. 1906, c. 350.

§ 2720. Judicial settlement where recovery has been had in negligence action.

Where limited letters testamentary or of administration have been granted for the prosecution of a cause of action, and a judgment or compromise thereof has been obtained and the proceeds are ready to be paid over; and where such recovery is not a part of the estate of the deceased but goes by special provision of law to designated persons or classes of persons; such executor or administrator may at any time file a petition for the judicial settlement of his account relating to such fund, and upon the return of a citation or upon the waiver of all the parties interested, if of full age and competent, the surrogate may take and settle such account, and direct payment to the parties entitled according to their respective rights and interests; and upon filing receipts for such payments the party paying the money and such executor or administrator shall be discharged from all further liability as to such cause of action and such fund. Where such recovery has been had and the amount thereof paid to the executor or administrator, he may in like manner have a judicial settlement of his account relating to such fund, at any time, and a decree made discharging him from further liability concerning the same.

New.

§ 2721. Filing intermediate account voluntarily or by order.

An executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee may at any time voluntarily file in the surrogate's office an intermediate account, and the vouchers in support of the same. He may be required to file such account at any time, in the discretion of the surrogate, by an order made upon the petition of any person interested, or by direction of the surrogate. He may be required to attend and be examined under oath touching his receipts and disbursements or touching any other matter relating to his administration of the estate, or fund, and in the case of an executor or administrator as to any act done by him under color of his letters, or after decedent's death and before letters were issued, or touching any personal property owned or held by decedent at the time of his death.

Former § 2725 of this Code, in part; also includes portion of former §§ 2729, and of 2802 and 2803 relating to trustees. From 2 R. S. 116, § 20; Id., 92, § 52; L. 1911, c. 436.

§ 2722. Proceedings where account is filed pursuant to order.

On the return of the order, where one is made as prescribed in the foregoing section of this article, if the respondent fails either to file his account, appear, or to show good cause to the contrary, or to present in a proper case, a petition as prescribed in section 2729, an order must be made, directing him to account within such a time, and in such a manner as the surrogate prescribes, and to attend, from time to time, before the surrogate, for that purpose. If it appears that the account can be then judicially settled, a supplemental citation may be issued directed to the persons who must be cited on a petition for a judicial settlement of his account. The pendency of a proceeding against the respondent to compel him to account does not preclude him from presenting a petition as prescribed in section 2729. If such petition is presented at or before the return day of the order, the citation issued thereon need not be directed to petitioner in the special proceeding pending against him and the two proceedings must be consolidated. When such account is filed in connection with a proceeding then pending any party may contest the account as to any matter affecting his interest, and the decree or other determination made shall go to the extent only of determining the question or questions necessary to be decided in order to grant or deny the relief asked for in the special proceeding in which the account was ordered to be filed. Where the accounting is made a judicial settlement by the issuing of a supplemental citation or the filing of a petition as above provided, the same proceedings shall be had as on a judicial settlement.

Former § 2727 of this Code, in part, modified. From 2 R. S. 92, 93 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 3), §§ 53, 60; L. 1893, c. 686; L. 1901, c. 408; L. 1911, c. 432.

§ 2723. Voluntary intermediate judicial settlement of the account of an executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee.

An executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee may, at any time after one year has expired since letters were issued to him, or he was appointed and qualified, and not oftener than annually thereafter, file in the surrogate's court having jurisdiction an intermediate account and a petition for its judicial settlement.

If the surrogate entertain such application, a citation shall issue to all persons who would be required to be cited upon a voluntary final judicial settlement of such account, and the same proceedings shall be had and with like effect, so far as the settlement of such account is concerned, as though such proceeding were a final judicial settlement.

New. See former § 2802 of this Code.

§ 2724. Compulsory intermediate judicial settlement of the account of a guardian or testamentary trustee.

The surrogate of his own motion, or upon the petition of any person interested in the fund held by a guardian or testamentary trustee, may by order direct such guardian or testamentary trustee to make and settle an intermediate account of his proceedings. The proceedings upon the return of the order shall be the same as though the respondent had filed his petition for a voluntary intermediate judicial settlement as provided in section 2723 of this title, and the decree entered shall have the same force and effect as if made in such proceeding.

New. See former § 2803 of this Code.

§ 2725. Accounting by executor, etc., of deceased executors, etc.

against the decedent if his letters had been revoked, or he had been removed, by a surrogate's decree. An executor or administrator of a deceased executor, administrator, guardian, or testamentary trustee may voluntarily account for the acts and doings of the decedent, and for the trust property which had come into his possession or into the possession of the decedent. On the death of any executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee while an accounting by or against him, as such, is pending before a surrogate's court, such court may continue said proceeding where his executor, administrator or successor has voluntarily made himself a party thereto or has been brought in by a citation to show cause why he should not be made a party, and proceed with such accounting and determine all questions and grant any relief that the surrogate would have power to determine or grant in case such decedent had not died or in a case where the executor or administrator of said last mentioned decedent had voluntarily petitioned for an accounting as provided for in this section. On a petition filed either by or against an executor or administrator of a deceased executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee, the successor of such decedent, his executor or administrator, and all persons who would be necessary parties to a proceeding commenced by such decedent for a judicial settlement of his accounts shall be brought in. If upon such accounting, the surrogate finds that there can be a distribution, in whole or in part, to the parties entitled thereto, he may make a decree accordingly, and he may also therein direct payment and delivery, by the accounting party, upon such terms and security as may be proper, of the balance, if any, of said estate or fund. For the purpose of such payment and distribution the accounting party shall have all the powers and duties of the deceased representative, trustee or guardian.

§ 2736. When surrogate's court may require judicial settlement of account.

In either of the following cases, the surrogate's court may, from time to time, compel a judicial settlement of the account of an executor, administrator, guardian or trustee:

1. In the case of an executor or administrator,

a. Where fifteen days have elapsed after the time in which to present claims has expired, or one year has expired since letters were issued to him.

b. Where letters issued to him have been revoked, or, for any other reason, his powers have ceased.

c. Where the administrator is a temporary administrator.

d. Where he has sold, or otherwise disposed of, any of the decedent's real property, or the rents, profits or proceeds thereof, pursuant to a power contained in the decedent's will, or an order of the surrogate's court, and fifteen days have elapsed after the time in which to present claims has expired, or one year has elapsed since letters were issued to him.

2. In the case of a guardian.

a. Where the ward has attained the age of twenty-one years, or has died.

b. Where the guardian is a guardian in socage, or the guardian of the infant's person only.

c. Where letters issued to him have been revoked, or his powers have ceased.

3. In the case of a trustee,

a. Where the trustee has been removed, or for any other reason his powers have ceased.

b. Where the trusts, or one or more distinct and separate trusts, created by the terms of the will, have been executed, or are ready to be executed; so that the persons beneficially interested are, by the terms of the will, or by operation of law, entitled to receive any money or other personal property from the trustee.

Former § 2726 of this Code, modified. See also former §§ 2605, 2807, 2837, 2856. From 2 R. S. 92, 95, §§ 52, 68; Id., 104, § 24; Id., 106, 109, §§ 34, 57; L. 1837, c. 460, § 36; L. 1864, c. 71, § 7; L. 1881, c. 535; L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2727. Compulsory judicial settlement; who may petition.

A petition praying for the judicial settlement of the accounts of a person described in the last section, and that such person may be cited to show cause why he should not render and settle such account may be presented in a case prescribed in the last section as follows:

1. Against an executor or administrator,

a. By a creditor or a person interested in the estate or fund,

b. By or on behalf of a child born after the making of the will, when interested in the estate.

2. Against a guardian,

a. By the ward after he has become twenty-one years of age,

b. By the executor or administrator of a ward who has died,

c. By the ward or a duly appointed guardian where a person has been acting as a guardian in socage.

3. Against a testamentary trustee,

a. By any person beneficially interested in the execution of any of the trusts, or by any person on behalf of an infant so interested, unless his account has been judicially settled within one year preceding the application.

In any case,

a. By a surety on the official bond of the person required to account, or the legal representative of such a surety,

b. By the successor, or by the remaining executor, administrator, guardian or trustee, where a representative, guardian or testamentary trustee has been removed or his letters revoked.

c. By the attorney-general of the state where any of the property or fund may belong to the state of New York, by reason of the death of any testator, intestate, or person interested without leaving known heirs-at-law or next of kin, as the case may be, or such heirs-at-law or next of kin are unknown.

New. See former §§ 2727, 2808, 2847, 2848, 2856.

§ 2728. Compulsory judicial settlement; citation; order to account and proceedings thereon.

On the presentation of a petition, as prescribed in the last section, a citation must be issued accordingly, and on the return of the citation if the person cited fails either to appear, or to file his account, or to show good cause to the contrary, or to present in a proper case, a petition as prescribed in the next section, an order must be made, directing him to account within such a time, and in such a manner as the surrogate prescribes, and to attend, from time to time, before the surrogate, for that purpose. He is bound by such an order, without service thereof. If it appears that there is a surplus, distributable to creditors or persons interested, the surrogate may, at any time, issue a supplemental citation, directed to the persons who must be cited, on the petition for a judicial settlement of his account. The pendency of a proceeding against an executor, administrator, guardian or trustee to compel him to account does not preclude him from presenting a petition as prescribed in the next section. If such petition be presented at or before the return of a citation in and as prescribed in either of the foregoing sections of this title, the citation issued thereon need not be directed to petitioner in the special proceeding pending, and the two proceedings must be consolidated.

Former § 2727 of this Code, in part. From 2 R. S. 92, 93, §§ 53, 60; Id., 152, § 11; L. 1890, c. 62; L. 1893, c. 686; L. 1901, c. 408; L. 1911, c. 432.

§ 2730. Voluntary judicial settlement.

In either of the following cases an administrator, executor, guardian or testamentary trustee may present to the surrogate's court his account and a petition praying that his account may be judicially settled and that all necessary and proper parties may be cited to show cause why such settlement should not be had:

1. By an executor or administrator,

a. Where the time for presentation of claims as fixed by a notice duly published has expired; or one year has expired since letters were issued to him or his predecessor in office.

b. Where letters issued to the petitioner have been revoked.

2. By a guardian,

a. Where a petition for a compulsory judicial settlement of his accounts may be presented by any other person,

b. Where he has properly used and expended all of the estate of the infant, and the circumstances are such that, in the discretion of the surrogate, it is proper that such guardian should be discharged.

3. By a testamentary trustee.

a. Where one or more distinct and separate trusts created by the will, have been, or are ready to be, fully executed.

Former § 2728 of this Code, in part, rewritten, and combined with former §§ 2810, 2849, 2856.

§ 2730. Voluntary judicial settlement; citation.

Upon a voluntary judicial settlement of the account of an executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee there must be cited:

1. All creditors or persons claiming to be creditors of the decedent, except such as by vouchers filed with the account appear to have been paid.

2. The sureties on his official bond, if any.

3. All co-executors, administrators, guardians or trustees who do not join in the petition.

4. The successor, if a successor has been appointed, in a case where the petitioner's letters have been revoked, or he has been removed, and if no successor has been appointed, all the persons interested who are required to be cited by this section.

5. The attorney-general in all cases where the decedent, ward or beneficiary died intestate as to any part of the estate or fund leaving no known heir-at-law or next of kin.

6. The widow or husband, if any, and all the heirs-at-law where the decedent, ward or beneficiary died intestate as to any real property, and all his next of kin where he died intestate as to any personal property.

7. All devisees, all trustees of any trust created by the will, and all legatees, except such as by voucher and release acknowledged, or proved, and duly certified and filed, appear to have been fully paid.

8. In the case of a guardian, there shall also be cited all persons who might have presented a petition for a compulsory settlement.

9. In the case of a trustee there shall also be cited all persons who are entitled, absolutely or contingently, by the terms of the will or by operation of law, to share in the fund, or in the proceeds of property held by the petitioner as a part of his trust.

Where any person required to be cited has died, his executor or administrator shall be cited, and if no legal representative has been appointed, the husband or widow and all the heirs-at-law or next of kin, or both, of such deceased person, who are interested.

From former § 2728 of this Code, rewritten; see also § 2850.

§ 2731. Proceedings on return of citation.

On the return of a citation, issued as prescribed in the last section, the surrogate must take the account, and hear the allegations and proofs of the parties, respecting the same and make such order or decree as justice requires. The executor, administrator, guardian or trustee may be examined under oath by any party to the proceeding as to any matter relating to his administration of the estate or fund. If any party interested shall demand in writing that a voucher be produced and filed for any payment alleged by the account to have been made, the accounting party shall produce and file such voucher or make satisfactory proof of such payment.

From former § 2728, in part, rewritten.

§ 2732. Affidavit to account.

To each account filed in the surrogate's court, as prescribed in this article, must be appended the affidavit of the accounting party, to the effect that the account contains, according to the best of his knowledge and belief, a full and true statement of all his receipts and disbursements on account of the estate or fund, and of all money and other property belonging to the estate or fund, which have come to his hands, or been received by any other person, by his order or authority, for his use, and that he does not know of any error or omission in the account, to the prejudice of any creditor of, or person interested in, the estate or fund.

From former § 2729, in part, rewritten. From 2 R. S. 92, 93, §§ 54–56; L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2733. Accounting for profit and loss.

No profit shall be made by an executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee by the increase, nor shall he sustain any loss by the decrease or loss, without his fault, of any part of the estate or fund; but he shall account for such increase, and be allowed for such decrease or loss on the settlement of his accounts.

From former §§ 2717, 2729 of this Code, in part.

§ 2734. Property of an estate or trust to be delivered upon order of the court.

The surrogate's court has jurisdiction to compel the executor, administrator, guardian or trustee, or successor of any deceased executor, administrator, trustee or guardian at any time to deliver over any property of the estate or trust which has come to his possession or is under his control, and if the same is delivered over after a decree, the court must allow such credit upon the decree as justice requires.

The said court has also jurisdiction when an executor, administrator, trustee or guardian has died, absconded, been removed, or become insane to direct the person so removed, or any person or corporation having possession or control of any property belonging to such estate or fund, to deliver the same to the court or to a successor duly appointed; or as directed by a decree made pursuant to section 2725 of this chapter.

First part of this section is from former § 2606 of this Code; the last sentence is from Id., § 2605.

§ 2735. Decree for payment and distribution.

Where an account is judicially settled, as prescribed in this article, and any part of the estate or fund remains and is ready to be distributed, the decree must direct the payment and distribution thereof to the persons so entitled, according to their respective rights. It may also award to a surviving husband, wife, or child, the same relief as to set off of exempt property which may be awarded in his or her favor, on a petition presented as prescribed in section 2671 of this chapter.

Former §§ 2724, 2743 of this Code, in part, modified. From 2 R. S. 94, § 71; L. 1895, c. 595; L. 1898, c. 565; L. 1906, c. 515.

§ 2736. Id.; when specific property may be delivered.

In either of the following cases, the decree may direct the delivery of an unsold chattel, or the assignment of an uncollected demand, or any other personal property, to a party or parties entitled to payment or distribution, in lieu of the money value of the property:

1. Where all the parties interested manifest their consent thereto by a writing filed in the surrogate's office.

2. Where any legatee or distributee files a consent to accept as payment in whole or in part any specified personal property at a value to be ascertained by appraisement.

3. Where it appears that a sale thereof, for the purpose of payment or distribution, would cause a loss to any infant or incompetent legatee or distributee, and the value thereof has been fixed by appraisement.

The value must be ascertained, if the consent does not fix it, by an appraisement under oath, made by one or more persons appointed by the surrogate for the purpose.

Former § 2744 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 94, § 72; L. 1878, c. 30.

§ 2737. Id.; when money or property may be retained.

Where an admitted debt of the decedent is not yet due, and the creditor will not accept present payment, with a rebate of interest; or when a debt not yet due has been disputed or rejected; or where an action is pending between the executor or administrator, and a person claiming to be a creditor of the decedent; or where on the judicial settlement of the account of a testamentary trustee a controversy respecting the right of a party to share in the fund, or other personal property held by the trustee, has not been determined; the decree must direct that a sum sufficient to satisfy the claim, or the proportion to which it is entitled, together with the probable amount of the interest and costs, or that any personal property the right to which is in controversy, be retained in the hands of the accounting party; or be deposited in a safe bank, or trust company, subject to the order of the surrogate's court; or be paid into the surrogate's court, for the purpose of being applied to the payment of the claim, or the satisfaction of any judgment when it is due, recovered, or settled; and that so much thereof, as is not needed for that purpose, be afterwards distributed according to law.

§ 2738. Adjustment of advancements.

Where there is a surplus of personal property to be distributed, and the advancement as provided in section 99 of the Decedent Estate Law, consisted of personal property, or where a deficiency in the adjustment of an advancement of real property is chargeable on personal property, the decree for distribution, in the surrogate's court, must adjust all the advancements which have not been previously adjusted by the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. For that purpose, if any person to be affected by the decree, is not a party to the proceeding, the surrogate must cause him to be brought in by a supplemental citation.

Former § 2733 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 97, §§ 76–78. See L. 1893, c. 686; L. 1909, c. 65.

§ 2739. Payment of share of infant.

When a legacy or distributive share is payable to an infant, the decree shall direct that it be paid to his guardian, upon his filing sufficient security, unless the legacy does not exceed fifty dollars, or a distributive share does not exceed one hundred and fifty dollars, in which cases the decree may order it to be paid to his father, or to his mother, or to some competent person with whom the infant resides, or who has some interest in his welfare, for the use and benefit of such infant. If there be no guardian, the decree shall provide that the legacy or distributive share not disposed of in the manner aforesaid, shall be paid into or deposited with the surrogate's court.

Former § 2746 of this Code, in part, modified. From 2 R. S. 91, §§ 46–51; Id., 96, § 80; L. 1886, c. 358; L. 1900, c. 554; L. 1909, c. 65; L. 1911, c. 328; L. 1913, c. 10.

§ 2740. Legacy, etc., to unknown person to be paid into state treasury.

Where the person entitled to a legacy or distributive share is unknown, the decree must direct the executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee to pay the amount thereof into the treasury of the State, for the benefit of the person or persons who may thereafter appear to be entitled thereto. The surrogate's court, or the supreme court, upon the petition of a person claiming to be so entitled, and upon at least fourteen days' notice to the attorney-general, accompanied with a copy of the petition, may by a reference, or by directing the trial of an issue by a jury, or otherwise, ascertain the rights of the persons interested, and grant an order directing the payment of any money, which appears to be due to the claimant, but without interest, and deducting all expenses incurred by the State with respect thereto. The comptroller, upon the production of a certified copy of the order, must draw his warrant upon the treasury, for the amount therein directed to be paid; which must be paid by the State treasurer, to the person entitled thereto.

§ 2741. When legacy, etc., to be paid into court.

Where it appears that the whereabouts of any legatee or distributee is unknown, the decree must direct the executor, administrator or testamentary trustee to pay into surrogate's court a legacy or distributive share, which is not paid to the person entitled thereto, at the expiration of six months from the time when the decree is made, or when the legacy or distributive share is payable by the terms of the decree; or where, at the expiration of six months after the making of the decree, it is shown to the court that payment of a legacy or distributive share can not be made to the person entitled thereto, an order may be made directing the payment of the same into court. The money, so paid into court can be paid out only by the special direction of the surrogate; or pursuant to the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. The state comptroller may institute any necessary proceeding before the surrogate's court to compel the deposit of such moneys in court, which have not been paid over or deposited after the expiration of six months.

§ 2742. Effect of judicial settlement of account; summary statement.

A judicial settlement of the account of an executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee, either by the decree of the surrogate's court, or upon an appeal therefrom, is conclusive evidence against all the parties of whom jurisdiction was obtained and all persons deriving title from any of them at any time, as to all matters embraced in the account and decree.

Each decree, whereby an account is judicially settled, must contain, in the body thereof, a summary of the account as settled; or must refer to such a summary, which must be recorded in the same book, and is deemed a part of the decree.

Former §§ 2742, 2551, 2813 of this Code, in part. From 2 R. S. 94 (Part 2, c. 4, tit. 3), § 65; L. 1837, c. 460, § 2.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Costs in special proceedings, when and how payable; security for costs; compensation of special guardian, fees of appraisers, jurors, referees and witnesses, commissions and compensation of executors, administrators, guardians and trustees.

Sec. 2743. Costs in special proceedings.
2744. Costs; how made payable.
2745. Costs on order.
2746. When surrogate to fix amount of costs.
2747. Additional allowance in settling accounts.
2748. Compensation of special guardian.
2749. Allowance upon sale of real property.
2750. Security for costs.
2751. Costs of appeal.
2752. Fees of appraiser, referee, juror and witness.
2753. Commissions of executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee.

§ 2743. Costs in special proceedings.

Costs shall be awarded in special proceedings in surrogate's court solely in accordance with the following sections, and shall include all disbursements of the party to whom they are awarded, which might be taxed in the supreme court. The sum allowed for costs must be fixed by the surrogate, and inserted in the decree or order, and must be awarded to the party.

Former § 2559 of this Code.

§ 2744. Costs; how made payable.

Except where special provision is otherwise made by law, costs, awarded by a decree or order may be made payable by the party personally, or out of the estate, or fund, or out of the share or interest therein of any person, or from both, in such proportion as the surrogate may direct, and justice requires.

Former § 2557 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 223 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 1), § 10; L. 1886, c. 784; L. 1887, c. 782, § 8.

§ 2745. Costs on order.

The costs upon granting or refusing to grant an order, are in the discretion of the surrogate, and when allowed may be collected in the same manner as costs allowed upon granting or refusing to grant an order in the supreme court.

New; substance found in former § 2556 of this Code.

§ 2746. When surrogate to fix amount of costs.

The surrogate, upon rendering a decree, may, in his discretion, fix such a sum as he deems reasonable, to be allowed as costs, to the petitioner, and to any other party who has succeeded in a contest, or whose attorney, in the absence of a contest, has rendered services in the proceeding of substantial benefit to him, or to the estate or fund, not exceeding, where there has not been a contest, twenty-five dollars, or where there has been a contest, seventy dollars; and, in addition thereto, where a trial or hearing upon the merits necessarily occupies more than one day, ten dollars for each additional day, necessarily occupied in the trial or hearing and in preparing therefor, and where a motion for a new trial is made, if it is granted, twenty-five dollars; if it is denied, fifteen dollars.

When the decree is made upon a contested application for probate of a will, costs, payable out of the estate or otherwise, shall not be awarded to an unsuccessful contestant of the will, unless he is a special guardian for an infant or incompetent, appointed by the surrogate, or is named as an executor in a paper propounded by him in good faith as the last will of the decedent; but where a person named as the executor in a will propounds the will for probate, such person so named as executor may, whether successful or not, in the discretion of the surrogate, be awarded costs and all necessary disbursements made by him and all expenses incurred in the attempt to sustain the will. The surrogate may order a copy of the stenographer's minutes to be furnished to the contestant's counsel, and charge the expense thereof to the estate, if he shall be satisfied that the contest is made in good faith.

Former § 2561 of this Code, modified; last paragraph from former § 2558, subd. 3.

§ 2747. Additional allowance in settling account.

In addition to the sums specified in the last section, the surrogate may, in his discretion, allow to an executor, administrator, guardian, or testamentary trustee, upon a judicial settlement of his account, or on an intermediate accounting required by the surrogate, such a sum, as the surrogate deems reasonable, for his counsel fees and other expenses, not exceeding ten dollars for each day necessarily occupied in preparing his account for settlement and in drawing, entering and executing the decree.

Former § 2562 of this Code. From L. 1863, c. 362, § 8; Id., c. 115; L. 1881, c. 535.

§ 2748. Compensation of special guardian.

A special guardian for an infant or incompetent shall receive a reasonable compensation for his services to be fixed by the surrogate, payable from the estate or fund, or from the interest of the ward therein, or from both in such proportion as the surrogate may direct.

New.

§ 2749. Allowance upon sale of real property.

Upon the disposition of real property of a decedent, as prescribed in this chapter, the executor or administrator disposing of the property, must be allowed by the surrogate out of the proceeds of the sale brought into court, his commissions and expenses; and such a further sum as the surrogate thinks reasonable, for the necessary services of his attorney and counsel therein.

Former § 2563 of this Code, modified. From L. 1844, c. 300, § 2.

§ 2750. Security for costs.

In any proceeding where an issue is raised by answer or objection by or on behalf of a non-resident of the state of New York against the proponent of a will, or an executor, administrator or trustee, or where the probate of a will has been tried before a jury which has disagreed, such proponent, executor, administrator or trustee shall be entitled in the discretion of the surrogate to have the person or persons raising such issue give security for costs.

New.

§ 2751. Costs of appeal.

The appellate court may award to the successful party the costs of the appeal; or it may direct that they abide the event of a new trial, or of the subsequent proceedings in the surrogate's court. In either case, the costs may be made payable out of the estate or fund, or personally by the unsuccessful party, as directed by the appellate court; or, if such direction is not given, as directed by the surrogate.

The costs of an appeal, when they are awarded in a surrogate's court, are the same as if they were awarded in the supreme court.

Former §§ 2560, 2589 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 608 (Part 3, c. 9, tit. 3), § 96; Id., 67 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 1), § 61.

§ 2752. Fees of appraiser, referee, juror and witness.

An appraiser is entitled, in addition to his actual expenses, to a sum, to be fixed by the surrogate, not exceeding five dollars for each day actually and necessarily occupied by him in making the appraisal or inventory. The number of days' services and the expenses, if any, must be proved by the affidavit of the appraiser; and the sums payable therefor taxed by the surrogate, and paid by the executor or administrator.

A referee, juror, or witness is entitled to the same fees for his services and for traveling, as is allowed for like services in the supreme court.

Former §§ 2565, 2566 of this Code. From L. 1873, c. 225; 2 R. S. 59 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 1), § 19.

§ 2753. [Am'd, 1916.] Commissions of executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee.

On the settlement of the account of any executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee, the surrogate must allow to him his just, reasonable and necessary expenses actually paid by him, and if he be an attorney and counselor-at-law of this state, and shall have rendered legal services in connection with his official duties, such compensation for such legal services as shall appear to the surrogate to be just and reasonable; and in addition thereto the surrogate must allow to such executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee for his services in such official capacity, and if there be more than one, apportion among them according to the services rendered by them respectively:

For receiving and paying out all sums of money not exceeding one thousand dollars, at the rate of five per centum.

For receiving and paying out any additional sums not amounting to more than ten thousand dollars, at the rate of two and one-half per centum.

For all sums above eleven thousand dollars, at the rate of one per centum.

The value of any real or personal property, and the increment thereof, received, distributed or delivered, shall be considered as money in making computation of commissions. But this shall not apply in case of a specific legacy or devise.

If an executor acting as trustee, or if a trustee or guardian, is required to receive income and pay over the same, and such executor, trustee or guardian pays over said income and renders an annual account to the beneficiary of all his receipts and disbursements on account thereof, he shall be allowed, and may retain, the same commission on the amount so accounted for as he would be allowed upon principal on a judicial settlement; if he does not render such annual account, he shall be allowed, upon his judicial settlement, his commissions upon the total income from any money or property then payable to such beneficiary.

If the gross value of the principal of the estate or fund accounted for amounts to one hundred thousand dollars or more, each executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee is entitled to the full compensation on principal and income allowed herein to a sole executor, administrator, guardian or testamentary trustee, unless there are more than three, in which case the compensation to which three would be entitled must be apportioned among them according to the services rendered by them, respectively. Where the will provides a specific compensation to an executor, administrator, testamentary guardian or trustee, he is not entitled to any allowance for his services, unless by a written instrument filed with the surrogate, within four months from the date of his letters, or in the case of a testamentary trustee or guardian, from the date of his filing his oath, he renounces the specific compensation. Where successive or different letters are issued to the same person on the estate of the same decedent, including a case where letters testamentary or letters of general administration, are issued to a person who has been previously appointed a temporary administrator, he is entitled to compensation in one capacity only, at his election, except that where he has received compensation in one capacity he is entitled to the excess, if any, of the compensation allowed by law above the sum which he has already received in the other capacity.

Former § 2730 of this Code, modified. From 2 R. S. 93, §§ 58, 59; L. 1863, c. 362; L. 1881, c. 535; L. 1892, c. 636; L. 1893, c. 686; L. 1895, c. 595; L. 1905, c. 328; L. 1916, c. 596 (in effect May 19, 1916).

ARTICLE THIRD.

Appeal; when, how and to what court taken, and power of appellate court; undertaking to perfect appeal and stay execution; probate of heirship; definition and application of other sections to this chapter.

Sec. 2754. Appeal; when and to what court it may be taken.
2755. Who must be made parties.
2756. Time to appeal; how taken.
2757. Appeal may be on the law or the facts; case to be made; reversal.
2758. Certain provisions of chapter twelve made applicable.
2759. Security to perfect appeal.
2760. Id.; where decree is for money or delivery of property, etc.
2761. Security to stay proceedings in case of commitment.
2762. Amount and requisites of undertaking; action thereon.
2763. Power of appellate court; further testimony.
2764. Appeal; proceedings thereupon.

§ 2754. Appeal; when and to what court it may be taken.

An appeal to the appellate division of the supreme court may be taken from a decree of a surrogate's court, or from an order affecting a substantial right, made by a surrogate, or by a surrogate's court in a special proceeding, by any party aggrieved thereby, except where the decree or order was rendered or made upon his default in appearing.

Former §§ 2568, 2570 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 609 (Part 3, c. 9, tit. 3), § 104; Id., 711, § 118; Id., 62, § 35; L. 1895, c. 946.

§ 2755. Who must be made parties.

Each party who has appeared in the special proceeding in the surrogate's court, must be made a party to the appeal. A person not a party, may be brought in by an order of the appellate court, made after the appeal is taken, in such manner as the order may prescribe.

Former § 2573 of this Code, modified.

§ 2756. Time to appeal; how taken.

An appeal must be taken within thirty days after the service, upon the appellant, or upon the attorney, if any, who appeared for him in the surrogate's court, of a copy of the decree, or order from which the appeal is taken, and a written notice of the entry thereof, except that the party entering such decree or order shall not be entitled to further notice to limit his time to appeal.

An appeal must be taken by the service upon each party to the appeal, other than the appellant, and upon the surrogate, or the clerk of the surrogate's court, of a written notice, referring to the decree or order appealed from, and stating that the appellant appeals from the same, or from a specified part thereof. Where a party to the special proceeding in the court below appeared in person, the notice of appeal must be personally served upon him; where he appeared by an attorney, it must be served personally, either upon him or upon his attorney.

Former §§ 2572, 2574 of this Code, consolidated and modified. From 2 R. S. 66 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 1), § 55; Id., 608, §§ 90, 102, 105–107.

§ 2757. Appeal may be on the law or the facts; case to be made; reversal.

The appeal may be taken upon questions of law, or upon the facts, or upon both. If it is taken from a decree rendered upon the trial by the surrogate, or by the surrogate and a jury, of an issue of fact, it must be heard upon a case, to be made and settled by the surrogate, as prescribed by law, for the making and settling of a case upon an appeal in an action.

Such appeal brings up for review, by each court to which the appeal is carried, each decision, to which an exception is duly taken by the appellant, as prescribed in section 2542. But such a decree or order shall not be reversed, for an error in admitting or rejecting evidence, unless it appears to the appellate court that the exceptant was necessarily prejudiced thereby.

Former § 2576 of this Code, with part of former § 2545.

§ 2758. Certain provisions of chapter twelve made applicable.

The provisions of the following sections of this act, to wit: sections 1295 to 1299 both inclusive, and 1301 to 1303, and 1305 to 1309, both inclusive, apply to an appeal taken as prescribed in this article, and for the purposes of such application the word "judgment" shall mean a decree.

Former § 2575 of this Code.

§ 2759. Security to perfect appeal.

To render a notice of appeal effectual for any purpose, except in a case specified in the next section, or where it is specially prescribed by law, that security is not necessary to perfect the appeal, the appellant must give a written undertaking, with at least two sureties, to the effect that the appellant will pay all costs and damages which may be awarded against him upon the appeal, not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

Former § 2577 of this Code. See 2 R. S. 66 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 1), § 56; Id., 10, § 108.

§ 2760. Id.; where decree is for money or delivery of property, etc.

In every case except one in which the letters of an executor, administrator or guardian have been revoked, or a trustee has been removed a notice of appeal by an executor, administrator, testamentary trustee, guardian or other person appointed by the surrogate's court, from a decree, directing him to pay or distribute money, or to deposit money in a bank or trust company, or to deliver property; or by an executor or administrator from an order granting leave to issue an execution against him, as prescribed in section 1825 of this act, does not stay the execution of the decree appealed from unless the appellant gives an undertaking, with at least two sureties, in a sum therein specified, to the effect that if the decree or order, or any part thereof, is affirmed, or the appeal is dismissed, the appellant will pay all costs and damages, which may be awarded against him upon the appeal, and will pay the sum so directed to be paid or collected, or, as the case requires will deposit or distribute the money, or deliver the property, so directed to be deposited, distributed, or delivered, or the part thereof as to which the decree or order is affirmed.

Former § 2578 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 116 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 5), § 21; L. 1870, c. 359, § 12; L. 1882, c. 399.

§ 2761. Security to stay proceedings in case of commitment.

An appeal from a decree or an order, directing the commitment of an executor, administrator, testamentary trustee, guardian, or other person appointed by the surrogate's court, or an attorney or counsel employed therein, for disobedience to a direction of the surrogate, or for neglect of duty; or directing the commitment of a person refusing to obey a subpœna, or to testify, when required according to law; does not stay the execution of the decree or order appealed from, unless the appellant gives an undertaking with at least two sureties, in a sum therein specified, to the effect that if the decree or order appealed from, or any part thereof, is affirmed, or the appeal is dismissed, the appellant will, within twenty days after the affirmance or dismissal, surrender himself in obedience to the decree or order, to the custody of the sheriff of the county, wherein he was directed to be committed.

Former § 2579 of this Code, in part. From 2 R. S. 610, 611 (Part 3, c. 9, tit. 3), § 111-115.

§ 2762. Amount and requisites of undertaking; action thereon.

The sum specified in an undertaking, executed as prescribed in either of the last two sections, must be fixed by the surrogate, or by a judge of the appellate court, who may require proof, by affidavit, of the value of any property, or of such other facts as he deems proper.

An undertaking, given as prescribed in the last three sections, must be to the people of the state; must contain the name and residence of each of the sureties thereto; must be approved by the surrogate or a judge of the appellate court; and must be filed in the surrogate's office. The surrogate may, at any time in his discretion, make an order authorizing any person aggrieved to bring an action upon the undertaking, in his own name, or in the name of the people. Such action may be prosecuted in the same manner, and with the same effect as an action upon an administrator's bond; and the proceeds of the action must be paid or distributed as directed by the surrogate, to or among the persons aggrieved, to the extent of the pecuniary injuries sustained by them, and the balance, if any, must be paid into the surrogate's court.

Former §§ 2580, 2581, of this Code, modified; the last sentence is from former § 2579.

§ 2763. Power of appellate court; further testimony.

Where an appeal is taken upon the facts, the appellate court has the same power to decide the questions of fact, which the surrogate had; and it may, in its discretion, receive further testimony or documentary evidence, and appoint a referee.

The appellate court may reverse, affirm, or modify, the decree or order appealed from, and each intermediate order, specified in the notice of appeal, which it is authorized by law to review, and as to any or all of the parties; and it may, if necessary or proper, grant a new trial or hearing. Upon an appeal from a determination of the surrogate, made upon an application pursuant to subdivision six of section 2490 the appellate court has the same power as the surrogate, and his determination must be reviewed as if an original application were made to that court. The decree or order appealed from may be enforced, or restitution may be awarded, as the case requires, as prescribed in title first of chapter twelfth of this act, with respect to an appeal from a judgment.

Former §§ 2481, 2586, 2587 of this Code.

§ 2764. Appeal; proceedings thereupon.

In the appellate division of the supreme court the order made upon an appeal from a decree or an order of a surrogate's court must be entered with the clerk of the appellate division, and a certified copy thereof annexed to the papers transmitted from the court below upon which the appeal was heard, must be transmitted to the court from which the appeal was taken, and the court below shall enter the judgment or order necessary to carry the determination of the appellate division into effect.

Former § 2585 of this Code. See L. 1895, c. 946.

ARTICLE FOURTH.

Probate of heirship; definitions, and application of other sections to this chapter.

Sec. 2765. Heir, etc., may apply to establish heirship.
2766. What facts to be ascertained; decree thereupon.
2767. Decree to be recorded; effect thereof.
2768. Definition of expressions used in this chapter.
2769. Application of chapter; confirmation of previous acts.
2770. Certain provisions made applicable to proceedings in surrogate's courts.
2771. Effect of this chapter on laws applicable to certain counties.

§ 2765. Heir, etc., may apply to establish heirship.

Where a person, seized in fee of real property within the state, dies intestate, or without having devised his real property, his heirs, or any of them, or any person deriving title from or through such heirs, or any of them, may present to the surrogate's court which has acquired jurisdiction of the estate, or, if no surrogate's court has acquired such jurisdiction, then to the surrogate's court of the county where the real property, or any part thereof is situated, a petition, describing the real property, setting forth the facts upon which the jurisdiction of the court depends, and the interest or share of the petitioner, and of each other heir of the decedent, in the real property, and praying for a decree establishing the right of inheritance thereto, and that all the heirs of the decedent may be cited to show cause why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. Upon the presentation of such a petition a citation must be issued accordingly, except in a case where the petitioner was a party to a judicial settlement, the decree upon which determined the rights of the parties to such real estate.

§ 2766. What facts to be ascertained; decree thereupon.

Upon the return of the citation, the surrogate's court must hear the allegations and proofs of the parties and determine all the issues raised. The petitioner must establish the fact of the decedent's death; the place of his residence at the time of his death; his intestacy, either generally, or as to the real property in question; the heirs entitled to inherit the property in question; the name, age, residence and relationship to the decedent, of each; and the interest or share of each in the property. The surrogate, when these facts are established, must make a decree, describing the property, and declaring that the right of inheritance thereto has been established to his satisfaction, in accordance with the facts, which must be recited in the decree.

§ 2767. Decree to be recorded; effect thereof.

A certified copy of a decree, made as prescribed in the last section may be recorded in the office of the clerk, or of the register, as the case requires, of each county in which the real property is situated, as prescribed by law for recording a deed, and, from the time when such copy is so recorded, the decree, or the record thereof, is conclusive evidence of the facts so declared to be established thereby against all parties to such proceeding.

Former § 2657 of this Code. From L. 1873, c. 552, §§ 1, 2; L. 1874, c. 127.

§ 2768. [Am'd, 1916.] Definition of expressions used in this chapter.

In construing the provisions of this chapter, the following rules must be observed, except where a contrary intent is expressly declared in the provision to be construed, or plainly apparent from the context thereof:

1. The word "intestate," signifies a person who died without leaving a valid will; but where it is used with respect to particular property it signifies a person who died without effectually disposing of that property by will whether he left a will or not.

2. The word "assets," signifies personal property applicable to the payment of the debts of a decedent.

3. The word "debts" includes every claim and demand, upon which a judgment for a sum of money, or directing the payment of money, could be recovered in an action; and the word "creditor" includes every person having such a claim or demand, any person having a claim for expense of administration, or any person having a claim for funeral expenses.

4. The word, "will," signifies a last will and testament, and includes all the codicils to a will.

5. The expression, "letters of administration," includes letters of temporary administration.

6. The expression, "testamentary trustee," includes every person, except an executor, an administrator with the will annexed, or a guardian, who is designated by a will, or by any competent authority, to execute a trust created by a will; and it includes such an executor or administrator, where he is acting in the execution of a trust created by the will, which is separable from his functions as executor or administrator.

7. The word, "surrogate," where it is used in the text, or in a bond or undertaking, given pursuant to any provision of this chapter, includes every officer or court vested by law with the functions of surrogate.

8. The expression, "judicial settlement," where it is applied to an account, signifies a decree of a surrogate's court, whereby the account is made conclusive upon the parties to the special proceeding, either for all purposes, or for certain purposes specified in the statute; and an account thus made conclusive is said to be "judicially settled."

9. The expression, "intermediate account," denotes an account filed in the surrogate's office, for the purpose of disclosing the acts of the person accounting, and the condition of the estate or fund in his hands, and not made the subject of a judicial settlement.

10. The expression, "upon the return of a citation," where it is used in a provision requiring an act to be done in the surrogate's court, relates to the time and place at which the citation is returnable, or to which the hearing is adjourned; includes a supplemental citation, issued to bring in a party who ought to be but has not been cited; and implies that before doing the act specified, due proof must be made, that all persons required to be cited have been duly cited.

11. The expression, "persons interested," where it is used in connection with an estate or a fund, includes every person entitled, either absolutely or contingently, to share in the estate or the proceeds thereof, or in the fund, as husband, wife, legatee, next of kin, heir, devisee, assignee, grantee or otherwise except as a creditor. Where a provision of this chapter prescribes that a person interested may object to an appointment or may apply for an inventory, an account, or increased security, an allegation of his interest, duly verified, suffices, although his interest is disputed; unless he has been excluded by a judgment, decree, or other final determination, and no appeal therefrom is pending.

12. The term, "next of kin," includes all those entitled, under the provisions of law relating to the distribution of personal property, to share in the unbequeathed residue of the assets of a decedent after payment of debts and expenses, other than a surviving husband or wife.

13. The expression, "real property," includes every estate, interest, and right, legal or equitable, in lands, tenements, or hereditaments, except those which are determined or extinguished by the death of a person seized or possessed thereof, or in any manner entitled thereto, and except those which are declared by law to be assets. The word, "inheritance," signifies real property as defined in this subdivision, descended as prescribed by law. The expression, "personal property," signifies every kind of property which survives a decedent, other than real property as defined in this subdivision, and includes a right of action conferred by special statutory provision upon an executor or administrator.

14. The word "guardian" refers to a guardian of an infant's person or property, or both, appointed by the surrogate's court or the supreme court, and includes a guardian appointed by will or deed.

15. Whenever in this chapter a paper or instrument is required to be "acknowledged, or proved, and duly certified," the same shall be acknowledged or proven in the same manner as a deed is required to be acknowledged or proved and certified to be recorded in that county, except that when executed within the state of New York, no certificate of the county clerk shall be required.

16. The word "respondent" when used in this chapter signifies every party to a special proceeding, except the petitioner.

17. The words "surrogate's court" and "surrogate" where they refer to jurisdiction mean the particular court or surrogate having jurisdiction of the estate or fund.

18. [Am'd, 1916.] Whenever in this chapter a citation, order, notice or paper is directed to be deposited in the "post-office" or in a "specified post-office," such deposit may be made or directed to be made in any post-office, branch post-office, sub-station or letter box maintained and exclusively controlled by the United States government.

Former § 2514 of this Code, with additions. Am'd by L. 1916, c. 447 (in effect May 29, 1916).

§ 2769. Application of chapter; confirmation of previous acts.

Each provision of this chapter, relating to the jurisdiction of the surrogate's court, to take the proof of a will, and to grant letters testamentary or letters of administration or regulating the mode of proceeding in any manner connected with the estate of the decedent applies, unless otherwise expressly declared therein, whether the will was made, or the decedent died, before or after this chapter takes effect. All acts hitherto of surrogates and officers acting as such in completing by certifying in their own names any uncertified wills, and by signing and certifying in their own names any uncertified records of wills and of other proofs and examinations taken in the proceedings of probate thereof, before their predecessors in office, are hereby confirmed and declared to be valid and in full compliance with the pre-existing statutory requirements.

Former § 2482 of this Code. From 2 R. S. 68 (Part 2, c. 6, tit. 1), § 65b; L. 1893, c. 686.

§ 2770. Certain provisions made applicable to proceedings in surrogate's courts.

Except where a contrary intent is expressed in, or plainly implied from the context of, a provision of this chapter, all other portions of this act, and the general rules of practice apply to surrogates' courts and to the proceedings therein, so far as they can be applied to the substance and subject matter of a proceeding without regard to its form.

Former § 2538 of this Code.

§ 2771. [Am'd, 1915.] Effect of this chapter.

Nothing in this chapter shall repeal, amend or modify any existing law specially applying to any county, which is inconsistent with any section of this chapter, nor in any manner affect any litigation, action or special proceeding pending at the time when this act takes effect, except as hereinafter stated, and such pending action or special proceeding shall proceed under the practice established, the same as though not affected by this act; provided, however, that the provisions of this chapter relating to the trial by jury of controverted questions of fact shall apply to all such pending actions or special proceedings.

New. Am'd by L. 1915, c. 274 (in effect April 13, 1915).

CHAPTER XIX.

Courts of Justices of the Peace, and Proceedings Therein.

TITLE I.— Jurisdiction and General Powers.
TITLE II.— Commencement of Action; Appearance of Parties; Provisional Remedies.
TITLE III.— Pleadings; Including Counterclaims, and Proceedings upon Answer of Title.
TITLE IV.— Proceedings Between the Joinder of Issue and the Trial.
TITLE V.— Trial and its Incidents.
TITLE VI.— Judgment; and Docketing the Same.
TITLE VII.— Executions.
TITLE VIII.— Appeals.
TITLE IX.— Costs.
TITLE X.— Action or Special Proceeding, Relating to an Animal Straying upon the Highway.
TITLE XI.— Provisions Specially Relating to Courts of Justices of the Peace in the City of Brooklyn.
TITLE XII.— Miscellaneous Provisions.

TITLE I.

Jurisdiction and general powers.

Sec. 2861. Justice's jurisdiction must be specially conferred by statute.
2862. General civil jurisdiction.
2863. No jurisdiction in certain cases.
2864. Confession of judgment.
2865. Actions by and against officers, etc.; and by executors, etc.
2866. Tavern-keepers disqualified.
2867. Members of legislature not compelled to act.
2868. Justices to hold courts; general powers.
2869. In what town, etc., action must be brought.
2870. Criminal contempts.
2871. Id.; how punished.
2872. Offender to be heard.
2873. Record of conviction.
2874. Requisites of commitment.
2875. Fine to be paid to overseer or superintendent of the poor.

§ 2861. Justice's jurisdiction must be specially conferred by statute.

A justice of the peace has such jurisdiction in civil actions and special proceedings, as is specially conferred upon him by statute, and no other.

From Co. Proc., § 58.

§ 2862. [Am'd, 1896, 1906.] General civil jurisdiction.

Except as otherwise prescribed in the next section, a justice of the peace has jurisdiction of the following civil actions:

1. An action to recover damages upon or for breach of a contract, express or implied, other than a promise to marry, where the sum claimed does not exceed two hundred dollars.

2. An action to recover damages for a personal injury, or an injury to property, where the sum claimed does not exceed two hundred dollars.

3. An action for a fine or penalty, not exceeding two hundred dollars.

4. An action upon a bond conditioned for the payment of money, where the sum claimed to be due does not exceed two hundred dollars; the judgment to be rendered for the sum actually due. Where the sum secured by the bond is to be paid in instalments, an action may be brought for each instalment, as it becomes due.

5. An action upon a surety bond, taken by any justice of the peace.

6. An action upon a judgment, either foreign or domestic, rendered in any inferior court not of record, where the sum claimed does not exceed two hundred dollars. An action upon a judgment, foreign or domestic, rendered in a court of record, where the sum claimed does not exceed fifty dollars.

7. An action to recover one or more chattels, with or without damages for the taking, withholding, or detention thereof, where the value of the chattel, or of all the chattels, as stated in the affidavit made on the part of the plaintiff, does not exceed two hundred dollars.

8. An action to recover damages for an escape from the jail liberties, as provided by chapter two, title two, articles four and five of this act, where the sum claimed does not exceed fifty dollars.

From Co. Proc., § 53. Subd. 8 added by L. 1896, c. 303 (in effect Sept. 1, 1896). Subd. 6, am'd by L. 1906, c. 246 (in effect Sept. 1, 1906).

§ 2863. [Am'd, 1882, 1895, 1909.] No jurisdiction in certain cases.

But a justice of the peace cannot take cognizance of a civil action, in either of the following cases:

1. Where the people of the State are a party, except for one or more fines or penalties not exceeding two hundred dollars.

2. Where the title to real property comes in question, as prescribed in title third of this chapter.

3. Where the action is to recover damages for an assault, battery, false imprisonment, libel, slander, criminal conversation, seduction, or malicious prosecution, or where it is brought under sections 1837, 1902, or 1969 of this act, or sections 28 or 101 of the Decedent Estate Law.[1]

4. Where, in a matter of account, the sum total of the accounts of both parties proved to the satisfaction of the justice, exceeds four hundred dollars.

5. Where the action is brought against an executor or administrator as such, except where the amount of the claim is less than the sum of fifty dollars, and the claim has been duly presented to the executor or administrator and rejected by him.

From Co. Proc., § 54. Am'd by L. 1882, c. 399; L. 1895, c. 527; L. 1909, c. 65.

§ 2864. Confession of judgment.

A justice of the peace has also jurisdiction to render judgment, upon the confession of a defendant, as prescribed in title sixth of this chapter, where the sum confessed does not exceed five hundred dollars.

From Co. Proc., § 53, subd. 8.

§ 2865. [Am'd, 1882.] Actions by and against officers, etc.; and by executors, etc.

An action, cognisable by a justice of the peace, may be brought by or against a corporation; by or against a natural person in his own right; by or against a town or county officer in his official character; or by an executor or administrator, trustee of an express trust, or a receiver in supplementary proceedings.

From 2 R. S. 226 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 5; L. 1847, c. 470, § 45. Am'd by L. 1882, c. 399.

[1] Section 28 of the Decedent Estate Law is the same as § 1868 of this edition of the Code; as to § 101, see the foot-note on page 506.

§ 2866. [Am'd, 1911.] Tavern-keepers disqualified.

A justice of the peace, who is an innholder or tavern-keeper engaged in the liquor traffic or at whose inn or tavern liquor is sold, has no power or jurisdiction under any provision of this chapter; but if a judgment has been actually rendered by him, before he became so disqualified, he may give a transcript thereof, or issue execution thereupon, or satisfy the judgment, upon payment thereof.

From L. 1846, c. 140. Am'd by L. 1911, c. 600 (in effect Sept. 1, 1911).

§ 2867. Members of legislature not compelled to act.

A justice of the peace, who is a member of the senate or assembly, is not obliged to take cognizance of a civil action or special proceeding; but he may take cognisance thereof, in his discretion.

From 2 R. S. 226, § 7.

§ 2868. [Am'd, 1897, 1899.] Justices to hold court; general powers.

A justice of the peace must hold, within his town or city, a court for the trial of any action or special proceeding, of which he has jurisdiction, brought before him; but such a court shall not be held in a room in any part of which trafficking in liquors is authorized or in any adjoining room. He must hear, try and determine the same according to law and equity, and for that purpose, where special provision is not otherwise made by law, the court is vested with all the necessary powers possessed by the supreme court.

§ 2869. [Am'd, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1898, 1903.] In what town, etc., action must be brought.

An action must be brought before a justice of a town or city wherein one of the parties resides, or a justice of an adjoining town or city in the same county, except in one of the following cases:

1. Where the defendant has absconded from his residence, it may be brought before a justice of the town or city in which the defendant, or a portion of his property, is at the time of the commencement of the action.

2. Where the plaintiff is not a resident of the county, or if there are two or more plaintiffs when all are non-residents thereof, it must be brought in the town where the defendant resides, or in any adjoining town thereto.

3. Where the defendant is a non-resident of the county, it may be brought before a justice of the town or city, in which he is at the time of the commencement of the action.

4. Where it is specially prescribed by law, that a particular action may be brought before a justice of the town, city, county, or district, where an offense was committed, or where property is found.

5. In any town adjoining an incorporated city, no justice of such town shall have jurisdiction of any action brought against a resident of such adjoining city, unless one of the parties plaintiff in such action is a resident of such town.

A defendant designated in section 2879, section 2880, or section 2881 of this act, is deemed, for the purposes of this section, a resident of the town or city, where the person, to whom a copy of the summons is delivered, resides.

From 2 R. S. 226, §§ 8, 9. Am'd by L. 1894, c. 306; L. 1895, c. 158; L. 1898, c. 112 (in effect Sept. 1, 1898). Subd. 5 added by L. 1893, c. 74; am'd by L. 1903, c. 521 (in effect Sept. 1, 1903).

§ 2870. Criminal contempts.

A justice of the peace has power to punish, for a criminal contempt, a person guilty of either of the following acts:

1. Disorderly, contemptuous, or insolent behavior towards him, while engaged in the trial of an action, the rendering of a judgment, or any other judicial proceeding; where such behavior directly tends to interrupt the proceedings, or to impair the respect due to his authority.

2. Breach of the peace, noise, or other disturbance, directly tending to interrupt his official proceedings.

3. Resistance wilfully offered, in his presence, to the execution of his lawful mandate.

He has not power to punish, for a criminal contempt, in any other case.

From 2 R. S. 273 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 274.

§ 2871. Id.; how punished.

Punishment for a contempt, specified in the last section, may be by fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding five days, or both, in the discretion of the justice. Where a person is committed to prison for the non-payment of such a fine, he must be discharged at the expiration of ten days; but where he is also committed for a definite time, the ten days must be computed from the expiration of the definite time.

From Id., § 275.

§ 2872. Offender to be heard.

A person shall not be punished by a justice of the peace, for a contempt, until an opportunity has been given him to be heard in his defence. And, for that purpose, the justice must issue a warrant, directed, generally, to any constable of the county, requiring the constable to bring the offender before him.

From Id., § 276.

§ 2873. Record of conviction.

A justice, who convicts a person of a contempt, must, within ten days after the conviction, make up, subscribe, and file in the county clerk's office, a record thereof, stating therein the particular circumstances of the offence, and the punishment awarded by him upon the conviction.

From Id., § 277.

§ 2874. Requisites of commitment.

A warrant of commitment for a contempt must set forth the particular circumstances of the offence; otherwise it is void.

From Id., § 278.

§ 2875. Fine to be paid to overseer or superintendent of the poor.

An officer, who collects or receives a fine, imposed by a justice of the peace for a contempt, must, within ten days thereafter, pay the money, for the benefit of the poor, to the overseer or superintendent of the poor of the town, city, or district, wherein the fine was imposed; or, where there is no such officer, to the officer or officers performing corresponding functions under another name; unless the board of supervisors has directed the payment of fines and penalties to the supervisor of the town, in a case where it is authorised by law so to do.

TITLE II.

Commencement of action; appearance of parties; provisional remedies.

Article 1. Commencement of action.
2. Appearance of parties.
3. Order of arrest
4. Attachment of property.
5. Replevin.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Commencement of action.

Sec. 2876. Action; how commenced.
2877. Contents of summons.
2878. Service of summons.
2879. Id.; upon a corporation.
2880. Id.; special provisions relating to railroad corporations.
2881. Id.; relating to express, insurance and telegraph companies.
2882. Last two sections qualified.
2883. Second and third summons; effect thereof.
2884. Where name of defendant is unknown.
2885. Return of summons.

§ 2876. Action; how commenced.

An action is commenced before a justice of the peace, either by the voluntary appearance and joinder of issue by the parties, or by the service of a summons.

From 2 R. S. 227 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), §§ 11, 12, 13.

§ 2877. [Am'd, 1904.] Contents of summons.

The summons must be directed, generally, to any constable of the county where the justice resides; and it must command him to summon the defendant to appear before the justice, at a place specified therein, to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in a civil action. Where the summons is accompanied with an order to arrest the defendant, it must be made returnable immediately upon the arrest of the defendant, within twelve days after the day when it was issued; in every other case, it must be returnable at a time therein specified, not less than six nor more than twelve days after the day when it was issued. A summons shall not be made returnable on a legal holiday.

§ 2878. Service of summons.

Personal service of the summons must be made by delivering a copy thereof to the defendant; except where it is specially prescribed in this chapter that personal service may be made by delivering a copy to another person. Where service of a summons is personal, it must be made at least six days before the time of appearance specified therein; except where it is accompanied with an order of arrest.

From Id., § 15; L. 1876, c. 277.

§ 2879. [Am'd, 1904.] Id.; upon a corporation.

Where the defendant to be served is a corporation, or person, company or partnership doing business in another county than that in which he or it resides, the summons may be personally served upon it or him by delivering a copy thereof to an officer, managing agent or person to whom a copy of the summons in an action brought against the corporation in the supreme court might be delivered as prescribed in sections 431 and 432 of this act, or, to any director, managing agent or trustee of the corporation, person, partnership or company by whatever official title he or it is called.

From Co. Proc., § 64, subd. 15; L. 1847, c. 470, § 45. Am'd by L. 1904, c. 527 (in effect April 29, 1904).

§ 2880. [Am'd, 1900.] Id.; special provision relating to railroad corporations.

Where the defendant to be served is a railroad corporation, and no officer thereof resides in the county, to whom a copy of the summons may be delivered, as prescribed in the last section, it may be personally served, by delivering a copy thereof to a local superintendent of repairs, freight agent, agent to sell tickets, or station keeper of the corporation, residing in the county; unless, at least thirty days before it was issued, the corporation had filed, in the office of the clerk of the county, a written instrument, designating a person residing in the county, upon whom process to be issued by a justice of the peace against it, may be served; in which case, the summons may be personally served by delivering a copy to the person so designated.

§ 2881. [Am'd, 1895, 1905.] Id.; relating to express, insurance and telegraph companies.

Where the defendant to be served is a corporation, association, partnership or person doing business in the state as an express company, an insurance company, or a telegraph company, and no person resides in the county to whom a copy of the summons may be delivered, as prescribed in the foregoing sections of this article, it may be personally served on the express company by delivering a copy thereof to any local or general agent to receive freight or parcels, route agent, or messenger of the defendant, residing in the county, and on any insurance company by delivering a copy thereof to any local or general agent of the defendant, residing in the county, and on any telegraph company by delivering a copy thereof to any office manager of the defendant, residing in the county; unless at least thirty days before it was issued, the defendant had filed in the office of the clerk of the county, a written instrument, designating a person residing in the county, upon whom process to be issued by a justice of the peace against the defendant may be served; in which case the summons may be personally served by delivering a copy thereof to the person so designated.

From L. 1864, c. 411, §§ 1, 2. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 849; L. 1905, c. 211 (in effect September 1, 1905).

Where a person has been designated, as prescribed in either of the last two sections, and the designation has been revoked, or it appears, by affidavit or the return of the constable, to whom a summons has been duly delivered for service, that the person designated is dead, or has ceased to reside within the county; or that he cannot, after due diligence, be found within the county, so as to deliver a copy of the summons to him; the original summons, or the second or third summons, issued as prescribed in the next section, may be served as if the designation had not been made. Such a designation may be revoked by a writing, executed and filed in like manner as required for the purpose of making the designation.

New.

§ 2883. Second and third summons; effect thereof.

Where it appears, by the return of the constable, to whom a summons has been duly delivered for service, that it was not served, for any cause, a second summons may be issued by the same justice, in the same action, within twenty days after the first summons was issued; and, upon the like return thereof, a third summons may be issued, within twenty days after the second was issued. The second or the third summons, as the case may be, relates back to the time when the first summons was issued; and, with respect to all proceedings before actual service, the service thereof has the same effect, as if the first summons had been seasonably served. For the purpose of issuing a new summons, as prescribed in this section, a previous summons may be returned upon the sixth, or any subsequent day, before the return day thereof.

New.

§ 2884. Where name of defendant is unknown.

Where the plaintiff is ignorant of the name, or part of the name of a defendant, that defendant may be designated in the summons, and in any other process or proceeding in the action, by a fictitious name, or by so much of his name as is known, adding a description, identifying the person intended. The person so designated must thereupon be regarded as a defendant in the action, and as sufficiently described therein for all purposes. When his name, or the remainder of his name, becomes known, the justice, before whom the action is pending, must amend the proceedings already taken, by the insertion of the true or full name, in place of the fictitious name, or part of a name; and all subsequent proceedings must be taken under the name so inserted.

§ 2885. Return of summons.

A constable, who serves a summons, must, at or before the time when the same is returnable, make and deliver to the justice a written return thereof, under his hand, stating the time when, and the manner in which, he served it. A constable who fails seasonably to serve a summons, delivered to him for service, must make a written return thereof under his hand, stating that it was not served, and the reason why he failed to serve it.

From 2 R. S. 228, § 16.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Appearance of parties.

Sec. 2886. Parties may appear in person or by attorney.
2887. Guardian ad litem for infant plaintiff.
2888. Id.; for infant defendant.
2889. When constable, etc., may not act as attorney.
2890. Authority of attorney; how proved.
2891. Plaintiff to prove his case.
2892. Defendant may offer to compromise; proceedings thereupon.
2893. Justice to wait one hour.

§ 2886. Parties may appear in person or by attorney.

A party to an action before a justice of the peace, who is of full age, may appear and prosecute or defend the same, in person or by attorney, at his election, unless he has been judicially declared to be incompetent to manage his affairs.

§ 2887. Guardian ad litem for infant plaintiff.

Before a summons is issued in behalf of, or an issue is joined without summons by, an infant plaintiff, the justice must appoint a competent and responsible person, nominated by the plaintiff or his general guardian, to appear as his guardian for the purpose of the action. The written consent of the person so appointed must be filed with the justice, before his appointment. The guardian so appointed is responsible for the costs.

From Id., § 40.

§ 2888. Id.; for infant defendant.

After the service and return of a summons against an infant defendant, no other proceeding shall be taken in the action, until a person has been appointed to appear as his guardian for the purpose of the action. Upon the nomination of the defendant, the justice must appoint a proper person for that purpose. If the defendant does not appear upon the return of the summons, or if he neglects or refuses to nominate, the justice may, on the application of the plaintiff, appoint any proper person as his guardian. The written consent of the person, so appointed, must be filed with the justice before his appointment. The guardian so appointed is not responsible for any costs.

From Id., §§ 42, 43.

§ 2889. [Am'd, 1909.] When constable, etc., may not act as attorney.

Subject to the provisions of sections 271 and 272 of the Penal Law,[1] any person, other than the constable who served the summons or the venire, or the law partner or clerk of the justice, may be the attorney for a party to an action before a justice of the peace.

From Id., § 44; L. 1864, c. 421. Am'd by L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

§ 2890. Authority of attorney; how proved.

The attorney's authority may be conferred orally or in writing; but the justice shall not suffer a person to appear as an attorney, unless his authority is admitted by the adverse party, or proved by the affidavit or oral testimony of himself, or another.

From 2 R. S. 233, § 45.

[1] Sections 271 and 272 of the Penal Law are the same as §§ 63 and 64 of this edition of the Code.

§ 2891. [Am'd, 1906.] Plaintiff to prove his case, except where a verified complaint is served.

If a defendant fails to appear and answer, the plaintiff cannot recover without proving his case, except in an action which has been commenced by the service of a summons and verified complaint as provided by section 2936 of this code; in such action, in case the defendant fails to answer said complaint, as provided by section 2938 of this code, at the time of the return of said summons he shall be deemed to have admitted the allegations of the complaint as true, and the court shall, upon filing the summons and complaint, with due proof of service thereof, enter judgment for the plaintiff and against the defendant, for the amount demanded in such complaint, with costs, without further proof.

From Co. Proc., § 64, subd. 8. Am'd by L. 1906, c. 291 (in effect Sept. 1, 1906).

§ 2892. Defendant may offer to compromise; proceedings thereupon.

Except in an action to recover a chattel, the defendant may, upon the return of the summons and before answering, file with the justice a written offer to allow judgment to be taken against him for a sum therein specified, with costs. If there are two or more defendants, and the action can be severed, a like offer may be made by one or more of the defendants, against whom a separate judgment may be taken. If the plaintiff thereupon, before taking any other proceeding in the action, files with the justice a written acceptance of the offer, the justice must render judgment accordingly. If an acceptance is not filed, the offer cannot be given in evidence upon the trial; but, if the plaintiff fails to obtain a more favorable judgment, he cannot recover costs from the time of the offer, and must pay the defendant's costs from that time.

§ 2893. Justice to wait one hour.

Upon the return of a summons duly served, the justice must wait one hour, after the time specified therein for its return, unless the parties sooner appear.

From 2 R. S. 233 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 46.

ARTICLE THIRD.

Order of arrest.

Sec. 2894. Order of arrest; in what cases it may be granted.
2895. Id.; in what actions.
2896. Id.; upon what papers.
2897. Id.; its contents.
2898. Duty of constable.
2899. Return. When plaintiff notified must appear.
2900. Constable to keep defendant in custody.
2901. Motion to discharge from arrest.
2902. Effect of discharging defendant.
2903. When plaintiff must prove extrinsic facts.
2904. Privilege from arrest.

§ 2894. Order of arrest; in what cases it may be granted.

At the time when the summons is issued, in an action specified in the next section, the justice who issues the summons must, upon the application of the plaintiff, and upon compliance by him with the provisions of this article, grant an order for the arrest of the defendant, in either of the following cases:

1. Where the defendant to be arrested is not a resident of the county.

2. Where the plaintiff is not a resident of the county; or, if there are two or more plaintiffs, where all are non-residents thereof.

3. Where it appears to the satisfaction of the justice, by the affidavit of the plaintiff or another person, that the defendant is about to depart from the county, with intent not to return thereto.

But such an order cannot be granted, where the defendant, against whom it is applied for, is a female.

From 2 R. S. 228, § 17; Id., 253, § 158.

§ 2895. Id. in what actions.

An order of arrest shall not be granted, except where the action is brought for one or more of the following causes:

1. To recover a fine or penalty.

2. To recover damages for a personal injury, of which a justice of the peace has jurisdiction; an injury to property, including the wrongful taking, detention, or conversion of personal property; misconduct or neglect in office, or in a professional employment; fraud; or deceit. But this subdivision does not apply to a claim for damages in an action to recover a chattel.

3. To recover for money received, or to recover a chattel; where it appears that the money was received, or that the chattel was embezzled or fraudulently misapplied, by a public officer, or by an attorney, solicitor, or counsellor, or by an officer or agent of a corporation or banking association, in the course of his employment; or by a factor, agent, broker, or other person in a fiduciary capacity.

§ 2896. Id.; upon what papers.

Where it appears to the justice, by the affidavit of the plaintiff or another person, that a sufficient cause of action exists, against the defendant, and that the case is within the provisions of the last two sections, he must grant the order of arrest. But before granting it, he must require a written undertaking to the defendant, on the part of the plaintiff, with one or more sureties, approved by the justice, to the effect that, if the defendant recovers judgment, the plaintiff will pay all costs which may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the arrest, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking, which must be at least one hundred dollars.

From 2 R. S. 228, 229, §§ 17, 19.

§ 2897. Id.; its contents.

The order must be subscribed by the justice and indorsed upon or attached to the summons. It must briefly recite the ground of arrest; and it must direct the constable, who serves the summons, to arrest the defendant; to bring him forthwith before the justice; and to notify the plaintiff of the arrest, if he can do so with reasonable diligence.

From Id., § 20.

§ 2898. Duty of constable.

The constable must, at the time of serving the summons, execute the order of arrest, by arresting the defendant, and taking him forthwith before the justice. If the justice is absent, or unable to try the action, the constable must forthwith take the defendant before another justice of the same town or city; who must take cognizance of the action, and proceed therein, as if the summons had been issued, and the order of arrest had been granted by him.

From Id., § 21.

§ 2899. Return. When plaintiff notified must appear.

The constable, executing the order of arrest, must forthwith deliver to the justice the order, and a written return thereto, under his hand, stating the manner in which he has executed it, and either that he has notified the plaintiff, or that he could not do so, with reasonable diligence. If he returns that he has notified the plaintiff, the latter must appear within one hour after the defendant is brought before the justice; otherwise judgment of nonsuit must be rendered against him

From Id., § 22.

§ 2900. Constable to keep defendant in custody.

The constable executing the order, or another constable, by direction of the justice, must keep the defendant in custody, until he is discharged by the order of the justice, or judgment is rendered in his favor; but the detention shall not, in any case, exceed twelve hours from the time when the defendant is brought before the justice; unless, within that time, a venire is issued, or the trial of the action is commenced, or unless either is delayed with the express assent of the defendant.

From Id., § 25.

§ 2901. Motion to discharge from arrest.

A defendant, arrested as prescribed in this article, may, without notice, upon the appearance of the plaintiff before the justice, or at any time afterwards before judgment, upon two days' notice given personally to the plaintiff, or to his agent or attorney who appeared for him before the justice, apply to the justice for an order, discharging him from the arrest. The application may be founded upon the papers upon which the order of arrest was granted, and upon the complaint, if it has been made. The justice must grant the application, where it appears that the case is not within the provisions of sections 2894 and 2895 of this act. The justice must also, upon the defendant's application, grant an order discharging him from arrest, if the plaintiff fails to take out, from the justice, an execution upon a judgment in his favor, before the expiration of one hour after he is entitled thereto.

New.

§ 2902. Effect of discharging defendant.

The discharge of the defendant from arrest, before judgment, as prescribed in the last section, or in section 2963 of this act, does not affect the jurisdiction of the justice over the action, which must proceed, as if it had been commenced in the ordinary manner. His discharge from arrest, after judgment, as prescribed in the last section, does not affect the execution.

New.

§ 2903. When plaintiff must prove extrinsic facts.

Where an order of arrest has been granted and executed, in a case specified in subdivision third of section 2895 of this act, the plaintiff cannot recover upon a default, and the defendant is entitled to judgment upon a trial, unless the plaintiff establishes all the matters of fact, which are required, by that subdivision, to entitle him to an order of arrest.

New.

§ 2904. Privilege from arrest.

This article does not abridge or otherwise affect a privilege from arrest given by law, or a right of action for the breach thereof. A privileged person is entitled to be discharged from arrest, by the order of the justice before whom he is brought, upon proof, by affidavit, of the facts entitling him to a discharge; or he may apply for and obtain an order for his discharge, as prescribed in section 564 of this act.

New.

ARTICLE FOURTH.

Attachment of property.

Sec. 2905. In what actions, warrant of attachment may be granted.
2906. What must be shown to procure a warrant.
2907. Warrant; form and contents thereof.
2908. Undertaking.
2909. Warrant; how executed; perishable property may be sold.
2910. Service of summons and warrant upon defendant.
2911. Undertaking by defendant; redelivery to him.
2912. Claim by third person; bond and delivery thereupon.
2913. Action upon bond.
2914. When defendant may prosecute bond.
2915. Return of warrant.
2916. Motion to vacate or modify warrant, etc.
2917. Effect of vacating warrant.
2918. Proceedings where summons not personally served.

§ 2905. In what actions, warrant of attachment may be granted.

In an action brought before a justice of the peace a warrant of attachment against the property of one or more defendants must be granted, upon the application of the plaintiff, as prescribed in this article, where the action is brought upon a judgment, or to recover for one or more of the following causes:

1. Breach of a contract, express or implied.
2. Wrongful conversion of personal property.
3. Any other injury to personal property, in consequence of negligence, fraud, or other misconduct.

From 2 R. S. 230, §§ 26, 27; see L. 1831, c. 300, § 34.

§ 2906. What must be shown to procure a warrant.

To entitle the plaintiff to such a warrant, he must show, by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the justice as follows:

1. That a sufficient cause of action exists against the defendant, to recover damages for one or more of the causes specified in the last section. If the action is upon a judgment, or to recover for breach of a contract, the affidavit must show that the plaintiff is entitled to recover a sum stated therein, over and above all counterclaims known to him.

2. That the defendant is either a foreign corporation; or not a resident of the State; or, if the defendant is a natural person, and a resident of the State, that he has departed, or is about to depart, from the county where he last resided, with intent to defraud his creditors, or to avoid the service of a summons, or keeps himself concealed, with the like intent; or if the defendant is a natural person, or a domestic corporation, that he or it has removed, or is about to remove, property from the county where the defendant, being a natural person, last resided, or, being a corporation, last kept its principal office, or from the county in which the action is brought, with intent to defraud his or its creditors, or has assigned, disposed of, or secreted, or is about to assign, dispose of, or secrete, property, with the like intent; or that the defendant, being a natural person of full age, and a resident of the State, has been continuously without the United States for the space of six months or more, immediately before the application, and either that he has not made a designation of a person, upon whom to serve a summons in his behalf, as prescribed in section 430 of this act, or that service upon the person so designated cannot be made, with due diligence, in the county where the person making the designation resides.

The affidavit must be filed with the justice, when the warrant is granted.

§ 2907. Warrant; form and contents thereof.

The warrant must be granted by the justice who issues the summons, at the time when the summons is issued; and it must be indorsed thereupon, or annexed thereto. It must be subscribed by the justice, and must briefly recite the ground of the attachment. It must require the constable, to whom the summons is delivered, to attach, on or before a day specified therein, which must be at least six days before the return day of the summons, and safely to keep, as much of the defendant's goods and chattels, within his county, as will satisfy the plaintiff's demand, with the costs and expenses, and to make return of his proceedings thereon to the justice, at the time when the summons is returnable. The amount of the plaintiff's demand must be specified in the warrant, as stated in the affidavit.

From 2 R. S. 230, § 30.

§ 2908. Undertaking.

Before granting the warrant, the justice must require a written undertaking to the defendant, on the part of the plaintiff, with one or more sureties, approved by the justice, to the effect that, if the defendant recovers judgment, or the warrant of attachment is vacated, the plaintiff will pay all costs which may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking, which must be at least two hundred dollars; and that if the plaintiff recovers judgment, he will pay to the defendant all money received by him from property taken by virtue of the warrant of attachment, or upon any bond given therefor, over and above the amount of the judgment, and interest thereupon.

From Id., § 29.

§ 2909. [Am'd, 1908.] Warrant; how executed; perishable property may be sold.

The constable to whom the warrant of attachment is delivered, must execute it at least six days before the return day of the summons, by levying upon and taking into his custody so much of the goods and chattels of the defendant, not exempt from levy and sale by virtue of an execution, including money and bank-notes, which he finds within his county, as will satisfy the plaintiff's demand, with the costs and expenses. He must safely keep the property attached, to be disposed of as prescribed in this article, and must immediately make an inventory thereof, stating therein the estimated value of each item or article. Provided, however, if property attached is perishable, the justice who issued the warrant may, by an order made and entered upon his docket, and with or without notice, as the urgency of the case in his opinion requires, direct the constable to sell such property at public auction, and thereupon the constable must sell it accordingly. A certified copy of the order directing the sale shall be delivered to such constable. Such order must prescribe the time and place of the sale, and notice thereof must be given in such manner and for such time as directed by the order. The constable shall retain in his hands the proceeds of such sale until the final determination of the action.

From Id., § 31. Am'd by L. 1908, c. 32[a] (in effect May 6, 1908).

§ 2910. Service of summons and warrant upon defendant.

The constable must, immediately after making the inventory, and at least six days before the return day of the summons, serve the summons, together with the warrant of attachment and inventory, upon the defendant, by delivering to him personally a copy of each, if he can, with reasonable diligence, be found within the county; or, if he cannot be so found, by leaving a copy of each, certified by the constable, at the last place of residence of the defendant in the county, with a person of suitable age and discretion; or, if such a person cannot be found there, by posting it on the outer door, and also depositing another copy in the nearest post-office, inclosed in a sealed postpaid wrapper, directed to the defendant at his residence; or, if the defendant has no place of residence in the county, by delivering it to the person in whose possession the property attached is found.

§ 2911. Undertaking by defendant; redelivery to him.

The defendant, or his attorney or agent in his behalf, may, at any time before judgment is rendered in the action, execute and deliver to the constable an undertaking to the plaintiff, in a sum specified therein, at least twice the value of the property attached, as stated in the inventory; with one or more sureties, approved by the constable, or by the justice who issued the warrant; and to the effect that, if judgment is rendered against the defendant, and an execution is issued thereupon, within six months after the giving of the undertaking, the property attached shall be produced to satisfy the execution. Thereupon the constable must redeliver the property to the defendant.

§ 2912. Claim by third person; bond and delivery thereupon.

If a person, not a party to the action, claims any property attached, which is not reclaimed by the defendant, as prescribed in the last section, he may, at any time after the seizure, and before execution is issued upon a judgment rendered in the action, execute, and file with the justice, a bond to the plaintiff, with one or more sureties, approved by the constable or by the justice; in a penalty at least twice the value of the property claimed; and conditioned that, in an action upon the bond, to be commenced within three months thereafter, the claimant will establish that he was the general owner of the property claimed, at the time of the seizure; or, if he fails so to do, that he will pay to the plaintiff the value thereof, with interest. The constable must thereupon deliver the property claimed to the claimant.

§ 2913. Action upon bond.

A judgment for the plaintiff, in an action upon a bond, given as prescribed in the last section, must award to him the value of the property seized and delivered to the claimant, with interest thereupon from the time of the delivery. If the amount so recovered exceeds the amount, which the plaintiff recovers, in the action in which the warrant of attachment was issued, he is liable to the defendant in that action for the excess.

From Id., §§ 36, 37.

§ 2914. When defendant may prosecute bond.

If the warrant of attachment is vacated or annulled, the defendant may maintain an action, upon the bond specified in the last two sections, in his own name, in the same manner and with the like effect, as the plaintiff might have done, if the warrant had remained in full force.

From Id., § 38.

§ 2915. Return of warrant.

The constable executing the warrant of attachment must, at the time when and place where it is returnable, make a return thereto, under his hand, stating all his proceedings thereupon. He must deliver to the justice, with the return, each bond or undertaking delivered to him, pursuant to any of the foregoing provisions of this article, and a certified copy of the inventory of the property attached. The return must state the manner in which the warrant and inventory were served, and, if they were served otherwise than by delivering a copy thereof to the defendant personally, the reason therefor, and the name of the person to whom the copy was delivered, unless his name is unknown to the constable; in which case, the return must describe him so as to identify him, as nearly as may be.

From Id., § 35; L. 1831, c. 300, § 36.

§ 2916. Motion to vacate or modify warrant, etc.

A defendant, whose property has been attached, may, upon the return of the summons, apply to the justice, who issued the warrant of attachment, to vacate or modify it, or to increase the plaintiff's security. Such an application may be founded upon the papers upon which the warrant was granted; or upon proof, by affidavit, on the part of the defendant; or upon both. If it is founded upon proof on the part of the defendant, it may be opposed by new proof, by affidavit, upon the part of the plaintiff, tending to sustain any ground for the attachment, recited in the warrant, but no other. The justice may, upon the return of the summons, or at any other time to which the action is adjourned, vacate the warrant of attachment upon his own motion, if he deems the papers, upon which it was granted, insufficient to authorize it.

New.

§ 2917. Effect of vacating warrant.

Vacating the warrant of attachment does not affect the jurisdiction of the justice to hear and determine the action, where the defendant has appeared generally in the action; or where the summons was personally served upon him; or where judgment may be taken against him, as being indebted jointly with another defendant, who has been thus summoned, or has thus appeared. In every other case, the justice, who vacates a warrant of attachment against the property of a defendant, must dismiss the action as to him.

New.

§ 2918. Proceedings where summons not personally served.

Where the defendant has not appeared, and the summons has not been personally served upon him, and property of the defendant has been duly attached by virtue of a warrant, which has not been vacated, the justice must proceed to hear and determine the action; but, in an action subsequently brought, the judgment is only presumptive evidence of indebtedness, and the defendant is not barred from any counterclaim against the plaintiff. The execution, issued upon a judgment so rendered, must require the constable to satisfy it out of the property so attached, without containing a direction to satisfy it out of any other property.

From L. 1831, c. 300, § 39.

ARTICLE FIFTH.

Replevin.

Sec. 2919. When action for a chattel may be brought.
2920. Plaintiff may procure replevin; affidavit and undertaking.
2921. Requisition.
2922. Id.; how executed. Service of summons, etc.
2923. Return of constable.
2924. Defendant may except to sureties; proceedings thereon.
2925. Defendant may reclaim chattel; proceedings thereon.
2926. Justification of sureties.
2927. When and to whom constable must deliver chattel.
2928. Penalty for wrong delivery by constable.
2929. Claim of title by third person.
2930. Defendant may demand judgment for return.
2931. Proceedings in the action; action upon undertaking.
2932. Proceedings when summons not personally served.
2933. When action not affected by failure to replevy.

§ 2919. When action for a chattel may be brought.

An action to recover a chattel, with or without damages for the wrongful taking, withholding, or detention thereof, can be brought before a justice of the peace of the county in which the chattel is found, in a case, and subject to the qualifications, specified in sections 1689, 1690, 1691, and 1692, and subdivision seventh of section 2862 of this act.

From Co. Proc., § 53, subd. 10; L. 1860, c. 131, § 4.

§ 2920. Plaintiff may procure replevin; affidavit and undertaking.

The plaintiff may, at the time when the summons is issued, but not afterwards, require the chattel to be replevied, as prescribed in this article. For that purpose, he must deliver to the justice an affidavit and an undertaking, similar, in all respects, to the affidavit and undertaking required to be delivered to a sheriff, as prescribed in sections 1695, 1697, 1699, and 1712 of this act; except that the sureties in the undertaking must be approved by the justice.

From L. 1860, c. 131, §§ 2, 3, 4.

§ 2921. Requisition.

Upon receiving the affidavit and undertaking, the justice must indorse upon or attach to the affidavit a written requisition, subscribed by him, requiring the constable, to whom the summons is delivered, to replevy the property described in the affidavit, on or before a day specified in the requisition, which must be at least six days before the return day of the summons. The affidavit and requisition must be delivered to the constable, with the summons.

From Id., § 4.

§ 2922. Id.; how executed. Service of summons, etc.

The constable must execute the requisition, as a sheriff is required to execute a requisition, in an action brought to recover a chattel, as prescribed in sections 1700, 1701, and 1702 of this act; except that he must serve the summons, affidavit, and requisition within the time and in the manner prescribed, by section 2910 of this act, for the service of a summons, warrant of attachment, and inventory.

From Id., § 5.

§ 2923. Return of constable.

The constable must, on or before the return day of the summons, make a return to the requisition, under his hand, stating all his proceedings thereupon; and file it, with the affidavit and requisition, with the justice. The return must state the manner in which the summons, affidavit, and requisition were served; and, if they were served otherwise than by delivering the requisite copies to the defendant personally, the reason therefor, and the name of the person to whom the copies were delivered, unless his name is unknown to the constable; in which case, the return must describe him so as to identify him, as nearly as may be.

From L. 1860, c. 181, § 5.

§ 2924. Defendant may except to sureties; proceedings thereon.

At any time after the chattel has been replevied, and at least two days before the return day of the summons, the defendant, unless he requires a return of the chattel, may serve upon the plaintiff, or upon the constable, a written notice that he excepts to the plaintiff's sureties; otherwise he is deemed to have waived all objections to them. If such a notice is served, the sureties must justify upon the return of the summons; or the plaintiff must then give a new undertaking to the same effect as the original undertaking, with other sureties, who must then appear and justify before the justice.

From Id., § 6.

§ 2925. Defendant may reclaim chattel; proceedings thereon.

At any time before the return day of the summons, the defendant may, if he does not except to the plaintiff's sureties, serve upon the justice a notice that he requires the return of the chattel replevied. With the notice he must deliver to the justice an affidavit and undertaking, similar, in all respects, to those required to be given by a defendant upon requiring a return of a chattel, as prescribed in sections 1704 and 1712 of this act, omitting the provision in the undertaking, "or if the action abates in consequence of the defendant's death." The sureties in the undertaking must justify before the justice upon the return of the summons. If the plaintiff has stated separately in his affidavit the value of one or more chattels or classes of chattels, as prescribed in section 1697 of this act, the defendant may require a delivery of part of the property replevied, as prescribed in that section.

From Id., § 7.

§ 2926. Justification of sureties.

Except as otherwise expressly prescribed in this article, the examination and qualifications of the sureties, and the allowance of the undertaking, upon a justification pursuant to either of the last two sections, must be the same as upon a justification of bail, as prescribed in sections 579, 580, and 581 of this act, substituting the justice for the judge; but after such allowance, the undertaking must be filed with the justice. The constable is thereupon exonerated from liability.

From Id., § 8.

§ 2927. When and to whom constable must deliver chattel.

If the defendant neither excepts to the plaintiff's sureties, nor requires the return of the chattel, within the time prescribed for that purpose; or if he fails to procure the allowance of his undertaking; or if the plaintiff, after the defendant has excepted to his sureties, duly procures the allowance of his undertaking, the constable must, except in the case specified in the next section but one, immediately deliver the chattel to the plaintiff. If the plaintiff, after the defendant has excepted to his sureties, fails to procure the allowance of his undertaking; or if the defendant, after he has required the return of the chattel, procures the allowance of his undertaking, the constable must immediately deliver the chattel to the defendant.

From Id., § 7.

§ 2928. Penalty for wrong delivery by constable.

A constable who delivers to either party, without the consent of the other, a chattel replevied by him, except as prescribed in the last section, or, by virtue of an execution issued upon a judgment in the action, forfeits to the party aggrieved the sum of one hundred dollars; and is also liable to him for all damages which he sustains thereby.

New.

§ 2929. Claim of title by third person.

The provisions, regulating the proceedings, where a person, not a party, claims property which has been replevied, and the rights of such a person, and of the sheriff, as prescribed in sections 1709, 1710, 1711, and 1712 of this act, apply to a like case in an action, brought as prescribed in this article, substituting the constable for the sheriff; except that service of a notice and of a copy of the claimant's affidavit, upon the plaintiff's attorney, as prescribed in section 1709, must be made, either upon the plaintiff personally, or upon the attorney who appears for him before the justice; and that the sum specified in the undertaking, given by the plaintiff to the constable, need not exceed, in any case, three hundred dollars.

§ 2930. Defendant may demand judgment for return.

Where a chattel has been replevied, and the defendant has not required the return thereof, pending the action, as prescribed in the foregoing sections of this article, he may in his answer, demand judgment for the return thereof, either with or without damages for the taking, withholding, or detention.

From L. 1860, c. 131, § 11.

§ 2931. Proceedings in the action; action upon undertaking.

Section 1373, section 1731, excluding subdivision first thereof, and sections 1722, 1726, 1730, 1732, 1733, 1734, and 1735 of this act, substituting the constable for the sheriff, apply to the proceedings in an action in a justice's court to recover a chattel, and to an action against the sureties in an undertaking given therein, except as otherwise specially prescribed in this chapter.

From Id., §§ 10, 11; L. 1865, c. 616.

§ 2932. Proceedings when summons not personally served.

Where the defendant does not appear, and the summons has not been personally served upon him, and a chattel, or part of a chattel, to recover which the action is brought, has been replevied, and the proceedings thereupon have been duly taken, the proscribed in this article; the justice must proceed to hear and determine the action, with respect to that chattel or part of a chattel; or, if the action is brought to recover two or more chattels, with respect to those which have been replevied; in like manner and with like effect, as if the summons had been personally served.

From L. 1880, c. 131, § 12.

§ 2933. When action not affected by failure to replevy.

Where the summons has been personally served upon the defendant, or where he appears, the justice must proceed to hear and determine the action, although the plaintiff has not required the chattel to be replevied, or the constable has not been able to replevy it.

New.

TITLE III.

Pleadings; including counterclaims, and proceedings upon answer of title.

Sec. 2934. When issue to be joined.
2935. Pleadings.
2936. Complaint.
2937. What causes of action may be joined.
2938. Answer.
2939. Demurrer.
2940. General rules of pleading.
2941. Account, or instrument for payment of money.
2942. Court may require items to be exhibited.
2943. Immaterial variance to be disregarded.
2944. Amendment of pleadings.
2945. Counterclaims.
2946. Id.; where executor or trustee is a party.
2947. Consequence of neglect to plead counterclaim.
2948. The last section qualified.
2949. Judgment upon counterclaim.
2950. Judgment when accounts exceed $400.
2951. Answer of title.
2952. Undertaking thereupon.
2953. In what court new action to be brought.
2954. When action before justice to be discontinued.
2955. Effect of failure to give undertaking.
2956. When title comes in question on plaintiff's own showing.
2957. Pleadings in new action. Undertaking before justice, when applicable.
2958. Answer of title as to one of several causes of action.

§ 2934. [Am'd, 1893.] When issue to be joined.

At the place, and within one hour after the time specified in the summons for the return thereof; or, where an order of arrest is granted and executed, within twelve hours after the defendant is brought before the justice; or, where no summons is issued, at the time when the parties voluntarily appear to join issue, the pleadings of the parties must be made, and issue must be joined. Where both parties appear upon the return of the summons, an issue must be joined before an adjournment is had, except when the defendant refuses or neglects to plead. Where an issue of fact or an issue of law is joined in a justice's court, or before a justice of the peace in the city of Brooklyn, or in any of the towns in the county of Kings, in which the judgment demanded by either party in his pleadings exceeds the sum of one hundred dollars; or, when in an action to recover a chattel or chattels, the value of which as fixed by either party in his pleadings or affidavits exceeds one hundred dollars, the defendant may, after issue joined and before an adjournment is granted upon his application, apply to the justice before whom the action is brought for an order removing the action into the county court of the county of Kings. Such an order must be granted upon the defendant filing with the justice an undertaking in a sum fixed by the justice, not exceeding twice the amount of the damages claimed or twice the value of the chattel or of all the chattels claimed, as stated in the pleading or affidavits, with one or more sureties, approved by the justice, to the effect that the defendant will pay to the plaintiff the amount of any judgment, including costs, that may be recovered against him in the county court in the action so removed. From the time of the granting of the order the county court of Kings county has cognizance of the action, and the same shall be tried and determined by said county court as if originally brought therein. The justice must forthwith deliver to the clerk of the county court all processes, pleadings and other papers in the action which must be filed, entered or recorded, as the case requires, in the latter office. Costs in an action so removed shall be the same as in an original action commenced in said county court.

From 2 R. S. 233 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 47; L. 1845, c. 26. Am'd by L. 1893, c. 380.

§ 2935. Pleadings.

The pleadings in a justice's court are:

1. The plaintiff's complaint.
2. The defendant's answer.
3. The defendant's demurrer to the complaint, or to one or more distinct causes of action, separately stated therein.
4. The plaintiff's demurrer to one or more counterclaims stated in the answer.

From Co. Proc., § 64, subd. 1.

§ 2936. [Am'd, 1906.] Complaint.

The complaint must state, in a plain and direct manner, the facts constituting the cause of action. In an action arising on contract for the recovery of money only, or on an account, the plaintiff or his agent, at or before the time of the issuing of the summons, may make a written complaint as above provided, specifying the amount actually due the plaintiff from the defendant, and praying judgment for the amount so due, which said complaint shall be signed by the plaintiff or his agent and verified in the manner and as provided by section 526 of this code. Said summons and complaint shall be attached and shall be served upon the defendant by delivering to and leaving with him, personally, true copies thereof, not less than six nor more than twelve days before the return day of said summons; and the official certificate of the constable making such service shall be sufficient evidence thereof.

From Id., subd. 3. Am'd by L. 1906, c. 291 (in effect Sept. 1, 1906).

§ 2937. What causes of action may be joined.

The plaintiff may unite, in the same complaint, two or more causes of action, where they all arise out of

1. The same transaction, or transactions connected with the same subject of action; or
2. Contract, express or implied; or
3. Personal injuries, and injuries to property, or either.

But it must appear, upon the face of the complaint, that all the causes of action so united belong to one of the foregoing subdivisions of this section; that they are consistent with each other; that they require the same judgment; and, except as otherwise prescribed by law, that they affect all the parties. Where a cause of action, for which a defendant might be arrested, is united with a cause of action, for which he cannot be arrested, an execution against the person of the defendant cannot be issued upon the judgment.

New.

§ 2938. [Am'd, 1906.] Answer.

The answer may contain a general denial of each allegation of the complaint, or a specific denial of one or more of the material allegations thereof. It may also set forth, in a plain and direct manner, new matter constituting one or more defenses or counterclaims. In case the defendant appears and answers in an action in which a verified complaint has been served, his answer shall be in writing and shall be verified as above provided for the verification of the complaint.

From Co. Proc., § 64, subd. 4. Am'd by L. 1906, c. 291 (in effect Sept. 1, 1906).

§ 2939. Demurrer.

In a case specified in subdivision third or fourth of section 2935 of this act, a party may demur to the pleading of the adverse party, or, if it is a complaint, to one or more distinct and separate causes of action, where it is not sufficiently explicit to be understood; or where it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, or counterclaim, as the case may be. If the court deems the demurrer well founded, it must permit the pleading to be amended; and if the party fails so to amend, the defective pleading, or part of a pleading demurred to, must be disregarded. If the court deems the demurrer not well founded, it must permit the party making it to plead over, at his election.

From Co. Proc., § 64, subds. 6, 7.

§ 2940. General rules of pleading.

A pleading, except as otherwise prescribed in section 2951 of this act, may be oral or written. If it is oral, the substance thereof must be entered by the justice in his docket-book; if it is written, it must be filed by him, and a reference to it made in his docket-book. A pleading is not required to be in any particular form; but it must be so expressed, as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended.

From Id., subds. 2, 5.

§ 2941. Account, or instrument for payment of money.

For the purpose of setting forth a cause of action, defence, or counterclaim, founded upon an account, or upon an instrument for the payment of money only, it is sufficient for the party to deliver the instrument, or a copy of the account to the court, and to state that there is due to him thereupon, from the adverse party, a specified sum, which he claims to recover or to set off.

From Id., subd. 9.

§ 2942. Court may require items to be exhibited.

The court may, upon the request of either party, made when issue is joined, require the adverse party to exhibit his account or demand, or to state the nature thereof, as far as it is in his power so to do, at that or another specified time; and in case of his default, it may preclude him from giving evidence of such parts thereof, as have not been so exhibited or stated.

From Id., subd. 14.

§ 2943. Immaterial variance to be disregarded.

A variance, between an allegation in a pleading and the proof, must be disregarded as immaterial, unless the court is satisfied that the adverse party has been misled thereby, to his prejudice.

From Id., subd. 10.

§ 2944. Amendment of pleadings.

The court must, upon application, allow a pleading to be amended, at any time before the trial, or during the trial, or upon appeal, if substantial justice will be promoted thereby. Where a party amends his pleading after joinder of issue, or pleads over upon the decision of a demurrer, and it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the court, by oath, that an adjournment is necessary to the adverse party, in consequence of the amendment or pleading over, an adjournment must be granted. The court may also, in its discretion, require, as a condition of allowing an amendment, the payment of costs to the adverse party.

From Id., subd. 11.

§ 2945. Counterclaims.

Sections 501 and 502 of this act apply to a counterclaim in an action brought in a justice's court; except that such a counterclaim cannot be interposed, unless it is of such a nature, that a justice's court has jurisdiction of a cause of action founded thereon.

Substituted for 2 R. S. 284 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 50.

§ 2946. Id.; where executor or trustee is a party.

Sections 505 and 506 of this act apply to a counterclaim in an action against a person sued in a representative capacity, or in favor of an executor or administrator, except that the defendant cannot take judgment against the plaintiff upon a counterclaim, for a sum exceeding two hundred dollars.

From Id., §§ 55, 56.

§ 2947. Consequence of neglect to plead counterclaim.

Where the defendant, in an action to recover damages upon or for breach of a contract, neglects to interpose a counterclaim, consisting of a cause of action in his favor to recover damages for a like cause, which might have been allowed to him upon the trial of the action, he, and every person deriving title thereto through or from him, are forever thereafter precluded from maintaining an action to recover the same, or any part thereof.

From Id., § 57.

§ 2948. The last section qualified.

But the prohibition contained in the last section does not extend to either of the following cases:

1. Where the amount of the counterclaim is two hundred dollars more than the judgment which the plaintiff recovers.
2. Where the counterclaim consists of a judgment, rendered before the commencement of the action, in which it might have been interposed.
3. Where the counterclaim consists of a claim for unliquidated damages.
4. Where the counterclaim consists of a claim, upon which another action was pending, at the time when the action was commenced.
5. Where judgment is taken against the defendant, without personal service of the summons upon him, or an appearance by him.

From Id., § 58; L. 1840, c. 317; L. 1831, c. 300, § 39.

§ 2949. Judgment upon counterclaim.

Where a counterclaim is established, which equals the plaintiff's demand, the judgment must be in favor of the defendant. Where it is less than the plaintiff's demand, the plaintiff must have judgment for the residue only. Where it exceeds the plaintiff's demand, the defendant must have judgment for the excess, or so much thereof as is due from the plaintiff, unless it is more than the sum of two hundred dollars. If it is more than two hundred dollars, or if no part of it is due from the plaintiff, the justice must, at the election of the defendant, either:

1. Set off so much of the counterclaim as is sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's demand, and render judgment for the defendant for his costs; in which case, the defendant may maintain an action for the residue; or,
2. Render a judgment of discontinuance with costs; in which case, the defendant may thereafter maintain an action for the whole.

Where part of the excess is not due from the plaintiff, the judgment does not prejudice the defendant's right to recover, from another person, so much thereof as the judgment does not cancel.

From 2 R. S. 234, §§ 52, 58, and § 58, subd. 3.

§ 2950. Judgment when accounts exceed $400.

Where, upon the trial of an action, the sum total of the accounts of both parties, proved to the satisfaction of the justice, exceeds four hundred dollars, judgment of discontinuance must be rendered against the plaintiff, with costs.

From Id., § 54.

§ 2951. Answer of title.

The defendant may, either with or without other matter of defence, set forth in his answer facts, showing that the title to real property will come in question. Such an answer must be in writing; and it must be signed by the defendant, or his attorney or agent, and delivered to the justice. The justice must, thereupon, countersign the answer, and deliver it to the plaintiff.

From Co. Proc., § 55.

§ 2952. Undertaking thereupon.

In the case specified in the last section, the defendant must also deliver to the justice, with the answer, a written undertaking, executed by one or more sureties, approved by the justice; to the effect that, if the plaintiff, within twenty days thereafter, deposits with the justice a summons and complaint in a new action, for the same cause, to be brought in the proper court, as prescribed in the next section, the defendant will, within twenty days after the deposit, give a written admission of the service thereof. Where the defendant was arrested in the action before the justice, the undertaking must further provide, that he will, at all times, render himself amenable to any mandate, which may be issued to enforce a final judgment in the action so to be brought. If the defendant fails to comply with the undertaking, the sureties are liable thereupon, to an amount not exceeding two hundred dollars.

From Id., § 56.

§ 2953. In what court new action to be brought.

The court in which a new action is to be brought, as prescribed in the last section, is the supreme court, or the county court of the justice's county, at the plaintiff's election; except that, where the justice is a justice of the peace of the city of Buffalo, it is the superior court of Buffalo.[1]

From Id., § 56.

§ 2954. When action before justice to be discontinued.

Upon the delivery of the undertaking to the justice, the action before him is discontinued, and each party must pay his own costs. The costs so paid by either party must be allowed to him, if he recovers costs in the new action, to be brought as prescribed in the last two sections. If the plaintiff fails to deposit with the justice a summons and complaint in the new action, before the expiration of twenty days after the delivery of the undertaking, the defendant may maintain an action against the plaintiff to recover his costs before the justice.

From Id., § 57.

§ 2955. Effect of failure to give undertaking.

If the undertaking is not delivered to the justice, he has jurisdiction of the action, and must proceed therein; and the defendant is precluded, in his defence, from drawing the title in question.

From Id., § 58.

§ 2956. When title comes in question on plaintiff's own showing.

If, however, it appears, upon the trial, from the plaintiff's own showing, that the title to real property is in question, and the title is disputed by the defendant, the justice must dismiss the complaint, with costs, and render judgment against the plaintiff accordingly.

From Id., § 59.

§ 2957. Pleadings in new action. Undertaking before justice, when applicable.

In the new action, to be brought after an action before a justice is discontinued, by the delivery of an answer and an undertaking, as prescribed in the last six sections of this act, the plaintiff must complain for the same cause of action only, upon which he relied before the justice; and the defendant's answer must set up the same defence only, which he made before the justice. If the action is to recover a chattel, which was replevied in the justice's court, each undertaking, given in the justice's court, continues to be valid in, and is applicable to, the new action.

From Id., § 60.

§ 2958. Answer of title as to one of several causes of action.

Where, in an action before a justice, the plaintiff has two or more causes of action, and the defence, that the title to real property will come in question, is interposed as to one or more, but not as to all of them; the defendant may deliver an answer and undertaking as prescribed in sections 2951 and 2952 of this act, with respect to the cause or causes of action only, in which title will so come in question. Whereupon the justice must discontinue the action as to those causes of action only; the plaintiff may commence a new action therefor in the proper court; and the original action must proceed as to the other causes.

From Id., § 62.

TITLE IV.

Proceedings between the joinder of issue and the trial.

Article 1. Adjournments.
2. Compelling the attendance of a witness.
3. Commission to take testimony.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Adjournments.

Sec. 2959. Adjournment by justice.
2960. Adjournment on application of plaintiff.
2961. Adjournment on application of defendant.
2962. Id.; undertaking thereupon.
2963. Undertaking to procure discharge of defendant from custody.
2964. When defendant to be discharged.
2965. Subsequent adjournments.
2966. Justice may impose conditions upon adjournment.
2967. Adjournment when warrant to attach absent witness is issued.
2968. Adjournment not to exceed ninety days.

§ 2959. Adjournment by justice.

At the time of the return of a summons, or of the joinder of issue without process, but at no other time, the justice may, in his discretion and upon his own motion, adjourn the trial of the action not more than eight days, unless the defendant has been arrested; in which case, no such adjournment shall be made.

From 2 R. S. 238 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 67, 68.

§ 2960. Adjournment on application of plaintiff.

At the time of the return of a summons, or of the joinder of issue without process, the justice must, upon the application of the plaintiff, adjourn the trial of the action, not more than eight days, to a time fixed by the justice. But such an adjournment shall not be granted unless the plaintiff or his attorney, if required by the defendant, makes oath that the plaintiff cannot, for want of some material testimony or witness, specified by him, safely proceed to trial.

From Id., §§ 69, 70.

§ 2961. Adjournment on application of defendant.

At the time of the joinder of issue, the justice must, upon the application of the defendant, adjourn the trial of the action, upon his complying with the following requirements:

1. The defendant or his attorney must, if required by the plaintiff, or by the justice, make oath that he verily believes that the defendant has a good defence to the action, and that he cannot safely proceed to trial, for want of some material testimony or witness, specified by him.

2. If required by the plaintiff, and the defendant has not been arrested in the action, an undertaking must be given to the plaintiff in behalf of the defendant, as prescribed in the next section. But such an undertaking need not be given, where the action is to recover a chattel.

Such an adjournment must be for such a reasonable time, fixed by the justice, as will enable the defendant to procure the testimony or witness.

From Id., § 74, and § 70, subd. 2.

§ 2962. Id.; undertaking thereupon.

The undertaking prescribed in the last section must be executed by one or more sureties, approved by the justice; and must be to the effect that, if the plaintiff recovers judgment in the action; and if, before the expiration of ten days after the plaintiff becomes entitled to an execution upon the judgment, the defendant removes, secretes, assigns, or in any way disposes of any part of his property, liable to levy and sale by virtue of an execution, except for the necessary support of himself and his family, and if an execution upon the judgment is returned wholly or partly unsatisfied; the sureties will, upon demand, pay to the plaintiff the sum due upon the judgment.

From L. 1831, c. 300, § 40.

§ 2963. Undertaking to procure discharge of defendant from custody.

Where the defendant has been arrested, the trial must be adjourned upon his application, upon the same terms, and in the same manner, as where he has not been arrested; except that the undertaking prescribed in the last section need not be given. A defendant, who procures such an adjournment, must continue, during the time of adjournment, in the custody of the constable: unless he gives an undertaking to the plaintiff, with one or more sureties, approved by the justice, to the effect that, if the plaintiff recovers judgment in the action; and if an execution is issued thereupon against the person of the defendant, within ten days after the plaintiff is entitled to the same; and if a return is made thereto, on or after the return day thereof, that the defendant cannot be found; the sureties will pay to the plaintiff the amount due upon the judgment. If such an undertaking is given, the defendant must be discharged from custody.

From 2 R. S. 239, 240, §§ 71, 76, 77.

§ 2964. When defendant to be discharged.

If the trial of an action, in which the defendant has been arrested, is adjourned with the consent of both parties, or upon the application of the plaintiff, the defendant must be discharged from custody.

From Id., § 72.

§ 2965. Subsequent adjournments.

The justice must, upon the application of the defendant, grant a second or subsequent adjournment of the trial of the action, upon the defendant's giving security, if required, as prescribed in the foregoing provisions of this article, where he applies for a first adjournment; and upon his proving, by his own oath or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the justice, that he cannot safely proceed to trial for want of some material testimony or witness; and that he has used due diligence to obtain the testimony or witness. But if the defendant has given an undertaking upon a former adjournment, a new undertaking need not be given, unless it is required by the justice, or by the sureties in the former undertaking.

From Id., §§ 75, 76.

§ 2966. Justice may impose conditions upon adjournment.

Upon granting the defendant's application for an adjournment, where the trial has been once adjourned, or where the plaintiff is a non-resident of the county, the justice may, in his discretion, upon the plaintiff's application, direct that any witness on the part of the plaintiff, who is in attendance, be then examined under oath before the justice. Thereupon the testimony of the witness must be reduced to writing, certified by the justice, and retained by him; to be read upon the trial, with the same effect, and subject to the same objections, as if it was then given orally by the witness.

From Id., § 70, subd. 2.

§ 2967. Adjournment when warrant to attach absent witness is issued.

Where, upon a trial, a warrant of attachment is issued to compel the attendance of a witness, who has failed to appear in obedience to a subpoena, the justice may, in his discretion, adjourn the trial, for such a time as he deems necessary for the return of the warrant, not exceeding five days.

New.

§ 2968. Adjournment not to exceed ninety days.

The trial of an action shall not be adjourned to a time beyond ninety days from the joinder of issue, without the consent of both parties, except in one of the following cases:

1. Where a venire has been duly issued, but a jury has not been procured, so that it is necessary to issue a new venire, or to summon one or more talesmen, the trial may be adjourned, not more than two days beyond the ninety days, in order to enable the jury to be procured.

2. Where a jury has not been able to agree upon a verdict and is discharged, the trial may be adjourned a sufficient time beyond the ninety days, to enable a new jury to be procured, as prescribed in title fifth of this chapter.

3. Where a warrant of attachment has been issued to compel the attendance of a witness, as prescribed in the last section, or a warrant has been issued to commit a recusant witness, as prescribed in title fifth of this chapter, an adjournment made thereupon, as prescribed by law, is not deemed a part of the ninety days.

From 2 R. S. 239, 240, §§ 74, 78.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Compelling the attendance of a witness.

Sec. 2969. When justice may issue subpœna.
2970. Subpœna; how served.
2971. Warrant of attachment against defaulting witness.
2972. Id.; how executed; fees thereupon.
2973. Id.; when witness is in adjoining county.
2974. Fine for refusing to attend, or to testify.
2975. Id.; how imposed.
2976. Minute of conviction.
2977. Execution thereupon.
2978. Money collected; how applied.
2979. Defaulting witness liable for damages.

§ 2969. When justice may issue subpœna.

A justice of the peace may issue a subpœna, to compel a witness to attend, in the county where the justice resides, or in an adjoining county, but not otherwise, for the purpose of testifying upon the trial of an action, pending before himself, or before another justice. The subpœna may require the witness, except as otherwise expressly prescribed by law, to bring with him any book or paper, relating to the merits of the action. But a justice shall not issue a subpœna to compel the attendance of a witness before another justice, unless the person applying therefor proves, by his own oath, or the oath of another person, that an action is actually pending before the other justice.

§ 2970. Subpœna; how served.

A subpœna may be served by a constable, or by any other person. It must be served by reading it, or stating its contents, to the witness, and by paying and tendering to him his lawful fee for one day's attendance as a witness. Where it is served by a constable, his return thereto, stating the manner of service and the sum paid, is presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated.

From Id., § 82.

§ 2971. Warrant of attachment against defaulting witness.

Where it is made to appear, to the satisfaction of the justice, by affidavit or other proof, that a person, duly subpœnaed to attend before him in an action, has refused or neglected to attend as a witness in obedience to the subpœna; and no just cause for the neglect or refusal is shown to exist; and the party, in whose behalf the witness was subpœnaed, or his attorney, makes oath that the testimony of the witness is material; the justice must issue a warrant of attachment, directed generally to any constable of the county, for the purpose of compelling the attendance of the witness.

§ 2972. Id.; how executed; fees thereupon.

Such a warrant of attachment must be executed in the same manner as an order of arrest. The fees of the justice and constable for issuing and serving it, must be paid by the person against whom it is issued, unless he shows a reasonable excuse, to the satisfaction of the justice, for his omission to attend; in which case, the party procuring the warrant must pay them, and, if he recovers costs, the amount thereof must be allowed to him as part of his costs.

From Id., § 84.

§ 2973. Id.; when witness is in adjoining county.

Where the delinquent witness is within an adjoining county, the constable, to whom the warrant of attachment is directed, may arrest the witness in that county, and bring him before the justice. The constable, while he is within the adjoining county for that purpose, has all the powers of a constable of that county, with respect to the warrant so issued to him.

New.

§ 2974. Fine for refusing to attend, or to testify.

A person, duly subpoenaed as a witness, who, without a reasonable excuse, proved by his oath or the oath of another person, fails to attend; or, attending, refuses to testify; must be fined, by the justice before whom the action is pending, for each non-attendance or refusal, such a sum, not less than one dollar nor more than ten dollars, as the justice thinks it reasonable to impose upon him, as a fine therefor.

From 2 R. S. 241, § 85.

§ 2975. Id.; how imposed.

The fine may be summarily imposed by the justice, upon the application of the party in whose behalf the witness was subpoenaed, at any time during the trial, when the defaulting witness is present, and has an opportunity to be heard. If it is not imposed during the trial, the justice, at any time within five days after judgment is rendered, must, upon the application of the party, issue a warrant, directed generally to any constable of the county, commanding him to arrest the defaulting witness, and to bring him before the justice, at a time and place therein specified, the time to be not more than twelve days after issuing the warrant, to show cause why a fine should not be imposed upon him.

From Id., § 86.

§ 2976. Minute of conviction.

The justice imposing the fine must enter in his docket-book a minute of the conviction, of the cause thereof, of the amount of the fine, and of the costs. The minute is deemed a judgment against the delinquent, in favor of the officer to whom fines are directed to be paid, by section 2875 of this act.

From Id., § 87.

§ 2977. Execution thereupon.

If the whole amount of the fine and costs is not forthwith paid to the justice, he must issue an execution, directed generally to any constable of the county, commanding the constable to collect the sum remaining unpaid, of the goods and chattels of the delinquent, within the county, and, for want thereof, to take him, and convey him to the jail of the county, there to remain until he pays that sum, not exceeding thirty days. Upon the delinquent being committed to jail, the keeper thereof must keep him in close custody therein, until he is entitled to a discharge, as specified in the execution.

From Id., § 88.

§ 2978. Money collected; how applied.

The money collected by virtue of the execution must be forthwith paid by the constable to the justice. The justice must, within ten days after he receives a fine, or any part thereof, from the constable or the delinquent, pay the money to the officer, to whom the fines are directed to be paid, by section 2875 of this act, for the use of the poor.

From Id., § 89.

§ 2979. Defaulting witness liable for damages.

A person, subpoenaed as prescribed in this article, who neglects or refuses to obey the subpoena, or to testify, is also liable to the party, in whose behalf he was subpoenaed, for all damages which the party sustains by reason of his neglect or refusal.

From Id., § 90.

ARTICLE THIRD.

Commission to take testimony.

Sec. 2980. Commission to examine witness upon interrogatories.
2981. Id.; orally.
2982. When and how granted.
2983. Adjournment.
2984. Execution and return of commission.
2985. Receipt thereof by justice.
2986. When deposition evidence.
2987. Powers of commissioners.

§ 2980. Commission to examine witness upon interrogatories.

Where the defendant has neglected to appear upon the return of a summons, or has failed to answer the complaint, or where an issue of fact has been joined in an action; and it appears, by affidavit, upon the application of either party, that a witness, not within the county where the action is pending, or an adjoining county, is material in the prosecution or defence of the action, the justice may award a commission to one or more competent persons, authorizing them, or either of them, to examine the witness under oath, upon interrogatories to be settled by the justice, or by the written agreement of the parties, and indorsed upon or annexed to the commission; to take and certify the deposition of the witness; and to return the same by mail, addressed to the justice.

From L. 1888, c. 243, § 2; L. 1847, c. 329.

§ 2981. Id.; orally.

If both parties expressly consent, a commission granted as prescribed in this article may issue without written interrogatories, and the deposition may be taken upon oral questions. In that case, section 900 of this act applies to the execution of the commission; and a copy of that section must be annexed thereto. Notice of the time or place of the examination of a witness, by virtue thereof, need not be given.

New.

§ 2982. When and how granted.

The commission may be granted by the justice without notice, upon the application of the plaintiff, made at the return of the summons, or upon the application of either party, made at the time of the joinder of issue. It may also be granted at any time after the joinder of issue, upon the application of either party, accompanied with proof, by affidavit, that six days' written notice of the application has been served upon the adverse party, either personally, or by service upon the attorney, who appeared for him before the justice.

From L. 1838, c. 243, § 3.

§ 2983. Adjournment.

Where a commission is granted upon the application of the plaintiff, he is entitled to one or more adjournments of the trial, as may be necessary to procure the commission to be executed and returned; not exceeding the length of time for which the trial might be adjourned upon the application of the defendant.

From L. 1841, c. 133, § 1.

§ 2984. Execution and return of commission.

The commission must be executed and returned, as prescribed in section 901 of this act; and a copy of that section must be annexed thereto, except that subdivision sixth thereof may be omitted.

From L. 1838, c. 243, § 4.

§ 2985. Receipt thereof by justice.

The justice, to whom the package containing the commission is transmitted by mail, must receive it from the post-office, and open and file it, indorsing thereupon the date of his so doing. It must remain on file with him, until the trial; but either party is entitled to inspect it on file.

Id.

§ 2986. When deposition evidence.

Sections 902 and 903 of this act apply to a commission, issued as prescribed in this article; and to the execution thereof. A deposition taken thereunder may be read in evidence upon the trial by either party, and has the effect specified in section 911 of this act.

Id.

§ 2987. Powers of commissioners.

Where the commission is executed within the State, the commissioner, or, if there are two or more, a majority of them, have the same power to issue a subpoena, to swear a witness, and to compel his attendance, that a justice of the peace has, in an action pending before him.

From L. 1841, c. 188, § 2.

3008. Jury, when to be discharged; new venire.
3009. Fine to be imposed on defaulting juror.

§ 2988. [Am'd, 1906.] Effect of failure of defendant to appear.

Where the defendant makes default in appearing or pleading, upon the return of a summons, which has been duly served as prescribed in this chapter, the justice must hear the allegations and proofs of the plaintiff, and render judgment according to law and equity, as the very right of the case appears, except in an action commenced by the service of a summons and verified complaint as provided by section 2936 of this code, in which case judgment may be entered as provided by section 2891 of this code.

From 2 R. S. 242 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 92. Am'd by L. 1906, c. 291 (in effect Sept. 1, 1906).

§ 2989. When justice to try issue of fact.

Where an issue of fact has been joined, if neither party demands a trial by jury, the justice must try the issue, hear the allegations and proofs of the parties, and render judgment as prescribed in the last section.

From Id., § 91.

§ 2990. [Am'd, 1889, 1897, 1909.] When jury trial may be demanded.

At the time when an issue of fact is joined, either party may demand a trial by jury, and unless so demanded at the joining of issue a jury trial is waived. The party demanding a trial by jury shall thereupon pay to the justice the statutory fees for the attendance of each person to be summoned and for the jurors to serve upon the trial, and also the fees to which the constable is entitled for notifying the persons to be drawn as jurors. The fees so deposited shall be delivered by the justice to the constable serving the venire, and by him shall be paid out as required by law. In default of a deposit as aforesaid the justice shall proceed as if no demand for trial by jury had been made. And the town clerk of every town in this State shall deliver to each of the justices of the peace in his town a certified copy of the list filed with him, in pursuance of section 505 of the Judiciary Law, and he shall also deliver to each of said justices a certified copy of any such list hereafter filed with him, within ten days after the same shall be filed. The town clerk is entitled to a fee of one dollar for each copy of said list so delivered. Any town clerk who shall neglect to deliver a copy of the list to each of the justices of the town within the time above prescribed, shall forfeit ten dollars for each failure, to be sued for and recovered by the overseers of the poor of said town for the use of the poor of said town.

From Id., § 93. Am'd by L. 1889, c. 505; L. 1897, c. 146; L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

§ 2991. [Am'd, 1889, 1909.] Drawing jurors.

When a trial by jury is duly demanded, the justice must forthwith openly draw twelve ballots from a box or other receptacle containing the names of the persons who are returned as jurors of the town to the courts of record of the county upon the last list thereof received by him from the town clerk as jurors to attend and try said cause, on a day to which the cause shall then be adjourned by him, not more than eight days from the joining of issue, unless the parties consent to a longer adjournment, which consent shall be entered in the justice's minutes. The ballots shall be of the same description as those prescribed in section 2994 of this act, but they may be, or may previously have been prepared by a justice. If a person whose name is thus drawn, in the judgment of the justice, resides more than three miles from the place of trial the justice may set aside such juror, and he may excuse any juror who comes within the provisions of section 544 of the Judiciary Law, and in either case draw another ballot, and continue to do so until twelve are drawn. After the adjournment of the court, at which a jury trial has been had, the justice must deposit the ballots containing the names of those who attended and served, in another box kept by him. The ballots containing the names of those who did not appear and serve must be returned by the justice to the box from which they were taken. If at the time of drawing jurors for the court there is not a sufficient number of ballots remaining in the original box, the justice, upon drawing all the ballots therein, must draw the necessary number from the second box containing the names of those jurors who have before served, as in this section prescribed, and must continue to draw from that box until a new list of jurors is delivered to him by said town clerk.

From 2 R. S. 242, §§ 94, 95. Am'd by L. 1889, c. 505; L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

§ 2992. Venire in action between two towns; etc.

Where the action is between two towns or cities, or between a town and a city, the venire must direct the constable to notify twelve men of the county, who are qualified and not exempt, as prescribed in the last section, and who are not interested in the matter at issue, to form a jury for the trial of the action.

§ 2993. [Am'd, 1889.] Venire; service and return thereof.

The justice must insert the names of the jurors so drawn, in a venire, and deliver or cause it to be delivered to a constable of the county disinterested between the parties. The constable must, at least three days before the day therein stated, notify each of the persons whose names have been therein inserted, by reading it or stating the substance thereof to the person so served. But the service shall not be affected by the constable's failure, after diligent search, to find any of the persons so named. The constable must make his return upon the venire, certifying that he has so personally served it upon each of the jurors whose names are therein inserted, or if any were not served, stating the reason for such omission. Any constable making a false return upon such venire is guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person so served and not attending at the time and place to which the cause was so adjourned, is guilty of a contempt of court, punishable by a fine not exceeding ten dollars, which the justice may impose forthwith by an entry in his minutes of the imposition of such fine, to be collected by execution issued by the justice as upon a judgment, with costs of the levy, and which fine shall be paid over to the use of the poor of the county by the justice, but upon the presentation of a reasonable and sufficient excuse by or on behalf of the person so fined, the justice may, at any time, remit such fine, or any part thereof.

§ 2994. Ballots; how prepared.

For the purpose of procuring a jury to try the action, the justice must prepare, or cause to be prepared, ballots, uniform, as nearly as may be, in appearance, by writing the name of each person returned, who attends, upon a separate piece of paper. The constable, in the presence of the justice, must roll up or fold each ballot in the same manner, as nearly as may be, so as to resemble the others, and so that the name is not visible. The ballots must be deposited in a box, or other convenient receptacle.

From Id., § 99.

§ 2995. [Am'd, 1889.] Drawing jury.

The justice must then openly draw out, one after another, six of the ballots. If a person, whose name is drawn, is challenged and set aside, or is excused, another ballot must be drawn, and so on, successively, until the required number of jurors is obtained. The parties may elect to try the cause by a less number than six jurors, at any time before a witness is sworn. The persons so selected as herein provided, constitute the jury to try the action.

From Id., § 100. Am'd by L. 1889, c. 505.

§ 2996. [Am'd, 1889.] Jurors in default.

If a sufficient number of competent jurors do not attend, the justice shall issue an attachment against all defaulting jurors, and shall place the same in the hands of the officer who summoned the same, commanding him forthwith to attach such jurors and to bring them before him at a time specified not more than thirty-six hours thereafter, to which the cause must be adjourned. The juror or jurors so attached shall, in addition to the fine specified in section 2993 of this act, be required to pay the expense of the attachment and service thereof; which shall be the officer's fees, together with all necessary expense incurred by him in serving said attachment, to be audited and fixed, to be enforced in the same manner, and when collected to be paid to the officer or the party who has paid the same. Any person so attached and disobeying or resisting the service of said attachment is guilty of a misdemeanor.

From 2 R. S. 243, § 101. Am'd by L. 1889, c. 505.

§ 2997. [Am'd, 1889, 1892.] New venire, etc.

If the constable to whom the venire is delivered does not return it as required thereby, or it is for any reason set aside, the justice must proceed to draw another jury, in the manner prescribed in the foregoing sections of this title, which shall be summoned in like manner as the first jury; and if a full jury, drawn from those returned as prescribed in the foregoing sections cannot be obtained, the justice may direct the constable to require the attendance forthwith, or at such time as he may designate, not longer than twenty-four hours after the issuing thereof, of such a number of talesmen, from the bystanders or from the town, qualified to serve as jurors, as he deems sufficient for the purpose; or in his discretion he may draw from the jury box, double the number of jurors required to complete the jury in the manner required by the foregoing sections, which shall be summoned in like manner as the first jury, and he shall continue to do so till a jury is obtained. Nothing hereinbefore contained shall preclude the justice from adjourning the trial of the case, on his own motion, or on the application of either of the parties to the action, as provided by sections 2959 to 2968 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 2998. Juror's oath.

The justice must administer an oath or affirmation to each juror, well and truly to try the matter in difference between ————, plaintiff, and ————, defendant, and unless discharged by the justice, a true verdict to give, according to the evidence.

From 2 R. S. 243, § 103.

§ 2999. Jury to hear proofs.

After the jurors have been duly sworn, they must sit together, and hear the allegations and proofs of the parties, which must be made publicly, in their presence.

From 2 R. S. 244, § 104.

§ 3000. Witness's oath.

A person offered as a witness must, before any testimony is given by him, be duly sworn or affirmed, to the effect that the evidence which he shall give, relating to the matter in difference between ————, plaintiff, and ————, defendant, shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

From Id., § 108.

§ 3001. Witness refusing to be sworn, etc. Warrant thereupon.

Where a witness, attending before a justice in an action, refuses to be sworn or affirmed in the form prescribed by law; or to answer a pertinent and proper question; or neglects or refuses to produce a book or paper which he has been duly subpoenaed to produce, as prescribed in section 2969 of this act, or duly required to produce by an order, made as prescribed in section 867 of this act; and the party, at whose instance he attended, makes oath that the testimony of the witness, or that the book or paper is so far material, that without it he cannot safely proceed with the trial of the action, the justice may, by warrant, commit the witness to the jail of the county.

From 2 R. S. 274, § 279.

§ 3002. Contents of warrant; imprisonment of recusant witness.

The warrant must specify the cause for which it is issued. If it is issued for refusing to answer a question, the question must be specified therein; if for neglecting or refusing to produce a book or paper, the same must be described with convenient certainty. The recusant witness must be closely confined, by virtue of the warrant, until he submits to be sworn or affirmed, or to answer, or to produce the book or paper required, as the case may be; or is otherwise discharged according to law.

From Id., § 280.

§ 3003. Adjournment thereupon.

The justice must thereupon, from time to time, at the request of the party in whose behalf the witness attended, adjourn the trial, until the witness testifies, or produces the book or paper required, or dies, or becomes a lunatic, or is discharged according to law.

From Id., § 281.

§ 3004. Ex parte affidavit; when evidence.

An ex parte affidavit shall not be received in evidence upon a trial, without the consent of both parties, except in a case where it is specially allowed by law.

From 2 R. S. 244, § 105.

§ 3005. Competency of witness; how determined.

An objection to the competency of a witness must be tried and determined by the justice. Where the ground of the objection depends upon a matter of fact, evidence may be given thereupon, as upon any other question of fact; except that, if the witness is examined thereupon by the party objecting, no other testimony shall be received from either party as to his competency.

From Id., § 107.

§ 3006. Constable to keep jury; his oath.

After hearing the allegations and proofs, the jury must be kept together in a private and convenient place, under the charge of a constable, until they all agree upon their verdict; and, for that purpose, the justice shall administer to the constable the following oath: "You swear in the presence of Almighty God, that you will, to the utmost of your ability, keep the persons sworn as jurors upon this trial together, in a private and convenient place, without any meat or drink except such as shall be ordered by me: that you will not suffer any communication to be made to them, orally or otherwise; that you will not communicate with them yourself, orally or otherwise, unless by my order, or to ask them whether they have agreed upon their verdict, until they are discharged: and that you will not, before they render their verdict, communicate to any person the state of their deliberations, or the verdict they have agreed upon."

From Id., § 109.

§ 3007. Rendition of verdict; plaintiff need not be called.

When the jurors have agreed upon their verdict, they must publicly deliver it to the justice, who must enter it in his docket-book. It is not necessary to call the plaintiff before receiving the verdict; and the plaintiff cannot submit to a nonsuit or withdraw the action, after the cause has been committed to the jury.

From Id., § 110.

§ 3008. Jury, when to be discharged; new venire.

Where the justice is satisfied that the jurors cannot agree upon a verdict, after having been out a reasonable time, he may discharge them, and issue a new venire, returnable within forty-eight hours; unless the parties consent, and their consent is entered in the justice's docket-book, that the justice may render judgment upon the evidence already before him; which he may do, in that case.

From 2 R. S. 245, § 111.

§ 3009. Fine to be imposed on defaulting juror.

A person duly notified to attend as a juror, who fails to attend, or, attending, refuses to serve, without a reasonable excuse, proved by his oath, or the oath of another person, is liable to the same fine, to be imposed and collected, with costs, in like manner, and applied to the same use, as is prescribed in article second of title fourth of this chapter, with respect to a person subpoenaed as a witness, and not attending, or attending and refusing to testify.

From Id., § 112; L. 1878, c. 146.

TITLE VI.

Judgment; and docketing the same.

Sec. 3010. Judgment by confession.
3011. Id.; mode of confessing judgment.
3012. Id.; when void.
3013. Judgment of nonsuit.
3014. Judgment upon verdict, etc.
3015. When judgment to be rendered.
3016. Remitting part of verdict, etc.
3017. Transcript of judgment; docketing the same.
3018. Id.; when execution may issue against person.
3019. Id.; in actions for a chattel.
3020. Judgment against joint debtors.
3021. Docketing the same; action thereupon.
3022. Docketing judgment in another county.
3023. Justice may give transcript, after expiration of his term.

§ 3010. Judgment by confession.

A justice of the peace may enter a judgment upon the confession of the defendant, in any case, where the amount confessed does not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, with such a stay of execution, if any, as is agreed upon by the parties to the judgment.

From 2 R. S. 245 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 113; Co. Proc., § 58, subd. 8.

§ 3011. Id.; mode of confessing judgment.

A judgment upon confession shall not be rendered, unless the following requisites are complied with:

1. The defendant must personally appear before the justice.
2. The confession must be in writing, signed by the defendant, and filed with the justice.
3. If the judgment is confessed for a sum exceeding fifty dollars, the confession must be accompanied with the affidavit of the defendant and of the plaintiff, stating that the defendant is honestly and justly indebted to the plaintiff in the sum specified therein, over and above all just demands which the defendant has against the plaintiff; and that the confession is not made or taken with intent to defraud any creditor.

From 2 R. S. 245, § 114.

§ 3012. Id.; when void.

A judgment confessed, otherwise than as prescribed in the last section, is void, as against every person, except a purchaser in good faith of property, real or personal, thereunder, and the defendant making the confession.

From 2 R. S. 246, § 115.

§ 3013. Judgment of nonsuit.

Judgment of nonsuit, with costs, must be rendered against a plaintiff prosecuting an action before a justice of the peace, in either of the following cases:

1. If he discontinues or withdraws the action.
2. If he fails to appear within one hour after the summons is returnable, or within one hour after the time to which the trial has been adjourned.
3. If he is nonsuited upon the trial.

From Id.; § 119.

§ 3014. Judgment upon verdict, etc.

Where a verdict, or the decision of the justice upon a trial without a jury, is rendered in favor of either party, the justice must render judgment against the adverse party in conformity thereto, with costs, except as is otherwise specially prescribed by law.

From id., §§ 120, 121.

§ 3015. When judgment to be rendered.

Where the plaintiff is nonsuited, or discontinues or withdraws the action; or where judgment is confessed, or a verdict is rendered; or where, at the close of the trial, the defendant is in custody; the justice must forthwith render judgment, and enter it in his docket-book. In every other case, he must render judgment and enter it in his docket-book, within four days after the cause has been finally submitted to him.

From 2 R. S. 247, § 124.

§ 3016. Remitting part of verdict, etc.

Where a verdict, or the decision of the justice upon a trial without a jury, is rendered in favor of either party for a sum of money, the prevailing party may remit any portion thereof, and take judgment for the residue.

From id., § 125.

§ 3017. [Am'd, 1894.] Transcript of judgment; docketing the same.

A justice of the peace who renders a judgment, except in an action to recover a chattel, must, upon the application of the party in whose favor the judgment was rendered, and the payment of the fee therefor, deliver to him a transcript of the judgment. The county clerk of the county in which the judgment was rendered must, upon the presentation of the transcript and payment of the fee therefor, if within six years after the rendering thereof, indorse thereupon the date of its receipt, file it in his office and docket the judgment as of the time of the receipt of the transcript in the book kept by him for that purpose, as prescribed in article third, title first of chapter eleven of this act. Thenceforth the judgment is deemed a judgment of the county court of that county, and must be enforced accordingly; except that an execution can be issued thereupon only by the county clerk, as prescribed in section 3043 of this act, and that the judgment is not a lien upon, and cannot be enforced against, real property, unless it is for twenty-five dollars or more, exclusive of costs.

§ 3018. Id.; when execution may issue against person.

If the action, in which the judgment is rendered, is one of the actions specified in subdivision first or second of section 2895 of this act, or if an order of arrest was granted, and was executed, in a case specified in subdivision third of that section, and, in either case, if the defendant is a male person, the justice must insert, in each transcript given by him, as prescribed in the last section, the words, "defendant liable to execution against his person"; and a like note must also be made in the docket of the judgment, made by the county clerk.

New.

§ 3019. Id.; in action for a chattel.

A justice of the peace, who renders judgment for a chattel, which has been delivered to the unsuccessful party, or for the value thereof, in case a return thereof cannot be had, must, where the value exceeds twenty-five dollars, upon the application of the party in whose favor the judgment was rendered, and payment of the fee therefor, deliver to him a transcript of the judgment, stating the particulars thereof. The county clerk of the county, in which the judgment was rendered, must, upon the presentation of the transcript, and payment of the fees therefor, indorse thereupon the date of its receipt, file it in his office, and docket the judgment, as of the time of the receipt of the transcript, in the book kept by him for that purpose, as prescribed in article third of title first of chapter eleventh of this act, and must also enter in the docket the particulars of the judgment, as stated in the transcript of the justice. Thenceforth the judgment is deemed a judgment of the county court of that county, and must be enforced accordingly; except that an execution can be issued thereupon only by the county clerk, as prescribed in section 3043 of this act.

New.

§ 3020. Judgment against joint debtors.

Where an action is brought against two or more persons, jointly indebted upon contract, and the summons is served upon one or more, but not upon all of them, if the plaintiff recovers judgment, it must be entered against all, in the mode prescribed in section 1932 of this act. Sections 1933, 1934, and 1935 of this act apply to such a judgment, and to each execution issued thereupon; except that, where the justice or the county clerk issues the execution, he must make the indorsement prescribed in section 1934 of this act.

§ 3021. Docketing the same; action thereupon.

The justice who gives a transcript of a judgment, taken as prescribed in the last section, must distinctly designate, in the transcript, each defendant who was not summoned. Thereupon the clerk, who dockets the judgment, must make in the docket, under or opposite the name of each defendant not summoned, an entry, as prescribed in section 1936 of this act; and the provisions of that section apply to the judgment so docketed. An action, upon a judgment so docketed, can be maintained in a justice's court against the defendants summoned, only in a like case, and with like effect, as if they were the only defendants in the original action. An action may be maintained against the defendants not summoned, as prescribed in section 1937 of this act, in any court having jurisdiction thereof; and the plaintiff is entitled to costs, upon recovering final judgment therein, where the sum remaining unpaid is twenty-five dollars or more.

New.

§ 3022. Docketing judgment in another county.

The clerk, with whom a transcript given by a justice is filed, as prescribed in either of the foregoing sections of this title, must furnish to any person applying therefor, and paying the fees allowed by law, one or more transcripts of the docket of the judgment, attested by his signature. A county clerk, to whom such a transcript is presented, must, upon payment of the fees therefor, immediately file it, and docket the judgment in the appropriate docket-book kept in his office, in like manner as the judgment was docketed by the first county clerk. The judgment, when docketed as prescribed in this section, has the like effect, with respect to the enforcement thereof, or any proceedings thereunder, or by virtue thereof, in the county where it was so docketed, as if it was rendered by a justice of the peace of that county, and docketed upon filing his transcript; except that where an application for leave to issue an execution is necessary, it must be made to the county court of the county where the judgment was rendered.

§ 3023. Justice may give transcript, after expiration of his term.

A justice of the peace, whose term of office has expired, may make a transcript of a judgment rendered by him, as prescribed in either of the foregoing sections of this title.

New.

TITLE VII.

Executions.

Sec. 3024. When justice may issue execution.
3025. General requisites of execution.
3026. Execution upon judgment for money.
3027. Renewal of execution.
3028. Property exempt from execution.
3029. Indorsement of levy; notice of sale.
3030. Mode of levy and sale.
3031. Return of execution.
3032. Execution against the person; imprisonment of judgment debtor.
3033. When judgment debtor to be discharged.
3034. Affidavit; discharge.
3035. Penalty for not discharging.
3036. Affidavit a defence to action for escape.
3037. Discharge not to affect judgment.
3038. Execution upon judgment in action for a chattel.
3039. Action against constable for not returning execution.
3040. Constable not to act under execution after return day.
3041. Action against constable for money collected.
3042. Duty of constable whose term of office has expired.
3043. Execution upon judgment docketed with county clerk.

§ 3024. When justice may issue execution.

At any time within five years after entry of a judgment, the justice of the peace, who rendered it, being in office, may issue an execution thereupon, unless it has been docketed in the county clerk's office.

From Co. Proc., § 64, subds. 12, 18.

§ 3025. General requisites of execution.

An execution, issued by a justice, must be directed generally to any constable of the same county. It must intelligibly describe the judgment, stating the names of the parties in whose favor, and against whom, the time when, and the name of the justice by whom, the judgment was rendered; and it must be made returnable to the justice, within sixty days after its date.

From 2 R. S. 249, § 131; Co. Proc., § 64, subd. 12.

§ 3026. Execution upon judgment for money.

An execution, issued upon a judgment for a sum of money, must specify, in the body thereof, the sum recovered, and the sum actually due upon the judgment at the date of the execution; and, except in a case where special provision is otherwise made by law, it must, substantially, require the constable to satisfy the judgment, together with his fees, out of the personal property of the judgment debtor within the county, not exempt from levy and sale by virtue of an execution; and to bring the money before the justice, by the return day of the execution, to be rendered, by the justice, to the party who recovered the judgment. If the judgment was recovered against a male person, in either of the actions specified in subdivision first or second of section 2895 of this act; or if an order of arrest was granted and was executed, in a case specified in subdivision third of that section, the execution must also command the constable, if sufficient personal property cannot be found to satisfy the judgment, to arrest the judgment debtor, and to convey him to the jail of the county, there to remain until he pays the judgment, or is discharged according to law. If the judgment was rendered in an action to recover a penalty or forfeiture given by a statute of the State, the justice must indorse upon the execution a reference to the statute, as prescribed in section 1897 of this act, with respect to a copy of the summons.

§ 3027. Renewal of execution.

After the return, wholly or partly unsatisfied, of an execution, issued by a justice of the peace, he may, from time to time, within five years after the judgment was rendered, issue a new execution or renew the former execution. An execution is renewed by a written indorsement thereupon to that effect, signed by the justice, and dated upon the day when it is made. If part of the execution has been satisfied, the indorsement must state the sum remaining due. Each indorsement renews the execution for sixty days from the date thereof. A justice whose term of office has expired may thus issue or renew an execution.

From 2 R. S. 252, §§ 145, 147; Id., 271, § 258; L. 1840, c. 347; L. 1846, c. 276; L. 1857, c. 512; L. 1879, c. 305; Co. Proc., § 64, subd. 12.

§ 3028. Property exempt from execution.

The same personal property is exempt from levy and sale, by virtue of an execution issued by a justice of the peace, which is exempt from levy and sale, by virtue of an execution issued out of the supreme court, and in the like cases, and under the same circumstances, as prescribed in sections 1389, 1390, 1391, 1392, 1393, and 1394 of this act, and the other special provisions of law, relating to such an exemption.

From 2 R. S. 254, § 169.

§ 3029. Indorsement of levy; notice of sale.

A constable, who takes personal property into his custody, by virtue of an execution, must indorse upon the execution the time of levying upon it. He must immediately post conspicuously, in at least three public places of the city or town, in which the property was taken, written or printed notices, signed by him, describing the property, and specifying the place, within the same city or town, where, and the time, not less than six days after the posting, when it will be exposed for sale.

From Id., 252, § 148.

§ 3030. Mode of levy and sale.

The provisions of sections 1384, 1385, 1386, 1387, 1405, 1409, 1410, 1411, 1412, and 1428 of this act, substituting the constable for the sheriff, apply to and govern the levy upon and sale of personal property, by virtue of an execution issued by a justice of the peace; except where a different rule is prescribed in this act.

New.

§ 3031. Return of execution.

The constable must return the execution to the justice, and pay to him the amount of the judgment, with interest, or so much thereof as he has collected; returning the surplus, if any, to the person from whose property it was collected.

From 2 R. S. 252, § 149.

§ 3032. Execution against the person; imprisonment of judgment debtor.

For want of sufficient personal property, whereon to levy, the constable must, if the execution requires it, arrest the judgment debtor, and convey him to the jail of the county. The keeper of the jail must thereupon keep the judgment debtor in custody, in all respects as if the execution was issued out of the supreme court, until the judgment and the fees of the constable are paid; or until the judgment debtor is thence discharged, in due course of law; except that if the execution has an indorsement, showing that the judgment was rendered in an action for a penalty or forfeiture, given by a statute of the State, the sheriff shall not admit the judgment debtor to the liberties of the jail.

§ 3033. [Am'd, 1883.] When judgment debtor to be discharged.

If a person committed to jail by virtue of an execution issued by a justice of the peace, or out of the municipal court of Buffalo, or by virtue of an execution issued by a county clerk, on a transcript of a judgment recovered before a justice of the peace, or in the said municipal court of Buffalo, has a family within the State, for which he provides, he must be discharged, after remaining in custody, either with or without being admitted to the jail liberties, thirty days; otherwise he must be discharged after so remaining sixty days.

From Id., § 152. Am'd by L. 1883, c. 394.

§ 3034. Affidavit; discharge.

In order to procure a discharge, as prescribed in the last section, the prisoner must make, and deliver to the sheriff or jailer, an affidavit, stating the facts which entitle him thereto, according to the provisions of that section. Upon receiving such an affidavit, the sheriff or jailer must forthwith discharge the prisoner from his custody. He must thereupon deliver the affidavit to the clerk of the county, who must file it in his office, without fee.

From 2 R. S. 252, §§ 153, 154.

§ 3035. Penalty for not discharging.

A sheriff or jailer, who refuses to discharge the prisoner, upon receiving such an affidavit, forfeits twenty-five dollars for each day, during which he detains the prisoner; to be recovered by the latter, in addition to any damages, which he sustains by reason of the false imprisonment.

From Id., § 155.

§ 3036. Affidavit a defence to action for escape.

The receipt of such an affidavit is a defence, to an action brought against the sheriff or jailer, by reason of the prisoner's discharge.

From Id., § 156.

§ 3037. Discharge not to affect judgment.

Notwithstanding the discharge of a judgment debtor, as prescribed in the last four sections, the judgment remains valid as against his property; and a new execution may be issued accordingly, as if he had not been imprisoned.

From Id., § 157.

§ 3038. Execution upon judgment in action for a chattel.

In an action for a chattel, the possession of which has not been delivered to the prevailing party, an execution, for the delivery of the possession thereof to him, as well as for any damages recovered by him, may be issued by the justice; unless the judgment has been docketed in the county clerk's office, as prescribed in title sixth of this chapter. It must be to the same effect, and executed in the same manner, as a like execution issued upon a judgment rendered in the supreme court; except that it must be directed generally to any constable of the county; and that the direction to satisfy a sum of money, out of the property of the judgment debtor, must be in the form prescribed in this title for a like direction, where an execution is issued by a justice of the peace, upon a judgment for a sum of money.

From L. 1860, c. 181, § 10; L. 1865, c. 616.

§ 3039. Action against constable for not returning execution.

If a constable fails to return an execution within five days after the return day thereof, the party, in whose favor it was issued, may recover, in an action against the constable, the amount of the execution, if it was issued upon a judgment for a sum of money; or if it was for the delivery of the possession of a chattel, the value of the chattel, as specified in the judgment, together with the damages and costs awarded thereby; and, in either case, with interest from the time when the judgment was rendered.

From 2 R. S. 253, § 159.

§ 3040. Constable not to act under execution after return day.

A constable shall not levy upon or sell property, or arrest a defendant, or take possession of a chattel, by virtue of an execution, after the time limited therein for its return, unless the execution has been renewed; nor shall he do any act under a renewed execution, after the expiration of the time for which it has been renewed.

From Id., § 161.

§ 3041. Action against constable for money collected.

Where money, collected by a constable upon an execution, is not paid over by him according to law, any person entitled thereto may maintain an action in his own name, upon the instrument of security given by the constable and his sureties; and may recover therein the sum so collected, with interest from the time when it was collected.

From Id., § 163.

§ 3042. Duty of constable whose term of office has expired.

A constable, to whom an execution is delivered, whose term of office expires on or before the return day thereof, must proceed thereupon in the same manner, as if his term of office had not expired; and he and his sureties are liable for any neglect of duty, with respect to the execution; or for money collected thereunder, or for damages sustained by reason of any act done by the constable, touching the execution, in the same manner, and to the same extent, as if his term of office had not expired.

Where a judgment, rendered by a justice of the peace, has been docketed with a county clerk, upon the filing either of a transcript from the justice's docket, or of a transcript from the clerk's docket of another county, the execution, to be issued thereupon by the county clerk, must be in the same form, and executed in the same manner, as an execution issued upon a judgment of the county court; except as otherwise prescribed in section 1367 of this act; and except, also, that, where the judgment is for a sum less than twenty-five dollars, exclusive of costs, the direction to satisfy the judgment out of the real property of the judgment debtor must be omitted. In that case the provisions of this act, relating to the satisfaction of an execution out of the judgment debtor's real property, are not applicable thereto.

From Co. Proc., § 64, subd. 25.

TITLE VIII.

Appeals.

Article 1. Appeals generally.
2. Appeal where a new trial is not had in the appellate court.
3. Appeal for a new trial in the appellate court.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Appeals generally.

Sec. 3044. Justice's judgment reviewed by appeal.
3045. Who may appeal; to what court appeal to be taken.
3046. Appeal; when and how taken.
3047. Service of notice upon justice; payment of costs and fee.
3048. Service of notice upon respondent.
3049. Amendment; when allowed.
3050. Undertaking to stay execution upon judgment.
3051. Proceedings; how stayed.
3052. Id.; when justice is dead, etc.
3053. Return.
3054. Id.; when justice has gone out of office.
3055. Further return; how compelled.
3056. Id.; when justice is dead, etc.

3058. Restitution upon reversal.
3059. Setting off costs and recovery.
3060. Certain sums may be included in disbursements.
3061. Judgment-roll.

§ 3044. Justice's judgment reviewed by appeal.

The only mode of reviewing a judgment, rendered by a justice of the peace in a civil action, is by an appeal, as prescribed in this title.

From Co. Proc., § 351.

§ 3045. [Am'd, 1895.] Who may appeal; to what court appeal to be taken.

An appeal may be taken by any party aggrieved by the judgment. Except where the judgment is rendered by a justice of the peace of the city of Buffalo, the appeal must be to the county court of the county where the judgment was rendered.

From Id., §§ 325, 352. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).

§ 3046. [Am'd, 1882.] Appeal; when and how taken.

An appeal must be taken, within twenty days after the entry of the judgment in the justice's docket; except that, where a defendant appeals from a judgment rendered in an action, wherein he did not appear, and the summons was not personally served upon him, the appeal may be taken within twenty days after personal service upon him, on the part of the plaintiff, of written notice of the entry of the judgment; but not after the expiration of five years from the entry of the judgment. An appeal is taken by serving upon the justice by whom the judgment was rendered, and upon the respondent, a written notice of appeal, subscribed either by the appellant, or by his attorney in the appellate court.

§ 3047. [Am'd, 1913.] Service of notice upon justice; payment of costs and fee.

Service of the notice of appeal upon the justice, must be made by delivering it to him personally, or to his clerk, appointed pursuant to law, or by mailing such notice to the justice at his office in the manner prescribed by service of notice by mail in section 797 of this act; but if the justice is dead, or if neither he nor his clerk can, after reasonable diligence, be found within the county, service of the notice upon the justice may be made by delivering it to the clerk of the appellate court. Unless the justice is dead, the appellant must, at the time of serving the notice, pay to the person to whom it is delivered the costs of the action, included in the judgment, and the sum of two dollars, as the fee of the justice for making the return.

From Co. Proc., §§ 354, 359. Am'd by L. 1913, c. 445 (in effect Sept. 1, 1913).

§ 3048. [Am'd, 1913.] Service of notice upon respondent.

Service of the notice of appeal upon the respondent may be made, by delivering it, in any part of the State, to the respondent personally, or in one of the following methods:

1. By leaving it at his residence, with a person of suitable age and discretion or by serving the notice upon the respondent by mail, or in case an attorney appeared for respondent at the trial, the notice may be served upon the attorney, either personally, or in the manner prescribed for service of notice by mail in section 797 of this act.

2. If service cannot be made, with due diligence, upon the respondent, in the manner prescribed in the foregoing subdivision, the notice of appeal may be served upon him by delivering it to the clerk of the appellate court.

From Id., § 354. Am'd by L. 1913, c. 445 (in effect Sept. 1, 1913).

§ 3049. Amendment; when allowed.

Where the appellant, seasonably and in good faith, serves the notice of appeal, upon either the justice or the respondent, but omits, through mistake, inadvertence, or excusable neglect, to serve it upon the other, or to do any other act necessary to perfect the appeal, the appellate court, upon proof by affidavit of the facts, may, in its discretion, permit the omission to be supplied, or an amendment to be made, upon such terms as justice requires.

From Id., § 327.

§ 3050. Undertaking to stay execution upon judgment.

If the appellant desires a stay of execution, he must give a written undertaking, executed by one or more sureties, approved by the justice who rendered the judgment, or by a judge of the appellate court, to the effect that, if the appeal is dismissed; or if judgment is rendered against the appellant in the appellate court, and an execution issued thereupon is returned wholly or partly unsatisfied: the sureties will pay the amount of the judgment, or the portion thereof remaining unsatisfied, not exceeding a sum, specified in the undertaking, which must be at least one hundred dollars, and not less than twice the amount of the judgment; or, if the judgment in the justice's court is for the recovery of a chattel, that the sureties will pay the sum fixed by that judgment as the value of the chattel, together with the damages, if any, awarded for the taking, withholding, or detention thereof. A copy of the undertaking, with a notice of the delivery thereof, must be served with the notice of appeal, and in like manner. Section 1305 of this act applies to such an undertaking.

§ 3051. Proceedings; how stayed.

The delivery of the undertaking to the justice or to his clerk appointed pursuant to law, and service of a copy thereof, and of notice of the delivery thereof, stay the issuing of an execution upon the judgment. If an execution has been issued, the service of a copy of the undertaking, certified by the justice or the clerk, or accompanied with an affidavit, showing that it is a copy, and that the original has been duly filed, upon the officer holding the execution, stays further proceedings thereunder.

From Id., § 357.

§ 3052. Id.; when justice is dead, etc.

Where the justice is dead, or cannot, with due diligence, be found within the county, and he has no clerk, appointed pursuant to law, or the clerk cannot, with due diligence, be found within the county, the undertaking may be filed with the clerk of the appellate court. In that case, notice of the filing must be given to the respondent, as prescribed in section 3048 of this act, for service of a notice of appeal upon him. The filing of the undertaking has the same effect, as the delivery thereof to the justice; and a copy thereof, certified by the county clerk, served upon the officer holding an execution, has the same effect, as if it was certified, as prescribed in the last section.

From Id., § 358.

§ 3053. Return.

The justice must, after ten and within thirty days from the service of the notice of appeal, and the payment of the costs and fee, as prescribed in section 3047 of this act, make a return to the appellate court, annex thereto the notice of appeal and the undertaking, if any has been delivered to him or to his clerk, and file the same with the clerk of the appellate court. The return must contain all the proceedings, including the evidence and the judgment; unless the appellant has, in his notice of appeal, demanded a new trial, in a case where he is entitled thereto, as prescribed in article third of this title. In the latter case, the justice must return the summons, together with each warrant of attachment, order of arrest, or requisition to replevy, or execution granted by him in the action, with the proof of the service thereof; the pleadings, or copies thereof; the proceedings upon the trial; and the judgment; with a brief statement of the amount and nature of the claims litigated by the parties. But he need not return the evidence, or any part thereof, unless he is required so to do by the special order of the appellate court.

From Id., § 360.

§ 3054. Id.; when justice has gone out of office.

Where the justice has gone out of office, he must, nevertheless, make a return in the same manner, and his return has the same effect, as if he remained in office.

From Id., § 361.

§ 3055. Further return; how compelled.

If the return is defective, the appellate court may direct the justice to make a further or amended return, as often as is necessary. The appellate court may compel the justice, by attachment, to make and file a return, or a further or amended return. The court is always open for those purposes. Where the justice has removed to another county of the State, the appellate court may compel him to make the return, as if he was still within the county where the judgment was rendered.

From Co. Proc., §§ 360, 362, 368.

§ 3056. Id.; when justice is dead, etc.

If the justice dies, becomes a lunatic, absconds, removes from the State, or otherwise becomes unable to make the return, the appellate court may receive affidavits, or examine witnesses, as to the evidence and other proceedings taken, and the judgment rendered, before the justice; and may determine the appeal, as if a return had been duly made by the justice.

From Id., § 363.

§ 3057. Proceedings when error in fact is alleged.

Where an appeal is founded upon an error in fact in the proceedings, not affecting the merits of the action, and not within the knowledge of the justice, the court may determine the matter upon affidavits; or, in its discretion, upon the examination of witnesses; or in both methods.

From Id., § 366.

§ 3058. Restitution upon reversal.

Where the judgment of the justice is reversed or modified, the appellate court may make or compel restitution of property or of a right, lost by means of the erroneous judgment; but not so as to affect the title of a purchaser, in good faith and for value, of property sold by virtue of a warrant of attachment in the action, or an execution issued upon the judgment. In that case, the appellate court may compel the value, or the purchase-price to be restored, or deposited to abide the event of the action, as justice requires. Six days' notice of an application for an order for restitution must be given; and, if the application is granted before judgment, the proper direction may be included therein.

From Id., § 369.

§ 3059. Setting off costs and recovery.

If, upon the appeal, a sum of money is awarded to one party, and costs are awarded to the adverse party, the appellate court must set off the one against the other, and render judgment for the balance.

From Id., § 370.

§ 3060. Certain sums may be included in disbursements.

Where costs are awarded to the appellant, he may include, in the disbursements upon the appeal, the costs and fee paid to the justice upon taking the appeal; and, where the judgment rendered by the justice was against the appellant, he may also include, in those disbursements, the costs of the action, before the justice, which he would have been entitled to recover, if the judgment of the justice had been in his favor.

From Id., § 371.

§ 3061. Judgment-roll.

The clerk, immediately after entering final judgment upon the determination of an appeal, must attach together and file such of the following papers, as were used upon the appeal; which constitute the judgment-roll:

1. The return of the justice, or a certified copy thereof; the notice of appeal; and the undertaking, if any has been given.

2. The verdict, report, or decision, and each offer, if any, made as prescribed in article third of this title.

3. A certified copy of the judgment, together with each notice of exceptions, or case, which is then on file.

4. Every other paper, then on file, and a certified copy of every order, which in any way involves the merits, or necessarily affects the judgment.

From Id., § 267.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Appeal where a new trial is not had in the appellate court.

Sec. 3062. Hearing of appeal; dismissal thereof.
3063. Judgment.
3064. When new trial in justice's court may be directed.
3065. Id.; proceedings before justice.
3066. Costs; when awarded.
3067. Amount of costs.

§ 3062. [Am'd, 1883, 1895.] Hearing of appeal; dismissal thereof.

If the case is one where the appellant is not entitled to, or has not demanded, a new trial in the appellate court, as prescribed in section 3068 of this act, the respondent may, within twenty days of the service on him of the notice of appeal, serve upon the appellant or his attorney a written stipulation that the judgment appealed from may be reversed with five dollars' costs and disbursements of the appeal, and thereafter no further steps shall be taken in such appeal, except to enter judgment in pursuance of such stipulation for the enforcement thereof; in case such stipulation shall not be so served, the appeal may be brought to a hearing in the appellate court at any term thereof at which such an appeal can be heard, held after the return is filed, upon a notice by either party of not less than eight days. It must be placed upon the calendar, and must continue thereupon without further notice until it is finally disposed of. If, after being regularly placed upon the calendar, neither party brings it to a hearing before the end of the second term thereafter at which it might be noticed for hearing and heard, the court must dismiss the appeal unless it directs the same to be continued for cause shown.

In a case specified in the last section, the appeal must be heard upon the original papers or a certified copy thereof, and a copy or copies thereof need not be furnished for the use of the court. The appellate court must render judgment according to the justice of the case, without regard to technical errors or defects which do not affect the merits. It may affirm, modify, or reverse the judgment of the justice, in whole or in part, and as to any or all of the parties, and for errors of law or of fact, and where the judgment is contrary to or against the weight of the evidence the appellate court may, upon its reversal of a judgment, order a new trial before the same justice or before another justice of the same county to be designated in the order, and at a time and place to be specified in the order, and in such a case the costs of the appeal shall be in the discretion of the appellate court.

From Co. Proc., § 365, 366. Am'd by L. 1893, c. 380; L. 1900, c. 558; L. 1911, c. 364 (in effect Sept. 1, 1911).

If the appeal is taken by a defendant, who failed to appear before the justice, either upon the return of the summons, or at the time to which the trial of the action was adjourned; and he shows, by affidavit or otherwise, that manifest injustice has been done, and renders a satisfactory excuse for his default;

the appellate court may, in its discretion, set aside the judgment appealed from, or stay proceedings thereunder, and by order direct a new trial, before the same justice, or before another justice of the same county, designated in the order, at such a time and place, specified in the order, and upon such terms, as it deems proper.

From Co. Proc., § 366.

§ 3065. [Am'd, 1893.] Id.; proceedings before justice.

Where a new trial is directed before a justice, as prescribed in the last two sections, the parties must appear before him, at the time and place specified in the order of the appellate court, without service of any notice, or of a copy of the order. Thereupon the like proceedings must be had in the action, as upon the return of a summons personally served.

From Co. Proc., § 366. Am'd by L. 1893, c. 380.

§ 3066. Costs; when awarded.

Upon an appeal provided for in this article, the award of costs is regulated as follows:

1. If the appeal is dismissed, because neither party brings it to a hearing, as prescribed in this article, costs shall not be awarded to either party.

2. If the judgment is reversed for an error in fact, not affecting the merits; or if a new trial is directed, before the same or another justice, as prescribed in this article; the costs of the appeal are in the discretion of the appellate court.

3. If the judgment is affirmed, costs must be awarded to the respondent.

4. If the judgment is reversed, costs must be awarded to the appellant.

5. If the judgment is affirmed only in part, the costs, or such a part thereof, as to the appellate court seems just, not exceeding ten dollars, besides disbursements, may be awarded to either party.

From Co. Proc., §§ 365, 371.

§ 3067. Amount of costs.

Upon an appeal, provided for in this article, costs, when awarded, must be as follows, besides disbursements:

To the appellant, upon reversal, thirty dollars.

To the respondent, upon affirmance, twenty-five dollars.

From Id., § 371.

ARTICLE THIRD.

Appeal for a new trial in the appellate court.

Sec. 3068. When appellant may demand new trial in appellate court.
3069. Undertaking to be given.
3070. Offer to compromise before return.
3071. Proceedings in appellate court.
3072. Offer to compromise after return.
3073. Amount of costs.

§ 3068. [Am'd, 1893.] When appellant may demand new trial in appellate court.

Where an issue of fact or an issue of law was joined before the justice, and the sum, for which judgment was demanded by either party in his pleading, exceeds fifty dollars; or where, in an action to recover a chattel, the value of the property, as fixed, together with the damages recovered, if any, exceeds fifty dollars; the appellant may, in his notice of appeal, except when the appeal is to the county court of Kings county, demand a new trial in the appellate court; and thereupon he is entitled thereto, whether the defendant was or was not present at the trial. An appeal from a judgment of a justice's court or by a justice of the peace in the city of Brooklyn, or any of the towns in the county of Kings must be taken and disposed of in the manner prescribed in articles first and second of this chapter and title, and not otherwise.

From Code Proc., § 352. Am'd by L. 1893, c. 380.

§ 3069. Undertaking to be given.

To render such an appeal effectual, the appellant must, at the time of the service of the notice of appeal upon the justice, give the undertaking required, by this title, to stay the execution of the judgment.

From Co. Proc., § 355.

§ 3070. [Am'd, 1885, 1895.] Offer to compromise before return.

Upon an appeal, provided for in this article, from a judgment for a sum of money only, either party may, within fifteen days after service of the notice of appeal, serve upon the adverse party, or upon his attorney, a written offer to allow judgment to be rendered in the appellate court, in favor of either party, for a specified sum. If the offer is not accepted, it cannot be proved upon the trial. If the party, within ten days after service of the offer upon him, serves upon the party making the same, or upon his attorney, written notice that he accepts the offer, he must file it, with an affidavit of service of the notice of acceptance, with the clerk of the appellate court, who thereupon must enter judgment accordingly. Where an offer is made as above provided, the party refusing to accept the same shall be liable for costs of the appeal, unless the recovery shall be more favorable to him than the sum offered. If neither party makes an offer, as provided herein, the party in whose favor the verdict, report or decision in the appellate court is given, shall be entitled to recover his costs upon the appeal. Costs when awarded according to the provisions of this section shall be in amounts provided in section 3073 of this article.

§ 3071. Proceedings in appellate court.

Upon an appeal, provided for in this article, after the expiration of ten days from the time of filing the justice's return, the action is deemed an action at issue in the appellate court; and all the proceedings therein, including the entry, enforcement, and review of the judgment, are the same, as if the action had been commenced in the appellate court, except as otherwise specially prescribed in this chapter.

From Co. Proc., §§ 364, 366.

§ 3072. Offer to compromise after return.

Either party may, at any time after the action is deemed at issue in the appellate court, and before the trial, serve upon the adverse party, a written offer to allow judgment to be taken against him, for a sum, or property, or to the effect, therein specified, with or without costs. If there are two or more defendants, and the action can be severed, a like offer may be made by one or more defendants, against whom a separate judgment may be taken; and, if it is accepted, the action becomes severed, and may proceed against the other defendants, as if it had been originally commenced against them only. If the party receiving the offer, within ten days thereafter, serves upon the adverse party, notice that he accepts it, he may file it, with proof of acceptance; and thereupon the clerk must enter judgment accordingly. If the offer is not thus accepted, it cannot be proved upon the trial; and if the party, to whom it was made, fails to obtain a more favorable judgment, he cannot recover costs from the time of the offer, but must pay costs from that time.

From Id., § 366, subd. 5.

§ 3073. Amount of costs.

Upon an appeal, provided for in this article, costs, when awarded, must be as follows, besides disbursements:

For all proceedings before notice of trial, fifteen dollars.

For all subsequent proceedings before trial, ten dollars.

For the trial of an issue of law, fifteen dollars.

For the trial of an issue of fact, twenty dollars.

For the argument of a motion for a new trial on a case, fifteen dollars.

For each term, not more than five, at which the appeal is regularly on the calendar, excluding the term, at which it is tried, or otherwise finally disposed of, ten dollars.

From Id., § 371.

TITLE IX.

Costs.

Sec. 3074. When prevailing party to recover costs. What costs allowed.
3075. When neither party to recover costs.
3076. Amount of costs limited.
3077. Costs upon demurrer.
3078. Taxation of costs.
3079. Increased costs.
3080. Costs on judgment for one or more defendants.
3081. Costs wrongfully collected may be recovered back.

§ 3074. [Am'd, 1903.] Whom prevailing party to recover costs. What costs allowed.

Except as otherwise specially prescribed by law, a party who recovers judgment in an action in a justice's court, is entitled to costs; which must be included in the judgment. Costs consist of the fees, allowed by law, for services necessarily rendered in the action, at the request of the party entitled to costs, or paid by him, as prescribed by law; and of such other expenses, as a party is entitled to include in his costs, by express provision of law. The defendant in an action brought in a justice's court may require security for costs to be given, where the plaintiff is a foreign corporation. So far as practicable, the provisions of title three of chapter twenty-one of this act, shall apply to the proceedings for requiring such security, the requisites of the undertaking and the justification of sureties therein.

From 2 R. S. 247, § 126; L. 1857, c. 775, § 2; L. 1866, c. 692, § 2. Am'd by L. 1903, c. 276 (in effect Sept. 1, 1903).

§ 3075. [Am'd, 1909]. When neither party to recover costs.

In either of the following cases, costs shall not be awarded to either party, but each party must pay his own costs:

1. Where the action is discontinued by the absence of the justice for more than one hour, after the summons is returnable, or after the time to which the trial has been adjourned.

2. Where the justice is disqualified, for a reason specified in section 35 of the Judiciary Law.

3. Where the action is discontinued, upon the ground that the defendant is an infant, for whom a guardian ad litem has not been appointed.

4. In an action to recover one or more chattels, where the plaintiff recovers a chattel, or part of a chattel, or the value thereof, and the defendant also recovers a chattel, or part of a chattel, which has been replevied and delivered to the plaintiff, or the value thereof. The plaintiff is entitled to costs, where both parties recover, as specified in this subdivision, unless the chattel, for which the defendant recovers, has been replevied and delivered to the plaintiff.

New. Am'd by L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

§ 3076. [Am'd, 1895.] Amount of costs limited.

The sum to be awarded, as costs, to the prevailing party, except where it is otherwise specially prescribed by law, is limited as follows:

1. It cannot exceed fifteen dollars, besides the fees of witnesses, where, upon the trial of an issue of fact or of law, either party recovers damages to the amount of fifty dollars or more, or one or more chattels, the value of which, as fixed, together with the damages, if any, amounts to fifty dollars or more; or, where, if the defendant recovers judgment, the sum for which the plaintiff demanded judgment, was fifty dollars or more, or the value of all the chattels, to recover which the action was brought, was stated in the complaint at fifty dollars or more.

2. In every other case, it cannot exceed ten dollars, besides the fees of witnesses, attending from another county.

But the prevailing party is entitled, in addition to the sums specified in this section, to the fees and expenses allowed by law, for a commission issued to examine a witness not residing in the county or in an adjoining county; and for each adjournment exceeding one, which was granted upon the application of the party against whom the judgment is rendered.

From L. 1866, c. 606, § 2; L. 1841, c. 188, § 6; Am'd by L. 1885, c. 397.

§ 3077. Costs upon demurrer.

Where judgment is rendered upon the trial of a demurrer, the costs of the trial must be included therein; otherwise costs are not allowed upon the trial of a demurrer.

New. See Co. Proc., § 64, subd. 11.

§ 3078. Taxation of costs.

Where a justice renders a judgment, he must specify, in his docket-book, the items of costs, which were allowed by him. Before any item of costs is thus allowed, other than a fee to the justice, or to a juror or witness who attended, or to a constable who has certified the amount of his fee, upon a paper filed with the justice, the party must show, by his oath, or that of his attorney, to the satisfaction of the justice, that the item was actually and legally paid or incurred.

New.

§ 3079. Increased costs.

Increased costs must be awarded in favor of the defendant, in an action in a justice's court, in a case, and increased at the rate, specified in section 3258 of this act.

New.

§ 3080. Costs on judgment for one or more defendants.

In an action against two or more defendants, not united in interest, who make separate defences by separate answers, if the plaintiff fails to recover judgment against all, the justice must award costs to those who have judgment in their favor.

From 2 R. S. 616 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 1), § 18.

§ 3081. Costs wrongfully collected may be recovered back.

Where a justice includes in a judgment a greater amount of costs than is allowed by law, or an improper item of costs or fees, and the same is collected; the person from whom it was collected may, notwithstanding the judgment, recover from the justice who has received it, the amount thereof, with interest.

3114. Person having a special property deemed owner.
3115. Agent may act for his principal.

§ 3082. Action against person suffering animals to stray.

Any person, who suffers or permits one or more cattle, horses, colts, asses, mules, swine, sheep, or goats, to run at large, or to be herded or pastured, in a public street, highway, park, or place, elsewhere than in a city, incurs thereby the penalty or penalties specified in the next section; and any resident of the town, or the officer to whom a fine or penalty is to be paid for the benefit of the poor, as prescribed in section 2875 of this act, or the overseer or superintendent of the poor of the town or district, in which one or more of those animals are found so running at large, herded, or pastured, may maintain an action against him, in a justice's court, held in that town or district, to recover the penalty or penalties so incurred. Where the action is brought by a private person, the justice must pay the proceeds of an execution, issued upon a judgment therein in favor of the plaintiff, after deducting the costs, to the officer, who might have brought the action, as prescribed in this section, to be applied by him to the support of the poor within his town or district.

§ 3083. Penalties to be recovered.

If the plaintiff recovers judgment, in an action brought as prescribed in the last section, the justice must award to him the following sums, by way of penalties, besides the costs of the action:

1. For each horse, colt, ass, mule, swine, bull, ox, cow, or calf, five dollars.

2. For each sheep or goat, one dollar.

The entire amount of the penalties may be recovered, in one action, although it exceeds the sum, for which a justice can render a judgment in an ordinary action.

Id.

§ 3084. Certain officers to seize animals straying.

Where one or more cattle, horses, colts, asses, mules, swine, sheep, or goats are found running at large, or being herded or pastured, in a public street, highway, park, or place, elsewhere than in a city, the overseer of highways of the road district, or, if they are so found within an incorporated village, the street commissioner thereof, having personal knowledge or being notified of the fact, must immediately seize the animal or animals, and keep it or them in his possession, until disposed of as prescribed in the following sections of this title.

Id.

§ 3085. When private person may seize such animals.

Any person may seize one or more animals specified in the last section, then running at large, or being herded or pastured, in a public street, highway, park, or place, elsewhere than in a city, bordering upon real property owned or occupied by him; or then trespassing upon real property so owned or occupied, having entered thereupon from such a public street, highway, park, or place. The person making the seizure, must keep the animal or animals seized in his possession, until disposed of as prescribed in the following sections of this title.

From L. 1862, c. 459, § 2; L. 1867, c. 814.

§ 3086. Officer or person seizing to present petition.

An officer or other person, who seizes an animal or animals, as prescribed in either of the last two sections, must immediately file, with a justice of the peace of the town in which the seizure was made, a written petition, verified by his oath; setting forth the facts, which bring the case within either of those sections; briefly describing the animal or animals seized; stating either the name of the owner, or that his name is not known to the petitioner, and cannot be ascertained by him with reasonable diligence; and praying for a final order, directing the sale of the animal or animals seized, and the application of the proceeds thereof, as prescribed in this title. Where the petition alleges, that any animal or animals seized, were then trespassing upon real property owned or occupied by the petitioner, it must state the amount of the damages, if any, which the petitioner has sustained thereby. In that case, the decision of the justice, or, where the issues are tried by a jury, the verdict, must fix the amount of the damages.

From L. 1862, c. 459, § 3; L. 1867, c. 814.

§ 3087. Precept thereupon.

Upon the presentation of the petition, the justice must issue a precept under his hand: directed to the owner, if his name is stated in the petition, or, if it is not so stated, directed generally to all persons having any interest in the animal or animals seized; briefly reciting the substance of the petition; describing the animal or animals seized, and requiring the person or persons, to whom the precept is directed, to show cause before the justice at a time and place specified therein, not less than ten nor more than twenty days, after the issuing of the precept, why the prayer of the petition should not be granted.

Id.

§ 3088. Id.; how served.

The precept must be served upon the person, to whom it is directed by his name, within the same time, and in like manner as a summons is required to be served, as prescribed in section 2910 of this act. Where it is directed generally to all persons, having an interest in the animal or animals seized, it may be served by a constable of the town, or by an elector thereof, specially authorized so to do by a written indorsement upon the precept, under the hand of the justice, by posting a copy thereof in at least six public and conspicuous places in the town where the seizure was made; one of which places must be the nearest district school house, or, if the seizure was made within an incorporated village, having schools in charge of a board of education, a building in which such a school is kept. Each copy must be so posted, within two days after the precept is issued. Where the precept is directed to a person by his name, and proof is made by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the justice, that it cannot, with reasonable diligence, be personally served upon that person, within the county, at least six days before the return day thereof, the justice may, by a written order, direct that service thereof be made, by posting copies thereof, at least five days before the return day, as prescribed in this section; in which case, service thereof may be made accordingly.
Id.

§ 3089. Proof of service of precept.

At the place where the precept is returnable, and at the expiration of the time specified in section 2893 of this act, the petitioner must, unless the precept is directed to a person by his name, and he appears, furnish proof of the service of the precept, as prescribed in the last section. If it was served by a constable, either personally or by posting, his written return upon the precept is sufficient proof of the facts relating to the service, as stated therein. If it was served by a private person, proof of service must be made by affidavit.
Id.

§ 3090. Answer; trial.

The owner, or a person having an interest in any animal seized, may appear upon the return of the precept, and thereby make himself a party to the special proceeding. The person so appearing may, upon the return of the precept, file a written answer, subscribed by him or his attorney, and verified by the oath of the person subscribing it, denying, absolutely or upon information and belief, one or more material allegations contained in the petition. His answer must also set forth his interest in the animal or animals seized. The subsequent proceedings must be the same as in an action in a justice's court, wherein an issue of fact has been joined, except as otherwise specially prescribed in this title.
Id.

§ 3091. Decision in favor of petitioner; warrant to sell; execution thereof.

If no person appears and answers, or if the decision of the justice, or the verdict of the jury, where the issues were tried by a jury, is in favor of the petitioner, the justice must make a final order, directing the sale of the animal or animals seized, and the application of the proceeds thereof, as prescribed in this title. Thereupon the justice must issue a warrant, under his hand, directed generally to any constable of the county, commanding him to sell the animal or animals seized, at public auction, for the best price which he can obtain therefor; and to make return thereof to the justice, at a time and place therein specified, not less than ten nor more than twenty days thereafter. The sale must be made upon the like notice, and in like manner, as a sale of property, by virtue of an execution issued by a justice of the peace; and the constable must make return, as required by the warrant, and must pay the proceeds of the sale to the justice, deducting therefrom his fees, at the rate allowed by law for the collection of such an execution.

Id.

§ 3092. Application of proceeds of sale.

The justice must apply the proceeds of the sale as follows:

1. He must pay the costs of the petitioner, as taxed by the justice, at the same rates as the costs of an action brought before him, including the justice's fees in such an action; and also the fees for the service of the precept, either personally or by posting, at the rate allowed by law for personal service of a summons by a constable.

2. Out of the remainder of the proceeds, he may retain, to his own use, a fee of one dollar, for each animal sold.

3. Out of the remainder of the proceeds, he must pay to the officer, or other person making the seizure, the following fees, for the seizure of each animal seized and sold, to wit: one dollar for each horse, colt, ass, or mule; fifty cents for each bull, ox, cow, or calf; and twenty-five cents for each goat, sheep, or swine; together with a reasonable compensation, fixed by him, for the care and keeping of each animal, from the time of the seizure to the time of the sale; and, also, where any animal sold was seized, while trespassing upon real property owned or occupied by the petitioner, the damages sustained by the petitioner in consequence thereof, as ascertained by the decision of the justice, or the verdict of the jury, upon which the final order was made.

4. Out of the remainder of the proceeds, he must pay to the officer, to whom a fine or penalty is to be paid for the benefit of the poor, as prescribed in section 2875 of this act, the following penalties, to wit: five dollars for each horse, colt, ass, mule, bull, ox, cow, calf, or swine, seized and sold; and one dollar for each sheep or goat, seized and sold; which penalties must be received by the officer, for the benefit of the poor of his town or district.

5. If any surplus remains, he must pay the same to the person or persons entitled thereto, as prescribed in the following sections of this title.

Id.

§ 3093. Disposition of surplus.

on the first day thereafter, which is neither Sunday nor a public holiday, the justice must proceed to inquire into the claims so filed; and, for the purpose of determining them, he must hear the allegations and proofs of each claimant; and he may issue subpoenas, as upon the trial of an action. He may, upon the application of any claimant, and for good cause shown, adjourn the hearing, from time to time, but not more than thirty days in all. After hearing the allegations and proofs of all the claimants, he must decide the claims, and enter an order accordingly. If no claim is filed; or if the right to the surplus money, or any part thereof, is not established, to the satisfaction of the justice, as prescribed in this section; any person, whose claim was not determined upon the hearing, may file a claim thereto, at any time before the expiration of a year from the return of the warrant; and, thereupon, the justice must proceed, as prescribed in this section with respect to a claim filed within the ten days.

Id.

§ 3094. Id.; when no claim made within a year.

If, at the expiration of one year after the return of the warrant, any portion of the surplus remains, a claim to which has not been established to the satisfaction of the justice, pursuant to the provisions of the last section, the justice must pay it, for the benefit of the poor, to the officer to whom a fine or penalty is to be paid for the benefit of the poor, as prescribed in section 2875 of this act; and, thereupon, all persons are forever barred from any claim thereto. But if a claim, filed as prescribed in the last section, remains undetermined at the expiration of the year, the justice must determine it within ten days thereafter; and, for that purpose, he must retain the surplus in his hands until the determination.

Id.

§ 3095. Order upon claim for surplus; appeal therefrom.

An appeal from an order determining a claim, as prescribed in the last two sections, may be taken to the county court, by a claimant, within ten days after the making of the order, as from a judgment of a justice in an action to recover a sum equal to the claim; and the proceedings thereupon are the same, except that an undertaking is not necessary for any purpose. Upon such an appeal, each other claimant, whose interest is affected by the order appealed from, must be made a respondent. If there is no such claimant, the officer entitled to the surplus must be made respondent; but costs cannot be awarded against him, unless he appears upon the appeal; in which case, the costs are in the discretion of the appellate court. Where an appeal, taken as prescribed in this section, is perfected, the county judge may, in his discretion, make an order extending the time, within which payment of the surplus must be made, as prescribed in the last section, and staying payment accordingly. Unless such an order is made, and a copy thereof is served upon the justice, payment must be made as prescribed in the last section, notwithstanding the appeal; and upon proof of the payment, the appeal must be dismissed. Where an appeal is taken to the supreme court, from the determination of the county court, the county judge, or a justice of the supreme court may make a like order, and with like effect.

Rem.

§ 3096. Proceedings upon decision in favor of person answering.

If the decision of the justice, or the verdict of the jury, where the issues are tried by a jury, is in favor of the person answering, it must fix the value of each animal seized. If the justice or the jury find that the seizure was malicious, and without probable cause, the decision or verdict must assess the damages sustained by the person answering, by means of the seizure and detention. The justice must thereupon make a final order, awarding to the person so answering, the return of the animal or animals so seized, or the value thereof if a return cannot be had; together with his costs, at the rates allowed by law in an action brought before him to recover a chattel; and, also, twice the sum assessed as his damages, if any. Thereupon a warrant must be issued by the justice to a constable, to the same effect, as an execution issued, in an action to recover a chattel, upon a judgment in favor of the defendant, where the chattel has not been delivered to him; and each provision of this chapter, relating to a judgment and an execution in such a case, applies to a final order made, and a warrant issued thereupon, as prescribed in this section.

From L. 1867, c. 314, § 7.

§ 3097. Demand of possession before trial. Proceedings thereupon.

At any time after the precept is issued, and before the commencement of the trial, the owner of any animal seized may file with the justice a written demand of the possession thereof. Thereupon he is entitled to the possession, upon complying with the following terms:

1. He must pay to the justice, for the use of the petitioner, the costs of the proceedings, to the time of filing the demand, as prescribed in subdivision first of section 3092 of this act, and, also, the sums payable on account of each animal, whereof possession is so demanded, as prescribed in subdivision third of the same section; which sums must be fixed by the justice, after hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties.

2. He must also pay to the justice, a fee of one dollar for each animal, whereof possession is so demanded.

3. If the petitioner is an officer, to whom a fine or penalty is to be paid for the benefit of the poor, as prescribed in section 2875 of this act, the claimant must also pay to the justice, for the petitioner's use, the sum specified therein on account of each animal, whereof possession is so demanded.

4. The claimant must also prove, to the satisfaction of the justice, by affidavit or other competent evidence, that he is the owner of each animal, whereof possession is so demanded. Each person who has appeared must have notice of, and may oppose, the claim.

From Id., § 4.

§ 3098. Id., when animal wilfully set at large by third person.

But where, in a case specified in the last section, the person filing a demand, presents therewith to the justice sufficient proof, by affidavit or otherwise, that the running at large, herding, pasturing, or trespassing, by reason whereof the animal or animals, of which he demands possession, were seized, was caused by the wilful act, intended to effect that object, of a person other than the owner; and also makes the proof specified in subdivision fourth of that section; he is entitled to possession, suant to his demand, upon paying to the petitioner, or to justice for his use, a reasonable sum, to be fixed by the jus after hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties, as c pensation for the care and keeping of the animal or anim whereof possession is so demanded, and without paying any o sum, specified in the last section.

§ 3099. Action by owner in such a case.

The owner of an animal, seized in consequence of a wilful specified in the last section, may recover, in an action aga the person who committed it, all damages sustained by him consequence thereof, including the sum paid in order to rec possession of the animal, as prescribed in the last section; in addition thereto, the sum of twenty dollars for each ani seized.

Id.

§ 3100. Action by petitioner and by officer.

Where the possession of an animal has been delivered, as scribed in the last section but one, an action may also be m tained, by the petitioner in the special proceeding before justice, against the person who committed the wilful act recover, in addition to all other damages sustained by the pl tiff in consequence of the wilful act, all sums, to which plaintiff would have been entitled out of the proceeds of the s as prescribed in section 3092 of this act, other than the c pensation paid for the care and keeping of the animal. In like case, if the petitioner is a private person, the officer, to wl a fine or penalty is to be paid for the benefit of the poor, as scribed in section 2875 of this act, may maintain an action aga the person, who committed the wilful act, to recover the penal to which the plaintiff would have been entitled, out of the ceeds of the sale, as prescribed in that subdivision. Neithe the actions specified in this or the last section is affected by pendency of, or the recovery of judgment in, either of the oth § 3101. Demand of possession after final order and fore sale.

Id.

A person, entitled to demand the possession of an animal, prescribed in section 3027 of this act, who did not appear u the return of the precept, or upon the trial, may file, with justice, a written demand of the possession, at any time after final order, and not less than three days before the time pointed for the sale; and, thereupon, he is entitled to the pos sion, upon complying with the following terms:

1. He must furnish, by affidavit or other competent evide a sufficient excuse, to the satisfaction of the justice, for failure to appear.

2. He must, in all respects, comply with the provisions of tion 3097 of this act; except that it is necessary for him to only one-half of the justice's fee, as prescribed in subdivi second of that section; and one-half of the fees payable to petitioner, for the seizure of each animal, as prescribed in division third of section 3092 of this act.

From L. 1867, c. 814, § 4.

§ 3102. Order upon demand of possession; appeal therefrom.

Where a demand for the return of the possession of an animal is filed, as prescribed in either of the last five sections, the justice must, at the request of either party thereto, make, and enter in his minutes, an order determining the same. An appeal from such an order may be taken to the county court, by the person making the demand, or by either party to the special proceeding, at any time before the final order in the special proceeding is made; and each person or party so entitled to appeal, must be made a respondent upon an appeal taken by one of the others. The appeal must be taken in like manner, as an appeal from a judgment of the justice in an action to recover a chattel; and the proceedings thereupon are the same, except as otherwise prescribed in the next section.

New.

§ 3103. Id.; stay of proceedings.

An appeal from an order, specified in the last section, is not effectual for any purpose, unless the appellant procures from the county judge, an order directing a stay of the proceedings upon the petition, and a stay of the execution of the order appealed from, and files it with the justice, within the time allowed for the appeal. The order may be granted or refused, in the discretion of the county judge, or granted upon such terms, as to security or otherwise, as he thinks proper; and it may be vacated or modified, either absolutely, or unless further security is given, in his discretion.

New.

§ 3104. Appeal from final order.

Within ten days after a final order upon a petition is made, as prescribed in this title, an appeal therefrom may be taken by the petitioner, or by the person answering, in like manner as an appeal from a judgment of the justice in an action to recover a sum of money, equal to the value of the animal or animals, and the proceedings thereupon are the same, except as otherwise prescribed in the next section.

From L. 1867, c. 814, § 6.

§ 3105. Id.; by claimant; stay of proceedings and delivery of possession.

An appeal from a final order, taken, as prescribed in the last section, by the person answering, is not effectual for any purpose, unless the appellant files, with the notice of appeal, an order of the county judge, or, if he is absent from the county, of a justice of the supreme court, reciting that the appeal has been perfected, and that security has been given thereupon, as prescribed in this section, and directing a stay of proceedings upon the final order appealed from, and that the possession of the animal or animals seized be delivered to the appellant. The order can be made only where an undertaking is given by the appellant, as required for the purpose of perfecting an appeal from a judgment, and staying the execution thereof; and also an undertaking, in the same or another instrument, to the effect that, if the final order appealed from is affirmed, or if the appeal is dismissed, the appellant will pay all sums which the justice awards against him, upon the hearing, after the determination of the appeal, as prescribed in the next section, not exceeding a sum specified therein; which must be, at least, twice the amount of all the sums, which might be deducted from the proceed the sale, as prescribed in section 3092 of this act. The must be fixed, and the undertaking must be approved, by judge who grants the order. Upon filing the order with justice, the appellant is forthwith entitled to the possession of animal or animals seized.

Id.

§ 3106. Proceedings upon affirmance.

If the final order appealed from is affirmed, upon an ap taken by the person answering, the county court must appoi time and place, at which the justice must fix the sums pay by the appellant, pursuant to his undertaking. The justice adjourn the hearing to another place, and to another time, exceeding three days after the time so appointed. The jus must fix the sums so payable, as if a warrant for the sale the animals seized had been returned, and the proceeds the paid to him by the constable, as prescribed in section 3092 this act. The undertaking upon the appeal enures to the ben of each officer, to whom any sum is payable, as prescribed in t section; and, with respect to any of those sums, the responden a trustee for the officer entitled thereto.

Id.

§ 3107. Limitation of action for seizing animals.

Where an animal is seized, upon the ground that it was r ning at large, or was being herded or pastured, or was trespassi contrary to the provisions of this title; and the officer or ot person making the seizure, immediately files his petition, and gently prosecutes the same, as prescribed in this title; an act to recover the animal so seized, or to recover damages for seizure, or for any act subsequent thereto, must be commen within one year after the cause of action accrues.

From L. 1897, c. 814, § 7.

§ 3108. Certain actions cannot be maintained.

A person, to whom the precept was directed by his name, who was personally served therewith, or a person who has peared and answered in the special proceeding, or demanded return of any animal seized, cannot maintain an action agai the officer or other person seizing an animal, or a person act by his command, or in his aid, in a case specified in the section. But, except as specified in this section, the owner of animal seized or detained, under color of any provision of t title, may maintain an action to recover the animal, or its va or damages for the seizure or detention, or for any unlawful subsequent thereto, if, in fact, the animal was not, at the ti of the seizure, running at large, or being herded or pastured, trespassing, as the case may be, as specified in the foregoing p visions of this title.

New.

§ 3109. Where several animals are trespassing, damag are entire. Proceedings in such cases.

For the purpose of determining the damages sustained by petitioner, where two or more animals are found simultaneou trespassing upon real property, owned or occupied by him, the damage done by all the animals seized, is to be regarded done by them jointly; and the petitioner's remedy therefor entire, and must be enforced against all the animals, and proceeds of the sale thereof. Where different persons, who are known, own different animals seized, the precept must be directed to all of them by their names. If one or more of the owners are known, and the others are unknown, and cannot be ascertained with reasonable diligence, the precept must be directed to each known owner, by his name, and, also generally to all persons having an interest in those animals, the owners of which are unknown. In a case specified in this section, a demand of the possession of an animal seized cannot be made, as prescribed in section 3097 or 3101 of this act, unless it is made with respect to all the animals seized, and by persons entitled to the possession of all of them. But a separate demand may be made, as prescribed in section 3098 of this act, by each owner of one or more animals seized; in which case, if possession is delivered to him, as prescribed in that section, the petitioner's remedy for his damages is the same, with respect to the animal or animals, of which possession is not so delivered, and against the proceeds of the sale thereof, as if those, whereof possession is so delivered, had not been trespassing upon the property.

New.

§ 3110. Proceedings in other cases, where there are different owners.

Where the petitioner does not allege, that the animals seized were trespassing upon real property owned or occupied by him, and different persons own different animals seized, a separate special proceeding may be instituted, as prescribed in this title, against each owner, or against any two or more owners, with respect to the animals owned by him or them. Or the proceedings may be taken against all the owners jointly; in which case, each person to whom the precept is directed by his name, and each person having an interest in an animal seized, has the same right to demand the possession of the animal owned by him, and the same right to answer separately, as if the special proceeding was against him separately; and the final order may be in favor of one or more of the persons so answering, with respect to the animal or animals owned by him or them, and for his or their costs; and against the remainder of the persons answering, or to whom the precept was directed, or for the sale of the remainder of the animals, in like manner, as if the former persons had not answered, or had not been named in the precept. But the person, first making a demand of the possession of any animal seized, must pay all the costs to the time of the demand; and a person, subsequently making a demand, is excused from the payment of any costs, except those which have accrued since the former demand.

New.

§ 3111. Surplus where there are different owners.

Where proceedings are taken jointly against different persons, who own different animals seized, as prescribed in either of the last two sections, the surplus, remaining in the justice's hands, must be distributed between them, in proportion to the value of the animals owned by each, to be determined by the justice. Any owner may claim separately his proportion of the surplus; and sections 3093 and 3094 of this act apply to a claim made, and to the disposition of the surplus arising, as prescribed in this section.

New.

§ 3112. When one action, etc., supersedes any other.

Where two or more persons, or an officer and a private person, are authorized, by this title, to bring an action, or to seize an animal, and take the proceedings prescribed in this title for the disposition thereof, the commencement of an action, or the seizure of the animal, by either of them, supersedes the right of any of the others to bring such an action, or to make such a seizure, with respect to the animal seized, or in question in the action. But the justice may, in his discretion, allow an officer or other person, who is interested in the recovery, or in the application of the proceeds of the sale, to appear in the action or special proceeding, for the purpose of protecting his interest, and to take such part in the proceedings therein as the justice thinks proper.

New.

§ 3113. Rights of officer when private person fails to prosecute.

Where a seizure is made by a private person, as prescribed in this title, and the possession of an animal seized is abandoned by him, without filing a petition; or where an action, brought by a private person, as prescribed in this title, is settled or discontinued by the plaintiff; the officer, to whom a penalty is payable, as prescribed in section 3083 of this act, or in subdivision fourth of section 3092 of this act, may, unless he has assented to the abandonment, settlement, or discontinuance, maintain an action against the owner of the animal in question, to recover the penalty so payable to him; and, upon proof of the facts, which would have entitled the plaintiff in the former action, or the petitioner in the special proceeding, to recover, he is entitled to judgment accordingly.

New.

§ 3114. Person having a special property deemed owner.

When a person is, at the time of the seizure, entitled to the possession of an animal, as against the general owner thereof, by virtue of a special property therein, he is deemed, for all the purposes of this title, the owner thereof.

New.

§ 3115. Agent may act for his principal.

The duly authorized agent of the owner or person entitled to the possession of an animal, as specified in the last section, may, in his own name, answer, make any demand, or take any other proceeding, which the owner or person so entitled may take, as prescribed in this title.

Provisions specially relating to courts of justices of the peace in the city of Brooklyn.

Sec. 3116-3120. [Repealed.]
3121. Interpreter for police court, and for first, second, and third districts.
3122. Id.; for fourth and fifth districts.
3123. Id.; for sixth district.
3124. Common council may appoint additional interpreters.
3125. Common council to designate attendants, etc.
3126-3132. [Repealed.]
3133. Application of other provisions. Holding court open.

§§ 3116-3120. [Repealed by the Municipal Court Act, L. 1902, c. 580 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).]

§ 3121. Interpreter for police court, and for first, second, and third districts.

There is an interpreter for the police court of the city of Brooklyn, and the justices' courts of the first, second, and third districts of that city, who is appointed, and may be removed at pleasure, by the justices of those courts, or a majority of them. He is entitled to an annual salary, fixed and to be paid as prescribed by law.

From L. 1870, c. 607.

§ 3122. Id.; for fourth and fifth districts.

There is an interpreter for the justices' courts of the fourth and fifth districts of the city of Brooklyn, who is appointed, and may be removed at pleasure, by the justices of the peace of those districts. He is entitled to an annual salary, fixed and to be paid as prescribed by law.

From L. 1871, c. 331.

§ 3123. Id.; for sixth district.

There is an interpreter for the justice's court of the sixth district of the city of Brooklyn, who is appointed by the justice of the peace of that district, subject to confirmation by the common council, and may be removed by that justice at his pleasure. He is entitled to an annual salary, fixed and to be paid as prescribed by law.

From L. 1873, c. 780, § 2.

§ 3124. Common council may appoint additional interpreters.

The common council of the city of Brooklyn may, where it deems it necessary, upon the request of a justice, appoint one or more interpreters for justices' courts in that city, in addition to those provided for in the last three sections; fix their salaries; and prescribe the court or courts which they must attend. An officer, so appointed, may be removed by the common council, for cause.

From L. 1875, c. 623.

§ 3125. Common council to designate attendants, etc.

The common council of the city of Brooklyn may designate one or more policemen, or constables, to attend each of the justices' courts in that city. The common council may, by ordinance or otherwise, fix and define their duties in and about those courts, and may allow them such compensation, in lieu of all fees and perquisites, as it deems proper.

3153. Penalty for not paying over money.
3154. Action on judgment of justice.
3155. Id.; proof of judgment, etc.
3156. Execution of mandate by private person.
3157. Constable to execute mandates in person.
3158. Sheriff to act where execution of mandate is resisted.

§ 3134. Mode of application of certain provisions of this act.

Where a provision of this act, not contained in this chapter, is made applicable to proceedings before a justice of the peace, the application is subject to the qualification, that it does not include any thing, which is repugnant to any special provision of law, regulating the jurisdiction or powers of a justice of the peace, or the proceedings before him. Where a provision, thus made applicable, relates to the filing of a paper in a court, or with a clerk, the paper must, in an action or special proceeding before a justice of the peace, be filed with the justice, unless he has a clerk appointed pursuant to law; and where it confers a power upon a court or a judge, the provision, making it applicable to proceedings taken under this chapter, is to be construed, as conferring a like power upon the justice, before whom the action or special proceeding is brought.

New.

§ 3135. General requisites of mandates.

A mandate, issued by a justice of the peace, must be signed by him, and may be without seal. It must be entirely filled up, at the time when it is delivered to an officer to be executed, so as to have no blank, either in the date thereof or otherwise; except that there may be a blank in a subpoena for the name of any or all of the witnesses. A mandate, issued and delivered to an officer to be executed, contrary to this section, is void.

From 2 R. S. 267 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), §§ 232, 233.

§ 3136. Reward to constable forbidden.

A constable shall not ask or receive any money or other valuable thing from any person, as a consideration, reward, or inducement for omitting or delaying to arrest a person, or to take him to jail, or to sell property, by virtue of an execution, or to execute any other duty, pertaining to his office; or any money or valuable thing, other than the fees expressly allowed to him by law, for executing any duty pertaining to his office.

From Id., § 234.

§ 3137. Justice or constable not to buy claim, etc.

A justice of the peace or constable shall not, directly or indirectly, buy, or be interested in buying, a bond, note, or other demand or cause of action, for the purpose of bringing an action, or instituting a special proceeding before a justice, founded thereupon; nor shall a justice or a constable, either before or after an action or a special proceeding is commenced, lend or advance, or agree to lend or advance, or procure to be lent or advanced, any money or other valuable thing to any person, in consideration of, or as a reward for, or an inducement to, the placing, or having placed in his hands, a debt or other demand or cause of action, for prosecution or collection.

From Id., § 235.

§ 3138. Penalty.

A justice of the peace or constable, who violates a provision of the last three sections, is guilty of a misdemeanor; and shall be punished accordingly. A conviction also operates as a forfeiture of his office.

From Id., § 236.

§ 3139. Violation of preceding sections a defence to action.

It is a defence to an action, brought before a justice of the peace, that the demand, upon which it is founded, was bought and sold, or received for prosecution, contrary to the foregoing provisions of this title. In an action wherein such a defence is interposed, if the plaintiff, after being duly subpoenaed as a witness, fails to attend pursuant to the subpoena; or if, upon the trial, or upon his examination as a witness by virtue of a commission, he refuses to answer any question pertinent to show a violation of either of those provisions; the justice, besides punishing him, in a proper case, for his failure or refusal, must dismiss his complaint. The testimony, in such an action, of the plaintiff, or any other witness, is not evidence, in a criminal prosecution against him, for violating either of those provisions.

From Id., §§ 237-242.

§ 3140. [Am'd, 1899.] Docket-book to be kept by justice: entries therein.

A justice of the peace must keep a docket-book, in which he must enter:

1. The title of every action or special proceeding commenced before him.

2. The time when the summons, or the mandate for the commencement of the special proceeding, was issued; with a statement of the nature of the mandate, and a memorandum of each order of arrest, warrant of attachment, or requisition to replevy, granted by him.

3. The time when the parties appeared before him, either without process, or upon the return of the summons, or of the mandate for the commencement of the special proceeding.

4. A concise statement of the substance of each oral pleading, or a memorandum of the filing of each written pleading.

5. Each adjournment; stating upon whose application, and to what time and place, it was made.

6. The issuing of a venire; stating upon whose application it was issued, and the time and place of the return thereof.

7. The time when a trial was had; and, if it was by a jury, the names of all the persons returned as having been notified to attend as jurors; stating who did not attend; who attended; and who were sworn.

8. The name of each witness sworn upon the trial; stating at whose request he was sworn; each objection made to the competency of a witness; and the decision thereupon.

9. The verdict of the jury, and the time of receiving it; or, if the jury disagreed and were discharged, a statement of that fact.

10. A concise statement of the substance of each order, made by him in the course of the action or special proceeding.

11. The judgment or final order; and the time of entering it.

12. The execution; the time of issuing it; the kind of execution; the name of the officer to whom it was delivered; and each renewal with the date thereof.

13. The return of each execution; the time of the return; and a statement of any money paid to the justice thereupon, and when and by whom it was paid.

14. Each transcript of the judgment, given by him to be filed in the county clerk's office, and the time when it was given.

15. The appeal, if any; and the time of service of the notice of appeal.

16. [Added, 1899.] Such entries shall be made in a book which must be furnished to him by the clerk of the town in which he resides and to be designated as "justices' civil docket" and to be the property of, and a charge against, such town.

From Id., § 243. Am'd by L. 1899, c. 221 (in effect Sept. 1, 1899).

§ 3141. The same.

Each of the entries, specified in the last section, must be made under the title of the action or special proceeding to which it relates; and, in addition thereto, the justice may enter in like manner any other proceeding, had before him in the action or special proceeding, which he thinks proper to enter. A docket-book, kept by a justice, must be kept open, during the hours, when a sheriff's office is required by law to be kept open, for search and examination by any person, upon his reasonable request and to a reasonable extent.

From 2 R. S. 269, § 244.

§ 3142. Index to docket-book.

A justice of the peace must keep an alphabetical index to all the judgments, entered by him in his docket-book; and he must insert therein the names of all the parties to each judgment, and the page of the book, where the judgment is entered.

From Id., 270, § 251.

§ 3143. Papers to be filed.

A justice of the peace must carefully file and preserve each affidavit or other paper, delivered to him to be filed in an action or special proceeding.

From Id., § 250.

§ 3144. Deposit of books and papers with town or city clerk.

If a justice of the peace, either before or after the expiration of his term of office, removes from the town or city wherein he was elected, he must forthwith deposit, with the clerk of the town or city, his docket-book, and all other books and papers, in his custody, relating to an action or a special proceeding, which has been heard by him, or commenced before him. A justice, who is removed from office, must make a like deposit, within ten days after receiving notice of his removal, or afterwards, upon the demand of the clerk of the town or city. But the omission of the justice to make the deposit, does not affect the validity of any book or paper, so required to be deposited, or of any proceeding to which it relates.

From Id., §§ 252, 253.

§ 3145. Certificate in docket-book deposited.

A justice of the peace must make, in each docket-book deposited by him, as prescribed in the last section, a certificate under his hand, to the effect that each judgment or order, entered therein, was duly rendered or made, as therein stated; and that the sum, appearing by the book to be due thereupon, has not been paid, to his knowledge.

From Id., § 254.

§ 3146. [Am'd, 1905, 1916.] Town or city clerk to demand books, etc., upon death, etc., of justice.

If a justice of the peace dies, or his office becomes otherwise vacant, the town or city clerk must demand and receive all books and papers, which belonged to the justice in his official capacity, from any person having them in his possession, and such clerk may make and issue a transcript of a judgment so rendered by such a justice of the peace and appearing upon the docket of such justice of the peace so on file in his office, and issue an execution upon any such judgment which has not been docketed in the office of the county clerk, upon receiving his fees for the same, which shall be the same now allowed a justice of the peace for issuing a transcript or transcripts, as the case may be, and such transcript or execution so issued by such clerk shall have the same force and effect as though the same had been issued by such justice of the peace during his term of office.

From Id., 271, § 255. Am'd by L. 1905, c. 436; L. 1916, c. 448 (in effect Sept. 1, 1916).

§ 3147. Delivery; how compelled.

If any book or paper, required to be deposited with the town or city clerk, as prescribed in this title, is withheld, the like proceedings may be had, at the instance of the town or city clerk, to compel the deposit thereof, as are prescribed by law, where an officer refuses or neglects to deliver a book or paper in his custody as such officer, to his successor in office.

From Id., § 256.

§ 3148. Entries to be evidence.

An entry made, as prescribed by law, in the docket-book kept by a justice of the peace, and deposited with the town or city clerk, as prescribed in this title, is presumptive evidence of the matters of fact stated therein; but the presumption may be repelled by proof.

From Id., § 257.

§ 3149. Justice to furnish copies of papers.

A justice of the peace must furnish, upon request and payment of his fees, to any person interested in a judgment or order entered by him, a transcript of the judgment or order, together with a copy of all the entries in his docket-book, relating to the cause; a copy of his minutes of the evidence in the cause, or the substance of the testimony, if he has not taken minutes; and a copy of any paper on file in the cause; or such portions thereof as are required.

From L. 1841, c. 141, § 1.

§ 3150. Transfer of action when justice's term expires, etc.

If the term of office of a justice of the peace is about to expire, or he is about to remove from the town or city, before judgment is rendered in an action, or a final order is made in a special proceeding, pending before him, he must previously make a written order, reciting the fact, and directing the action or special proceeding to be continued before another justice of the same town or city, named in the order.

New.

§ 3151. Id.; when justice is a witness.

If, before an issue of fact is joined in an action or special proceeding, the defendant, or, where he has not been arrested, his attorney, presents to the justice satisfactory proof, by affidavit, that the justice, before whom the action or special proceeding is pending, is a material witness for the defendant, without whose testimony he cannot safely proceed to trial, setting forth therein the particular facts and circumstances, which he expects to prove by him, the justice must forthwith make a written order, directing the action or special proceeding to be continued before another justice of the same town or city, named in the order.

From 2 R. S. 229 (Part 3, c. 2, tit. 4), § 21; Id., 246, § 118; L. 1838, c. 243; L. 1875, c. 334.

§ 3152. Proceedings upon transfer.

Where an order is made, as prescribed in either of the last two sections, the constable must forthwith take it, and all other papers in the action, with the body of the defendant, if he is under arrest, before the justice named in the order. The plaintiff or petitioner must forthwith appear before that justice, who must take cognizance of the action or special proceeding, and must proceed therein as if it had been commenced before him. Costs, recovered in the action or special proceeding, include the fees allowed by law, for services performed by the constable and the justice, before the transfer, together with the fees allowed by law, for the proceedings before the justice to whom the cause is transferred.

Id.

§ 3153. Penalty for not paying over money.

A justice of the peace, who neglects or refuses, within a reasonable time after demand, to pay any money, collected by him in his official capacity, to the person entitled thereto, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished accordingly. A conviction also operates as a forfeiture of his office.

From 2 R. S. 271, § 259.

§ 3154. Action on judgment of justice.

In an action upon a judgment of a justice of the peace, brought in the county wherein it was rendered, within five years after the rendition thereof, against a defendant upon whom the summons was personally served, no costs can be recovered, except where the justice, who rendered the judgment, is dead, or out of office, or otherwise incapable of acting; or has removed from the county; or where one of the parties has died; or where the docket of the judgment has been lost or destroyed.

From Co. Proc., § 71, last clause.

§ 3155. Id.; proof of judgment, etc.

In an action brought upon a judgment of a justice of the peace, who is dead, or out of office, or otherwise incapable of acting; or has removed from the county; or cannot be found therein; the original docket-book of the justice is presumptive evidence of any matter entered therein, as prescribed by law; but the presumption may be repelled by proof. If the docket-book is lost or destroyed, or if it cannot be produced, after reasonable effort to obtain it, the like proof may be given, respecting the recovery of the judgment, as upon any other question of fact.

§ 3156. Execution of mandate by private person.

A justice of the peace, who issues any mandate, authorized by this chapter, except a venire, may, at the request of the party, whenever he deems it expedient so to do, empower, by a written authority indorsed upon the mandate, any proper person of full age, not a party to the action, to serve, or otherwise execute it. For that purpose the person so empowered has all the power and authority, and is subject to all the obligations and liabilities, of a constable; and his return is evidence in like manner as a constable's. But a person so empowered is not entitled to any fee or reward for his services.

From Id., 273, §§ 271, 272.

§ 3157. Constable to execute mandates in person.

A constable, to whom a mandate is directed and delivered as prescribed in this chapter, must execute it in person, pursuant to the tenor thereof. He cannot act by deputy in such a case.

From Id., § 273.

§ 3158. [Am'd, 1909.] Sheriff to act where execution of mandate is resisted.

If a constable, to whom a mandate, issued by a justice of the peace, is directed and delivered, finds, or has reason to apprehend, that resistance will be made to the execution thereof, he may deliver it to the sheriff of the county, with a written certificate, stating the facts, and requiring the sheriff to execute it. Thereupon the sheriff must execute the mandate; and he is subject to all the liabilities attaching to a constable in executing it. Sections 400 and 401 of the Judiciary Law apply to a mandate delivered to a sheriff, as prescribed in this section.

New. Am'd by L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

CHAPTER XX.

Provisions Relating to Certain Courts in Cities, and the Proceedings Therein.

TITLE I.— The City Court of the City of New-York.
TITLE II.— The Mayor's Court of the City of Hudson, and the Recorders' Courts of the Cities of Utica and Oswego.
TITLE III.— The City Court of Yonkers.
TITLE IV.— The District Courts of the City of New-York, and the Justices' Courts of the Cities of Albany and Troy.
TITLE V.— The Municipal Court of the City of Rochester.

TITLE I.

The city court of the city of New-York.

Article 1. Provisions generally applicable to proceedings in the court.
2. Provisions exclusively applicable to the proceedings, other than appeals, in an ordinary action.
3. Provisions exclusively applicable to the proceedings, other than appeals, in certain marine causes.
4. Appeals to and from the general term of the court.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Provisions generally applicable to proceedings in the court.

Sec. 3159. Provisions, applying generally to courts of record, subject to certain qualifications.
3160. Certain sections inapplicable to this court; who a non-resident.
3161. Time for service of notices.
3162. Service of notice of trial; filing of note of issue.
3163. When court may relieve from imprisonment.
3164. Money; how paid into the court.

§ 3159. [Am'd, 1907.] Provisions, applying generally to courts of record, subject to certain qualifications.

Each of the foregoing provisions of this act, which is made, by chapter twenty-two of this act, applicable to the city court of the city of New York, or generally to courts of record, is subject to the qualifications and exceptions expressed or plainly implied in this title.

New. Am'd by L. 1907, c. 707 (in effect July 22, 1907).

§ 3160. [Am'd, 1896, 1902.] Certain sections not to apply to New York city court; who a non-resident.

Sections 438 and 603, sections 611 to 619, both inclusive, and sections 636, 827 and 1015 of this act do not apply to an action or a special proceeding brought in the city court of the city of New York, or before a justice thereof, or to any proceeding therein. Sections 3268 and 3269 of this act do not apply to an action in the court, prosecuted as prescribed in article third of this title; or where an undertaking has been given as prescribed in section 3165 of this act. A plaintiff, in an action brought in the court, who has an office for the regular transaction of business in person, within the city of New York, is deemed a resident of that city, within the meaning of sections 3268 and 3269 of this act.

[1] See § 2, subd. 9, foot-note, ante.

2. The provisions of section 1013 of the code of civil procedure are hereby made applicable to and binding upon the city court of the city of New York.

New. Am'd by L. 1896, c. 954; L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3161. [Am'd, 1902.] Time for service of notices in New York city court.

The time for personal service of certain notices, in an action brought in the court, is as follows:

1. Notice of justification of the sureties, in an undertaking given by the plaintiff, as security for the defendant's costs, not more than two days.

2. Notice of an application for judgment in a case specified in section 537 of this act; notice of a motion to strike out a pleading, in a case specified in section 538 of this act; notice of an application for judgment upon the defendant's default, or of the execution of a reference, or writ of inquiry, or of an assessment thereupon, as prescribed in section 1219 of this act; not less than two days.

3. Notice of the justification of bail, not less than two, nor more than ten days.

4. Notice of a motion, other than a motion specified in subdivision second of this section, not less than four days; but the court or a justice thereof may, upon an affidavit showing grounds therefor, prescribe a shorter time, by an order to show cause.

5. Notice of trial of an issue of fact, or of an issue of law; notice of any hearing, the time for serving which is not expressly prescribed in either of the foregoing subdivisions of this section, or elsewhere in this title; not less than five days.

6. Notice of taxation of costs, not less than two days; except where all the attorneys, serving and served with the notice, reside or have their offices in the city of New York, in which case, one day's notice is sufficient.

From L. 1872, c. 629, §§ 5, 14; L. 1874, c. 545, § 2; L. 1875, c. 479, §§ 17, 50, and § 51, subd. 10. Am'd by L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3162. [Am'd, 1902.] Service of notice of trial; filing of note of issue.

Notice of trial of an issue triable at a term of the court may be given for any day of the term. A note of issue must be filed at least two days before the day, or the commencement of the term, for which the notice of the trial is given; and it must, in addition to the matter specified in section 977 of this act, state the day or the term, for which the notice has been given. But this and the last section do not apply to a case where special provision is otherwise made in article third of this title.

From L. 1874, c. 545, § 2. Am'd by L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3163. When court may relieve from imprisonment.

Where it satisfactorily appears that a party, who is actually confined in jail, by virtue of an order of arrest, or an execution against the person, issued in an action brought in the court, is physically unable to endure the confinement, and that he cannot procure bail, or the necessary sureties in a bond for the jail liberties, as the case requires, the court, or a justice thereof, may, in its or his discretion, by order, direct the sheriff to release him from custody. The sheriff must obey such an order. After such a release from an execution against the person, another execution, against the person of the judgment debtor, cannot be issued upon the judgment; but the judgment creditor may enforce the judgment against property, as if the execution, from which the judgment debtor was released, had been returned without his being taken.

From L. 1875, c. 479, § 10.

§ 3164. Money; how paid into the court.

Money paid into the court, pursuant to any provision of this act, must, unless the court otherwise directs, be paid directly to the chamberlain of the city of New-York, to the credit of the cause in which it is paid.

New.

§ 3164a. [Added, 1906.] Fees of clerk.

The clerk of the city court of the city of New York is entitled to receive for the use of the city of New York, for the services performed by him the following fees and none other: For filing a note of issue for the general or equity calendar, three dollars; for entering final judgment in an action, including the filing of the judgment roll, fifty cents; and ten cents in addition for each folio exceeding ten, contained in said judgment. For filing and entering an order directing the change of name, one dollar for each name so changed. For entering any other order or an interlocutory judgment, ten cents for each folio exceeding five. For a certified or other copy of an order, record, or other paper entered or filed in his office, five cents for each folio. For filing and entering a certificate of satisfaction of a judgment twenty-five cents and for certifying a copy thereof twelve cents. For filing and entering an assignment of a judgment twenty-five cents, and for certifying a copy thereof twelve cents. For filing and entering a release of a judgment twenty-five cents, and for certifying a copy thereof twelve cents. For certifying a transcript of the docket of a judgment twelve cents. For an extract of the minutes of a trial ten cents. For attesting the correctness of the copy of any paper or record on file in his office, ten cents for each folio. For a certificate other than herein described, twenty-five cents. For making and certifying a search for any paper or record, one dollar. For comparing and certifying the printed papers on appeal from an order or judgment taken as prescribed in article fourth of title first of chapter twenty of this act, one cent per folio thereof. But where the attorneys for all the parties interested, other than parties in default, or against whom a judgment or a final order has been taken, and is not appealed from, stipulate in writing that a paper is a copy of any paper whereof a certified copy is required by any provisions of this act, the stipulation takes the place of a certificate, as to the parties so stipulating, and the clerk is not required to certify the same, or entitled to any fees therefor. And the paper so proved by stipulation shall be received by the clerks of all the courts and by the courts and shall be used or filed with the same force and effect as if certified by a clerk of the court.

Added by L. 1906, c. 273 (in effect April 19, 1906), which further provides that "all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed."

ARTICLE SECOND.

Provisions exclusively applicable to the proceedings, other than appeals, in an ordinary action.

Sec. 3165. Summons.
3166. Time for service of pleadings, etc.
3167. Enforcement of certain judgments in favor of working women.
3168. Time for non-acceptance and justification of bail, etc.
3169. Proof necessary to obtain warrant of attachment.
3170. Service of summons without the city, or by publication.
3171. Commission to take testimony.
3172. Court may refer question arising upon a motion.
3173. Time for filing decision upon a trial by the court. Id.; when sufficient.
3174. Counterclaims.
3175. Perishable property may be sold.
3176. Portion of verdict, etc., may be remitted.

§ 3165. Summons.

The summons, in an action brought in the court, must state that the time, within which the defendant must serve a copy of his answer, is six days after the service thereof, exclusive of the day of service; except in one of the following cases:

1. A justice of the court may, upon satisfactory proof, by affidavit, that either the plaintiff or the defendant resides without the city[1] of New-York; or, where there are two or more plaintiffs, or two or more defendants, that all the plaintiffs or all the defendants reside without that city, direct, by an order, that the defendant be summoned to answer within a shorter time, specified therein, not less than two days after the service of the summons, exclusive of the day of service; whereupon the summons must correspond to the order. The order must be indorsed upon or annexed to the summons; and a copy thereof must be delivered with a copy of the summons. The justice may, in his discretion, as a condition of granting the order, require the plaintiff to give an undertaking, with one or more sureties, to the effect that the plaintiff will pay any judgment which may be rendered against him in the action, not exceeding a sum, specified in the undertaking, which must be at least two hundred dollars.

2. Where an order, directing service of the summons without the city of New-York, or by publication, is granted, the summons must state that the time, within which the defendant must serve a copy of his answer, is ten days after service thereof, exclusive of the day of service. If a summons, requiring the defendant to answer within a shorter time, has been issued, as prescribed in this section, before an order specified in this subdivision is granted, the justice granting such an order may direct that the summons be amended accordingly; and thereupon the summons published, or served without that city, pursuant to the order, must correctly state the time.

§ 3166. Time for service of pleadings, etc.

The time, within which a defendant in a case specified in section 479 of this act must demand a copy of the complaint, and the time within which the plaintiff must serve the same, after a demand thereof, as prescribed in that section, and the time, within which a copy of a pleading, subsequent to the complaint, must be served, after the service of a copy of the preceding pleading, is the same number of days, as stated in the summons, within which the defendant is required to serve a copy of his answer, after service of the summons. But, except as otherwise prescribed in section 3185 of this act, a defendant, arrested before answer, has ten days after the arrest, within which to demand a copy of the complaint or to serve a copy of his answer, as the case requires; and judgment must be stayed accordingly.

From L. 1872, c. 629, § 5; L. 1874, c. 545, § 1.

§ 3168. Time for non-acceptance and justification of bail, etc.

The time for taking certain proceedings, in an action brought in the court, is as follows:

1. Service of notice of non-acceptance of bail, within five days after the delivery, to the plaintiff's attorney, of certified copies of the order of arrest, return, and undertaking, as prescribed in section 577 of this act.

2. Service of notice of justification of the bail, within five days after service of the notice specified in subdivision first of this section.

3. Service of notice of exception to the sureties, in an undertaking given by the plaintiff, as security for the defendant's costs, within two days after service, upon the defendant's attorney, of a written notice of the filing thereof; and service of notice of the justification of the same, or new sureties, within two days after service of the notice of exception.

From L. 1875, c. 479, §§ 16, 17; Id., § 51, subd. 9.

§ 3169. [Am'd, 1899.] Proof necessary to obtain warrant of attachment.

In order to entitle the plaintiff to a warrant of attachment against property, he must show by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the justice granting it, that a sufficient cause of action exists against the defendant, to recover damages for one or more causes specified in section 635 of this act, to an amount stated in the affidavit, which, if the action is to recover damages for breach of contract, must be stated over and above all counterclaims known to the plaintiff; and also that the case is within one of the following subdivisions:

1. That the defendant is a foreign corporation, or being a natural person is not a resident of the State.

2. That the defendant, being an adult and a resident of the borough of Manhattan in the city of New York, has departed from the State, with intent to defraud his creditors, or to avoid service of the summons, or keeps himself concealed therein, with like intent; or that, after proper and diligent effort to ascertain the place of the sojourn of such a resident adult defendant, the same cannot be ascertained.

3. That the defendant, being an adult, has removed, or is about to remove, property from the State, with intent to defraud his creditors, or that he has assigned, disposed of, or secreted, or is about to assign, dispose of, or secrete property, with the like intent.

4. That the defendant, being an adult and a resident of that borough has been continuously without the United States more than six months next before the granting of the warrant, and has not made a designation of a person upon whom to serve a summons in his behalf, as prescribed in section 430 of this act; or a designation so made no longer remains in force.

See L. 1831, c. 300, §§ 33, 34, 47; L. 1872, c. 629. Am'd by L. 1899, c. 298 (in effect Sept. 1, 1899).

§ 3170. Service of summons without the city, or by publication.

An order, directing the service of a summons, either without the city[1] of New-York, or by publication, may be granted by the court, or by a justice thereof; but only in a case, where a warrant of attachment has been issued, as prescribed in the last section, and personal service of the summons cannot be made, with due diligence, within that city. The plaintiff, when he applies for such an order, must show by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the court or justice, that the case is within this section. Where an order is granted, as prescribed in this section, service of the summons without that city may be made, as directed in the order, either within or without the State. Sections 440 to 445, both inclusive, and sections 638, 707, and 708 of this act apply to the service or publication, pursuant to such an order, and to the proceedings relating to the same, and subsequent thereto; substituting the words, "the city of New-York", in place of the words, "the State", wherever the latter words occur. If the defendant is a resident of the city of New-York, the order must also direct that a copy of the summons, complaint, and order be left at his residence, specifying it, with a person of suitable age and discretion, if, upon reasonable application, admittance can be obtained, and such a person found who will receive it; or, if admittance cannot be so obtained, nor such a person found, by affixing the same to the outer door of the residence so specified.

§ 3171. Commission to take testimony.

The application, to the court, of article second of title third of chapter ninth of this act, is subject to the following qualifications:

1. The words, "the city and county of New-York, or either of the counties of Richmond, Kings, Queens, or Westchester", must be regarded as substituted, in place of the words, "the State", wherever those words are used in that article, with respect to the locality of a witness.

2. Interrogatories, framed pursuant to that article, can be settled only by a justice of the court.

3. A commission, or order to take depositions, issued or granted, pursuant to that article, may be executed either within or without the State.

New.

§ 3172. Court may refer question arising upon a motion.

The court may, of its own motion, or upon the application of either party, without the consent of the other, by order, direct a reference, to determine and report upon a question of fact, arising upon a motion, in any stage of an action.

From L. 1875, c. 479, § 55.

§ 3173. Time for filing decision upon a trial by the court. Id.; when sufficient.

The time within which the decision of the court must be filed, in a case specified in section 1010 of this act, is ten days after the cause is finally submitted. The decision of the court, in a case specified in section 1022 of this act, is sufficient if it directs the judgment to be entered thereupon; but, if so required by a party appealing, the justice by whom the decision was made, must, within ten days after the appeal is perfected, and notice thereof and of the requirement is given to him, make, and file with the clerk, a special decision, stating separately the facts found, and the conclusions of law.

§ 3174. Counterclaims.

A counterclaim, specified in subdivision second of section 501 of this act, cannot be interposed, in an action brought in the court, unless it is of such a nature, that the court has jurisdiction of an action founded thereupon; except that, in an action brought by an executor or administrator, any counterclaim may be interposed, which could be interposed, in a like action, brought in the supreme court. A counterclaim may be interposed, in an action brought in the court, without respect to the amount thereof; and judgment thereupon, in favor of the defendant, may be rendered for any sum.

New.

§ 3175. Perishable property may be sold.

Where perishable property has been levied upon, by virtue of an execution or a warrant of attachment, the court may, upon the application of the officer making the levy, by order, direct the sale thereof, at such a time, and upon such a notice, as it deems proper; and thereupon the property must be sold accordingly.

From L. 1874, c. 545, § 6.

§ 3176. Portion of verdict, etc., may be remitted.

A party to whom a sum is awarded, upon a trial, an assessment of damages, or the execution of a reference or writ of inquiry, may remit any portion thereof, and take judgment for the residue.

From L. 1857, c. 344, § 49.

ARTICLE THIRD.

Provisions exclusively applicable to the proceedings, other than appeals, in certain marine causes.

Sec. 3177. Arrest in certain marine causes. Court may regulate by general rules.
3178. Id.; contents of order of arrest.
3179. Id.; proceedings on arrest.
3180, 3181. Id.; bail or deposit before return.
3182. Id.; bail or deposit after return.
3183. Id.; when and how defendant to remain in custody.
3184. Id.; return of summons, etc.
3185. Id.; proceedings after return.
3186. Id.; trial.
3187. Ordinary action may be brought for like cause.

§ 3177. Arrest in certain marine causes. Court may regulate by general rules.

In an action specified in subdivision second of section 317 of this act, the plaintiff may apply for an order of arrest, to accompany the summons, in the form and to the effect specified in the next section. If such an order is granted, the proceedings in the action must be conducted as prescribed in this article. The justices of the court, or a majority of them, may, from time to time, by one or more general rules, attested by the hands of the justices making the same, and filed with the clerk, regulate the manner in which an application for such an order may be made, and the cases in which an undertaking may be dispensed with. Until regulations are so established, the justice to whom the application is made, may, in his discretion, require or dispense with an undertaking thereupon.

§ 3178. Id.; contents of order of arrest.

The order of arrest, granted as prescribed in the last section, must require the sheriff to arrest the defendant, and to bring him forthwith before the court, at the chambers thereof; or if, when he is arrested, the court is not in session at chambers, to hold him to bail, in a sum specified in the order, for his personal attendance at the opening of the court, on the next day thereafter, when it is in session at the chambers thereof. The order must also direct that the defendant be summoned to answer the complaint in the action forthwith. Thereupon the summons must conform to the order.

From 2 R. L. of 1813, pp. 383-389; L. 1872, c. 629, § 5.

§ 3179. Id.; proceedings on arrest.

The sheriff, upon arresting the defendant, by virtue of such an order, must, at the same time, serve upon him the summons, and also a copy of the order of arrest, and of the papers upon which it was granted. He must forthwith bring the defendant before the court, at the chambers thereof, if the court is then in session at chambers; otherwise, unless bail is given, as prescribed in the next section, he must take the defendant to the jail of the city and county of New-York, for the confinement of prisoners in civil causes. The keeper thereof must confine the defendant therein. On the next day thereafter, when the court is in session at chambers, the sheriff must take the defendant from the jail, and bring him before the court.

Id.

§ 3180. Id.; bail or deposit before return.

The defendant may give bail, by delivering to the sheriff a written undertaking to the plaintiff, in the sum specified in the order of arrest, executed by one or more sureties, to the effect that the defendant will attend in person at the opening of the court, at the chambers thereof, on the next day thereafter when it is there in session; or he may deposit with the sheriff the sum specified in the order of arrest. In either case, the sheriff must forthwith release him from custody.

Id.

§ 3181. The same.

Where bail is given, as prescribed in the last section, the officer taking the acknowledgment of the undertaking, must, if the sheriff so requires, examine under oath, to a reasonable extent, the persons offering to become bail, concerning their property and their circumstances. The defendant may give bail, or make the deposit, immediately upon his arrest, at any hour of the day or night; and he must have reasonable opportunity to seek for and to procure bail, before being committed to jail. Where a deposit is made, the money deposited must, before the expiration of the next day thereafter, not being Sunday or a public holiday, be paid, by the sheriff, into court, to the credit of the action, as prescribed in section 3164 of this act.

Id.

§ 3182. Id.; bail or deposit after return.

At any time after the return of the sheriff, and before final judgment, a justice of the court may admit a defendant in custody to bail, or allow him to make a deposit; and may direct his release, upon his giving bail or making the deposit accordingly. The sum to be deposited, or the sum specified in the undertaking of the bail, must be fixed, and the sureties in the undertaking must be approved, by the justice; who must be satisfied, by their examination, or by other proof, respecting their sufficiency. The undertaking must be to the effect that the defendant will, at all times, render himself amenable to any mandate which may be issued, to enforce a final judgment against him in the action. Article fourth of title first of chapter seventh of this act, applies, where bail is given as prescribed in this or the last section.

Id.

§ 3183. Id.; when and how defendant to remain in custody.

Unless bail is given, or a deposit is made, as prescribed in the last three sections, the defendant must remain in the jail by virtue of the order of arrest, until final judgment in the action; and, if the judgment is against the defendant, until the return of an execution against property, issued thereupon. But the court must direct him to be brought into court, at the time of the trial; and it may, in its discretion, direct him to be brought into court at any other time. In either case, he must be taken from the jail, and brought into court accordingly.

Id.

§ 3184. Id.; return of summons, etc.

The sheriff, after serving the summons and executing the order of arrest, must make a full return of his proceedings thereupon, to the court at chambers. The return must be made forthwith, unless the court is not then in session at chambers; in which case, it must be made immediately after the opening of the court, on the first day thereafter, when it is there in session. If the defendant has given bail, the undertaking of the bail must be returned, to be delivered to the plaintiff when the court so directs.

Id.

§ 3185. Id.; proceedings after return.

Unless both parties sooner appear, the court must wait one hour after the return; or, if the defendant has given bail, one hour after the opening of the court. As soon after the parties appear, or after the expiration of the hour, as the business upon which the court is then engaged will permit, the court must take up the cause. If the plaintiff does not then appear, a judgment dismissing the complaint, with costs, must be rendered. If the defendant does not then attend in person, the plaintiff must then make his complaint, and the defendant's default must be entered. If the plaintiff appears and the defendant attends in person, the pleadings must then be made, and issue must be joined. The pleadings may be oral or written; if they are oral, the clerk must enter the substance thereof in the minutes. If either party desires a trial by a jury, he must demand the same, at the time of the joinder of issue; otherwise the issue must be tried by the court, without a jury.

Id.

§ 3186. Id.; trial.

Where a trial by jury is duly demanded, the court at chambers must direct the issue to be tried, at a trial term, upon such notice as it deems proper, or without notice; it may also direct that the action have a preference upon the day calendar, either generally or for a particular day; and it may give such direction as it deems proper, with respect to filing a note of issue. Where a trial by jury is not duly demanded, or where the defendant is in default, the evidence must then, or at such subsequent time, either at chambers or at a trial term or special term, as the court at chambers appoints, be given; and thereupon final judgment must be rendered. But the issue must be appointed to be tried, within six days after the joinder thereof, unless both parties assent to a longer time; or a trial by jury is demanded, and there is no term of the court, at which it can be had, within that time. The trial cannot be adjourned, without the consent of both parties, beyond three calendar months from the joinder of issue.

Id.

§ 3187. Ordinary action may be brought for like cause.

This article does not prevent the plaintiff from commencing, and conducting in the ordinary manner, an action, for a cause specified in subdivision second of section 317 of this act.

ARTICLE FOURTH.

Appeals.

Sec. 3188. Appeal from a judgment.
3189. Id.; from an order.
3190. Time to appeal and proceedings thereupon.
3191. Appeal to the appellate division of the supreme court; in what cases.
3192. Id.; proceedings regulated.
3193. Id.; within what time.
3194. Id.; determination upon appeal, how enforced. Id.; where new trial was properly granted.
3194a. Appeals from the city court of the city of New York.
3195. [Repealed.]

§ 3188. [Am'd, 1895, 1902.] Appeal from a judgment.

An appeal, to the supreme court may be taken from a final or interlocutory judgment rendered in the city court of the city of New York in a case where an appeal may be taken to the appellate division of the supreme court from a final or interlocutory judgment rendered in the supreme court, as prescribed in section 1346 and section 1349 of this act.

From L. 1858, c. 617, § 5; L. 1872, c. 629, § 11. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946; L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3189. [Am'd, 1895, 1902.] Id.; from an order.

An appeal to the supreme court may also be taken from an interlocutory judgment rendered, or an order made at chambers, or at a special term or a trial term of said city court, or from an order made by a judge thereof out of court, in a case where an appeal may be taken to the appellate division of the supreme court from an interlocutory judgment rendered, or an order made, in like manner, as prescribed in sections 1347, 1348, 1349 of this act. Upon such an appeal the supreme court shall have full power to review any exercise of discretion by the court or judge below.

§ 3190. [Am'd, 1902.] Time to appeal and proceedings thereupon.

An appeal, authorized by either of the last two sections, must be taken within ten days after service of a copy of the judgment or order appealed from, and a written notice of the date of the entry thereof. In every other respect, titles first, third and fourth of chapter twelfth of this act, so far as the same are applicable thereto, apply to and govern an appeal, taken as prescribed in either of the last two sections.

From L. 1872, c. 629, §§ 9, 10. Am'd by L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3191. [Am'd, 1882, 1895, 1902.] Appeal to the appellate division of the supreme court; in what cases.

An appeal to the appellate division of the supreme court in the first judicial department may be taken from the judgment or order entered upon the determination of an appeal taken as prescribed in section 3188 and 3189 of this act, provided such appeal be allowed by order made at the term at which such appeal was determined or at the term next after judgment is entered upon such determination and provided further that, where such appeal is from an order granting a new trial upon a case or exceptions, the appellant must, with his application for leave to appeal, file an assent on his part that, if the order is affirmed, judgment absolute may be rendered against him.

From Co. Proc., § 352; L. 1874, c. 545, § 9. Am'd by L. 1882, c. 399; L. 1895, c. 946; L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3192. [Am'd, 1902.] Practice and proceedings on appeal to appellate division of supreme court.

Titles first, third and fourth of chapter twelve of this act, so far as the same are applicable thereto, apply to and govern an appeal, taken as prescribed in the last section, except as otherwise expressly prescribed in the next two sections.

New. Am'd by L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3193. [Am'd, 1895, 1902.] Id.; within what time taken.

An appeal, authorized by section 3191 of this act, must be taken within twenty days after the service of a copy of the order allowing such appeal and a written notice of the date of the entry thereof.

From L. 1874, c. 545, § 9. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946; L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3194. [Am'd, 1902.] Id.; determination upon appeal, how enforced. Id.; where new trial was properly granted.

The judgment or order of the appellate court must be remitted to the court below, to be enforced according to law. Upon an appeal from an order granting a new trial, on a case or exceptions, if the appellate court determines that no error was committed in granting the new trial, it must render judgment absolute upon the right of the appellant; and thereupon an assessment of damages, or any other proceedings, requisite to render the judgment effectual, may be had in the city court of the city of New York.

From L. 1875, c. 479, § 43, subds. 2, 3. Am'd by L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3194a. [Added, 1904.] Appeals from the city court of the city of New York.

Where, on an appeal from a judgment or order taken as prescribed in article fourth of title first of chapter twenty of this act, a party shall present to the clerk a printed copy of the judgment roll or order appealed from, it shall be the duty of the clerk, as required, to compare and certify the same, for which service the clerk must receive, for the use of the city of New York a fee at the rate of one cent per folio. Where the attorneys for all the parties interested, other than parties in default, or against whom a judgment or a final order has been taken, and is not appealed from, stipulate in writing that a paper is a copy of any paper whereof a certified copy is required by any provisions of this act, the stipulation takes the place of a certificate, as to the parties so stipulating, and the clerk is not required to certify the same, or entitled to any fees therefor. And the paper so proved by stipulation shall be received by the clerks of all the courts and by the courts and shall be used or filed with the same force and effect as if certified by a clerk of the court.

Added by L. 1904, c. 430 (in effect Sept. 1, 1904).

TITLE II.

The mayor's court of the city of Hudson, and the recorders' courts of the cities of Utica and Oswego.

Sec. 3196. Civil jurisdiction prescribed.
3197. Certain pending actions, etc., transferred to supreme court.
3198. Id.; certain papers, etc., to be transmitted to county clerk.
3199. Power of supreme court, in actions, etc., so transferred.
3200. Proceedings in case of judge's disability.
3201. Service of subpoenas.
3202. Effect of this title limited.

§ 3196. Civil jurisdiction prescribed.

The civil jurisdiction of the mayor's court of the city of Hudson, the recorder's court of the city of Utica, and the recorder's court of the city of Oswego, extends only to an action whereof jurisdiction is expressly conferred upon the court, by a provision of a statute incorporating, or otherwise specially relating to the government of, the city wherein the court is located.

See Co. Proc., § 33.

§ 3197. Certain pending actions, etc., transferred to supreme court.

Every civil action, now pending in either of those courts, other than an action specified in the last section, is hereby transferred to the supreme court; and the subsequent proceedings therein, before and after the judgment, must be the same, as if the action had been commenced in the supreme court.

New.

§ 3198. Id.; certain papers, etc., to be transmitted to county clerk.

All judgment-rolls, and other records, and all books and papers, relating exclusively to civil actions, other than an action specified in the last section but one, now remaining in either of those courts, must be delivered by the clerk thereof, or, if there is no clerk, by the judge or other officer, having the custody thereof, to the clerk of the county in which the court is located, to be preserved among the records of his office. The expense of so doing is a county charge.

New.

§ 3199. Power of supreme court, in actions, etc., so transferred.

The supreme court may review, enforce, vacate, or amend a final judgment heretofore rendered by either of those courts, in a civil action, other than an action specified in section 3196 of this act, with like power and effect, as the court in which it was commenced might have so done, if this act had not been passed.

New.

§ 3200. Proceedings in case of judge's disability.

The county court of the county in which either of those courts is located, may, by an order, remove to itself an action of which either of those courts has jurisdiction, as prescribed in section 3196 of this act, upon proof, by affidavit, that the judge thereof is, for any cause, incapable of acting, either generally or in the particular action. Sections 344, 345, and 346 of this act apply to such an order of removal, and to the proceedings subsequent thereto. The proceedings subsequent to the order are the same, as in an action brought in the county court, except that costs must be awarded, as if the action had remained in the court from which it was removed.

New.

§ 3201. Service of subpoenas.

A subpoena, issued out of either of those courts, may be served upon a witness, at any place within the State. A warrant to apprehend a witness, for a failure to obey such a subpoena, may be directed to the sheriff of the county where the court is located, and executed by him within any county of the State. The sheriff is subject to the same liability, for a failure to serve or return it, as if it was issued out of the supreme court.

New.

§ 3202. Effect of this title limited.

This title does not affect any provision of law conferring upon a judge, or upon the judges, of either of those courts, jurisdiction, power or authority, in an action brought in another court, or in a special proceeding.

New.

TITLE III.

The city court of Yonkers.

Sec. 3203. Jurisdiction in civil actions.
3204. Last section qualified.
3205. Summons, where served.
3206. This title does not affect jurisdiction of the court, etc., in special proceedings.

§ 3203. Jurisdiction in civil actions.

The jurisdiction of the city court of Yonkers[1] extends to the following civil actions only:

1. An action against a natural person, or against a foreign or domestic corporation, wherein the complaint demands judgment for a sum of money only, or to recover one or more chattels, with or without damages for the taking, withholding, or detention thereof.

2. An action to foreclose or enforce a lien, upon real property in the city of Yonkers, created, as prescribed by statute, in favor of a person who has performed labor, or furnished materials to be used, in erecting, altering, or repairing a building, building lot, or appurtenance thereto, including fences, sidewalks, paving, wells, fountains, fish-ponds, ornamental and fruit trees, and every other improvement to a building or building lot.

3. An action to foreclose or enforce a lien, for a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest, upon one or more chattels.

From L. 1878, c. 186, § 1; L. 1875, c. 233, § 1.

§ 3204. [Am'd, 1888.] Last section qualified.

The jurisdiction conferred by the last section is subject to the following limitations and regulations:

1. In an action wherein the complaint demands judgment for a sum of money only, the sum, for which judgment is rendered in favor of the plaintiff, cannot exceed one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest, and costs as taxed: except where it is brought upon a bond or undertaking, given in an action or special proceeding in the same court, or before the city judge. Where the action is brought upon a bond or other contract, the judgment must be for the sum actually due, without regard to a penalty therein contained; and where the money is payable in instalments, successive actions may be brought, for the instalments, as they become due.

2. In an action to recover one or more chattels, a judgment cannot be rendered, in favor of the plaintiff, for a chattel or chattels, the aggregate value of which exceeds one thousand dollars.

3. The court has not jurisdiction of an action against an executor or administrator, in his representative capacity.

4. The court has not jurisdiction of any action, unless one of the parties thereto resides in the city of Yonkers, or in a town of Westchester county, adjoining that city: or a warrant of attachment is granted to accompany the summons, and levied upon property of the defendant, within that city; or the action is brought to recover one or more statutory penalties, by the city of Yonkers, or one of its officers or boards of commissioners. Such warrant of attachment must be granted and subsequent proceedings taken, in accordance with the provisions and requirements herein relating to attachments in courts of justices of the peace.

From L. 1878, c. 188, § 2. Am'd by L. 1888, c. 494.

§ 3205. Summons, where served.

The summons, in an action brought in the court, may be served at any place within the county of Westchester, but not elsewhere.

From Id., § 3.

§ 3206. This title does not affect jurisdiction of the court, etc., in special proceedings.

This title does not affect any provision of law, conferring upon the court, or upon the city judge of Yonkers, jurisdiction, power, or authority, in a special proceeding; or conferring upon the city judge of Yonkers power or authority, in an action brought in another court.

New.

TITLE IV.

The district courts of the city of New York, and the justices' courts of the cities of Albany and Troy.

Article 1. Provisions generally applicable to all the courts specified in this title.
2. Provisions exclusively applicable to the district courts of the city of New-York.
3. Provisions exclusively applicable to the justices' courts of Albany and Troy.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Provisions generally applicable to all the courts specified in this title.

Sec. 3207. Service of complaint with summons; proceedings thereupon.
3208. Id.; and proof of service.
3209. Action to be commenced by service of summons.
3210. Order of arrest; warrant of attachment; requisition to replevy.
3211. The last section qualified.
3212. Proceedings where title to real property is in question.
3213. Appeals.
3214. Effect of this act, upon jurisdiction and proceedings.

§ 3207. Service of complaint with summons; proceedings thereupon.*

Section 3126[1] of this act applies to an action to recover upon or for breach of a contract, express or implied, brought in a district court of the city of New-York,[2] in the justices' court of the city of Albany,[3] or in the justices' court of the city of Troy.[4]

From L. 1857, c. 344, § 15; L. 1873, c. 182, §§ 1, 2.

§ 3208. Id.; and proof of service.

In an action brought in either of those courts, the summons, and, in a proper case, a copy of the complaint, may be served by any person not a party to the action; except that, where the action is brought in a district court of the city of New York, a person, other than a constable or a marshal, serving the same, must be first empowered to do so, either by the justice, or by the attorney to the corporation, as now prescribed by law. Proof of service thereof, by such a person, must be made by his affidavit; which must state the particular place, time, and manner of service, and that the affiant knew the person so served, to be the person mentioned and described in the summons, as defendant therein.

From L. 1873, c. 182, §§ 1, 3; L. 1857, c. 344, § 15; L. 1862, c. 484, § 14; L. 1864, c. 569, § 2; L. 1866, c. 758; L. 1879, c. 102.

§ 3209. Action to be commenced by service of summons.

An action, brought in either of those courts, at any time after this chapter takes effect, must be commenced by the voluntary appearance of, and joinder of issue by, the parties, or by the service of a summons.

* The Municipal Court Act (L. 1902, c. 580, § 303) provides that "sections 3207 to 3214, inclusive, of the Code of Civil Procedure, do not apply to actions or proceedings in this court, except as specially provided in this Act."

[1] Section 3126 has been repealed. Its substantial provisions are now found in §§ 145, 147 of the Municipal Court Act of New York City (see the end of this volume).

[2] Now included in the "Municipal Court of New York City." See § 3, footnote, ante. As to the qualifications of justices of this court, see the Charter of New York City, L. 1901, c. 466, § 1353.

[3] Name now changed to "City Court of Albany," by L. 1884, c. 122. As to the jurisdiction and procedure of this court, see L. 1898, c. 312; L. 1899, c. 590.

[4] Name now changed to "City Court of Troy," by L. 1900, c. 259. This statute also defines the jurisdiction and procedure of this court.

§ 3210. [Am'd, 1884.] Order of arrest; warrant of attachment; requisition to replevy.

Articles third, fourth, and fifth of title second of chapter nineteenth of this act apply to an action brought in either of those courts, except as otherwise prescribed in the next section. And except, also, that where the warrant of attachment, or requisition to replevy, is issued out of a district court of the city of New York, against a non-resident defendant, the said warrant, or requisition, must require the marshal to attach or replevy the property, on or before a day therein specified, which must be not less than two nor more than four days before the return day of the summons.

New. Am'd by L. 1884, c. 409.

§ 3211. The last section qualified.

The provisions of the last section are subject to the following qualifications:

1. Nothing contained in either of the articles, so made applicable, applies to an order of arrest, in an action brought in a district court of the city of New-York, or affects any provision of this title, relating to the jurisdiction of either of the courts specified in this title.

2. An order of arrest, in an action brought in the justices' court of Albany, or the justices' court of Troy, or a warrant of attachment, or a requisition to replevy, in either of those courts, or in a district court of the city of New-York, must be granted by, and directed to, and executed by, the officer empowered, by the statutes remaining in force after this chapter takes effect, to grant or execute, as the case requires, in the same court, a warrant to arrest, a warrant of attachment, or a requisition in an action to recover a chattel.

3. The manner of applying for, granting, and executing an order of arrest, a warrant of attachment, or a requisition to replevy, and the proceedings thereupon, and with respect thereto, as prescribed in the articles so made applicable, are subject to the statutes, remaining unrepealed after this chapter takes effect, specially applicable to those courts, or to either or any of them, prescribing the duties of the justices, or of the clerks thereof, or regulating the mode of transacting business in an action brought therein.

New.

§ 3212. Proceedings where title to real property is in question.

Sections 2951 to 2958 of this act, both inclusive, apply to an action, brought in either of those courts; except that, where the action is brought in a district court of the city of New-York, the surety upon the defendant's undertaking is liable, in the case specified in section 2952, to any amount, for which judgment might have been rendered by the district court, if the answer and undertaking had not been delivered.

New.

§ 3213. [Am'd, 1883, 1895.] Appeals.

An appeal from a judgment, rendered in a district court of the city of New York, may be taken to the supreme court, in the cases, and in the manner prescribed in articles first and second of title eight of chapter nineteenth of this act. Such appeal shall be heard in such manner and by such justice or justices as the appellate division of the supreme court in the first department shall direct. The appellate court may reverse, affirm or modify the judgment appealed from, and where a judgment is reversed, may order a new trial in the district court. Where a judgment is modified, or where a new trial is ordered, costs shall be in the discretion of the appellate court. An appeal from the judgment rendered in the justices' court of the city of Albany, or the justices' court of the city of Troy, may be taken in a case where an appeal may be taken to a county court from a judgment rendered by a justice of the peace as prescribed by title eight of that chapter, and in no other case. Such an appeal must be taken to the county court of the county wherein the court is located.

New. Am'd by L. 1883, c. 231; L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).

§ 3214. Effect of this act, upon jurisdiction and proceedings.

Except as otherwise specially prescribed in this title, this act does not affect any statutory provision remaining unrepealed after this chapter takes effect, relating to the jurisdiction and powers of either of those courts; the appointment, qualification, tenure of office, powers, or duties of the justices, or of the clerk, or any other officer thereof; or the proceedings therein; except that a provision of this or any other statute, whereby a proceeding in an action, brought in either of those courts, or a special proceeding, brought therein, or before a justice thereof, is assimilated, either expressly, or by reference to another provision of law, to a proceeding, in an action or a special proceeding before a justice of the peace, is deemed to refer to the corresponding proceeding, as prescribed in chapter nineteenth of this act.

New. See statutes cited under § 3206.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Provisions exclusively applicable to the district courts of the city of New-York.

Sec. 3215-3217. [Repealed.]
3218. Order of arrest. Proceedings thereupon.
3219-3222. [Repealed.]

§ 3218. Order of arrest. Proceedings thereupon.

An order of arrest must direct that the summons accompanying it be made returnable, immediately upon the arrest of the defendant; and it must specify a sum, in which the defendant may be let to bail. Sections 3179 to 3181, both inclusive, section 3182, except the last sentence thereof, and section 3183 of this act, apply to an order of arrest, granted in an action in either of those courts; and to the proceedings upon, and relating to, the execution thereof. In all other respects, the statutory provisions remaining unrepealed after this chapter takes effect, which apply to and regulate the application for a warrant to arrest a defendant, the granting and execution thereof, and the proceedings subsequent thereto, apply to and regulate the application for an order of arrest, the granting and execution thereof, and the proceedings subsequent thereto.

From Id., §§ 17-19.

ARTICLE THIRD.

Provisions exclusively applicable to the justices' courts of Albany and Troy.

Sec. 3223. Jurisdiction in civil actions.
3224. Id.; upon judgment by confession.
3225. Docketing judgments; execution thereupon.
3225a. Application of certain sections.

§ 3223. Jurisdiction in civil actions.

The justices' court of the city of Albany,[1] and the justices' court of the city of Troy,[1] have jurisdiction, each within the city where the court is located, of an action, of which a justice of the peace has jurisdiction, as prescribed in sections 1787, 2861, 2862, and 2863 of this act; and also of an action to recover a penalty, given by the charter, or a by-law or an ordinance of the common council of that city, where the plaintiff demands judgment for a sum, not exceeding two hundred dollars. Neither of those courts has jurisdiction of any other civil action; but this section does not affect the jurisdiction conferred, by the statutory provisions remaining in force after this chapter takes effect, upon either of those courts, in a special proceeding.

From Co. Proc., § 67; L. 1866, c. 189, § 1; L. 1834, c. 271, § 3; L. 1870, c. 598, tit. 2, § 11; L. 1872, c. 129, § 11; L. 1876, c. 18, § 14.

§ 3224. Id.; upon judgment by confession.

The jurisdiction of each of those courts extends also to the taking and entry of a judgment, upon the confession of a defendant, as prescribed in title sixth of chapter nineteenth of this act, where the sum confessed does not exceed five hundred dollars.

New.

§ 3225. Docketing judgments; execution thereupon.

The provisions of sections 3017 to 3022 of this act, both inclusive, apply to a judgment rendered in either of those courts, and to the proceedings subsequent thereto, and in the action wherein the judgment was rendered; except that the transcript, filed in the clerk's office of the county wherein the court is located, must be furnished by the clerk of the court, in which the judgment was rendered.

New.

§ 3225a. [Added, 1897.] Application of certain sections.

The provisions of sections 2990 to 3009 of this act, both inclusive, apply to the justices' court of the city of Troy, except that the city clerk of the city of Troy shall fulfil all the duties therein required of the town clerk.

Added by L. 1897, c. 604 (in effect Sept. 1, 1897).

[1] See § 3207, foot-note, ante.

TITLE V.

The municipal court of the city of Rochester.

Sec. 3226. Provisions of chapter 19 generally applicable to the court and judges.
3227. Appeals.

§ 3226. [Am'd, 1907.] Provisions of chapter 19 generally applicable to the court and judges.

The provisions of chapter nineteenth of this act, excluding section 3063, excluding article three of title eight, and excluding titles tenth and eleventh thereof, apply to the municipal court of the city of Rochester, and to the judges thereof; except so far as they are inconsistent with the next section, or with the charter of the city of Rochester or with any other statute applying to said court or the judges thereof as now existing or hereafter amended. For the purpose of applying the same, the court is deemed a justice's court; each judge thereof is deemed a justice of the peace; and the city of Rochester is deemed a town of Monroe county.

From L. 1876, c. 196; L. 1877, c. 192; L. 1878, c. 415, § 8; L. 1879, c. 230; L. 1907, c. 754 (in effect Jan. 1, 1908).

Appeals may be taken to the county court of Monroe county from judgments and orders of the municipal court of the city of Rochester and from orders of the judges thereof as provided in articles one and two of title eight of chapter nineteenth of this act, and the provisions thereof, except section 3063, apply to such appeals, except as herein expressly modified. The appeal must be heard on the return or a certified or stipulated copy thereof, and may be brought on for hearing in the county court in the same manner and on the same notice as motions are or may be brought on for hearing in said court, or may be put on the calendar of said court as provided in section 3062 of this act. An appellant may apply to the county court to open a default as provided in section 3064 of this act, which application may be heard without the return unless otherwise ordered by the court; and an appellant may apply upon affidavits and the return to said court for a new trial or hearing upon the ground of newly discovered evidence; the court in either case may stay any or all proceedings under the judgment or order appealed from upon such terms as it deems proper, and may grant a new trial or hearing as hereinafter provided upon such terms as it deems proper. The county court and other appellate courts on such appeals must render judgment according to the justice of the case, without regard to technical errors or defects which do not affect the merits, and may affirm or reverse, wholly or partly, or modify, the judgment or order appealed from for errors of law or of fact or because the judgment is excessive or insufficient or contrary to the evidence or contrary to law, and may, if necessary or proper, grant a new trial or hearing in the municipal court of the city of Rochester or before a judge thereof, as may be proper, at a time designated by it, and thereupon the municipal court or judge must proceed, and adjournments may be granted, a jury trial demanded, and all other proceedings taken as if the action or proceeding had been commenced anew. A copy of the judgment or order granting a new trial or hearing must be served by the party entering it on the opposite party or his attorney at least two days before the time set for the new trial or hearing. When a new trial or hearing is granted the appellate court may in its discretion award costs of the appeal to either party absolutely or to abide the event.

Added by L. 1907, c. 754. Am'd by L. 1908, c. 309 (in effect Sept. 1, 1908).

TITLE I.

Awarding and enforcing the payment of costs.

Article 1. General regulations respecting the awarding of costs.
2. Regulations respecting the awarding of costs in particular cases.
3. Miscellaneous provisions.

ARTICLE FIRST.

General regulations respecting the awarding of costs.

Sec. 3228. When plaintiff entitled to costs of course.
3229. When defendant entitled to costs of course. Rule as to two or more defendants.
3230. When costs are discretionary.
3231. Costs, where several actions are brought on same instrument, etc.
3232. Interlocutory costs upon issue of law.
3233. Id.; how collected.
3234. Costs, where there are several issues of fact.
3235. Id.; after discontinuance upon answer of title.
3236. Costs of a motion.
3237. The foregoing sections limited.
3238. Costs upon appeal from final judgment.
3239. Id.; upon appeal from interlocutory judgment or order.
3240. Id.; in a special proceeding.

§ 3228. [Am'd, 1896, 1904, 1910, 1914, 1916.] When plaintiff entitled to costs of course.

The plaintiff is entitled to costs of course, upon the rendering of a final judgment in his favor, in either of the following actions:

1. An action, triable by a jury, to recover real property, or an interest in real property; or in which a claim of title to real property arises upon the pleadings, or is certified to have come in question upon the trial.

2. An action to recover a chattel. But if the value of the chattel, or of all the chattels, recovered by the plaintiff, as fixed, together with the damages, if any, awarded to him, is less than fifty dollars, the amount of his costs cannot exceed the amount of the value and the damages.

3. An action specified in subdivision first, third, fourth or fifth of section 2863 of this act. But if, in an action to recover damages for an assault, battery, false imprisonment, libel, slander, criminal conversation, seduction, or malicious prosecution; or a fine or penalty in which the people of the state are a party, the plaintiff recovers less than fifty dollars damages, the amount of his costs cannot exceed the damages.

4. An action, other than one of those specified in the foregoing subdivisions of this section, in which the complaint demands judgment for a sum of money only. But the plaintiff is not entitled to costs, under this subdivision, unless he recovers the sum of fifty dollars or more.

5. [Am'd, 1910, 1914, 1916.] In all actions hereafter brought in the supreme court, triable in the county of New York, which could have been brought, except for the amount claimed therein, in the city court of the city of New York, and in which the defendant shall have been served with process within the county of New York, the plaintiff shall recover no costs or disbursements unless he shall recover $1000 or more. In all actions hereafter brought in the supreme court, triable in the cou Kings, which could have been brought, except for the amount cl therein, in the county court of Kings county, and in which the defe shall have been served with process within the county of Kings, the tiff shall recover no costs or disbursements unless he shall recover $ more. In all actions hereafter originally brought in the supreme triable in the county of Albany, and in which the defendant is a resid the county of Albany, which could have been brought, except fc amount claimed therein, in the county court of the county of Alban plaintiff shall recover no costs or disbursements unless he shall recove or more. In all actions hereafter originally brought in the supreme triable in the county of Rensselaer, and in which the defendant is a re of the county of Rensselaer, which could have been brought, except f amount claimed therein, in the county court of the county of Rens the plaintiff shall recover no costs or disbursements unless he sh cover $500 or more. In all actions hereafter brought in the supreme triable in the counties of Bronx and Queens, and in which the defe is a resident of the county where the action is brought, which could been brought, except for the amount claimed therein, in the county of the counties of Bronx and Queens, the plaintiff shall recover no or disbursements unless he shall recover $500 or more. In all a hereafter brought, triable in the supreme court or county court county contained wholly within a city of the first class, or in th court of the city of New York, which could have been brought, e for the amount claimed therein, in the municipal court of the c New York, and in which the defendant shall have been served with ess within the city of New York, the plaintiff shall recover no co disbursements unless he shall recover $250 or more. The fact th any action a plaintiff is not entitled to costs under the provisions c subdivision shall not entitle the defendant to costs under the nex lowing section.

§ 3229. When defendant entitled to costs of course. Ru to two or more defendants.

The defendant is entitled to costs, of course, upon the re ing of final judgment, in an action specified in the last se unless the plaintiff is entitled to costs, as therein presc But where, in such an action against two or more defend the plaintiff is entitled to costs against one or more, bu against all of them, none of the defendants are entitled to of course. In that case, costs may be awarded, in the disc of the court, to any defendant, against whom the plaintiff i entitled to costs, where he did not unite in an answer, and not united in interest, with a defendant, against whom the tiff is entitled to costs.

From Co. Proc., §§ 305, 306.

§ 3230. [Am'd, 1900.] When costs are discretionary.

Except as prescribed in the last two sections, the court upon the rendering of a final judgment, in its discretion, a costs to any party in such sum not exceeding the total an authorized by statute as to the court shall seem just.

From Id., § 306. Am'd by L. 1900, c. 181 (in effect Oct. 1, 1900).

§ 3231. [Am'd, 1895.] Costs, where several actions brought on same instrument, etc.

Where two or more actions are brought, in a case specifi section 454 of this act, or otherwise for the same cause of a against persons who might have been joined as defendants in one action, costs, other than disbursements, cannot be recovered, upon the final judgment, by the plaintiff, in more than one action, which shall be at his election. But this prohibition does not apply to a case where the plaintiff joins as defendants, in each action brought, all the persons liable, not previously sued, who can, with reasonable diligence, be found within the State: or, if the action is brought in the city court of the city of New-York, or a county court, within the city or county, as the case may be, where the court is located.

From Co. Proc., § 304; see 2 R. S. 615 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 1), § 15. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).

§ 3232. Interlocutory costs upon issue of law.

Where an issue of law and an issue of fact are joined, between the same parties to the same action, and the issue of fact remains undisposed of, when an interlocutory judgment is rendered upon the issue of law; the interlocutory judgment may, in the discretion of the court, deny costs to either party, or award costs to the prevailing party, either absolutely, or to abide the event of the trial of the issue of fact.

From 2 R. S. 617 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 1), § 28.

§ 3233. Id.; how collected.

Section 779 of this act applies to interlocutory costs, awarded as prescribed in the last section, as if they were costs of a motion.

Id.

§ 3234. Costs, where there are several issues of fact.

In an action specified in section 3228 of this act, wherein the complaint sets forth separately two or more causes of action, upon which issues of fact are joined, if the plaintiff recovers upon one or more of the issues, and the defendant upon the other or others, each party is entitled to costs against the adverse party, unless it is certified that the substantial cause of action was the same upon each issue; in which case, the plaintiff only is entitled to costs. Costs, to which a party is so entitled, must be included in the final judgment, by adding them to, or offsetting them against, the sum awarded to the prevailing party; or otherwise, as the case requires. But this section does not entitle a plaintiff to costs, in a case specified in subdivision fourth of section 3228 of this act, where he is not entitled to costs, as prescribed in that subdivision.

From Id., § 26.

§ 3235. Id.; after discontinuance upon answer of title.

Where an action, brought before a justice of the peace, or in a district court of the city of New-York, or a justice's court of a city, has been discontinued, as prescribed by law, upon the delivery of an answer, showing that title to real property will come in question; and a new action, for the same cause, has been commenced in the proper court; the party in whose favor final judgment is rendered in the new action, is entitled to costs; except that, where final judgment is rendered therein, in favor of the defendant, upon the trial of an issue of fact, the plaintiff is entitled to costs, unless it is certified, that the title to real property came in question on the trial.

From Co. Proc., § 61.

§ 3236. Costs of a motion.

Costs upon a motion in an action, where the costs thereof are not specially regulated in this act, or upon a reference made pursuant to sections 623, 624, 827, or 1015 of this act, may be awarded, either absolutely or to abide the event of the action, or of the reference, to any party, in the discretion of the court or judge.

From Id., § 315.

§ 3237. The foregoing sections limited.

The foregoing sections of this article do not affect the recovery of costs upon an appeal.

New.

§ 3238. Costs upon appeal from final judgment.

Upon an appeal from the final judgment in an action, the recovery of costs is regulated as follows:

1. In an action specified in section 3228 of this act, the respondent is entitled to costs upon the affirmance, and the appellant upon the reversal, of the judgment appealed from; except that, where a new trial is directed, costs may be awarded to either party, absolutely or to abide the event, in the discretion of the court.

2. In every other action, and also where the final judgment appealed from is affirmed in part, and reversed in part, costs may be awarded in like manner, in the discretion of the court.

From Co. Proc., § 306.

§ 3239. Id.; upon appeal from interlocutory judgment or order.

Upon an appeal from an interlocutory judgment or an order, in an action, costs are in the discretion of the court, and may be awarded absolutely, or to abide the event, except as follows:

1. Where the appeal is taken from an order, granting or refusing a new trial, and the decision upon the appeal refuses a new trial, the respondent is entitled, of course, to the costs of the appeal.

2. Where an appeal is taken from an order, refusing a new trial, and an appeal is also taken from the judgment rendered upon the trial, neither party is entitled to the costs of the appeal from the order.

From Co. Proc., §§ 306, 315.

§ 3240. [Am'd, 1881.] Id.; in a special proceeding.

Costs in a special proceeding, instituted in a court of record, or upon an appeal in a special proceeding, taken to a court of record, where the costs thereof are not specially regulated in this act, may be awarded to any party, in the discretion of the court, at the rates allowed for similar services, in an action brought in the same court, or an appeal from a judgment taken to the same court, and in like manner.

From L. 1854, c. 270, § 3. Am'd by L. 1881, c. 122.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Regulations respecting the awarding of costs in particular cases.

Sec. 3241. Costs against the State; how paid.
3242. Costs where action brought by people, on relation of private person.
3243. Id.; for the benefit of a county, etc.
3244. Costs, against a school officer.
3245. Id.; against a municipal corporation.
3246. Id.; by or against an executor, etc.
3247. Costs in case of transfer, etc., of cause of action.

§ 3241. Costs against the State; how paid.

Where costs are awarded against the people of the State in an action or a special proceeding brought, by a public officer, pursuant to any provision of law, and the proceedings have not been stayed, by appeal or otherwise; the comptroller must draw his warrant upon the treasurer, for the payment of the costs, out of any money in the treasury, appropriated for that purpose, upon the production to him of an exemplified copy of the judgment, or order awarding the costs, and, where the amount is not fixed thereby, of a taxed bill of costs; accompanied, in either case, with a certificate of the attorney-general, to the effect that the action or special proceeding was brought pursuant to law. The fees of the clerk, for the exemplified copy, must be certified thereupon by him, and included in the warrant.

From 2 R. S. 553 (Part 3, c. 8, tit. 17), § 14.

§ 3242. Costs where action brought by people, on relation of private person.

Where an action is brought, in the name of the people of the State, upon the relation of a private corporation or individual, as prescribed in section 1986 of this act, a judgment, awarding costs to the defendant, must award them, against the relator, in the first instance; and against the people, only in case an execution, issued thereupon against the property of the relator, is returned unsatisfied.

From Co. Proc., § 319.

§ 3243. Id.; for the benefit of a county, etc.

In an action or a special proceeding, brought in the name of the people of the State, to recover money or property, or to establish a right or claim, for the benefit of a county, city, town, or village, costs shall not be awarded against the people; but, where they are awarded to the defendant, they must be awarded against the body for whose benefit the action or special proceeding was brought.

From Id., § 320.

§ 3244. Costs, against a school officer.

Costs cannot be awarded to the plaintiff, in an action against a school officer, or a supervisor, on account of an act performed by him, by virtue of, or under color of his office; or on account of a refusal or an omission to perform a duty enjoined upon him by law; where his act, refusal, or omission might have been the subject of an appeal to the state superintendent of public instruction, and where it is certified that it appeared, upon the trial, that the defendant acted in good faith. But this section does not apply to an action for a penalty; or to an action or a special proceeding, to enforce a decision of the superintendent.

From L. 1864, c. 555, tit. 13, § 6.

§ 3245. [Am'd, 1899.] Id.; against a municipal corporation.

Costs cannot be awarded to the plaintiff, in an action against a municipal corporation, in which the complaint demands a judgment for a sum of money only, unless the claim, on which the action is founded, was, before the commencement of the action, presented to the board of such corporation having the power to audit the same, or to its chief fiscal officer, at least ten days before the commencement of said action.

From L. 1859, c. 262, § 2. Am'd by L. 1899, c. 609 (in effect Sept. 1, 1899).

§ 3246. Id.; by or against an executor, etc.

In an action, brought by or against an executor or administrator, in his representative capacity, or the trustee of an express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute to sue or to be sued, costs must be awarded, as in an action by or against a person, prosecuting or defending in his own right, except as otherwise prescribed in sections 1835 and 1836 of this act; but they are exclusively chargeable upon, and collectible from the estate, fund, or person represented, unless the court directs them to be paid, by the party personally, for mismanagement or bad faith in the prosecution or defence of the action.

From Co. Proc., § 317.

§ 3247. Costs in case of transfer, etc., of cause of action.

Where an action is brought, in the name of another, by a transferee of the cause of action, or by any other person, who is beneficially interested therein; or where, after the commencement of an action, the cause of action becomes, by transfer or otherwise, the property of a person, not a party to the action; the transferee, or other person so interested, is liable for costs, in the like cases, and to the same extent, as if he was the plaintiff; and, where costs are awarded against the plaintiff, the court may, by order, direct the person so liable to pay them. Except in a case, where he could not have been lawfully directed to pay costs, personally, if he had been a party, as prescribed in the last section, his disobedience to the order is a contempt of court. But this section does not apply to a case, where the person so beneficially interested, is the attorney or counsel for the plaintiff, if his only beneficial interest consists of a right to a portion of the sum or property recovered, as compensation for his services in the action.

From Id., § 321; 2 R. S. 619 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 1), § 44.

ARTICLE THIRD.

Miscellaneous provisions.

Sec. 3248. Certificate entitling party to costs or increased costs.
3249. Costs against infant plaintiff; collectible of guardian ad litem.
3250. This title not to affect special provisions of law.

§ 3248. Certificate entitling party to costs or increased costs.

Where, upon the trial of an action, the title to real property comes in question, or any fact appears, whereby either party becomes entitled to costs, or to the increased costs specified in section 3258 of this act, the judge presiding at the trial, or the referee, must, upon the application of the party to be benefited thereby, either before or after the verdict, report, or decision is rendered, make a certificate, stating the fact. Such a certificate is the only competent evidence, as to the matter, before the taxing officer.

From 2 R. S. 553 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 5), § 8.

§ 3249. Costs against infant plaintiff; collectible of guardian ad litem.

Where costs are awarded against an infant plaintiff, they may be collected, by execution or otherwise, from his guardian ad litem, in like manner as if the latter was the plaintiff.

From Co. Proc., § 316.

§ 3250. This title not to affect special provisions of law

This title does not affect any provision contained elsewhere in this act, or in any other statute, remaining unrepealed after this chapter takes effect; whereby the award of costs is specially regulated, in a particular case, otherwise than as prescribed in this title.

New.

TITLE II.

Fixing the amount of costs.

Article 1. Sums allowed as costs; disbursements.
2. Taxation of costs.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Sums allowed as costs; disbursements.

Sec. 3251. Amount of costs generally.
3252. Additional allowance to plaintiff in foreclosure, partition, etc.
3253. Additional allowance to either party in difficult cases, etc.
3254. Allowances under the foregoing sections limited.
3255. Costs upon adjournment of trial.
3256. Disbursements to be included in bill of costs.
3257. Increased damages not to carry increased costs.
3258. When defendant entitled to increased costs.
3259. Increased disbursements not allowed.
3260. Costs upon a settlement.
3261. This article not to affect special provisions of law.

§ 3251. [Am'd, 1895, 1896, 1901, 1902.] Amount of costs generally.

Costs, awarded to a party to an action, must be at the following rates:

1. To the plaintiff:

For all proceedings, before notice of trial, in an action specified in section 420 of this act, fifteen dollars; in every other action, twenty-five dollars.

For each additional defendant served with the summons, not exceeding ten, two dollars; and for each necessary defendant, in excess of that number, served with the summons, one dollar.

For procuring the appointment of a guardian or guardian ad litem, for one or more infant defendants, ten dollars.

For procuring an order directing the service of the summons by publication thereof, or personally, without the State, on one or more defendants, ten dollars.

For procuring an injunction order or an order of arrest, ten dollars.

2. To the defendant:

For all proceedings, before notice of trial, except as otherwise prescribed in this article, ten dollars.

3. To either party:

For all proceedings, after notice of trial, and before trial, except as otherwise prescribed in this article, fifteen dollars.

For taking the deposition of a witness or of a party, as prescribed in section 870, section 871, or section 893 of this act, ten dollars.

For drawing interrogatories, to be annexed to a commission, or to letters rogatory, issued as prescribed in sections 888, 912, 913, and 3171 of this act, ten dollars.

For the trial of an issue of law, twenty dollars.

For the trial of an issue of fact, or the assessment of damages pursuant to section 194 of this act, thirty dollars; and, where the trial necessarily occupies more than two days, ten dollars in addition thereto.

For making and serving a case, twenty dollars; and, when the case necessarily contains more than fifty folios, ten dollars in addition thereto.

For making and serving amendments to a case, twenty dollars.

Upon a motion for a new trial, upon a case, or an application for judgment upon a special verdict, the same sums as upon an appeal, as prescribed in subdivision fourth of this section.

Upon any other motion, or upon a reference specified in section 3236 of this act, to each party to whom costs are awarded, a sum fixed by the court or judge, not exceeding ten dollars, besides necessary disbursements for printing and referee's fees.

Where a new trial is had, pursuant to an order granting the same, or an assessment of damages, pursuant to section 194 of this act, is had, for all proceedings after the granting of, and before the new trial, or an assessment of damages, pursuant to section 194 of this act, twenty-five dollars.

For one term of the city court of the city of New York, at which the case is necessarily on the calendar, and for each trial term or special term, of the supreme court, or a county court, not exceeding five, at which the cause is necessarily on the calendar, excluding the term at which it is tried, or otherwise finally disposed of, ten dollars.

4. To either party, upon an appeal to the supreme court from an inferior court, excepting upon an appeal to the supreme court from the city court of the city of New York; or upon an appeal to the appellate division of the supreme court, or to the supreme court from the city court of the city of New-York, taken from an interlocutory or final judgment, or from an order granting or refusing a new trial, rendered or made at a trial term of the supreme court or of the city court of the city of New-York; or upon an application to the appellate division of the supreme court for a new trial, or for judgment upon a verdict, rendered subject to the opinion of the court, or where exceptions are ordered to be heard, in the first instance, at a term of the appellate division of the supreme court;

Before argument, twenty dollars.

For argument, forty dollars.

For each term of the appellate division, not exceeding five, of the supreme court, at which the cause is necessarily on the calendar, excluding the term at which it is argued, or otherwise finally disposed of; ten dollars. In all appeals taken under section 3189 costs awarded to the successful party shall not exceed ten dollars in addition to the taxable disbursements.

5. To either party, upon an appeal to the court of appeals:

Before argument, thirty dollars.

For argument, sixty dollars.

For each term, not exceeding ten, at which the cause is on the calendar, excluding the term at which it is argued, or otherwise finally disposed of, ten dollars.

Where a judgment is affirmed by the court of appeals, the court may, in its discretion, also award damages, by way of costs, for the delay, not exceeding ten per centum upon the amount of the judgment; or, where it was rendered upon an appeal, upon the amount of the original judgment.

From Co. Proc., § 307; L. 1875, c. 479. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946; L. 1896, c. 226; L. 1901, c. 527; L. 1902, c. 515 (in effect Sept. 1, 1902).

§ 3252. Additional allowance to plaintiff in foreclosure, partition, etc.

Where the action is brought to foreclose a mortgage upon real property; or for the partition of real property; or to procure an adjudication upon a will or other instrument in writing; or to compel the determination of a claim to real property; or where, in any action, a warrant of attachment against property has been issued; the plaintiff, if a final judgment is rendered in his favor, and he recovers costs, is entitled to recover, in addition to the costs prescribed in the last section, the following percentages, to be estimated upon the amount found to be due upon the mortgage; or the value of the property partitioned, affected by the adjudication upon the will or other instrument, or the claim to which is determined; or the value of the property attached, not exceeding the sum recovered, or claimed; as the case may be:

Upon a sum, not exceeding two hundred dollars, ten per centum

Upon an additional sum, not exceeding four hundred dollars, five per centum.

Upon an additional sum, not exceeding one thousand dollars, two per centum.

Where such an action is settled before judgment, the plaintiff is entitled to a percentage upon the amount paid or secured upon the settlement, at one-half of those rates. In an action to foreclose a mortgage upon real property, where a part of the mortgage debt is not due, if the final judgment directs the sale of the whole property, as prescribed in section 1637 of this act, the percentages, specified in this section, must be computed upon the whole sum, unpaid upon the mortgage. But if it directs the sale of a part only, as prescribed in section 1636 of this act, they must be computed upon the sum actually due; and if the court thereafter grants an order, directing the sale of the remainder, or a part thereof, the percentages must be computed upon the amount then due: but the aggregate of the percentages shall not exceed the sum, which would have been allowed, if the entire sum secured by the mortgage had been due, when final judgment was rendered.

From Co. Proc., §§ 308, 309.

§ 3253. [Am'd, 1896, 1898, 1899, 1903, 1909.] Additional allowance to either party in difficult cases, etc.

In an action brought to foreclose a mortgage upon real property, or for the partition of real property, or in a difficult and extraordinary case (where a defense has been interposed in an action), or, except in the first and second judicial districts, in a special proceeding by certiorari to review an assessment under article thirteen of the Tax Law, and the acts amending the same, the court may also, in its discretion, award to any party a further sum, as follows:

1. In an action to foreclose a mortgage, a sum not exceeding two and one-half per centum upon the sum due, or claimed to be due upon the mortgage, nor the aggregate sum of two hundred dollars.

2. In any action, or special proceeding, specified in this section, where a defense has been interposed, or in an action for the partition of real property, a sum not exceeding five per centum upon the sum recovered or claimed, or the value of the subject-matter involved.

From Id., § 309; L. 1876, c. 431. Am'd by L. 1896, c. 571; L. 1898, c. 61; L. 1899, c. 299; L. 1903, c. 316; L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

§ 3254. Allowances under the foregoing sections limited.

But all the sums awarded to the plaintiff, as prescribed in section 3252 of this act, or to a party or two or more parties on the same side, as prescribed in the last sentence of section 3251 of this act, and in subdivision second of the last section, cannot exceed, in the aggregate, two thousand dollars.

From Co. Proc., § 309; L. 1876, c. 431.

§ 3255. [Am'd, 1895.] Costs upon adjournment of trial.

Where an application is made to a court or a referee, to adjourn a trial, the payment to the adverse party of a sum not exceeding ten dollars, or, in the city court of the city of New-York, a sum not exceeding five dollars, besides the fees of his witnesses, and other taxable disbursements, already made or incurred, which are rendered ineffectual by the adjournment, may be required, as a condition of granting the adjournment.

From Co. Proc., § 314; L. 1853, c. 617, § 4. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).

§ 3256. [Am'd, 1892, 1895.] Disbursements to be included in bill of costs.

A party to whom costs are awarded in an action is entitled to include in his bill of costs his necessary disbursements as follows: The legal fees of witnesses and of referees and other officers; the reasonable compensation of commissioners taking depositions; the legal fees for publication where publication is directed pursuant to law; the legal fees paid for a certified copy of a deposition, or other paper, recorded or filed in any public office, necessarily used or obtained for use on the trial; copies of opinions and charges of judges; the reasonable expenses of printing the papers for a hearing, when required by a rule of the court; prospective charges for the expenses of entering and docketing the judgment; and the sheriff's fees for receiving and returning one execution thereon, including the search for property and such other reasonable and necessary expenses, as are taxable, according to the course and practice of the court, or by express provision of law. Searches affecting property situate in any county in which the office of county clerk or register is a salaried one, when made and certified to by title insurance, abstract or searching companies, organized and doing business under the laws of this State, may be used in all actions or special proceedings in which official searches may be used, in place of and with the same legal effect as such official searches, and the expenses of searches so made by said companies shall be taxable at rates not exceeding the cost of similar official searches.

From Co. Proc., § 311; 2 R. S. 651 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 4), §§ 10, 14. Am'd by L. 1892, c. 185 and c. 592; L. 1895, c. 331.

§ 3257. Increased damages not to carry increased costs.

A plaintiff, who recovers double or other increased damages, does not thereby become entitled to more than single costs; except where it is otherwise specially prescribed by law.

From 2 R. S. 616 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 1), § 23.

§ 3258. When defendant entitled to increased costs.

In either of the following cases, a defendant, in whose favor a final judgment is rendered, in an action wherein the complaint demands judgment for a sum of money only, or to recover a chattel; or a final order is made, in a special proceeding instituted by a State writ, is entitled to recover the costs, prescribed in section 3251 of this act, and, in addition thereto, one-half thereof:

1. Where the defendant is or was a public officer, appointed or elected under the authority of the State, or a person specially appointed, according to law, to perform the duties of such an officer; and the action or special proceeding was brought by reason of an act, done by him by virtue of his office, or an alleged omission by him, to do an act, which it was his official duty to perform.

2. Where the action was brought against the defendant, by reason of an act done, by the command of such an officer or person, or in his aid or assistance, touching the duties of the office or appointment.

3. Where the action was brought against the defendant, for taking a distress, making a sale, or doing any other act, by or under color of authority of a statute of the State.

But this section does not apply, where an officer, or other person, specified herein, unites in his answer with a person not entitled to such additional costs.

From Id., § 24.

§ 3259. Increased disbursements not allowed.

The increase, specified in the last section, does not extend to the disbursements; and an officer, witness, or juror, is not entitled to any other fee in the action, except the single fee allowed by law for his services.

From Id., § 25.

§ 3260. Costs upon a settlement.

Where an action, specified in section 3228 of this act, is settled before judgment, no greater sum shall be demanded as costs, than at the rates prescribed by section 3251 of this act.

From Co. Proc., § 322.

§ 3261. This article not to affect special provisions of law.

This article does not affect any provision contained elsewhere in this act, or in any other statute remaining unrepealed after this act takes effect, whereby the amount of costs is specially fixed, in a particular case, otherwise than as prescribed in this article.

New.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Taxation of costs.

Sec. 3262. Costs; how taxed. Allowances, etc.; how computed.
3263. Notice of taxation.
3264. Retaxation.
3265. Review of taxation.
3266. Duty of taxing officer.
3267. Affidavit respecting disbursements.

§ 3262. Costs; how taxed. Allowances, etc.; how computed.

Costs must be taxed by the clerk, upon the application of the party entitled thereto; except that the court may direct, that interlocutory costs, or costs in a special proceeding, be taxed by a judge. The clerk must insert, in the judgment or final order, the amount of the costs, as taxed. In a case where the costs are in the discretion of the court, the report or decision, or the direction of the court for final judgment, upon a default, or after a jury trial, must specify which party or parties are entitled to costs; but the amount of the costs must be ascertained by taxation. The allowance, specified in section 3252 of this act, must be computed by the clerk upon the taxation; but the value of property, required to be ascertained for that purpose, must be ascertained by the court, unless it has been fixed by the decision or report, or by the verdict of the jury, upon which the final judgment is entered; except that, in case of actual partition, it must be determined by the commissioners.

From Co. Proc., § 311.

§ 3263. Notice of taxation.

Costs may be taxed, upon notice to the attorney for each adverse party, who has appeared, and is interested in reducing the amount thereof. Notice of taxation must be served, not less than five days before the taxation; unless the attorneys, serving and served with the notice, all reside, or have their offices, in the city or town, where the costs are to be taxed; in which case, a notice of two days is sufficient. A copy of the bill of costs, specifying the items, with the disbursements stated in detail, must be served with the notice of taxation.

Id.

§ 3264. Retaxation.

Costs may also be taxed without notice. But where they are so taxed, notice of retaxation thereof must immediately afterwards be given as prescribed in the last section, by the party at whose instance they were taxed; in default whereof, the court must, upon the application of a party entitled to notice, direct a retaxation, with costs of the motion, to be paid by the party in default. The court may, in its discretion, upon the application of a party interested, direct a retaxation of costs at any time. Any sum, deducted upon a retaxation, must be credited upon the execution, or other mandate issued to enforce the judgment.

New.

§ 3265. Review of taxation.

A taxation or a retaxation may be reviewed by the court, upon a motion for a new taxation. The order, made upon such a motion, may allow or disallow any item, objected to before the taxing officer, in which case it has the effect of a new taxation; or it may direct a new taxation before the proper officer, specifying the grounds or the proof, upon which the item may be allowed or disallowed by him.

New.

§ 3266. Duty of taxing officer.

An officer, authorized to tax costs in an action or a special proceeding, must, whether the taxation is opposed, or not, examine the bills presented to him for taxation; must satisfy himself that all the items allowed by him are correct and legal; and must strike out all charges for fees, other than the prospective charges expressly allowed by law, where it does not appear that the services, for which they are charged, were necessarily performed.

From 2 R. S. 653 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 5), § 5.

§ 3267. Affidavit respecting disbursements.

A charge, for the attendance of a witness, cannot be allowed without an affidavit, stating the number of days of his actual attendance; and, if travel fees are charged, the distance for which they are allowed. A charge, for a copy of a document or paper, cannot be allowed, without an affidavit, stating that it was actually and necessarily used, or was necessarily obtained for use. An item of disbursements, in a bill of costs, cannot be allowed, in any case, unless it is verified by affidavit, and appears to have been necessarily incurred, and to be reasonable in amount.

From Id., § 7; Co. Proc., § 311.

TITLE III.

Security for costs.

Sec. 3268. When defendant may require security for costs.
3269. Id.; after action commenced.
3270. The last two sections qualified.
3271. Id.; in actions by and against executors, etc.
3272. Order to give security.
3273. Requisites of undertaking.
3274. Notice of exception; id., of justification.
3275. Justification of sureties. Allowance of undertaking.
3276. Order to give additional security. Proceedings.
3277. Effect of failure to obey order to give security.
3278. Liability of attorney for costs in certain actions.
3279. This title applies to special proceedings.

§ 3268. [Am'd, 1891, 1904, 1910.] When defendant may require security for costs.

The defendant, in an action brought in a court of record, may require security for costs to be given, as prescribed in this title, where the plaintiff was, when the action was commenced, either

1. A person residing without the state; or, if the action is brought in a county court, except in the counties of Albany, Kings, Queens, Rensselaer and Richmond, or in the city court of the city[1] of New York, the city court of Yonkers, or the city court of Albany, residing without the city or county, as the case may be, wherein the court is located; or

2. A foreign corporation; or

3. A person imprisoned under execution for a crime; or

4. The official assignee of a person so imprisoned; the official assignee or official trustee of a debtor; or an assignee in bankruptcy; where the action is brought upon a cause of action, arising before the assignment, the appointment of the trustee, or the adjudication in bankruptcy.

From 2 R. S. 620 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 2), § 1. Am'd by L. 1891, c. 170; L. 1904, c. 524; L. 1910, c. 118 (in effect Sept. 1, 1910).

§ 3269. Id.; after action commenced.

The defendant, in a like action, may require security for costs to be given, where, after the commencement of the action, the plaintiff either

1. Ceases to be a resident of the State: or, where the action is brought in either of the local courts specified in subdivision first of the last section, ceases to be a resident of the city or county, as the case may be, wherein the court is located: or

2. Is adjudicated a bankrupt, or discharged from his debts, or exonerated from imprisonment, pursuant to a law of the State, or of the United States; or

3. Is sentenced to the State prison, for a term less than for life.

From 2 R. S. 620, § 2.

§ 3270. The last two sections qualified.

In a case specified in either of the last two sections, if there are two or more plaintiffs, the defendant cannot require security for costs to be given, unless he is entitled to require it of all the plaintiffs.

[1] As to the meaning of "city of New York" in this connection, see § 338, foot-note, ante.

From Id., §§ 1, 2.

§ 3271. Id.; in actions by and against executors, etc.

From Co. Proc., § 317; L. 1874, c. 446, tit. 2, § 5.

§ 3272. [Am'd, 1915.] Order to give security.

Where security for costs is required to be given, the court in which the action is pending, or, except in a case specified in the last section, a judge thereof, upon due proof, at any time, by affidavit, of the facts, must make an order requiring the plaintiff, within a time specified, either to pay into court, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, to be applied to the payment of the costs, if any, awarded against him, or, at his election, to file with the clerk an undertaking, and to serve a written notice of the payment or of the filing upon the defendant's attorney; and staying all other proceedings, on the part of the plaintiff, except to review or vacate the order, until the payment or filing, and notice thereof, and also, if an undertaking is given, the allowance of the same.

From 2 R. S. 620, §§ 3-6; L. 1875, c. 16 and c. 305. Am'd by L. 1915, c. 635 (in effect Sept. 1, 1915).

§ 3273. Requisites of undertaking.

The undertaking, specified in the last section, must be executed to the defendant by one or more sureties, and must be to the effect that they will pay, upon demand, to the defendant, all costs which may be awarded to him in the action, not exceeding a sum, specified in the undertaking, which must be at least two hundred and fifty dollars.

From 2 R. S. 620, § 4; L. 1875, c. 305.

§ 3274. Notice of exception; Id. of justification.

Within ten days after service of the notice of filing the undertaking, the defendant may serve upon the plaintiff's attorney a notice that he excepts to the sureties therein. Within ten days after service of such a notice, the plaintiff must serve, upon the defendant's attorney, a notice of the justification of the same or new sureties before a judge of the court, or a county judge, at a specified time and place; the time to be not less than five nor more than ten days thereafter, and the place to be within the county where the action is triable.

From 2 R. S. 620, §§ 5, 6; L. 1875, c. 16.

§ 3275. Justification of sureties. Allowance of undertaking.

Section 580 of this act applies to the justification of the sureties. Where the judge finds the sureties sufficient, he must annex the written examination, if any, to the undertaking, indorse his allowance thereon, and cause them to be filed with the clerk. Where the defendant fails duly to except to the sureties, the undertaking is deemed allowed, and must be indorsed and filed in like manner.

Id.

§ 3276. [Am'd, 1891.] Order to give additional security. Proceedings.

At any time after the allowance of an undertaking, given pursuant to such an order, or as prescribed in section 3278 of this act, or after notice of the payment into court, made pursuant to such an order, the court, or a judge thereof, upon satisfactory proof, by affidavit, that the sum specified in the undertaking, or the amount of such payment, is insufficient; or that one or more of the sureties have died, or become insolvent, or that his or their circumstances have become so precarious that there is reason to apprehend that the undertaking is insufficient for the security of the defendant; must make an order, requiring the plaintiff to give an additional undertaking, or make an additional payment into court. The last four sections apply to such an order, and to the undertaking given, or payment made, pursuant thereto.

§ 3277. Effect of failure to obey order to give security.

Where the plaintiff fails to comply with an order, made as prescribed in this title, or to procure the allowance of an undertaking given pursuant to such an order, the defendant is entitled to a judgment dismissing the complaint, and in his favor for costs. The defendant may apply therefor, as upon a motion.

From 2 R. S. 620, § 4; L. 1875, c. 305.

§ 3278. Liability of attorney, for costs in certain actions.

Where a defendant is entitled to require security for costs, as prescribed in section 3268 of this act, the plaintiff's attorney is liable for the defendant's costs, to an amount not exceeding one hundred dollars, until security is given, as prescribed in this title. The plaintiff's attorney may relieve himself from that liability, although the defendant may not require security for costs to be given, by filing and procuring the allowance of an undertaking, as if an order had been made as prescribed in section 3272 of this act.

From 2 R. S. 620, 621, §§ 7, 8.

§ 3279. This title applies to special proceedings.

The foregoing sections of this title apply to a special proceeding instituted in a court of record, in like manner as to an action; for which purpose, the prosecuting party, other than the people, or, where the special proceeding is instituted in the name of the people upon the relation of a private corporation or individual, the relator, is deemed a plaintiff, and the adverse party, a defendant.

TITLE IV.

General provisions relating to fees.

Sec. 3280. Taking fees not prescribed by law, prohibited.
3281. Id.; for services not rendered, except, etc.
3282. Penalty for extortion.
3283. Clerk of court of appeals to account for and pay over fees.
3284. [Repealed.]
3285. Certain county clerks and registers must account for fees.
3286. General provisions as to fees, etc., to be accounted for.
3287. Fees of certain officers to be taxed upon demand.
3288. Parties, attorneys, etc., when not allowed fees.
3289. No fee for administering certain official oaths.
3290. Certain searches to be gratuitous.
3291. Officer, etc., may charge fee paid for oath, postage, etc.
3292. Id.; his fees, etc., to be paid before required to transmit paper.
3293. Provision where printers in county refuse to publish.
3294. Affidavit of refusal to publish, etc.
3295. Comptroller to audit certain charges.

§ 3280. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] Taking fees not prescribed by law, prohibited.

Each clerk of a court must perform all the duties required of him, in the course and practice of the court, without fee or reward, except as expressly prescribed by law. Each public officer, upon whom a duty is expressly imposed by law, must execute the same without fee or reward, except where a fee or other compensation therefor is expressly allowed by law. An officer or other person, to whom a fee or other compensation is allowed by law, for any service, shall not charge or receive a greater fee or reward, for that service, than is so allowed.

From L. 1840, c. 386, § 6; 2 R. S. 650 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 4), § 5.

§ 3281. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] Id.; for services not rendered, except, etc.

An officer, or other person, shall not demand or receive any fee or compensation, allowed to him by law for any service, unless the service was actually rendered by him; except that an officer may demand in advance his fee, where he is, by law, expressly directed or permitted to require payment thereof, before rendering the service.

From 2 R. S. 650, § 6.

§ 3282. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] Penalty for extortion.

An officer or other person, who violates either of the provisions contained in the last two sections, is liable, in addition to the punishment prescribed by law for the criminal offence, to an action in behalf of the person aggrieved, in which the plaintiff is entitled to treble damages.

From Id., § 7.

§ 3283. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] Clerk of court of appeals to account for and pay over fees.

The clerk of the court of appeals must, within ten days after the first day of January, and after the first day of July, in each year, render to the comptroller an accurate account, under oath, of all fees received by him for his official services, since the last account was rendered; and must pay the same into the treasury of the State.

From L. 1847, c. 277, § 7.

§ 3285. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] Certain county clerks and registers must account for fees.

Except as otherwise specially prescribed by law, each county clerk or register, who receives a salary, must account for, under oath, and pay to the treasurer of his county, in the manner prescribed by law, all fees, perquisites, and emoluments, received by him, for his official services.

From L. 1847, c. 432, § 1; L. 1861, c. 14.

§ 3286. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] General provision as to fees, etc., to be accounted for.

Where a public officer is required, by law, to keep an account of, or to pay over, the fees or other moneys, received by him for official services, he must include therein all sums, received by him, to which he was entitled, by reason of any act, performed by him in his official capacity; whether the act did or did not pertain to his office, or to the business thereof.

From L. 1847, c. 277, § 11.

§ 3287. [Am'd, 1895.] Fees of certain officers to be taxed upon demand.

Each county clerk or register of deeds, who claims any fees by virtue of his office; and each sheriff or coroner, who, upon the collection of an execution, or the settlement, either before or after judgment, of an action or a special proceeding, claims any fees, which have not been taxed; must, upon the written demand of the person liable to pay the same, cause them to be taxed within the county, upon notice to the person making the demand, by a justice of the supreme court, or the county judge. After such a demand is made, the officer cannot collect his fees, until they have been so taxed.

From 2 R. S. 652 (Part 3, c. 10, tit. 5), §§ 1, 2; L. 1844, c. 127, §§ 2, 3. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).

§ 3288. Parties, attorneys, etc., when not allowed fees.

A party to an action or a special proceeding is not entitled to a fee, for attending as a witness therein, in his own behalf, or in behalf of a party who pleads jointly, or is united in interest, with him; and an attorney or counsel, in an action or a special proceeding, is not entitled to a fee, for attending as a witness therein, in behalf of his client.

From 2 R. S. 651, § 15.

§ 3289. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] No fee for administering certain official oaths.

An officer is not entitled to a fee, for administering the oath of office to a member of the legislature, to any military officer, to an inspector of election, clerk of the poll, or any town officer; or to more than ten cents, for administering an official oath to any other officer.

From Id., § 17.

§ 3290. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] Certain searches to be gratuitous.

Each of the following officers, to wit: the secretary of State the comptroller, the treasurer, the attorney-general, and the State engineer and surveyor, may require search to be made, in the office of either of the others, or of a county clerk, or of the clerk of a court of record, for any record, document, or paper, where he deems it necessary for the discharge of his official duties, and a copy thereof or extracts therefrom, to be made and officially certified or exemplified, without the payment of any fee or charge.

From 2 R. S. 650, § 3.

§ 3291. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] Officer, etc., may charge fee paid for oath, postage, etc.

Where an officer or other person is required, in the course of a duty imposed upon him by law, to take an oath, to acknowledge an instrument, to cause an instrument to be filed or recorded, or to transmit a paper to another officer, he is entitled, in addition to the fees, or other compensation for the service, prescribed by law, to the fees necessarily paid by him, to the officer who administered the oath, or took the acknowledgment, or filed or recorded the instrument; and to the expense of transmitting the paper, including postage, where the transmission is lawfully made through the post-office.

New.

§ 3292. Id.; his fees, etc., to be paid before required to transmit paper.

Each provision of this act, requiring a judge, clerk, or other officer to transmit a paper to another officer, for the benefit of a party, is to be construed as requiring the transmission only at the request of the person so to be benefited, and upon payment by him of the fees allowed by law for the paper transmitted, or any copy or certificate connected therewith, and the expenses specified in the last section.

New. See L. 1876, c. 449, § 12.

§ 3293. Provision where printers in county refuse to publish.

If the proprietor of each newspaper, published in a city or county, in which any notice, order, citation, or other paper is required by law to be published, refuses to publish the same, for the fees prescribed by law for the publication, it may be published in the newspaper, printed at Albany, in which legal notices are required by law to be published. If it is required by law to be published in that newspaper, and also in another newspaper published in a city or county, and the proprietor of each newspaper in that city or county refuses to publish it for the fees so prescribed, it may be published in the newspaper, published nearest to the place, where a person is required to appear, or where an act is to be done, pursuant thereto, the proprietor of which will publish the same, for those fees. Publication, made as prescribed in this section, is as valid, as if it was made in the city or county, where the publication thereof is so required by law.

From 2 R. S. 648, §§ 46, 47.

§ 3294. Affidavit of refusal to publish, etc.

Where publication is made, as prescribed in the last section, elsewhere than in the city or county where it is otherwise required by law to be made, the affidavit of publication must either be accompanied with an affidavit, or contain a statement, to the effect that an application to publish the advertisement was, before such publication, made to the proprietor of each newspaper published in the city or county; that the amount of the legal fees for such publication was at the same time tendered; and that the application was refused. Such an affidavit is presumptive evidence of the facts stated therein.

From Id., § 49.

§ 3295. [Omitted; see Table, p. iii.] Comptroller to audit certain charges.

Where the fees or other charges of an officer are chargeable to the State, they must be audited by the comptroller, and paid on his warrant, except as otherwise specially prescribed by law.

From 2 R. S. 651, § 16.

§ 3296. [Am'd, 1896.] Referee's fees generally.

A referee, in an action or a special proceeding brought in a court of record, or in a special proceeding, taken as prescribed in title twelve of chapter seventeen of this act, is entitled to ten dollars for each day spent in the business of the reference; unless at or before the commencement of the trial or hearing, a different rate of compensation is fixed, by the consent of the parties, other than those in default for failure to appear or plead, manifested by an entry in the minutes of the referee, or otherwise in writing, or a smaller compensation is fixed by the court or judge in the order appointing him.

From Co. Proc., § 313. Am'd by L. 1896, c. 90 (in effect March 11, 1896).

§ 3297. [Am'd 1891, 1895.] Id.; upon sales of real property.

The fees of a referee appointed to sell real property pursuant to a judgment in an action, are the same as those allowed to the sheriff, and he is allowed the same disbursements as the sheriff. Where a referee is required to take security upon a sale, or to distribute, or apply, or ascertain and report upon the distribution or application of any of the proceeds of the sale, he is also entitled to one-half of the commissions upon the amount so secured, distributed or applied, allowed by law to an executor or administrator for receiving and paying out money. But commissions shall not be allowed to him upon a sum hidden by a party, and applied upon that party's demand, as fixed by the judgment, without being paid to the referee, except to the amount of ten dollars. And a referee's compensation, including commissions, cannot, where the sale is under a judgment in an action to foreclose a mortgage, exceed fifty dollars, unless the property sold for ten thousand dollars or upwards, in which event the referee may receive such additional compensation as to the court may seem proper, or in any other cause [1] five hundred dollars.

From L. 1869, c. 569, § 4; L. 1874, c. 192; Co. Proc., § 309; L. 1876, c. 481, § 11. Am'd by L. 1891, c. 132; L. 1895, c. 241.

§ 3298. Fees for oaths and acknowledgments.

Any officer, authorized to perform the services specified in this section, and to receive fees therefor, is entitled to the following fees:

1. For administering an oath or affirmation, and certifying the same when required, except where another fee is specially prescribed by statute, twelve cents.

2. For taking and certifying the acknowledgment or proof of the execution of a written instrument; by one person, twenty-five cents; and by each additional person, twelve cents; for swearing each witness thereto, six cents.

From 2 R. S. 637, § 28; L. 1847, c. 339; L. 1849, c. 238, § 2.

§ 3299. Surveyors' and commissioners' fees in action for partition or dower, etc.

A surveyor, employed as prescribed by law, in an action for partition or dower, or to determine dower, is entitled to five dollars for each day, actually and necessarily occupied in surveying, laying out, marking, or mapping land therein. Each assistant so employed, is entitled to two dollars for each day, actually and necessarily occupied in serving under the surveyor's direction. Each commissioner, appointed as prescribed by law, to make partition or admeasure dower, is entitled to five dollars for each day's actual and necessary service.

From 2 R. S. 643, §§ 34, 35.

[1] This word "cause" is apparently a mistake for "case."

§ 3300. Fees of the clerk of the court of appeals.

The clerk of the court of appeals is entitled, for the services specified in this section, to the following fees:

For filing a notice of appeal to that court, and all the papers transmitted therewith, fifty cents.

For filing any other paper, ten cents.

For drawing an order, twenty cents for each folio.

For entering an order, twenty cents; and for each folio more than two, ten cents.

For drawing a judgment, twenty-five cents; and for each folio more than two, ten cents.

For entering a judgment, twenty-five cents; and for each folio more than two, ten cents.

For a certified copy of an order, record, or other paper, entered or filed in his office, ten cents for each folio.

For engrossing a remittitur, ten cents for each folio.

For a certificate, other than that a paper, for the copying of which he is entitled to a fee, is a copy, twenty-five cents.

For sealing any paper, when required, fifty cents.

See 2 R. S. 622, § 2.

§ 3301. [Am'd, 1882, 1890.] Clerk's fees in civil actions generally.

Except as otherwise prescribed in the annexed [1] section, each clerk of a court of record, is entitled, for his services in an action or a special proceeding, brought in or transferred to the court of which he is clerk, to the following fees:

Upon the trial of the action, or the hearing, upon the merits, of the special proceeding, from the party bringing it on, one dollar.

For entering final judgment in the action, or entering a final order in the special proceeding, including the filing of the judgment-roll, and a copy of the judgment to insert therein, fifty cents; and ten cents in addition for each folio exceeding ten, contained in the order for judgment.

For entering any other order or an interlocutory judgment, ten cents for each folio, exceeding five.

For a certified or other copy of an order, record, or other paper, entered or filed in his office, five cents for each folio.

Where, on an appeal from a judgment or order, a party shall present to the clerk a printed copy of the judgment-roll or order appealed from, it shall be the duty of the clerk, as required, to compare and certify the same, for which service he shall be entitled to be paid at the rate of one cent per folio.

For a certified transcript of the docket of a judgment, twelve cents.

For filing a transcript and docketing or re-docketing a judgment thereupon, six cents.

He is not entitled to any fee, or other compensation, for any other service, in an action or a special proceeding in the court, except that where he is also county clerk, he may charge fees as prescribed in section 3304 of this act, subject to the limitations therein contained.

Where the attorneys for all the parties interested, other than parties in default or against whom a judgment or a final order has been taken, and is not appealed from, stipulate in writing that a paper is a copy of any paper whereof a certified copy is required by any provision of this act, the stipulation takes the place of a certificate, as to the parties so stipulating, and the clerk is not required to certify the same or entitled to any fee therefor.

[1] This word "annexed" is apparently a mistake for "next."

And the paper so proved by stipulation shall be received by the clerks of all the courts, and by the courts, and shall be used or filed with the same force and effect as if certified by a clerk of the court.

From Co. Proc., § 312. Am'd by L. 1882, c. 399; L. 1890, c. 312.

§ 3302. [Am'd, 1895.] The last section qualified.

The last section does not apply to the clerk of a surrogate's court, of the city court of the city of New York, of the city court of Yonkers, of the justices' court of the city of Albany, or of a mayor's or recorder's court.

New. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).

§ 3303. [Omitted; see Table, p. lii.] Clerk's fees upon naturalization.

The clerk of any court, which has jurisdiction to naturalize an alien, is entitled, for the services specified in this section, to the following fees:

For all services, upon the filing of a declaration of intention by an alien to become a citizen, including the oath or affirmation, the recording of the same, and a certificate thereof delivered to the alien, twenty cents.

For all services, upon the admission of the alien to be a citizen, including the recording of the papers, and a certified copy of the record, which must be delivered to any person requiring it, fifty cents.

From L. 1844, c. 127, § 1.

§ 3304. [Am'd, 1896.] Fees of county clerks generally.

A county clerk is entitled, for the services specified in this section, except where another fee is allowed therefor by special statutory provision, to the following fees, to be paid in advance:

For searching and certifying the title to, and incumbrances upon real property, for each year for which the search is made, for each name, and each kind of conveyance or lien, five cents.

For a copy of an order, record, or other paper, entered or filed in his office, eight cents for each folio.

For filing a transcript, and making an entry as prescribed in section 1258 of this act, twelve cents.

For issuing an execution upon a judgment, a transcript whereof, or of the docket of which, has been filed in his office, fifty cents, to be paid by the party at whose request the execution is issued, and to be collected by the sheriff in addition to the sum due upon the judgment.

For recording and indexing a notice of the pendency of an action, filed in his office, ten cents for each folio contained in the notice.

For cancelling such a notice, or a notice filed in his office, as prescribed in section 649 of this act, twenty-five cents.

For recording any instrument, which must or may legally be recorded by him, ten cents for each folio.

For filing a certificate of satisfaction, or other satisfaction-piece of a mortgage, and entering the satisfaction, twenty-five cents.

For affixing and indexing a notice of foreclosure of a mortgage, as prescribed in section 2390 of this act, twenty-five cents.

For entering a minute that a mortgage has been foreclosed, ten cents.

For filing and entering a satisfaction of an assignment of a judgment, twelve cents.

For filing and entering the bond of a collector or other officer authorized to receive taxes, twelve cents.

For searching for such a bond, six cents.

For entering satisfaction thereof, twelve cents.

For sealing any paper, when required, twelve cents.

For filing and docketing notice of a mechanic's lien, ten cents.

For filing and entering specifications and all other papers relating to a lien against a vessel, twenty-five cents.

For filing any paper required by law to be filed in his office, other than as expressly provided for in this section, six cents.

For filing any paper deposited with him for safe keeping, six cents; and for searching for such a paper, when required, three cents for each paper necessarily opened and examined.

For a certificate, other than that a paper, for the copying of which he is entitled to a fee, is a copy, twenty-five cents.

For inquiring into, determining, and certifying the sufficiency of the sureties of a sheriff, fifty cents.

For attending upon the canvassing of notes, given at an election, two dollars.

For drawing the necessary certificates of the result of the canvass, eighteen cents for each folio; and for the necessary copies thereof, nine cents for each folio.

For notifying the governor that any person has taken an oath of office, ten cents and the necessary postage.

For notifying the governor that any person has neglected to take an oath of office, or to file or renew any security, within the time prescribed by law, or of a vacancy in an office in his county, ten cents and the necessary postage.

For notifying any person of his appointment to office, twenty-five cents, and the expenses, actually and necessarily incurred in giving the notice, which the comptroller deems reasonable.

For entering, in the minutes of the county court, a license to keep a ferry, and for a copy thereof, one dollar.

For taking and entering a recognizance, from any person authorized to keep a ferry, twenty-five cents.

But a county clerk is not entitled to any fee, under this section, for a copy of, or for filing or certifying, any paper, in a civil action or special proceeding, in a court of which he is ex-officio clerk.

From 2 R. S. 638, § 30; L. 1864, c. 53, § 4; 2 R. S. 545, § 3; L. 1873, c. 489, § 4 Am'd by L. 1896, c. 572 (in effect May 12, 1896.)

§ 3305. Certain provisions not affected by the last section.

The last section does not affect any special statutory provision, remaining unrepealed after this title takes effect, whereby a fee, different from the fee therein allowed, is allowed to the clerk of the city and county of New York, or of the county of Kings, for a service therein specified.

From L. 1853, c. 142, §§ 1, 2; L. 1874, c. 304; L. 1868, c. 720; L. 1871, c. 734.

§ 3305a. [Added, 1914.] Fees for certifying prepared copies.

Whenever there shall be presented to any public officer for certification or exemplification, a previously prepared legibly typewritten or printed copy of any document, paper, book or record in such officer's custody, the fees in such case, for certification or exemplification, shall be at the rate of three cents for each folio; but the minimum total charge for certification or exemplification in all cases shall be twenty-five cents.

Added by L. 1914, c. 345 (in effect Sept. 1, 1914).

§ 3306. [Am'd, 1915.] Fees of register and other clerks.

The register of any county, or the clerk of any court of record, is entitled, for any services specified in section 3304, which he is authorized to perform, to the fees specified therein, subject to the qualifications therein contained, unless a different fee therefor is fixed by statute.

New. Am'd by L. 1915, c. 625 (in effect May 14, 1915).

§ 3306a. [Added, 1909.] Fees of county clerk for entries of moneys deposited with county treasurer.

The county clerk shall be entitled to receive, for making the entries required of him by law of moneys deposited with the county treasurer the sum of fifty cents in each case, to be paid by the party to the action or proceeding, and taxed as a disbursement therein.

From L. 1889, c. 330, § 2; as am'd by L. 1895, c. 544, § 2. Added here by L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

§ 3307. [Am'd, 1884, 1894, 1907, 1915.] Sheriff's fees.

A sheriff is entitled, for the services specified in this section, to the following fees:

1. For serving a summons with or without either a copy of the complaint, or a notice specified in section 419 or section 423 of this act; one dollar, except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be one dollar and fifty cents; or for serving or executing an order of arrest, or any other mandate, for the service or execution of which no other fee is specially prescribed by law, except a subpœna, one dollar; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be four dollars, for each person served or as to whom it is executed; and for necessary traveling to serve or execute the same, six cents for each mile traveled, going and returning; the traveling fees to be computed from the court house of the county; or, if there are two or more court houses, from that nearest to the place of service or execution. But where two or more mandates are delivered to a sheriff, to be served upon or executed against one person, at one time, in one action or special proceeding; or where a mandate is served upon or executed against two or more persons, in one action or special proceeding, and in the course of one journey; the sheriff is entitled, in all, to six cents only, for each mile traveled.

2. For levying a warrant of attachment, against the property of a defendant, issued as prescribed in title third of chapter seventh of this act, or for executing a requisition to replevy one or more chattels, one dollar; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond it shall be five dollars; and, also, such additional compensation, for his trouble and expenses, in taking possession of and preserving the property, as the judge, issuing the warrant, or in case of a replevin, as the court or a judge thereof allows, and the judge or court may make an order requiring the party liable therefor to pay the same to the sheriff.

For making and filing a description of real property, or an inventory of personal property attached, twenty-five cents for each folio; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be fifty cents for each folio; for each necessary copy thereof, twelve cents for each folio; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be twenty cents for each folio; together with such compensation to the appraisers, as the judge issuing the warrant allows, not exceeding two dollars to each appraiser, for each day actually employed. For advertising, during the pendency of the action, personal property attached, the same fees as are allowed to a sheriff for advertising personal property for sale, by virtue of an execution. If the action is settled, either before or after judgment, the sheriff is entitled to poundage, upon the value of the property attached, not exceeding the sum at which the settlement is made.

3. For a copy, necessarily made by him, of a summons or other mandate, or of a complaint, affidavit, or other paper served by him, where no fee therefor is specially prescribed by law, twelve cents for each folio; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be twenty cents for each folio.

4. For notifying jurors to attend a trial term of a court of record, fifty cents for each cause placed upon the calendar for trial by a jury, to be paid by the party first putting the cause on the calendar for that term. But the sheriff is not entitled to more than one dollar and fifty cents for calendar fees in one action. The clerk shall not put a cause upon the calendar, for trial by a jury, until the fee specified in this subdivision is paid to him for the use of the sheriff. And where the cause is tried at a subsequent term, without a new note of issue, as prescribed in section 977 of this act, the party moving the trial must pay to the clerk for the use of the sheriff, the calendar fee or fees remaining unpaid. No sheriff who receives an annual salary in whole or in part for his services shall be entitled to the fees provided by this subdivision, and in all counties where the sheriff receives such annual salary, the clerk shall place all causes upon the calendar for trial without the payment or collection of any fee therefor.

5. For notifying jurors drawn to attend upon a writ of inquiry, or to try the validity of a claim to personal property, seized by virtue of a warrant of attachment or an execution, or in obedience to a precept issued by commissioners appointed to inquire concerning the incompetency of a person to manage himself or his affairs, in consequence of idiocy, lunacy, or habitual drunkenness, or in any case not provided for in the last preceding subdivision of this section, including the making and return of the inquisition when required, for each juror notified, twenty-five cents; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be fifty cents for each juror notified. For attending a jury, when required, in such a case, two dollars; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be five dollars.

6. For receiving an execution against property, entering it in his books, searching for property, and postage on the return, when made through the post-office, fifty cents; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be one dollar and fifty cents. If required by the sheriff, that fee, together with his fee for returning the execution, must be paid, by the person in whose behalf the execution is issued, at the time when it is delivered to the sheriff, who is not bound to execute it unless the fee is so paid. For mileage upon an execution, for each mile, going only, ten cents; to be computed as prescribed in subdivision first of this section.

7. For collecting money by virtue of an execution, a warrant of attachment, or an attachment for the payment of money in an action or a special proceeding; or by virtue of a warrant for the collection of money, issued by the comptroller, or by a county treasurer; in any county except New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens, Richmond or Westchester, three per centum upon the sum collected, not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, and two per centum upon the residue of the sum collected; and in either of the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens, and Richmond five per centum upon the first $1000 collected; two and one-half per centum on the next $9000 collected; and one per centum on all sums over and above $10,000, in the county of Westchester, two and one-half per centum upon the sum collected, not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, and one and one-quarter per centum upon the residue of the sum collected; and also, where an execution is stayed after a levy, by order of the court or otherwise, or where a levy is upon a live animal, or speedily perishable property, such additional compensation, for his trouble and expenses in taking care of and preserving the property, as the court or a judge thereof allows. Where a settlement is made after a levy by virtue of an execution, the sheriff is entitled to poundage upon the value of the property levied upon, not exceeding the sum at which the settlement is made, and to the additional compensation, if any, provided for in this subdivision.

8. For advertising real or personal property for sale, by virtue of an execution, warrant of attachment, or other warrant specified in the last preceding subdivision, two dollars, unless it is stayed or settled before sale; and in that case, one dollar.

9. For making duplicate certificates of the sale of real property, by virtue of an execution, twenty-five cents for each folio. For drawing and executing a conveyance, upon a sale of real property, two dollars, except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond it shall be five dollars to be paid by the grantee. The sheriff is also entitled to the printer's fees, as prescribed by law, paid by him for the publication, not more than six weeks, of a notice of the sale of real property, and he may require the party directing the sale to advance the printer's fees, in which case he must repay the same out of the proceeds. Where the notice is published more than six weeks, or the sale is postponed, the expense of continuing the publication, or of publishing the notice of postponement, must be paid by the person requesting it. Where two or more executions against the property of one judgment debtor are in the hands of the sheriff, at the time when the property is first advertised, the sheriff is entitled to printer's fees upon only one execution, and he must elect upon which execution he will receive the same.

10. For returning any mandate, which he is required by law to return, twelve cents; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be twenty-five cents. For a certified copy of an execution, and of the return of satisfaction thereupon, delivered as prescribed in section 1266 of this act, twenty-five cents; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be fifty cents.

11. For posting and publishing the notice of sale, selling, and conveying real property, in pursuance of a direction contained in a judgment, the like fees, as for the same services upon the sale of real property by virtue of an execution; but where real property is sold under a judgment in an action to foreclose a mortgage, the sheriff's entire compensation cannot exceed fifty dollars.

12. For taking a bond for the liberties of the jail, one dollar. For taking any other bond, or any undertaking, which he is authorized to take, fifty cents; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond it shall be one dollar, and the notary's fees to any affidavit or acknowledgments. For a certified copy of such a bond or undertaking, twenty-five cents; except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be fifty cents.

13. For executing any mandate, requiring him to put a person into possession of real property, other than a warrant specified in subdivision eighteen of this section, and removing the person in possession, one dollar and fifty cents, except that in the counties of New York, Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, it shall be five dollars and the same travel fees as upon the service of a summons.

14. For each person committed to or discharged from prison, in an action or a special proceeding, one dollar, to be paid by the person at whose instance he is imprisoned. For attending before an officer for the purpose of surrendering a prisoner, or receiving into custody a prisoner surrendered, in exoneration of his bail, including all his services upon such a surrender or receipt, one dollar.

15. For attending a view, two dollars for each day, and for traveling, going and returning, eight cents for each mile.

16. For bringing up a prisoner, upon a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the cause of detention, one dollar and fifty cents; and for traveling to and from the jail, twelve cents for each mile. For bringing up a prisoner, upon any other writ of habeas corpus, the same fees; and for attending the court, or judge thereupon, one dollar for each day. The sheriff is entitled, in addition to the sums specified in this subdivision, to his actual and necessary expenses.

17. For any services, which may be rendered by a constable, other than those specially provided for in this section, the same fees as are allowed by law to a constable for those services.

18. For executing a warrant, to remove any person from lands, belonging to the people of the State, or to Indians, such a sum as the comptroller audits, and certifies to be a reasonable compensation.

19. For giving notice of any general or special election, to all the officers, to whom he is required by law to give such a notice, one dollar for each town or ward, in addition to the expense of publishing the notices, as required by law; payable from the county treasury.

20. For notifying constables to attend a court, fifty cents for each constable notified.

21. For attending a term of a court, which he is required by law to attend, for each day, three dollars.

§ 3308. The last section qualified.

The last section, except the limitation of amount contained in subdivision eleventh thereof, does not affect any special statutory provision, remaining unrepealed after this title takes effect, relating to the fees and expenses of the sheriff of the city and county of New York, or the sheriff of the county of Kings.

Intended to exclude from the last section L. 1869, c. 569, § 2; L. 1873, c. 166, § 2; L. 1874, c. 192; L. 1876, c. 439, § 2; and L. 1879, c. 414. See L. 1890, c. 523; L. 1892, c. 418.

§ 3309. Id.; how collected.

The fees of a sheriff, upon an execution against property, other than those with respect to which it is specially prescribed by statute, either that they must be paid by a particular person, or that they may be included in the costs of the party in whose favor the execution is issued, must be collected by virtue of the execution, in the same manner as the sum therein directed to be collected.

§ 3310. Coroner's fees.

A coroner is entitled, for the services specified in this section, to the following fees:

1. For performing any duty of a sheriff, in an action or a special proceeding, in which the sheriff is, for any cause, disqualified, the same fees to which a sheriff is entitled for the same services.

2. For confining a sheriff in a house, by virtue of a mandate, and maintaining him while there, two dollars for each day, to be paid by the sheriff, before he is entitled to be discharged.

A constable or a deputy sheriff is entitled, for attending a sitting of a court of record, pursuant to a notice from the sheriff, to a fee for each day's actual attendance, in any county in the state, to be fixed by the board of supervisors thereof, and mileage as allowed by law to trial jurors in courts of record. Such fees must be paid by the county treasurer, upon the production of the certificate of the clerk, stating the number of days that the constable or deputy sheriff attended. If a constable or deputy sheriff attending a sitting of a court of record pursuant to a notice from the sheriff is unable to reach his home upon the day he is excused from attendance, he shall be entitled to compensation for an additional day, and the clerk shall certify accordingly upon satisfactory proof of such fact by affidavit. But the provisions of this section shall not be applicable to the counties of Kings, New York and Erie. All other acts or sections of acts conflicting herewith are hereby repealed.

different rate is not otherwise established as herein provided, each juror is entitled to five cents for each mile necessarily traveled by him in going to and returning from the term; but such board of aldermen or board of supervisors may establish a lower rate. A juror is entitled to mileage for actual travel once in each calendar week during the term, except that in the counties of Queens, Rockland and Orange grand and trial jurors may be paid four cents a mile for each mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning for each day of actual travel during the term in lieu of any other mileage. The sum so established or allowed must be paid by the county treasurer upon the certificate of the clerk of the court, stating the number of days that the juror actually attended, and the number of miles traveled by him in order to attend. If a juror in attendance at a term of a court of record cannot reach his home upon the day he is excused from attendance, he shall be entitled to compensation for an additional day, and the clerk shall certify accordingly upon satisfactory proof of such fact by affidavit. The amount so paid must be raised in the same manner as other county charges are raised.

§ 3315. Id.; extra pay upon protracted trials.

Where the trial, by a jury, of an issue of fact, in either a civil or a criminal action or special proceeding, in a court of record, occupies more than thirty days, the court, by an order entered in the minutes, may fix and allow, to each juror, such an extra compensation as it deems reasonable, for his services thereupon; the amount of which compensation, together with the expenses, actually and necessarily incurred, for food for the jurors during the trial, is a county charge.

From L. 1875, c. 335.

§ 3316. Jurors' fees in special proceedings.

A trial juror, sworn in a special proceeding, before a judge of a court of record; or upon a writ of inquiry; or upon a trial, before a sheriff, of a claim to personal property, seized by virtue of a warrant of attachment or an execution; is entitled to twenty-five cents, to be paid by the person at whose instance the jury is empanelled.

From 2 R. S. 643, § 37.

§ 3317. [Am'd, 1900, 1914.] Fees of printers.

Except as otherwise specially prescribed by law, the proprietor of a newspaper is entitled, for publishing summons, notice, order, citation or other advertisement, required by law to be published, other than the session laws for each folio, to seventy-five cents for the first insertion, and fifty cents for each subsequent insertion. In counties containing wholly or partially cities of the first class, except in the city of New York, the proprietor of a newspaper is entitled for publishing such notices, matters and advertisements aforesaid, other than the session laws, for each folio, to one dollar for the first insertion, and seventy-five cents for each subsequent insertion. And in the city of New York to twelve cents per agate line of thirty ems for each insertion. If such notices, matters and advertisements aforesaid, other than the session laws, are printed in type other than agate, the proprietor of a newpaper shall be entitled to the number of lines such notices, matters and advertisements would occupy if set in agate thirty ems to the line. The compensation for publishing the session laws must be fixed by the board of supervisors at not more than fifty cents for each folio.

§ 3318. Witnesses' fees generally.

A witness in an action or a special proceeding, attending before a court of record, or a judge thereof, is entitled, except where another fee is specially prescribed by law, to fifty cents for each day's attendance; and, if he resides more than three miles from the place of attendance, to eight cents for each mile, going to the place of attendance.

From L. 1840, c. 386, § 8.

§ 3319. Id.] on deposition to be used in another state.

A witness, attending before a commissioner or an officer, authorized to take his deposition to be used without the State, in a case other than one specified in section 3327 of this act, is entitled to two dollars for each day's actual attendance, and to eight cents for each mile, going to the place of attendance.

§ 3320. [Am'd, 1892, 1899, 1902, 1904, 1909, 1915.] Receiver's commissions; cost of bonds; trustee's commissions.

A receiver, except as otherwise specially prescribed by statute, is entitled, in addition to his necessary expenses, to such commissions, not exceeding five per centum upon the sums received and disbursed by him, as the court by which, or the judge by whom, he is appointed allows. But if in any case the commissions of a temporary or permanent receiver, so computed, shall not amount to one hundred dollars, said court or judge may in its or his discretion, allow said receiver such a sum, not exceeding one hundred dollars, for his commissions as shall be commensurate with the services rendered by said receiver. Any receiver, assignee, guardian, trustee, committee, executor, administrator or person appointed under section 111 of the Real Property law or under section 20 of the Personal Property law required by law to give a bond as such may include, as a part of his necessary expenses, such reasonable sum, not exceeding one per centum per annum upon the amount of such bond paid his surety thereon, as such court or judge allows. Except as otherwise prescribed in regard to a testamentary trustee, a trustee of an express trust is entitled, and two or more trustees of such a trust are entitled, to be apportioned between or among them according to the services rendered by them respectively, as compensation for services as such, over and above expenses, to commissions as follows: For receiving and paying out all sums of principal not exceeding one thousand dollars, at the rate of five per centum. For receiving and paying out any additional sums of principal not exceeding ten thousand dollars, at the rate of two and one-half per centum. For receiving and paying out all sums of principal above eleven thousand dollars, at the rate of one per centum. And for receiving and paying out income in each year, at the like rates. In all cases a just and reasonable allowance must be made for the necessary expenses actually paid by such trustee or trustees. If the value of the principal of the trust estate or fund equals or exceeds one hundred thousand dollars, each such trustee is entitled to the full commission on principal, and on income for each year, to which a sole trustee is entitled, unless the trustees are more than three, in which case three full commissions at the rates aforesaid must be apportioned between or among them according to the services rendered by them respectively. If the instrument creating the trust provides specific compensation for the services of the trustee or trustees, no other compensation for such services shall be allowed unless the trustee or trustees shall, before receiving any compensation for such services, by a written instrument duly acknowledged, renounce such specific compensation.

1. In an action brought before a justice of the peace:

For a summons, twenty-five cents.

For an order of arrest, twenty-five cents.

For a warrant of attachment, twenty-five cents.

For a requisition in an action for a chattel, twenty-five cents.

For a subpoena, including all the names inserted therein, twenty-five cents.

For the acknowledgment of a power of attorney, twenty-five cents.

For taking an affidavit, or administering an oath, ten cents.

For drawing an affidavit, application, or notice, required by statute, five cents for each folio.

For drawing a bond or an undertaking, twenty-five cents.

For hearing an application for a commission to examine one or more witnesses, fifty cents.

For an order for such a commission, and attending, settling, and certifying interrogatories, fifty cents.

For hearing an application to discharge a defendant from arrest, or to vacate or modify a warrant of attachment, or increase the plaintiff's security thereupon, fifty cents.

For an adjournment, except where it is made by the justice upon his own motion, twenty-five cents.

For a venire, twenty-five cents.

For empanelling and swearing a jury, twenty-five cents.

For hearing the plaintiff's evidence, where the defendant does not appear twenty-five cents.

For the trial of a demurrer, twenty-five cents.

For the trial of an issue of fact, where the defendant appears, one dollar and fifty cents for each day actually spent in the trial.

For receiving and entering the verdict of a jury, twenty-five cents.

For entering judgment, twenty-five cents.

For filing each paper required by statute to be filed, five cents.

For a transcript of a judgment, twenty-five cents.

For a copy of any paper for which a fee is not expressly prescribed by law, six cents for each folio.

For an execution, or the renewal of an execution, twenty-five cents.

For making a return upon an appeal from a judgment, two dollars.

For an order, directing an action or a special proceeding to be continued before another justice, twenty-five cents.

For services when associated with another justice, in any case where a fee therefor is not expressly prescribed by law, for each day actually spent, two dollars.

2. In a special proceeding, or an action not brought before a justice of the peace:

For a warrant, in a case where a fee therefor is not expressly prescribed by law, twenty-five cents.

For a warrant for the apprehension of a person charged with being the father of a bastard, fifty cents; for indorsing a warrant, issued from another county, twenty-five cents.

For services when associated with another justice, in any case where a fee therefor is not expressly prescribed by law, for each day actually spent, two dollars.

For a precept or other mandate, whereby a special proceeding is commenced, in a case where a fee therefor is not specially prescribed by law, twenty-five cents.

For a view of real property, in a case where it is required by law, fifty cents.

For a warrant of attachment to arrest a delinquent juror or witness, twenty-five cents.

For drawing, signing, and depositing with the clerk, a minute or record of conviction of such a juror or witness, or of any person for contempt, in any case where a fee therefor is not specially prescribed by law, fifty cents.

For an execution upon such a conviction before him, twenty-five cents.

For drawing, copying, and certifying a bond, an undertaking, a recognizance or other written security, and filing the same with the county clerk, or other officer with whom it must be filed, twenty-five cents.

For a warrant of commitment for any cause, twenty-five cents.

For a subpoena, including all the names inserted therein, twenty-five cents.

For a precept to notify a jury, fifty cents.

For empanelling and swearing a jury, twenty-five cents; except in proceedings to alter or lay out a highway, in which case he is entitled to two dollars.

For hearing the matter, concerning which a jury is called, seventy-five cents for each day actually spent.

For receiving and entering the verdict of the jury, and the order, if any, thereupon, twenty-five cents.

For any service for which a fee is not expressly allowed by this subdivision, and for which, if rendered in an action before a justice, a fee is allowed by the first subdivision of this section, the fee allowed in such an action for the same service.

For taking the deposition of a witness, upon an order made, or commission issued, by a court of record of the state, or a court in another state or a territory, or a foreign country, ten cents for each folio.

For making the necessary return and certificate thereto, fifty cents.

For taking an affidavit or administering an oath, ten cents.

§ 3323. [Am'd, 1890.] Constable's fees.

A constable is entitled, for the services specified in this section, to the following fees:

1. In an action brought before a justice of the peace, or in a justices' court of a city.

For serving a summons, twenty-five cents.

For serving a summons and executing an order of arrest, one dollar.

For serving a summons and levying a warrant of attachment, one dollar.

For serving a summons and affidavit, and executing a requisition, in an action for a chattel, one dollar.

For serving an order, directing the action to be continued before a justice, other than the one before whom it is pending, and for attending before the latter, fifty cents, and fifty cents in addition if he so attends with a person in his custody.

For collecting money by virtue of an execution, for every dollar collected, to the amount of fifty dollars, five cents; for every dollar collected over fifty dollars, two and one-half cents. Where a judgment or an execution is settled after a levy, the constable is entitled to poundage upon the sum at which the settlement is made, not exceeding the value of the property levied upon.

For each mile necessarily travelled, going and returning, to serve a summons or to serve or execute any other mandate, except a venire, the distance to be computed from the place of abode of the person served, or the place where it is served, to the place where it is returnable, ten cents; but where two or more mandates in one action are served or executed upon one journey, or where a mandate is served upon or executed against two or more persons in one action, he is entitled, in all, to only ten cents for each mile necessarily travelled.

For notifying the plaintiff of the execution of an order of arrest, twenty-five cents; and for going to the plaintiff's residence, or, if he is found elsewhere, to the place where he is found, to serve such a notice, for each mile travelled, going and returning, ten cents.

For subpoenaing each witness, not exceeding four, twenty-five cents.

For notifying the jurors to attend a trial, one dollar and fifty cents.

For taking charge of a jury during their deliberations, fifty cents.

Where witnesses, not exceeding four, are subpoenaed by any person other than a constable, the fee therefor is ten cents each.

2. In a special proceeding.

For notifying jurors to attend to assess damages, in proceedings relating to highways, two dollars.

For notifying jurors to attend in any other case, unless a fee therefor is specially prescribed by law, for each person notified, ten cents; and for each mile actually and necessarily travelled, going from and returning to his place of residence, ten cents.

For serving a precept or other mandate, by which the special proceeding is commenced, twenty-five cents.

For serving a warrant, in any case where a fee therefor is not specially prescribed by law, fifty cents.

For serving an order, directing the special proceeding to be continued before a justice other than the one before whom it is pending, and for attending before the latter, with or without a person in his custody, one dollar.

For arresting and committing any person pursuant to process, one dollar.

For subpoenaing each witness, not exceeding four, twenty-five cents.

For each mile necessarily travelled, going and returning, to serve or execute a mandate, the distance to be computed from the place where it is served or executed, to the place where it is returnable, unless a different rate of travel fees upon the service or execution thereof is specially prescribed by statute, ten cents. Where two or more mandates are served or executed in one special proceeding, the limitation upon the amount of travel fees specified in the last preceding subdivision applies.

From 2 R. S. 265, § 228; L. 1866, c. 692; L. 1869, c. 820; L. 1875, c. 334; L. 1873, c. 315, § 6. Am'd by L. 1890, c. 21.

§ 3324. Id.; affidavit upon claim for travel fees.

A constable, who charges any travelling fees, must show, by affidavit, that the travel was necessary to perform the service with respect to which it is charged; that no more miles are charged for, than were actually and in good faith travelled for that purpose; that he had at the time no other official or private business upon the route so travelled; and that the travelling fees are charged upon one mandate only, which must be attached to or described in the affidavit. The justice taxing the fees must be satisfied that the miles charged for were actually and necessarily travelled, as stated in the affidavit.

From L. 1869, c. 820, § 2.

§ 3325. Justice's court, fees upon a commission.

A party recovering costs in an action before a justice of the peace, in whose behalf a commission has been issued, and who introduces in evidence a deposition taken thereunder, is entitled to recover his actual disbursements thereupon, not exceeding the following sums; commissioner's fees for taking and returning testimony, one dollar; each subpoena issued, or oath administered, by the commissioner, six cents; expense of serving each subpoena, twenty-five cents; each witness's fees for each day's attendance before the commissioner, twenty-five cents; postage for sending and returning the commission and papers annexed thereto, one dollar.

From L. 1841, c. 138, § 3.

§ 3326. Id.; jurors' fees.

Except as otherwise specially prescribed by law, a person, notified to attend as a juror, is entitled to twenty-five cents, for attending and serving, upon the trial of an action or the hearing of a special proceeding, before a justice of the peace; and to ten cents for attending to serve, where he is not sworn.

From 2 R. S. 265, § 228; L. 1866, c. 692.

§ 3327. Id.; witnesses' fees.

A witness is entitled to twenty-five cents, for each day's actual attendance, before a justice of the peace, in an action or a special proceeding, or before a commissioner appointed by a justice of the peace, or before a justice of the peace taking a deposition to be used in a court, not of record, of another state, or a territory of the United States.

From 2 R. S. 265, § 228; L. 1866, c. 692, § 10.

§ 3328. Id.; fees to be paid before services rendered.

A justice of the peace, or a constable, juror, or witness, before a justice of the peace, is not obliged to render any service specified in this title, without the pevious payment or tender of his fee therefor.

See 2 R. S. 650, § 4.

§ 3329. Id.; by whom fees to be paid.

In an action before a justice of the peace, if any services are rendered for a party, and he neglects to pay the fees allowed therefor by law, the other party may pay those fees, and the amount thereof must be taxed as part of his costs, if he recovers costs.

New.

§ 3330. Certain special provisions excepted from this title.

The allowance of a fee, by this title, does not apply to a case, where special provision is otherwise made by statute for compensation for a particular service.

New.

§ 3331. Provision as to change in fees.

Where an officer has, when this title takes effect, commenced the performance of a service, for which a fee is allowed by the statutes heretofore in force, he is entitled to the fee so allowed, for the completion of that service, and he is not entitled to the fee for the same, or a corresponding service, allowed by this title.

New.

§ 3331a. [Added, 1909.] Presentation of claims by jurors and disposition of unclaimed fees.

All jurors including those in a criminal action or special proceeding in a court or before an officer duly summoned and who served as provided for by the laws of this state and are entitled to payment therefor, must present their claims to the proper official designated by law for the payment of jurors' fees, on or before the thirty-first day of December of the year succeeding or following the year in which such services were rendered and performed, and failure to comply with this provision shall be a forfeiture of the payment for such claims or services thereafter. All notices issued requiring jurors to attend at a term of court or at a meeting of the grand jury, shall have printed thereon the foregoing provision relating to forfeiture of fees. All moneys or jurors' fees forfeited by the provisions of this section shall be transferred and applied to the fund of such county or city, from which they were paid, on or before the first day of March, in each year.

From L. 1899, c. 150, §§ 1–3. Added here by L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

§ 3332. This title applies to civil cases only.

Except as otherwise expressly prescribed therein, this title does not apply to a service rendered in a criminal action or special proceeding, in a court, or before an officer.

New.

CHAPTER XXII.

Definitions and Regulations Concerning the Construction, Effect, and Application of this Act.

TITLE I.— General Definitions, and Rules of Construction.
TITLE II.— Provisions Regulating the Effect and Application of this Act.

TITLE I.

General definitions, and rules of construction.

Sec. 3333. Definition of "action."
3334. Id.; "special proceeding."
3335. Division of actions into civil and criminal.
3336. Definition of "criminal action."
3337. Id.; "civil action."
3338. Parties to a civil action.
3339. Only one form of civil action.
3340. Rule of construction as to publication, etc., in certain cases.
3341. Id.; as to certain special provisions relating to New-York city.
3342. Id.; as to county court.
3343. Miscellaneous general definitions and rules of construction.

§ 3333. Definition of "action."

The word "action", as used in the New Revision of the Statutes, when applied to judicial proceedings, signifies an ordinary prosecution, in a court of justice, by a party against another party, for the enforcement or protection of a right, the redress or prevention of a wrong, or the punishment of a public offence.

From Co. Proc., § 2.

§ 3334. Id.; "special proceeding".

Every other prosecution by a party, for either of the purposes specified in the last section, is a special proceeding.

From Id., § 3.

§ 3335. Division of actions into civil and criminal.

Actions are of two kinds:

1. Civil.
2. Criminal.

From Id., § 4.

§ 3336. Definition of "criminal action".

A criminal action is prosecuted by the people of the State, as a party, against a person charged with a public offence, for the punishment thereof.

From Id., § 5.

§ 3337. Id.; "civil action".

Every other action is a civil action.

From Id., § 6.

§ 3338. Parties to a civil action.

The party prosecuting a civil action is styled the plaintiff; the adverse party is styled the defendant.

From Id., § 70.

§ 3339. Only one form of civil action.

There is only one form of civil action. The distinction between actions at law and suits in equity, and the forms of those actions and suits, have been abolished.

From Co. Proc., § 69.

§ 3340. Rule of construction as to publication, etc., in certain cases.

Each provision of this act, requiring the publication of a summons, notice, or other paper, in one or more newspapers, or authorizing or requiring a court, or a judge, to designate one or more newspapers, in which such a publication must be made, or requiring the posting of a notice or other paper, is to be construed as not affecting any special provision of the statutes, remaining unrepealed after the former provision takes effect, prescribing one or more particular newspapers, in which such a publication must or may be made, or one or more particular places, in which notices or other legal papers must or may be posted, in a particular locality, or in a particular case.

From L. 1876, c. 449, § 9.

§ 3341. Id.; as to certain special provisions relating to New-York city.

Each provision of this act is to be construed as not affecting any special provision of the statutes, remaining unrepealed after the former provision takes effect, which is applicable exclusively to an action against the mayor, aldermen, and commonalty of the city of New-York, including the recovery, entry, and collection of a judgment in such an action.

See L. 1876, c. 449, § 10; L. 1865, c. 646, §§ 4, 5; L. 1866, c. 876, § 10; L. 1867, c. 586, § 6; L. 1868, c. 853, § 8; L. 1869, c. 876, § 14; L. 1870, c. 382, § 2; L. 1871, c. 583, § 5; L. 1872, c. 514, § 1.

§ 3342. Id.; as to county court.

Each provision of this act conferring power upon, or authorizing a proceeding to be taken at a general, special, or trial term, which is applicable to a county court, is to be construed as applying to any term of the county court, held pursuant to an appointment made as prescribed by law.

From L. 1876, c. 449, § 10.

§ 3343. [Am'd, 1900.] Miscellaneous general definitions and rules of construction.

In construing this act, the following rules must be observed, except where a contrary intent is expressly declared in the provision to be construed, or plainly apparent from the context thereof:

1. [Subd. 1 repealed by L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).]

2. The word, "mandate", includes a writ, process, or other written direction, issued pursuant to law, out of a court, or made pursuant to law, by a court, or a judge, or a person acting as a judicial officer, and commanding a court, board, or other body, or an officer, or other person, named or otherwise designated therein, to do, or to refrain from doing, an act therein specified.

3. The word, "judge", includes a justice, surrogate, recorder, justice of the peace, or other judicial officer, authorized or required to act, or prohibited from acting, in or with respect to the matter or thing, referred to in the provision wherein that word is used.

4. The word, "clerk", signifies the clerk of the court, wherein the action or special proceeding is brought, or wherein, or by whose authority, the act is to be done, which is referred to in the provision in which it is used. If the action or special proceeding is brought, or the act is to be done, in or by the authority of the supreme court, it signifies the clerk of the county wherein the action or special proceeding is triable, or the act is to be done.

5. The word, "report", when used in connection with a trial, or other inquiry, or a judgment, means a referee's report; and the word, "decision", when used in the same connection, means the decision of the court upon a hearing, or the trial of an issue, before the court, without a jury.

6, 7, 8. [Repealed by Statutory Construction Law,[1] L. 1892, c. 677.]

9. A "personal injury" includes libel, slander, criminal conversation, seduction, and malicious prosecution; also an assault, battery, false imprisonment, or other actionable injury to the person either of the plaintiff, or of another.

10. An "injury to property" is an actionable act, whereby the estate of another is lessened, other than a personal injury, or the breach of a contract.

11. The word, "affidavit", includes a verified pleading in an action, or a verified petition or answer in a special proceeding.

12. A warrant of attachment against property is said to be "annulled", when the action, in which it was granted, abates or is discontinued; or a final judgment, rendered therein in favor of the plaintiff is fully paid; or a final judgment is rendered therein in favor of the defendant. But, in the case last specified, a stay of proceedings suspends the effect of the annulment, and the reversal or vacating of the judgment revives the warrant.

13. The term, "judgment creditor", signifies the person who is entitled to collect, or otherwise enforce, in his own right, a judgment for a sum of money, or directing the payment of a sum of money.

14. A "judgment creditor's action" is an action brought as prescribed in article first of title fourth of chapter fifteenth of this act, or any other action, brought by a judgment creditor to aid the collection of a judgment for a sum of money, or directing the payment of a sum of money.

15. [Repealed by Statutory Construction Law,[1] L. 1892, c. 677.]

16. A "distinct parcel" of real property is a part of the property which is or may be set off by boundary lines, as distinguished from an undivided share or interest therein.

17. [Repealed by Statutory Construction Law,[1] L. 1892, c. 677.]

18. A "domestic corporation" is a corporation created by or under the laws of the State;[1] or located in the State, and created by or under the laws of the United States, or by or pursuant to the laws, in force in the colony of New-York, before the 19th day of April, in the year 1775. Every other corporation is a "foreign corporation".

19. The terms, "trial juror", and "trial jury", are respectively equivalent to the terms, "petit juror", and "petit jury", as used in the constitution and laws of the State. The word, "notify", as used, with respect to procuring the attendance of a juror, is equivalent to the word, "summon", as used in the like connection, in the same constitution and laws.

20. The word, "action", refers to a civil action; the word "judgment", to a judgment in such an action; the term, "special proceeding", to a civil special proceeding; the word, "order", to an order made in such an action or special proceeding; the words, "an action of ejectment", to an action to recover the immediate possession of real property.

From L. 1876, c. 449, § 2. Am'd by L. 1909, c. 65 (in effect Feb. 17, 1909).

[1] The subdivisions of this section which were repealed by the Statutory Construction Law were so stricken out because similar provisions were incorporated into that law. Thus, subdivisions 6, 7, 8 of this section defined "real and personal property" (now defined in §§ 39, 40 of the General Construction Law). Subd. 15 defined "lunacy" and "lunatic" (now defined in § 28 of the Gen. Constr'n Law). Subd. 17 defined "territory" (now defined in § 49 of the Gen. Constr'n Law). Subds. 21 to 24 defined "public holiday," the words "now," "heretofore," "hereafter" (as found in a statute), the word "folio," and also provided that an instrument required to be written or printed might be partly written and partly printed. §§ 21, 23, 24, 25, 34, 56 of the Gen. Constr'n Law contain similar definitions and provisions. See the General Construction Law in Appendix I, post.

By the General Corporation Law, art. 1, § 3, subd. 5, a domestic corporation is defined as follows: "A domestic corporation is a corporation incorporated by or under the laws of the State or colony of New York. Every corporation which is not a domestic corporation is a foreign corporation, except as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure for the purpose of construing such Code."

TITLE II.

Provisions regulating the effect and application of this act.

Sec. 3344. Short title of this act.
3345. Rule of strict construction not applicable thereto.
3346. Punishment of crimes and misdemeanors created thereby.
3347. Application of certain portions thereof, regulated and qualified.
3348. Id.; what deemed commencement of action, etc.
3349. Id.; when proceedings to be under former statutes.
3350. Effect of this act upon trial jurors and juries, in criminal causes.
3351. Id.; upon grand jurors and juries.
3352. Id.; upon proceedings taken, or rights accrued, etc., under former statutes.
3353. Id.; upon former appointment of terms.
3354. Id.; upon officers and offices.
3355. When this act deemed to have been passed, etc.
3356. When this act takes effect.

§ 3344. Short title of this act.

This act constitutes a portion of the New Revision of the Statutes. It may be styled, in any act of the legislature or proceeding in a court of justice, or wherever it is otherwise referred to, "The Code of Civil Procedure".

From L. 1876, c. 449, § 1.

§ 3345. Rule of strict construction not applicable thereto.

The rule of the common law, that a statute in derogation of the common law is strictly construed, does not apply to this act.

From Co. Proc., § 467.

§ 3346. Punishment of crimes and misdemeanors created thereby.

Where it is prescribed, in a provision of this act, that a person doing or omitting to do any act is guilty of a particular crime, or, generally, of a misdemeanor, he shall be punished therefor in the manner and to the extent, prescribed by the statutes remaining unrepealed after the provision in question takes effect, for the punishment of the crime so specified; or for the punishment of a misdemeanor, the punishment of which is not specially prescribed in the statute defining it.

New.

§ 3347. [Am'd, 1881, 1882, 1883, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1909, 1913.] Application of certain portions thereof regulated and qualified.

The application and effect of certain portions of this act are declared and regulated as follows: except that, where a particular provision, included within a chapter or a portion of a chapter, specified in a subdivision of this section, expressly designates the courts, persons, or proceedings, affected thereby, that provision is deemed excluded from the application and effect, prescribed in the subdivision:

1. In chapter second, the prisoners referred to are civil prisoners only, except that article third of title second thereof applies to all prisoners, civil or criminal.

2. In chapter third, sections 303, 304, 305, and 306 apply to trial jurors upon the trial of an indictment or other criminal cause; as prescribed in subdivision seventh of this section, with respect to the application of titles third and fourth of chapter tenth, and as specified in the next two sections.

3. In chapter fifth, sections 446, 449, 450, 454, 455, and 458 to 468, both inclusive, and in chapter 6th, section 532, apply to an action commenced, in any court of the State.

4. The remainder of chapters fifth and sixth, apply only to an action commenced in a court of record.

5. Chapter seventh, excluding articles first and second of title fourth thereof, applies only to an action, in one of the courts specified in subdivision fourth of this section, in which an application for an order of arrest, an injunction order, or a warrant of attachment against property, is made, on or after the first day of September, 1877. Articles first and second of title fourth of that chapter apply only to proceedings taken, in one of those courts, on or after that date.

6. Chapter eight applies only to the proceedings taken on or after the first day of September, 1877, in an action or special proceeding in one of the courts specified in subdivision fourth of this section; except that sections 721, 722, 724 to 727, both inclusive, and 817 to 819, both inclusive, apply to all courts of record; sections 728, 729, 730, 749, 787, 788, 810 to 816, both inclusive, and 826, to proceedings, taken on or after that day, in any court or before any officer or body; and sections 723, 764, 765, 785, 789, 790, and 825, to all courts.

7. In chapter tenth, titles first, second, and sixth, and article second of title fifth, apply only to proceedings taken, on or after the first day of September, 1877, in one of the courts specified in subdivision fourth of this section. Article third of title third and article first of title fifth, of that chapter apply only to jurors drawn for, and juries formed at, a term of a court, commencing not less than twenty days after the first day of May, 1877. Subject to that qualification, they apply to jurors selected under the statutes, remaining unrepealed after that day, and the lists and ballots prepared accordingly; until new jurors are selected, and new lists and ballots are prepared, as prescribed in those titles. The same portions of chapter tenth, excluding article third of title third, apply equally to a criminal and a civil action or special proceeding, and to a court of criminal and a court of civil jurisdiction. Article third of title third of this act and article 16 of the Judiciary Law do not affect any special provision of law, remaining unrepealed after the first day of May, 1877, whereby trial jurors are directed to be procured, for a particular court of record, from a particular locality; or whereby a county is divided into two or more jury districts, and the selecting, drawing, summoning, or attendance of jurors from the particular locality, or the different jury districts, is regulated. Each of those provisions becomes applicable to and affects the selecting, drawing, notifying, or attendance of jurors, as prescribed in those articles, in like manner as they applied to and affected the statutes previously in force, upon the same subject. So much of the provisions of articles 17 and 18 of the Judiciary Law, as relates to the remission or enforcement of a fine imposed upon a trial juror, applies to a fine imposed upon a grand juror, as prescribed in the statutes remaining unrepealed after the first day of May, 1877.

8. In chapter eleventh, articles first and second of title first, and the whole of title third, apply only to proceedings in one of the courts specified in subdivision fourth of this section, taken on or after the first day of September, 1877. But where an action has been commenced in either of those courts, before that date, a judgment by default must be taken therein, as prescribed by the statutes in force on the thirty-first day of August, 1877.

9. Chapter twelfth does not affect the statutes remaining unrepealed after the first day of September, 1877, touching the review of proceedings in a criminal cause.

10. Chapter thirteenth applies only to an execution issued, on or after the first day of September, 1877, out of a court of record, other than an execution issued out of such a court, and directed, pursuant to law, to a constable or marshal; and to sales and other proceedings, by virtue of an execution directed to a sheriff, and delivered to him, after that date. Sections 1413 and 1414, and sections 1417 to 1427, both inclusive, apply only to a case where such an execution is issued out of one of the courts specified in subdivision fourth of this section; or where a warrant of attachment against property is granted on or after that date, in an action brought in one of those courts. Title third of that chapter applies only to an execution, issued upon a judgment rendered in one of those courts.

11. [Am'd, 1893.] So much of chapters fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, and twentieth, as regulates the proceedings to be taken in an action or special proceeding, and the effect thereof, applies only to an action or a special proceeding commenced on or after the first day of September, 1880. And all appeals taken from any order, sentence, decree or determination of a surrogate's court made or entered in such court on or after the first day of September, 1880, in any matter or proceeding pending or undetermined in such court on the first day of September, 1880, and all appeals to the court of appeals from any order or judgment of the supreme court affirming, reversing or modifying any such order, sentence, decree or determination of a surrogate's court shall be taken and perfected, heard and decided in conformity to the laws and practice regulating appeals from orders, sentences and decrees of surrogate's court, and the hearing and decision thereof, in force in this State on the thirtieth day of April, 1877, and all appeals from any order, sentence, decree or determination of such court brought in conformity thereto since the first day of September, 1880, are hereby declared to be valid and effectual, except that sections 1670 to 1685, both inclusive, apply also to the proceedings therein specified, taken, after that date, in an action theretofore commenced, or upon a judgment theretofore rendered, and section 1674 applies to a notice of pendency of action theretofore or thereafter filed; sections 1881 to 1892, both inclusive, do not apply to an action upon any bond therein specified, where an order, allowing any person to prosecute the bond in the name of the people, has been duly made before that date and is then in force, in which case future actions upon the same bond are regulated by the laws in force on the day before that date, notwithstanding the repeal thereof; sections 2253 to 2265, both inclusive, apply also where a final determination has been made before the first day of September, 1880, in proceedings taken under any statute superseded by the title containing those sections, and to the process issued thereupon; sections 2320 to 2344, both inclusive, apply also to proceedings taken before that date, under any statute superseded by the title containing them, whether a committee has or has not been appointed; section 2537 applies also to every payment or deposit therein specified made on or after the first day of September, 1880; section 2756, except the words "upon the hearing before the surrogate" applies to actions heretofore or thereafter commenced pursuant to article second of title three of chapter fifteen; and sections 2798 to 2801, both inclusive, apply also to a case, where a decree for the sale or other disposition of the real property of a decedent, has been duly made, before that date, in a surrogate's court.

12. So much of chapters nineteenth and twentieth, as relates to the jurisdiction of the several courts therein specified, applies only to an action or special proceeding commenced on or after the first day of September, 1880.

13. In chapter twenty-first, titles first, second, and third apply only to an action in one of the courts specified in subdivision fourth of this section.

14. [Added, 1894.] The disqualification of jurors, as provided in section 1166 of this act, shall apply to all courts.

Where a provision of this act is made applicable by the last section, to an action or a special proceeding commenced on or after a day therein specified, if, before that date, a summons in an action, or a citation issued from a surrogate's court, has been served upon one or more, but not upon all, of the persons to be served; or an order for the service of a summons as prescribed in article second of title first of chapter fifth of this act has been made; or, in a special proceeding, elsewhere than in a surrogate's court, the petition or other paper, upon which the first order, process, or other mandate may be made or issued, has not been presented, the action or special proceeding is not deemed to have been commenced within the meaning of that section.

See L. 1876, c. 449, § 5, subd. 4.

§ 3349. Id.; when proceedings to be under former statutes.

Where any provision of this act is made applicable to future proceedings in an action or special proceeding, the proceedings therein, until the provision in question becomes applicable, are governed by, and must be conducted according to the laws in force on the day before the provision takes effect, except as otherwise prescribed in subdivision seventh of the last section but one.

New.

§ 3350. Effect of this act, upon trial jurors and juries, in criminal causes.

A jury, for the trial of an indictment or other criminal cause, at a term of a court of record, commencing on or after the twenty-first day of May, 1877, must be procured from the trial jurors selected, drawn, and notified, as prescribed in this act, for the term of the court at which it is triable, including the talesmen or additional jurors, procured as prescribed therein; and the same must be tried by the jury so formed. But the statutes remaining unrepealed after the first day of September, 1877, relating to challenges or disqualifications of petit jurors in a criminal cause, or prescribing the cases where talesmen or additional petit jurors must be summoned in a criminal cause, remain unaffected by this act, and are applicable to the proceedings taken as prescribed in this act, and to the trial jurors therein specified.

See L. 1876, c. 449, § 5, subd. 7.

§ 3351. Id.; upon grand jurors and juries.

This act does not affect any provision of the statutes, remaining unrepealed after the first day of September, 1877, relating to grand jurors or grand juries; except as follows:

1. A fine imposed, after the first day of September, 1877, upon a person drawn as a grand juror, and duly summoned to attend a term of a court of record as a grand juror, as prescribed in those statutes, must be imposed as prescribed in article fourth of title third of chapter tenth of this act; and sections 1073 to 1077 of this act, both inclusive, apply to such a person, as if he had been drawn, and notified to attend, as a trial juror.

2. Where a provision of those statutes refers to the lists of petit jurors, the ballots containing their names, the box or boxes in which those ballots are deposited or contained, the selecting, drawing, summoning, or empanelling of petit jurors, the imposition of a fine upon a petit juror, or the enforcement, reduction, or remission thereof, it is deemed to refer to the same subject, as provided for in this act, in like manner as it refers to those statutes.

See 2 R. S. 483, 484, §§ 16-21; Id., 722, § 13.

§ 3352. Id.; upon proceedings taken, or rights accrued, etc., under former statutes.

Nothing contained in any provision of this act, other than in chapter fourth, renders ineffectual, or otherwise impairs, any proceeding in an action or a special proceeding, had or taken, pursuant to law, or any other lawful act done, or right, defence, or limitation, lawfully accrued or established, before the provision in question takes effect; unless the contrary is expressly declared in the provision in question. As far as it may be necessary, for the purpose of avoiding such a result, or carrying into effect such a proceeding or other act, or enforcing or protecting such a right, defence, or limitation, the statutes in force on the day before the provision takes effect, are deemed to remain in force, notwithstanding the repeal thereof.

See L. 1876, c. 449, § 6, subd. 1.

§ 3353. Id.; upon former appointment of terms.

This act does not affect the appointment of a term, or the designation of one or more judges to hold a term, made pursuant to the statutes in force on the thirty-first day of August, 1877, until new terms are appointed, or one or more judges are newly designated, as prescribed in this act.

See Id., § 13.

§ 3354. Id.; upon officers and offices.

This act does not create a vacancy in any office or employment, designated or referred to therein, by the title or description thereof, contained in the statutes in force on the day before the provision referring thereto takes effect, or by another title or description; nor does it affect any provision of those statutes, relating to the amount, or the time or the mode of payment, of the compensation of an officer or employee, so designated or referred to, who is in office or employed on that day: except that where the tenure of his office or employment is not prescribed in this act, he may be removed at pleasure by the court, officer, or officers, authorized by this act to appoint a person to discharge the same duties. Until he is removed, or his office or place becomes otherwise vacant, the provisions of this act apply to him, and to the discharge of his duties. The court, officer, or officers, authorized by this act to appoint a person to an office or employment, may from time to time fill a vacancy therein.

See Id., § 14.

§ 3355. [Am'd, 1882.] When this act deemed to have been passed, etc.

For the purpose of determining the effect of the different provisions of this act with respect to each other, they are deemed to have been enacted simultaneously. For the purpose of determining the effect of this act upon other acts, and the effect of other acts upon this act, chapters fourteen to twenty-two of this act, both inclusive, are deemed to have been enacted on the twelfth day of January, in the year 1880, and all acts passed after the last-mentioned date are to have the same effect as if they were passed after those chapters.

New. Am'd by L. 1882, c. 399.

§ 3356. When this act takes effect.

Subject to the qualifications contained in the foregoing sections of this title, this act shall take effect as follows: titles third and fourth, and article first of title fifth of chapter tenth, on the first day of May, in the year 1877; the remainder of chapters first to thirteenth, both inclusive, on the first day of September, in the year 1877; chapters fourteenth to twenty-first, both inclusive, on the first day of September, 1880; and this chapter immediately.[1]

[1] The first thirteen chapters of the Code (including §§ 1-1495) were enacted by L. 1876, c. 448. Chapters fourteen to twenty-two (including §§ 1496 to 3356) were enacted by L. 1880, c. 178.

CHAPTER XXIII.

§ 3357. [Added, 1890.] Title.

This title shall be known as the condemnation law.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95.

§ 3358. [Added, 1890; am'd, 1896.] Definitions.

The term "person," when used herein, includes a natural person and also a corporation, joint-stock association, the state and a political division thereof, and any commission, board, board of managers or trustees in charge or having control of any of the charitable or other institutions of the state; the term "real property," any right, interest or easement therein or appurtenances thereto; and the term "owner," all persons having any estate, interest, or easement in the property to be taken, or any lien, charge, or incumbrance thereon. The person instituting the proceedings shall be termed the plaintiff; and the person against whom the proceeding is brought, the defendant.

Id. Am'd by L. 1896, c. 580 (in effect May 12, 1896).

§ 3359. [Added, 1890.] Proceeding to be taken as prescribed in this title.

Whenever any person is authorized to acquire title to real property, for a public use by condemnation, the proceeding for that purpose shall be taken in the manner prescribed in this title.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95.

§ 3360. [Added, 1890; am'd, 1896.] Petition to be presented; contents thereof.

The proceeding shall be instituted by the presentation of a petition by the plaintiff to the supreme court, setting forth the following facts:

1. His name, place of residence, and the business in which engaged; if a corporation or joint-stock association, whether foreign or domestic, its principal place of business within the state, the names and places of residence of its principal officers, and of its directors, trustees or board of managers, as the case may be, and the object or purpose of its incorporation or association; if a political division of the state, the names and places of residence of its principal officers; and if the state, or any commission or board of managers or trustees in charge or having control of any of the charitable or other institutions of the state, the name, place of residence of the officer acting in its or their behalf in the proceedings.

2. A specific description of the property to be condemned, and its location, by metes and bounds, with reasonable certainty.

3. The public use for which the property is required and a concise statement of the facts showing the necessity of its acquisition for such use.

4. The names and places of residence of the owners of the property; if an infant, the name and place of residence of his general guardian, if he has one; if not, the name and place of residence of the person with whom he resides; if a lunatic, idiot, or habitual drunkard, the name and place of residence of his committee or trustee, if he has one; if not, the name and place of residence of the person with whom he resides. If a non-resident, having an agent or attorney residing in the state authorized to contract for the sale of the property, the name and place of residence of such agent or attorney; if the name or place of residence of any owner cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained, it may be so stated with a specific statement of the extent of the inquiry which has been made.

5. That the plaintiff has been unable to agree with the owner of the property for its purchase, and the reason of such inability.

6. The value of the property to be condemned.

7. A statement that it is the intention of the plaintiff, in good faith, to complete the work or improvement, for which the property is to be condemned; and that all the preliminary steps required by law have been taken to entitle him to institute the proceeding.

8. A demand for relief, that it may be adjudged that the public use requires the condemnation of the real property described, and that the plaintiff is entitled to take and hold such property for the public use specified, upon making compensation therefor, and that commissioners of appraisal be appointed to ascertain the compensation to be made to the owners for the property so taken.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95. Am'd by L. 1896, c. 589 (in effect May 12, 1896).

§ 3361. [Added, 1890.] Notice annexed to petition; when petition and notice served.

There must be annexed to the petition a notice of the time and place at which it will be presented to a special term of the supreme court, held in the judicial district where the property or some portion of it is situated, and a copy of the petition and notice must be served upon all the owners of the property at least eight days prior to its presentation.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95.

§ 3362. [Added, 1890.] How petition and notice served.

Service of the petition and notice must be made in the same manner as the service of a summons in an action in the supreme court is required to be made, and all the provisions of articles one and two of title one of chapter five of this act, which relate to the service of a summons, either personally or in any other way, and the mode of proving service, shall apply to the service of the petition and notice. If the defendant has an agent or attorney residing in this state, authorized to contract for the sale of the real property described in the petition, service upon such agent or attorney will be sufficient service upon such defendant. In case the defendant is an infant of the age of fourteen years or upwards, a copy of the petition and notice shall also be served upon his general guardian, if he has one; if not, upon the person with whom he resides.

Id.

§ 3363. [Added, 1890.] Appearance of infant, idiot, lunatic or habitual drunkard.

If a defendant is an infant, idiot, lunatic or habitual drunkard, it shall be the duty of his general guardian, committee or trustee, if he has one, to appear for him upon the presentation of the petition and attend to his interests, and in case he has none, or in case his general guardian, committee or trustee fails to appear for him, the court shall, upon the presentation of the petition and notice, with proof of service, without further notice, appoint a guardian ad litem for such defendant, whose duty it shall be to appear for him and attend to his interests in the proceeding, and, if deemed necessary to protect his rights, the court may require a general guardian, committee or trustee, or a guardian ad litem to give security in such sum and with such sureties as the court may approve. If a service other than personal has been made upon any defendant, and he does not appear upon the presentation of the petition, the court shall appoint some competent attorney to appear for him and attend to his interests in the proceeding.

Id.

§ 3364. [Added, 1890.] Appearance of parties generally.

The provisions of law and of the rules and practice of the court, relating to the appearance of parties in person or by attorney in actions in the supreme court, shall apply to the proceeding from and after the service of the petition, and all subsequent orders, notices and papers may be served upon the attorney appearing and upon a guardian ad litem in the same manner and with the same effect as the service of papers in an action in the supreme court may be made.

Id.

§ 3365. [Added, 1890.] Answer; contents thereof.

Upon presentation of the petition and notice with proof of service thereof, an owner of the property may appear and interpose an answer, which must contain a general or specific denial of each material allegation of the petition controverted by him, or of any knowledge or information thereof sufficient to form a belief, or a statement of new matter constituting a defence to the proceeding.

Id.

§ 3366. [Added, 1890.] Verification of petition or answer.

A petition or answer must be verified, and the provisions of this act relating to the form and contents of the verification of pleadings in courts of record, and the persons by whom it may be made, shall apply to the verification.
Id.

§ 3367. [Added, 1890.] Trial; case; exceptions.

The court shall try any issue raised by the petition and answer at such time and place as it may direct, or it may order the same to be referred to a referee to hear and determine, and upon such trial the court or referee shall file a decision in writing, or deliver the same to the attorney for the prevailing party, within twenty days after the final submission of the proofs and allegations of the parties, and the provisions of this act relating to the form and contents of decisions upon the trial of issues of fact by the court or a referee, and to making and filing exceptions thereto, and the making and settlement of a case for the review thereof upon appeal, and to the proceedings which may be had, in case such decision is not filed or delivered within the time herein required, and to the powers of the court and referee upon such trial, shall be applicable to a trial and decision under the title.
Id.

§ 3368. [Added, 1890.] Certain provisions of code applicable.

The provisions of title one of chapter eight of this act shall also apply to proceedings had under this title.
Id.

§ 3369. [Added, 1890; am'd, 1895.] Judgment; costs to defendant; commissioners.

Judgment shall be entered pursuant to the direction of the court or referee in the decision filed. If in favor of the defendant, the petition shall be dismissed, with costs to be taxed by the clerk, at the same rates as are allowed, of course, to a defendant prevailing in an action in the supreme court, including the allowances for proceedings before and after notice of trial. If the decision is in favor of the plaintiff, or if no answer has been interposed and it appears from the petition that he is entitled to the relief demanded, judgment shall be entered, adjudging that the condemnation of the real property described is necessary for the public use, and that the plaintiff is entitled to take and hold the property for the public use specified, upon making compensation therefor, and the court shall thereupon appoint three disinterested and competent freeholders, residents of the judicial district embracing the county where the real property, or some part of it, is situated, or of some county adjoining such judicial district, commissioners to ascertain the compensation to be made to the owners for the property to be taken for the public use specified, and fix the time and place for the first meeting of the commissioners. Provided, however, that in any such proceeding instituted within the first or second judicial district, such commissioners shall be residents of the county where the real property, or some part of it, is situated.

or of some adjoining county. If a trial has been had, at least eight days' notice of such appointment must be given to all the defendants who have appeared. The parties may waive, in writing, the provisions of this section as to the residence of the commissioners, and in that case they may be residents of any county in the State. Where owners of separate properties are joined in the same proceeding, or separate properties of the same owner are to be condemned, more than one set of commissioners may be appointed.

Id. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 530 (in effect May 23, 1895).

§ 3370. [Added, 1880; am'd, 1888, 1913.] Powers and duties of commissioners.

The commissioners shall take and subscribe the constitutional oath of office. Any of them may issue subpœnas and administer oaths to witnesses; a majority of them may adjourn the proceeding before them, from time to time in their discretion. Whenever they meet, except by appointment of the court or pursuant to adjournment, they shall cause at least eight days' notice of such meeting to be given to the defendants who have appeared, or their agents or attorneys. They shall view the premises described in the petition, and hear the proof and allegations of the parties, and reduce the testimony taken by them, if any, to writing, and after the testimony in each case is closed, they, or a majority of them, all being present, shall, without unnecessary delay ascertain and determine the compensation which ought justly to be made by the plaintiff to the owners of the property appraised by them; and, in fixing the amount of such compensation, they shall not make any allowance or deduction on account of any real or supposed benefits which the owners may derive from the public use for which the property is to be taken, or the construction of any proposed improvement connected with such public use. But in case the plaintiff is a railroad corporation and such real property shall belong to any other railroad corporation, the commissioners on fixing the amount of such compensation, shall fix the same at its fair value for railroad purposes. They shall make a report of their proceedings to the supreme court with the minutes of the testimony taken by them, if any; and they shall each be entitled to six dollars for services for every day they are actually engaged in the performance of their duties, and their necessary expenses, to be paid by the plaintiff; provided, that in proceedings within the counties of New York and Kings, such commissioners shall be entitled to such additional compensation not exceeding twenty-five dollars for every such day, as may be awarded by the court, and provided that in proceedings instituted by a village or any board thereof under this title such commissioners shall be entitled to such additional compensation, not exceeding five dollars for every such day, as may be awarded by the court.

Id. Am'd by L. 1898, c. 384; L. 1913, c. 232 (in effect Sept. 1, 1913).

Upon filing the report of the commissioners, any party may move for its confirmation at a special term, held in the district where the property or some part of it is situated, upon notice to the other parties who have appeared, and upon such motion, the court may confirm the report, or may set it aside for irregularity, or for error of law in the proceedings before the commissioners, or upon the ground that the award is excessive or insufficient. If the report is set aside, the court may direct a rehearing before the same commissioners, or may appoint new commissioners for that purpose, and the proceedings upon such rehearing shall be conducted in the manner prescribed for the original hearing, and the same proceedings shall be had for the confirmation of the second report, as are herein prescribed for the confirmation of the first report. If the report is confirmed, the court shall enter a final order in the proceeding, directing that compensation shall be made to the owners of the property, pursuant to the determination of the commissioners, and that upon payment of such compensation, the plaintiff shall be entitled to enter into the possession of the property condemned, and take and hold it for the public use specified in the judgment. Deposit of the money to the credit of, or payable to the order of the owner, pursuant to the direction of the court, shall be deemed a payment within the provisions of this title.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95.

§ 3372. [Added, 1890.] Offer to purchase; costs; additional allowance.

In all cases where the owner is a resident and not under legal disability to convey title to real property the plaintiff, before service of his petition and notice, may make a written offer to purchase the property at a specified price, which must within ten days thereafter be filed in the office of the clerk of the county where the property is situated; and which cannot be given in evidence before the commissioners, or considered by them. The owner may at the time of the presentation of the petition, or at any time previously, serve notice in writing of the acceptance of plaintiff's offer, and thereupon the plaintiff may, upon filing the petition, with proof of the making of the offer, and its acceptance, enter an order that upon payment of the compensation agreed upon, he may enter into possession of the real property, described in the petition, and take and hold it for the public use therein specified. If the offer is not accepted, and the compensation awarded by the commissioners does not exceed the amount of the offer with interest from the time it was made, no costs shall be allowed to either party. If the compensation awarded shall exceed the amount of the offer with interest from the time it was made, or if no offer was made, the court shall, in the final order, direct that the defendant recover of the plaintiff the costs of the proceeding, to be taxed by the clerk at the same rate as is allowed, of course, to the defendant when he is the prevailing party in an action in the supreme court, including the allowances for proceedings, before and after notice of trial, and the court may also grant an additional allowance of costs, not exceeding five per centum upon the amount awarded. The court shall also direct in the final order what sum shall be paid to the general or special guardian, or committee or trustee of an infant, idiot, lunatic or habitual drunkard, or to an attorney appointed by the court to attend to the interests of any defendant upon whom other than personal service of the petition and notice may have been made, and who has not appeared, for costs, expenses and counsel fees, and by whom or out of what fund the same shall be paid. If a trial has been had, and all the issues determined in favor of the plaintiff, costs of the trial shall not be allowed to the defendant, but the plaintiff shall recover of any defendant answering the costs of such trial caused by the interposition of the unsuccessful defence, to be taxed by the clerk at the same rate as is allowed to the prevailing party for the trial of an action in the supreme court.

§ 3373. [Added, 1890.] Judgment, how enforced; delivery of possession of premises; when writ of assistance to issue.

Upon the entry of the final order, the same shall be attached to the judgment-roll in the proceeding, and the amount directed to be paid, either as compensation to the owners, or for the costs or expenses of the proceeding, shall be docketed as a judgment against the person who is directed to pay the same, and it shall have all the force and effect of a money judgment in an action in the supreme court, and collection thereof may be enforced by execution and by the same proceedings as judgments for the recovery of money in the supreme court may be enforced under the provisions of this act. When payment of the compensation awarded, and costs of the proceeding, if any, has been made, as directed in the final order, and a certified copy of such order has been served upon the owner, he shall, upon demand of the plaintiff, deliver possession thereof to him, and in case possession is not delivered when demanded, the plaintiff may apply to the court without notice, unless the court shall require notice to be given, upon proof of such payment and of service of the copy order, and of the demand and non-compliance therewith, for a writ of assistance, and the court shall thereupon cause such writ to be issued, which shall be executed in the same manner as when issued in other cases for the delivery of possession of real property.

Id.

§ 3374. [Added, 1890; am'd, 1894.] Abandonment and discontinuance of proceeding.

Upon the application of the plaintiff to be made at any time after the presentation of the petition and before the expiration of thirty days after the entry of the final order, upon eight days' notice of motion to all other parties to the proceeding who have appeared therein or upon an order to show cause, the court may, in its discretion, and for good cause shown, authorize and direct the abandonment and discontinuance of the proceeding, upon payment of the fees and expenses, if any, of the commissioners, and the costs and expenses directed to be paid in such final order, if such final order shall have been entered, and upon such other terms and conditions as the court may prescribe; and upon the entry of the order granting such application and upon compliance with the terms and conditions therein prescribed, payment of the amount awarded for compensation, if such compensation shall have been theretofore awarded, shall not be enforced, but in such case, if such abandonment and discontinuance of the proceeding be directed upon the application of the plaintiff, the order granting such application, if permitting a renewal of such proceedings, shall provide that proceedings to acquire title to such lands or any part thereof shall not be renewed by the plaintiff without a tender or deposit in court of the amount of the award and interest thereon.

Id. Am'd by L. 1894, c. 475 (in effect May 3, 1894).

§ 3375. [Added, 1890; am'd, 1895.] Appeal from final order; stay of proceedings.

Appeal may be taken to the appellate division of the supreme court from the final order, within the time provided for appeals from orders by title four of chapter twelve of this act; and all the provisions of such chapter relating to appeals to the appellate division of the supreme court from orders of the special term shall apply to such appeals. Such appeal will bring up for review all the proceedings subsequent to the judgment, but the judgment and proceedings antecedent thereto may be reviewed on such appeal, if the appellant states in his notice that the same will be brought up for review, and exceptions shall have been filed to the decision of the court or the referee, and a case or a case and exceptions shall have been made, settled and allowed, as required by the provisions of this act for the review of the trial of actions in the supreme court without a jury. The proceedings of the plaintiff shall not be stayed upon such an appeal, except by order of the court, upon notice to him, and the appeal shall not affect his possession of the property taken, and the appeal of a defendant shall not be heard except on his stipulation not to disturb such possession.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).

§ 3376. [Added, 1890; am'd, 1895.] Appeal by plaintiff to appellate division of Supreme Court.

If a trial has been had and judgment entered in favor of the defendant, the plaintiff may appeal therefrom to the appellate division of the supreme court within the time provided for appeals from judgments by title four of chapter twelve of this act, and all the provisions of said chapter relating to appeals from judgments shall apply to such appeals; and on the hearing of the appeal the appellate division may affirm, reverse or modify the judgment, and in case of reversal may grant a new trial, or direct that judgment be entered in favor of the plaintiff. If the judgment is affirmed, costs shall be allowed to the respondent, but if reversed or modified, no costs of the appeal shall be allowed to either party.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95. Am'd by L. 1895, c. 946 (in effect Jan. 1, 1896).

§ 3377. [Added, 1890.] Court may direct a new appraisal.

On the hearing of the appeal from the final order the court may direct a new appraisal before the same or new commissioners, in its discretion, and the report of such commissioners shall be final and conclusive upon all parties interested. If the amount of the compensation to be paid is increased by the last report, the difference shall be a lien upon the land appraised, and shall be paid to the parties entitled to the same, or shall be deposited as the court shall direct; and if the amount is diminished, the difference shall be refunded to the plaintiff by the party to whom the same may have been paid, and judgment therefor may be rendered by the court, on the filing of the last report, against the parties liable to pay the same.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95.

§ 3378. [Added, 1890.] Conflicting claimants.

If there are adverse and conflicting claimants to the money, or any part of it, to be paid as compensation for the property taken, the court may direct the money to be paid into the court by the plaintiff, and may determine who is entitled to the same, and direct to whom the same shall be paid, and may, in its discretion, order a reference to ascertain the facts on which such determination and direction are to be made.

Id.

§ 3379. [Added, 1890; am'd, 1900.] Plaintiff in possession may have stay of proceedings on giving security.

At any stage of the proceeding the court may authorize the plaintiff, if in possession of the property sought to be condemned, to continue in possession, and may stay all actions or proceedings against him on account thereof, upon giving security, or depositing such sum of money as the court may direct to be held as security for the payment of the compensation which may be finally awarded to the owner therefor and the costs of the proceedings, and in every such case the owner may conduct the proceeding to a conclusion, if the plaintiff delays or neglects to prosecute the same. When the final award to any owner is less than fifty dollars, in proceedings to condemn a right of way, for telephone or telegraph poles and wires, the allowance of costs, if any, and the amount thereof not exceeding that prescribed by statute, shall be in the discretion of the court in any action or proceeding that may have been or may hereafter be stayed, if the telephone or telegraph poles and wires, in such action or proceeding so stayed, shall have been erected for more than three years prior to the commencement thereof.

Id. Am'd by L. 1900, c. 774 (in effect Sept. 1, 1900).

§ 3380. [Added, 1890.] Temporary possession pending proceedings.

When an answer to the petition has been interposed, and it appears to the satisfaction of the court that the public interests will be prejudiced by delay, it may direct that the plaintiff be permitted to enter immediately upon the real property to be taken, and devote it temporarily to the public use specified in the petition, upon depositing with the court the sum stated in the answer as the value of the property, and which sum shall be applied, so far as it may be necessary for that purpose, to the payment of the award that may be made, and the costs and expenses of the proceeding, and the residue, if any, returned to the plaintiff, and, in case the petition should be dismissed, or no award should be made, or the proceedings should be abandoned by the plaintiff, the court shall direct that the money so deposited, so far as it may be necessary, shall be applied to the payment of any damages which the defendant may have sustained by such entry upon and use of his property, and his costs and expenses of the proceeding, such damages to be ascertained by the court, or a referee to be appointed for that purpose, and if the sum so deposited shall be insufficient to pay such damages, and all costs and expenses awarded to the defendant, judgment shall be entered against the plaintiff for the deficiency, to be enforced and collected in the same manner as a judgment in the supreme court; and the possession of the property shall be restored to the defendant.

Added by L. 1890, c. 95.

§ 3381. [Added, 1890.] Notice of pendency of action to be filed.

Upon service of the petition, or at any time afterwards before the entry of the final order, the plaintiff may file in the clerk's office of each county where any part of the property is situated, a notice of the pendency of the proceeding, stating the names of the parties and the object of the proceeding, and containing a brief description of the property affected thereby, and from the time of filing, such notice shall be constructive notice to a purchaser, or incumbrancer of the property affected thereby, from or against a defendant with respect to whom the notice is directed to be indexed, as herein prescribed, and a person whose conveyance or incumbrance is subsequently executed or subsequently recorded, is bound by all proceedings taken in the proceeding, after the filing of the notice, to the same extent as if he was a party thereto. The county clerk must immediately record such notice when filed in the book in his office kept for the purpose of recording notices of pendency of actions, and index it to the name of each defendant specified in the direction appended at the foot of the notice, and subscribed by the plaintiff or his attorney.

Id.

§ 3382. [Added, 1890.] Practice in cases not herein provided for.

In all proceedings under this title, where the mode or manner of conducting all or any of the proceedings therein is not expressly provided for by law, the court before whom such proceedings may be pending, shall have the power to make all necessary orders and give necessary directions to carry into effect the object and intent of this title, and of the several acts conferring authority to condemn lands for public use, and the practice in such cases shall conform, as near as may be, to the ordinary practice in such court.

Id.

§ 3383. [Added, 1890; am'd, 1890.] Repealing clause; limitations.

So much of all acts and parts of acts as prescribe a method of procedure in proceedings for the condemnation of real property for a public use is repealed, except such acts and parts of acts as prescribe a method of procedure for the condemnation of real property for public use as a highway, or as a street, avenue, or public place in an incorporated city or village, or as may prescribe methods of procedure for such condemnation for any public use for, by, on behalf, on the part, or in the name of the corporation of the city of New-York, known as the mayor, aldermen, and commonalty of the city of New-York, or by whatever name known, or by or on the application of any board, department, commissioners or other officers acting for or on behalf or in the name of such corporation or city, or where the title to the real property so to be acquired vests in such corporation or in such city; and all proceedings for the condemnation of real property embraced within the exceptions enumerated in this section are exempted from the operation of this title.

Id. Am'd by L. 1890, c. 247.

§ 3384. [Added, 1890.] When act takes effect.

This title shall take effect on the first day of May, 1890, and shall not affect any proceeding previously commenced.

§ 10. Acknowledge and acknowledgment.

The terms acknowledge and acknowledgment, when used with reference to the execution of an instrument or writing other than a deed of real property, include a compliance with the provisions of the next section by either such proof or acknowledgment.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 15 pt.

§ 11. Acknowledgment or proof of instrument.

When the execution of any instrument or writing is authorized or required by law to be acknowledged, or to be proven so as to entitle it to be filed or recorded in a public office, the acknowledgment may be taken or the proof made before any officer then and there authorized to take the acknowledgment or proof of the execution of a deed of real property to entitle it to be recorded in a county clerk's office, and shall be made and certified in the same manner as such acknowledgment or proof of such deed.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 15 pt.

§ 12. Affidavit.

When an affidavit is authorized or required it may be sworn to before any officer authorized by law to take the acknowledgment of deeds in this state, unless a particular officer is specified before whom it is to be taken.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 14 pt.

§ 13. Adjournment of meeting.

Any meeting referred to in section 41 of this chapter may be adjourned by a less number than a quorum.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 19 pt.

§ 14. Bond and undertaking.

A provision of law authorizing or requiring a bond to be given shall be deemed to have been complied with by the execution of an undertaking to the same effect.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 16.

§ 15. Chattels.
The term chattels includes goods and chattels.
From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 4 pt.

§ 16. Choose.
The term choose includes elect and appoint.
From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 17.

§ 17. Civil code and criminal code.
The term civil code means the code of civil procedure. The term criminal code means the code of criminal procedure.
From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 29.

§ 18. Consolidated Laws.
The term Consolidated Laws shall mean the compilation of the statutes prepared by the board of statutory consolidation and the amendments thereof.

§ 19. Day, calendar.
A calendar day includes the time from midnight to midnight. Sunday or any day of the week specifically mentioned means a calendar day.
From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 27 pt., as am'd by L. 1894, c. 447, § 1.

§ 20. [Am'd, 1910.] Day, computation.
A number of days specified as a period from a certain day within which or after or before which an act is authorized or required to be done means such number of calendar days exclusive of the calendar day from which the reckoning is made. Sunday or a public holiday, other than a half holiday, must be excluded from the reckoning if it is the last day of any such period, or if it is an intervening day of any such period of two days. In computing any specified period of time from a specified event, the day upon which the event happens is deemed the day from which the reckoning is made. The day from which any specified period of time is reckoned shall be excluded in making the reckoning.
From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 27 pt., as am'd by L. 1894, c. 447, § 1. Am'd by L. 1910, c. 347 (in effect May 21, 1910).

§ 21. [Am'd, 1914.] Folio.
The term folio shall mean one hundred words, counting each figure as a word. When an officer empowered by law to do so shall order an official advertisement published in a newspaper in display type or to be so displayed as to leave an unusual quantity of blank space in the advertisement, or to contain pictures or diagrams, or where the character of such advertisement requires it, such advertisement shall be paid for by measurement over all of such space necessarily used, two square inches of space to count as one folio. When there are over fifty and under one hundred words, they shall be counted as one folio; but a less number than fifty words shall not be counted, except when the whole statute, notice or order contains less than fifty words.
From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 11. Am'd by L. 1914, c. 72 (in effect March 24, 1914).

§ 22. Gender.
Words of the masculine gender include the feminine and the neuter, and may refer to a corporation, or to a board or other body or assemblage of persons; and, when the sense so indicates, words of the neuter gender may refer to any gender.
From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 8 pt.

§ 23. Heretofore and hereafter.
Each of the terms, heretofore and hereafter, in any provision of a statute, relates to the time such provision takes effect.
From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 9 pt.

§ 24. [Am'd, 1909.] Holiday and half holiday.

The term holiday includes the following days in each year: The first day of January, known as New Year's day; the twelfth day of February, known as Lincoln's birthday; the twenty-second day of February, known as Washington's birthday; the thirtieth day of May, known as Memorial day; the fourth day of July, known as Independence Day; the first Monday of September, known as Labor day; the twelfth day of October, known as Columbus Day; and the twenty-fifth day of December, known as Christmas day; and if either of such days is Sunday, the next day thereafter; each general election day and each day appointed by the president of the United States or by the governor of this state as a day of general thanksgiving, general fasting and prayer, or other general religious observances. The term half holiday includes the period from noon to midnight of each Saturday which is not a holiday.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 24 pt., as am'd by L. 1902, c. 39, § 1. Am'd by L. 1909, c. 112 (in effect March 23, 1909).

§ 25. Holiday in contractual obligations.

Where a contract by its terms requires the payment of money or the performance of a condition on a public holiday, such payment may be made or condition performed on the next business day succeeding such holiday, with the same force and effect as if made or performed in accordance with the terms of the contract.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 24 pt., as am'd by L. 1902, c. 39, § 1.

§ 26. Judge.

The term judge includes every judicial officer authorized, alone or with others, to hold or preside over a court of record.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 6.

§ 27. Last, preceding, next and following.

A reference to the last or preceding section, or other provision of a statute, means the section or other division immediately preceding, and a reference to the next or following section or other division of a statute means the section or other division immediately following.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 10.

§ 28. Lunatic and lunacy.

The terms lunatic and lunacy include every kind of unsoundness of mind except idiocy.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 7.

§ 29. Men.

The term men includes boys.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 8 pt.

§ 30. Month, computation.

A number of months after or before a certain day shall be computed by counting such number of calendar months from such day, exclusive of the calendar month in which such day occurs, and shall include the day of the month in the last month so counted having the same numerical order in days of the month as the day from which the computation is made, unless there be not so many days in the last month so counted, in which case the period computed shall expire with the last day of the month so counted.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 26 pt.

§ 31. Month in statute, contract and public or private instrument.

In a statute, contract or public or private instrument, unless otherwise provided in such contract or instrument or by law, the term month means a calendar month and not a lunar month.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 26 pt.

§ 32. Municipal officers.

A reference to several officers of a municipal corporation holding the same office, or to a board of such officers, shall be deemed to refer to the single officer holding such office, when but one person is chosen to fill such office in pursuance of law.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 18.

§ 33. Notice.

When a notice is required to be given to a board or body, service of such notice upon the clerk or chairman thereof shall be sufficient.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 20.

§ 34. Now.

The term now in any provision of a statute, referring to other laws in force, or to persons in office, or to any facts or circumstances as existing, relates to the laws in force, or to the person in office, or to the facts or circumstances existing, respectively, immediately before the taking effect of such provision.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 9 pt.

§ 35. Number, singular and plural.

Words in the singular number include the plural, and in the plural number include the singular.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 8 pt.

§ 36. Oath, affidavit and swear.

The terms oath and affidavit include every mode authorized by law of attesting the truth of that which is stated. The term swear includes every mode authorized by law for administering an oath.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 14 pt.

§ 37. Person.

The term person includes a corporation and a joint-stock association. When used to designate a party whose property may be the subject of any offense, the term person also includes the state, or any other state, government or country which may lawfully own property in the state.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 5.

§ 38. Property.

The term property includes real and personal property.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 2.

§ 39. Property, personal.

The term personal property includes chattels, money, things in action, and all written instruments themselves, as distinguished from the rights or interests to which they relate, by which any right, interest, lien or incumbrance in, to or upon property, or any debt or financial obligation is created, acknowledged, evidenced, transferred, discharged or defeated, wholly or in part, and everything, except real property, which may be the subject of ownership.

Oil wells and all fixtures connected therewith, situate on lands leased for oil purposes and oil interests, and rights held under and by virtue of any lease or contract or other right or license to operate for or produce petroleum oil, shall be deemed personal property for all purposes except taxation.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 4 pt.; L. 1883, c. 372, § 1.

§ 40. Property, real.

The term real property includes real estate, lands, tenements and hereditaments, corporeal and incorporeal.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 3.

§ 41. Quorum and majority.

Whenever three or more public officers are given any power or authority, or three or more persons are charged with any public duty to be performed or exercised by them jointly or as a board or similar body, a majority of all such persons or officers at a meeting duly held at a time fixed by law, or by any by-law duly adopted by such board or body, or at any duly adjourned meeting of such meeting, or at any meeting duly held upon reasonable notice to all of them, may perform and exercise such power, authority or duty, and if one or more of such persons or officers shall have died or have become mentally incapable of acting, or shall refuse or neglect to attend any such meeting, a majority of the whole number of such persons or officers shall be a quorum of such board or body, and a majority of a quorum, if not less than a majority of the whole number of such persons or officers, may perform and exercise any such power, authority or duty.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 19 pt.

§ 42. Register of county.

Any act done in pursuance of law by the register of a county shall be deemed to be a compliance with any provision of law authorizing or requiring such act to be done by the county clerk of such county, and any instrument or writing filed, entered or recorded in pursuance of law in the office of a register of a county, shall be deemed to be a compliance with any provision of law authorizing or requiring such paper to be filed, entered or recorded, as the case may be, in the office of the clerk of such county. The term county clerk when used in relation to conveyances of real property or the filing or recording of instruments which are or may be filed in the office of the register of a county, shall include the register of each county in which there is a register.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 21, as am'd by L. 1907, c. 200, § 1.

§ 43. Seal of court, public officer or corporation.

A seal of a court, public officer or corporation may be impressed directly upon the instrument or writing to be sealed, or upon wafer, wax or other adhesive substance affixed thereto, or upon paper, or other similar substance affixed thereto by mucilage or other adhesive substance.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 13 pt.

§ 44. Seal, private.

The private seal of a person, other than a corporation, to any instrument or writing shall consist of a wafer, wax or other similar adhesive substance affixed thereto, or of paper or other similar substance affixed thereto, by mucilage or other adhesive substance, or of the word "seal," or the letters "L. S.," opposite the signature.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 13 pt.

§ 45. Seal, private as corporate seal.

An instrument or writing duly executed, in the corporate name of a corporation, which shall not have adopted a corporate seal, by the proper officers of the corporation under their private seals, shall be deemed to have been executed under the corporate seal.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 13 pt.

§ 46. Signature.

The term signature includes any memorandum, mark or sign, written or placed upon any instrument or writing with intent to execute or authenticate such instrument or writing.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 12 pt.

§ 47. State.

The term state, when used generally to include every state of the United States, includes also every territory of the United States and the District of Columbia.

The term territory when used generally to include every territory of the United States, includes also the District of Columbia.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 26 pt.

§ 50. Time, computation.

Time shall continue to be computed in this state according to the Gregorian or new style. The first day of each year after the year seventeen hundred and fifty-two is the first day of January, according to such style.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 25 pt.

§ 51. Time, night.

Night time includes the time from sunset to sunrise.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 27 pt., as am'd by L. 1894, c. 447, § 1.

§ 52. Time, standard.

The standard time throughout this state is that of the seventy-fifth meridian of longitude west from Greenwich, and all courts and public officers, and legal and official proceedings, shall be regulated thereby.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 28 pt.

§ 53. Time, use of standard.

Any act required by or in pursuance of law to be performed at or within a prescribed time, shall be performed according to the standard time.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 28 pt.

§ 54. Village.

The term village means an incorporated village.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 22.

§ 55. Women.

The term women includes girls.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 8 pt.

§ 56. Writing and written.

The terms writing and written include every legible representation of letters upon a material substance, except when applied to the signature of an instrument.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 12 pt.

§ 57. Year, common and leap.

For the purpose of computing and reckoning the days of the year in the same regular course in the future, every year, the number of which in the Christian era is a multiple of four, is a bissextile or leap year consisting of three hundred and sixty-six days, unless such number of the year is a multiple of one hundred and the first two figures thereof treated as a separate number is not a multiple of four, and every year which is not a leap year is a common year consisting of three hundred and sixty-five days.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 25 pt.

§ 58. Year in statute, contract and public or private instrument.

The term year in a statute, contract or any public or private instrument, means three hundred and sixty-five days, but the added day of a leap year and the day immediately preceding shall for the purpose of such computation be counted as one day. In a statute, contract or public or private instrument, the term year means twelve months, the term half year, six months, and the term a quarter of a year, three months.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 25 pt.

Sec. 70. Statutes of England and Great Britain inoperative in this State.
71. Acts of the legislature of the colony of New York inoperative.
72. Resolutions of the congress of the colony and the convention of New York inoperative.

§ 70. Statutes of England and Great Britain inoperative in this State.

A statute of England or Great Britain shall not be deemed to have had any force or effect in this state since May 1, 1788.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 30 pt.

§ 71. Acts of the legislature of the colony of New York inoperative.

Acts of the legislature of the colony of New York shall not be deemed to have had any force or effect in this state since December 29, 1828.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 30 pt.

§ 72. Resolutions of the congress of the colony and the convention of New York inoperative.

The resolutions of the congress of the colony of New York and of the convention of the state of New York, shall not be deemed to be the laws of this state hereafter.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 30 pt.

ARTICLE 4.

References, Titles and Head Notes.

Sec. 80. References to repealed provisions.
81. Titles and head notes.

§ 80. References to repealed provisions.

If any provision of a law be repealed and, in substance, re-enacted, a reference in any law to such repealed provision shall be deemed a reference to such re-enacted provision.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 32 pt., as am'd by L. 1894, c. 448, § 1.

§ 81. Titles and head notes.

If the title of any article or other division of a statute, or the head note of a section shall be amended or repealed in the body of the statute, or if a new article or other division having a title, or a new section having a new head note be added to a statute, the corresponding title or head note, if any, in an abstract of contents at the beginning of the article or other division of the statute, shall be deemed to be correspondingly amended or repealed, although there be no express reference thereto.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 34.

ARTICLE 5.

Effect of Repeals.

Sec. 90. Effect of the repeal of a repealing statute.
91. Effect of the repeal of a statute upon amendments thereof.
92. Effect of the repeal of an amending statute.
93. Effect of repealing statute upon existing rights.
94. Effect of repealing statute upon pending actions and proceedings.
95. Effect of the repeal of a statute by another statute substantially re-enacting the former.
96. Effect of hyphen in schedule of repeals.

§ 90. Effect of the repeal of a repealing statute.

The repeal hereafter or by this chapter of any provision of a statute, which repeals any provision of a prior statute, does not revive such prior provision.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 31 pt.

§ 91. Effect of the repeal of a statute upon amendments thereof.

The repeal by the consolidated laws of a statute includes a statute amendatory of the statute repealed.

§ 92. Effect of the repeal of an amending statute.

The repeal hereafter or by this chapter of any provision of a statute, which amends a provision of a prior statute, leaves such prior provision in force unless the amendatory statute be a substantial re-enactment of the statute amended.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 31 pt.

§ 93. Effect of repealing statute upon existing rights.

The repeal of a statute or part thereof shall not affect or impair any act done, offense committed, or right accruing, accrued or acquired, or liability, penalty, forfeiture or punishment incurred prior to the time such repeal takes effect, but the same may be enjoyed, asserted, enforced, prosecuted or inflicted, as fully and to the same extent as if such repeal had not been effected.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 31 pt.

§ 94. Effect of repealing statute upon pending actions and proceedings.

Unless otherwise specially provided by law, all actions and proceedings, civil or criminal, commenced under or by virtue of any provision of a statute so repealed, and pending immediately prior to the taking effect of such repeal, may be prosecuted and defended to final effect in the same manner as they might if such provisions were not so repealed.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 31 pt.

§ 95. Effect of the repeal of a statute by another statute substantially re-enacting the former.

The provisions of a law repealing a prior law, which are substantial re-enactments of provisions of the prior law, shall be construed as a continuation of such provisions of such prior law, modified or amended according to the language employed, and not as new enactments.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 32 pt., as am'd by L. 1894, c. 448, § 1.

§ 96. Effect of hyphen in schedule of repeals.

When two numbers in a schedule of repeals of the consolidated laws are connected by a hyphen both such numbers are included as well as all intermediate numbers.

ARTICLE 6.

Effect of Consolidated Laws.

Sec. 100. Effect of consolidation upon laws passed at same session or before consolidation takes effect.
101. Effect of Consolidated Laws and Code of Civil Procedure on Penal and Criminal Codes.

§ 100. Effect of consolidation upon laws passed at same session or before consolidation takes effect.

No provision of any chapter of the consolidation of the general laws, of which this chapter is a part, shall supersede or repeal by implication any law passed at the same session of the legislature at which any such chapter was enacted, or passed after the enactment of any such chapter and before it shall have taken effect; and an amendatory law passed at such session or at any subsequent session begun before any such chapter takes effect, shall not be deemed repealed, unless specifically designated in the repealing schedule of such chapter.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 33.

§ 101. Effect of consolidated laws on penal law and civil and criminal codes.

The Consolidated Laws shall not be construed to amend, repeal or otherwise affect any provision of the Penal Law, Code of Civil Procedure or Code of Criminal Procedure unless expressly so stated.

ARTICLE 7.

Application of Chapter.

Sec. 110. Application of chapter.

§ 110. Application of chapter.

This chapter is applicable to every statute unless its general object, or the context of the language construed, or other provisions of law indicate that a different meaning or application was intended from that required to be given by this chapter.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 1 pt.

ARTICLE 8.

Laws Repealed; When to Take Effect.

Sec. 120. Laws repealed.
121. When to take effect.

§ 120. Laws repealed.

Of the laws enumerated in the schedule hereto annexed,[1] that portion specified in the last column is hereby repealed.

From Stat'ry Constr'n Law, § 35.

§ 121. When to take effect.

This chapter shall take effect immediately.[2]

[1] The original statute (L. 1909, c. 27) has appended to it a schedule of laws repealed. But this schedule is not of sufficient importance to reprint it here.
[2] This act took effect February 17, 1909.

§ 17. Devise or bequest to certain societies, associations and corporations.

No person having a husband, wife, child or parent, shall, by his or her last will and testament, devise or bequeath to any benevolent, charitable, literary, scientific, religious or missionary society, association or corporation, in trust or otherwise, more than one-half part of his or her estate, after the payment of his or her debts, and such devise or bequest shall be valid to the extent of one-half, and no more.

From L. 1860, c. 360.

§§ 18, 19, 20. [Repealed by L. 1911, c. 857.]

§ 21. Manner of execution of will.

Every last will and testament of real or personal property, or both, shall be executed and attested in the following manner:

1. It shall be subscribed by the testator at the end of the will.

3. The testator, at the time of making such subscription, or at the time of acknowledging the same, shall declare the instrument so subscribed, to be his last will and testament.

4. There shall be at least two attesting witnesses, each of whom shall sign his name as a witness, at the end of the will, at the request of the testator.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 6, Tit. 1, Art. 3, § 40.

§ 22. Witnesses to will to write names and places of residence.

The witnesses to any will, shall write opposite to their names their respective places of residence; and every person who shall sign the testator's name to any will by his direction, shall write his own name as a witness to the will. Whoever shall neglect to comply with either of these provisions, shall forfeit fifty dollars, to be recovered by any person interested in the property devised or bequeathed, who will sue for the same. Such omission shall not affect the validity of any will; nor shall any person liable to the penalty aforesaid, be excused or incapacitated on that account, from testifying respecting the execution of such will.

From Id., Art. 3, § 41.

§ 23. What wills may be proved.

A will of real or personal property, executed as prescribed by the laws of the state, or a will of personal property executed without the state, and within the United States, the Dominion of Canada, or the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, as prescribed by the laws of the state or country where it is or was executed, or a will of personal property executed by a person not a resident of the state, according to the laws of the testator's residence, may be admitted to probate in this state.

From L. 1876, c. 118, §§ 1, 2.

§ 24. Effect of change of residence since execution of will.

The right to have a will admitted to probate, the validity of the execution thereof, or the validity or construction of any provision contained therein, is not affected by a change of the testator's residence made since the execution of the will.

From Id., § 3.

§ 25. Application of certain provisions to wills previously made.

The last two sections apply only to a will executed by a person dying after April 11, 1876, and they do not invalidate a will executed before that date, which would have been valid but for the enactment of sections one and two of chapter 118 of the laws of 1876, except where such a will is revoked or altered, by a will which those sections rendered valid, or capable of being proved as prescribed in article first of title third of chapter eighteen of the code of civil procedure.

From Id., §§ 4, 5. Sections 1 and 2 of L. 1876, c. 118, referred to in this section, were the same as § 23, supra, Art. 1, Tit. 3, of c. 18 of Code Civ. Pro., referred to in this section, corresponds, in general, with Art. 2, Tit. 3, of c. 18 of the present Code.

§ 26. Child born after making of will.

Whenever a testator shall have a child born after the making of a last will, either in the lifetime or after the death of such testator, and shall die leaving such child, so after-born, unprovided for by any settlement, and neither provided for, nor in any way mentioned in such will, every such child shall succeed to the same portion of such parent's real and personal estate, as would have descended or been distributed to such child, if such parent had died intestate, and shall be entitled to recover the same portion from the devisees and legatees, in proportion to and out of the parts devised and bequeathed to them by such will.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 6, Tit. 1, Art. 3, § 49, as am'd by L. 1869, c. 22, § 1.

§ 27. Devise or bequest to subscribing witness.

If any person shall be a subscribing witness to the execution of any will, wherein any beneficial devise, legacy, interest or appointment of any real or personal estate shall be made to such witness, and such will cannot be proved without the testimony of such witness, the said devise, legacy, interest or appointment shall be void, so far only as concerns such witness, or any claiming under him; and such person shall be a competent witness, and compellable to testify respecting the execution of the said will, in like manner as if no such devise or bequest had been made.

But if such witness would have been entitled to any share of the testator's estate, in case the will was not established, then so much of the share that would have descended, or have been distributed to such witness, shall be saved to him, as will not exceed the value of the devise or bequest made to him in the will, and he shall recover the same of the devisees or legatees named in the will, in proportion to, and out of, the parts devised and bequeathed to them.

From Id., Art. 3, §§ 50, 51.

§ 28. Action by child born after making of will, or by subscribing witness.

A child, born after the making of a will, who is entitled to succeed to a part of the real or personal property of the testator, or a subscribing witness to a will, who is entitled to succeed to a share of such property, may maintain an action against the legatees or devisees, as the case requires, to recover his share of the property; and he is subject to the same liabilities, and has the same rights, and is entitled to the same remedies, to compel a distribution or partition of the property, or a contribution from other persons interested in the estate, or to gain possession of the property, as any other person who is so entitled to succeed.

From former § 1868 of the Code Civ. Pro.

§ 29. Devise or bequest to child or descendant, or to a brother or sister of the testator, not to lapse.

Whenever any estate, real or personal, shall be devised or bequeathed to a child or other descendant of the testator, or to a brother or sister of the testator, and such legatee or devisee shall die during the lifetime of the testator, leaving a child or other descendant who shall survive such testator, such devise or legacy shall not lapse, but the property so devised or bequeathed shall vest in the surviving child or other descendant of the legatee or devisee, as if such legatee or devisee had survived the testator and had died intestate.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 6, Tit. 1, Art. 3, § 52, as am'd by L. 1912, c. 384 (in effect May 5, 1912).

§ 30. Reception of wills for safe keeping.

The clerk of every county in this state, the register of deeds in the city and county of New York, and the surrogate of every county, upon being paid the fees allowed therefor by law, shall receive and deposit in their offices respectively, any last will or testament which any person shall deliver to them for that purpose, and shall give a written receipt therefor to the person depositing the same.

From R. S., Part 3, c. 7, Tit. 3, Art. 7, § 67.

§ 31. Sealing and indorsing wills received for safe keeping.

Such will shall be inclosed in a sealed wrapper, so that the contents thereof cannot be read, and shall have indorsed thereon the name of the testator, his place of residence, and the day, month and year when delivered; and shall not, on any pretext whatever, be opened, read or examined, until delivered to a person entitled to the same, as hereinafter directed.

From Id., Art. 7, § 68.

§ 32. Delivery of wills received for safe keeping.

Such will shall be delivered only,

1. To the testator in person; or,

2. Upon his written order, duly proved by the oath of a subscribing witness; or,

3. After his death to the persons named in the indorsement on the wrapper of such will, if any such indorsement be made thereon; or,

4. If there be no such indorsement, and if the same shall have been deposited with any other officer than a surrogate, then to the surrogate of the county.

From Id., Art. 7, § 69.

§ 33. Opening wills received by surrogate for safe keeping.

If such will shall have been deposited with a surrogate, or shall have been delivered to him as above prescribed, such surrogate, after the death of the testator, shall publicly open and examine the same, and make known the contents thereof, and shall file the same in his office, there to remain until it shall have been duly proved, if capable of proof, and then to be delivered to the person entitled to the custody thereof; or until required by the authority of some competent court to produce the same in such court.

From Id., Art. 7, § 70.

§ 34. Revocation and cancellation of written wills.

No will in writing, except in the cases hereinafter mentioned, nor any part thereof, shall be revoked, or altered, otherwise than by some other will in writing, or some other writing of the testator, declaring such revocation or alteration, and executed with the same formalities with which the will itself was required by law to be executed; or unless such will be burnt, torn, canceled, obliterated or destroyed, with the intent and for the purpose of revoking the same, by the testator himself, or by another person in his presence, by his direction and consent; and when so done by another person, the direction and consent of the testator, and the fact of such injury or destruction, shall be proved by at least two witnesses.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 6, Tit. 1, Art. 3, § 42.

§ 35. Revocation by marriage and birth of issue.

If after the making of any will, disposing of the whole estate of the testator, such testator shall marry, and have issue of such marriage, born either in his lifetime or after his death, and the wife or the issue of such marriage shall be living at the death of the testator, such will shall be deemed revoked, unless provision shall have been made for such issue by some settlement, or unless such issue shall be provided for in the will, or in such way mentioned therein, as to show an intention not to make such provision; and no other evidence to rebut the presumption of such revocation, shall be received.

From Id., Art. 3, § 43.

§ 36. Will of unmarried woman.

A will executed by an unmarried woman, shall be deemed revoked by her subsequent marriage.

From Id., Art. 3, § 44.

§ 37. Bond or agreement to convey property devised or bequeathed not a revocation.

A bond, agreement, or covenant, made for a valuable consideration, by a testator, to convey any property devised or bequeathed in any will previously made, shall not be deemed a revocation of such previous devise or bequest, either at law or in equity; but such property shall pass by the devise or bequest, subject to the same remedies on such bond, agreement or covenant, for a specific performance or otherwise, against the devisees or legatees, as might be had by law against the heirs of the testator, or his next of kin, if the same had descended to them.

From Id., Art. 3, § 45.

§ 38. Charge or incumbrance not a revocation.

A charge or incumbrance upon any real or personal estate, for the purpose of securing the payment of money, or the performance of any covenant, shall not be deemed a revocation of any will relating to the same estate, previously executed; but the devises and legacies therein contained, shall pass and take effect, subject to such charge or incumbrance.

From Id., Art. 3, § 46.

§ 39. Conveyance, when not to be deemed a revocation.

A conveyance, settlement, deed, or other act of a testator, by which his estate or interest in property, previously devised or bequeathed by him, shall be altered, but not wholly divested, shall not be deemed a revocation of the devise or bequest of such property; but such devise or bequest shall pass to the devisee or legatee, the actual estate or interest of the testator, which would otherwise descend to his heirs, or pass to his next of kin; unless in the instrument by which such alteration is made, the intention is declared, that it shall operate as a revocation of such previous devise or bequest.

From Id., Art. 3, § 47.

§ 40. Conveyance, when to be deemed a revocation.

But if the provisions of the instrument by which such alteration is made, are wholly inconsistent with the terms and nature of such previous devise or bequest, such instrument shall operate as a revocation thereof, unless such provisions depend on a condition or contingency, and such condition be not performed, or such contingency do not happen.

From Id., Art. 3, § 48.

§ 41. Canceling or revocation of second will not to revive first.

If, after the making of any will, the testator shall duly make and execute a second will, the destruction, canceling or revocation of such second will, shall not revive the first will, unless it appear by the terms of such revocation, that it was his intention to revive and give effect to his first will; or unless after such destruction, canceling or revocation, he shall duly republish his first will.

From Id., Art. 3, § 53.

§ 42. Record of wills in county clerk's office.

A will of real property, which has been, at any time, either before or after this chapter takes effect duly proved in the supreme court, or the court of chancery, or before a surrogate of the state with the certificate of proof thereof annexed thereto, or indorsed thereon, or an exemplified copy thereof, may be recorded in the office of the clerk or the register, as the case requires, of any county in the state, in the same manner as a deed of real property. Where the will relates to real property, the executor or administrator, with the will annexed, must cause the same, or an exemplified copy thereof, to be so recorded, in each county where real property of the testator is situated, within twenty days after letters are issued to him. An exemplification of the record of such a will, from any surrogate's or other office where the same has been so recorded, either before or after this chapter takes effect, may be in like manner recorded in the office of the clerk or register of any county. Such a record or exemplification, or an exemplification of the record thereof, must be received in evidence, as if the original will was produced and proved.

From former § 2633 of the Code Civ. Pro., as am'd by L. 1881, c. 535; L. 1882, c. 399.

§ 43. County clerk's index of recorded wills.

Upon recording a will or exemplification, as prescribed in the last section, the clerk or register must index it in the same books, and substantially in the same manner, as if it was a deed recorded in his office.

From former § 2634 of the Code Civ. Pro.

§ 44. Recording will proved in another state or foreign country.

Where real property situated within this state, or an interest therein, is devised or made subject to a power of disposition by a will duly executed in conformity with the laws of this state, of a person who was at the time of his, or her death, a resident elsewhere within the United States, or in a foreign country, and such will has been admitted to probate within the state or territory, or foreign country, where the decedent so resided, and is filed or recorded in the proper office as prescribed by the laws of that state or territory or foreign country, a copy of such will or of the record thereof and of the proofs or of the records thereof, or if the proofs are not on file or recorded in such office, of any statement, on file or recorded in such office, of the substance of the proofs, authenticated as prescribed in section 45 of this chapter, or if no proofs and no statement of the substance of the proofs be on file or recorded in such office, a copy of such will or of the record thereof, authenticated as prescribed in said section 45, accompanied by a certificate that no proofs or statement of the substance of proof of such will, are or is on file or recorded in such office, made and likewise authenticated as prescribed in said section 45, may be recorded in the office of the surrogate of any county in this state where such real property is situated; and such record in the office of such surrogate or an exemplified copy thereof shall be presumptive evidence of such will and of the execution thereof, in any action or special proceeding relating to such real property.

From former § 2703 of the Code Civ. Pro., as am'd by L. 1909, c. 240, § 13.

§ 45. Authentication of papers from another state or foreign country for use in this state.

To entitle a copy of a will admitted to probate or of letters testamentary or of letters of administration, granted in any other state or in any territory of the United States, and of the proofs or of any statement of the substance of the proofs of any such will, or of the record of any such will, letters, proofs or statement, to be recorded or used in this state as provided in article 7 of title 3 of chapter 18 of the code of civil procedure or in section 44 of this chapter, such copy must be authenticated by the seal of the court or officer by which or whom such will was admitted to probate or such letters were granted, or having the custody of the same or of the record thereof, and the signature of a judge of such court or the signature of such officer and of the clerk of such court or officer if any; and must be further authenticated by a certificate under the great or principal seal of such state or territory, and the signature of the officer who has the custody of such seal, to the effect that the court or officer by which or whom such will was admitted to probate or such letters were granted, was duly authorized by the laws of such state or territory to admit wills to probate or to grant letters testamentary or of administration and to keep the same and records thereof; that the seal of such court or officer affixed to such copy is genuine, and that the officer making such certificate under such seal of such state or territory verily believes that each of the signatures attesting such copy is genuine; and to entitle any certificate concerning proofs accompanying the copy of the will or of the record so authenticated, to be recorded or used in this state, as provided in said article or section, such certificate must be under the seal of the court or officer by which or whom such will was admitted to probate, or having the custody of such will or record, and the signature of a judge or the clerk of such court, or the signature of such officer, authenticated by a certificate under such great or principal seal of such state or territory, and the signature of the officer having the custody thereof, to the effect that the seal of the court or officer affixed to such certificate concerning proofs is genuine, and that such officer making such certificate under such seal of such state or territory, verily believes that the signature to such certificate concerning proofs is genuine. To entitle a copy of a will admitted to probate or of letters testamentary, or of letters of administration, granted in a foreign country, and of the proofs or of any statement of the substance of the proofs of any such will, or of the record of any such will, letters, proofs or statement, to be recorded or used in this state, as provided in said article or section, such copy must be authenticated in the manner prescribed by the laws of such foreign country, and must be further authenticated by a certificate of a judge of a court of record or by the chief officer of the department of justice of such foreign country to the effect that such authentication is in conformity with the laws of such foreign country, and that the court or officer by which or by whom such will was so admitted to probate, or such letters were granted, was duly authorized by the laws of such foreign country to admit wills to probate, or to grant letters testamentary or of administration, and to keep the same and records thereof; and the signature and official character of such judge or court of record or of such chief officer of the department of justice shall be attested by a consular officer of the United States, resident in such foreign country, under the seal of his office; and to entitle any certificate concerning proofs accompanying the copy of the will or of the records so authenticated, to be used and recorded in this state, as provided in said article or section, such certificate concerning the proofs must be similarly authenticated and attested.

From former § 2704 of the Code Civ. Pro., as am'd by L. 1909, c. 804.

§ 46. Validity of purchase notwithstanding devise.

The title of a purchaser in good faith and for a valuable consideration, from the heir of a person who died seized of real property, shall not be affected by a devise of the property made by the latter, unless within four years after the testator's death, the will devising the same is either admitted to probate and recorded as a will of real property in the office of the surrogate having jurisdiction, or established by the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction of the state, in an action brought for that purpose. But if, at the time of the testator's death, the devisee is either within the age of twenty-one years, or insane, or imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution upon conviction of a criminal offense, for a term less than for life; or without the state; or, if the will was concealed by one or more of the heirs of the testator, the limitation created by this section does not begin until after the expiration of one year from the removal of such a disability, or the delivery of the will to the devisee or his representative, or to the proper surrogate.

From former § 2628 of the Code Civ. Pro.

§ 47. Validity and effect of testamentary dispositions.

The validity and effect of a testamentary disposition of real property, situated within the state, or of an interest in real property so situated, which would descend to the heir of an intestate, and the manner in which such property or such an interest descends, where it is not disposed of by will, are regulated by the laws of the state, without regard to the residence of the decedent. Except where special provision is otherwise made by law, the validity and effect of a testamentary disposition of any other property situated within the state, and the ownership and disposition of such property, where it is not disposed of by will, are regulated by the laws of the state or country, of which the decedent was a resident, at the time of his death. Whenever a decedent, being a citizen of the United States, wherever resident, shall have declared in his will and testament that he elects that such testamentary dispositions shall be construed and regulated by the laws of this state, the validity and effect of such dispositions shall be determined by such laws.

From former § 2694 of the Code Civ. Pro., as am'd by L. 1911, c. 244 (in effect June 6, 1911).

§ 48. Application of certain sections in this article.

Section 2514 of the code of civil procedure is applicable to the provisions of sections 23 to 25, both inclusive, and sections 42 to 47, both inclusive, of this chapter.

Added by L. 1909, c. 240, § 16 (in effect April 22, 1909). What was § 2714 of the Code when this amendment was adopted is now § 2768.

104. Application of certain sections in this article.

§ 80. Definitions and use of terms; effect of article.

1. The term "real property" as used in this article, includes every estate, interest and right, legal and equitable, in lands, tenements and hereditaments, except such as are determined or extinguished by the death of an intestate, seized or possessed thereof, or in any manner entitled thereto; leases for years, estates for the life of another person; and real property held in trust, not devised by the beneficiary. "Inheritance" means real property as herein defined, descended according to the provisions of this article.

2. The expressions "Where the inheritance shall have come to the intestate on the part of the father" or "mother," as the case may be, include every case where the inheritance shall have come to the intestate by devise, gift or descent from the parent referred to, or from any relative of the blood of such parent.

3. When in this article a person is described as "living," it means living at the time of the death of the intestate from whom the descent came; when he is described as having "died," it means that he died before such intestate.

4. This article does not affect a limitation of an estate by deed or will, or tenancy by the curtesy or dower.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 2, §§ 20, 21, 27, 28, 29.

§ 81. General rule of descent.

The real property of a person who dies without devising the same shall descend:

1. To his lineal descendants.
2. To his father.
3. To his mother; and

4. To his collateral relatives, as prescribed in the following sections of this article.

From Id., § 1.

§ 82. Lineal descendants of equal degree.

If the intestate leave descendants in the direct line of lineal descent, all of equal degree of consanguinity to him, the inheritance shall descend to them in equal parts however remote from him the common degree of consanguinity may be.

From Id., § 2.

§ 83. Lineal descendants of unequal degree.

If any of the descendants of such intestate be living, and any be dead, the inheritance shall descend to the living, and the descendants of the dead, so that each living descendant shall inherit such share as would have descended to him had all the descendants in the same degree of consanguinity who shall have died leaving issue been living; and so that issue of the descendants who shall have died shall respectively take the shares which their ancestors would have received.

From Id., §§ 3, 4.

§ 84. When father inherits.

If the intestate die without lawful descendants, and leave a father, the inheritance shall go to such father, unless the inheritance came to the intestate on the part of his mother, and she be living; if she be dead, the inheritance descending on her part shall go to the father for life, and the reversion to the brothers and sisters of the intestate and their descendants, according to the law of inheritance by collateral relatives hereinafter provided; if there be no such brothers or sisters or their descendants living, such inheritance shall descend to the father in fee.

From Id., § 5.

§ 85. When mother inherits.

If the intestate die without descendants and leave no father, or leave a father not entitled to take the inheritance under the last section, and leave a mother, and a brother or sister, or the descendant of a brother or sister, the inheritance shall descend to the mother for life, and the reversion to such brothers and sisters of the intestate as may be living, and the descendants of such as may be dead, according to the same law of inheritance hereinafter provided. If the intestate in such case leave no brother or sister or descendant thereof, the inheritance shall descend to the mother in fee.

From Id., § 6.

§ 86. When collateral relatives inherit; collateral relatives of equal degree.

If there be no father or mother capable of inheriting the estate, it shall descend in the cases hereinafter specified to the collateral relatives of the intestate; and if there be several such relatives, all of equal degree of consanguinity to the intestate, the inheritance shall descend to them in equal parts, however remote from him the common degree of consanguinity may be.

From Id., § 7.

§ 87. Brothers and sisters and their descendants.

If all the brothers and sisters of the intestate be living, the inheritance shall descend to them; if any of them be living and any be dead, to the brothers and sisters living, and the descendants, in whatever degree, of those dead; so that each living brother or sister shall inherit such share as would have descended to him or her if all the brothers and sisters of the intestate who shall have died, leaving issue, had been living, and so that such descendants in whatever degree shall collectively inherit the share which their parent would have received if living; and the same rule shall prevail as to all direct lineal descendants of every brother and sister of the intestate whenever such descendants are of unequal degrees.

From Id., §§ 8, 9.

§ 88. Brothers and sisters of father and mother and their descendants and grandparents.

If there be no heir entitled to take, under either of the preceding sections, the inheritance, if it shall have come to the intestate on the part of the father, shall descend:

1. To the brothers and sisters of the father of the intestate in equal shares, if all be living.

2. If any be living, and any shall have died, leaving issue, to such brothers and sisters as shall be living and to the descendants of such as shall have died.

3. If all such brothers and sisters shall have died, to their descendants.

4. If there be no such brothers or sisters of such father, nor any descendants of such brothers or sisters, to the brothers and sisters of the mother of the intestate, and to the descendants of such as shall have died, or if all have died, to their descendants. But, if the inheritance shall have come to the intestate on the part of his mother, it shall descend to her brothers and sisters and their descendants; and if there be none, to the brothers and sisters of the father and their descendants, in the manner aforesaid. If the inheritance has not come to the intestate on the part of either father or mother, it shall descend to the brothers and sisters both of the father and mother of the intestate, and their descendants in the same manner. In all cases mentioned in this section the inheritance shall descend to the brothers and sisters of the intestate's father or mother, as the case may be, or to their descendants in like manner as if they had been the brothers and sisters of the intestate.

5. If there be no such brothers or sisters of such father or mother, nor any descendants of such brothers or sisters, the inheritance, if it shall have come to the intestate on the part of his father, shall descend to his father's parents, then living, in equal parts, and if they be dead, then to his mother's parents, then living, in equal parts; but if the inheritance shall have come to the intestate on the part of his mother, it shall descend to his mother's parents, then living, in equal parts, and if they be dead, to his father's parents, then living, in equal parts. If the inheritance has not come to the intestate on the part of either father or mother, it shall descend to his living grandparents in equal parts.

From Id., §§ 10-13, as am'd by L. 1904, c. 106.

§ 89. Illegitimate children.

If an intestate who shall have been illegitimate die without lawful issue, or illegitimate issue entitled to take, under this section, the inheritance shall descend to his mother; if she be dead, to his relatives on her part, as if he had been legitimate. If a woman die without lawful issue, leaving an illegitimate child, the inheritance shall descend to him as if he were legitimate. In any other case illegitimate children or relatives shall not inherit.

From Id., §§ 14, 19; L. 1858, c. 547.

§ 90. Relatives of the half-blood.

Relatives of the half-blood and their descendants, shall inherit equally with those of the whole blood and their descendants, in the same degree, unless the inheritance came to the intestate by descent, devise or gift from an ancestor; in which case all those who are not of the blood of such ancestor shall be excluded from such inheritance.

From Id., § 15.

§ 91. Relatives of husband or wife.

When the inheritance shall have come to the intestate from a deceased husband or wife, as the case may be, and there be no person entitled to inherit under any of the preceding sections, then such real property of such intestate shall descend to the heirs of such deceased husband or wife, as the case may be, and the persons entitled, under the provisions of this section, to inherit such real property, shall be deemed to be the heirs of such intestate.

From L. 1901, c. 481.

§ 92. Cases not hereinbefore provided for.

In all cases not provided for by the preceding sections of this article, the inheritance shall descend according to the course of the common law.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 2, § 16.

§ 93. Posthumous children and relatives.

A descendant or a relative of the intestate begotten before his death, but born thereafter, shall inherit in the same manner as if he had been born in the lifetime of the intestate and had survived him.

From Id., § 18.

§ 94. Inheritance, sole or in common.

When there is but one person entitled to inherit, he shall take and hold the inheritance solely; when an inheritance or a share of an inheritance descends to several persons they shall take as tenants in common, in proportion to their respective rights.

From Id., § 17.

§ 95. Alienism of ancestor.

A person capable of inheriting under the provisions of this article, shall not be precluded from such inheritance by reason of the alienism of an ancestor.

From Id., § 22.

§ 96. Advancements of real and personal estates.

If a child of an intestate shall have been advanced by him, by settlement or portion, real or personal property, the value thereof must be reckoned for the purposes of descent and distribution as part of the real and personal property of the intestate descendible to his heirs and to be distributed to his next of kin; and if such advancement be equal to or greater than the amount of the share which such child would be entitled to receive of the estate of the deceased, such child and his descendants shall not share in the estate of the intestate; but if it be less than such share, such child and his descendants shall receive so much, only, of the personal property, and inherit so much only, of the real property, of the intestate, as shall be sufficient to make all the shares of all the children in the whole property, including the advancement, equal. The value of any real or personal property so advanced, shall be deemed to be that, if any, which was acknowledged by the child by an instrument in writing; otherwise it must be estimated according to the worth of the property when given. Maintaining or educating a child, or giving him money without a view to a portion or settlement in life is not an advancement. An estate or interest given by a parent to a descendant by virtue of a beneficial power, or of a power in trust with a right of selection, is an advancement.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 2, §§ 23-26; Id., c. 1, Tit. 2, § 127.

§ 97. How advancement adjusted.

When an advancement to be adjusted consisted of real property, the adjustment must be made out of the real property descendible to the heirs. When it consisted of personal property, the adjustment must be made out of the surplus of the personal property to be distributed to the next of kin. If either species of property is insufficient to enable the adjustment to be fully made, the deficiency must be adjusted out of the other.

From L. 1896, c. 547, § 296.

§ 98. Distribution of personal property of decedent.

If the deceased died intestate, the surplus of his personal property after payment of debts; and if he left a will, such surplus, after the payment of debts and legacies, if not bequeathed, must be distributed to his widow, children, or next of kin, in manner following:

1. One-third part to the widow, and the residue in equal portions among the children, and such persons as legally represent the children if any of them have died before the deceased.

2. If there be no children, nor any legal representatives of them, then one-half of the whole surplus shall be allotted to the widow, and the other half distributed to the next of kin of the deceased, entitled under the provisions of this section.

3. If the deceased leaves a widow, and no descendant, parent, brother or sister, nephew or niece, the widow shall be entitled to the whole surplus; but if there be a brother or sister, nephew or niece, and no descendant or parent, the widow shall be entitled to one-half of the surplus as above provided, and to the whole of the residue if it does not exceed $2000; if the residue exceeds that sum, she shall receive in addition to the one-half, $2000; and the remainder shall be distributed to the brothers and sisters and their representatives.

4. If there be no widow, the whole surplus shall be distributed equally to and among the children, and such as legally represent them.

5. [Am'd, 1903.] If there be no widow, and no children, and no representatives of a child, the whole surplus shall be distributed to the next of kin, in equal degree to the deceased, and their legal representatives; and if all the brothers and sisters of the intestate be living, the whole surplus shall be distributed to them; if any of them be living and any be dead, to the brothers and sisters living, and the descendants in whatever degree of those dead; so that to each living brother or sister shall be distributed such share as would have been distributed to him or her if all the brothers and sisters of the intestate who shall have died leaving issue had been living, and so that there shall be distributed to such descendants in whatever degree, collectively, the share which their parent would have received if living; and the same rule shall prevail as to all direct lineal descendants of every brother and sister of the intestate whenever such descendants are of unequal degrees.

6. If the deceased leave no children and no representatives of them, and no father, and leave a widow and a mother, the half not distributed to the widow shall be distributed in equal shares to his mother and brothers and sisters, or the representatives of such brothers and sisters; and if there be no widow, the whole surplus shall be distributed in like manner to the mother, and to the brothers and sisters, or the representatives of such brothers and sisters.

7. If the deceased leave a father and no child or descendant, the father shall take one-half if there be a widow, and the whole, if there be no widow.

8. If the deceased leave a mother, and no child, descendant, father, brother, sister, or representative of a brother or sister, the mother, if there be a widow, shall take one-half; and the whole, if there be no widow.

9. If the deceased was illegitimate and leave a mother, and no child, or descendant, or widow, such mother shall take the whole and shall be entitled to letters of administration in exclusion of all other persons. If the mother of such deceased be dead, the relatives of the deceased on the part of the mother shall take in the same manner as if the deceased had been legitimate, and be entitled to letters of administration in the same order.

10. Where the descendants, or next of kin of the deceased, entitled to share in his estate, are all in equal degree to the deceased, their shares shall be equal.

11. When such descendants or next of kin are of unequal degrees of kindred, the surplus shall be apportioned among those entitled thereto, according to their respective stocks; so that those who take in their own rights shall receive equal shares, and those who take by representation shall receive the share to which the parent whom they represent, if living, would have been entitled.

12. [Am'd, 1898, 1905, 1909.] No representation shall be admitted among collaterals after brothers' and sisters' descendants. This subdivision shall not apply to the estate of a decedent who shall have died prior to May 18, 1905.

13. Relatives of the half-blood shall take equally with those of the whole blood in the same degree; and the representatives of such relatives shall take in the same manner as the representatives of the whole blood.

14. Descendants and next of kin of the deceased, begotten before his death, but born thereafter, shall take in the same manner as if they had been born in the lifetime of the deceased, and had survived him.

15. [Added, 1897.] If a woman die, leaving illegitimate children, and no lawful issue, such children inherit her personal property as if legitimate.

15-a. [Added, 1913.] If there be no husband or wife surviving and no children, and no representatives of a child, and no next of kin, then the whole surplus shall be allotted to a surviving child of the husband or wife of the deceased, or if there be more than one, it shall be distributed equally among them.

16. [Added, 1901; am'd, 1913.] If there be no husband or wife surviving and no children, and no representatives of a child, and no next of kin, and no child or children of the husband or wife of the deceased, then the whole surplus shall be distributed equally to and among the next of kin of the husband or wife of the deceased, as the case may be, and such next of kin shall be deemed next of kin of the deceased for all the purposes specified in this article or in chapter eighteen of the code of civil procedure; but such surplus shall not, and shall not be construed to, embrace any personal property except such as was received by the deceased from such husband or wife, as the case may be, by will or by virtue of the laws relating to the distribution of the personal property of the deceased person.

§ 99. Advancements of personal estates.

If any child of such deceased person have been advanced by the deceased, by settlement or portion of real or personal property, the value thereof shall be reckoned with that part of the surplus of the personal property, which remains to be distributed among the children; and if such advancement be equal or superior to the amount, which, according to the preceding section, would be distributed to such child, as his share of such surplus and advancement, such child and his descendants shall be excluded from any share in the distribution of the surplus. If such advancement be not equal to such amount, such child, or his descendants, shall be entitled to receive so much only, as is sufficient to make all the shares of all the children, in such surplus and advancement, to be equal, as near as can be estimated. The maintaining or educating, or the giving of money to a child, without a view to a portion or settlement in life, shall not be deemed an advancement, within the meaning of this section, nor shall the foregoing provisions of this section apply in any case where there is any real property of the intestate to descend to his heirs.

From former § 2738, Code Civ. Pro.; derived from 2 R. S. 97, §§ 76-78; L. 1909, c. 65.

§ 100. Estates of married women.

The provisions of this article respecting the distribution of property of deceased persons apply to the personal property of married women dying, leaving descendants them surviving. The husband of any such deceased married woman shall be entitled to the same distributive share in the personal property of his wife to which a widow is entitled in the personal property of her husband by the provisions of this article and no more.

From former § 2734, Code Civ. Pro.; derived from 2 R. S. 97, § 79; L. 1867, c. 782, § 11.

§ 101. Liability of heirs and devisees for debt of decedent.

The heirs of an intestate, and the heirs and devisees of a testator, are respectively liable for the debts of the decedent, arising by simple contract, or by specialty, to the extent of the estate, interest, and right in the real property, which descended to them from, or was effectually devised to them by, the decedent.

From former § 1843, Code Civ. Pro.; derived from R. S. Part 3, c. 8, Tit. 3, § 32.

§ 102. Liability of heir or devisee not affected where will makes specific provision for payment of debt.

The preceding section and article 2 of title 3 of chapter 15 of the code of civil procedure do not affect the liability of an heir or devisee, for a debt of a testator, where the will expressly charges the debt exclusively upon the real property descended or devised, or makes it payable exclusively by the heir or devisee, or out of the real property descended or devised, before resorting to the personal property, or to any other real property descended or devised.

From former § 1859, Code Civ. Pro.; derived from R. S., Part 3, c. 8, Tit. 3, §§ 35, 58.

§ 103. Action against husband for debts of deceased wife.

If a surviving husband does not take out letters of administration on the estate of his deceased wife, he is presumed to have assets in his hands sufficient to satisfy her debts, and is liable therefor. A husband is liable as administrator for the debts of his wife only to the extent of the assets received by him. If he dies leaving any assets of his wife unadministered, except as otherwise provided by law, they pass to his executors or administrators as part of his personal property, but are liable for her debts in preference to the creditors of the husband.

From former § 2660, Code Civ. Pro., in part, as am'd by L. 1909, c. 240, § 15.

§ 104. Application of certain sections in this article.

Section 2514 of the code of civil procedure is applicable to the provisions of sections 98 to 100, both inclusive, and section 103, of this chapter.

Added by L. 1909, c. 240, § 16. Section 2514 of the Code (referred to in this section) is now § 2768.

ARTICLE 4.

Executors, Administrators and Testamentary Trustees.

Sec. 110. Sales of real estate by executors under authority of will.
111. Investment of trust funds.
112. Executors de son tort abolished.
113. Special promise to answer for debt of testator or intestate.
114. Liability of executors and administrators of executors and administrators.
115. Rights of administrators de bonis non.
116. Actions upon contract by and against executors.
117. Administrators to have same rights and liabilities as executors.
118. Actions of trespass by executors and administrators.
119. Actions of trespass against executors and administrators.
120. Actions for wrongs, by or against executors and administrators.
121. Action or proceeding by executor of executor.
122. Appraisal of estate of deceased person.

§ 110. Sales of real estate by executors under authority of will.

Sales of real estate situate within the state of New York, made by executors in pursuance of an authority given by any last will, unless otherwise directed in such will, may be public or private and on such terms as in the opinion of the executor shall be most advantageous to those interested therein.

From L. 1883, c. 65, § 1.

§ 111. Investment of trust funds.

An executor, administrator, trustee or other person holding trust funds for investment may invest the same in the same kind of securities as those in which savings banks of this state are by law authorized to invest the money deposited therein, and the income derived therefrom, and in bonds and mortgages on unincumbered real property in this state worth fifty per centum more than the amount loaned thereon. Any executor, administrator, trustee or other person holding trust funds may require such personal bonds or guaranties of payment to accompany investments as may seem prudent, and all premiums paid on such guaranties may be charged to or paid out of income, providing that such charge or payment be not more than at the rate of one-half of one per centum per annum on the par value of such investments. But no trustee shall purchase securities hereunder from himself.

From L. 1897, c. 417, § 9, as am'd by L. 1902, c. 295, § 1, and L. 1907, c. 669, § 1.

§ 112. Executors de son tort abolished.

No person shall be liable to an action as executor of his own wrong, for having received, taken or interfered with, the property or effects of a deceased person; but shall be responsible as a wrongdoer in the proper action to the executors, or general or special administrators, of such deceased person, for the value of any property or effects so taken or received, and for all damages caused by his acts, to the estate of the deceased.

From R. S., Part 3, c. 8, Tit. 3, Art. 1, § 17.

§ 113. Special promise to answer for debt of testator or intestate.

No executor or administrator shall be chargeable upon any special promise to answer damages, or to pay the debts of the testator or intestate, out of his own estate, unless the agreement for that purpose, or some memorandum or note thereof, be in writing, and signed by such executor or administrator, or by some other person by him thereunto specially authorized.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 6, Tit. 5, § 1.

§ 114. Liability of executors and administrators of executors and administrators.

The executors and administrators of every person, who, as executor, either of right or in his own wrong, or as administrator, shall have wasted or converted to his own use, any goods, chattels, or estate, of any deceased person, shall be chargeable in the same manner as their testator or intestate would have been, if living.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 6, Tit. 5, § 6.

§ 115. Rights of administrators de bonis non.

When administration of the effects of a deceased person, which shall have been left unadministered by any previous executor or administrator of the same estate, shall be granted to any person, such person may appeal from any judgment obtained against such previous executor or administrator of the same estate, or against the original testator or intestate; and shall defend any appeal from any such judgment; and shall have the same remedies, in the prosecution or defense of any action, by or against such previous executors or administrators, and for the collection and enforcing of any judgment obtained by them, as they would have by law.

From R. S., Part 3, c. 8, Tit. 3, Art. 1, § 18.

§ 116. Actions upon contract by and against executors.

Actions of account, and all other actions upon contract, may be maintained by and against executors, in all cases in which the same might have been maintained, by or against their respective testators.

From R. S., Part 2, c. 6, Tit. 5, § 2.

§ 117. Administrators to have same rights and liabilities as executors.

Administrators shall have actions to demand and recover the debts due to their intestate, and the personal property and effects of their intestate; and shall answer and be accountable to others to whom the intestate was holden or bound, in the same manner as executors.

From Id., § 3.

§ 118. Actions of trespass by executors and administrators.

Executors and administrators shall have actions of trespass against any person who shall have wasted, destroyed, taken or carried away, or converted to his own use, the goods of their testator or intestate in his lifetime. They may also maintain actions for trespass committed on the real estate of the deceased, in his lifetime.

From Id., § 4.

§ 119. Actions of trespass against executors and administrators.

Any person, or his personal representatives, shall have actions of trespass against the executor or administrator of any testator or intestate, who in his lifetime shall have wasted, destroyed, taken or carried away, or converted to his own use, the goods or chattels of any such person, or committed any trespass on the real estate of any such person.

From Id., § 5.

§ 120. Actions for wrongs, by or against executors and administrators.

For wrongs done to the property, rights or interests of another, for which an action might be maintained against the wrong-doer, such action may be brought by the person injured, or after his death, by his executors or administrators, against such wrongdoer, and after his death against his executors or administrators, in the same manner and with the like effect, in all respects, as actions founded upon contracts. This section shall not extend to an action for personal injuries, as such action is defined in section 3343 of the code of civil procedure; except that nothing herein contained shall affect the right of action now existing to recover damages for injuries resulting in death.

Added by L. 1909, c. 240, § 16; derived from R. S., Part 3, c. 8, Tit. 3, §§ 1, 2.

§ 121. Action or proceeding by executor of executor.

An executor of an executor shall have no authority to commence or maintain any action or proceeding relating to the estate, effects or rights of the testator of the first executor, or to take any charge or control thereof, as such executor.

Added by L. 1909, c. 240, § 16; derived from R. S., Part 3, c. 8, Tit. 3, § 11.

§ 122. Appraisal of estate of deceased person.

Whenever by reason of the provisions of any law of this state it shall become necessary to appraise in whole or in part the estate of any deceased person, the persons whose duty it shall be to make such appraisal shall value the real estate at its full and true value, taking into consideration actual sales of neighboring real estate similarly situated during the year immediately preceding the date of such appraisal, if any; and they shall value all such property, stocks, bonds, or securities as are customarily bought or sold in open markets in the city of New York or elsewhere, for the day on which such appraisal or report may be required, by ascertaining the range of the market and the average of prices as thus found, running through a reasonable period of time.

SUPPLEMENTARY LIST of Cited Cases.

N. B.—This List comes down to the following Reports (and pages thereof) inclusive, viz., 217 N. Y. 569; 171 App. Div. 224; 94 Misc. 96.

The cases that were decided under the former sections of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to Surrogates' Courts (see the 1913 edition of the Code, pp. 2472–2860) have been distributed in this List under the corresponding sections of the new Surrogates' Courts Act (L. 1914, c. 443) which now constitute §§ 2472–2771 of the present Code. Tables II and III on pages xxa–xxf of this edition show which are the corresponding sections.

The Court of Appeals decisions for which no page is stated are memoranda cases which have thus far only appeared in the pamphlet numbers of the Official Series of Reports. The paging of these cases is not determined until the bound volumes of the Court of Appeals Reports are issued.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

CONSTITUTION OF NEW YORK.

We, the People of the State of New York, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom, in order to secure its blessing, do establish this Constitution:

ARTICLE I.

§ 1. Persons not to be disfranchised.

No member of this State shall be disfranchised, or deprived of any of the rights or privileges secured to any citizen thereof, unless by the law of the land, or the judgment of his peers.

From Const. of 1846, Art. I, § 1.

§ 2. Trial by jury.

The trial by jury in all cases in which it has been heretofore used shall remain inviolate forever; but a jury trial may be waived by the parties in all civil cases in the manner to be prescribed by law.

From Id., Art. I, § 2.

§ 3. Freedom of worship; religious liberty.

The free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship, without discrimination or preference, shall forever be allowed in this State to all mankind; and no person shall be rendered incompetent to be a witness on account of his opinions on matters of religious belief; but the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be so construed as to excuse acts of licentiousness, or justify practices inconsistent with the peace or safety of this state.

From Id., Art. I, § 3.

§ 4. Habeas corpus.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when, in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require its suspension.

From Id., Art. I, § 4.

§ 5. Excessive bail and fines.

Excessive bail shall not be required nor excessive fines imposed, nor shall cruel and unusual punishments be inflicted, nor shall witnesses be unreasonably detained.

From Id., Art. I, § 5.

§ 6. Grand jury; bill of rights.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime (except in cases of impeachment, and in cases of military when in actual service, and the land and naval forces in time of war, or which this State may keep with the consent of Congress in time of peace, and in cases of petit larceny, under the regulation of the legislature), unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury, and in any trial in any court whatever the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person and with counsel as in civil actions. No person shall be subject to be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense; nor shall he be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

From Id., Art. I, § 6.

§ 7. [Am'd, 1913.] Compensation for taking private property; private roads; drainage of agricultural lands; right to take additional land for building sites.

When private property shall be taken for any public use, the compensation to be made therefor, when such compensation is not made by the state, shall be ascertained by a jury, or by the supreme court with or without a jury, but not with a referee, or by not less than three commissioners appointed by a court of record, as shall be prescribed by law. Private roads may be opened in the manner to be prescribed by law; but in every case the necessity of the road and the amount of all damage to be sustained by the opening thereof shall be first determined by a jury of freeholders, and such amount, together with the expenses of the proceeding, shall be paid by the person to be benefited. General laws may be passed permitting the owners or occupants of agricultural lands to construct and maintain for the drainage thereof, necessary drains, ditches and dykes upon the lands of others, under proper restrictions and with just compensation, but no special laws shall be enacted for such purposes.

The legislature may authorize cities to take more land and property than is needed for actual construction in the laying out, widening, extending or relocating parks, public places, highways or streets; provided, however, that the additional land and property so authorized to be taken shall be no more than sufficient to form suitable building sites abutting on such park, public place, highway or street. After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for such park, public place, highway or street as is needed therefor, the remainder may be sold or leased.

From Id., Art. I, § 7. Am'd in 1913.

§ 8. Freedom of speech and press; criminal prosecutions for libel.

Every citizen may freely speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right; and no law shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech or of the press. In all criminal prosecutions or indictments for libels, the truth may be given in evidence to the jury; and if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted; and the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the fact.

From Id., Art. I, § 8.

§ 9. Right to assemble and petition; divorce; lotteries, pool-selling and gambling, laws to prevent.

No law shall be passed abridging the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government, or any department thereof; nor shall any divorce be granted otherwise than by due judicial proceedings; nor shall any lottery or the sale of lottery tickets, pool selling, bookmaking, or any other kind of gambling hereafter be authorized or allowed within this State; and the legislature shall pass appropriate laws to prevent offenses against any of the provisions of this section.

From Id., Art. I, § 10.

§ 10. Escheats.

The people of this state, in their right of sovereignty, are deemed to possess the original and ultimate property in and to all lands within the jurisdiction of the State; and all lands the title to which shall fail, from a defect of heirs, shall revert, or escheat to the people.

From Id., Art. I, § 11.

§ 11. Feudal tenures abolished.

All feudal tenures of every description, with all their incidents, are declared to be abolished, saving, however, all rents and services certain which at any time heretofore have been lawfully created or reserved.

From Id., Art. I, § 12.

§ 12. Allodial tenures.

All lands within this State are declared to be allodial, so that, subject only to the liability to escheat, the entire and absolute property is vested in the owners, according to the nature of their respective estates.

From Id., Art. I, § 13.

13. Leases of agricultural lands.

No lease or grant of agricultural land, for a longer period than ilve years, hereafter made, in which shall be reserved any rent ervice of any kind, shall be valid.
rom Id., Art. I, § 14.

14. Fines and quarter-sales abolished.

All fines, quarter-sales, or other like restraints upon alienation, erved in any grant of land hereafter to be made, shall be void.
rom Id., Art. I, § 15.

15. Purchase of lands of Indians.

No purchase or contract for the sale of lands in this State, made ce the fourteenth day of October, 1775; or which may hereafter made, of, or with the Indians, shall be valid, unless made under authority, and with the consent of the legislature.
rom Id., Art. I, § 16.

16. Common law and acts of the colonial and state legislatures.

Such parts of the common law, and of the acts of the legislature the colony of New York, as together did form the law of the l colony, on the nineteenth day of April, 1775, and the resolu- ns of the congress of the said colony, and of the convention of state of New York, in force on the twentieth day of April, 1777, ich have not since expired, or been repealed or altered; and such s of the legislature of this State as are now in force, shall be l continue the law of this State, subject to such alterations as legislature shall make concerning the same. But all such parts the common law, and such of the said acts, or parts thereof, as repugnant to this constitution, are hereby abrogated.
rom Id., Art. I, § 17.

17. Grants of land made by the king of Great Britain since 1775; prior nts.

§ 19. [Added, 1913.] Employees' compensation laws.

Nothing contained in this constitution shall be construed to limit the power of the legislature to enact laws for the protection of the lives, or safety of employees; or for the payment, either by employers, or by employers and employees or otherwise, either directly or through a state or other system of insurance or otherwise, of compensation for injuries to employees or for death of employees resulting from such injuries without regard to fault as a cause thereof, except where the injury is occasioned by the willful intention of the injured employee to bring about the injury or death of himself or of another, or where the injury results solely from the intoxication of the injured employee while on duty; or for the adjustment, determination and settlement, with or without trial by jury, of issues which may arise under such legislation; or to provide that the right of such compensation, and the remedy therefor shall be exclusive of all other rights and remedies for injuries to employees or for death resulting from such injuries; or to provide that the amount of such compensation for death shall not exceed a fixed or determinable sum; provided that all moneys paid by an employer to his employees or their legal representatives, by reason of the enactment of any of the laws herein authorized, shall be held to be a proper charge in the cost of operating the business of the employer.

New. Added 1913.

ARTICLE II.

§ 1. Qualification of voters.

Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen for ninety days, and an inhabitant of this State one year next preceding an election, and for the last four months a resident of the county and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people, provided that in time of war no elector in the actual military service of the State, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

From Const. of 1846, Art. II, § 1, as am'd in 1874.

§ 2. Persons excluded from the right of suffrage.

No person who shall receive, accept, or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. The legislature shall enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or of any infamous crime.

From Id., Art. II, § 2, as am'd in 1874.

§ 3. Certain occupations and conditions not to affect residence.

For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence, by reason of his presence or absence, while employed in the service of the United States; nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of this State, or of the United States, or of the high seas; nor while a student of any seminary of learning; nor while kept at any almshouse, or other asylum, or institution wholly or partly supported at public expense or by charity; nor while confined in any public prison.

From Id., Art. II, § 3.

§ 4. Registration and election laws to be passed.

Laws shall be made for ascertaining, by proper proofs, the citizens who shall be entitled to the right of suffrage hereby established, and for the registration of voters; which registration shall be completed at least ten days before each election. Such registration shall not be required for town and village elections except by express provision of law. In cities and villages having five thousand inhabitants or more, according to the last preceding state enumeration of inhabitants, voters shall be registered upon personal application only; but voters not residing in such cities or villages shall not be required to apply in person for registration at the first meeting of the officers having charge of the registry of voters.

From Id., § 4.

§ 5. Manner of voting.

All elections by the citizens, except for such town officers as may by law be directed to be otherwise chosen, shall be by ballot, or by such other method as may be prescribed by law, provided that secrecy in voting be preserved.

From Id., § 5.

§ 6. Registration and election boards to be bi-partisan, except at town and village elections.

All laws creating, regulating or affecting boards of officers charged with the duty of registering voters, or of distributing ballots at the polls to voters, or of receiving, recording or counting votes at elections, shall secure equal representation of the two political parties which, at the general election next preceding that for which such boards or officers are to serve, cast the highest and the next highest number of votes. All such boards and officers shall be appointed or elected in such manner, and upon the nomination of such representatives of said parties respectively, as the legislature may direct. Existing laws on this subject shall continue until the legislature shall otherwise provide. This section shall not apply to town meetings, or to village elections.

§ 4. Enumerations and reapportionments.

An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be ta under the direction of the secretary of state, during the mo of May and June, in the year 1905, and in the same months e tenth year thereafter; and the said districts shall be so altered the legislature at the first regular session after the return of e enumeration, that each senate district shall contain as nearly may be an equal number of inhabitants, excluding aliens, and in as compact form as practicable, and shall remain unaltered u the return of another enumeration, and shall, at all times, con of contiguous territory, and no county shall be divided in formation of a senate district except to make two or more se districts wholly in such county. No town, and no block in a city inclosed by streets or public ways, shall be divided in the formation of senate districts; nor shall any district contain a greater excess in population over an adjoining district in the same county, than the population of a town or block therein adjoining such district. Counties, towns or blocks which, from their location, may be included in either of two districts, shall be so placed as to make said districts most nearly equal in number of inhabitants, excluding aliens.

No county shall have four or more senators unless it shall have a full ratio for each senator. No county shall have more than one-third of all the senators; and no two counties or the territory thereof as now organized, which are adjoining counties, or which are separated only by public waters, shall have more than one-half of all the senators.

The ratio for apportioning senators shall always be obtained by dividing the number of inhabitants, excluding aliens, by fifty, and the senate shall always be composed of fifty members, except that if any county having three or more senators at the time of any apportionment shall be entitled on such ratio to an additional senator or senators, such additional senator or senators shall be given to such county in addition to the fifty senators, and the whole number of senators shall be increased to that extent.

From Id., Art. III, § 4.

§ 5. Apportionment of assemblymen; creation of assembly districts.

The members of the assembly shall be chosen by single districts, and shall be apportioned by the legislature at the first regular session after the return of every enumeration among the several counties of the State, as nearly as may be according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of assembly, and no county shall hereafter be erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton, until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, entitle it to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties.

The quotient obtained by dividing the whole number of inhabitants of the State, excluding aliens, by the number of members of assembly, shall be the ratio for apportionment, which shall be made as follows: One member of assembly shall be apportioned to every county, including Fulton and Hamilton as one county, containing less than the ratio and one-half over. Two members shall be apportioned to every other county. The remaining members of assembly shall be apportioned to the counties having more than two ratios according to the number of inhabitants, excluding aliens. Members apportioned on remainders shall be apportioned to the counties having the highest remainders on the order thereof respectively. No county shall have more members of assembly than a county having a greater number of inhabitants, excluding aliens.

Until after the next enumeration, members of the assembly shall be apportioned to the several counties as follows: Albany county, four members; Allegany county, one member; Broome county, two members; Cattaraugus county, two members; Cayuga county, two members; Chautauqua county, two members; Chemung county, one member; Chenango county, one member; Clinton county, one member; Columbia county, one member; Cortland county, one member; Delaware county, one member; Dutchess county, two members; Erie county, eight members; Essex county, one member; Franklin county, one member; Fulton and Hamilton counties, one member; Genesee county, one member; Greene county, one member; Herkimer county, one member; Jefferson county, two members; Kings county, twenty-one members; Lewis county, one member; Livingston county, one member; Madison county, one member; Monroe county, four members; Montgomery county, one member; New York county, thirty-five members; Niagara county, two members; Oneida county, three members; Onondaga county, four members; Ontario county, one member; Orange county, two members; Orleans county, one member; Oswego county, two members; Otsego county, one member; Putnam county, one member; Queens county, three members; Rensselaer county, three members; Richmond county, one member; Rockland county, one member; St. Lawrence county, two members; Saratoga county, one member; Schenectady county, one member; Schoharie county, one member; Schuyler county, one member; Seneca county, one member; Steuben county, two members; Suffolk county, two members; Sullivan county, one member; Tioga county, one member; Tompkins county, one member; Ulster county, two members; Warren county, one member; Washington county, one member; Wayne county, one member; Westchester county, three members; Wyoming county, one member, and Yates county, one member.

In any county entitled to more than one member, the board of supervisors, and in any city embracing an entire county and having no board of supervisors, the common council, or if there be none, the body exercising the powers of a common council, shall assemble on the second Tuesday of June, 1895, and at such times as the legislature making an apportionment shall prescribe, and divide such counties into assembly districts as nearly equal in number of inhabitants, excluding aliens, as may be, of convenient and contiguous territory in as compact form as practicable, each of which shall be wholly within a senate district formed under the same apportionment, equal to the number of members of assembly to which such county shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the office of the secretary of state and of the clerk of such county, a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and of the inhabitants thereof, excluding aliens, according to the last preceding enumeration; and such apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made, as herein provided: but said division of the city of Brooklyn and the county of Kings to be made on the second Tuesday of June, 1895, shall be made by the common council of the said city and the board of supervisors of said county, assembled in joint session. In counties having more than one senate district, the same number of assembly districts shall be put in each senate district, unless the assembly districts cannot be evenly divided among the senate districts of any county, in which case one more assembly district shall be put in the senate district in such county having the largest, or one less assembly district shall be put in the senate district in such county having the smallest number of inhabitants, excluding aliens, as the case may require. No town, and no block in a city inclosed by streets or public ways, shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts nor shall any district contain a greater excess in population over an adjoining district in the same senate district, than the population of a town or block therein adjoining such assembly district. Towns or blocks which, from their location, may be included in either of two districts, shall be so placed as to make said districts most nearly equal in number of inhabitants, excluding aliens; but in the division of cities under the first apportionment, regard shall be had to the number of inhabitants, excluding aliens, of the election districts according to the state enumeration of 1892, so far as may be, instead of blocks. Nothing in this section shall prevent the division, at any time, of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns by the legislature.

An apportionment by the legislature, or other body, shall be subject to review by the supreme court, at the suit of any citizen, under such reasonable regulations as the legislature may prescribe; and any court before which a cause may be pending involving an apportionment, shall give precedence thereto over all other causes and proceedings, and if said court be not in session it shall convene promptly for the disposition of the same.

New.

§ 6. Compensation of members.

Each member of the legislature shall receive for his services an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to or returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

From Id., Art. III, § 6, as am'd in 1874.

§ 7. Civil appointments of members void.

No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this State, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment shall be void.

From Id., Art. III, § 7, as am'd in 1874.

§ 8. Persons disqualified from being members.

No person shall be eligible to the legislature, who at the time of his election, is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress, or appointed to any office, civil or military, under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

From Id., Art. III, § 8, as am'd in 1874.

§ 9. Time of elections.

The elections of senators and members of assembly, pursuant to the provisions of this constitution, shall be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November, unless otherwise directed by the legislature.

From Id., art. III, § 9.

§ 10. Powers of each house.

A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business. Each house shall determine the rules of its own proceedings, and be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members; shall choose its own officers; and the senate shall choose a temporary president to preside in case of the absence or impeachment of the lieutenant-governor, or when he shall refuse to act as president, or shall act as governor.

From Id., Art. III, § 10.

§ 11. Journals; open sessions; adjournments.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same, except such parts as may require secrecy. The doors of each house shall be kept open, except when the public welfare shall require secrecy. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than two days.

From Id., Art. III, § 11.

§ 12. Members not to be questioned for speeches.

For any speech or debate in either house of the legislature, the members shall not be questioned in any other place.

From Id., Art. III, § 12.

§ 13. Bills may originate in either house.

Any bill may originate in either house of the legislature, and all bills passed by one house may be amended by the other.

From Id., Art. III, § 13.

§ 14. Enacting clause of bills.

The enacting clause of all bills shall be "The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows," and no law shall be enacted except by bill.

From Id., Art. III, § 14.

§ 15. Manner of passing bills.

No bill shall be passed or become a law unless it shall have been printed and upon the desks of the members, in its final form, at least three calendar legislative days prior to its final passage, unless the governor, or the acting governor, shall have certified to the necessity of its immediate passage, under his hand and the seal of the State; nor shall any bill be passed or become a law, except by the assent of a majority of the members elected to each branch of the legislature; and upon the last reading of a bill, no amendment thereof shall be allowed, and the question upon its final passage shall be taken immediately thereafter, and the yeas and nays entered on the journal.

From Id., Art. III, § 15.

§ 21. Appropriation bills.

No money shall ever be paid out of the treasury of this State, or any of its funds, or any of the funds under its management, except in pursuance of an appropriation by law; nor unless such payment be made within two years next after the passage of such appropriation act; and every such law making a new appropriation, or continuing or reviving an appropriation, shall distinctly specify the sum appropriated, and the object to which it is to be applied; and it shall not be sufficient for such law to refer to any other law to fix such sum.

From Id., Art. VII, § 8.

§ 22. Restrictions as to provisions in the appropriation or supply bills.

No provision or enactment shall be embraced in the annual appropriation or supply bill, unless it relates specifically to some particular appropriation in the bill; and any such provision or enactment shall be limited in its operation to such appropriation.

New.

§ 23. Certain sections not to apply to commission bills.

Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill, or the amendments to any bill, which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

From Id., Art. III, § 25, as am'd in 1874.

§ 24. Tax bills to state tax distinctly.

Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

From Id., Art. III, § 20, as am'd in 1874.

§ 25. When ayes and nays necessary; three-fifths to constitute quorum.

On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the State, the question shall be taken by yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall, in all such cases, be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

From Id., Art. III, § 21, as am'd in 1874.

§ 26. [Am'd, 1900.] Boards of supervisors.

There shall be in each county, except in a county wholly included in a city, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such manner and for such period as is or may be provided by law. In a city which includes an entire county, or two or more entire counties, the powers and duties of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the municipal assembly, common council, board of aldermen or other legislative body of the city.

From Id., Art. III, § 22, as am'd in 1874. Am'd in 1900 (see L. 1899, p. 1603).

§ 27. [Am'd, 1909.] Local legislative powers.

The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the State such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may, from time to time, deem expedient, and in counties which now have, or may hereafter have, county auditors or other fiscal officers, authorized to audit bills, accounts, charges, claims or demands against the county, the legislature may confer such powers upon said auditors, or fiscal officers, as the legislature may, from time to time deem expedient.

From Id., Art. III, § 23, as am'd in 1874 and 1909.

§ 28. Extra compensation prohibited.

The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

From Id., Art. III, § 24, as am'd in 1874.

§ 29. Prison labor; contract system abolished.

The legislature shall, by law, provide for the occupation and employment of prisoners sentenced to the several state prisons, penitentiaries, jails and reformatories in the State; and on and after the first day of January, in the year 1897, no person in any such prison, penitentiary, jail or reformatory, shall be required or allowed to work, while under sentence thereto, at any trade, industry or occupation, wherein or whereby his work, or the product or profit of his work, shall be farmed out, contracted, given or sold to any person, firm, association or corporation. This section shall not be construed to prevent the legislature from providing that convicts may work for, and that the products of their labor may be disposed of to, the State or any political division thereof, or for or to any public institution owned or managed and controlled by the State, or any political division thereof.

New.

ARTICLE IV.

§ 1. Executive power.

The executive power shall be vested in a governor, who shall hold his office for two years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office until and including the thirty-first day of December, 1896, and their successors shall be chosen at the general election in that year.

From Const. of 1846, Art. IV, § 1, as am'd in 1874.

§ 2. Qualifications of governor and lieutenant-governor.

No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age of not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years next preceding his election a resident of this State.

From Id., Art. IV, § 2.

§ 3. Election of governor and lieutenant-governor.

The governor and lieutenant-governor shall be elected at the times and places of choosing members of the assembly. The persons respectively having the highest number of votes for governor and lieutenant-governor shall be elected; but in case two or more shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for governor, or for lieutenant-governor, the two houses of the legislature at its next annual session shall forthwith, by joint ballot, choose one of the said persons so having an equal and the highest number of votes for governor or lieutenant-governor.

From Id., Art. IV, § 3.

§ 4. Duties and powers of governor; compensation.

The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature, or the senate only, on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the State, and recommend such matters to it as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

From Id., Art. IV, § 4.

§ 5. Reprieves, commutations, and pardons to be granted by governor.

The governor shall have the power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons after conviction, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, upon such conditions and with such restrictions and limitations, as he may think proper, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law relative to the manner of applying for pardons. Upon conviction for treason, he shall have power to suspend the execution of the sentence, until the case shall be reported to the legislature at its next meeting, when the legislature shall either pardon, or commute the sentence, direct the execution of the sentence, or grant a further reprieve. He shall annually communicate to the legislature each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted, stating the name of the convict, the crime of which he was convicted, the sentence and its date, and the date of the commutation, pardon or reprieve.

From Id., Art. IV, § 5.

§ 6. When lieutenant-governor to act as governor.

In case of the impeachment of the governor, or his removal from office, death, inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, resignation, or absence from the State, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the lieutenant-governor for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease. But when the governor shall, with the consent of the legislature, be out of the State, in time of war, at the head of a military force thereof, he shall continue commander-in-chief of all the military force of the State.

From Id., Art. IV, § 6.

§ 7. Qualifications and duties of lieutenant-governor; succession to the governorship.

The lieutenant-governor shall possess the same qualifications of eligibility for office as the governor. He shall be president of the senate, but shall have only a casting vote therein. If during a vacancy of the office of governor, the lieutenant-governor shall be impeached, displaced, resign, die, or become incapable of performing the duties of his office, or be absent from the State, the president of the senate shall act as governor until the vacancy be filled or the disability shall cease; and if the president of the senate for any of the above causes shall become incapable of performing the duties pertaining to the office of governor, the speaker of the assembly shall act as governor until the vacancy be filled or the disability shall cease.

From Id., Art. IV, § 7.

§ 8. Salary of lieutenant-governor.

The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty or service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

From Id., Art. IV, § 8, as am'd in 1874.

§ 9. Bills to be presented to governor; approval; passage of bill by legislature if not approved.

Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature, unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If on reconsideration one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

From Id., Art. IV, § 9, as am'd in 1874.

ARTICLE V.

§ 1. State officers.

The secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be chosen at a general election, at the times and places of electing the governor and lieutenant-governor, and shall hold their offices for two years, except as provided in section two of this article. Each of the officers in this article named, excepting the speaker of the assembly, shall, at stated times during his continuance in office, receive for his services a compensation which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected; nor shall he receive to his use any fees or perquisites of office or other compensation. No person shall be elected to the office of state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical civil engineer.

From Const. of 1846, Art. V, §§ 1, 2.

§ 2. First election of state officers.

The first election of the secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor, pursuant to this article, shall be held in the year 1895, and their terms of office shall begin on the first day of January following, and shall be for three years. At the general election in the year 1898, and every two years thereafter, their successors shall be chosen for the term of two years.

New.

§ 3. Superintendent of public works; appointment; powers and duties of.

A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, and hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. He shall receive a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals, and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor; subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever, in his judgment, the public interest shall so require; but in case of the removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof to the legislature at its next session. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever, in his judgment, the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him, he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the former canal commissioners and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature. The governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies in the office of superintendent of public works; if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

From Id., Art. V, § 3, as am'd in 1876.

§ 4. Superintendent of state prisons; appointment; powers and duties of.

A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which were formerly had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense.

From Id., Art. V, § 4, as am'd in 1876.

§ 5. Commissioners of the land office; of the canal fund; canal board.

The lieutenant-governor, speaker of the assembly, secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer and attorney-general shall be the commissioners of the canal fund. The canal board shall consist of the commissioners of the canal fund, the state engineer and surveyor and the superintendent of public works.

From Id., Art. V, § 5.

§ 6. Powers and duties of boards.

The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article mentioned, shall be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

From Id., Art V, § 6.

§ 7. State treasurer; suspension by governor.

The treasurer may be suspended from office by the governor, during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

From Id., Art. V, § 7.

§ 8. Certain offices abolished.

All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished; and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interests of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

From Id., Art. V, § 8.

§ 9. Civil service appointments and promotions.

Appointments and promotions in the civil service of the State, and of all the civil divisions thereof, including cities and villages, shall be made according to merit and fitness to be ascertained, so far as practicable, by examinations, which, so far as practicable, shall be competitive; provided, however, that honorably discharged soldiers and sailors from the army and navy of the United States in the late civil war, who are citizens and residents of this State, shall be entitled to preference in appointment and promotion without regard to their standing on any list from which such appointment or promotion may be made. Laws shall be made to provide for the enforcement of this section.

ARTICLE VI.

(Judiciary Article.*)

§ 1. [Am'd, 1905.] Supreme court; how constituted; judicial districts.

The supreme court is continued with general jurisdiction in law and equity, subject to such appellate jurisdiction of the court of appeals as now is or may be prescribed by law not inconsistent with this article. The existing judicial districts of the State are continued until changed as hereinafter provided. The supreme court shall consist of the justices now in office, and of the judges transferred thereto by the fifth section of this article, all of whom shall continue to be justices of the supreme court during their respective terms, and of twelve additional justices who shall reside in and be chosen by the electors of, the several existing judicial districts, three in the first district, three in the second, and one in each of the other districts; and of their successors. The successors of said justices shall be chosen by the electors of their respective judicial districts. The legislature may alter the judicial districts once after every enumeration under the constitution, of the inhabitants of the State, and thereupon reapportion the justices to be thereafter elected in the districts so altered.

* For Table of Cited Cases relating to this Article, see post, pages 1402, 1408.

The legislature may from time to time increase the number of justices in any judicial district except that the number of justices in the first and second district or in any of the districts into which the second district may be divided, shall not be increased to exceed one justice for each eighty thousand, or fraction over forty thousand of the population thereof, as shown by the last state, or federal census or enumeration, and except that the number of justices in any other district shall not be increased to exceed one justice for each sixty thousand or fraction over thirty-five thousand of the population thereof as shown by the last state or federal census or enumeration. The legislature may erect out of the second judicial district as now constituted, another judicial district and apportion the justices in office between the districts, and provide for the election of additional justices in the new district not exceeding the limit herein provided.

From Const. of 1846, Art. VI, § 6. Am'd in 1905 (see L. 1903, p. 1452).

§ 2. [Am'd, 1900, 1905.] Judicial departments; appellate division, how constituted; governor to designate justices; reporter; time and place of holding courts.

The legislature shall divide the State into four judicial departments. The first department shall consist of the county of New York; the others shall be bounded by county lines, and be compact and equal in population as nearly as may be. Once every ten years the legislature may alter the judicial departments, but without increasing the number thereof. There shall be an appellate division of the supreme court, consisting of seven justices in the first department, and of five justices in each of the other departments. In each department four shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of three shall be necessary to a decision. No more than five justices shall sit in any case. From all the justices elected to the supreme court the governor shall designate those who shall constitute the appellate division in each department; and he shall designate the presiding justice thereof, who shall act as such during his term of office, and shall be a resident of the department. The other justices shall be designated for terms of five years or the unexpired portions of their respective terms of office, if less than five years. From time to time as the terms of such designations expire, or vacancies occur, he shall make new designations. A majority of the justices so designated to sit in the appellate division in each department shall be residents of the department. He may also make temporary designations in case of the absence or inability to act of any justice in the appellate division, or in case the presiding justice of any appellate division shall certify to him that one or more additional justices are needed for the speedy disposition of the business before it. Whenever the appellate division in any department shall be unable to dispose of its business within a reasonable time, a majority of the presiding justices of the several departments at a meeting called by the presiding justice of the department in arrears may transfer any pending appeals from such department to any other department for hearing and determination. No justice of the appellate division shall, within the department to which he may be designated to perform the duties of an appellate justice, exercise any of the powers of a justice of the supreme court, other than those of a justice out of court, and those pertaining to the appellate division, or to the hearing and decision of motions submitted by consent of counsel, but any such justice, when not actually engaged in performing the duties of such appellate justices in the department to which he is designated, may hold any term of the supreme court and exercise any of the powers of a justice of the supreme court in any county or judicial district in any other department of the State. From and after the last day of December, 1895, the appellate division shall have the jurisdiction now exercised by the supreme court at its general terms, and by the general terms of the court of common pleas for the city and county of New York, the superior court of the city of New York, the superior court of Buffalo and the city of Brooklyn, and such additional jurisdiction as may be conferred by the legislature. It shall have power to appoint and remove a reporter. The justices of the appellate division in each department shall have power to fix the times and places for holding special terms therein, and to assign the justices in the departments to hold such terms; or to make rules therefor.

From Id., Art. VI, §§ 7, 28. Am'd in 1900 and 1905 (see L. 1899, p. 1600; L. 1904, p. 1931).

§ 3. Judges not to sit in review of their own decisions; testimony in equity cases.

No judge or justice shall sit in the appellate division or in the court of appeals in review of a decision made by him or by any court of which he was at the time a sitting member. The testimony in equity cases shall be taken in like manner as in cases at law; and, except as herein otherwise provided, the legislature shall have the same power to alter and regulate the jurisdiction and proceedings in law and in equity that it has heretofore exercised.

From Id., Art. VI, § 8.

§ 4. Official terms of justices of supreme court.

The official terms of the justices of the supreme court shall be fourteen years from and including the first day of January next after their election. When a vacancy shall occur otherwise than by expiration of term in the office of justice of the supreme court the same shall be filled for a full term, at the next general election, happening not less than three months after such vacancy occurs; and, until the vacancy shall be so filled, the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate, if the senate shall be in session, or if not in session the governor, may fill such vacancy by appointment, which shall continue until and including the last day of December next after the election at which the vacancy shall be filled.

From Id., Art. VI, §§ 13 and 9.

§ 5. Superior city courts abolished.

The superior court of the city of New York, the court of common pleas for the city and county of New York, the superior court of Buffalo, and the city court of Brooklyn, are abolished from and after the first day of January, 1896, and thereupon the seals, records, papers and documents of or belonging to such courts, shall be deposited in the offices of the clerks of the several counties in which said courts now exist; and all actions and proceedings then pending in such courts shall be transferred to the supreme court for hearing and determination. The judges of said courts in office on the first day of January, 1896, shall, for the remainder of the terms for which they were elected or appointed, be justices of the supreme court; but they shall sit only in the counties in which they were elected or appointed. Their salaries shall be paid by the said counties respectively, and shall be the same as the salaries of the other justices of the supreme court residing in the same counties. Their successors shall be elected as justices of the supreme court by the electors of the judicial districts in which they respectively reside.

The jurisdiction now exercised by the several courts hereby abolished, shall be vested in the supreme court. Appeals from inferior and local courts now heard in the court of common pleas for the city and county of New York and the superior court of Buffalo, shall be heard in the supreme court in such manner and by such justice or justices as the appellate divisions in the respective departments which include New York and Buffalo shall direct, unless otherwise provided by the legislature.

New.

§ 6. Circuit courts and courts of oyer and terminer abolished.

Circuit courts and courts of oyer and terminer are abolished from and after the last day of December, 1895. All their jurisdiction shall thereupon be vested in the supreme court, and all actions and proceedings then pending in such courts shall be transferred to the supreme court for hearing and determination. Any justice of the supreme court, except as otherwise provided in this article, may hold court in any county.

New.

§ 7. [Am'd, 1900.] Court of appeals.

The court of appeals is continued. It shall consist of the chief judge and associate judges now in office, who shall hold their offices until the expiration of their respective terms, and their successors, who shall be chosen by the electors of the State. The official terms of the chief judge and associate judges shall be fourteen years from and including the first day of January next after their election. Five members of the court shall form a quorum, and the concurrence of four shall be necessary to a decision. The court shall have power to appoint and to remove its reporter, clerk and attendants. Whenever and as often as a majority of the judges of the court of appeals shall certify to the governor that said court is unable, by reason of the accumulation of causes pending therein, to hear and dispose of the same with reasonable speed, the governor shall designate not more than four justices of the supreme court to serve as associate judges of the court of appeals. The justices so designated shall be relieved from their duties as justices of the supreme court and shall serve as associate judges of the court of appeals until the causes undisposed of in said court are reduced to two hundred, when they shall return to the supreme court. The governor may designate justices of the supreme court to fill vacancies. No justice shall serve as associate judge of the court of appeals except while holding the office of justice of the supreme court, and no more than seven judges shall sit in any case.

From Id., Art. VI, § 2, as am'd in 1869. Am'd in 1900 (see L. 1899, p. 1604).

§ 8. Vacancies in court of appeals.

When a vacancy shall occur otherwise than by expiration of term, in the office of chief or associate judge of the court of appeals, the same shall be filled, for a full term, at the next general election happening not less than three months after such vacancy occurs; and until the vacancy shall be so filled, the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, if the senate shall be in session, or if not in session the governor, may fill such vacancy by appointment. If any such appointment of chief judge shall be made from among the associate judges, a temporary appointment of associate judge shall be made in like manner; but in such case, the person appointed chief judge shall not be deemed to vacate his office of associate judge any longer than until the expiration of his appointment as chief judge. The powers and jurisdiction of the court shall not be suspended for want of appointment or election, when the number of judges is sufficient to constitute a quorum. All appointments under this section shall continue until and including the last day of December next after the election at which the vacancy shall be filled.

From Id., Art. VI, § 3, as am'd in 1869.

§ 9. Jurisdiction of court of appeals.

After the last day of December, 1895, the jurisdiction of the court of appeals, except where the judgment is of death, shall be limited to the review of questions of law. No unanimous decision of the appellate division of the supreme court that there is evidence supporting or tending to sustain a finding of fact or a verdict not directed by the court, shall be reviewed by the court of appeals. Except where the judgment is of death, appeals may be taken, as of right, to said court only from judgments or orders entered upon decisions of the appellate division of the supreme court, finally determining actions or special proceedings, and from orders granting new trials on exceptions, where the appellants stipulate that upon affirmance judgment absolute shall be rendered against them. The appellate division in any department may, however, allow an appeal upon any question of law which, in its opinion, ought to be reviewed by the court of appeals. The legislature may further restrict the jurisdiction of the court of appeals and the right of appeal thereto, but the right to appeal shall not depend upon the amount involved.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to orders made or judgments rendered by any general term before the last day of December, 1895, but appeals therefrom may be taken under existing provisions of law.

New.

§ 10. Judges not to hold any other office.

The judges of the court of appeals and the justices of the supreme court shall not hold any other office or public trust. All votes for any of them, for any other than a judicial office, given by the legislature or the people, shall be void.

From Id., Art. VI, § 10, as am'd in 1869.

§ 11. Removal of judges.

Judges of the court of appeals and justices of the supreme court may be removed by concurrent resolution of both houses of the legislature, if two-thirds of all the members elected to each house concur therein. All other judicial officers, except justices of the peace and judges or justices of inferior courts not of record, may be removed by the senate, on the recommendation of the governor, if two-thirds of all the members elected to the senate concur therein. But no officer shall be removed by virtue of this section except for cause, which shall be entered on the journals, nor unless he shall have been served with a statement of the cause alleged, and shall have had an opportunity to be heard. On the question of removal, the yeas and nays shall be entered on the journal.

From Id., Art. VI, § 11, as am'd in 1869.

§ 12. [Am'd, 1909.] Compensation of judges; tenure of office.

No person shall hold the office of judge or justice of any court longer than until and including the last day of December next after he shall be seventy years of age. Each justice of the supreme court shall receive from the state the sum of $10,000 per year. Those assigned to the appellate divisions in the third and fourth departments shall each receive in addition the sum of $2,000, and the presiding justices thereof the sum of $2,500 per year. Those justices elected in the first and second judicial departments shall continue to receive from their respective cities, counties or districts, as now provided by law, such additional compensation as will make their aggregate compensation what they are now receiving. These justices elected in any judicial department other than the first or second, and assigned to the appellate divisions of the first or second departments shall, while so assigned, receive from those departments respectively, as now provided by law, such additional sum as is paid to the justices of those departments. A justice elected in the third or fourth department assigned by the appellate division or designated by the governor to hold a trial or special term in a judicial district other than that in which he is elected shall receive in addition ten dollars per day for expenses while actually so engaged in holding such term, which shall be paid by the state and charged upon the judicial district where the service is rendered. The compensation herein provided shall be in lieu of and shall exclude all other compensation and allowance to said justices for expenses of every kind and nature whatsoever. The provisions of this section shall apply to the judges and justices now in office and to those hereafter elected.

From Id., Art. VI, § 14, as am'd in 1869 and 1909.

§ 13. Trial of impeachments.

The assembly shall have the power of impeachment by a vote of a majority of all the members elected. The court for the trial of impeachments shall be composed of the president of the senate, the senators, or the major part of them, and the judges of the court of appeals, or the major part of them. On the trial of an impeachment against the governor or lieutenant-governor, the lieutenant-governor shall not act as a member of the court. No judicial officer shall exercise his office, after articles of impeachment against him shall have been preferred to the senate, until he shall have been acquitted. Before the trial of an impeachment the members of the court shall take an oath or affirmation truly and impartially to try the impeachment according to the evidence, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, or removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under this State; but the party impeached shall be liable to indictment and punishment according to law.

From Id., Art. VI, § 1, as am'd in 1869.

§ 14. [Am'd, 1913.] County courts.

The existing county courts are continued, and the judges thereof now in office shall hold their offices until the expiration of their respective terms. In the county of Kings there shall be four county judges. The number of county judges in any county may also be increased, from time to time, by the legislature, to such number that the total number of county judges in any one county shall not exceed one for every two hundred thousand, or major fraction thereof, of the population of such county. The additional county judges in the county of Kings shall be chosen at the general election held in the first odd-numbered year after the adoption of this amendment. The additional county judges whose offices may be created by the legislature shall be chosen at the general election held in the first odd-numbered year after the creation of such office. All county judges, including successors to existing judges, shall be chosen by the electors of the counties for the term of six years from and including the first day of January following their election. County courts shall have the powers and jurisdiction they now possess, and also original jurisdiction in actions for the recovery of money only, where the defendants reside in the county, and in which the complaint demands judgment for a sum not exceeding $2,000. The legislature may hereafter enlarge or restrict the jurisdiction of the county courts, provided, however, that their jurisdiction shall not be so extended as to authorize an action therein for the recovery of money only, in which the sum demanded exceeds $2,000, or in which any person not a resident of the county is a defendant. Courts of sessions, except in the county of New York, are abolished from and after the last day of December, 1895. All the jurisdiction of the court of sessions in each county, except the county of New York, shall thereupon be vested in the county court thereof, and all actions and proceedings then pending in such courts of sessions shall be transferred to said county courts for hearing and determination. Every county judge shall perform such duties as they may be required by law. His salary shall be established by law, payable out of the county treasury. A county judge of any county may hold county courts in any other county when requested by the judge of such other county.

From Id., Art. VI, § 15, as am'd in 1869. Further am'd in 1913.

§ 15. Surrogates' courts.

The existing surrogates' courts are continued, and the surrogates now in office shall hold their offices until the expiration of their terms. Their successors shall be chosen by the electors of their respective counties, and their terms of office shall be six years, except in the county of New York, where they shall continue to be fourteen years. Surrogates and surrogates' courts shall have the jurisdiction and powers which the surrogates and existing surrogates' courts now possess, until otherwise provided by the legislature. The county judge shall be surrogate of his county, except where a separate surrogate has been or shall be elected. In counties having a population exceeding forty thousand, wherein there is no separate surrogate, the legislature may provide for the election of a separate officer to be surrogate, whose term of office shall be six years. When the surrogate shall be elected as a separate officer his salary shall be established by law, payable out of the county treasury. No county judge or surrogate shall hold office longer than until and including the last day of December next after he shall be seventy years of age. Vacancies occurring in the office of county judge or surrogate shall be filled in the same manner as like vacancies occurring in the supreme court. The compensation of any county judge or surrogate shall not be increased or diminished during his term of office. For the relief of surrogates' courts the legislature may confer upon the supreme court in any county having a population exceeding four hundred thousand, the powers and jurisdiction of surrogates, with authority to try issues of fact by jury in probate cases.

In part from Id., Art. VI, § 15.

§ 16. Local judicial officers.

The legislature may, on application of the board of supervisors, provide for the election of local officers, not to exceed two in any county, to discharge the duties of county judge and of surrogate, in cases of their inability or of a vacancy, and in such other cases as may be provided by law, and to exercise such other powers in special cases as are or may be provided by law.

From Id., Art. VI, § 16, as am'd in 1869.

§ 17. Justices of the peace; how elected; how removed; other judicial officers in cities.

The electors of the several towns shall, at their annual town meetings, or at such other time and in such manner as the legislature may direct, elect justices of the peace, whose term of office shall be four years. In case of an election to fill a vacancy occurring before the expiration of a full term, they shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term. Their number and classification may be regulated by law. Justices of the peace and judges or justices of inferior courts not of record, and their clerks may be removed for cause, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard, by such courts as are or may be prescribed by law. Justices of the peace and district court justices may be elected in the different cities of this State in such manner, and with such powers, and for such terms, respectively, as are or shall be prescribed by law; all other judicial officers in cities, whose election or appointment is not otherwise provided for in this article, shall be chosen by the electors of such cities, or appointed by some local authorities thereof.

From Id., Art. VI, § 18, as am'd in 1869.

§ 18. Inferior local courts.

Inferior local courts of civil and criminal jurisdiction may be established by the legislature, but no inferior local court hereafter created shall be a court of record. The legislature shall not hereafter confer upon any inferior or local court of its creation any equity jurisdiction or any greater jurisdiction in other respects than is conferred upon county courts by or under this article. Except as herein otherwise provided, all judicial officers shall be elected or appointed at such times and in such manner as the legislature may direct.

From Id., Art. VI, § 19, as am'd in 1869.

§ 19. Clerks of courts.

Clerks of the several counties shall be clerks of the supreme court, with such powers and duties as shall be prescribed by law. The justices of the appellate division in each department shall have power to appoint and to remove a clerk, who shall keep his office at a place to be designated by said justices. The clerk of the court of appeals shall keep his office at the seat of government. The clerk of the court of appeals and the clerks of the appellate division shall receive compensation to be established by law and paid out of the public treasury.

From Id., Art. VI, § 20, as am'd in 1869.

§ 20. Superior judges not to receive fees nor to practice as attorneys and counsellors.

No judicial officer, except justices of the peace, shall receive to his own use any fees or perquisites of office; nor shall any judge of the court of appeals, or justice of the supreme court, or any county judge or surrogate hereafter elected in a county having a population exceeding one hundred and twenty thousand, practice as an attorney or counsellor in any court of record in this State, or act as referee. The legislature may impose a similar prohibition upon county judges and surrogates in other counties. No one shall be eligible to the office of judge of the court of appeals, justice of the supreme court, or, except in the county of Hamilton, to the office of county judge or surrogate, who is not an attorney and counsellor of this State.

From Id., Art. VI, § 21.

§ 21. Publication of statutes and reports.

The legislature shall provide for the speedy publication of all statutes, and shall regulate the reporting of the decisions of the courts; but all laws and judicial decisions shall be free for publication by any person.

From Id., Art. VI, § 23.

§ 22. Justices of the peace, etc., now in office, to hold till term expires.

Justices of the peace and other local judicial officers provided for in sections seventeen and eighteen, in office when this article takes effect, shall hold their offices until the expiration of their respective terms.

From Id., Art. VI, § 25, as am'd in 1869.

§ 23. Courts of special sessions.

Courts of special sessions shall have such jurisdiction of offenses of the grade of misdemeanors as may be prescribed by law.

From Id., Art. VI, § 26, as am'd in 1869.

ARTICLE VII.

§ 1. State credit not to be given.

The credit of the State shall not in any manner be given or loaned to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation.

From Const. of 1846, Art. VII, § 9.

§ 2. State debts; power to contract.

The State may, to meet casual deficits or failures in revenues, or for expenses not provided for, contract debts; but such debts, direct or contingent, singly or in the aggregate, shall not at any time exceed one million of dollars; and the moneys arising from the loans creating such debts shall be applied to the purpose for which they were obtained, or to repay the debt so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever.

From Id., Art. VII, § 10.

§ 3. State debts to repel invasions.

In addition to the above limited power to contract debts, the State may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the State in war; but the money arising from the contracting of such debts shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

From Id., Art. VII, § 11.

§ 4. [Am'd, 1905, 1909.] Limitation of legislative power to create debts.

Except the debts specified in sections two and three of this article, no debts shall be hereafter contracted by or in behalf of this State, unless such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single work or object, to be distinctly specified therein; and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay, and sufficient to pay, the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof. No such law shall take effect, until it shall, at a general election have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election. On the final passage of such bill in either house of the legislature, the question shall be taken by ayes and noes, to be duly entered on the journals thereof, and shall be: "Shall this bill pass, and ought the same to receive the sanction of the people?" The legislature may at any time, after the approval of such law by the people, if no debt shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof, repeal the same; and may at any time, by law, forbid the contracting of any further debt or liability under such law; but the tax imposed by such act, in proportion to the debt and liability which may have been contracted in pursuance of such law, shall remain in force and be irrepealable, and be annually collected, until the proceeds thereof shall have made the provision hereinbefore specified to pay and discharge the interest and principal of such debt and liability. The money arising from any loan or stock creating such debt or liability shall be applied to the work or object specified in the act authorising such debt or liability, or for the payment of such debt or liability, and for no other purpose whatever. No such law shall be submitted to be voted on, within three months after its passage or at any general election when any other law, or any bill shall be submitted to be voted for or against. The legislature may provide for the issue of bonds of the State to run for a period not exceeding fifty years in lieu of bonds heretofore authorized but not issued and shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax for the payment of the same as hereinbefore required. When any sinking fund created under this section shall equal in amount the debt for which it was created, no further direct tax shall be levied on account of said sinking fund and the legislature shall reduce the tax to an amount equal to the accruing interest on such debt. The legislature may from time to time alter the rate of interest to be paid upon any state debt, which has been or may be authorized pursuant to the provisions of this section, or upon any part of such debt, provided, however, that the rate of interest shall not be altered upon any part of such debt or upon any bond or other evidence thereof, which has been, or shall be created or issued before such alteration. In case the legislature increase the rate of interest upon any such debt, or part thereof, it shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay and sufficient to pay the increased or altered interest on such debt as it falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof, and shall appropriate annually to the sinking fund moneys in amount sufficient to pay such interest and pay and discharge the principal of such debt when it shall become due and payable.

From Id., Art. VII, § 12. Am'd in 1905 (see L. 1903, pp. 1455) and 1909.

§ 5. Sinking Fund, how kept and invested.

The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and the extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the State shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

From Id., Art. VII, § 13, as am'd in 1874.

§ 6. Claims barred by statute of limitations.

Neither the legislature, canal board, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the State, shall audit, allow, or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the State, would be barred by lapse of time. This provision shall not be construed to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claim duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

From Id., Art. VII, § 14, as am'd in 1874.

§ 7. [Am'd, 1913.] Forest preserve.

The lands of the state, now owned or hereafter acquired constituting the forest preserve as now fixed by law, shall be forever kept as wild forest lands. They shall not be leased, sold or exchanged, or be taken by any corporation, public or private, nor shall the timber thereon be sold, removed or destroyed. But the legislature may by general laws provide for the use of not exceeding three per centum of such lands for the construction and maintenance of reservoirs for municipal water supply, for the canals of the state and to regulate the flow of streams. Such reservoirs shall be constructed, owned and controlled by the state, but such work shall not be undertaken until after the boundaries and high flow lines thereof shall have been accurately surveyed and fixed, and after public notice, hearing and determination that such lands are required for such public use. The expense of any such improvements shall be apportioned on the public and private property and municipalities benefited to the extent of the benefits received. Any such reservoir shall always be operated by the state and the legislature shall provide for a charge upon the property and municipalities benefited for a reasonable return to the state upon the value of the rights and property of the state used and the services of the state rendered, which shall be fixed for terms of not exceeding ten years and be readjustable at the end of any term. Unsanitary conditions shall not be created or continued by any such public works. A violation of any of the provisions of this section may be restrained at the suit of the people or, with the consent of the supreme court in appellate division, on notice to the attorney-general at the suit of any citizen.

New. Am'd in 1913.

§ 8. Canals, not to be sold; not applied to certain canals; disposition of funds.

The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Cayuga and Seneca canal, or the Black river canal; but they shall remain the property of the State and under its management forever. The prohibition of lease, sale or other disposition herein contained, shall not apply to the canal known as the Main and Hamburg street canal, situated in the city of Buffalo, and which extends easterly from the westerly line of Main street to the westerly line of Hamburg street. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied to the improvement, superintendence or repair of the remaining portion of the canals.

From Id., Art. VII, § 6, as am'd in 1882.

§ 9. No tolls to be imposed; contracts for work and materials; no extra compensation.

No tolls shall hereafter be imposed on persons or property transported on the canals, but all boats navigating the canals and the owners and masters thereof, shall be subject to such laws and regulations as have been or may hereafter be enacted concerning the navigation of the canals. The legislature shall annually, by equitable taxes, make provision for the expenses of the superintendence and repairs of the canals. All contracts for work or materials on any canal shall be made with the persons who shall offer to do or provide the same at the lowest price, with adequate security for their performance. No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but, if, from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

From Id., Art. VII, § 3, as am'd in 1882.

§ 10. Canal improvement, and cost thereof.

The canals may be improved in such manner as the legislature shall provide by law. A debt may be authorized for that purpose in the mode prescribed by section four of this article, or the cost of such improvement may be defrayed by the appropriation of funds from the state treasury, or by equitable annual tax.

New.

§ 11. [Added, 1905.] Payment of principal and interest of debt.

The legislature may appropriate out of any funds in the treasury, moneys to pay the accruing interest and principal of any debt heretofore or hereafter created, or any part thereof and may set apart in each fiscal year, moneys in the state treasury as a sinking fund to pay the interest as it falls due and to pay and discharge the principal of any debt heretofore or hereafter created under section four of article seven of the constitution until the same shall be wholly paid, and the principal and income of such sinking fund shall be applied to the purpose for which said sinking fund is created and to no other purpose whatever; and, in the event such moneys so set apart in any fiscal year be sufficient to provide such sinking fund, a direct annual tax for such year need not be imposed and collected, as required by the provisions of said section four of article seven, or of any law enacted in pursuance thereof.

Added in 1905 (see L. 1903, p. 1451.)

§ 12. [Added, 1905.] Improvement of highways.

A debt or debts of the State may be authorized by law for the improvement of highways. Such highways shall be determined under general laws, which shall also provide for the equitable apportionment thereof among the counties. The aggregate of the debts authorized by this section shall not at any one time exceed the sum of fifty millions of dollars. The payment of the annual interest on such debt and the creation of a sinking fund of at least two per centum per annum to discharge the principal at maturity shall be provided by general laws whose force and effect shall not be diminished during the existence of any debt created thereunder. The legislature may by general laws require the county or town or both to pay to the sinking fund the proportionate part of the cost of any such highway within the boundaries of such county or town and the proportionate part of the interest thereon, but no county shall at any time for any highway be required to pay more than thirty-five hundredths of the cost of such highway, and no town more than fifteen hundredths. None of the provisions of the fourth section of this article shall apply to debts for the improvement of highways hereby authorized.

Added in 1905 (see L. 1903, p. 1454).

ARTICLE VIII.

§ 1. Corporations, formation of.

Corporations may be formed under general laws; but shall not be created by special act, except for municipal purposes, and in cases where, in the judgment of the legislature, the objects of the corporation cannot be attained under general laws. All general laws and special acts passed pursuant to this section may be altered from time to time or repealed.

From Const. of 1846, Art. VIII, § 1.

§ 2. Dues of corporations.

Dues from corporations shall be secured by such individual liability of the corporators and other means as may be prescribed by law.

From Id., Art. VIII, § 2.

§ 3. Corporation, definition of term.

The term corporations as used in this article shall be construed to include all associations and joint-stock companies having any of the powers or privileges of corporations not possessed by individuals or partnerships. And all corporations shall have the right to sue and shall be subject to be sued in all courts in like cases as natural persons.

From Id., Art. VIII, § 3.

§ 4. Savings bank charters; restrictions upon trustees; special charters not to be granted.

The legislature shall, by general law, conform all charters of savings banks, or institutions for savings, to a uniformity of powers, rights and liabilities, and all charters hereafter granted for such corporations shall be made to conform to such general law, and to such amendments as may be made thereto. And no such corporation shall have any capital stock, nor shall the trustees thereof, or any of them, have any interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the profits of such corporation; and no director or trustee of any such bank or institution shall be interested in any loan or use of any money or property of such bank or institution for savings. The legislature shall have no power to pass any act granting any special charter for banking purposes; but corporations or associations may be formed for such purposes under general laws.

From Id., Art. VIII, § 4, as am'd in 1874.

§ 5. Specie payment.

The legislature shall have no power to pass any law sanctioning in any manner, directly or indirectly, the suspension of specie payments, by any person, association or corporation, issuing bank notes of any description.

From Id., Art. VIII, § 5.

§ 6. Registry of bills or notes.

The legislature shall provide by law for the registry of all bills or notes, issued or put in circulation as money, and shall require ample security for the redemption of the same in specie.

From Id., Art. VIII, § 6.

§ 7. Liability of stockholders of banks.

The stockholders of every corporation and joint stock association for banking purposes, shall be individually responsible to the amount of their respective share or shares of stock in any such corporation or association, for all its debts and liabilities of every kind.

From Id., Art. VIII, § 7.

§ 8. Billholders of insolvent bank, preferred creditors.

In case of the insolvency of any bank or banking association, the billholders thereof shall be entitled to preference in payment, over all other creditors of such bank or association.

From Id., Art. VIII, § 8.

§ 9. Credit or money of the State not to be given.

Neither the credit nor the money of the State shall be given or loaned to or in aid of any association, corporation or private undertaking. This section shall not, however, prevent the legislature from making such provision for the education and support of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and juvenile delinquents, as to it may seem proper. Nor shall it apply to any fund or property now held, or which may hereafter be held, by the State for educational purposes.

From Id., Art. VIII, § 10, as am'd in 1874.

§ 10. [Am'd, 1900, 1905, 1907, 1909.] Counties, cities and towns not to give or loan money or credit; limitation of indebtedness.

No county, city, town or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become directly or indirectly the owner of stock in, or bonds of, any association or corporation; nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provision for the aid or support of its poor as may be authorized by law. No county or city shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose or in any manner to an amount which, including existing indebtedness, shall exceed ten per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city subject to taxation, as it appeared by the assessment rolls of said county or city on the last assessment for state or county taxes prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; and all indebtedness in excess of such limitation, except such as now may exist, shall be absolutely void, except as herein otherwise provided. No county or city whose present indebtedness exceeds ten per centum of the assessed valuation of its real estate subject to taxation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount until such indebtedness shall be reduced within such limit. This section shall not be construed to prevent the issuing of certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes for amounts actually contained or to be contained in the taxes for the year when such certificates or revenue bonds are issued and payable out of such taxes; nor to prevent the city of New York from issuing bonds to be redeemed out of the tax levy for the year next succeeding the year of their issue, provided that the amount of such bonds which may be issued in any one year in excess of the limitations herein contained shall not exceed one-tenth of one per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of said city subject to taxation. Nor shall this section be construed to prevent the issue of bonds to provide for the supply of water; but the term of the bonds issued to provide the supply of water, in excess of the limitation of indebtedness fixed herein, shall not exceed twenty years, and a sinking fund shall be created on the issuing of the said bonds for their redemption, by raising annually a sum which will produce an amount equal to the sum of the principal and interest of said bonds at their maturity. All certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes, which are not retired within five years after their date of issue, and bonds issued to provide for the supply of water, and any debt hereafter incurred by any portion or part of a city if there shall be any such debt, shall be included in ascertaining the power of the city to become otherwise indebted; except that debts incurred by the city of New York after the first day of January, 1904, and debts incurred by any city of the second class after the first day of January, 1908, and debts incurred by any city of the third class after the first day of January, 1910, to provide for the supply of water, shall not be so included; and except further that any debt hereafter incurred by the city of New York for a public improvement owned or to be owned by the city, which yields to the city current net revenue, after making any necessary allowance for repairs and maintenance for which the city is liable, in excess of the interest on said debt and of the annual instalments necessary for its amortization may be excluded in ascertaining the power of said city to become otherwise indebted, provided that a sinking fund for its amortization shall have been established and maintained and that the indebtedness shall not be so excluded during any period of time when the revenue aforesaid shall not be sufficient to equal the said interest and amortization instalments, and except further that any indebtedness heretofore incurred by the city of New York for any rapid transit or dock investment may be so excluded proportionately to the extent to which the current net revenue received by said city therefrom shall meet the interest and amortization instalments thereof, provided that any increase in the debt incurring power of the city of New York which shall result from the exclusion of debts heretofore incurred shall be available only for the acquisition or construction of properties to be used for rapid transit or dock purposes. The legislature shall prescribe the method by which and the terms and conditions under which the amount of any debt to be so excluded shall be determined, and no such debt shall be excluded except in accordance with the determination so prescribed. The legislature may in its discretion confer appropriate jurisdiction on the appellate division of the supreme court in the first judicial department for the purpose of determining the amount of any debt to be so excluded. No indebtedness of a city valid at the time of its inception shall thereafter become invalid by reason of the operation of any of the provisions of this section. Whenever the boundaries of any city are the same as those of a county, or when any city shall include within its boundaries more than one county, the power of any county wholly included within such city to become indebted shall cease, but the debt of the county, heretofore existing, shall not, for the purposes of this section, be reckoned as a part of the city debt. The amount hereafter to be raised by tax for county or city purposes, in any county containing a city of over 100,000 inhabitants, or any such city of this state, in addition to providing for the principal and interest of existing debt, shall not in the aggregate exceed in any one year two per centum of the assessed valuation of the real and personal estate of such county or cty, to be ascertained as prescribed in this section in respect to county or city debt.

§ 11. State board of charities; state commission in lunacy; state commission of prisons.

The legislature shall provide for a state board of charities, which shall visit and inspect all institutions, whether state, county, municipal, incorporated or not incorporated, which are of a charitable, eleemosynary, correctional or reformatory character, excepting only such institutions as are hereby made subject to the visitation and inspection of either of the commissions, hereinafter mentioned, but including all reformatories except those in which adult males convicted of felony shall be confined; a state commission in lunacy which shall visit and inspect all institutions, either public or private, used for the care and treatment of the insane (not including institutions for epileptics or idiots); a state commission of prisons which shall visit and inspect all institutions used for the detention of sane adults charged with or convicted of crime, or detained as witnesses or debtors.

New.

§ 12. Boards appointed by governor.

The members of the said board and of the said commissions shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate; and any member may be removed from office by the governor for cause, an opportunity having been given him to be heard in his defense.

New.

§ 13. Existing laws to remain in force.

Existing laws relating to institutions referred to in the foregoing sections and to their supervision and inspection, in so far as such laws are not inconsistent with the provisions of the constitution, shall remain in force until amended or repealed by the legislature. The visitation and inspection herein provided for shall not be exclusive of other visitation and inspection now authorized by law.

New.

§ 14. Maintenance and support of inmates of charitable institutions.

Nothing in this constitution contained shall prevent the legislature from making such provision for the education and support of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and juvenile delinquents, as to it may seem proper; or prevent any county, city, town or village from providing for the care, support, maintenance and secular education, of inmates of orphan asylums, homes for dependent children or correctional institutions, whether under public or private control. Payments by counties, cities, towns and villages to charitable, eleemosynary, correctional and reformatory institutions, wholly or partly under private control, for care, support and maintenance, may be authorized, but shall not be required by the legislature. No such payments shall be made for any inmate of such institutions who is not received and retained therein pursuant to rules established by the state board of charities. Such rules shall be subject to the control of the legislature by general laws.

New.

§ 15. Commissioners continued in office.

Commissioners of the state board of charities and commissioners of the state commission in lunacy, now holding office, shall be continued in office for the term for which they were appointed, respectively, unless the legislature shall otherwise provide. The legislature may confer upon the commissions and upon the board mentioned in the foregoing sections any additional powers that are not inconsistent with other provisions of the constitution.

New.

ARTICLE IX.

§ 1. Common schools.

The legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a system of free common schools, wherein all the children of this State may be educated.

New.

§ 2. Regents of the university.

The corporation created in the year 1784, under the name of The Regents of the University of the State of New York, is hereby continued under the name of The University of the State of New York. It shall be governed and its corporate powers, which may be increased, modified or diminished by the legislature, shall be exercised by not less than nine regents.

New.

§ 3. Common school, literature, and the United States deposit funds.

The capital of the common school fund, the capital of the literature fund, and the capital of the United States deposit fund, shall be respectively preserved inviolate. The revenue of the said common school fund shall be applied to the support of common schools; the revenue of the said literature fund shall be applied to the support of academies; and the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars of the revenues of the United States deposit fund shall each year be appropriated to and made part of the capital of the said common school fund.

From Const. of 1846, Art. IX, § 1.

§ 4. No aid to denominational schools.

Neither the State nor any subdivision thereof, shall use its property or credit or any public money, or authorize or permit either to be used, directly or indirectly, in aid or maintenance, other than for examination or inspection, of any school or institution of learning wholly or in part under the control or direction of any religious denomination, or in which any denominational tenet or doctrine is taught.

ARTICLE X.

§ 1. Sheriffs, clerks of counties, district attorneys, and registers; governor may remove.

Sheriffs, clerks of counties, district attorneys, and registers in counties having registers, shall be chosen by the electors of the respective counties, once in every three years and as often as vacancies shall happen, except in the counties of New York and Kings, and in counties whose boundaries are the same as those of a city, where such officers shall be chosen by the electors once in every two or four years as the legislature shall direct. Sheriffs shall hold no other office, and be ineligible for the next term after the termination of their offices. They may be required by law to renew their security, from time to time; and in default of giving such new security, their offices shall be deemed vacant. But the county shall never be made responsible for the acts of the sheriff. The governor may remove any officer, in this section mentioned, within the term for which he shall have been elected; giving to such officer a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity of being heard in his defense.

From Const. of 1846, Art. X, § 1.

§ 2. Appointment or election of officers, not provided for by this constitution.

All county officers, whose election or appointment is not provided for by this constitution, shall be elected by the electors of the respective counties or appointed by the boards of supervisors, or other county authorities, as the legislature shall direct. All city, town and village officers, whose election or appointment is not provided for by this constitution, shall be elected by the electors of such cities, towns and villages, or of some division thereof, or appointed by such authorities thereof, as the legislature shall designate for that purpose. All other officers, whose election or appointment is not provided for by this constitution, and all officers, whose offices may hereafter be created by law, shall be elected by the people, or appointed, as the legislature may direct.

From Id., Art. X, § 2.

§ 3. Duration of term.

When the duration of any office is not provided by this constitution, it may be declared by law, and if not so declared, such office shall be held during the pleasure of the authority making the appointment.

From Id., Art. X, § 3.

§ 4. Time of election.

The time of electing all officers named in this article shall be prescribed by law.

From Id., Art. X, § 4.

§ 5. Vacancies in office, how filled.

The legislature shall provide for filling vacancies in office, and in case of elective officers, no person appointed to fill a vacancy shall hold his office by virtue of such appointment longer than the commencement of the political year next succeeding the first annual election after the happening of the vacancy.

From Id., Art. X, § 5.

§ 6. Political year.

The political year and legislative term shall begin on the first day of January; and the legislature shall, every year, assemble on the first Wednesday in January.

From Id., Art. X, § 6.

§ 7. Removal from office for misconduct, etc.

Provision shall be made by law for the removal for misconduct or malversation in office of all officers, except judicial, whose powers and duties are not local or legislative and who shall be elected at general elections, and also for supplying vacancies created by such removal.

From id., Art. X, § 7.

§ 8. Office deemed vacant.

The legislature may declare the cases in which any office shall be deemed vacant when no provision is made for that purpose in this constitution.

From Id., Art. X, § 8.

§ 9. Compensation of officers.

No officer whose salary is fixed by the constitution shall receive any additional compensation. Each of the other state officers named in the constitution shall, during his continuance in office, receive a compensation, to be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected or appointed; nor shall he receive to his use any fees, or perquisites of office or other compensation.

From Id., Art. X, § 9, as am'd in 1874.

ARTICLE XI.

§ 1. State militia.

All able-bodied male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, who are residents of the State, shall constitute the militia, subject however, to such exemptions as are now, or may be hereafter created by the laws of the United States, or by the legislature of this State.

From Const. of 1846, Art. XI, § 1.

§ 2. Enlistment.

The legislature may provide for the enlistment into the active force of such other persons as may make application to be so enlisted.

New.

§ 3. Organization of militia.

The militia shall be organized and divided into such land and naval, and active and reserve forces, as the legislature may deem proper, provided however that there shall be maintained at all times a force of not less than ten thousand enlisted men, fully uniformed, armed, equipped, disciplined and ready for active service. And it shall be the duty of the legislature at each session to make sufficient appropriation for the maintenance thereof.

New.

§ 4. Appointment of military officers by the governor.

The governor shall appoint the chiefs of the several staff departments, his aides-de-camp and military secretary, all of whom shall hold office during his pleasure, their commissions to expire with the term for which the governor shall have been elected; he shall also nominate, and with the consent of the senate appoint, all major-generals.

From Id., Art. XI, § 3.

§ 5. Manner of election of military officers prescribed by legislature.

All other commissioned and noncommissioned officers shall be chosen or appointed in such manner as the legislature may deem most conducive to the improvement of the militia, provided, however, that no law shall be passed changing the existing mode of election and appointment unless two-thirds of the members present in each house shall concur therein.

From Id., Art. XI, §§ 4, 6.

§ 6. Commissioned officers; their removal.

The commissioned officers shall be commissioned by the governor as commander-in-chief. No commissioned officer shall be removed from office during the term for which he shall have been appointed or elected, unless by the senate on the recommendation of the governor, stating the grounds on which such removal is recommended, or by the sentence of a court-martial, or upon the findings of an examining board organized pursuant to law, or for absence without leave for a period of six months or more.

From Id., Art. XI, § 5.

ARTICLE XII.

§ 1. [Am'd, 190..] Organization of cities and villages.

It shall be the duty of the legislature to provide for the organization of cities and incorporated villages; and to restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts, and loaning their credit, so as to prevent abuses in assessments and in contracting debt by such municipal corporations; and the legislature may regulate and fix the wages or salaries, the hours of work or labor, and make provision for the protection, welfare, and safety of persons employed by the State or by any county, town, village or other civil division of the State, or by any contractor or sub-contractor performing work, labor or services for the State, or for any county, city, town, village or other civil division thereof.

From Const. of 1846, Art. VIII, § 9. Am'd in 1905 (see L. 1903, p. 1463).

§ 2. [Am'd, 1907.] Classification of cities; general and special city laws; special city laws; how passed by legislature and acceptance by cities.

All cities are classified according to the latest state enumeration, as from time to time made, as follows: The first class includes all cities having a population of one hundred and seventy-five thousand or more; the second class, all cities having a population of fifty thousand and less than one hundred and seventy-five thousand; the third class, all other cities. Laws relating to the property, affairs or government of cities, and the several departments thereof, are divided into general and special city laws; general city laws are those which relate to all the cities of one or more classes; special city laws are those which relate to a single city, or to less than all the cities of a class. Special city laws shall not be passed except in conformity with the provisions of this section. After any bill for a special city law, relating to a city, has been passed by both branches of the legislature, the house in which it originated shall immediately transmit a certified copy thereof to the mayor of such city, and within fifteen days thereafter the mayor shall return such bill to the house from which it was sent, or if the session of the legislature at which such bill was passed has terminated, to the governor, with the mayor's certificate thereon, stating whether the city has or has not accepted the same. In every city of the first class, the mayor, and in every other city, the mayor and the legislative body thereof concurrently, shall act for such city as to such bill; but the legislature may provide for the concurrence of the legislative body in cities of the first class. The legislature shall provide for a public notice and opportunity for a public hearing concerning any such bill in every city to which it relates, before action thereon. Such a bill, if it relates to more than one city, shall be transmitted to the mayor of each city to which it relates, and shall not be deemed accepted unless accepted as herein provided, by every such city. Whenever any such bill is accepted as herein provided, it shall be subject, as are other bills, to the action of the governor. Whenever, during the session at which it was passed, any such bill is returned without the acceptance of the city or cities to which it relates, or within such fifteen days is not returned, it may nevertheless again be passed by both branches of the legislature, and it shall then be subject as are other bills, to the action of the governor. In every special city law which has been accepted by the city or cities to which it relates, the title shall be followed by the words "accepted by the city," or "cities," as the case may be; in every such law which is passed without such acceptance, by the words "passed without the acceptance of the city," or "cities," as the case may be.

New. Am'd in 1907 (see L. 1907, p. 2508).

§ 3. Election of city officers, when to be held; extension and abridgment of terms.

All elections of city officers, including supervisors and judicial officers of inferior local courts, elected in any city or part of a city, and of county officers elected in the counties of New York and Kings, and in all counties whose boundaries are the same as those of a city, except to fill vacancies, shall be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday in November in an odd-numbered year, and the term of every such officer shall expire at the end of an odd-numbered year. The terms of office of all such officers elected before the first day of January, 1895, whose successors have not then been elected, which under existing laws would expire with an even-numbered year, or in an odd-numbered year and before the end thereof, are extended to and including the last day of December next following the time when such terms would otherwise expire; the terms of office of all such officers, which under existing laws would expire in an even-numbered year, and before the end thereof, are abridged so as to expire at the end of the preceding year. This section shall not apply to any city of the third class, or to elections of any judicial officer, except judges and justices of inferior local courts.

New.

ARTICLE XIII.

§ 1. Oath of office.

Members of the legislature and all officers executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as shall be by law exempted shall, before they enter on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of the State of New York, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of ————, according to the best of my ability;" and all such officers who shall have been chosen at any election shall, before they enter on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the oath or affirmation above prescribed, together with the following addition thereto, as part thereof:

"And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, or offered or promised to contribute any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office, and have not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote," and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust.

From Const. of 1846, Art. XII, § 1, as am'd in 1874.

§ 2. Official bribery and corruption.

Any person holding office under the laws of this State who, except in payment of his legal salary, fees or perquisites, shall receive or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, anything of value or of personal advantage, or the promise thereof, for performing or omitting to perform any official act, or with the express or implied understanding that his official action or omission to act is to be in any degree influenced thereby, shall be deemed guilty of a felony. This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statute in relation to the offense of bribery.

From Id., Art. XV, § 1, as am'd in 1874.

§ 3. Offer or promise to bribe.

Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and liable to punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe, if it be rejected by the officer to whom it was tendered, shall be deemed guilty of an attempt to bribe, which is hereby declared to be a felony.

From Id., Art. XV, § 2, as am'd in 1874.

§ 4. Person bribed or offering a bribe may be a witness.

Any person charged with receiving a bribe, or with offering or promising a bribe, shall be permitted to testify in his own behalf in any civil or criminal prosecution therefor.

From Id., Art. XV, § 3, as am'd in 1874.

§ 5. Free passes, franking privileges, etc., not to be received by public officers; penalty.

No public officer, or person elected or appointed to a public office, under the laws of this State, shall directly or indirectly ask, demand, accept, receive or consent to receive for his own use or benefit, or for the use or benefit of another, any free pass, free transportation, franking privilege or discrimination in passenger, telegraph or telephone rates, from any person or corporation, or make use of the same himself or in conjunction with another. A person who violates any provision of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall forfeit his office at the suit of the attorney general. Any corporation, or officer or agent thereof, who shall offer or promise to a public officer, or person elected or appointed to a public office, any such free pass, free transportation, franking privilege or discrimination, shall also be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to punishment except as herein provided. No person, or officer or agent of a corporation giving any such free pass, free transportation, franking privilege or discrimination hereby prohibited, shall be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor if he shall testify to the giving of the same.

New.

§ 6. Removal of district attorney for failure to prosecute; expenses of prosecutions for bribery.

Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provision of this article which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defense. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county, in investigating and prosecuting any charge of bribery or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this State, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the State, and their payment by the State shall be provided for by law.

From Id., Art. XV, § 4, as am'd in 1874.

ARTICLE XIV.

§ 1. Amendments to constitution, how proposed, voted upon and ratified.

Any amendment or amendments to this constitution may be proposed in the senate and assembly; and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, and the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and shall be published for three months previous to the time of making such choice; and if in the legislature so next chosen, as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, then it shall be the duty of the legislature to submit each proposed amendment or amendments to the people for approval in such manner and at such times as the legislature shall prescribe; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution from and after the first day of January next after such approval.

From Const. of 1846, Art. XIII, § 1.

§ 2. Future constitutional conventions; how called; election of delegates; compensation; quorum; submission of amendments; officers; rules; vacancies; taking effect.

At the general election to be held in the year 1916, and every twentieth year thereafter, and also at such times as the legislature may by law provide, the question, "Shall there be a convention to revise the constitution and amend the same?" shall be decided by the electors of the State; and in case a majority of the electors voting thereon shall decide in favor of a convention for such purpose, the electors of every senate district of the State, as then organized, shall elect three delegates at the next ensuing general election at which members of the assembly shall be chosen, and the electors of the State voting at the same election shall elect fifteen delegates-at-large. The delegates so elected shall convene at the capitol on the first Tuesday of April next ensuing after their election, and shall continue their session until the business of such convention shall have been completed. Every delegate shall receive for his services the same compensation and the same mileage as shall then be annually payable to the members of the assembly. A majority of the convention shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and no amendment to the constitution shall be submitted for approval to the electors as hereinafter provided, unless by the assent of a majority of all the delegates elected to the convention, the yeas and nays being entered on the journal to be kept. The convention shall have the power to appoint such officers, employees and assistants as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensation and to provide for the printing of its documents, journal and proceedings. The convention shall determine the rules of its own proceedings, choose its own officers, and be the judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its members. In case of a vacancy, by death, resignation or other cause, of any district delegate elected to the convention, such vacancy shall be filled by a vote of the remaining delegates representing the district in which such vacancy occurs. If such vacancy occurs in the office of a delegate-at-large, such vacancy shall be filled by a vote of the remaining delegates-at-large. Any proposed constitution or constitutional amendment which shall have been adopted by such convention, shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of the State at the time and in the manner provided by such convention, at an election which shall be held not less than six weeks after the adjournment of such convention. Upon the approval of such constitution or constitutional amendments, in the manner provided in the last preceding section, such constitution or constitutional amendments, shall go into effect on the first day of January next after such approval.

In part from Id., Art. XIII, § 2.

§ 2. Amendments of convention and legislature submitted coincidentally.

Any amendment proposed by a constitutional convention relating to the same subject as an amendment proposed by the legislature, coincidently submitted to the people for approval at the general election held in the year 1894, or at any subsequent election, shall, if approved, be deemed to supersede the amendment so proposed by the legislature.

New.

ARTICLE XV.

§ 1. Time of taking effect.

This constitution shall be in force from and including the first day of January, 1895, except as herein otherwise provided.

Done in convention at the capitol in the city of Albany, the twenty-ninth day of September, in the year 1894, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and nineteenth.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our names.

JOSEPH HODGES CHOATE,
President and Delegate-at-Large.

CHARLES ELLIOTT FITCH,
Secretary.

RULES OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.

NOTICE.

The first Monday of each session only will be a motion day, on which oral arguments will be heard in original motions. Original motions may be submitted, without oral argument, on any Monday when the court is in session, provided they are submitted by both sides.

After the day calendar is made up — at 6 o'clock P. M. — stipulations are too late. The clerk has then no power to leave a number off.

The full number of cases and points (18) are required, without which appeals may not be heard.

The "Order Calendar" is composed of preferred causes, and the notice of argument must claim the preference as an appeal "entitled to be heard under Rule XI." Appeals from orders should be noticed for the first Monday of a session.

The county clerk's certificate, or waiver thereof under section 3301, Code of Civil Procedure, are necessary parts of the printed case on appeal.

When a new calendar is ordered, it is desirable to notice causes in which the returns are filed, at once.

Counsel residing in New York city and its vicinity who intend to argue causes on the general calendar, should send their residence addresses to the clerk, and should promptly notify him of changes in their office addresses.

The daily sessions of the court are held from 2 o'clock P. M. to 6 o'clock P. M., except Fridays only, when it will sit from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M

Every exhibit presented to the court should be plainly marked with the address of the counsel presenting the same, as well as the title of the cause.

The clerk always submits for counsel who are absent when their cases are called for argument, provided their papers have been filed, as directed by Rule 7.

Requests for copies of opinions should be addressed to the State Reporter, Albany, N. Y.

The eighteen printed copies of the case required by Rule 7 to be filed with the clerk must be bound in light-colored (not dark) paper, and should not be sent to the clerk for filing until after the appeal has received a calendar number.

Each day's calendar and all court notices to the bar are printed in the New York Law Journal, which is the legal publication through which the clerk endeavors to reach the legal profession.

Attention of attorneys is called to Rule 7, which will be strictly enforced.

RULES OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.

(Adopted October 22, 1894; as amended to June, 1911.)

RULE I.

Appellant to file return; effect of omission. — If the appellant shall not cause the proper return to be made and filed with the clerk of this court within the time prescribed by law (Code Civil Pro., § 1315), the respondent may, by notice in writing, require such return to be filed within ten days after the service of the notice, and if the return be not filed in pursuance of such notice, the appellant shall be deemed to have waived the appeal. On an affidavit proving that the appeal was perfected, and the service of such notice, and a certificate of the clerk that no return has been filed, the respondent may enter an order with the clerk dismissing the appeal for want of prosecution, with costs, and the court below may thereupon proceed as though there had been no appeal.

RULE II.

Further return may be ordered. — If the return made by the clerk of the court below shall be defective, either party may, on an affidavit, specifying the defect, and on notice to the opposite party, apply to one of the judges of this court for an order, that the clerk make a further return without delay.

RULE III.

Attorneys and guardians below to continue to act. — The attorneys and guardians ad litem of the respective parties in the court below shall be deemed the attorneys and guardians of the same parties respectively, in this court, until others shall be retained or appointed, and notice thereof shall be served on the adverse party.

RULE IV.

Appellant to make a case; its form. — In all calendar causes a case shall be made by the appellant, which shall consist of a copy of the return, and the reasons of the court below for its judgment, or an affidavit that the same cannot be procured, together with an index to the pleadings, exhibits, depositions and other principal matters. Every opinion in the cause at Special Term, as well as at the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, relating to the questions involved in the appeal, is included by the foregoing provision.

RULE V.

Cases and points to be printed; mode of printing. — All cases and points, and all other papers furnished to the court in calendar causes, shall be printed on white paper, as provided in section 796 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and, if bound, the covers shall be of light-colored paper, which can be legibly written upon. The folio, numbering from the commencement to the end of the case, shall be printed on the outer margin of the page. Small pica, leaded, or ten point leaded with four to pica leads, is the smallest letter and most compact mode of composition which is allowed. No charge for printing the papers mentioned in this rule shall be allowed as a disbursement in a cause; unless the requirements of the preceding sentence shall be shown, by affidavit, to have been complied with in all papers printed.

RULE VI.

Appellant to serve copies of case; effect of his default. — Within forty days after the appeal is perfected, the appellant shall serve three printed copies of the case on the attorney of the adverse party. If he fail to do so, the respondent may, by notice in writing, require the service of such copies within ten days after service of the notice, and, if the copies be not served in pursuance of such notice, the appellant shall be deemed to have waived the appeal; and on an affidavit proving the default and the service of such notice, the respondent may enter an order with the clerk dismissing the appeal for want of prosecution, with costs, and the court below may thereupon proceed as though there had been no appeal.

RULE VII.

Copies of cases and points. — At least twenty days before a cause is placed on the day calendar, the appellant shall file with the clerk eighteen printed copies of the case, and shall at the same time file with the clerk eighteen printed copies, and serve on the attorney or counsel for the respondent three printed copies, of the points to be relied on by him, with a reference to the authorities to be cited. Within ten days after such service, the respondent shall file with the clerk eighteen printed copies, and serve on the attorney or counsel for the appellant three printed copies, of the points to be relied on by him, with a reference to the authorities to be cited.

If the appellant desires to present points or authorities in reply, he shall file with the clerk eighteen printed copies thereof and serve three printed copies on the attorney or counsel for the respondent, within five days after receipt of the respondent's points; and no supplemental points will be allowed from either side unless especially requested by the court.

No points will be received by the court on argument or submission, unless they shall have been filed and served as above provided; except that in appeals under Rule XI, noticed for the first Monday of a session, and in causes upon a new general calendar to be heard during the first two weeks of any session at which such new calendar is taken up, the parties shall file the printed cases and file and serve, or exchange, the printed points, at least two days before the commencement of the session.

The cases and points filed with the clerk shall be disposed of as follows: One copy shall be furnished to each of the judges; one copy shall be kept by the clerk, with the records of the court; one copy shall be deposited in the State Library; one copy shall be deposited in each branch of the library of the Court of Appeals; one copy shall be deposited in the library of the New York Law Institute; one copy shall be deposited in the Law Library of Brooklyn; one copy shall be deposited in the Law Library of the Eighth Judicial District, and one copy shall be delivered to the reporter. (As amended October 13, 1910.)

RULE VIII.

Statement and discussion of facts. — In all causes each party shall briefly state upon his printed points, in a separate form, the leading facts which he deems established, with a reference to the folios where the evidence of such facts may be found. And the court will not hear an extended discussion upon any mere question of fact.

Every cause shall be deemed to be submitted to such judges as may be absent at the time of the argument, unless objection to such submission by counsel arguing the cause be then made.

RULE IX.

Criminal causes. — Appeals in criminal causes brought after making up the calendar, or too late to be placed on said calendar, may be put upon the calendar at any time, and brought on for a hearing as preferred causes, upon a notice of ten days; and it shall be the duty of the clerk to place such causes on the calendar for the day for which they shall be noticed or upon which the cause shall be ordered by the court, or stipulated by the parties, to be heard.

RULE X.

Submission and reservation of causes. — Causes will not be received upon submission, until reached in the regular call of the calendar. No reservation will be made of any of the first eight causes, unless on account of sickness, or of an engagement elsewhere in the actual trial, or argument, of another cause, commenced before the term of this court, or of other inevitable necessity, to be shown by affidavit. Other causes may be reserved upon reasonable cause shown, or by stipulation of parties filed with the clerk; but no cause shall be so reserved by stipulation after the same has been placed upon the day calendar.

Causes reserved for a day certain by stipulation, when in order to be called, have priority among each other according to the time of filing the stipulations with the clerk, and shall follow next in order the undisposed of causes of the calendar for the day previous. Default may be taken in them.

No reserved cause, whether reserved generally or for a particular day, will be called before its number is reached on the regular call of the calendar.

RULE XI.

Motions and appeals from orders. — Motions, appeals from final orders in special proceedings, from interlocutory judgments and from orders in actions and special proceedings, certified to this court by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, except orders granting a new trial, may be noticed for, and will be heard on, the first Monday of each session of the court, before taking up the general calendar. Notices of argument of appeals within this rule must contain the claim that the appeal is one entitled to be heard under Rule XI of the Court of Appeals.

Motions will be heard orally on the first Monday of a session only; but they may be submitted without oral argument on any Monday when the court is in session; provided they are submitted by both sides and the papers are filed with the clerk on or before the preceding Friday. If either party demands an oral argument of a motion noticed for any other than the first Monday of a session, the motion will go over to the first Monday of the succeeding session.

Where notice has been given of a motion, if no one shall appear to oppose, it will be granted as of course.

If a motion be not made on the day for which it has been noticed, the opposing party will be entitled, on applying to the court at the close of the motions for that day, to a rule denying the motion, with costs.

RULE XII.

Call of calendar. — Eight causes only will be called on any day; but, after such call, causes ready on both sides will be heard in their order. Any cause which is regularly called and passed, without postponement by the court for good cause shown at the time of the call, shall be stricken from the calendar.

Causes upon the calendar may be exchanged one for another, as of course, on filing with the clerk a note of the proposed exchange, with the numbers of the causes, signed by the respective attorneys or counsel. Upon all subsequent calendars, each of said causes will take the place due to the date of the filing of the return in the other.

In like manner, a cause not upon the calendar, in which an appeal to this court has been perfected and the return duly filed with the clerk, may be exchanged, as of course, for another cause upon the calendar, on filing with the clerk a note of the proposed exchange, with the number of the cause on the calendar, and the date of filing return in the cause not upon the calendar, signed by the respective attorneys or counsel, and, also, a stipulation of the attorneys or counsel in the cause not on the calendar setting down the same for argument in place of the calendar cause when reached, with the same effect as if duly noticed.

Upon all subsequent calendars, each of said causes will take the place due to the date of filing the return in the other.

RULE XIII.

Time of argument. — In the argument of a cause not more than two hours shall be occupied by counsel on either side, except by the express permission of the court.

In the argument of an appeal within Rule XI not more than thirty minutes shall be occupied by the appellant's counsel, nor more than twenty-five minutes by the respondent's counsel; unless express permission be given by the court and the cause placed at the foot of the order calendar.

RULE XIV.

Preferred causes. — No causes are entitled to any preference upon the calendar except such as is given by law or the special order of the court.

Any party claiming a preference must so state in his notice of argument to the opposite party and to the clerk; and he must also state the ground of such preference, so as to show to which of the preferred classes the cause belongs.

A preferred cause being once passed loses its preference.

RULE XV.

Defaults. — Judgments of reversal by default will not be allowed. When a cause is called in its order on the calendar, if the appellant fails to appear and furnish the court with the papers required, and argue or submit his cause, judgment of affirmance by default will be ordered on motion of the respondent. If the appellant only appears, he may either argue or submit the cause.

When any cause shall be regularly called for argument, and no other disposition shall be made thereof, the appeal shall be dismissed, without costs, and an order shall be entered accordingly, which shall be absolute unless upon application made and good cause shown, upon notice to the opposite party within ten days, if the court is in session, and if not, on the first motion day of the next session, the court shall revoke said order and restore said appeal.

RULE XVI.

Remittitur. — The remittitur shall contain a copy of the judgment of this court and the return made by the clerk below, and shall be sealed with the seal and signed by the clerk of this court.

RULE XVII.

Affirmance by default. — When a judgment or order shall be affirmed by the default of the appellant, the remittitur shall not be sent to the court below, unless this court shall otherwise direct, until ten days after notice of the affirmance shall have been served by the attorney for the respondent on the attorney for the appellant and proof thereof filed with the clerk. Service of the notice shall be proved to the clerk by affidavit, or by the written admission of the attorney on whom it was served.

RULE XVIII.

Enlarging time; revoking orders. — The time prescribed by these rules for doing any act may be enlarged by the court or by any of the judges thereof; and any of the judges may make orders to stay proceedings, which, when served with papers and notice of motion, shall stay the proceedings according to the terms of the order. Any order may be revoked or modified by the judge who made it; or, in case of his absence or inability to act, by any of the other judges.

RULE XIX.

Calendars. — When a new calendar is ordered by the court, the clerk shall place thereon all causes in which notices of argument, with proof or admission of service, have been filed in his office; and, also, if ordered by the court, all other causes in which the returns have been filed in his office; and the causes so put on the calendar by the direction of the court will be heard in their order as if regularly noticed.

RULE XX.

Motions for reargument. — Motions for reargument must be submitted on printed briefs, without oral argument, on notice to the adverse party, stating briefly the ground upon which a reargument is asked, and the points supposed to have been overlooked or misapprehended by the court, with proper reference to the particular portion of the case and to the authorities relied upon.

Rules of the Court of Appeals for the Admission of Attorneys and Counselors at Law.

(As amended May 17, 1911, to take effect July 1, 1911.)

RULE I.

General regulation as to admission. — No person shall be admitted to practice as an attorney or counselor in any court of record of the State except upon an order of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court admitting him to the bar and licensing him to practice upon compliance with these rules.

RULE II.

Admission without examination. — The following classes of persons may in the discretion of the Appellate Division be admitted and licensed without examination:

1. Any person admitted to practice and who has practiced five years as a member of the bar in the highest law court in any other State or Territory of the American Union or in the District of Columbia.
2. Any person admitted to practice and who has practiced five years in another country whose jurisprudence is based on the principles of the English common law.
3. Any American citizen domiciled in a foreign country whose jurisprudence is based on the principles of the English common law holding a diploma or degree which would entitle him to practice law in the courts of such foreign country if a citizen thereof.

Any person admitted under this rule must possess the other qualifications required by these rules and must produce a letter of recommendation from one of the judges of the highest law court of such other State or country, or furnish other satisfactory evidence of character and qualifications.

An attorney and counselor from another State or foreign jurisdiction may in the discretion of any court of record be admitted pro hac vice to participate in the trial or argument of any cause in which he may be employed.

RULE III.

Admission on examination. — Three classes of persons may be admitted to the bar upon examination:

1. Persons who are not graduates of a college or university;
2. Persons who are graduates of a college or university; and
3. Persons who have been admitted as attorneys and have practiced three years in another State or country.

In each class the applicant must prove by his own affidavit to the satisfaction of the State Board of Law Examiners that he is a citizen of the United States, twenty-one years of age, stating his age, and an actual and not a constructive resident of the State for not less than six months immediately preceding and that he has not been examined for admission to practice and been refused admission within four months, and that he has studied law in the manner and according to the conditions in these rules prescribed.

Applicants in the first class (i. e., persons who are not graduates of a college or university) must have studied law for a period of four years. Such an applicant may pursue his course of law study wholly by serving a clerkship in the office of a practicing attorney: or partly by serving such clerkship and partly by attending a law school; but every such applicant must serve such clerkship for a period of at least one year continuously either before examination by the State Board of Law Examiners or after such examination and prior to admission to the bar.

Applicants in the second class (i. e., persons who are graduates of a college or university) must have studied law for a period of three years. Such an applicant may pursue his course of law study wholly by serving a clerkship in the office of a practicing attorney; or wholly by attending a law school; or partly by serving such clerkship and partly by attending a law school.

Applicants in the third class (i. e., persons who have been admitted as attorneys and have practiced three years in another State or country) must have studied law for a period of one year within this State and pursue such course of study either by serving a clerkship or by attendance upon a law school as the applicant may elect.

Candidates for admission to the bar under this rule (i. e., upon examination) may be admitted and licensed upon producing and filing with the court the certificate of the State Board of Law Examiners that the applicant has satisfactorily passed the examination prescribed by these rules and has complied with their provisions, and upon producing and filing with the court, in the case of applicants in the first class (i. e., persons who are not graduates of a college or university), evidence that he has served a regular clerkship of one year in this State with an attorney or attorneys in regular practice, either before or after having passed such examination. The applicant must also produce and file evidence that he is a person of good moral character which must be shown by the affidavits of two reputable persons of the town or city in which he resides, one of whom must be a practicing attorney of the Supreme Court. Such affidavits must state that the applicant is, to the knowledge of the affiant, a person of good moral character, and must set forth in detail the facts upon which such knowledge is based; but such affidavits shall not be conclusive and the court may make further examination and inquiry.

If the applicant be a graduate of a college, or university, he must have pursued the prescribed course of law study after his graduation, and, if he be a person admitted to the bar of another State or country, he must have pursued his prescribed period of law study after having remained as a practicing attorney in such other State or country for the period of three years.

RULE IV.

Regulations concerning preliminary studies. — All candidates for admission to the bar upon examination, except applicants in the third class mentioned in Rule III (i. e., persons who have been admitted and have practiced three years in another State or country), must have pursued a preliminary course of study evidenced by graduation from a college or university, or by passing a Regents' examination or the equivalent, as hereinafter prescribed:

Applicants who are not graduates of a college, or university, subject to the limitations and requirements hereinafter, in this subdivision, expressed, or members of the bar as above described, before entering upon the clerkship or attendance at a law school herein prescribed shall have passed an examination conducted under the authority and in accordance with the ordinances and rules of the University of the State of New York, in English, three years; mathematics, two years; Latin, two years; science, one year; history, two years; or in their substantial equivalents as defined by the rules of the University, and shall have filed a certificate of such fact, signed by the Commissioner of Education, with the clerk of the Court of Appeals, whose duty it shall be to return to the person named therein a certified copy of the same, showing the date of such filing. The Regents may accept as the equivalent of and substitute for the examination in this rule prescribed, either, first, a certificate, properly authenticated, of having successfully completed a full year's course of study in any college, or university; second, a certificate, properly authenticated, of having satisfactorily completed a four years' course of study in any institution registered by the Regents as maintaining a satisfactory academic standard; or, third, a Regents' diploma.

All graduates of a college or university existing under the government or laws of any foreign country other than those where English is the language of the people, and all applicants who apply for law students' certificates upon equivalents or substitutes, as above provided, all or any part of which are earned or issued in said foreign countries shall pass the Regents' examination in second year English. The Regents' certificate above prescribed shall be deemed to take effect as of the date of the completion of the Regents' examination, as the same shall appear upon said certificate.

RULE V.

Regulations concerning study at law schools. — The provisions of these rules for study at a law school must be fulfilled by good and regular attendance and successfully completing the prescribed course of instruction at an incorporated law school, or a law school connected with an incorporated college or university, having a law department organized with competent instructors and professors, in which instruction as hereinafter provided is regularly given.

Good and regular attendance upon and the successful completion of the prescribed course of instruction at a law school, the school year of which shall consist of not less than thirty-two school weeks, exclusive of vacations, in which not less than ten hours of attendance upon law lectures or recitations of such prescribed course, to be given or conducted by regular members of the faculty, are required in each week, shall be deemed a year's attendance under this rule.

The same period of time shall not be duplicated for different purposes; except that a student attending a law school, as herein provided, and who, during the vacations of such school, not exceeding three months in any one year, shall pursue his studies in the office of a practicing attorney, shall be allowed to count the time so occupied during such vacation or vacations as part of the clerkship in a law office specified in these rules.

RULE VI.

Regulations concerning clerkship. — The provisions of these rules for studying law by the service of a regular clerkship must be fulfilled by serving such clerkship in the office of a practicing attorney of the Supreme Court in this State, after the candidate has attained the age of eighteen years.

It shall be the duty of attorneys, with whom a clerkship shall be commenced, to file a certificate of the same in the office of the clerk of the Court of Appeals, which certificate shall, in each case, state the date of the beginning of the period of clerkship, and such period shall be deemed to commence at the time of such filing and shall be computed by the calendar year.

In computing the period of clerkship a vacation actually taken, not exceeding two months in each year, shall be allowed as a part of such year.

RULE VII.

Proof to entitle candidate to examination. — The State Board of Law Examiners, before admitting an applicant to an examination, shall require proof that the preliminary conditions prescribed by these rules have been fulfilled; which proof shall be made as follows, viz.:

First. That the applicant is a college graduate, by the production of his diploma, or certificate of graduation, under the seal of the college.

Second. That he has been admitted to the bar of another State or country, by the production of his license, or certificate, executed by the proper authorities.

Third. In all cases where the service of a clerkship is required, that he has served a regular clerkship in the office of a practicing attorney of the Supreme Court in this State, after the age of eighteen years, by producing and filing with the Board a certified copy of the attorney's certificate, as filed in the office of the clerk of the Court of Appeals, and producing and filing an affidavit of the attorney or attorneys with whom such clerkship was served, showing the actual service of such a clerkship, the continuance and end thereof, and that not more than two months' vacation was taken in any one year. Both of said affidavits must be to the effect that during the entire period of such clerkship, except during the stated vacation time, the applicant was actually employed by said attorney as a regular law clerk and student in his law office, and under his direction and advice, engaged in the practical work of the office during the usual business hours of the day.

Fourth. The time of study allowed in a law school must be proved by the certificate of the teacher or president of the faculty, under whose instructions the person has studied, under the seal of the school, if such there be, in addition to the affidavit of the applicant, which must, also, state the age at which the applicant began his attendance at such law school. Said certificate and affidavit must, also, show that the law school prescribes the course of instruction contemplated by these rules, and each shall also contain the statement that said applicant took the prescribed course of instruction required at said school for the degree of Bachelor of Laws while in attendance thereat, and bona fide took and successfully passed all examinations in all the subjects required for said degree during such period of attendance, in each case specifying the subjects in which said applicant took and passed his examinations as aforesaid, which proof must be satisfactory to the Board of Examiners.

Fifth. That the applicant has passed the Regents' examination, or its equivalent, must be proved by the production of a certified copy of the Regents' certificate filed in the office of the clerk of the Court of Appeals, as hereinbefore provided.

Sixth. When it satisfactorily appears that any diploma, affidavit, or certificate, required to be produced has been lost, or destroyed, without the fault of the applicant, or has been unjustly refused or withheld, or by the death or absence of the person or officer who should have made it, cannot be obtained, the Board of Law Examiners may accept such other proof of the requisite facts as they shall deem sufficient.

Seventh. A law student whose clerkship, or attendance at a law school, has already begun, as shown by the records of the Court of Appeals, or of any incorporated law school, or law school established in connection with any college or university, may, at his option, file or produce, instead of the proofs required by these rules, those required by the Rules of the Court of Appeals in force June 1, 1908.

RULE VIII.

Regulations concerning examination. — The examination held by such State Board of Examiners may be conducted by oral or written questions and answers, or partly oral and partly written, but shall be as nearly uniform in the knowledge and capacity which they shall require, as is reasonably possible. Every applicant shall be given and required to pass a satisfactory examination in the canons of ethics adopted by the American Bar Association and by the New York State Bar Association. An applicant who has failed to pass one examination cannot again be examined, until at least four months after such failure.

The State Board of Law Examiners shall be paid as compensation, each, the sum of two thousand dollars per year, and, in addition, such further sum as the court may direct, and an annual sum not exceeding two thousand dollars per year shall be allowed for necessary disbursements of the Board. Every applicant for examination shall pay to the examiners a fee of fifteen dollars, which shall be applied upon the compensation and allowance above provided, and any surplus thereafter remaining shall be held by the treasurer of the State Board of Law Examiners and deposited in some bank, in good standing, in the city of Albany, to his credit and subject to his draft as such treasurer, when approved by the Chief Judge.

RULE IX.

Relief from excusable mistakes. — When the filing of a certificate, as required by these rules, has been omitted by excusable mistake, or without fault, the court may order such filing as of the proper date.

RULE X.

Additional rules by the Appellate Division. — The Justices of the Appellate Division in each department may adopt for their several and respective departments such additional special rules for ascertaining the moral and general fitness of applicants as to such Justices may seem proper.

These rules shall take effect on July 1, 1911.

GENERAL RULES OF PRACTICE.

GENERAL RULES OF PRACTICE.

(Adopted, pursuant to section 17 of Code of Civil Procedure, in December, 1895, to go into effect January 1, 1896; as amended to March, 1914.)

RULE I. (1)

Application for admission as attorneys. — Within ten days after the 1st day of January in each year the Appellate Division in each department shall appoint a committee on character and fitness of not less than three for the department, or may appoint a committee for each judicial district within the department, to whom shall be referred all applications for admission to practice as attorney and counselor at law, such committee to continue in office until their successors are appointed. To the respective committees shall be referred all applications for admission to practice, either upon the certificate of the State Board of Law Examiners or upon motion under Rule 2 of the Rules of the Court of Appeals for admission of attorneys and counselors at law. The committee shall require the attendance before it or a member thereof of each applicant, with the affidavit of at least two practising attorneys acquainted with such applicant, residing in the judicial district in which the applicant resides, that he is of such character and general fitness as justifies admission to practice, and the affidavit must set forth in detail the facts upon which the affiant's knowledge of the applicant is based, and it shall be the duty of the committee to examine each applicant, and the committee must be satisfied from such examination and other evidence that the applicant shall produce that the applicant has such qualifications as to character and general fitness as in the opinion of the committee justify his admission to practice, and no person shall be admitted to practice except upon the production of a certificate from the committee to that effect unless the court otherwise orders.

No applicant shall be entitled to receive such a certificate who is not able to speak and to write the English language intelligently, nor until he affirmatively establishes to the satisfaction of the committee that he possesses such a character as justifies his admission to the Bar and qualifies him to perform the duties of an attorney and counselor at law.

An applicant for admission to practice as an attorney and counselor at law on motion, under the provisions of Rule 2 of the Rules of the Court of Appeals for the admission of attorneys and counselors at law, must present to the court proof that he has been admitted to practice as an attorney and counselor at law in the highest court of law in another State, or in a country whose jurisprudence is based upon the principles of the common law of England; a certificate, executed by the proper authorities that he has been duly admitted to practice in such State or country; that he has actually remained in said State or country, and practised in such court as attorney and counselor at law for at least five years; a certificate from a judge of such court that he has been duly admitted to practice and has actually continuously practised as an attorney and counselor at law for a period of at least five years after he has been admitted, specifying the name of the place or places in which he has so practised and that he has a good character as such attorney. Such certificate must be duly certified by the clerk of the court of which the judge is a member, and the seal of the court must be attached thereto. He must also prove that he is a citizen of the United States and has been an actual resident of the State of New York for at least six months prior to the making of the application, giving the place of his residence by street and number, if such there be, and the length of time he has been such resident. He shall also submit the affidavits of two persons who are residents of the judicial district in which he resides, one of whom must be an attorney and counselor at law, that he is of such character and general fitness as justifies admission to practice, and the affidavit must set forth in detail the facts upon which the affiant's knowledge of the applicant is based. In all cases the applicant must appear in person before the court on the motion for his admission, and also before the committee on character and fitness for the district in which the application is made.

In all cases the applicant for admission must file with the Clerk of the Appellate Division of the proper department the papers required for his admission as hereinbefore specified prior to or at the time of the motion for admission to practice. (As amended June 17, 1913; in effect November 1, 1913.)

RULE II. 115

Papers, where filed; indorsements. — The papers, in cases pending in the Appellate Division, shall be filed with the clerk of such division of the department in which the case is pending. In all other cases where no provision is made by the Code, papers in the Supreme Court shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county specified in the complaint as the place of trial. In Surrogate's Courts, in the office of the surrogate; in other courts of record, in the office of the respective clerks thereof. In case the place of trial be changed to another county, all subsequent papers shall be filed in the county to which such change is made. All papers served or filed must be indorsed or subscribed with the name of the attorney or attorneys, or the name of the party if he appears in person, and his or their office address, or place of business.

RULE III. (71) (72) (73)

Motion papers, to be specified in order and filed; effect of non-filing; entry of order. — When any order is entered, all the papers, used or read on the motion on either side, shall be specified in the order, and shall be filed with the clerk, unless already on file or otherwise ordered by the court, or the order may be set aside as irregular, with costs. The clerk shall not enter such order unless the motion papers are filed, and unless the order is signed by the justice presiding at the court at which the motion was heard. When an opinion has been delivered by the court, it shall be filed with the order and shall be considered a part of the record upon which the order was made; and if the order does not state the grounds upon which it was made, the opinion may be considered to ascertain such grounds.

When the affidavits and papers upon a non-enumerated motion are required by law or by the rules of the court to be filed, and the order to be entered in a county other than that in which the motion is made, the clerk shall deliver to the party prevailing in the motion, unless the court shall otherwise direct, a certified copy of the rough minutes, showing what papers were used or read, together with the affidavits and papers used or read upon such motion, with a note of the decision thereon, or the order directed to be entered, properly certified. It shall be the duty of the party to whom such papers are delivered to cause the same to be filed, and the proper order entered in the proper county within ten days thereafter, or the order may be set aside as irregular, with costs. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE IV. (26)

Undertaking and affidavit in proceedings for injunction; attachment, order of arrest and writ to be filed. — Except where otherwise expressly provided by law, it shall be the duty of the attorney of the party required to give a bond or undertaking to forthwith file the same with the proper clerk; and in case such bonds and undertakings shall not be so filed, any party to the action or special proceeding, or other persons interested, shall be at liberty to move the court to vacate the proceedings or order as if no bond or undertaking had been given. It shall also be the duty of the attorney to file the petition or affidavit upon which an injunction, attachment, order of arrest, or writ, has been granted within ten days after the same shall have been served. In case of a failure so to file such petition or affidavit, the opposing party may move to vacate the order, warrant or writ, and the same shall be vacated by the court or judge granting the same, unless for proper cause shown time to file the same shall be extended.

RULE V. (25) (27)

Sureties, justification of bonds to be acknowledged. — Whenever a justice or other officer approves of the security to be given in any case, or reports upon its sufficiency, it shall be his duty to require personal sureties to justify, or, if the security offered is by way of mortgage on real estate, to require proof of the value of such real estate. And all bonds and undertakings, and other securities in writing, shall be duly proved or acknowledged in like manner as deeds of real estate, before the same shall be received or filed.

In no case shall an attorney or counselor be surety on any undertaking or bond required by law, or by these rules, or by any order of a court or judge, in any action or proceeding, or be bail in any civil or criminal case, or proceeding.

RULE VI.

Sheriff's return, how compelled. — At any time after the day when it is the duty of the sheriff, or other officer, to return, deliver, or file any process or other paper, by the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, or by these rules of the courts, any party entitled to have such act done, except where otherwise provided by law, may serve on the officer a notice to return, deliver, or file such process, or other paper, as the case may be, within ten days, or show cause, at a Special Term to be designated in said notice, why an attachment should not issue against him.

RULE VII.

Books to be kept by clerks of courts. — The clerk of the Appellate Division in each department shall keep:

1. A book, properly indexed, in which shall be entered the title of all actions and proceedings which are pending in that court, and all actions or special proceedings commenced in the Appellate Division, with entries under each, showing the proceedings taken therein and the final disposition thereof.

2. A minute book, showing the proceedings of the court from day to day.

3. A remittitur book, containing the final order made upon the decision of each case, a certified copy of which shall be transmitted to the proper clerk, as required by the Code of Civil Procedure.

4. A book, properly indexed, in which shall be recorded at large each bond or undertaking filed in his office, with a statement of the action or special proceeding in which it is given, and a statement of any disposition or order made of or concerning it.

5. A book, properly indexed, which shall contain the name of each attorney admitted to practice, with the date of his admission, and a book, properly indexed, which shall contain the name of each person who has been refused admission or who has been disbarred or otherwise disciplined or censured by the court. The clerk of each department shall transmit to the clerk of the Court of Appeals and to the clerks of the other departments the names of all attorneys who have been admitted to practice, the names of all applicants who have been refused admission, and the names of all attorneys who have been disbarred, disciplined or censured by the court. The clerk of each department is directed to enter in the proper book the name of each attorney who has been admitted to practice, with date of his admission, and the name of each person who has been refused admission or has been disciplined, with the date of such refusal of admission or discipline, received from the other departments of the State, toegther with the date when and department wherein the order was made. (Subdivision added April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

The clerks of the other courts shall keep in their respective offices, in addition to the "judgment book" required to be kept by the Code of Civil Procedure:

1. A book, properly indexed, in which shall be entered the title of all civil actions and special proceedings, with proper entries under each denoting the papers filed and the orders made and the steps taken therein, with the dates of the several proceedings.

2. A book in which shall be entered at large each bond and undertaking filed in his office, with a statement showing when filed and a statement of any disposition or order made of or concerning it.

3. Such other books, properly indexed, as may be necessary to enter the minutes of the court, docket judgments, enter orders and all other necessary matters and proceedings, and such other books as the Appellate Division in each department shall direct.

RULE VIII.

Judgments, entering and docketing of. — Judgments shall only be entered, or docketed, in the offices of the clerks of the courts of this State, within the hours during which, by law, they are required to keep open their respective offices for the transaction of business, and at no other time.

RULE IX.

Subpœnas duces tecum; not to be issued to library associations, public officers, public departments, etc., except by judge; stipulations of attorneys as substitute therefor. — No subpœnas duces tecum requiring a library association or corporation, a public officer, a department of a municipal corporation, or other public officer or department, to produce on the trial of an action or special proceeding before a court or referee, books, papers or other documents or writings in its or his possession, shall be issued except by a justice of the Supreme Court in the district in which the library or department is located or the public officer is employed, or a judge of the court in which the action or special proceeding is pending, and except upon one day's notice to the library, officer, corporation or head of the department having possession of the books, papers or other documents or writings, and also to the opposing party or his attorney. The justice or the judge to whom the application is made shall not require the production of such books, papers or other documents or writings before a court or referee, when a stipulation between the attorneys or a copy thereof, duly verified, will in his opinion serve the purpose of such production, and he may impose such other conditions as may in his opinion be reasonable. Upon the refusal of a party to such an application to make such stipulation when required so to do, the justice or the judge (to whom the application for a subpœna duces tecum is made) may impose upon such party the actual cost or expense incurred in producing the books, papers or other documents or writings in accordance with the subpœna, in addition to the fees now required by law upon the service of a subpœna. (Added June 17, 1913; in effect November 1, 1913.)

RULE X.

Change of attorneys. — An attorney may be changed by consent of the party and his attorney, or upon application of the client upon cause shown and upon such terms as shall be just, by the order of the court or a judge thereof, and not otherwise.

RULE XI.

Agreements between parties or attorneys to be in writing. — No private agreement or consent between the parties or their attorneys, in respect to the proceedings in a cause, shall be binding, unless the same shall have been reduced to the form of an order by consent, and entered, or unless the evidence thereof shall be in writing, subscribed by the party against whom the same shall be alleged, or by his attorney or counsel..

RULE XII.

Consents to payment of money out of court. — All consents providing for the payment of money out of court shall be acknowledged before an officer authorized to take the acknowledgment of deeds, accompanied with proof of the identity of the applicant from some person other than the applicant, before any order is granted thereon.

RULE XIII.

Orders of arrest, injunction, or attachment. — Every order of arrest, as well as every injunction or attachment, shall briefly state the grounds on which it is granted.

RULE XIV.

Discovery of books, papers and documents. — Applications may be made in the manner provided by law to compel the production and discovery or inspection with copy of books, papers and documents relating to the merits of any civil action pending in court or of any defense of such action, in the following cases:

1. By the plaintiff, to compel the discovery of books, papers or documents in the possession or under the control of the defendant, which may be necessary to enable the plaintiff to frame his complaint or to answer any pleading of the defendant.

2. By the defendant, to compel the like discovery of books, papers or documents in the possession or under the control of the plaintiff, which may be necessary to enable the defendant to answer any pleading of the plaintiff.

3. Either party may be compelled to make a discovery of any book, document, record, article or property in his possession or under his control, or in the possession of his agent or attorney, upon its appearing to the satisfaction of the court that such book, document, record, article or property is material to the decision of the action or special proceeding, or some motion or application therein, or is competent evidence in the case, or an inspection thereof is necessary to enable a party to prepare for trial.

RULE XV.

Form of application for discovery of books. — The moving papers upon the application for such discovery or inspection shall state the facts and circumstances on which the same is claimed, and shall be verified by affidavit stating that the books, papers, articles, property, and documents whereof discovery or inspection is sought are not in the possession nor under the control of the party applying therefor, but are in the possession or under the control of the party against whom discovery is sought or his agent or attorney. The party applying shall show to the satisfaction of the court or judge the materiality and necessity of the discovery or inspection sought, the particular information which he requires, and in the case of books and papers, that there are entries therein as to the matter of which he seeks a discovery or inspection.

RULE XVI.

Contents of order; stay of proceedings. — The order for granting the application shall specify the mode in which the discovery or inspection is to be made, which may be either by requiring the party to deliver sworn copies of the matters to be discovered, or to allow an inspection with copy, or by requiring him to produce and deposit the same with the clerk, unless otherwise directed in the order. The order shall also specify the time within which the discovery or inspection is to be made, and when papers, articles, or property are required to be deposited or inspected, the order shall specify the time the deposit or the opportunity for inspection shall continue.

RULE XVII.

Application for a subpœna to compel the attendance of a witness to obtain testimony under depositions taken within the State for use without the State, and proceedings thereon. — The petition prescribed by section 915 of the Code of Civil Procedure must state generally the nature of the action or proceeding in which the testimony is sought to be taken, and that the testimony of a witness is material to the issues presented in such action or proceeding, and shall set forth the substance of, or have annexed thereto, a copy of, the commission, order, notice, consent or other authority under which the deposition is taken. In case of an application for a subpœna to compel the production of books or papers, the petition shall specify the particular books or papers the production of which is sought, and show that such books or papers are in the possession of or under the control of the witness and are material upon the issues presented in the action or special proceeding in which the deposition of the witness is sought to be taken. Unless the court or judge is satisfied that the application is made in good faith to obtain testimony within sections 914 and 915 of the Code of Civil Procedure, he shall deny the application. Where the subpœna directs the production of books or papers, it shall specify the particular books or papers to be produced, and shall specify whether the witness is required to deliver sworn copies of such books or papers to the commissioner, or to produce the original thereof and deposit the same with the commissioner. This subpœna must be served upon the witness at least two days, or in case of a subpœna requiring the production of books or papers, at least five days before the day on which the witness shall be commanded to appear. A party to an action or proceeding in which a deposition is sought to be taken, or a witness subpœnaed to attend and give his deposition may apply to the court to vacate or modify such subpœna.

Upon proof by affidavit that a person to whom a subpœna was issued has failed or refused to obey such subpœna; to be duly sworn or affirmed; to testify or answer a question or questions propounded to him; to produce a book or paper which he has been subpœnaed to produce, or to subscribe to his deposition when correctly taken down, a justice of the Supreme Court or a county judge shall grant an order requiring such person to show cause before the Supreme Court, at a time and place specified, why he should not appear; be sworn or affirmed; testify; answer a question or questions propounded; produce a book or paper; or subscribe to his deposition, as the case may be. Such affidavit shall also set forth the nature of the action or special proceeding in which the testimony is sought to be taken, and a copy of the pleadings or other papers defining the issues in such action or special proceeding, or the fact to be proved therein. Upon the return of such order to show cause, the Supreme Court shall upon such affidavit and upon the original petition, and upon such other facts as shall appear, determine whether such person should be required to appear; be sworn or affirmed; testify; answer the question or questions propounded; produce the book or paper, or subscribe to his deposition, as the case may be, and may prescribe such terms and conditions as shall seem proper. Upon proof of a failure or refusal on the part of any person to comply with any order of the court made upon such determination, the court or judge shall make an order requiring such person to show cause before it or him at a time and place therein specified, why such person should not be punished for the offense as for a contempt. Upon the return of the order to show cause the questions which arise must be determined as upon a motion. If such failure or refusal is established to the satisfaction of the court or judge before whom the order to show cause is made returnable, the court or judge shall enforce the order and prescribe the punishment as in the case of a recalcitrant witness in the Supreme Court.

RULE XVIII.

Proof of service of summons by person other than sheriff; in divorce cases. — Where personal service of the summons and of the complaint, or notice, if any accompany the same, shall be made by any other person than the sheriff, it shall be necessary for such person to state in his affidavit of service his age, or that he is more than twenty-one years of age; when, and at what particular place, and in what manner he served the same, and that he knew the person served to be the person mentioned and described in the summons as defendant therein, and also to state in his affidavit that he left with defendant such copy, as well as delivered it to him. No such service shall be made by any person who is less than eighteen years of age.

In actions for divorce, or to annul a marriage, or for separate maintenance, the affidavit, in addition to the above requirements, shall state what knowledge the affiant had of the person served being the defendant and proper person to be served, and how he acquired such knowledge. The court may require the affiant to appear in court and be examined in respect thereto, and when service has been made by the sheriff, the court must require the officer who made the service to appear and be examined in like manner, unless there shall be presented with the certificate of service the affidavit of such officer, that he knew the person served to be the same person named as defendant in the summons, and shall also state the source of his knowledge.

RULE XIX.

Folios to be numbered; waiving objection except as to papers for court. — Every pleading, deposition, affidavit, case, bill, exceptions, report, paper, order or judgment, exceeding two folios in length, shall be distinctly numbered and marked at each folio in the margin thereof, and all copies either for the parties or the court shall be numbered or marked in the margin, so as to conform to the original draft or entry and to each other, and shall be indorsed with the title of the cause. All the pleadings and other proceedings and copies thereof shall be fairly and legibly written or printed, and if not so written or printed and folioed and indorsed as aforesaid, the clerk shall not file the same, nor will the court hear any motion or application founded thereon.

All pleadings or other papers in an action or special proceeding served on a party or an attorney, or filed with the clerk of the court, must comply with section 796 of the Code of Civil Procedure and must be written or printed in black characters; and no clerk of the court shall file or enter the same in his office unless it complies with this rule. The party upon whom the paper is served shall be deemed to have waived the objection for noncompliance with this rule unless within twenty-four hours after the receipt thereof he returns such paper to the party serving the same with a statement of the particular objection to its receipt; but this waiver shall not apply to papers required to be filed or delivered to the court.

It shall be the duty of the attorney by whom the copy pleadings shall be furnished for the use of a court on trial, to plainly designate on each pleading the part or parts thereof claimed to be admitted or controverted by the succeeding pleadings.

RULE XX.

Service and settlement of interrogatories. — Interrogatories to be annexed to a commission issued under article second of title three of chapter nine of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be served within ten days after the entry of the order, allowing the commission. Cross-interrogatories shall be served within ten days after the service of the interrogatories, unless a different time is fixed therefor by the order allowing the commission. In case a party shall fail to serve such cross-interrogatories within the time limited therefor, he shall be deemed to have waived his right to propound cross-interrogatories to the witness to be examined under the commission. Either party may, within two days after the service of the cross-interrogatories or within two days after the time to serve cross-interrogatories has expired, serve upon the opposing party a notice of settlement of the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories before a justice of the court or county judge. The time at which such interrogatories or cross-interrogatories shall be noticed for settlement shall be not less than two nor more than ten days after the service of the notice. If neither party serves such a notice within the time limited therefor, the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories are to be deemed settled as served and shall be so allowed without notice.

RULE XXI.

Non-enumerated motions; noticing of. — Non-enumerated motions, in the Supreme Court, except in the first and second districts, and motions noticed to be heard in Erie county, shall be noticed for the first day of the term or sitting of the court, accompanied with copies of the affidavits and papers on which the same shall be made, and the notice shall not be for a later day, unless sufficient cause be shown (and contained in the affidavits served), for not giving notice for the first day. In other courts such motions may be made on any day designated by the judges thereof. In the Appellate Division such motions may be noticed for any motion day in the term.

RULE XXII.

Motions to strike out irrelevant matter; notice of. — Motions to strike out of any pleading matter alleged to be irrelevant, redundant or scandalous, and motions to correct a pleading on the ground of its being "so indefinite or uncertain that the precise meaning or application is not apparent," must be noticed before demurring or answering the pleading and within twenty days from the service thereof. The time to make such motion shall not be extended unless notice of an application for such extension, stating the time and place thereof, of at least two days shall be given to the adverse party.

RULE XXIII.

Affidavits of merits. — All motions for relief to which a party is not entitled as matter of right shall be made upon papers showing merits, and the good faith of the prosecution or defense, which may be shown by any proof that shall satisfy the court. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XXIV.

Affidavit for order extending time. — No order extending a defendant's time to answer or demur, or the plaintiff's time to reply to a counterclaim, shall be granted, unless the party applying for such order presents to the judge to whom the application is made an affidavit of the attorney or counsel retained to defend the action that from the statement of the case made to him by the defendant he verily believes that the defendant has a good and substantial defense upon the merits to the cause of action set forth in the complaint, or to some part thereof, or an affidavit of the attorney or counsel for the plaintiff, that from the statement of the case made to him by the plaintiff he verily believes that the plaintiff has a good and substantial defense upon the merits to the cause of action set forth as a counterclaim, or to some part thereof, as the case may be. The affidavit shall also state the cause of action and the relief demanded in the complaint and, where a counterclaim has been interposed, the cause of action alleged as a counterclaim and the relief demanded in the answer; and whether any and what extension or extensions of time to answer, demur or reply by stipulation or order have been granted.

When the time to serve any pleading has been extended by stipulation or order for twenty days, no further time shall be granted by order, except upon two days' notice to the adverse party of the application for such order. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XXV.

Ex parte application to contain statement as to previous application. — Whenever application is made ex parte on affidavit to a judge or court for an order, the affidavit shall state whether any previous application has been made for such order, and, if made, to what court or judge and what order or decision was made thereon, and what new facts, if any, are claimed to be shown. For failure to comply with this rule, any order made on such application may be revoked or set aside. This rule shall apply to proceedings supplementary to execution, and to every application for an order or judgment made in any action or special proceeding.

RULE XXVI.

Application for judgment on failure to answer. — When the plaintiff in an action in the Supreme Court is entitled to judgment upon the failure of the defendant to answer the complaint, and the relief demanded requires application to be made to the court, such application may be made at any Special Term in the district embracing the county in which the action is triable, or, except in the first district, in an adjoining county; such application, except in the first judicial district, may also be made at a Trial Term in the county in which the action is triable. When a reference or writ of inquiry shall be ordered, the same shall be executed in the county in which the action is triable, unless the court shall otherwise order. In the first judicial district, every motion or application for an order or judgment where notice is necessary, must be made to the Special Term for the hearing of motions, and where notice is not necessary, to the Special Term for the transaction of ex parte business, except where other provision is expressly made by law, or the general or special rules of practice. In the county of Kings all such applications shall be made at the Special Term for the hearing of motions. Any order or judgment granted in violation of this provision shall be vacated by the Special Term at which the application should have been made, or by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court; and no order or judgment granted in violation of this rule shall be entered by the clerk.

RULE XXVII.

Orders granted on petitions, contents may be docketed. — Orders granted on petitions, or relating thereto, shall refer to such petitions by the names and descriptions of the petitioners, and the date of the petitions, if the same be dated, without reciting or setting forth the tenor or substance thereof unnecessarily. Any order or judgment directing the payment of money, or affecting the title to property, if founded on petition, where no complaint is filed, may, at the request of any party interested, be enrolled and docketed, as other judgments.

RULE XXVIII.

Inquests, when taken. — [Repealed April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.]

RULE XXIX.

Opening of counsel; examination of witnesses and summing up. — In the trial of civil causes, unless the justice presiding or the referee shall otherwise direct, each party shall open his case before any evidence is introduced, and, except by special permission of the court, no other opening by either party shall thereafter be permitted.

On the trial of issues of fact, one counsel only on each side shall examine or cross-examine a witness, who shall not repeat the answer or answers of such witness at the time he shall be under examination. One counsel only on each side shall sum up the cause, and he shall not occupy more than one hour, and the testimony, if taken down in writing, shall be written by some person other than the examining counsel; but the judge who holds the court may otherwise order, or dispense with this requirement.

While addressing the court, examining witnesses or summing up, counsel shall stand. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XXX.

Non-suit before referee; referee's report; testimony in references other than for trial of issues; exceptions, when filed. — On a hearing before a referee or referees, the plaintiff may submit to a non-suit or dismissal of his complaint, or may be non-suited, or his complaint may be dismissed, in like manner as upon a trial, at any time before the cause has been finally submitted to a referee or the referees for their decision; in which case the referee or referees shall report according to the fact, and judgment may thereupon be perfected by the defendant.

In references other than for the trial of the issues in an action, or for computing the amount due in foreclosure cases, the testimony of the witnesses shall be signed by them; the report of the referee shall be filed with the testimony, and a note of the day of the filing shall be entered by the clerk in the proper book, under the title of the cause or proceeding. At any time after the report is filed either party may bring on the action or proceeding at Special Term on notice to the parties interested therein. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XXXI.

Motion for new trial, where made; case or exceptions, when necessary. — When an order grants or refuses a new trial, except on the exceptions taken during the trial, it shall specify the grounds upon which the motion was made and the ground or grounds upon which it was granted. In all actions where either party is entitled to have an issue or issues of fact settled for trial by a jury, either as a matter of right or by leave of the court if either party desires such a trial, the party must within twenty days after issue joined, give notice of motion that all the issues or one or more specific issues be so tried. If such motion is not made within such time, the right to a trial by jury is waived. With the notice of motion shall be served a copy of the questions of fact proposed to be submitted to the jury for trial, in proper form to be incorporated in the order; and the court or judge may settle the issues, or may refer it to a referee to settle them. Such issues must be settled in the form prescribed in sections 823 and 970 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

When any specific question of fact involved in an action, or any question of fact not put in issue, is ordered to be tried by a jury, as a substitute for a feigned issue, and has been tried, or a reference other than of the whole issue has been ordered under the Code and a trial had, if either party shall desire to apply for a new trial, on the ground of any error of the judge or referee, or on the ground that the verdict or report is against evidence (except when the judge directs such motion to be made upon his minutes at the same term of the court at which the issues are tried), a case or exceptions shall be made, or a case containing exceptions, as may be required; which case or exceptions must be served and settled in the manner prescribed by the rules of court for the settlement of cases and exceptions in other cases. Such motions must be made, in the first instance, at Special Term. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XXXII.

Cases, exceptions, when served; amendments; settlement, etc. — Whenever it shall be necessary to make a case, or a case and exceptions, or a case containing exceptions, the same shall be made, and a copy thereof served on the opposite party within the following times:

If the trial was before the court or referee, including trials by a jury of one or more specific questions of fact in an action triable by the court, within thirty days after service of a copy of the decision or report and of written notice of the entry of the judgment thereon.

In the Surrogate's Court, within thirty days after service of a copy of the decree or order and notice of the entry thereof.

If the trial were before a jury, within thirty days after notice of the decision of a motion for a new trial, if such motion be made and be not decided at the time of the trial, or within thirty days after service of a copy of the judgment and notice of its entry.

The party served may, within ten days thereafter, propose amendments thereto, and serve a copy on the party proposing a case or exceptions, who may then, within four days thereafter, serve the opposite party with a notice that the case or exceptions with the proposed amendments will be submitted for settlement at a time and place to be specified in the notice, to the judge or referee before whom the cause was tried.

Whenever amendments are proposed to a case or exceptions, the party proposing such case or exceptions shall, before submitting the same to the judge or referee for settlement, mark upon the several amendments his allowance or disallowance thereof, and shall also plainly mark thereon and upon the stenographer's minutes the parts to which the proposed amendments are applicable, together with the number of the amendment. If the party proposing the amendments claims that the case should be made to conform to the minutes of the stenographer he must refer at the end of each amendment to the proper page of such minutes. The judge or referee shall thereupon correct and settle the case. The time for settling the case must be specified in the notice, and it shall not be less than four nor more than ten days after the service of such notice. The lines of the case shall be so numbered that each copy shall correspond. The surrogate, on appeal from his court, may by order allow further time for the doing of any of the acts above provided to be done on such appeals.

Cases reserved for argument and special verdicts shall be settled in the same manner. The parties may agree on the facts proven to be inserted in the case, instead of the testimony, on the approval of the judge.

No order extending the time to serve a case, or a case containing exceptions, or the time within which amendments thereto may be served, shall be made unless the party applying for such order serve a notice of two days upon the adverse parties of his intention to apply therefor, stating the time and place for making such application.

RULE XXXIII.

Failure to make a case. — If the party shall omit to make a case within the time above limited, he shall be deemed to have waived his right thereto; and when a case is made, and the parties shall omit, within the several times above limited, the one party to propose amendments, and the other to notify an appearance before the judge, or referee, they shall respectively be deemed, the former to have agreed to the case as proposed, and the latter to have agreed to the amendments as proposed.

RULE XXXIV.

Case and bill of exceptions; contents; resettlement; exhibits. — A bill of exceptions shall contain only so much of the evidence as is necessary to present the questions of law upon which exceptions were taken on the trial; and it shall be the duty of the judge upon settlement to strike out all the evidence and other matter which in his opinion have been inserted unnecessarily.

A case and exceptions shall contain all the evidence by question and answer, the rulings of the court and the exceptions of all parties to the record, but shall not contain the opening and summing up or the remarks of counsel unless ordered by the judge or referee before whom the case or exceptions are settled. The Appellate Division on rendering final judgment on appeal, pursuant to the provisions of section 1317 of the Code of Civil Procedure, on reversing or modifying a judgment entered upon the decision of the court or the report of a referee, without granting a new trial, may reverse any finding and shall make such new findings of facts proved upon the trial as shall be necessary to sustain the judgment awarded by the Appellate Division. The facts as found by the Appellate Division shall be inserted in its order for judgment, and the facts as found by the special term or referee before whom the case was tried which are reversed by the Appellate Division shall likewise be specified in such order.

If any case or bill of exceptions does not conform to this rule the court before which the same shall be brought for review may order the same back for resettlement.

Exhibits shall not be printed at length unless the judge or referee so direct.

When, upon non-enumerated motions, voluminous documents have been used which are material only as to the fact of their existence or as to a small part of their contents, the parties may by stipulation or the court or judge below may upon notice settle a statement respecting the same or the parts thereof to be returned upon the appeal from the order to be used in place of the original documents. (As amended June 17, 1913; in effect November 1, 1913.)

RULE XXXV.

Case to be signed; service of copy. — [Repealed April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.]

RULE XXXVI.

Neglect to bring issue of fact to trial; causes where defendant is under arrest preferred. — Whenever an issue of fact in any action pending in any court has been joined, and the plaintiff therein shall fail to bring the same to trial according to the course and practice of the court, the defendant, at any time after younger issues shall have been tried in their regular order, may move at Special Term for the dismissal of the complaint with costs.

If it be made to appear to the court that the neglect of the plaintiff to bring the action to trial has not been unreasonable, the court may permit the plaintiff, on such terms as may be just, to bring the said action to trial at a future term.

Whenever in any action an issue shall have been joined, if the defendant be imprisoned under an order of arrest, in the action, or if the property of the defendant be held under attachment, the trial of the action shall be preferred. Every cause placed upon the calendar of the Trial Term or Special Term for the trial of equity cases shall be moved for argument or trial when reached in its order, and shall not be reserved or put over except by the consent of the court unless otherwise permitted by special rule; and if passed without being so reserved or put over, it shall be entered on all subsequent calendars as of date when passed, and no term fee shall be taxed thereon for any subsequent term.

RULE XXXVII.

Notice for argument and of motions; order to show cause; where returnable; effect of order staying proceedings when made within ten days of trial term; irregularities to be stated; judgment by default in divorce cases. — All questions for argument, and all motions made at Special or Trial Terms shall be brought before the court on notice of not less than eight days, unless a shorter time is prescribed by a judge or court, under section 780 of the Code, by an order to show cause, except that where the attorneys for the respective parties reside or have their offices in the same city or village, such notice may be a notice of five days; if the opposite party shall not appear to oppose, the party making the motion shall be entitled to the order or judgment moved for, on proof of due service of the notice or order and papers required to be served by him, unless the court shall otherwise direct. If the party making the motion shall not appear, the court shall deny the motion on the filing of the copy notice of motion, or order to show cause.

Such order to show cause shall in no case be granted unless a special and sufficient reason for requiring a shorter notice than eight days shall be stated in the papers presented, nor unless, in a case where the attorneys for the respective parties reside or have their offices in the same city or village, a special and sufficient reason for requiring a shorter notice than five days shall be stated in the papers presented, and the party shall, in his affidavit, state the present condition of the action, and whether at issue, and, if not yet tried, the time appointed for holding the next Special or Trial Term where the action is triable. An order to show cause shall also (except in the first judicial district) be returnable only before the judge who grants it, or at a Special Term appointed to be held in the district in which the action is triable.

No order, except in the first judicial district, served after the action shall have been noticed for trial, if served within ten days of the Trial Term, shall have the effect to stay the proceedings in the action, unless made at the term where such action is to be tried, or by the judge who is appointed or is to hold such Trial Term, or unless such stay is contained in an order to show cause returnable on the first day of such term, in which case it shall not operate to prevent the subpœnaing of witnesses or placing the cause on the calendar.

When the motion is for irregularity the notice or order shall specify the irregularity complained of.

This rule, so far as it permits a judgment by default, or by the consent of the adverse party, shall not extend to an action for a divorce, or limited separation, or to annul a marriage.

In the first judicial district all motions must be noticed to be heard at and all orders to show cause must be returnable at the Special Term for hearing of litigated motions, except in cases where the special rules of the first judicial district shall require such motion to be made at some other term of the court.

If a notice of motion is served ten days before the return day thereof, it may, immediately after the prayer for relief and before the signature, contain the following statement: "Answering affidavits must be served five days before the return day," in which case answering affidavits, in order to be used upon the motion, must be so served. The moving party, upon receiving such answering affidavits, may serve affidavits in reply at least two days before the hearing. Such replying affidavits shall be limited strictly to matters in reply. Affidavits in answer and reply cannot be read upon the motion if not so served, unless the court in its discretion, for good cause shown, may otherwise order. (Last paragraph added April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XXXVIII.

Enumerated motions; non-enumerated motions, what are; contested motions, when not heard at trial term. — Enumerated motions are motions arising on special verdict, issues of law, cases, exceptions, appeals from judgments sustaining or overruling demurrers, appeals from judgment or order granting or refusing a new trial in an inferior court, appeals by virtue of sections 1346 and 1349 of the Code, agreed cases submitted under section 1279 of the Code, and appeals from final orders and decrees of Surrogate's Courts, and matters provided for by sections 2085–2099 and 2138 of the Code.

Non-enumerated motions include all other questions submitted to the court, and shall be heard at Special Term except when otherwise directed by law.

Contested motions shall not be noticed or brought to a hearing at any Special Term held at the same time and place with a Trial Term, except in actions upon the calendar for trial at such term, and in which the hearing of the motion is necessary to the disposal of the cause, unless otherwise ordered by the justice holding the court; and except, also, that in counties in which no Special Term distinct from a Trial Term is appointed to be held, motions in actions triable in any such county may be noticed and brought on at the time of holding the Trial and Special Term in the county in which such actions are triable.

RULE XXXIX.

Notes of issue, when to be filed; separate calendar for non-enumerated motions; preferred cases; cases not reserved; when passed, place on subsequent calendars. — At the first term of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in each department, and at such other times as the court shall from time to time direct, the clerk shall make up a calendar which shall consist of cases pending and undisposed of as follows:

Notes of issue for the Appellate Division shall be filed eight days before the commencement of the court at which the cause may be noticed. The clerk shall prepare a calendar for the Appellate Division, and, except in the first department, cause the same to be printed for each of the justices holding the court. Appeals shall be placed on the calendar, according to the date of the service of the notice of appeal; and all subsequent enumerated appeals in the same cause shall be put on the calendar as of the date of the first appeal; and other cases as of the time when the question to be reviewed arose. Appeals in non-enumerated motions shall also be placed upon a separate calendar. Cases entitled to preference shall be placed separately on the calendar.

The Appellate Division of each department shall adopt rules regulating the hearing of causes and of calendar practice in such department not inconsistent with the Code of Civil Procedure.

Judgment of reversal by default will not be allowed. Where the cause is called in its order on the calendar, if the appellant fails to appear and furnish the court with the papers required, and argue or submit his cause, judgment of affirmance by default will be ordered on motion of the respondent. If the appellant only appears, he may either argue or submit the case. If neither party appears, the case will be passed and placed at the foot of the calendar. When any cause shall be twice passed, the clerk shall enter an order of course dismissing the appeal or the proceedings, or denying the motion for a new trial, — but the court may, upon motion, vacate the order and restore the cause.

RULE XL.

Enumerated motions; what papers to be furnished, and by whom; points to contain a statement of facts. — The papers to be furnished on enumerated motions at Special Term shall be a copy of the pleadings, when the question arises on the pleadings, or any part thereof, a copy of the special verdict, return or other papers on which the question arises. The party whose duty it is to furnish the papers shall serve a copy on the opposite party, except upon the trial of issues of law, at least five days before the time for which the matter may be noticed for argument. If the party whose duty it is to furnish the papers shall neglect to do so, the opposite party shall be entitled to move, on affidavit and on four days' notice of motion, that the cause be struck from the calendar (whichever party may have noticed it for argument), and that judgment be rendered in his favor.

The papers shall be furnished by the plaintiff when the question arises on special verdict, and by the party demurring on the trial of issues of law, and in all other cases by the party making the motion. Each party shall prefix to his points a concise statement of the facts of the case, with reference to the folios; and if such statement is not furnished, no discussion of the facts by the party omitting such statement will be permitted.

RULE XLI. See New Rule 23, 23L

Papers to be furnished, on appeal, by appellant; printed copies of case and points; appeals from non-enumerated motions; delegation of powers. — In all cases to be heard in the Appellate Division, except appeals from non-enumerated motions, the papers shall be furnished by the appellant or the moving party, and in cases agreed upon, under section 1279 of the Code, by the plaintiff. The party whose duty it is to furnish the papers shall cause a printed copy of the requisite papers to be filed in the office of the clerk of the Appellate Division within twenty days after an appeal has been taken, or the order made for the hearing of a cause therein, or the agreed case filed in the clerk's office pursuant to section 1279 of the Code of Civil Procedure; but if it shall be necessary to make a case or case and exceptions after the appeal has been taken or the order made for the hearing in the Appellate Division, the printed papers, including the case as settled and signed by the judge before whom the case was tried, shall be filed within twenty days after the settlement of the case; and the party whose duty it is to furnish the papers shall serve within said twenty days upon his adversary three printed copies of such papers.

Such papers shall consist of a notice of appeal, if an appeal has been taken; a copy of the judgment roll, or the decree in the court below, and the papers upon which it was entered; if no judgment was entered, the pleadings, minutes of trial, and the order sending the case to the Appellate Division or the order appealed from, or the papers required by section 1280 of the Code of Civil Procedure. To these papers shall be attached the case or case and exceptions if it is to be used in the Appellate Division. All the foregoing papers shall be certified by the proper clerk, or be stipulated by the parties to be true copies of the original. There shall be prefixed to these papers a statement showing the time of the beginning of the action or special proceeding, and of the service of the respective pleadings; the names of the original parties in full; and any change in the parties, if such has taken place. There shall be added to them the opinion of the court below, or an affidavit that no opinion was given, or, if given, that a copy could not be procured. The foregoing papers shall constitute the record in the Appellate Division. If the papers shall not be filed and served as herein provided by the party whose duty it is to do so, his opponent may move the court on three days' notice, on any motion day, for an order dismissing the appeal, or for a judgment in his favor, as the case may be.

The papers in all appeals from non-enumerated motions shall consist of printed copies of the papers which were used in the court below, and are specified in the order, certified by the proper clerk, or stipulated by the parties to be true copies of the original, and of the whole thereof. There shall be added to them the opinion of the court below, or an affidavit that no opinion was given, or, if given, that a copy could not be procured.

They shall be filed with the clerk within fifteen days after the appeal is taken and at the same time the appellant shall serve upon his adversary three printed copies thereof.

If the appellant fails to file and serve the papers as aforesaid, the respondent may move, on any motion day, upon three days' notice, to dismiss the appeal.

If the judge from whose order the appeal is taken orders that it shall not be necessary to insert in the printed papers upon which the appeal is to be taken such exhibits or other voluminous documents as are not necessary for a consideration of the questions raised by the appeal, the clerk shall then certify that the printed papers are true copies of the originals and of the whole thereof specified in the order except those omitted by order of the court. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XLII.

Briefs and points to be exchanged by the parties. — The Appellate Division in any department may make such rules in relation to the exchange of briefs and the delivery of papers and briefs to the justices thereof as they may deem expedient in all cases, whether enumerated or non-enumerated.

RULE XLIII.

Cases and points, to be printed and indexed;[1] number to be delivered to the court. — The cases and points, and all other papers furnished in the Appellate Division in calendar cases, shall be printed on white writing paper, with a margin on the outer edge of the leaf not less than one and a half inch wide. The printed page, exclusive of any marginal note or reference, shall be seven inches long and three and a half inches wide. The folio, numbering from the commencement to the end of the papers, shall be printed on the outer margin of the page.

The cases and points in each case shall be uniform in size and in the type of this rule.*

All cases cited on the briefs from the courts of this State shall be cited from the reports of the official reporters, if such cases shall have been reported in full in the official reports.

At the beginning of the argument of any appeal, the party whose duty it is to furnish the papers shall deliver to the clerk thirteen copies thereof, and each party shall deliver to the clerk thirteen copies of his briefs and points. The clerk shall deliver one copy of the papers and briefs to each Justice, two to the official reporter, and shall transmit one to the librarian of the State Law Library, one to the clerk of each of the other departments, and shall dispose of the remainder as directed by the court. The Appellate Division in any department may require further copies of the papers and briefs to be delivered in their discretion.

The printed papers on appeal shall contain an index in the front thereof. The index of the exhibits shall concisely indicate the contents or nature of each exhibit and the folio of the case at which it is admitted in evidence and at which it is printed in the record. Said index shall also contain a reference to the folios at which a motion for a dismissal of the complaint or the direction of a verdict is contained; and to the certificate that the case contains all the evidence. At the top of each page of the case or bill of exceptions must be printed the name of the witness then testifying and of the party calling him, and indicating whether the examination is direct, cross or redirect. Each affidavit or other paper printed upon an appeal from an order shall be preceded by a description thereof that must specify on whose behalf it was read; and the name of the affiant shall be printed at the top of each page containing an affidavit. On an appeal from an order granting or denying a motion to strike out parts of a pleading as irrelevant, redundant or scandalous, or to make a pleading more definite and certain, the portion of the pleading to which the motion relates must be printed in italics. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XLIV.

Non-enumerated motions, when heard; default, how taken. — Non-enumerated motions in the Appellate Division and appeals from orders will be heard upon such days as are designated by the special rule of the Appellate Division in each Department.

If a non-enumerated motion noticed to be heard at the Appellate Division shall not be made upon the day for which it is noticed, the party attending pursuant to notice to oppose the same, may, at the close of that order of business, unless the court shall otherwise order, take a rule against the party giving the notice, denying the motion, with costs. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XLV.

Additional allowance. — Applications for an additional allowance can only be made to the court before which the trial is had, or the judgment rendered, and shall in all cases be made before final costs are adjusted.

RULE XLVI.

Motion to amend justice's return on appeal, when to be noticed. — On appeal from a justice's judgment, where a County Court has not jurisdiction, by reason of relationship, etc., a notice of motion for an order to compel the justice to amend his return may be given in twenty days after the date of the certificate of the county judge, and not after that time.

RULE XLVII.

Counsel, time allowed. — At the hearing of causes in the Appellate Division or at Special Term, not more than one counsel shall be heard on each side, and then not more than one hour each, except when the court shall otherwise order.

On appeals from orders and on non-enumerated motions, but one counsel on each side shall be heard, and not more than thirty minutes each, unless the court shall otherwise order.

The Appellate Division in any department may make such further or different regulations upon these subjects as it may deem proper.

RULE XLVIII.

Stay of proceedings, for change of venue; affidavits, on motion to change venue. — No order to stay proceedings for the purpose of moving to change the place of trial shall be granted unless it shall appear from the papers that the defendant has used due diligence in preparing the motion for the earliest practical day after issue joined. Such order shall not stay the plaintiff from taking any step, except subpœnaing witnesses for the trial, without a special clause to that effect.

On motions to change the place of trial, the moving party shall state the nature of the controversy and show how his witnesses are material, and the grounds of his belief that the testimony of such witnesses will be favorable to his contention, and shall also show where the cause of action arose, and such facts shall be taken into consideration by the court in fixing the place of trial. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE XLIX.

Guardians ad litem. — No person shall be appointed guardian ad litem, either on the application of the infant or otherwise, unless he be the general guardian of such infant, or is fully competent to understand and protect the rights of the infant, and has no interest adverse to that of the infant, and is not connected in business with the attorney or counsel of the adverse party. And no person shall be appointed such guardian who is not of sufficient ability to answer to the infant for any damage which may be sustained by his negligence or misconduct in the defense or prosecution of the suit, and such ability shall be shown by affidavit stating facts in respect thereto. And no person shall be appointed guardian ad litem who is nominated by the adverse party.

RULE L.

Guardian ad litem, duties, compensation; affidavit to entitle guardian to compensation. — It shall be the duty of every attorney or officer of the court to act as the guardian of any infant defendant, in any suit or proceeding against him, whenever appointed for that purpose by an order of this court. And it shall be the duty of such guardian to examine into the circumstances of the case, so far as to enable him to make the proper defense, when necessary for the protection of the rights of the infant; and he shall be entitled to such compensation for his services as the court may deem reasonable. But no order allowing compensation to guardians ad litem shall be made, except upon an affidavit to be made by such guardian, if an attorney of the court, or if the guardian be not an attorney, then an affidavit to be made by an attorney of the court who has acted in the matter in behalf of such guardian, showing that he has examined into the circumstances of the case, and has, to the best of his ability, made himself acquainted with the rights of his ward, and that such guardian has taken all the steps necessary for the protection of such rights, to the best of his knowledge, and as he believes, stating what has been done by him for the purpose of ascertaining the rights of the ward.

RULE LI.

Guardian, bond of, before receiving property. — No guardian ad litem for an infant party shall as such guardian receive any money or property belonging to such infant, or which may be awarded to him in the suit (except such costs and expenses as may be allowed by the court to the guardian), unless he has given an undertaking executed by a surety company authorized to do business in this State, in double the amount of such money or property, or a bond secured by a mortgage on improved and unincumbered real property.

Neither shall the general guardian of an infant receive any part of the proceeds of a sale of real property belonging to an infant sold under a decree, judgment or order of the court until the guardian has given such further security for the faithful discharge of his trust as the court may direct. In case, however, such proceeds shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars the court shall require the guardian to give a bond, in the penalty of double the amount to be paid to the guardian, such bond to be that of a surety company authorized to do business in this State or secured by a mortgage on improved and unincumbered real property worth the amount of the penalty of the bond. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE LII.

General guardian, appointment of. — Except in cases otherwise provided for by law, for the purpose of having a general guardian appointed, the infant, if of the age of fourteen years or upward, or some relative or friend, if the infant is under fourteen, may present a petition to the court, stating the age and residence of the infant, and the name and residence of the person proposed or nominated as guardian, and the relationship, if any, which said person bears to the infant, and the nature, situation and value of the infant's estate.

RULE LIII.

Age of infant and amount of property to be ascertained by court. — Upon presenting the petition, the court shall, by inspection or otherwise, ascertain the age of the infant, and if of the age of fourteen years or upward, shall examine him as to his voluntary nomination of a suitable and proper person as guardian; if under fourteen, shall ascertain who is entitled to the guardianship, and shall name a competent and proper person as guardian. The court shall also ascertain the amount of the personal property, and the gross amount of value of the rents and profits of the real estate of the infant during his minority, and shall also ascertain the sufficiency of the security offered by the guardian.

RULE LIV.

Bond of a general guardian. — The security to be given by the general guardian of an infant shall be a bond in the penalty of double the amount of the personal estate of his ward and of a gross amount or value of the rents or profits of the real estate during his minority. The bond shall be executed by the guardian, together with at least two sufficient sureties, each of whom shall be worth the amount specified in the penalty of the bond over and above all debts. If, however, the total amount of the personal estate of an infant and of the gross amount or value of the rents or profits of the real estate during his minority shall exceed twenty-five hundred dollars, then the bond must be the bond of a surety company authorized to do business in this State, or the general guardian may give a bond secured by a mortgage on improved and unincumbered real property of the value of the penalty of the bond.

The court in its discretion may vary the security where from special circumstances it may be found for the interest of the infant, and may direct the principal of the estate and any part thereof to be invested in the stocks of the State of New York or of the United States, or deposited with any trust company which shall have been designated as a depository for such moneys, or invested in bond and mortgage on unincumbered and improved property of at least double the value of the amount invested, to be shown to the satisfaction of the court, for the benefit of the infants, and that the interest or income thereof only be received by the guardian. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE LV.

Sale of real estate of infants, lunatics, etc.; contents of petition. — The petition in proceedings to sell, mortgage or lease real estate belonging to an infant or lunatic, idiot or habitual drunkard, shall state, besides the particular grounds for a sale, mortgage or lease of the property, and the other matters required by the Code, the age and residence of the infant, lunatic, idiot or habitual drunkard, and the name and residence of the person proposed as a special guardian or committee, the relationship, if any, which he bears to the infant, lunatic, idiot or habitual drunkard, and the security proposed to be given; and also whether any previous application has been made, and, if so, the time thereof, and what disposition was made of the same.

RULE LVI.

Referee's report on petition to sell, etc. — The referee appointed on such petition must report as to whether a sale, mortgage or lease of the premises (or any and what portion thereof), would be beneficial to the infant, lunatic, idiot or habitual drunkard, and the particular reason therefor, and whether the infant, lunatic, idiot or habitual drunkard is in absolute need of having some and what portion of the proceeds of such sale, mortgage or lease, for a purpose provided in section 2348 of the Code, in addition to what he might earn by his own exertions; and such referee shall also ascertain and report the value of the property or interest to be disposed of, specifically, as to each separate lot or parcel, and whether there is any person entitled to dower or a life estate, or estate for years, in the premises, and the terms and conditions on which it should be sold.

And the referee's report shall give such further facts as are necessary or proper on the application.

The facts in relation to the value of the property or interest to be disposed of required to be ascertained and reported upon by the referee must be proved on such reference by evidence of at least two disinterested persons, in addition to that of the petitioner, and the report shall not refer to the petition or any other papers for a statement of fact.

RULE LVII. (under New Rule)

Bond of special guardian. — The security required on a sale of the real estate of an infant shall be a bond of the guardian, with two sufficient sureties, in the sum of double the value of the premises, including the interest on such value during the minority of the infant, each of which sureties shall be worth the penalty of the bond over and above all debts, which bond shall be duly acknowledged and accompanied with affidavits of justification made by the sureties. In case, however, the value of the premises including the interest on such value during the minority of the infant, shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, the court must require the guardian to give a bond of a surety company authorized to do business in this State or a bond secured by a mortgage on improved and unencumbered real property of the value of the penalty of the bond. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE LVIII.

Proceeds of sale must be brought into court; costs. — If the proceeds of the sale exceed $500, and the guardian has not given security by mortgage upon real estate, he shall bring the proceeds into court, or invest the same under the direction of the court, for the use of the infant; and the guardian shall only be entitled to receive so much of the interest or income thereof, from time to time, as may be necessary for the support and maintenance of the infant, without the order of the court. If the infant's interest in the property does not exceed $1,000, the whole costs, including disbursements, shall not exceed twenty-five dollars, and referee's fees not exceeding ten dollars. Where several infants are interested in the same premises as tenants in common, the application in behalf of all shall be joined in the same petition, although they may have several general guardians; and there shall be but one reference to ascertain the propriety of a sale as to all, and but one bill of costs shall be allowed.

RULE LIX.

When proceeds to be paid to general guardian; petition therefor. — No money arising from the sale of the real estate of an infant shall be paid over to his general guardian, except so much thereof, or of the interest or income, from time to time, as may be necessary for his support or maintenance, unless such guardian shall give a bond in the penalty of double the amount to be paid to him with sufficient surety to be approved by the court. In case however such money shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars the court must require the guardian to give a bond of a surety company authorized to do business in this State or a bond secured by a mortgage on improved and unencumbered real property of a value of the penalty of the bond.

No order shall be made for the payment of any such moneys to any person, except upon petition, accompanied by a certified copy of the order, in pursuance of which the money was brought into court, together with a statement of the county treasurer, city chamberlain, or other depository of the money, showing the present state and amount of the fund, separating the principal and interest, and showing the amount of each; and the court may take such proof of the truth of the matters stated in the petition as shall be deemed proper, or may refer the same to a suitable referee to take proof and report thereon. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE LX.

Reference on failure to answer on mortgage foreclosure; judgment. — If, in an action to foreclose a mortgage, the defendant fails to answer within the time allowed for that purpose, or the right of the plaintiff, as stated in the complaint, is admitted by the answer, the plaintiff may have an order referring it to some suitable person as referee, to compute the amount due to the plaintiff, and to such of the defendants as are prior incumbrancers of the mortgaged premises, and to examine and report whether the mortgaged premises can be sold in parcels, if the whole amount secured by the mortgage has not become due. If the defendant is an infant, and has put in a general answer by his guardian, or if any of the defendants are absentees, the order of reference shall also direct the person to whom it is referred to take proof of the facts and circumstances stated in the complaint, and to examine the plaintiff or his agent, on oath, as to any payments which have been made, and to compute the amount due on the mortgage, preparatory to the application for judgment of foreclosure and sale.

When no answer is put in by the defendant, within the time allowed for that purpose, or any answer denying any material facts of the complaint, the plaintiff, after the cause is in readiness for trial, as to all the defendants, may apply for judgment, at any Special Term, upon due notice to such of the defendants as have appeared in the action, and without putting the cause on the calendar.

The plaintiff, in such case, when he moves for judgment, must show, by affidavit or otherwise, whether any of the defendants who have not appeared are absentees; and, if so, he must produce the report as to the proof of the facts and circumstances stated in the complaint, and of the examination of the plaintiff or his agent, on oath, as to any payments which have been made. And in all foreclosure cases the plaintiff, when he moves for judgment, must show by affidavit, or by the certificate of the clerk of the county in which the mortgaged premises are situated, that a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties thereto, the object of the action, and a description of the property in that county affected thereby, the date of the mortgage, and the parties thereto, and the time and place of recording the same, has been filed at least twenty days before such application for judgment, and at or after the time of filing of the complaint, as required by law.

RULE LXI.

Judgment for sale on foreclosure, what to contain; disposition of surplus money; referee. — In every judgment for the sale of mortgaged premises, the description and particular boundaries of the property to be sold, so far, at least, as the same can be ascertained from the mortgage, shall be inserted. And, unless otherwise specially ordered by the court, the judgment shall direct that the mortgaged premises, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge the mortgage debt, the expenses of the sale and the costs of the action, as provided by sections 1626 and 1676 of the Code, and which may be sold separately without material injury to the parties interested, be sold by or under the direction of the sheriff of the county, or a referee, and that the plaintiff, or any other party, may become a purchaser on such sale; that the sheriff or referee execute a deed to the purchaser; that out of the proceeds of the sale, unless otherwise directed, he pay the expenses of the sale, as provided in section 1676 aforesaid, and that he pay to the plaintiff, or his attorney, the amount of his debt, interest and costs, or so much as the purchase money will pay of the same and that he take the receipt of the plaintiff, or his attorney, for the amount so paid, and file the same with his report of sale, and that the purchaser at such sale be let into possession of the premises on production of the deed.

All surplus moneys arising from the sale of mortgaged premises, under any judgment, shall be paid by the sheriff or referee making the sale within five days after the same shall be received and be ascertainable, in the city of New York to the chamberlain of the said city, and in other counties to the treasurer thereof, unless otherwise specially directed, subject to the further order of the court, and every judgment in foreclosure shall contain such directions, except where other provisions are specially made by the court. No report of a sale shall be filed or confirmed, unless accompanied with a proper voucher for the surplus moneys, and showing that they have been paid over, deposited or disposed of in pursuance of the judgment. The referee to be appointed in foreclosure cases, to compute the amount due, or to sell mortgaged premises, shall be selected by the court, and the court shall not appoint as such referee a person nominated by the party to the action or his counsel.

RULE LXII.

Sale of lands in New York and Kings counties and in Buffalo under judgment or order. — Where lands in the county of New York or the county of Kings are sold under a decree, order or judgment of any court, they shall be sold at public auction, between eleven o'clock in the forenoon and three o'clock in the afternoon, unless otherwise specifically directed.

Notice of such sale must be given, and the sale must be had, as prescribed in section 1678 of the Code.

Such sales in the county of New York, unless otherwise specifically directed, shall take place at the Exchange Sales Rooms, now located at No. 14–16 Vesey street in the city of New York.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the first department is authorized to change the place at which said sales shall be made, may make rules and regulations in relation thereto and may designate the auctioneers or persons who shall make the same.

Such sales in the city of Buffalo, shall, on and after May first, 1896, take place at the Real Estate Exchange Rooms, between the hours of nine and eleven in the forenoon, and two and three o'clock in the afternoon, unless the court ordering the sales shall otherwise direct. Such sales shall, however, be made subject to such regulations as the justices of the Supreme Court of the eighth district shall establish.

RULE LXIII.

Mortgage and assignments to be filed or recorded before conveyance. — Whenever a sheriff or referee sells mortgaged premises, under a decree or order, or judgment of the court, it shall be the duty of the plaintiff, before a deed is executed to the purchaser, to file such mortgage and any assignment thereof in the office of the clerk, unless such mortgage and assignments have been duly proved or acknowledged, so as to entitle the same to be recorded; in which case, if it has not been already done, it shall be the duty of the plaintiff to cause the same to be recorded, at full length, in the county or counties where the lands so sold are situated, before a deed is executed to the purchaser on the sale; the expense of which filing or recording, and the entry thereof, shall be allowed in the taxation of costs; and, if filed with the clerk, he shall enter in the minutes the filing of such mortgage and assignments, and the time of filing. But this rule shall not extend to any case where the mortgage or assignments appear, by the pleadings or proof in the suit commenced thereon, to have been lost or destroyed.

RULE LXIV.

Application for surplus moneys; reference; searches; unsatisfied liens. — On filing the report of the sale, any party to the suit, or any person who had a lien on the mortgaged premises at the time of the sale, upon filing with the clerk where the report of sale is filed a notice, stating that he is entitled to such surplus moneys or some part thereof, and the nature and extent of his claim, may have an order of reference to ascertain and report the amount due to him, or to any other person, which is a lien upon such surplus moneys, and to ascertain the priorities of the several liens thereon; to the end that, on the coming in and confirmation of the report on such reference, such further order may be made for the distribution of such surplus moneys as may be just. The referee shall, in all cases, be selected by the court. The owner of the equity of redemption, and every party who appeared in the cause, or who shall have filed a notice of claim with the clerk, previous to the entry of the order of reference, shall be entitled to service of a notice of the application for the reference, and to attend on such reference, and to the usual notices of subsequent proceedings relative to such surplus. But if such claimant or such owner has not appeared, or made his claim by an attorney of this court, the notice may be served by putting the same into the post office, directed to the claimant at his place of residence, as stated in the notice of his claim, and upon the owner in such manner as the court may direct. All official searches for conveyances or incumbrances, made in the progress of the cause, shall be filed with the judgment-roll, and notice of the hearing shall be given to any person having or appearing to have an unsatisfied lien on the moneys in such manner as the court shall direct; and the party moving for the reference shall show, by affidavit, what unsatisfied liens appear by such official searches, and whether any, and what other unsatisfied liens are known to him to exist.

RULE LXV.

Partition to embrace all lands in common. — Where several tracts or parcels of land lying within this State are owned by the same persons in common, no separate action for the partition of a part thereof shall be maintained without the consent of all the parties interested therein; or without the special order of the court made on notice to all parties who have appeared in the action, to be obtained before application for the relief demanded in the complaint; and, if brought without such a consent or order, the share of the plaintiff may be charged with the whole cost of proceeding; and where infants are interested, the complaint shall state whether or not the parties owned any other lands in common. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE LXVI.

Reference as to title of premises. — Where the rights and interests of the several parties, as stated in the complaint, are not denied or controverted, if any of the defendants are infants or absentees, or unknown, the plaintiff, on an affidavit of the fact, and notice to such of the parties as have appeared, may apply at a Special Term for an order of reference, to take proof of the plaintiff's title and interest in the premises, and of the several matters set forth in the complaint; and to ascertain and report the rights and interests of the several parties in the premises, and an abstract of the conveyances under which the same are held. Such referee and the referee appointed to sell shall in all cases be selected by the court. (As amended October 24, 1905.)

RULE LXVII.

Notice of stay of sale in partition or foreclosure. — No order to stay a sale under judgment in partition or for the foreclosure of a mortgage shall be granted or made by a judge out of court, except upon a notice of at least two days to the plaintiff's attorney.

RULE LXVIII.

Moneys paid into court; report in regard thereto to be filed annually by county treasurers and by the chamberlain of N. Y. City. — On or before the first day of February in each year the county treasurer in each county and the chamberlain of the City of New York shall file a report, duly verified, with the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of the department in which the county is embraced containing a statement of all moneys in his hands on the first day of January preceding that have been paid into court or received by him to the credit of any action or proceeding, specifically stating the securities in which the moneys so paid into court are invested or the depositories in which such moneys are deposited. In case such county treasurer or chamberlain refuses to comply with this rule the Appellate Division of the department shall issue an order requiring him to file such statement within the time specified therein, and obedience to such order may be enforced as for a contempt of court. (Added June 17, 1913; in effect November 1, 1913.)

RULE LXIX.

Order for payment out of court; accounts with trust companies; annual statement; draft to be countersigned by justice; what to be stated in draft. — All orders directing the payment of money out of court shall direct the payment to be made to the person entitled to receive the same, and all checks or drafts for the payment of money out of court shall be drawn payable to the order of the person entitled to the moneys; and shall specify in what particular suit or on what account the money is to be paid out, and the time when the order authorizing such payment was made. No order in any pending action, for the payment of money out of court, shall be made, except on regular notice or order to show cause, duly served on the attorneys of all the parties who have appeared therein, or filed notice of claim thereto. When moneys are deposited by the order of the court in any trust company, the entry of such deposit in the books of the company shall contain a short reference to the title of the cause or matter in which such deposit is directed to be made, and shall specify also the time from which the interest or accumulation on such deposit is to commence, where it does not commence from the date of such deposit. The secretary of the company shall, on or before the first day of February in each year transmit to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the department in which the trust company is located a statement of the accounts in each department, showing the amount, on the last preceding first day of January, including the interest or accumulation on the sum deposited to the credit of each cause or matter.

In every draft upon the trust company by the county treasurer or chamberlain, for moneys deposited with the said company, or for the interest or accumulation on such moneys, the title of the cause or matter on account of which the draft is made, and the date of the order authorizing such draft shall be stated, and the draft shall be made payable to the order of the person or persons entitled to the money. Any attorney or other person procuring an order for the payment of money out of court, shall obtain two certified copies of the order, both to be countersigned by the judge granting the same; one copy shall be filed with the county treasurer and the other shall accompany the draft drawn upon the depository and be filed with it, and the several banks and other depositories having trust funds of the court on deposit, are forbidden to pay out any of such funds without the production and filing of such certified and countersigned copy order. This provision is not intended to dispense with any of the requirements of this rule, as to the form of the draft, nor to apply to a case where periodical payments are directed to be made, as provided for by the last sentence of this rule, after the first payment from such fund shall have been made under an order of the court, in the manner herein specified. Where periodical payments are directed to be made out of a fund deposited with such company, the delivery to the secretary of the company of one copy of the order authorizing the several payments shall be sufficient to authorize the payment of subsequent drafts in pursuance of such order. (As amended April 1, 1910; in effect September 1, 1910.)

RULE LXX.

Gross sum in payment of life estate. — Whenever a party, as a tenant for life, or by the curtesy, or in dower, is entitled to the annual interest or income of any sum paid into court and invested in permanent securities, such party shall be charged with the expense of investing such sum, and of receiving and paying over the interest or income thereof; but if such party is willing, and consents to accept a gross sum in lieu of such annual interest or income for life, the same shall be estimated according to the then value of an annuity of five per cent on the principal sum, during the probable life of such person, according to the Carlisle Table of Mortality. (As amended October 24, 1905.)

RULE LXXI.

Fees on inquisition of lunacy; special order of the court; when necessary for payment of costs. — On the execution of a commission of lunacy, etc., the commissioners, for every day they are necessarily employed in hearing the testimony and taking the inquisition, shall be entitled to an allowance to be fixed by the court, not exceeding ten dollars for each day to each of such commissioners.

Where the costs and expenses exceed $250, besides witness fees and allowances to commissioners, the committee shall not be at liberty to pay the same out of the estate in his hands, without a special order of the court upon notice to all parties who have appeared in such proceedings, directing such payment.

RULE LXXII.

Divorce or separation, action for; reference on default; averments in complaint; plaintiff to be examined on oath. — When an action is brought to obtain a divorce or separation, or to declare a marriage contract void, the court shall in no case order the reference to a referee nominated by either party nor to a referee agreed upon by the parties, nor without proof by affidavit conformable to the rules relating to the manner and proof of the service of the summons and complaint. Notice of appearance and retainer shall not be sufficient to excuse such proof.

When the action is for a divorce on the ground of adultery, unless it be averred in the complaint that the adultery charged was committed without the consent, connivance, privity or procurement of the plaintiff; that five years have not elapsed since the discovery of the fact that such adultery had been committed, and that the plaintiff has not voluntarily cohabited with the defendant since such discovery; and, also, where, at the time of the offense charged, the defendant was living in adulterous intercourse with the person with whom the offense is alleged to have been committed; that five years have not elapsed since the commencement of such adulterous intercourse was discovered by the plaintiff, and the complaint containing such averments be verified by the oath of the plaintiff in the manner prescribed by the Code, judgment shall not be rendered for the relief demanded until the plaintiff's affidavit be produced stating the above facts.

In an action for a divorce or for the annulment of a marriage, where the defendant fails to answer, no reference shall be granted to take proof of the facts stated in the complaint, but before a judgment shall be granted the proof of such facts must be made to the court in open court and a copy of the evidence taken before the court shall be written out and filed with the judgment-roll. The court, may, however, in case the evidence is such that the public interest requires that the examination of the witnesses should not be public, exclude all persons from the court room except the parties to the action and their counsel and the witnesses, and shall order such evidence, when filed with the clerk, sealed up and exhibited only to the parties to the action or some one specially interested upon order of the court.

RULE LXXIII.

Divorce, judgment by default, when granted. — Before judgment by default shall be granted in an action to annul a marriage on the ground that the party was under the age of legal consent, proof must be made showing that the parties thereto have not freely cohabited for any time as husband and wife, after the plaintiff had attained the age of consent. If the action is brought to annul the marriage, on the ground that the plaintiff's consent was obtained by force or fraud, the plaintiff must show that there has been no voluntary cohabitation between the parties as man and wife; and if it is brought to annul a marriage on the ground that the plaintiff was a lunatic, proof must be produced showing that the lunacy still continues; or that the parties have not cohabited as husband and wife after the plaintiff was restored to his reason.

RULE LXXIV.

Divorce, answer in action. — The defendant in the answer may set up the adultery of the plaintiff, or any other matter which would be a bar to a divorce, separation, or the annulling of a marriage contract; and if an issue is taken thereon, it shall be tried at the same time and in the same manner as other issues of fact in the cause.

RULE LXXV.

Legitimacy of children on divorce. — On a complaint filed by a husband for a divorce, if he wishes to question the legitimacy of any of the children of his wife, the allegation that they are or that he believes them to be illegitimate, shall be distinctly made in the complaint. If, upon default, proofs shall be taken upon the question of legitimacy as well as upon the other matters stated in the complaint, and if the issue is tried by a jury, an issue on the question of legitimacy of the children shall be awarded and tried at the same time.

RULE LXXVI.

Judgment declaring marriage void, or granting a divorce, not to be by default; copy of pleading or testimony not to be furnished; judgment to be entered by court. — No judgment annulling a marriage contract or granting a divorce, or for a separation or limited divorce, shall be made of course by the default of the defendant; or in consequence of any neglect to appear at the hearing of the cause, or by consent. Every such case shall be heard after the trial of the issue, or upon the coming in of the proofs at a Special Term of the court; but where no person appears on the part of the defendant, the details of the evidence in adultery causes shall not be read in public, but shall be submitted in open court. No officer of any court, with whom the proceedings in an adultery cause are filed, or before whom the testimony is taken, nor any clerk of such officer, either before or after the termination of the suit, shall permit a copy of any of the pleadings or testimony, or of the substance of the details thereof, to be taken by any other person than a party or the attorney or counsel of a party, who has appeared in the cause, without a special order of the court.

No judgment in an action for a divorce shall be entered except upon the special direction of the court.

RULE LXXVII.

Receiver of debtor's estate; powers and duties; costs. — Every receiver of the property and effects of the debtor shall, unless restricted by the special order of the court, have general power and authority to sue for and collect all the debts, demands and rents belonging to such debtor, and to compromise and settle such as are unsafe and of a doubtful character. He may also sue in the name of a debtor, where it is necessary or proper for him to do so; and he may apply for and obtain an order of course that the tenants of any real estate belonging to the debtor, or of which he is entitled to the rents and profits, attorn to such receiver, and pay their rents to him. He shall also be permitted to make leases, from time to time, as may be necessary, for terms not exceeding one year. And it shall be his duty, without any unreasonable delay, to convert all the personal estate and effects into money; but he shall not sell any real estate of the debtor without the special order of the court, until after judgment in the cause. He is not to be allowed for the costs of any suit brought by him against an insolvent from whom he is unable to collect his costs, unless such suit is brought by order of the court or by the consent of all persons interested in the funds in his hands. But he may, by leave of the court, sell such desperate debts, and all other doubtful claims to personal property, at public auction, giving at least ten days' public notice of the time and place of such sale.

RULE LXXVIII.

Suits by receiver; costs. — Whenever a receiver, appointed under proceedings supplementary to execution, shall apply for leave to bring an action, he shall present and file with his application the written request of the creditor in whose behalf he was appointed, that such action be brought; or else he shall give a bond with sufficient security and properly acknowledged and approved by the court, to the person against whom the action is to be brought, conditioned for the payment of any costs which may be recovered against such receiver. And leave to bring actions shall not be granted except on such written request or on the giving of such security.

In all other cases where a receiver applies to the court for leave to bring an action, he shall show in such application that he has sufficient property in his actual possession to secure the person against whom the action is to be brought for any costs which he may recover against such receiver; otherwise the court may require the receiver to give such bond conditioned for the payment of costs, and with such security as is above mentioned.

RULE LXXIX.

Who may be referee, and the duties of a referee. — Except in a case provided for by section 1011 of the Code of Civil Procedure, no person, unless he is an attorney of the court in good standing, shall be appointed sole referee for any purpose in any pending action or proceeding. Nor shall any person be appointed a referee who is the partner or clerk of the attorney, or counsel of the party in whose behalf such application for such appointment is made, or who is in any way connected in business with such attorney or counsel, or who occupies the same office with such attorney or counsel. All moneys received by a referee appointed to sell real property shall be forthwith deposited by the referee in his own name as referee in a bank or trust company authorized to receive on deposit court funds; and if there be no such depository in the city or town in which the referee resides, then he shall deposit such moneys forthwith in a depository located in an adjoining city or town, or with the county treasurer of the county in which the action or special proceeding is pending, and such moneys so deposited shall not be withdrawn except as directed by the judgment or order under which the deposit is made, or upon the order of the court. (As amended June 17, 1913; in effect November 1, 1913.)

RULE LXXX.

Sequestration of property of corporation; where motion for receiver may be made; removal of receiver. — All motions for the sequestration of the property of corporations, or for the appointment of receivers thereof, must be made in the judicial district in which the principal place of business of said corporations, respectively, is situated, except that in actions brought by the Attorney-General in behalf of the people of this State, when it shall be made to appear that such sequestration is a necessary incident to the action, and that no receiver has already been appointed, a motion for the appointment of one may be made in any county within the judicial district in which such action is triable. No motion can be made, or other proceeding had for the removal of a receiver, elsewhere than in the judicial district in which the order for his appointment was made. And where a receiver has been appointed, his appointment shall be extended to any subsequent suit or proceeding relating to the same estate or property in which a receiver is necessary.

RULE LXXXI.

Power of receiver to employ counsel. — No receiver shall have power to employ more than one counsel, except under special circumstances and in particular cases requiring the employment of additional counsel, and in such cases only upon special application to the court, showing such circumstances by his petition or affidavit, and on notice to the party or person on whose behalf or application he was appointed. This rule shall apply to all receivers, present and future; and no allowance shall be made to any receiver for expenses paid, or made, or incurred in violation of this rule.

RULE LXXXII.

Examination of a party before trial. — When an examination is required under sections 870, 871, 872 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the affidavit shall specify the facts and circumstances which show, in conformity with subdivision 4 of section 872, that the examination of the person is material and necessary.

RULE LXXXIII.

Courts may make further rules. — The Appellate Division in each department, and the various courts of record, may make such further rules in regard to the transaction of business before them respectively, not inconsistent with the foregoing rules as they in their discretion may deem necessary.

RULE LXXXIV.

Practice in cases not covered by these rules. — In cases where no provision is made by statute or by these rules the proceedings shall be according to the customary practice as it formerly existed in the Court of Chancery or Supreme Court, in cases not provided for by statute or by the written rules of those courts.

RULE LXXXV.

Appellate division; announcement of decisions; delivery of copies of opinions; publication. — Before any decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in any department in which an opinion is written is announced there shall be furnished to the clerk of the court a copy of each opinion delivered by the court, and immediately after the announcement of the decision and on the same day the clerk shall transmit such copy or copies so received by him, duly certified as required by section 92 of the Judiciary Law, and a list of all cases decided at the same time to the Supreme Court Reporter, and no decision on any appeal in which an opinion is written shall be announced until a copy of the opinion has been furnished to the clerk as aforesaid. No copy of any opinion in any case decided by the Appellate Division in any department shall be delivered to any person until after the decision is announced, and no copy of such opinion shall be delivered to any person except counsel in the case until after the list of decisions and certified copies of the opinions shall have been transmitted to the Supreme Court Reporter. The Supreme Court Reporter shall publish the opinions of the Appellate Divisions as soon as practicable without waiting to publish together all the opinions of a particular term or month. (Added June 17, 1913; in effect November 1, 1913.)

RULE LXXXVI.

Appellate division in first department to designate newspapers in which to publish legal notices, process, and other papers. — Whenever a notice, summons, citation, order or other paper shall be required by the Code of Civil Procedure or other provision of law, or by the order of any court or a judge thereof, or of a surrogate or of the clerk of a court or any other official or individual, to be published in a newspaper in the First Department, or public notice of any application to a court or judge or other officer shall be required to be given by publication thereof in a newspaper in the First Department, or where any court or a judge thereof or a surrogate or other judicial officer or public officer is authorized or required to designate a newspaper in the First Department for the publication of any such notice, summons, citation, order or other paper, the newspaper designated by any court or judge thereof, or surrogate or other judicial officer or public officer, shall be a newspaper designated by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Department, as hereinafter provided, and no such publication shall be deemed to give the notice required to be given if the same is published in any newspaper in the First Department which has not been designated by an order of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Department, and the publication of such notice, summons, citation, order or other paper in any undesignated newspaper in the First Department shall not be deemed a compliance with any provision of the Code of Civil Procedure or other provision of law or of the order of any court or judge.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Department shall from time to time designate such newspapers in such department as in its opinion have such a circulation as is calculated to give public notice of a legal publication, and from time to time revoke such designation. To entitle a newspaper to such a designation it must file with the clerk of the Appellate Division a statement, duly verified, showing approximately the amount of its circulation, the time and place of its regular publication, and a statement of its charges for legal publications. (Added June 17, 1913; in effect November 1, 1913.)

RULE FOR ASCERTAINING THE VALUE OF A LIFE ESTATE OR ANNUITY.

Compute the interest at five per cent. for one year on the principal sum to the income of which the annuitant is entitled. Multiply the interest thus obtained by the number of years' purchase set opposite the age of the person on whose life the annuity depends, and the product will be the value of the life estate of such person.

Example.

Suppose a man, aged sixty, has a life estate in real property worth $3,000 Five per cent. interest on that amount for one year is $150. In the table we find the number of years' purchase of a man of sixty is 8.94, which, multiplied by $150, one year's interest, gives $1,341 as the value of his life estate.

Suppose a widow aged forty has a dower right of $2,000. Interest on this at five per cent. for one year is $100. The number of years' purchase, by the table, of a person of forty, is $13.389. Multiplying this by $100, the result is $1,338.90, which is therefore the value of her right of dower.

RULES OF THE APPELLATE DIVISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW YORK.

Rules of Appellate Division, First Department.

(Amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

When court is open. — The court will open at two o'clock and continue until six o'clock in the afternoon unless sooner adjourned, except that on motion days the court will open at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon. (As am'd December 17, 1909.)

RULE II.

Motion days; calendar; ex parte business. — The first and third Fridays succeeding the first and third Mondays of each month, or such other days as shall be designated for hearing appeals from orders by the Appellate Division, shall be motion days. The clerk will make up a calendar for each motion day of all motions noticed to be heard on that day. A note of issue stating the nature of the motion and the day for which it has been noticed must be filed with the clerk before 12 o'clock noon on the day preceding the day for which the motion is noticed. The Motion Calendar will be called by the clerk at 10 o'clock on each motion day, when all motions to be submitted without oral argument must be submitted. Where a motion is to be orally argued the same will be marked ready on the call by the clerk, and will be heard by the court at 10.30. (As am'd December 17, 1909.)

RULE III.

Appeals from orders; time allowed; submission. — Appeals from orders will be heard only upon motion days, the calendar of which will be taken up immediately after the disposition of the motion calendar. On the argument of such appeals not more than fifteen minutes will be allowed to each side, except when the court otherwise orders. Appeals from orders which have been placed upon the calendar may be submitted by the parties, with the approbation of the court, at any time during the term, upon delivering to and leaving with the clerk the requisite number of printed copies of the points.

RULE IV.

Appeals from orders; return; dismissal; postponement of argument of non-enumerated case by consent. — Appeals from orders may be noticed for argument on any motion day. The appellant or moving party must file with the clerk of the Appellate Division at least eight days before the day upon which such appeal shall have been noticed, a note of issue, which shall state the day upon which the notice of appeal shall have been served, and nineteen copies of the papers upon which the appeal is to be heard, printed as required by Rule XLI of the General Rules of Practice, with an affidavit showing the service of three printed copies thereof upon the attorney for the respondent, together with a notice of argument of the appeal with admission or proof of service, and the clerk shall thereupon place the appeal upon the calendar for the day upon which such appeal shall have been noticed. If an appeal shall have been noticed for argument by the respondent, and the appellant or other party whose duty it is to file nineteen copies of the papers upon which the appeal is to be heard, printed as required by the General Rules of Practice, shall fail to file the same at least eight days before the day for which such appeal is noticed, the opposite party may move upon affidavit and upon four days' notice of motion that the appeal be dismissed or that judgment be rendered in his favor.

At any time before three o'clock of the day preceding the day upon which a non-enumerated case shall have been noticed for argument, or to which the hearing thereof shall have been adjourned, the respective counsel may file a written consent with the clerk that the case may be set down for a subsequent motion day; and cases set down will be added to the calendar of that day at the foot of the cases remaining thereon undisposed of without further notice.

RULE V.

Calendar of enumerated cases; note of issue; return; dismissal; preferred causes. — The clerk will make up a calendar of enumerated causes for each term of the court, which shall consist of the enumerated causes upon the calendar of the preceding term undisposed of, to which shall be added new cases which shall have been noticed as hereinafter provided.

The appellant, the plaintiff in a controversy submitted to the court under section 1279 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the relator in a writ of certiorari, or the moving party in a case to be heard as an enumerated case, shall file with the clerk of the Appellate Division, within the time prescribed by Rule 41 of the General Rules of Practice, a printed copy of the papers upon which the appeal or case is to be heard, duly certified as required by the rule, and nineteen copies of the printed papers upon which the case is to be heard, printed as required by the General Rules of Practice, with an admission of service or an affidavit showing the service of three printed copies thereof upon the attorney for the respondent or opposing party. After the printed copies of the papers shall have been duly filed as hereinbefore required, and after the printed copies of the points shall have been filed by the appellant or moving party, as required by Rule VI, either party may notice the case for argument for any day in the term, and upon filing of such notice of argument, with admission or proof of service, with the clerk of the court, and a note of issue which shall state the day upon which the notice of appeal was served, the clerk shall, upon the day for which the same shall have been noticed, place the case upon the calendar at the foot thereof.

In case the party whose duty it is to file and serve the printed papers shall fail to file or serve the same as hereinbefore required, the opposing party may move upon four days' notice that the appeal be dismissed, or that judgment or order be rendered in his favor.

Either party to an appeal which by law is entitled to a preference may serve with the notice of argument a notice that application will be made on the next motion day for an order placing the cause upon the Day Calendar upon a day named in the notice of motion, and such application will be heard as a motion on the motion day for which the same is noticed. (As am'd March 23, 1911.)

RULE VI.

Day calendar; points. — Within twenty days after the papers upon which an appeal is to be heard shall have been filed with the clerk of the court as required by Rule 41 of the General Rules of Practice and by Rule V of these rules, except when the papers are filed in July, August or September, the appellant, plaintiff in a controversy submitted to the court under section 1279 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the relator in a writ of certiorari, or the moving party in a case to be heard as an enumerated case, shall file with the clerk eighteen printed copies and serve upon the attorney for his opponent three printed copies of the points to be relied upon by him, with a reference to the authorities to be cited. When the papers are filed in July, August or September, then the points must be filed and served at least fifteen days before the first Tuesday of October. Within ten days after such service the respondent or defendant shall file with the clerk eighteen printed copies and serve on the attorney for the appellant or moving party three printed copies of the points to be relied upon by him, with a reference to the authorities to be cited. If the appellant or moving party desires to present points or authorities in reply he shall file with the clerk eighteen printed copies and serve three printed copies thereof on the attorney for his opponent within five days after the receipt of his opponent's points. No points shall be received by the court on the argument or submission of the appeal unless they shall have been filed and served as above provided. At 4 o'clock on each day the Clerk will make up a calendar of fifteen enumerated cases for the next day. A case on such Day Calendar will not be reserved or postponed except by order of the court upon special cause shown. At any time after the filing of a note of issue in an enumerated case, and before it shall have been placed on the Day Calendar, a written consent, signed by the attorneys or counsel who are to argue the case, that the appeal be set down for any future day of the term may be filed with the clerk, and such case shall be placed on the Day Calendar for such day at the end of the cases remaining thereon undisposed of in the order in which they have been set down, provided that no more than fifteen cases shall be placed on any Day Calendar, and provided that such case would have been reached on the General Calendar if not so set down.

If an appellant or moving party is in default in filing and serving the points hereinbefore required the opposing party may move upon four days' notice to dismiss the appeal or for final judgment or final order, as the case requires. If the respondent is in default in filing and serving the points hereinbefore required he will not be heard except by special leave of the court. (As am'd March 23, 1911.)

RULE VII.

Submission of appeal. — In any case in which the printed copies of the papers upon which an appeal is to be heard shall have been filed with the clerk of the Appellate Division as required by Rule 41 of the General Rules of Practice, and the printed copies of the points filed with the clerk as required by Rule 6 of the Rules of the Appellate Division for the First Department, either party may, by a written stipulation filed with the clerk, submit the appeal upon the printed papers and points filed as aforesaid.

RULE VIII.

Motions for reargument. — Motions for reargument must be noticed for the first, second or third motion days after the appeal has been decided. Such motions will only be heard on notice to the adverse party, stating briefly the grounds upon which a reargument is asked; and such motion must be submitted on printed briefs stating concisely the points supposed to have been overlooked or misapprehended by the court, and with proper reference to the particular portion of the case and the authorities relied upon, and a printed copy of the opinion, and counsel will not be heard orally. (As am'd December 17, 1909.)

RULE IX.

Submission of brief after argument; where counsel first to attend who has cases on calendars of First and Second Departments on the same day. — No brief or memorandum of authorities will be received by the court after the argument of a motion or an appeal, unless permission be given by the court for its submission after notice to opposing counsel of the application for such permission.

In the event of counsel having cases upon the day calendars of the Appellate Divisions of the First and Second Departments on the same day, such counsel shall attend the court in that department in which his case stands nearest the head of such day calendar; and his case upon the calendar of the other department will be held until the argument of the case is finished in the department in which he is first required to attend.

In the event of counsel having cases upon each of the day calendars of the said departments upon the same day, which stand equally distant from the heads of the respective day calendars, such counsel shall attend court in the First Department.

RULE X.

Applications to Appellate Division Justice to appeal from Appellate Term to Appellate Division. — Applications "to a justice of the Appellate Division of the First Judicial Department," under section 1344 of the Code of Civil Procedure, for the allowance of an appeal to be taken to such Appellate Division from the determination of the justices designated to hear appeals from the City Court of the City of New York and the Municipal Courts of the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, may be made upon any motion day within two months after such determination, unless the determination is made within two months of the last motion day prior to the first day of July, in which case they may be made on the first motion day in the October term; and must be upon notice of two days to the opposite party or parties, and a note of issue filed, and the same put upon the calendar of motions in the manner provided by Rule 2 of the Appellate Division Rules relating to the hearing of motions. The papers upon which such application is made must contain a copy of the opinion of the justices below, if any; a copy of the printed record in the court below, if any; a concise statement of the grounds of alleged error, and proof of due service of the papers upon which the application is founded. Upon the calling of the motion calendar such applications must be submitted without argument. Such applications will not be entertained unless an application for leave to appeal has first been made to the justices by whom such determination was made, in the manner provided by Rule VII for the regulation of the hearing of appeals from the City Court of the City of New York and the Municipal Courts of the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, and has been denied. (As am'd December 17, 1909.)

RULE XI.

Admission to the bar of attorneys from other States. — Every application for admission to practice as an attorney and counselor at law under Rule 2 of the Rules of the Court of Appeals for the admission of attorneys and counselors at law shall, in addition to the proof required by said rule and by Rule 1 of the General Rules of Practice, present to the court proof of the qualifications required for the admission of an attorney and counselor at law in the State in which he had been admitted and had practiced, and the nature of the examination required of an applicant for admission to practice as an attorney and counselor at law in such State.

Every application for admission to practice under Rule 2 of the Rules of the Court of Appeals for the admission of attorneys and counselors at law shall be referred to the Committee on Character, who shall report to the court upon the character of the applicant and his qualifications to be admitted to practice in the courts of this State, and no person will be admitted to practice on such an application until after the Committee on Character shall have made its report. (Added, July 13, 1909; am'd, Dec. 28, 1910.)

SPECIAL RULE FOR ELECTION CASES.

Rule 1.—All applications to the Supreme Court or a justice thereof to review the determination and acts of the election officers under § 56 of the Election Law (chapter 909 of the Laws of 1896, as amended); all applications for a writ of mandamus under § 114 of the said Election Law, and all other applications to the Supreme Court or a justice thereof under any of the other provisions of the said Election Law, shall be made to Special Term, Part I of the Supreme Court of the First Judicial District. The justice assigned to such term may hear and determine any such proceeding or may assign any such proceedings to the other parts of the Special Term for hearing and decision, and such application shall have precedence over all other business at any part of the Special Term. The final order determining such special proceeding should in each case state the facts found by the Special Term upon which the determination is made and the determination of the Court upon the facts thus stated.

Rule 2.—Appeal from any final order entered in a proceeding specified in Rule 1 shall be brought on for hearing at such time on such day as the Appellate Division shall designate by an order which will be granted on the application of any party to such a special proceeding.

Rules of Appellate Division, Second Department.

(Amended to May, 1916.)

Enumerated Calendar.

Seventeen copies of the case must be delivered to the clerk before the commencement of the argument.

The appellant's brief and points in a cause which is on the printed calendar shall be filed with the clerk and shall be served on the attorney for the respondent at least five days before the first day of the term. The appellant shall file with the clerk seventeen printed copies and serve on the attorney for the respondent three printed copies of his said brief and points. Within five days after such service the respondent shall file with the clerk seventeen printed copies and serve on the attorney for the appellant three printed copies of his brief and points. If the appellant desires to present briefs or points in reply, he shall file with the clerk seventeen printed copies thereof and serve three printed copies thereof on the attorney for the respondent within three days after the receipt of the respondent's points.

When, according to this rule, an appellant is in default, the appeal may, without previous notice, be dismissed on motion when the cause is reached for argument; and when a respondent is in default he will not be heard except by leave of the court.

This rule shall not apply to appeals from orders.

Non-enumerated Calendar.

Seventeen copies of the appeal papers and points must be delivered to the clerk before the commencement of the argument.

Special Rule (for both the Enumerated and the Non-enumerated Calendar).

When a motion is made to dismiss an appeal for want of prosecution or other neglect, the party desiring to oppose such a motion, in addition to affidavits stating facts excusing the delay, must also submit affidavits stating concisely the facts out of which the controversy arose and the questions of law and fact involved in the said appeal, and showing that the appeal is a meritorious one. (Added, Oct. 4, 1910.)

Attention is called to General Rule XLI, as printed in this calendar. If this rule is not strictly complied with, such causes as are therein referred to cannot be placed upon the calendar.

(N. B. Rule XLI of the General Rules of Practice is usually printed at this point in the Rules of the Second Department. It will be found ante, on page 1455 and therefore is omitted here.)

Attention is called to section 1353, Code of Civil Procedure.

(N. B. Section 1353 of the Code is usually printed at this point in the Rules of the Second Department. It will be found ante, on page 368, and therefore is omitted here.)

CALENDAR PRACTICE.

RULE I.

Appeals from orders. — Appeals from orders, heard as non-enumerated motions, will be placed upon a separate calendar and called upon the first day of the term.

RULE II.

Calendars.—A new calendar will be made up for the January term. Calendars for subsequent terms during the year will be made up by adding to the calendar of the previous term all new appeals to be placed in regular order, according to the date of appeal, on compliance with the requirements hereinbefore prescribed. An appeal passed during any term may be brought on for argument on any day during the first week of a subsequent term upon stipulation, or upon four days' notice to the opposing party and on filing with the clerk such stipulation or proof of service of such notice, the clerk will cause the appeal to be placed on the day calendar of the day named in such notice or stipulation. (As am'd Nov. 29, 1912.)

RULE III.

Appeals from orders; when heard. — Appeals from orders will also be heard on the second Friday of each term, and notices of argument may be given for such day, and the calendar for such day will consist of causes not called on the first Monday, and other causes in which the appeal papers and affidavit of service thereof have been filed with the clerk, as required by section 1353 of the Code of Civil Procedure and the General Rules of Practice. (As am'd March 12, 1915.)

RULE IV.

Day calendar of non-enumerated causes. — Non-enumerated causes will be placed upon the day calendar for the first Monday and second Friday of the term, and the hearing of such causes will continue from day to day until completed. The calendar for other days will consist of as many causes as shall be placed thereon from the general calendar in their numerical order. (As am'd October 22, 1908 and March 12, 1915.)

RULE V.

Reservation by consent of causes on day calendar. — Causes can be reserved by consent for a day subsequent to the time when they would be reached in their order, but not, however, later than the first week of the term. A stipulation for reservation must be filed with the clerk before the day calendar is made up (1 o'clock P. M.). (As am'd Nov. 29, 1912.)

RULE VI.

Motions, other than appeals from orders, when heard. — Motions, other than appeals from orders, will be heard on the first Monday and second Friday of the term, and notes of issue therefor must be filed with the clerk at least two days before the day for which they are noticed. (As amended March 12, 1915.)

RULE VII.

Non-enumerated calendar of appeals from orders; notes of issue. — No appeal from an order will be heard unless it is placed on the non-enumerated calendar. The attorney or party intending to move such an appeal for argument shall, at least eight days before the time of the making up of the calendar, file with the clerk a note of issue, specifying the date of the service of the notice of appeal and stating that the cause is to be put on the non-enumerated calendar. No cause shall be put on the enumerated or non-enumerated calendar until the papers required by General Rule XLI shall have been filed with the clerk.

RULE VIII.

Notes of issue in preferred causes. — A party who desires to have a cause heard as a preferred cause, must, in his note of issue, state his claim for preference, as provided in section 793 of the Code; or if an order giving the cause a preference has been made under that section, the note of issue must be accompanied with a copy of such order. The clerk, in making up the calendar, shall place such preferred causes at the head of the general calendar, indicating that they are preferred, and that class to which they belong.

RULE IX.

Criminal causes may be put upon the calendar at any time. — Appeals in criminal causes, brought after making up the calendar, or too late to be placed upon the calendar, may be put upon the calendar at any time, and brought on for hearing as preferred causes, upon a notice of ten days to the adverse party, as provided in section 535 of the Criminal Code. A note of issue must be filed with the clerk at least five days before the day on which the cause is to be heard, and he shall put the same upon the calendar for the day on which it shall be noticed, or upon which it shall be ordered by the court, or stipulated by the parties to be heard.

RULE X.

Endorsement on brief. — In order to facilitate the work of the reporter the counsel who argues the cause orally shall endorse his name on upper right-hand corner of first page of brief.

RULE XI.

Motions for re-argument. — Motions for re-argument will be heard only on notice to the adverse party, stating briefly the ground upon which a re-argument is asked, and such motions must be submitted upon printed briefs, stating concisely the points supposed to have been overlooked or misapprehended by the court, with proper reference to the particular portion of the case and the authorities relied on; and a copy of the opinion delivered by the court in deciding the cause; and counsel will not be heard orally.

RULE XII.

Citation of statutes in briefs. — When a statute is cited, so much thereof as may be deemed necessary to the decision of the case should be printed at length on the brief.

RULE XIII.

The general rule will prevail of imposing costs on the decision of motions.

Attention is called to section 1355, Code of Civil Procedure.

(N. B. Section 1355 of the Code is usually printed at this point in the Rules of the Second Department. It will be found ante, on pages 368, 369, and therefore is omitted here.)

Remittitur. — The remittitur to be transmitted pursuant to section 1355 of the Code shall contain a copy of the judgment order of this court, and the record which has been filed with the clerk, and shall be sealed with the seal and signed by the clerk of this court.

Rules Relating to the Admission of Attorneys in the Second Department.

Notice of the time of application for admission as attorneys by those who have passed the examination prescribed by the rules of the Court of Appeals, will be published in the "Law Journal," at which time applicants must file with the clerk the papers enumerated in Rule I of the General Rules of Practice, and appear personally before the Committee on Character to furnish such information as the committee may desire from them.

Rule Regulating the Procedure upon Applications for Naturalization in the Supreme Court in the Second Department.

All applications of aliens to become citizens of the United States must be heard at the various Special Terms as directed and indicated in the assignment of Justices for holding such terms.

If the applicant fail to appear at the time and place specified in such application, the application will be dismissed without prejudice to a fresh application.

If he appear and for any reason the hearing is not completed upon the stated day aforesaid, the Court may complete such hearing and take final action upon any subsequent day to which the matter shall be publicly adjourned by the direction of the Justice presiding. (As am'd December 10, 1909.)

Where counsel first to attend who has cases on calendars of First and Second Departments on the same day. — In the event of counsel having cases upon the day calendars of the Appellate Divisions of the First and Second Departments on the same day, such counsel shall attend the court in that department in which his case stands nearest the head of such day calendar; and his case upon the calendar of the other department will be held until the argument of the case is finished in the department in which he is first required to attend.

In the event of counsel having cases upon each of the day calendars of the said departments upon the same day, which stand equally distant from the heads of the respective day calendars, such counsel shall attend court in the First Department.

Bonds of applicants for license to practice as official examiners of title. — All bonds executed by individual sureties in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of chapter 444 of the Laws of 1908, and the Rules of the Court of Appeals adopted pursuant thereto, must contain a statement of the place of residence of each surety, giving the street and the number thereof, if such residence is so known and designated, and in addition to the facts required by the Rules of the Court of Appeals to be stated in the affidavit of justification, each surety must specifically state what property is owned by him, giving a brief description thereof, and also state the value of the same and what, if any, liens or incumbrances there are on such property, with a brief description of the nature and amount of such lien. (Added, March 4, 1909.)

RULES OF THE APPELLATE TERM OF THE SUPREME COURT IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

Relating to the Hearing of Appeals from the Municipal Court and the Making and Hearing of Motions in said Appellate Term.

(As amended February 2, 1916.)

RULE I.

Calendar of appeals. — The clerk of said Appellate Term shall, at least eight days before the first day of an appointed term thereof, prepare a calendar of all the appeals to that court in which the returns, conformable in all respects with § 161 of the New York City Municipal Court Code and with Rule III, have been filed ten days prior to the commencement of such term. Such appeals shall be placed upon said calendar according to the date of the filing of the returns respectively, shall be brought on for hearing in the manner provided in Rule IV, and shall be continued on said calendar until disposed of.

RULE II.

Motion to dismiss for want of return. — If the appellant fails to procure the return on appeal to be made and filed as prescribed in § 161 of said Municipal Court Code, the respondent may move to dismiss the appeal, and such appeal shall be dismissed unless the justices assigned to hear the same shall, for good reason shown, extend the time. (As am'd Feb. 2, 1916.)

RULE III.

Returns, points, etc. — The stenographer's minutes, attached to the return, and the points on appeal, shall be printed or typewritten upon white paper of the quality and weight prescribed in § 796 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall be of uniform size, namely, ten and one-half inches in length and eight inches in width; the stenographer's minutes shall be numbered at the bottom of the page, fastened at the left hand edge, bound with suitable cover, and appropriately indexed. Such points shall be fastened on the left hand edge thereof and the number of the appeal shall be indicated thereon, and on the upper right hand corner of the points submitted to the court shall appear the name of the counsel arguing or submitting the same.

All returns on appeal, including the evidence, the exhibits and all papers relating thereto, all points, briefs and all motion papers for submission to the court must be flat and so delivered to the clerk of the Appellate Term; all motion papers for submission to the Appellate Term, or to a justice thereof, must comply with the foregoing conditions as to quality and weight. The exhibits offered by each party shall be copied in typewriting and annexed to the return in the order of their admission in evidence, and the originals thereof shall also be returned separate, attached in the order in which they are numbered or lettered and placed flat in an appropriate envelope, plainly marked, and enclosed in the return envelope. The opinion of the Municipal Court justice, if any, must be included in the return.

Returns on appeal from orders must be accompanied by a certificate from the clerk of the Municipal Court that the return contains the pleadings, if any, all affidavits and other papers recited in the order appealed from. (As am'd Feb. 2, 1916.)

RULE IV.

Noticing appeals for hearing. — After the filing of the return therein an appeal may be brought to a hearing upon notice of either party of not less than eight days, which notice, with proof of service thereof, must be filed with the clerk of the Appellate Term on or before the Monday preceding the first day of the term. If the parties to an appeal shall fail to bring the same to a hearing for at least two terms after the same had been regularly placed on the calendar, the court must dismiss such appeal unless it directs its continuance for good cause shown.

If the appellant does not appear upon the call of the calendar the judgment or order appealed from shall be affirmed. If the appellant appears and the respondent fails to appear, the appellant may either argue or submit his case, but judgment of reversal by default will not be allowed.

RULE V.

Hearing of appeals; points and filing same. — The appellant shall, on or before the Monday preceding the first day of the term at which the appeal is noticed for argument, file with the clerk of the Appellate Term three original copies of his points to be used on the hearing and shall also, on or before the same day, serve a copy of said points on the respondent or his attorney. Upon failure to file and serve said points the appeal may, when called in its regular order on the calendar for argument, be dismissed, or the hearing thereof adjourned to the next term, as the court may determine. Not later than twelve o'clock noon on the Friday preceding the first day of the term, the respondent must serve a copy of his points upon the appellant or his attorney and file with the clerk three original copies thereof, to be used upon such argument and hearing. No further time for filing points will be granted and no other points will be received unless the court shall, by its own motion, direct further points to be submitted.

No appeal will be heard or received on submission unless it has been noticed for argument and proof of service thereof has been filed as provided in Rule IV, and all appeals must be heard or submitted when regularly called for argument, unless the court, for cause shown, shall adjourn the hearing until a subsequent day. No appeal shall be submitted without argument unless the points have been filed and served as hereinbefore provided, and in the argument of an appeal not more than fifteen minutes shall be occupied by counsel on either side except by permission of the court. (As am'd Feb. 2, 1916.)

RULE VI.

Judgments, orders and resettlements. — The judgment or order of the Appellate Term shall be entered in the office of the clerk of the county embracing the district of the Municipal Court whence the appeal comes, and the return, with a certified copy of the judgment or order attached thereto, and all papers on which the appeal was heard, shall be remitted to the Municipal Court in the district from which the appeal was taken, as provided in § 163 of the Municipal Court Code. If, however, a motion for reargument or an application for leave to appeal to the Appellate Division is made, the return on such appeal shall be retained by the clerk of the Appellate Term until the motion is decided, and if a new trial has been ordered and the day fixed for such new trial shall intervene the submission and decision of such motion, then the day fixed for such new trial shall be adjourned for three weeks from that day.

Except when the Appellate Term shall otherwise direct, all decisions, either in cases upon appeal or on motion, will, when announced, be accompanied by an order duly signed.

A motion for resettlement of an order must be made within ten days after its entry and upon two days' notice to the adverse party or his attorney.

RULE VII.

Motions generally. — Five days' notice of motion shall be given of all motions made in the Appellate Term, and all motions noticed for the first day of the term, whether upon an order to show cause or on regular notice of motion, with proof of service thereof, and a note of issue, must be filed with the clerk of the Appellate Term on the Thursday preceding the commencement of the term. The motion calendar will be published on the Saturday preceding the commencement of the term, but no motion will be placed thereon except upon compliance with this rule and Rule III so far as applicable. Briefs of counsel and the answering affidavits, if any, must be filed with the clerk on or before twelve o'clock noon on the Saturday preceding the first day of the term. All motions, including those made under Rule II may be made returnable any day of the term, must be submitted without argument, and when relating to a pending appeal the calendar number of such appeal shall be indicated on the first page thereof, to the right of the title of the action. (As am'd Feb. 2, 1916.)

RULE VIII.

Motion for reargruments and applications for leave to appeal. — Motions for reargument and applications for leave to appeal to the Appellate Division in the Second Judicial Department from a judgment or an order of the Appellate Term, based upon affidavits setting forth concisely the matters claimed to have been overlooked or misapprehended by the court, a concise statement of the grounds of alleged error, and the reasons why said motion should be granted or such application be allowed, with appropriate reference to the authorities relied upon, may be made and submitted to the justices who heard such appeal, after five days' notice thereof to the adverse party, provided the motion papers be served within ten days after the entry of the order determining said appeal; all papers to be used on such motion, together with a copy of the opinion, if any, and briefs of counsel, shall be delivered to the clerk of the court within fifteen days after such determination and thereupon deemed submitted, without argument.

An appeal to the Appellate Division from an order granting a new trial will not be allowed unless the party so applying files with his notice of application for such leave to appeal a stipulation that if the order appealed from be affirmed or the appeal therefrom be dismissed, judgment absolute may be rendered against him.

Motions for leave to appeal to the Appellate Term from an order of the Municipal Court pursuant to the provisions of paragraph VII of § 154 of the Municipal Court Code, may be made to the justices of the Appellate Term or one of them, provided such application has first been made to and denied by the justice of the Municipal Court making the order sought to be reviewed. The motion must be made upon the record in the court below, a copy of the opinion, if any, of the justice making the order, and a concise statement of the ground of the alleged error. The motion may be made after five days' notice thereof to the adverse party, provided the motion papers be served within ten days after the order of the justice of the Municipal Court denying leave to appeal was made. The motion papers shall be delivered to the clerk of the Appellate Term within fifteen days after the making of the order by the justice of the Municipal Court denying leave to appeal, except that after the last Monday of June the same may be delivered to the clerk of the Appellate Term at any time prior to the Monday preceding the beginning of the next succeeding Appellate Term.

A party seeking a stay pending a motion for reargument, or asking leave to appeal to the Appellate Term, or applying for allowance of an appeal to the Appellate Division as hereinbefore provided, must give to the adverse party five days' notice of such application, and the motion papers shall show proof of such service.

All papers in motions provided for by this rule shall be delivered to the clerk of the Appellate Term and thereupon be deemed submitted, without argument, and the clerk shall bring the same to the attention of the court, or one of the justices thereof, as the provision for such motion may require.

In motions for reargument or for leave to appeal to the Appellate Division an endorsement must be made upon the motion papers, stating the term of the court at which the case was argued or submitted.

Calendar Rules Adopted by the Appellate Term

RULE I.—The regular day calendar of appeals from orders and judgments will be called on the first and succeeding days of each term at one o'clock, P. M. (As am'd Feb. 2, 1916.)

RULE II.—If an appeal upon the calendar is affected by a motion, the motion papers and the note of issue must be endorsed with the calendar number of such appeal.

RULE III.—Briefs of counsel, when reference therein is made to the testimony given upon the trial, must give the number of the folio or the page in the record. If the appellant's brief fails to comply with this rule, the appeal may be dismissed. If the respondent's brief is deficient in this respect, the appeal may be considered on the appellant's brief alone.

Adopted February 2, 1916.

Rules of Appellate Division, Third Department.

(Amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

Appeals from orders; appeals in compensation cases; placed on non-enumerated calendar; argument thereof. — Appeals from orders shall be put upon the non-enumerated calendar. Appeals in compensation cases shall be put upon the compensation appeals calendar immediately following the non-enumerated calendar. The argument of both such classes of cases will be heard only upon the first day of a term and the days immediately following, until they shall all be disposed of, before the general calendar shall be taken up. But submission of such appeals will be received on any day during the term.

Appeals from orders and compensation appeals which are not upon the calendar when printed, may, after papers have been filed and served in compliance with General Rule No. 41, be added thereto upon filing a note of issue with the clerk five days before argument, and be noticed for argument for any Tuesday of the term upon the usual notice of eight days.

The argument of a case on the general calendar will not be required in any case before Wednesday of the first week. (As am'd December, 1915).

RULE II.

Original motions; for what day noticed. — Original motions in this court may be noticed for the first day of a term, or for the Tuesday of any subsequent week of the term. (As am'd December, 1915).

RULE III.

Preferred causes. — A party who desires to have a cause heard as a preferred cause must in his note of issue state his claim for preference as provided in section 793 of the Code, or if an order giving the cause a preference has been made under that section, the note of issue must be accompanied with a copy of such order. The clerk, in making up the calendar, shall place such preferred causes at the head of the general calendar, indicating that they are preferred, and the class to which they belong.

RULE IV.

Appeals in criminal cases. — Appeals in criminal cases, brought after making up the calendar, or too late to be placed thereon, may be put upon the calendar at any time and brought to a hearing as preferred cases upon a notice of ten days to the adverse party, as provided by section 535 of the Criminal Code. A note of issue, with a statement of the day on which the cause is noticed to be heard, must be filed with the clerk at least five days before such date. The clerk shall place such causes on the calendar for the day for which they are so noticed, or upon which the cause shall be ordered by the court, or stipulated by the parties to be heard.

RULE V.

Day calendar, when prepared. — The clerk shall prepare at one o'clock P. M. of each day for the next day a calendar of such number of causes as the court shall direct, including those undisposed of on the then day calendar, taken from the general calendar in their order thereon, subject to the provisions of Rule VI. Causes not disposed of on any day shall be placed at the head of the calendar for the next day until disposed of.

RULE VI.

What causes placed on day calendar; reservation of causes; when causes passed. — Excepting the first twenty causes on the general calendar, no cause shall be placed upon the day calendar unless written notice is served on the clerk, by the attorney on one side or the other, that such cause is intended to be moved when called in its regular order; or unless it has been reserved for that day, by stipulation filed with the clerk. None of the first twenty causes on the general calendar shall be reserved by stipulation without consent of the court, upon application made on the first day of the term, and any cause not placed on the day calendar in its order on the general calendar, will be regarded as passed for the term, unless put over or reserved as above provided.

RULE VII.

Exchange of cases. — Causes must be argued when reached on the calendar. No exchange of cases will be allowed, unless both cases are ready for argument, and counsel intend to argue them at the same term at which the exchange be made, and when causes are exchanged each shall occupy the proper position of the other in date, on the same and every other subsequent calendar, until heard. A preferred cause exchanged for one not preferred, or set down for a particular day, shall lose its preference; and no case will be called more than once during the same term, unless it shall have been reserved or postponed with the consent of the court.

RULE VIII.

Submission of cases. — If both parties desire to submit, they may do so at any time during the term by delivering to the clerk the cases and points required by General Rule 43, and either party may submit his points when the case is called, if the other party desires to argue orally on his part.

RULE IX.

Statement to be prefixed to points. — The appellant, in addition to the statement required by Rule 41, shall prefix to his points a brief statement, showing in what court or before what officer or tribunal the action or proceeding was instituted, the relief sought, the defense or ground of opposition thereto, the result in the court or before the officer or tribunal in which the action or proceeding was commenced, and how the cause was brought into this court. If any opinion written in the case has been previously reported, he shall also state where it was so reported. If any opinion has been written which has not been reported, the party whose duty it is to furnish the papers shall submit a printed copy of such opinion to the court either in the record or with his brief.

RULE X.

Indorsement of papers. — The counsel who argue a case shall indorse on the papers delivered to the justices their names and places of residence.

Every cause shall be deemed to be submitted to any justice, qualified to sit therein, who may be absent at the time of the argument, unless objection to such submission by counsel arguing such cause be then made.

RULE XI.

Motions for reargument. — Motions for reargument will only be heard on notice to the adverse party, stating briefly the ground upon which a reargument is asked, and such motion must be submitted on printed briefs stating concisely the points supposed to have been overlooked or misapprehended by the court with proper reference to the particular portion of the case, and the authorities relied upon.

RULE XII.

Cause passed; how entered on subsequent calendars. — If a cause is passed without being reserved, or put over by consent of the court, it shall be entered on all subsequent calendars as of the date when passed, and the party placing it on the calendar for a subsequent term, must state in his note of issue the date when it was passed. If he omits to do so, whereby the cause retains its priority on the calendar, the court, on the application of the adverse party, or on its own motion, may strike the cause from the calendar.

RULE XIII.

Term designated for legal holiday, when held. — Whenever a Trial Term or Special Term of the Supreme Court, in this department, shall be designated to be held or opened on a day which is provided by law to be observed as a legal holiday, such court shall be opened and held on the next succeeding secular day.

RULE XIV.

Exchange of briefs by counsel. — At least twenty days before a term of the Appellate Division at which a cause may be noticed for argument the appellant, or relator, shall serve upon the attorney for the respondent three printed copies of his brief upon which he intends to rely upon the argument, with a reference to all the authorities which he intends to cite to the court. At least eight days before said term the respondent shall serve upon the attorney for the appellant, or relator, three printed copies of his brief, with a reference to all the authorities which he intends to cite to the court. If the appellant, or relator, desires to present a brief in reply, he may serve the same upon the attorney for the respondent at least three days before said term. Service under this rule may be made either personally or by mail, but service by mail shall not extend the time within which the answering brief may be served. This rule shall not apply to appeals from orders upon non-enumerated motions, nor to causes in which the time to file papers on appeal shall, under General Rule 41, expire within twenty days of the commencement of a term.

RULE XV.

Admission to the Bar. — Candidates for admission to the bar may be sworn in at the opening of the court on any Thursday of the term, provided the necessary papers therefor shall have been filed with the clerk of the court on or before the Tuesday preceding.

An applicant for admission must present a certificate to this court signed by two members of the committee on character and fitness before one of whom he must appear personally. At the time of such appearance he must present to such member of the committee his certificate of the State Board of Law Examiners, and the affidavits of two practicing attorneys residing in the same Judicial District, as provided by Rule 1 of the General Rules of Practice. Such certificate of the committee on character and fitness, together with the certificate of the State Board of Law Examiners, and the affidavits as to character and fitness, shall be filed with the clerk of this court.

NOTE.—The Trial Justices of this department constitute the committee on character and fitness for their respective Judicial Districts.

RULE XVI.

Appeal; case; resettlement; omission of evidence. — By General Rule 34, as amended, said amendment taking effect November 1, 1913, it is provided that "if a case or bill of exceptions does not conform to this rule, the court before which the same shall be brought for review may order the same back for resettlement." In accordance with the discretionary power thereby vested in the different Departments the Appellate Division of the Third Department announces that a case brought before said Appellate Division on appeal, will not be ordered back for resettlement where, upon the approval of the trial Judge or Referee, evidence is omitted bearing upon any issue of fact the determination of which issue of fact the appellant stipulates, upon serving a proposed case, he will not seek to reveiw upon the appeal. (Added, 1913.)

Notice to Attorneys.

A printed copy of the appeal papers shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the Appellate Division within 20 days after an appeal has been taken, etc. The copy so filed shall be certified by the proper clerk, or be stipulated by the parties to be true copies of the original. (Rule 41, General Rules of Practice.) This shall be done before an appeal shall be placed upon the calendar. (Section 1353, Code Civ. Proc.)

Attorneys should also notice that Rule 41 requires three copies of the appeal papers to be served within the same time upon the opposite party.

Notes of issue shall be filed in the clerk's office eight days before the commencement of the court at which the cause may be noticed. (Rule 39, Gen. Rules of Prac.).

Notes of issue shall specify whether the appeal is to be placed upon the non-enumerated or general calendar, and where a preference is desired, the note of issue must state the claim for preference as provided in § 793 of the Code, and indicate the class to which it belongs. (Rules 1 and 3, Third Dept.)

Attention is also called to Special Rule 6 of this department, requiring notice to the clerk, if a party desires the case put upon the day calendar when reached in its order upon the general calendar.

Thirteen copies of the appeal papers and points must be delivered to the clerk before the commencement of the argument.

Rules of Appellate Division, Fourth Department.

(Amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

Notes of issue in appeals from orders. — No appeal from an order will be heard unless it is placed on the non-enumerated calendar. The attorney or party intending to move such an appeal for argument shall, at least eight days before the time of the making up of the calendar, file with the clerk a note of issue, specifying the date of the service of the notice of appeal, and stating that the case is to be put on the non-enumerated calendar. No case shall be put upon the enumerated or non-enumerated calendar until the papers required by General Rule XLI shall have been filed with the clerk.

RULE II.

Notes of issue in preferred cases. — A party who desires to have a case heard as a preferred case must, in his note of issue, state his claim for preference, as provided in section 793 of the Code; or if an order giving the case a preference has been made under that section, the note of issue must be accompanied with a copy of such order. The clerk in making up the calendar shall place such preferred cases at the head of the general calendar, indicating that they are preferred, and the class to which they belong.

RULE III.

New calendar, when to be made; passed cases. — When a new calendar is ordered by the court, the clerk shall place thereon all cases which remain undisposed of on the former calendar, and all other cases in which notes of issue have been filed in his office. If a case shall have been passed, it shall go upon the calendar as of the time when it was passed, and the fact that it was passed shall be stated upon the calendar.

RULE IV.

Criminal cases may be put upon the calendar at any time. — Appeals in criminal cases, brought after making up the calendar, or too late to be placed upon the calendar, may be put upon the calendar at any time, and brought on for hearing as preferred cases, upon a notice of ten days to the adverse party, as provided in section 535 of the Criminal Code. A note of issue must be filed with the clerk at least five days before the day on which the case is to be heard, and he shall put the same on the calendar for the day on which it shall be noticed, or upon which it shall be ordered by the court or stipulated by the parties to be heard.

RULE V.

Day calendar to be made by clerk. — The clerk shall prepare at three o'clock P. M. of each day, a day calendar for the next day, to consist of ten cases, or such other number as the court shall direct, including those undisposed of on the then day calendar. They shall be taken from the general calendar in their order thereon, subject to the provisions of Rule VI. Cases not disposed of on any day shall be placed at the head of the calendar for the next day until disposed of.

RULE VI.

Notice to clerk no longer necessary, etc. — It shall not be necessary to notice cases for the day calendar. Any case on the general calendar may, by stipulation of the parties, filed with the clerk at any time before the case is placed upon the day calendar, be reserved for a day certain, except that no stipulation shall be made or filed reserving any of the first fifty cases on the general calendar beyond the first week. Cases so reserved for a day certain shall not be placed upon the day calendar for any day prior to that to which they have been so reserved. No case shall be put upon the day calendar unless the papers and points have been delivered to and filed with the clerk. Cases which cannot be placed upon the day calendar in their regular order or at the time to which they have been reserved by reason of the non-filing of the papers and points, will be regarded as passed for the term.

RULE VII.

Clerk to telegraph day calendar. — The clerk shall, on each day during the term, immediately on making up the day calendar, telegraph the numbers of the cases upon it to the county clerks at Buffalo, Syracuse, Utica, Oswego, Lockport, Auburn and Watertown, and the county clerks receiving said telegrams are directed to post or bulletin the same in such manner as shall be most convenient for attorneys and others desiring to see the same, and also to procure the publication of such telegrams in the newspapers of their respective cities.

RULE VIII.

Reservations and submissions. — Cases will not be received upon submission until reached in the regular call of the calendar. No reservation will be made of any of the first eight cases upon the general calendar, unless on account of sickness, or an engagement of counsel elsewhere in the actual trial or argument of another case in a court of record, commenced before the term of this court, or other inevitable necessity to be shown by affidavit. Other cases may be reserved upon reasonable cause shown, or by stipulation of parties, filed with the clerk, but no case shall be so reserved by stipulation after the same has been placed upon the day calendar. Cases reserved for a day certain by stipulation, when in order to be called, have priority among each other according to their number on the calendar, and shall follow next in order the undisposed of cases of the calendar for the day previous. Default may be taken in them, and they will, if passed, be put upon future calendars as if passed in the regular call.

Every cause shall be deemed to be submitted to such justices as may be absent from the court at the time of the argument, unless objection to such submission by counsel arguing the cause be then made.

RULE IX.

Papers to be filed with the clerk; exchange of briefs. — Within fifteen days after the service of the printed papers required to be served by General Rule 41 in enumerated motions, the party whose duty it is to furnish those papers, shall file with the clerk sixteen printed copies of the papers, and sixteen printed copies of his brief and the points upon which he intends to rely upon the argument, with a reference to all the authorities, which he intends to cite to the court; and shall, at the same time, serve on the attorney or counsel for the other party three copies thereof. Within seven days thereafter the other party shall file with the clerk sixteen printed copies of his brief and points, with a reference to all his authorities, and serve on the attorney or counsel for the moving party three printed copies thereof. If either party shall fail to serve and file his brief and points, as herein required, he shall not be heard upon the argument, and judgment may be entered against him as upon default, on application to the court on any motion day upon three days' notice.

If the moving party desires to serve an answering brief he shall file with the clerk sixteen printed copies thereof, and serve upon his opponent three printed copies, within five days after the receipt of his opponent's brief. He shall not include, in his answering brief, any matter which is not in the nature of an answer to the brief to which it purports to reply. No supplemental briefs will be allowed unless requested by the court. This rule shall not apply to appeals from non-enumerated motions. It shall apply to all cases which shall be put upon the day calendar upon and after the first day of March, 1896. Upon the argument of all cases before that time, the moving party shall furnish to the clerk sixteen copies of the case and each party shall furnish to the clerk sixteen copies of his brief. The clerk shall distribute the cases and briefs as prescribed in General Rule 43, and he shall, in addition, deliver one copy of each to the librarian of the law library in Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, to be bound and indexed for reference.

RULE X.

Statement to be prefixed to brief. — The moving party, in addition to the statement required in General Rule 41, shall prefix to his points a brief statement, showing when and in what court or before what officer or tribunal the action or proceeding was instituted, the relief sought, the defense or grounds of opposition thereto, the result in the court or before the officer or tribunal in which the action or proceeding was commenced, the proceedings subsequent to the first decision, and how the case was brought into this court. If any opinion written in the case has been previously reported, he shall also state where it was so reported. If any opinion has been written which has not been reported, the party whose duty it is to furnish the papers shall submit a printed copy of such opinion to the court, in the record.

RULE XI.

Indorsement on brief. — The counsel who argues the case shall indorse on his brief delivered to the judges, his name and place of residence.

RULE XII.

Exchange of cases. — No exchange of cases will be allowed unless both cases are ready for argument, and counsel intend to argue them at the same term at which the exchange is made; and when cases are exchanged, each shall occupy the proper position of the other in date, on the same and every subsequent calendar until heard. A preferred case, exchanged for one not preferred, or set down for a particular day, shall lose its preference, and no case will be called more than once during the same term, unless it shall have been reserved or postponed with the consent of the court.

RULE XIII.

Non-enumerated calendar to be disposed of at opening of term. — Argument of appeals on the non-enumerated calendar will be heard only upon the first day of a term, and the hearing of such appeals will be continued from day to day until they shall all be disposed of before the general calendar shall be taken up, but submission of appeals from the non-enumerated calendar will be received on any day during the term. Original motions in this court may be noticed for the first day of a term, or for the Friday of any subsequent week of the term. (As am'd May 29, 1912.)

RULE XIV.

Motions for re-argument and leave to appeal. — Motions for re-argument or for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals will be heard only on notice to the adverse party, stating briefly the ground upon which a re-argument is asked, or upon which leave to appeal is desired, and such motions may be submitted upon five copies of printed or typewritten papers and briefs, stating concisely the points supposed to have been overlooked or misapprehended by the court, or the questions of law sought to be reviewed upon appeal to the Court of Appeals, with proper reference to the particular portion of the case and the authorities relied upon, with a copy of the opinion, if any, delivered by the court in deciding the case. Oral argument on such motions will not be heard, and it is unnecessary for counsel to appear on such motions. They may be submitted by mailing papers to the clerk. (As am'd Oct. 16, 1912.)

RULE XV.

Remittitur. — The remittitur to be transmitted pursuant to section 1355 of the Code shall contain a copy of the judgment or order of this court, and the record which has been filed with the clerk, and shall be sealed with the seal and signed by the clerk of this court.

RULE XVI.

Official examiners of title. — An official examiner of title, before he is licensed and admitted to practice as such, must file the bond required by Rule 3 of the Rules of the Court of Appeals relating to applications to practice as official examiners of title, approved by the presiding justice of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in this department. In case of the death or insolvency of either of the sureties, the official examiner of title must forthwith file a new bond with new sureties fully complying with said rule. Each applicant for a license as an official examiner of title must also produce such evidence of character and as to his standing in regard to financial transactions as the Appellate Division of this department may require.

SPECIAL RULES

(In effect January 1, 1916.)

RULE I.

New calendar for January term; day calendar. — A new calendar will be made up for the January Term. Cases not upon the printed calendar may thereafter be noticed for argument for any day of the term, and may be added to the calendar, after the printed records have been filed, upon filing with the clerk a note of issue and proof of service of notice of argument; and will be placed upon the day calendar when reached in their regular order; but no case will be placed upon the day calendar until the briefs have been filed, without special order of the court.

RULE II.

Effect of failure to make or serve case, or serve and file points, etc. — After an appeal has been taken to this court the appeal may be dismissed on motion upon notice of three days for failure by appellant to make, or serve, his proposed case, or to procure the settlement thereof, or to print, serve and file the record, or to serve and file his points, or for any other unreasonable delay upon his part in prosecuting the appeal. If the respondent fails to serve or file his points within the time allowed therefor, the appellant may serve upon respondent a written demand that the respondent file and serve his points, and upon filing proof of service of such demand and showing that three days have elapsed since such service, and that the respondent has not served and filed his brief, the case may be placed upon the day calendar when reached in its regular order, and the respondent shall not be heard upon the argument of the appeal except by leave of the court.

Notice.

Index all records on appeal in front part of case.

The daily sessions of the court are held from 2 o'clock P. M. to 6 o'clock P. M., except Fridays only, when court sits from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. No court on Saturdays.

The session appointed for July is for one day only, and court meets at 2 P. M., on that day, for handing down decisions, admission of attorneys, and the hearing of original motions in this court. No argument of an appeal will be heard on that day.

Counsel will be heard orally on motions to dismiss appeals, amend decisions, etc.

All stipulations, notes of issue and motion papers must be properly endorsed on the back for filing.

No stipulation reserving any of the first fifty cases on the general calendar beyond the first Friday will be honored except by order of the court. After the day calendar is made up — at 3 o'clock P. M. — stipulations in any case are too late. The clerk has then no power to leave a number off.

No case will be given a place on the calendar until the original record, settled by the trial court, has been filed with the clerk.

The full number of cases and points (16) are required, without which appeals may not be heard.

The sixteen printed copies of the case required by Rule 41 to be filed with the Clerk, must be bound in light-colored (not dark) paper.

The County Clerk's certificate, or waiver thereof under § 3301 of the Code of Civil Procedure, is a necessary part of the printed case on appeal.

Counsel whose names appear in the calendar will be notified by telegram collect, when case is on day calendar, unless otherwise desired.

Every exhibit presented to the Court must be plainly marked with the address of counsel presenting the same, as well as the title of the cause, in order to ensure its return.

Decisions of the Court are handed on Wednesdays at 2 P. M. when the Court is in session, and on the Tuesday appointed in July.

Attorneys desiring to be notified by telegram collect, of any decision should so request the clerk.

Remittiturs are sent on the day the decision is made, or the day following, to the county clerk of the county in which the appeal arises, except in appeals from Surrogate's Court, when they are sent to the clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

Request for copies of opinions should be addressed to the clerk of the Justice writing the opinion.

Supreme Court — Special Rules of First Department.

(Amended to May, 1916.)

RULES FOR THE REGULATION OF THE TRIAL TERMS OF THE SUPREME COURT IN THE FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT AND TO REGULATE THE CALENDAR PRACTICE THEREIN.

RULE I.

General Calendars.—The calendar of issues of fact to be tried by jury in New York County shall consist of two separate calendars, known respectively as General Calendar No. 1 and General Calendar No. 2, which shall be made up from time to time as ordered by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Department, and these calendars shall remain for the successive Trial Terms of the court until new calendars are prepared. There shall be placed upon Calendar No. 1, all tort actions, except actions in ejectment and replevin and to recover damages for the conversion of personal property, and upon Calendar No. 2 all actions not on Calendar No. 1. A note of issue must specify, in addition to the particulars required by section 977 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the number of the calendar on which the cause is to be placed as above provided, and the clerk shall not receive a note of issue unless it complies with this provision. New causes that have been regularly noticed for trial and a note of issue duly filed after the making up of the general calendars shall be put at the foot of the proper calendar according to date of issue. A cause on either of said general calendars may be reserved generally and so marked by the clerk at any time if the parties file a consent to that effect. All motions or applications in regard to the calendars, except as provided by Rules 3, 5, 6 and 7, must be heard by or made to the justice holding Part III in regard to the Calendar No. 1, and the justice holding Part XIV in regard to Calendar No. 2.

At least ten days before the first Monday of a Trial Term the calendar clerk of the Trial Terms shall prepare a Trial Calendar No. 1, containing so many of the pending causes on General Calendar No. 1 not reserved generally as the justice holding Part III shall direct, and a Trial Calendar No. 2 containing so many of the pending causes on General Calendar No. 2 not reserved generally as the justice holding Part XIV shall direct. Such Trial Calendars shall be posted in said clerk's office and published in the New York Law Journal on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. Any party to a cause appearing on such Trial Calendars may serve notice on the calendar clerk and on the attorneys for the other parties to the cause before four o'clock Tuesday afternoon to the effect that the cause is to be marked ready for trial, and, if no motion for postponement is made as hereinafter provided, the cause shall be marked ready by the clerk; but if no party shall serve such notice the cause shall be marked reserved generally and restored to the general calendar. If, however, a party desires to apply to the court for a postponement, or to have the cause marked reserved generally, he shall serve upon the attorneys for the other parties not later than twelve o'clock on Wednesday noon written notice specifying the grounds of the application for postponement and also copies of any affidavits and exhibits upon which the motion will be made, which notice, affidavits and exhibits, with proof of service, must be filed with the calendar clerk before four o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A party intending to oppose such motion must serve any affidavits and exhibits in opposition and file the same with proof of service not later than four o'clock Thursday afternoon. The justices holding Parts III and XIV, respectively, shall hear and determine all motions for postponement of causes on their several calendars, and, provided the papers are indorsed "for argument," counsel may briefly argue such motions, which shall be heard and disposed of on Friday so far as practicable. The calendar clerk shall thereupon post in his office and publish on Saturday and Monday in the Law Journal the list of causes marked ready for trial, or such part thereof as the said justices may respectively direct.

RULE II.

Reserved causes; motions in respect to calendar.—Causes marked reserved generally, if younger issues have been reached in regular order, and causes in which new trials have been ordered, may be placed on the appropriate Trial Calendar on filing a consent with the calendar clerk; or a party may apply to the justice holding either Part III or XIV of the Trial Terms, as the case may require upon two days' notice for an order placing such a cause upon the Trial Calendar or upon a Day Calendar as the court may direct.

Annually, during the month of June, or at such other time or times as the Appellate Division in the First Department may direct, a call shall be made of all causes on each of the General Calendars marked "reserved generally." The Part in which such call shall be made and the justice to make the same shall be designated by the Appellate Division, and said justice shall have power to adjourn the call from day to day until it is completed. A list of the causes to be so called shall be published in the Law Journal at least eight days before the call.

If, upon such call, it shall appear that the plaintiff has unreasonably neglected to proceed in the action or that younger issues have been tried in their regular order, the defendant or one or more defendants in the action may move to dismiss the complaint as provided for in Rule 36 of the General Rules of Practice, provided notice of motion to that effect and any affidavits or exhibits be served upon the plaintiff five days before such call. Upon such motion, the court may make an order dismissing the complaint, or if it is made to appear that failure of the plaintiff to bring the action to trial has not been unreasonable, the court may place the cause at the foot of the appropriate Trial Calendar, or otherwise dispose of it as justice may require and on such terms as may be just. If upon such call any party to a cause in which no such motion is made shall answer ready, or shall have theretofore filed with the calendar clerk a notice so stating, the cause shall thereupon be marked ready for trial and placed at the foot of the appropriate Trial Calendar unless otherwise directed by the court. If, however, upon such call none of the parties to the cause appear or answer ready or file notice as aforesaid, then the same shall be stricken from the General Calendar and subsequently restored only upon service of a new notice of trial and filing of a new note of issue, whereupon it shall be placed upon the appropriate General Calendar as of the date when restored and not as of the date of original issue.

RULE III.

Preferred causes.—A party claiming to be entitled to a preference under section 791 of the Code of Civil Procedure may apply therefor to the court at Trial Term, Part II, in the manner prescribed by section 793. If the application for a preference be granted, the court shall direct the cause to be placed upon an appropriate Day Calendar for a day certain for trial, and called after the causes then upon such Day Calendar marked ready. If the party who has moved for the preference shall not be ready to proceed with the trial when the cause is called for trial, the court, in its discretion, may allow an adjournment, or send the cause to the foot of the Trial Calendar, or direct a dismissal or inquest, or otherwise dispose of the cause as justice may require.

The justices holding Parts III and XIV in charge of Calendars Nos. 1 and 2, respectively, may, on application of any party to a cause brought by or against a receiver of a corporation and on five days' notice to the other party, direct that such cause be granted a preference over older issues and placed on the Trial Calendar or on a Day Calendar for trial as it may direct, although no notice of application for a preference may have been served with the notice of trial as provided in section 793 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

RULE IV.

Trial Terms; number of; time of holding; time of opening; what causes tried at, respectively. — There shall be twenty Trial Terms of the Supreme Court in New York County, to be known respectively as Trial Terms Parts I to XX, inclusive. Each of said terms shall commence on the first Monday of January, February, March, April, May, June, October, November and December in each year, and shall continue to and until the Friday preceding the first Monday of the succeeding month, or until the term shall be adjourned without day.

The Trial Terms shall open at 10.30 A. M. on each trial day during the term, except on Mondays, when they shall open at 10.15 A. M., and shall continue in session until 5 P. M. Part I shall be the Criminal Term of the Supreme Court, and shall be held in the Criminal Court Building or in the County Court House in the County of New York. Part II shall be the Trial Term for the disposition of the Special Calendar under Rule 5. In Parts III to XIII, inclusive, shall be tried causes from General Calendar No. 1. In Parts XIV to XVIII, inclusive, shall be tried causes from General Calendar No. 2. In Parts XIX and XX shall be tried such causes from Calendars Nos. 1 and 2 as shall from time to time be ordered by the Appellate Division, or as may be sent from other Parts. Whenever there shall not be sufficient causes on any Day Calendar to occupy the time of the court, causes shall be sent to such Part or Parts for trial from the other Day Calendars by the justices thereof or by the justices holding Parts III and XIV. (As am'd November 11, 1914.)

RULE V.*

Special calendar; short cause calendar. — Subd. 1. — There shall be a Special Calendar, on which shall be placed for trial all questions of fact ordered or directed to be tried by a jury, all issues and questions of fact in special proceedings, and all issues and questions of fact which have been stated for trial in pursuance of §§ 970 and 971 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and all controverted questions of fact of which any party has a constitutional right of trial by jury, and in any proceedings for the probate of a will in which any controverted questions of fact arise which a Surrogate of the County of New York shall direct to be tried at a Trial Term of the Supreme Court to be held within the County of New York under § 2538 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Such calendar shall be called and the causes thereon tried and disposed of at Part II.

* The following rule was adopted by the Justices of the Appellate Division of the First Department on March 2, 1916:

All causes in the Supreme Court in Bronx County that come within the purview of Rule V of the Special Rules of the Trial Term of the Supreme Court, First Judicial District, may be moved for preference at Trial Term, Part II, of said Supreme Court in Bronx County, on two days' notice. The papers upon which such application is made and the answering affidavits, if any, must be filed with the calendar clerk before 12 noon of the day for which the application is noticed. No oral argument will be heard upon such application unless ordered by the justice holding Part II.

The disposition of such applications will be published in the Law Journal. Causes advanced to the Special Calendar will be heard on the Fridays during the term at Trial Term, Part II.

Subd. 2. In an action wherein the plaintiff seeks to recover a debt or liquidated demand upon a bond or other obligation for the payment of a specific sum of money, or upon a bond or undertaking on appeal, or upon a negotiable instrument, either party may, after the cause has been placed upon the General Calendar, upon two days' notice to the opposing party, apply to the justice holding Part II for an order placing said cause upon the Special Calendar for trial, and the cause shall thereupon be tried and disposed of at Part II.

Subd. 3. In an action wherein the plaintiff seeks to recover upon an account stated, or for wages, salary or compensation for services, or upon a policy of insurance, or for rent or hire of real or personal property, or for money had and received, or for money loaned, or for goods sold and delivered, or on a statute where the sum sought to be recovered is a sum of money other than a penalty, or on a guaranty, the plaintiff may, at the first term at which the cause shall have been placed upon the General Calendar, upon five days' notice to the defendant, and upon competent proof by affidavit of the facts upon which the cause of action is based, apply to the justice holding Part II for an order placing said cause upon the Special Calendar for trial. Copies of the affidavits and exhibits, if any, upon which the application is based, must be served with the notice of the application. If upon the affidavits so submitted and the affidavits of the opposing party the court shall be satisfied that there is no substantial defence to the action, or that the action was not interposed in good faith, or was interposed for the purpose of delay, the court may place the cause upon the Special Calendar in Part II. The court may, in its discretion, grant or deny the application, with or without costs, or upon terms, such as admitting facts not actually controverted, consenting to the examination before trial of a party or witnesses, producing books, papers or documents or giving security to secure the plaintiff in the event of final judgment being in his favor. The papers upon which such application shall be made and the answering affidavits, if any, must be filed with the calendar clerk before 12 o'clock noon of the day for which the application is noticed, and no oral argument will be heard upon such application unless ordered by the justice holding Part II.

Subd. 4. In an action on contract, express or implied, other than a contract to marry, either party may apply in Part II on two days' notice to the adverse party for an order placing the cause upon the Special Calendar. Upon such application, if it appears by affidavit and the pleadings to the satisfaction of the justice holding Part II that the trial of the action will not occupy more than two hours, and that no good reason exists why the action should not be promptly tried, he may direct the cause to be placed upon the Special Calendar in Part II, and the cause shall thereupon be disposed of in its regular order on such calendar. The papers upon which the application is made and the answering affidavits, if any, must be filed with the calendar clerk before 12 o'clock upon the day for which the application is noticed, and no oral argument will be heard upon such application unless ordered by the justice holding Part II.

Sub. 5. All causes and all questions and issues of fact ordered on the Special Calendar shall be placed thereon in the order of filing with the calendar clerk of the order directing the cause to be so placed, or of the order or direction for the trial by jury, or, of the order stating the issues or questions of fact to be tried by jury, and shall be called and tried in that order, unless postponed for good cause shown by affidavit to the satisfaction of the justice holding Part II. If the trial of any cause which is placed upon the Special Calendar upon the ground that it will not occupy more than two hours shall nevertheless actually occupy more than that time, the court may, in its discretion, stop the trial and send the cause to the foot of the appropriate General Calendar. If at any time there shall be more causes upon the Special Calendar than can be promptly tried and disposed of in Part II the justice holding said Part may send said causes, or any of them, to Part XIV, where they shall be placed upon the Day Calendar and tried and disposed of in like manner as the other causes on the Day Calendar in that part. (As am'd January 18, 1915.)

RULE VI.

Day calendars.—From the causes marked ready, the calendar clerk shall, on the Friday next preceding the opening of each Trial Term, prepare and post in his office as many Day Calendars, each consisting of at least twenty ready causes, as the justices holding Parts III and XIV may direct as to their respective calendars, and shall cause the same to be published in the Law Journal on Saturday and Monday. On the three following Fridays said calendar clerk shall likewise prepare as many similar day calendars as the justices holding Parts III and XIV, respectively, may direct, and cause the same to be posted in his office and published in the Law Journal on Saturday and Monday. In preparing such day calendars, said clerk shall retain on each Day Calendar the causes thereon not yet disposed of, and shall add thereto a sufficient number of causes to make the number twenty ready causes. On the following Monday at 10:15 A. M. each justice holding Trial Term shall call the Day Calendar.

Counsel having more than one cause on a Trial Calendar marked ready may file a notice with said calendar clerk requesting that all his causes be placed in one Part, and the justice holding Part III or XIV may, in his discretion, grant such request. The name of the counsel who is to try said causes shall be specified in the request.

No causes on any Day Calendar shall be adjourned unless for good cause shown and arising after the making up of such Day Calendar. Parties may, however, consent that any cause on the Day Calendar be marked reserved generally, or be restored to the Trial Calendar, or, if the justice in such Part shall so direct, adjourned to a day certain in the same term. The causes on each of the Day Calendars shall remain thereon from day to day until tried or otherwise disposed of, and shall be tried in the order in which they appear on the Day Calendars unless the justice holding such Part shall otherwise direct. The justice holding Part III or XIV shall have power to transfer causes from one Trial Part to another Trial Part appertaining to the calendar in his charge for any reason satisfactory to him. At the end of each Trial Term all causes remaining on the Day Calendars shall be placed at the head of the Trial Calendar, and thereupon reassigned to the new Day Calendars.

Whenever a jury has disagreed, or for any other reason there has been a mistrial, the cause may be restored to the Trial Calendar, or to the Day Calendar in the same Part, or otherwise, as the justice holding such Part or holding Part III or XIV may direct.

If it shall appear by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court that counsel who is to try any cause upon a Day Calendar expects to argue a cause upon a Day Calendar of the Supreme Court of the United States, or the Court of Appeals of the State of New York, or the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, or any Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, or is actually engaged in the trial of a cause in a Federal or State court of record, except the Municipal Court, sitting in the County of New York, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Nassau or Richmond, the cause shall be adjourned until such argument or trial is concluded, unless the trial in which the counsel is engaged is likely to be protracted. But a cause on the Day Calendar shall not be adjourned on account of the engagement of counsel for more than three days except by the court or upon the consent of all the parties to the cause. Not more than two causes shall be held ready on one Trial Calendar for one counsel in addition to the cause in which he is engaged unless otherwise ordered by the court. In any such case the counsel who is to try the causes must be designated on the call of the Day Calendar on Monday morning. (As am'd May 2, 1916.)

RULE VII.

Fines imposed on delinquent jurors. — An order directing a delinquent juror to show cause why the payment of a fine should not be enforced must be granted by and made returnable before the justice by whom said fine is imposed and made returnable at the Trial Term to which said justice is assigned upon such day and at such time as he shall designate.

Where a justice by whom a fine was imposed has ceased to be a member of the court, or has been designated as a member of the Appellate Division or the Appellate Term, or has been assigned to hold Special Term, or is absent or unable for any reason to hear or determine the matter, the order directing the delinquent juror to show cause in such case must be granted by and made returnable before and heard and determined by the justice assigned to hold Trial Term Part III upon such day of the term and at such time as he shall designate.

These rules to take effect May 1st, 1912.

Dated New York, April 10th, 1912.

RULES FOR THE REGULATION OF THE SPECIAL TERMS OF THE SUPREME COURT IN THE FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT, AND ESTABLISHING THE CALENDAR PRACTICE THEREIN.

RULE I.

Special Term for litigated motions; when held. — There shall be a Special Term of the Supreme Court for the hearing of litigated motions to commence on the first Monday of each month and to continue until the Friday preceding the first Monday of the succeeding month, which term shall be held every day, except Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays. The court shall open at 10.30 o'clock in the morning, and shall continue until all business before the court has been disposed of. This Special Term shall be known as Special Term, Part I.

RULE II.

Calendar of motions; notes of issue therefor; time allowed for argument; what litigated motions heard at Special Term, Part I, and when. — Motions may be noticed for any day during the term. The clerk of Special Term, Part I, shall make up a calendar for each day. The order to show cause or notice of motion, with proof of service thereof, must be filed with the clerk before the date on which the motion is noticed to be heard, except where an order to show cause is granted returnable in less than two days, when the clerk at any time before the day for hearing may place the motion on the calendar, or the justice assigned to said part of the court may place the motion on the calendar on the day upon which the order to show cause is returnable. This calendar will be called at the opening of the court and no motion will be heard that is not upon the calendar. On the hearing of a motion upon such calendar but one counsel on each side will be heard, and not more than fifteen minutes will be allowed to each counsel unless the court shall otherwise order. Application for final judgment where an interlocutory judgment has been entered and an account has been taken, or other proceeding had before a referee, or for a final judgment in an action for divorce under section 1774 of the Code of Civil Procedure, motions for a new trial on the ground of surprise or newly discovered evidence, motions to confirm a referee's report and for final judgment in an action or proceeding in which an issue of fact has been tried by a jury or by a referee, where application to the court for final judgment or final order is necessary, applications for the appointment of commissioners or for a final order or judgment in a proceeding to condemn real estate for public use, motions for judgment upon the pleadings under section 547 of the Code of Civil Procedure, trial of an issue of law, brought on and tried by the court as a contested motion under section 976 of the Code of Civil Procedure, may be noticed for and made at Part I of the Special Term for the hearing of litigated motions upon any day of the July, August and September terms, or at any other time when Part III of the Special Term is not in session. The justice assigned to Part I of the Special Term, if he does not deem it important that such application should be heard during the time when Part III is not in session, may adjourn the same to the next term of Special Term, Part III. (As am'd February 1, 1914.)

RULE III.

Notice to creditors in proceedings to settle the accounts of assignees for benefit of creditors or of receivers of corporations. — In all actions or proceedings in which the accounts of an assignee for the benefit of creditors, or of a receiver appointed in an action or in a proceeding for the dissolution of a corporation, are presented for settlement or to be passed upon by the court, a notice, or a copy of an advertisement, requiring the creditors to present their claims to a referee, must be mailed to each creditor whose name appears on the books of the assignor or corporation, with the postage thereon prepaid, at least twenty days before the day specified in such notice or advertisement. Proofs of such mailing shall be required on the application for a final decree passing the accounts of the assignee or receiver, unless proof is furnished that personal service of such notice or copy of advertisement has been made upon the creditor.

RULE IV.

Special term for ex parte business; time of sessions. — There shall be a Special Term of the Supreme Court for the transaction of ex parte business, to be held on the first Monday of each month, and to continue to and including the Saturday prior to the first Monday of the following month. The court shall open at 10.30 o'clock in the morning, and shall continue in session until four o'clock in the afternoon, except Saturdays, upon which day the court may be adjourned at twelve o'clock noon, and shall be open every day in the year except Sundays and legal holidays. This Special Term shall be known as Special Term, Part II. The justice assigned to Part II shall also attend to the drawing of jurors for the Trial Terms of the Supreme Court.

RULE V.

What kinds of motions or proceedings determined at the Special Term for ex parte business. — Application for all court orders, ex parte or by consent, or where notice is not required or has been waived, must be made to Special Term, Part II. Any ex parte court order granted by any justice of the court other than the one assigned to hold Part II of the Special Term, shall not be entered by the clerk. All applications for judgment in actions where the defendant has failed to appear, or has waived notice of motion for judgment or has consented thereto, except in actions for divorce, all proceedings under the Domestic Relations Law for the adoption of children, and all proceedings under the Insanity Law for the commitment of a person alleged to be insane, shall be made to said Special Term, Part II, and shall not be made to any other court or justice. All orders for the examination of parties or witnesses in supplementary proceedings or to perpetuate testimony or for the examination of parties before trial or for the examination of witnesses under letters rogatory or foreign commissions or in aid of an attachment, or for any other purpose, or in any proceeding (except an order to show cause or a warrant issued under section 2269 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which must be made returnable before Part I of the Special Term), shall be made returnable before the justice assigned to hold said Special Term, Part II, unless made returnable before a referee or commissioner under express statutory authority; and all writs of habeas corpus or other writs that are required by law to be returnable at a Special Term of the Supreme Court, or before a justice thereof, must be made returnable at the said Special Term, Part II, or before the justice assigned to hold the same. Any writ or order before mentioned returnable elsewhere shall, upon its return, be transferred to said Special Term, Part II, for hearing and decision. If not so transferred the writ or order shall be disregarded. In actions for absolute divorce or to annul a marriage, where no answer is interposed, a reference to take proof will not be granted. In such cases the application for judgment must be made at the Special Term, Part III, and the case placed upon the preferred calendar as hereinafter provided. Whenever the justice assigned to either Part I, Part II, or Part III of the Special Term is disqualified from hearing any application or motion that shall be brought on before him, he may send such application to such other part of the Special Term as he shall select, to be there heard and disposed of.

Proceedings under section 511 of the Consolidation Act, and all other proceedings authorized by title 5 of said act to be had before a justice holding the chambers of the court, must be heard in the said Special Term, Part II.

If a jury is demanded, the justice holding such term may continue such proceedings before the justice holding one of the Trial Terms, where a jury shall be forthwith impaneled and the question determined and the proceeding finally disposed of as required by said act. In case neither of the Trial Terms is in session, the justice assigned to the said Special Term, Part II, may impanel a jury and dispose of the proceeding as required by the said act. In case of an appeal from an order of commitment under section 63 of the Insanity Law, the justice assigned to Part II of the Special Term may send the question of the insanity of such alleged lunatic to either part of the Trial Term for trial before a jury, as required by said section. The justice trying such proceeding before a jury shall certify the verdict to the justice assigned to Part II of the Special Term, who shall make the order as required by such section.

In an application for a commitment under section 60 of the Insanity Law (chapter 545 of the Laws of 1896) it must be shown by the petition or by an accompanying affidavit whether or not the person alleged to be insane is confined on a criminal charge or on bail pending the determination of a criminal charge, or in official custody for the purpose of ascertaining his condition after a criminal charge has been made against him. If a criminal charge is pending against the person thus alleged to be insane, two days' notice of the time and place of presenting the application to the court or a justice thereof must be given to the district attorney.

All applications to the court in the summary proceedings authorized by sections 57 and 74 of the Public Service Commissions Law (chap. 429 of the Laws of 1907) shall be made at Part II of the Special Term, which court shall grant the necessary final order or judgment if the corporation proceeded against fails to answer within the time allowed by the court. If an answer is interposed, the justice holding Part II of the Special Term shall forthwith transfer the action or proceeding to Special Term, Part VI, which court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances and grant the proper judgment or order. (As am'd December 17, 1907.)

RULE VI.

Regulations applicable to insolvent assignments. — The following regulations will apply to all the insolvent assignments for the benefit of creditors and applications to the court thereunder:

Subd. 1. Duties of the clerk. — The clerk, in addition to the books now kept by him, shall provide a register and docket.

In the register shall be entered in full every decree and final order made in the proceedings according to date, and the docket shall contain a brief memorandum of each day's proceedings according to their respective titles.

The register and docket shall be, at all times during court hours, open for public inspection.

Subd. 2. Each petition or order or decree filed shall be indorsed with the day and date of such filing, and the papers in each case shall be kept in a file by themselves.

Subd. 3. No paper shall be permitted to be taken off the files of the court for any purpose, except on an order of the court.

Subd. 4. Every paper filed shall have a brief memorandum indorsed on the outside cover, showing the nature thereof.

Subd. 5. Copies of any and all papers in these proceedings shall be furnished to any person applying for same upon the payment of the legal fees.

Subd. 6. Process. — All process, citations, summons and subpœnas shall issue out of the court under the seal thereof and be tested by the clerk.

Subd. 7. Appearances. — Any party may appear in these proceedings, either in person or by attorney. If by attorney the name of such attorney, with his place of business and residence, shall be indorsed on each and every paper filed by him, and his name shall be entered in the docket.

Subd. 8. Schedules. — The schedule of liabilities and assets required to be filed by the assignor or assignee shall fully and fairly state the nominal and actual value of the assets, and the cause for the difference, and a separate affidavit will be required which shall fully explain the cause of such difference. If required the affidavits of disinterested experts as to such value must be furnished.

Subd. 9. Signing of. — Where there may be more than one sheet of paper necessary to contain the schedules, each page shall be signed by the person or persons verifying the same. The sheets of paper on which the schedules are written shall be securely fastened before the filing thereof, and shall be indorsed with the full name of the assignor and assignee, and when filed by an attorney, shall also be indorsed with his name and business address.

Subd. 10. Filing by assignee. — Should the schedules be filed by the assignee there must be a full affidavit made by such assignee and some disinterested expert, showing the nature and value of the property assigned.

Subd. 11. Name and residence. — The name, residence, occupation and place of business of the assignor, and name and place of business of the assignee, may be incorporated in the affidavit or annexed to the schedules.

Subd. 12. Recapitulation. — There shall be a recapitulation at the end of the schedules as follows:

Debts and liabilities amount to $——: assets nominally worth $——: assets actually worth $——.

Subd. 13. Contingent. — Contingent liabilities shall appear on a separate sheet of paper.

Subd. 14. Amendments of. — Application to amend the schedules shall be made by verified petition, in which the amendment sought to be made shall appear in full, and such amendment shall be verified in the same manner as the original schedules were verified.

Subd. 15. Bond of assignee. — The bond shall be joint and several in form, and must be accompanied by the affidavit prescribed by section 812 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and also by the affidavit of each surety, setting forth his business and where it is carried on, the amount of his debts and liabilities, and the description and value of property, real or personal, owned by him, so that it may appear that he is worth the amount in which he is required to justify over and above his debts and liabilities.

Subd. 16. Justification of sureties. — The court may in its discretion require any surety to appear and justify.

Subd. 17. At least one of such sureties shall be a freeholder. If the penalty of the bond be twenty thousand dollars or over, it may be executed by two sureties justifying each in that sum, or by more than two sureties, the amount of whose justification united is double the penalty of the bond.

Subd. 18. Provisional. — The affidavit upon which application is made for leave to file a provisional bond, must show fully and fairly the nature and extent of the property assigned, and good and sufficient reasons must be shown why the schedules cannot be filed, and it must appear satisfactory to the court that a necessity exists for the filing of such provisional bond, and for the purposes of this act the affidavits so filed shall be deemed a schedule of the assigned property until such time as the regular schedules shall be filed.

Upon the filing of the schedules the amount of the bond will be determined finally, and should the provisional bond already filed be deemed sufficient, an order will be granted making such bond as approved the final bond.

Subd. 19. Assignee. — Every assignee shall keep full, exact and regular books of account of all receipts, payments and expenditures of moneys by him, which said books shall always, during business hours, be open to the inspection of any person interested in the trust estate.

Subd. 20. — In making sales at auction of personal property the assignee shall give at least ten days' notice of the time and place of the sale and of the articles to be sold by advertisement in one or more newspapers, and he shall give notice of the sale at auction of any real estate at least twenty days before such sale. Upon such sales the assignee shall sell by printed catalogue in parcels, and shall file a copy of such catalogue, with the prices obtained for the goods sold, with his final account.

Subd. 21. — When any notice is served on the creditors of the insolvent pursuant to the provision of the statute or these rules, by mail, every envelope containing such notice shall have upon it a direction to the postmaster at the place to which it is sent to return the same to the sender within ten days unless called for. Upon every application made to the court upon such service an affidavit shall be presented showing whether any such notices have been returned.

Subd. 22. — Upon an application made for a general citation the assignee shall file with his petition his account with the vouchers.

Subd. 23. — The assignee must file an account in all cases which shall be referred for examination.

Discharge. — No discharge shall be granted an assignee who has not advertised for claims pursuant to section 4 of the statute and the 30th subdivision of this rule.

No discharge can be granted an assignee and his sureties in any case, whether the creditors have been paid or have released or have entered into composition or not, except in a regular proceeding for an accounting, under section 20 of the act, commenced by petition for citation and citation thereon to all persons interested in the estate.

Subd. 24. Substituted assignee. — Whenever an assignee shall have been removed, either on his own petition or on the petition of any person interested in the estate, and another person appointed as assignee in his place and stead, a certified copy of the order made on such petition shall be filed and recorded in the clerk's office of the county wherein the original assignment was recorded, and the clerk of the county shall make such suitable entry on the margin of the record of the original assignment as will show the appointment of such substituted assignee, and the said certified copy of the order shall be attached to the original assignment.

Subd. 25. Account of assignee. — The account of the assignee shall be in the nature of a debit and credit statement; he shall debit himself with the assets as shown in the schedules as filed and credit himself with any decrease as well as expenses.

Subd. 26. — The statement of expenditures shall be full and complete, and the vouchers for all payments shall be attached to the account.

Subd. 27. — The affirmative on the accounting shall be with the assignee, and objections to the account may be presented to the referee in writing, or be brought out on a cross-examination, and in the latter case they must be specifically taken and entered in the minutes.

Subd. 28. — The testimony taken shall be signed by the several witnesses, and attached to and filed with a report of the referee.

Subd. 29. Report of referee. — The report of the referee shall show all the jurisdictional facts necessary to confer power on the court, such as a proper execution and acknowledgment of the assignment, the recording of the same, the filing of the schedules and bond, the advertising for creditors, the issuing of the citation, the presenting of the account, and, when any items may be disallowed in the account of the assignee, the same shall be fully set out in the report.

Subd. 30. Notice to present claims. — A copy of the notice of advertisement requiring creditors to present their claims must be mailed to each creditor whose name appears on the books of the assignor, with the postage thereon prepaid, at least thirty days before the days specified in such advertisement, and proof of such mailing must be required on the application for a final decree, unless personal service thereof is made upon such creditors.

Subd. 31. — The decision of the referee after the trial of a disputed claim, under section 26 of the General Assignment Act, shall be filed with the clerk of the court and a copy served on the defeated party. The court shall, on application of either party, confirm the said report, and the decision of the referee shall be reviewed only by appeal from the order confirming the report to the Appellate Division.

RULE VII.

Special Terms for trial of issues of law and of fact; when held. — There shall be six Special Terms of the Supreme Court in the County of New York for the trial of issues of law and issues of fact triable by the court, and for the hearing and decision of other matters and special proceedings not otherwise provided for, to be known respectively as Parts III, IV, V, VI, VII and VIII. Each term shall commence on the first Monday of each month and shall continue until the Friday preceding the first Monday of the succeeding month. (As am'd November 16, 1914.)

RULE VIII.

General calendar of issues of fact triable by court; special calendar for tax assessment cases; special preferred calendar; special calendar of issues of law; what causes placed on these calendars; judgments in divorce and annulment cases. — A General Calendar of all the issues of fact triable by the court without a jury in the County of New York shall be made from time to time as shall be ordered by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Department. Such calendar shall continue to be the General Calendar for every successive Special Term until a new General Calendar is ordered as aforesaid. New cases, as they are noticed for trial, shall be placed at the foot of this General Calendar upon filing a note of issue as required by the Code of Civil Procedure. A motion to correct this General Calendar, or to add to it any cases which had theretofore been upon the calendar of the Superior Court or Court of Common Pleas, may be made on two days' notice to the opposing party at Part III of the Special Term on the call of any Friday Calendar.

There shall also be made up a Special Calendar upon which shall be placed all proceedings to review assessments for the taxation of real and personal property in the County of New York which are now pending or which shall hereafter be brought for that purpose. There shall also be made up a Special Calendar upon which shall be placed all proceedings to review the assessment for taxation of special franchises or to enforce the payment of taxes based thereon or proceedings to review the assessment thereof under section 46 of the Tax Law (chap. 62 of the Laws of 1909). These Special Calendars shall be called and disposed of in Part VI of the Special Term. There shall also be made up a Special Calendar upon which shall be placed all issues of law now at issue, and upon which shall be placed, at the foot thereof, new issues of law hereafter noticed for trial. There shall also be made up a Special Calendar which shall be known as the Preferred Calendar, upon which shall be placed all undefended actions for divorce or for annulment of marriage or for a separation; all actions entitled under the Code or the General or Special Rules of Practice to a preference; all applications for judgment in actions where issues have been framed and sent to a jury for trial; all applications for final judgment where an interlocutory judgment has been entered and an account has been taken or other proceedings had before a referee; all motions for a new trial upon exceptions or on the ground of surprise or newly discovered evidence; and exceptions to and motions to confirm a referee's report in special proceedings, including surplus money proceedings, and in actions in which an issue of fact has been tried by a referee where application to the court for final judgment or a final order is necessary; all applications for the appointment of commissioners, for a final order or final judgment in proceedings to condemn real estate for public use; all applications for final order in certiorari proceedings or proceedings where an alternative writ of mandamus has been issued; all applications for judgment upon the pleadings under section 547 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and all trials of an issue of law brought on as a contested motion under section 976 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The Special Preferred Calendar and the Special Calendar of issues of law herein provided for shall be called and disposed of in Part III of the Special Term; provided, however, that the justice assigned to Part III may from time to time assign preferred cases and issues of law from such calendars to the other parts of the Special or Trial Terms for hearing and decision.

Applications for final judgment in actions to annul a marriage or for a divorce shall be made at Special Term, Part III, upon the judgment roll, a certificate of the county clerk that no order has been entered in the action since the entry of the interlocutory judgment, or, if any such order or orders have been entered, that copies thereof are annexed to his certificate and proof by affidavit that no application has been made for an order to the knowledge of the party making application or his attorney, except where an order has been granted and a certified copy of such order is annexed to the certificate of the county clerk. Where in such an action a party other than the party making the application has appeared in the action, five days' notice of such application, with the papers upon which the same was made and a copy of the proposed final judgment, shall be served upon the attorney who has appeared in the action. In a proceeding for the revocation of a liquor tax certificate, where the issue has been joined, the proceeding shall be placed upon the Preferred Calendar called in Special Term, Part III, and disposed of as other cases upon the said calendar. In case, however, that issue is joined in such a proceeding too late to place it on the calendar of the June Special Term in any year, it may be brought on by either party during July, August or September, at Special Term, Part II, and there heard and determined. In case a proceeding is not so brought on in Part II as hereinbefore provided before the first Monday in October, it shall be placed upon the Preferred Calendar to be called at Special Term, Part III, for the October term. (As am'd December 17, 1909, February 1, 1914 and November 11, 1914.)

RULE IX.

Calendar of causes from general calendar for trial at Special Term; when and where called and tried; when cause on day calendar will be passed; effect of engagements of counsel. — The clerk of Part III of the Special Term, with the assistance of the special deputy clerk assigned to such part and of the clerk of Part IV, shall each week make up a calendar of causes from the general calendar for trial at Special Term, which calendar shall be published at least two days before the same is called. This calendar shall be called by the justice assigned to the Special Term, Part III, on Friday of each week at 2 o'clock P. M., unless another day is specifically fixed by him to call such calendar. Causes on such calendar may be set down for trial on any day in the week following. In case it should appear, upon the call of the calendar on Friday, that the number of causes set down for trial on the following week will not be sufficient to occupy the available time of all the Special Terms of the court assigned to the trial of equity causes, the justice of the Supreme Court assigned to the Special Term, Part III, shall order a calendar of causes from the general calendar to be made up and to be called upon Wednesday morning following at 10 o'clock. Upon the call of such calendar, causes may be set down for any day of the week in which the calendar is so called or for the succeeding week. The said clerks shall make up a day calendar for each day from the General Special Term calendar of the court, upon which shall be placed all the causes set down for that day or remaining undisposed of from previous days, which day calendar shall be called in Part III of the Special Term at 10.15 A. M. of each day, and causes therefrom shall be assigned to the several parts of the Special Term (except Part VI) for trial. In case Part VI shall not have business enough to occupy it during court hours, causes from Part III shall be sent to it for trial.

When a cause thus set down on the call of the calendar on any Friday or Wednesday for trial appears upon the day calendar, it must be tried or go to the foot of the general calendar, unless it appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court calling the day calendar that, in consequence of the happening of any event since the cause was so set down for trial, the trial cannot, with justice to one of the parties, proceed. The court may then by order set the cause down for trial on another day in the term or place the cause on the Friday calendar.

If it shall appear by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court that counsel who is to try any cause upon a day calendar expects to argue a cause upon a day calendar of the Supreme Court of the United States, or the Court of Appeals of the State of New York, or the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, or any Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, or is actually engaged in the trial of a cause in a Federal or State court of record, except the Municipal Court, sitting in the County of New York, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Nassau or Richmond, the cause shall be adjourned until such argument or trial is concluded, unless the trial in which the counsel is engaged is likely to be protracted. In no other event shall a cause upon the day calendar be passed for the day. (As am'd May 2, 1916.)

RULE X.

Length of stay for engagements of counsel; how many causes held ready for one counsel on day calendar. — In no event shall a cause on the day calendar be passed from day to day on account of the engagement of counsel for more than three days.

Not more than two causes shall be held ready on the day calendar for one counsel in addition to the cause in which he is engaged, and in all causes the counsel who is to try the same must be designated, if required by the court, on the call of the day calendar.

RULE XI.

Actions for foreclosure of mortgages or mechanics' liens may be placed on preferred calendar. — In all actions brought for the foreclosure of a mortgage or for the foreclosure of mechanics' liens either party may apply to the Special Term, Part III, upon notice of two days to the adverse party to have the case placed upon the preferred calendar, to be called in Part III of the Special Term, and if it shall appear to the court upon such application that the trial will not be a protracted one, or that for any special reason the case should be promptly disposed of, it shall be placed upon the preferred calendar for trial.

RULE XII.

Order to place causes on preferred calendar. — In all actions in which a preference is given by express provision of law, or by the General Rules of Practice or by special rules, the party entitled to such preference may, upon two days' notice, apply to Special Term, Part III, for an order placing the cause upon the preferred calendar. In case such preference is granted, the case shall be placed upon the preferred calendar as of the date when the motion was made, and shall be called in its order.

RULE XIII.

Duration of Special Term. — No Special Term shall be continued beyond the Friday preceding the commencement of a new term, except for the purpose of completing a trial already commenced during the term, in which case immediately upon the completion of the trial, the court shall adjourn for the term.

RULE XIV.

Regulating the procedure upon applications for naturalization in the First Judicial District. — All applications of aliens to be admitted to become citizens of the United States must be heard and final action had thereon at Part II of the Special Term. Such hearing shall be had at 2 o'clock P. M. of each day of each week during the year, which days are hereby designated as the stated terms of the court for such applications. The application which is required by chapter 927 of the Laws of 1895 to be filed with the clerk of the court shall be so filed with the assistant clerk of such Special Term assigned to that branch of the business. Such application shall specify the stated day (more than fourteen days thereafter) when such application will be brought on for hearing and final action.

The assistant clerk assigned to naturalization business shall make up a calendar of such applications for each of said stated days, upon which he will place all such applications, in the order of filing, for the days specified in the applications. The calendar will be called at 2 o'clock in the afternoon upon each stated day. The hearing upon such applications shall be had upon the call of the calendar, and the testimony of the applicant and the witnesses on each application shall be thereupon taken in open court. Such testimony shall be taken down by the stenographer assigned to the branch of the court, and shall be written out and filed with the application. If the applicant fail to appear upon the call of the calendar the application will be dismissed, without prejudice to a fresh application. The special deputy to the Clerk of the City and County of New York, in Part VIII of the Special Term, is hereby directed at all times, until a justice is assigned to hold said part, to act as an additional assistant to the clerk assigned to naturalization business, and to devote his entire time to the duties of what is known as the Naturalization Bureau, under the general direction of the special deputy in Part II of the Special Term and of the assistant to such special deputy in said Naturalization Bureau. (As am'd June 9, 1911.)

RULE XV.

Sales of real estate upon a judgment or order; diagram to be published; notice of liens and charges. — All sales of real estate, or interest or estate therein made in pursuance of any judgment, decree or order, or by an officer of the court under its direction must be made as directed by section 1678 of the Code, and notice of such sale must be given as prescribed in that section. The referee or officer making such a sale shall cause to be published with the notice of sale a diagram of the property to be sold, or of which an interest therein is to be sold, showing the street or avenue upon which such property is located, its street or avenue number, if any, and specifying the number of feet to the nearest cross street or avenue. Where such sale is made to satisfy any lien or charge upon the real property sold, the approximate amount of such lien or charge shall be stated in a note annexed to such notice of sale, and where there are taxes, assessments or other liens upon the said property which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or which are to be paid by the referee, the referee or officer making such sale shall also state in a note annexed to such notice of sale the approximate amount of such charge or lien. An unintentional error, however, in such diagram, or in the amount of the lien or charge for which the property shall be sold, or the amount of such taxes or other lien to be allowed to the purchaser upon the sale, shall not invalidate the sale, nor authorize the court to relieve the purchaser or order a new sale.

RULE XVI.

Official examiners of title. — A. An official examiner of title, before he is licensed and admitted to practice as such, must file the bond required by Rule III of the Rules of the Court of Appeals relating to applications to practice as official examiners of title, approved by the Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in this department. All bonds executed by individual sureties must have annexed thereto an affidavit of each surety stating his age and residence, with the street and number, and specifically stating the property owned by the surety, with a brief description thereof. and its value and the liens or incumbrances thereon, with a description of such liens or incumbrances, and the business, if any, of the surety, and stating the amount of his indebtedness, whether there are any existing judgments against him, and the amount of his property over and above such indebtedness. In case of the death of a surety the official examiner of title must within thirty days thereafter file a new bond with new sureties fully complying with this rule. Each applicant for a license as an official examiner of title must also produce a certificate of the committee on character certifying that he is of good moral character and as to his standing in regard to financial transactions.

B. An application for registration of title to real property made under the Real Property Law (chapter 52 of the Laws of 1909) must be made at Special Term, Part II, of the Supreme Court, which is hereby designated the "Title Part" of the said court under section 371 of the said act, and the justice of the Supreme Court from time to time assigned to Part II of the Special Term is hereby designated as the justice to have general supervision and control of the business coming under the said act in the County of New York, and all applications to register title to real property under the said act must be returnable at said Title Part, Special Term, Part II, of the Supreme Court.

C. After the time provided in the summons to appear and answer the complaint shall have expired, if there has been no appearance or answer, the applicant may apply to the Special Term, Part II, for a final judgment as provided for in section 390 of the act, as amended by chapter 627 of the Laws of 1910. If there has been an appearance in the action under the said act, but no answer has been interposed, he may apply to the court for final judgment on eight days' notice to all who have appeared in the action. In all applications for judgment the applicant must present to the court proof by affidavit of the service of the summons as required by the said act, and of the appearances or answers, if any, in the action, and that all the provisions of the act entitling the applicant to such judgment have been complied with.

D. Where an answer is interposed which raises an issue of fact which in an action relating to the title of real property would be triable by a jury, either party to the action who is entitled to have such issue determined may apply to the Title Part of the Special Term within twenty days after issue has been joined by the service of the pleadings to have the issues framed to be tried by a jury, as provided by section 970 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The trial of such issues shall be had and the subsequent proceeding in relation thereto shall be such as is prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure. After such issues are disposed of, either party to the action may apply to the Title Part of the Special Term upon eight days' notice to all who have appeared in the action for final judgment, and on such application the court shall try all other issues in the action not disposed of by the jury, or may refer any such issues undisposed of to be tried by a referee. Where all issues have been disposed of, either party may then upon notice of eight days to all who have appeared in the action apply for final judgment at the Title Part of the Special Term.

E. All applications to the court after a certificate of registration has been issued under the provisions of the said act must be made at the Title Part of the Special Term hereinbefore designated, upon notice of eight days to all persons interested in the application. All applications to the court under section 422 of the act shall be made at the Title Part, Part II, of the Special Term, upon eight days' notice to all persons in interest, as provided in that section. All applications made under section 428 of the act shall also be made at the Title Part of the Special Term, upon eight days' notice to the city chamberlain and all other parties who have appeared in the action to recover for loss or damage or deprivation of real property out of the assurance fund provided for by the said act. (Added April 22, 1909; am'd Dec. 28, 1910.)

RULE XVII.

Investment of money paid into court. — The chamberlain of the city of New York, within thirty days after it shall have been received by him, shall invest all money paid into court by deposit with him in bonds of the United States, bonds of the State of New York or bonds or stock of the city of New York, and cause the same to be duly registered in his name as such chamberlain; and hereafter no money so paid into court shall be invested in securities other than those hereinbefore specified. And the chamberlain is hereby required to file in the office of the clerk of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Department, on or before the 1st day of February in each year, a report showing the securities in which money that has been paid into court has been invested and the date at which the investment was made. (Added Jan. 11, 1911.)

AMENDED FORM IN FORECLOSURE CASES.[1]

(Adopted by the First Department, October 13, 1910.)

The following form has been approved by the justices of the Supreme Court:

To comply with the Amended Rules of Practice in foreclosure cases the judgment should contain immediately following the direction to sell and in substitution for the provisions now in use the following provisions:

Under the direction of ....., Esq., who is hereby appointed referee for that purpose; the said referee give public notice of the time and place of such sale according to law and the course and practice of this court; that the plaintiff or any other party to this action may become the purchaser or purchasers on such sale; that said referee execute to the purchaser or purchasers on such sale a deed of the premises sold; that such referee on receiving the proceeds of sale forthwith pay therefrom the taxes, assessments and water rents which are or may become liens on the premises at the time of sale. The said referee then deposit the balances of such proceeds of sale in[2]..... and shall thereafter make the following payments,

[1] The purpose of this Form, it has been said (per Hon. Edward E. McCall, former Justice of the Supreme Court, First Department) has been "to give official sanction to proper payments to be made by referees, without which embarrassing complications might arise upon the closing of the title, if insistence was made of strict adherence to Rules 69 and 79 of the General Rules of Practice."

[See memoranda in the American Mortgage Company v. Kneeland (Law Journal, October 5, 1910), and McCutcheon v. Heubener (Law Journal, October 18, 1910).]

[2] A bank or trust company authorized to receive on deposit court funds.

and his checks drawn for that purpose shall be paid by the said depository:

First. — The sum of $50 to the said referee for his fees herein.

Second. — Advertising expenses as shown on the bills presented and certified by the said referee to be correct, and duplicate copies of which shall be left with said depository.

Third. — Said referee shall also pay to the plaintiff the sum of ..... dollars, adjudged to the plaintiff for his costs and disbursements in this action, with interest thereon from the date hereof, together with an additional allowance of ..... dollars, hereby awarded to the plaintiff, in addition to costs, with interest thereon from the date thereof; and also ..... dollars, the said amount so reported due as aforesaid, together with the legal interest thereon from the date of said report, or so much thereof as the purchase money of the mortgaged premises will pay of the same.

Fourth.—If such referee intends to apply for a further allowance for his fees, he may leave upon deposit such amount as will cover such additional allowance, to await the further order of the court thereon, after application duly made.

RULES OF THE APPELLATE TERM OF THE SUPREME COURT IN THE FIRST JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

Rules for the Hearing of Appeals from the City Court of the City of New York and from the Municipal Court in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx.

(Amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

Appellate Term; how constituted; when and where held. — There shall be a term of the Supreme Court for the hearing of appeals from the City Court and the Municipal Court of the city of New York in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, which shall commence on the first Monday of October, November, December, January, February, March, April, May and June in each year, and shall continue from day to day during each of said months until all appeals ready for hearing are heard and disposed of. This term of the court shall hold its sessions in the Court House in the county of New York, and shall be held by three justices of the Supreme Court duly designated to hold said term, and shall be known as the Appellate Term.

RULE II.

Calendar of appeals; filing and service of return; failure to appear on call of calendar; entry of judgment or order. — The clerk of such term of the Supreme Court shall make up a calendar of all appeals to be heard each term and publish the same in the Law Journal at least eight days before the commencement of the term.

All appeals from the City Court in which the return duly printed as required by the General Rules of Practice has been duly filed with the clerk of such term at least ten days before the first day of the term, with ten printed copies thereof and an admission of service or an affidavit showing the service of three printed copies upon the attorney for the respondent, shall be placed upon such calendar.

All appeals from the Municipal Court in which the return made up as required by Rule IV of this court has been filed with the clerk of such term at least ten days before the commencement thereof shall be placed upon such calendar.

Appeals shall be placed upon the calendar in the order in which the same are filed and shall continue thereon until disposed of. An appeal may be brought to a hearing upon notice by either party of not less than eight days, which notice must be filed as provided by Rule V of this court. If, after being regularly placed upon the calendar, neither party brings it to a hearing until after the same has been on the calendar for at least two terms, the court must dismiss the appeal unless it directs the same to be continued for cause shown.

If the appellant does not appear upon the call of the calendar, the judgment or order appealed from shall be affirmed. If the appellant appears and the respondent fails to appear, the appellant may either argue or submit his case, but judgment of reversal by default will not be allowed.

Upon an appeal from the City Court the judgment or order of the court shall be entered in the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court; a certified copy of such judgment or order shall be annexed to the return from the City Court, which certified copy and return shall be transmitted to the City Court as required by § 1345 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Upon an appeal from the Municipal Court the judgment or order of the Appellate Term shall be entered in the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court in the county embracing the district of the Municipal Court from which the appeal is taken, and a certified copy thereof annexed to the return received from the Municipal Court, which return and certified copy of the judgment or order shall be returned to the district of the Municipal Court from which the appeal was taken. (As am'd July 7, 1915.)

RULE III.

Failure to file printed papers and motion for dismissal therefor. — In appeals from the City Court, in case the appellant does not cause the printed papers to be filed with the clerk of the Appellate Term and serve three copies thereof upon the attorney for the respondent, as required by the General Rules of Practice, within twenty days after the settlement of the case on appeal, and in case of an appeal from an order of the City Court within fifteen days after service of the notice of an appeal upon the attorney for the respondent, the respondent may move, upon three days' notice on any day of the term, to dismiss the appeal, and the appeal shall be dismissed unless the time of the appellant to cause such printed papers to be filed and copies thereof to be served be extended by the justices assigned to hear such appeals, or one of them, for good cause shown.

In appeals from judgments, final orders or orders of the Municipal Court of the City of New York, in which a case is settled as provided in subdivisions 1 and 3 of § 161 of the Municipal Court Code, the appellant must, within five days after service of the notice of appeal, deposit with the clerk the fees of the stenographer for a transcript of the minutes; the stenographer must within ten days thereafter file said transcript with the clerk, who shall immediately notify the appellant or his attorney of the receipt of same; the appellant or his attorney must within two days after receipt of such notice procure the case to be settled on a written notice of at least three days to the clerk and to the attorney for the respondent or to the respondent, if he has not appeared by attorney, returnable before the justice who tried the case; and the clerk must within two days after the settlement of the case by the trial justice file the return made up as required by Rule IV of this court with the clerk of the Appellate Term; and in case of an appeal from a judgment, final order or order of the Municipal Court, in which no case is settled, the clerk must file the return made up as required by Rule IV of this court within fifteen days after service upon him of the notice of appeal; upon failure by the appellant to procure compliance with the above requirements, the respondent may move upon three days' notice on any day of the term to dismiss the appeal, and such appeal shall be dismissed unless the justices assigned to hear such appeal, or one of them, for good cause shown, shall extend the time. (As am'd July 7, 1915.)

RULE IV.

Returns upon appeals; what to contain. — Returns upon appeals from judgments, final orders and orders of the Municipal Court in which a case is made and settled shall consist of true copies of the originals to be furnished by the appellant, typewritten on suitable paper, eight inches wide and ten and one-half inches long, numbered at the bottom of each page, fastened at the left-hand edge, bound with a substantial cover and appropriately indexed, in the following order:

A statement showing the court and district thereof from which the appeal is taken, the date of entry of the judgment, final order or order appealed from, the date of the beginning of the action and of service of the respective pleadings; the names of the original parties in full and any change in the parties if such has taken place; the names of the attorneys appearing for the respective parties on the appeal. The notice of appeal, the summons, the complaint, the answer, the bill of particulars, if any, any intermediate order and the papers upon which the same is based, if brought up for review by the notice of appeal; the judgment, final order or order appealed from; the original transcript of the stenographer's minutes, which shall be transcribed in conformity with the standard page adopted by the Society of Certified Shorthand Reporters, on paper of the size above mentioned, the lines thereon to be consecutively numbered on the left-hand margin; copies of the exhibits in the order in which they are marked, unless they are voluminous and only a part of their contents are material, in which case the parties may stipulate or the justice below may upon notice settle a statement respecting the same or the parts thereof to be returned upon appeal; the opinion of the court or a statement that no opinion was rendered; the settlement and allowance of the case by the trial justice and the certificate of the clerk, which may be made upon the stipulation of the respective parties or their attorneys.

Returns upon appeals from judgments, final orders or orders in which no case is settled shall consist of true copies of all papers used upon the hearing or recited in the order appealed from, to be furnished by the appellant, typewritten in the manner above indicated in the following order:

A statement showing the court and district thereof from which the appeal is taken, the nature of the judgment, final order or order appealed from and the date of entry of the same; the names of the respective parties and the attorneys appearing on the appeal. The notice of appeal; the judgment, final order or order appealed from; in an appeal from a judgment or final order the papers upon which the same is based; in an appeal from an order the notice of motion or order to show cause; the moving affidavits, the opposing affidavits, the opinion of the court or a statement that no opinion was rendered, the certificate of the clerk, which may be made upon the stipulation of the parties or their attorneys. (As am'd July 7, 1915.)

RULE 7.

Cases and points; printing, filing, and service thereof; dismissal of appeal for omission; hearing or submission of appeals. — The cases and points and all other papers furnished to the Appellate Term on an appeal from the City Court shall be printed as provided for in Rule XLIII of the General Rules of Practice. The points on an appeal from the Municipal Court shall be printed as therein provided, or typewritten. In every case on appeal from the City Court or the Municipal Court the appellant must, on or before the Monday preceding the first day of the term at which the appeal is noticed for argument, file with the clerk of the Appellate Term the requisite number of copies of his points to be used upon the hearing, indicating thereon the number of the appeal on the calendar published in the Law Journal, and shall also, on or before the Monday preceding the first day of said term, serve a copy of said points upon the attorney for the respondent. Upon failure so to do the appeal may, when called for argument in its regular order on the calendar, be dismissed, or the hearing thereof adjourned to the next term, as the court may determine. Not later than twelve o'clock noon on the Saturday preceding the first day of the term the respondent must serve a copy of his points upon the attorney for the appellant, or upon the appellant's counsel, and file with the clerk the requisite number of copies thereof to be used upon the argument, said copies also to contain the number of the case upon the calendar, as published in the Law Journal. No further time for filing points will be granted and no other points will be received or considered, unless the court shall, by its own motion, direct further points to be submitted.

No appeal will be heard or received on submission unless it has been noticed for argument, and proof of service thereof filed with the clerk of the Appellate Term on or before the Monday preceding the first day of the term. All appeals must be heard or submitted when regularly called for argument, unless the court, for cause shown, shall adjourn the hearing until a subsequent term; and no appeals shall be submitted without argument unless the points have been filed and served as hereinbefore provided. In the argument of an appeal from an order, or from a judgment of the Municipal Court, not more than fifteen minutes shall be occupied by counsel on either side; and in the argument of an appeal from a judgment of the City Court not more than thirty minutes shall be occupied by counsel on either side, except by express permission of the court. (As am'd July 1, 1908.)

RULE VI.

Application to appeal from orders rendered upon objections to pleadings. — Applications to a justice of the Appellate Term for leave to appeal from an order sustaining or overruling an objection taken to a pleading as prescribed in §§ 88 and 89 of the Municipal Court Code must be made within five days after denial of an application for such leave by the trial justice upon any day during the term upon three days' notice to the opposite party or parties. The papers upon which such application is made must contain a copy of the pleadings, the order entered in the court below and the papers recited therein; a concise statement of the grounds of alleged error, a copy of the opinion of the justice below, if any, and proof of due service of the papers upon which the application is founded. (As am'd July 7, 1915.)

RULE VII.

Application to appeal to Appellate Division; motions for reargument. — Motions for reargument and applications for leave to appeal from a determination of the Appellate Term to the Appellate Division, under section 1344 of the Code of Civil Procedure, must be made upon any day of the term on five days' notice to the adverse party, and must be returnable within twenty days after the entry of the order determining said appeal; all papers to be used on such motion, together with a copy of the opinion, if any, and briefs of counsel, must be delivered to the clerk of the court and submitted, without argument. Such motions must be based upon an affidavit or a statement setting forth concisely the points claimed to have been overlooked or misapprehended by the court, with proper reference to the authorities relied upon, and the reason why such reargument should be granted or appeal allowed. The briefs may be either printed or typewritten.

An appeal to the Appellate Division from an order granting a new trial will not be allowed unless the appellant files with his notice of application for leave to appeal a stipulation that if the order appealed from be affirmed, or the appeal therefrom dismissed, judgment absolute may be rendered against him.

A party desiring an order staying proceedings pending a motion for reargument or an application for leave to appeal must serve the notice provided for in this rule. Upon an affidavit showing the service of such notice, a copy of the moving papers and a statement in such affidavit setting forth the reasons why a stay should be granted, an application for a stay will be entertained. Application for such order must be made to the justices of the Appellate Term who heard the appeal, or one of them, by filing the same with the clerk of the Appellate Term, by whom it will be brought to the attention of the court. (As am'd December 31, 1909 and November 27, 1914.)

RULE VIII.

Motions generally; practice. — Motions may be noticed for any day of the term and must be submitted without argument. Five days' notice of motion must be given, except motions for leave to appeal to this court under Rule VI and to dismiss an appeal. A notice of such motion, whether founded upon an order to show cause or a regular notice of motion, with proof of service thereof, and the opposing affidavits must be filed with the clerk of the Appellate Term at or before 12 o'clock upon the day on which the same is returnable.

All decisions will, when announced, be accompanied by an order duly signed, unless the court shall otherwise direct. Motions for resettlement of orders must be made upon two days' notice. (As am'd July 7, 1915.)

(Note. — Another series of Rules in the First Department has been established "to regulate the attendance and prescribe the duties of the clerks, assistant clerks, criers, interpreters, stenographers, librarians, and assistants of the Supreme Court." These rules are not included here because they are only of importance to these officers and assistants.)

Calendar Rules Adopted by the Appellate Term.

(Adopted July 12, 1915.)

Rule I. — The calendar of appeals from orders and judgments of the City Court will be called in the forenoon of the first day of the term at 10 o'clock A. M. The calendar of appeals from orders and judgments of the Municipal Court will be called on the second day of the term at 10 o'clock A. M.

Rule II. — In motion for leave to appeal or for reargument an indorsement must be made upon the motion papers stating the term of the court at which the case was argued or submitted. If an appeal upon the calendar is affected by a motion, the motion papers must be indorsed with the calendar number of such appeal.

Rule III. — The points on appeal from judgments and orders of the City Court shall be printed as provided for by Rule 43 of the General Rules of Practice. The points on appeals from the Municipal Court shall be printed or typewritten upon white paper of uniform size, viz., 10½ inches in length and 8 inches in width, and fastened on the left-hand edge thereof. Upon the right-hand corner of the points submitted to the court shall appear the name of counsel arguing or submitting the same. Upon the left-hand corner of the points submitted shall appear the calendar number of the case on appeal. All points, briefs and motion papers must be filed flat. The County Clerk's number of the Clerk of the County, embracing the court from which the appeal is taken, must be indorsed on all motion papers.

In appeals from judgments and orders of the City Court, ten copies of the points or briefs must be filed, and three copies upon appeals from the Municipal Court must be filed.

Briefs of counsel, when reference therein is made to the testimony given upon the trial, must give the number of the folio in the printed case, if an appeal from the City Court, or the number of the page and the line thereof in the record, if an appeal from the Municipal Court.

If the appellant's brief fails to comply with this rule, the appeal may be dismissed. If the respondent's brief is deficient in this respect, the appeal may be considered on the appellant's brief alone.

Rules of Surrogate's Court, County of New York.

(Amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

Papers. — Each petition, decree, order, objection, answer, affidavit, stipulation and other paper submitted to the court shall be indorsed with the title of the proceeding to which it relates, and a description of the paper and the name and post office address of the attorney presenting it.

No decree or paper on file in this court will be intrusted to the attorneys or parties except for the purpose of proper examination in the office where it is deposited, and if any such document or paper shall be needed on a hearing before any referee appointed by this court the same shall be intrusted to a clerk or messenger of this court and delivered to the referee, who shall execute a receipt therefor.

No paper will be received for consideration by the surrogate, or for filing in his office, unless it is of the weight prescribed by Rule XIX, General Rules of Practice, or unless it is written or printed in black characters and conforms in all other respects, so far as practicable, to the requirements of said rule.

No paper will be received by the clerk of the court after argument or submission of a matter subsequent to the date fixed by the surrogate for the receipt of the same, and no such paper shall be received unless a copy has been served upon the attorney or attorneys for the other party or parties who have appeared in the proceeding.

RULE II.

Motion calendar. — A Motion Calendar will be called on Tuesday and Friday of each week at 10:30 o'clock A. M., except that during the month of July there will be a calendar on Tuesdays only, and from the last Tuesday in July until the first Tuesday after the 15th of September there will be no calendar.

RULE III.

When motion or proceeding may be entered on calendar; adjournment of motion. — To entitle a motion or proceeding to be placed upon the Motion Calendar proof of service of all orders, citations and other papers on which the motion or application is made shall be furnished to the clerk of the court at or before one o'clock on the day preceding the motion day. Except where a written stipulation of all the parties to the proceeding has been filed with the clerk of the court, a motion shall be adjourned only upon the return day thereof, upon showing legal grounds therefor to the satisfaction of the surrogate.

Proceedings or motions which have been marked "reserved generally" may be restored to the calendar upon two days' notice to all parties who have appeared in the proceeding.

RULE IV.

Probate; will and copy to be filed. — The will, if not lost or destroyed, shall be filed with the petition for probate, unless, upon good cause shown by affidavit, the surrogate dispenses therewith, in which case the will must be filed at least two days before the return day of the citation.

In all cases a copy of the will must be filed with the petition. With such copy there must also be filed an affidavit of two adult persons that they have compared the copy with the original will and that the copy is a true and correct one.

RULE V.

Probate proceedings, when service of citation waived. — In probate proceedings when all parties in interest have waived the service of citation, notice of at least two days must be given to the probate clerk before the testimony of the subscribing witnesses will be taken.

RULE VI.

Contested Probates. — A copy of any objections filed to the probate of a last will and testament shall be served upon the proponent or his attorney in case the proponent shall have appeared by attorney.

In a contested probate proceeding notice of trial shall be served and a note of issue filed as prescribed by section 977 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

In cases of contests in probate proceedings, where a notice of objection filed is required by section 2618, C. C. P., and within five days after objections to the probate are filed, the proponent shall present a verified petition for and procure and enter an order directing such notice. If the proponent fails to present such petition and fails to procure and enter such order within five days after objections are filed, any other party to the proceeding may present such petition and order.

RULE VII.

Jury trials of probate cases. — Within five days after a jury trial is demanded in the objections filed to the probate of a will the party making the demand shall present on two days' notice of settlement to the attorneys of all parties who have appeared by attorney a proposed order directing such trial by jury. Such order shall state plainly and concisely the controverted questions of fact to be tried by jury. If a party demanding a trial by jury fails to serve and present a proposed order as aforesaid, such order may thereafter be presented by any party to the proceeding.

RULE VIII.

Accountings. — When a petition for a voluntary account is presented, the account to which it relates must be filed therewith. Upon an accounting of any executor, administrator c. t. a. or testamentary trustee a copy of the will must be filed with the petition and account.

Where a representative of an estate is required by law to pay a transfer tax, no petition for a final accounting by such representative will be received or filed in this office, and no decree in any such accounting will be signed, except upon the production of a receipt for the payment of transfer tax, sealed and countersigned, as provided in § 236 of the Tax Law. Exemption from payment of transfer tax must be shown by a copy of an order of exemption. (As am'd Feb. 3, 1916.)

RULE IX.

Contested accountings. — On an accounting by an executor, administrator, guardian or trustee any party interested or a creditor desiring to contest the account shall file specific objections thereto and shall serve a copy thereof on the accounting party or upon his attorney in case he shall have appeared by attorney within eight days after the filing of the account, where the accounting is a compulsory one, and within eight days after the return of the citation or within eight days after the proceeding is marked for decree where the accounting is a voluntary one, or within such further or other time in either case as shall be allowed by the surrogate. A special guardian in an accounting proceeding shall file his report or objections within eight days after his appointment, unless for cause shown his time to file such report or objections be extended by the surrogate.

The contest of the account shall be confined to the items or matter objected to.

RULE X.

Affidavit of regularity. — With every proposed decree on an accounting there must be submitted an affidavit of regularity setting forth the necessary jurisdictional facts.

RULE XI.

Entry of decrees against infants in accountings. — In any proceeding for a judicial settlement of an account, wherein a special guardian shall be appointed or a general guardian shall appear to protect the interests of an infant party to such accounting, no decree shall be entered upon default against such infant, but such decree shall be so entered only on the written report of the guardian appearing for such infant that he has carefully examined the account and finds it correct, and upon two days' notice to the guardian of the settlement thereof.

RULE XII.

Administration. — Upon an application for letters of administration where it appears that the intestate was at the time of his death the subject of a foreign power, notice of the application shall be given to the consul or consular representative of such foreign power.

RULE XIII.

Guardianship. — A petition for the application by a guardian for an infant's property, or any portion thereof, to the support, maintenance and education of the infant, shall show the terms of any previous order for the application of any portion of the infant's property.

When the application is made by a person other than the guardian of the property or a parent of the infant, the duly acknowledged consent of such guardian or parent shall be annexed to the petition, or the application must be made on notice to such guardian or parent.

RULE XIV.

Notice of appearance. — A respondent who files an answer or objection shall file therewith a notice of appearance.

RULE XV.

Appearance of a general guardian or committee. — Where an infant appears by his general guardian or where a lunatic, idiot or habitual drunkard appears by his committee the general guardian or the committee shall show that such general guardian or such committee is competent to protect the rights of the infant or incompetent and has no interest adverse to that of the infant or incompetent, and is not connected in business with the attorney or counsel of or any party to the proceeding. It must appear whether or not such general guardian or committee is entitled to share in the distribution of the estate or fund in which the infant or incompetent is interested, and if the general guardian or committee is in any way interested in the estate or fund the nature of such interest must be disclosed. Where a general guardian appears for an infant, the name, residence and relationship to the infant of the person with whom the infant is residing must be disclosed, and also whether or not the infant has a parent living, and if a parent is living, whether or not such parent has knowledge of and approves such appearance, and such knowledge and approval should be shown by the affidavit of such parent. If the infant has no parent living, like knowledge and approval of such appearance by the person with whom the infant resides must be shown in like manner.

If the foregoing provisions of this rule are not strictly complied with, the surrogate will appoint a special guardian for the infant or incompetent, as provided in section 2534, C. C. P., notwithstanding the appearance by the general guardian or committee.

RULE XVI.

Referee's Report. — A referee shall file with his report all the testimony taken and all the papers and exhibits that were before him in the proceeding in which the report is filed.

When a referee's report has been filed said report shall be confirmed as of course unless exceptions thereto be filed by a party interested in the accounting or proceeding within ten days after a written notice of such filing and a copy of such report shall have been served upon the opposing party; and in case exceptions shall be so filed, any party may bring on the hearing of said exceptions on any stated motion day on the same notice that would be required for the hearing of a motion.

RULE XVII.

Justification of sureties to undertaking on appeal. — The respondent on any appeal from a decree or order of this court may within ten days after the filing of the undertaking required on such appeal serve upon the attorney for the appellant a written notice that he excepts to the sufficiency of the sureties therein; whereupon and within ten days thereafter such sureties, or other sureties in a new undertaking to the same effect, must justify before the surrogate, or a clerk designated for that purpose, on five days' notice of such justification, to be served upon the respondent's attorney, by each surety appearing in person before said surrogate or designated clerk and submitting to an examination, under oath, on the part of the appellant, touching his sufficiency. If such sureties shall be found sufficient, said surrogate or designated clerk will indorse an allowance thereof upon the undertaking or a copy thereof, and a notice of such allowance shall be served upon the attorney for the exceptant; and the effect of any failure to so justify and procure such allowance shall be to avoid the undertaking.

RULE XVIII.

Justification of sureties to bond of executor, administrator, guardian, etc. — Principals and sureties upon bonds and undertakings, if natural persons, must appear and qualify before the clerk designated for that purpose by the surrogate. Whenever a bond with sureties shall be filed by an executor, administrator, guardian or trustee any person interested in the estate may apply to the surrogate for an order requiring the sureties in said bond to appear before him or a clerk designated for that purpose and submit to an examination under oath as to their sufficiency as such sureties. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the surrogate that such examination is necessary he will make an order prescribing the time and place where such examination shall take place, a copy of which order shall be served upon such executor, administrator, guardian or trustee at least five days before the time fixed for such examination. If on such examination the surrogate shall be satisfied of the sufficiency of such surety he will indorse his approval upon the bond or a copy thereof; and in case such surety on such examination shall not in the opinion of the surrogate be sufficient the surrogate will make an order requiring the substitution of new sureties within five days after the service of a copy of said order upon the executor, administrator, guardian or other trustee, or his attorney, if he shall have appeared by attorney on such examination.

RULE XIX.

Notice of settlement of orders and decrees in litigated motions. — Two days' notice of the settlement of an order on a litigated motion or of a decree or decision shall be given in writing to all the parties who have appeared and to any special guardian in the proceeding in which such order, decree or decision is to be made.

RULE XX.

Costs and allowances. — Whenever a party to a decree shall deem himself entitled to costs the matter will be considered and determined by the surrogate on two days' notice of adjustment. With said notice shall be served a statement showing the items of costs and disbursements to which the party may deem himself entitled, which disbursements shall be duly verified both as to their amount and necessity. The disbursements for referee's and stenographer's fees must be sustained by affidavits or detailed proof.

At the same time and on like notice the surrogate will pass upon any application for an additional allowance. Such application must be accompanied by an affidavit setting forth the number of days necessarily occupied in the hearing or trial, in preparing the account for settlement and in the preparation for the trial, the time occupied on each day in the rendition of the services, their nature and extent in detail, including the services necessarily rendered or to be rendered in the drawing, entering or excuting of the decree. In case such trial shall have been had before a referee the time necessarily occupied in such trial before him may be shown by a certificate of such referee.

RULE XXI.

Prior proceeding pending for probate or grant of letters. — No petition for the probate of a will or for the grant of letters of administration or of guardianship will be entertained during the pendency of a prior proceeding for the same or like relief respecting the same estate or fund or the estate or person of the same infant, except where there is unusual delay in prosecuting such proceeding, and then only upon application to the surrogate, with notice to the prior applicant.

RULE XXII.

Compromise. — Upon application for leave to compromise it should appear by the affidavit of the petitioner's attorney that he has investigated the subject-matter of the compromise or the facts of any alleged cause of action. If the attorney has become concerned in the application or its subject-matter at the instance of the party with whom the compromise is proposed, or at the instance of any representative of such party, that fact must be disclosed.

RULE XXIII.

Transfer tax proceeding. — Upon the filing of the appraiser's report in a transfer tax proceeding the surrogate will enter the order (upon the submission thereof) determining the value of the property and the amount of tax. The matter will not appear on the calendar at this stage, nor will the court then consider objections to the report.

A party having objections to the report, or the order entered thereupon, may, within sixty days, file a notice of appeal, which must specify the grounds of objection. Upon filing said notice of appeal with the clerk of the court, together with proof of service of said notice upon all parties that appeared before the appraiser, the proceeding will be placed upon the calendar for the next regular motion day without further notice.

Upon the return of the appraiser's notice of time and place of appraisal a special guardian will be appointed to protect the interests of infants if it appears that their rights are involved and they are not otherwise adequately represented.

Rules of Surrogate's Court, Bronx County.

(Adopted January 2, 1915; amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

Papers. — Every paper to be used in the court shall be indorsed with the title of the proceeding to which it relates, a description of the paper and the name and post office address of the attorney presenting it.

No paper on file shall be intrusted to any attorney, party or other person except for proper examination thereof in the clerk's office.

If any referee appointed by this court shall request the delivery to him of any such paper for use before him, the same shall be delivered to him by a messenger of the court upon his receipt therefor.

RULE II.

Service of process; proof of. — In all proceedings the proofs of service of process, notice of hearing, notices of motion and orders to show cause shall be filed on or before 1 o'clock of the day preceding the day therein named for the return day thereof.

RULE III.

Calendars. — A calendar of motions and of matters to be tried by the court without a jury will be called at 10 o'clock A. M. on Monday and Wednesday of each week, except in the month of August.

A term for the trial of controverted questions of fact with a jury, including contested probates, in which a jury trial of such questions has been ordered, shall begin on the first Monday of February, April, June, October and December. A calendar of such contested matters will be called on said first Monday and on each day thereafter while the court shall sit for the purpose. Such matters will then be tried in their order, unless adjournment is granted, upon proof of legal excuse. (As am'd Nov. 26, 1915.)

When all parties in interest have waived the service of citation all papers in the matter must be filed with the probate clerk at least two days before the day fixed for the taking of proof.

RULE IV.

Probate. — In a proceeding for the probate of a will not lost or destroyed, the will and a copy thereof shall be filed with the petition. The correctness of said copy shall be shown by the affidavit of two persons of full age, who shall have compared the copy with the original will.

RULE V.

Administration. — Upon an application for letters of administration, where it appears that an intestate was at the time of death the subject of a foreign power, notice of the application shall be given to the consul representing such foreign power.

RULE VI.

Guardianship. — A petition for the application by a guardian of an infant's property, or any portion thereof, to the support, maintenance and education of the infant, shall show that an annual accounting has been duly filed or that good cause exists for disregarding the omission.

The petition shall show the terms of any previous order for the application of any portion of the infant's property. And if no previous order has been made that fact shall be stated. When the infant is over fourteen years of age he shall join in, subscribe and verify the petition. When the application is made by a person other than the guardian of the property or a parent of the infant, the consent of such guardian or such parent shall be submitted or the application made on notice to him.

When an infant over fourteen years of age applies for the appointment of a special guardian, or where an infant appears by his general guardian, or where a lunatic, idiot or habitual drunkard appears by his committee, the general or special guardian or the committee shall show that such general or special guardian or such committee is competent to protect the rights of the infant or incompetent and has no interest adverse to that of the infant or incompetent and is not connected in business with any party to the proceeding or the attorney or counsel of such party. It must appear whether or not such general or special guardian or committee is entitled to share in the distribution of the estate or fund in which the infant or incompetent is interested, and if the general or special guardian or committee is in any way interested in the estate or fund, the nature of such interest must be disclosed.

No party to a proceeding will be appointed special guardian of any other party thereto. The petition for the appointment of such special guardian as well as the appearance filed by a general guardian of the infant must in every instance disclose the name, residence and relationship to the infant of the person with whom the infant is residing and whether or not said infant has a parent living. If a parent is living, it must be shown by the affidavit of the parent whether or not such parent has knowledge of and approves such application or appearance. In case the parent has an interest adverse to the infant, the petition on the application for the appointment of such special guardian must be accompanied by the affidavit of the parent, showing in addition to such knowledge aforesaid that such parent has not influenced the infant in the choice of the special guardian.

If the foregoing provisions of this rule are not strictly complied with the Surrogate will, on his own motion, appoint a special guardian for such infant or incompetent, as provided in § 2534, C. C. P., notwithstanding the application of such infant or the appearance by the general guardian or committee. (As am'd Sept. 18, 1915.)

RULE VII.

Accounting. — On an accounting by an executor, testamentary trustee or administrator with the will annexed, a sworn copy of the will shall be filed with the petition and account.

When an account is filed for settlement the accountant shall file therewith a copy of any statement of a claim which has been presented to him and allowed, and which remains unpaid.

RULE VIII.

Contested accounting; statement of items. — Before evidence is taken on a contested accounting the accountant shall present to the court a statement in writing of the items for which no voucher is filed, the items as to which he holds the affirmative, the objections which he concedes to be well taken, and the modifications of the account to which the parties consent, and the objectant shall present to the court a like statement of the objections which he withdraws.

RULE IX.

Contested accounting; service of copy of objections. — Upon a contested accounting any party interested, or a contesting creditor, shall serve a copy of his objections upon the accounting party, or upon his attorney in case he shall have appeared by attorney, within eight days after the filing of the account in the office of the clerk of the court where the accounting is a compulsory one, and within eight days after the return of the citation where the accounting is a voluntary one, or within such further or other time in either case as shall be allowed by the surrogate. The contest shall be confined to the items or matter so objected to. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court, by affidavit or petition, that an examination of the accounting party will be necessary to enable the contesting party to interpose his objections, such examination may be ordered by the court.

RULE X.

Settlement of account; how infant's interests protected. — In a proceeding for a judicial settlement of an account, wherein a special guardian shall be appointed to protect the interests of an infant party, no decree will be entered on default against such infant, but such decree shall be so entered only on the written report of the guardian appearing for such infant to the effect that he has carefully examined the account and finds it correct, and upon two days' notice of the settlement thereof to the guardian.

RULE XI.

Affidavit of regularity on accounting. — With every proposed decree on an accounting there must be submitted an affidavit of regularity, setting forth the necessary jurisdictional facts. A copy of the form of the affidavit required will be furnished by the clerk of the court.

RULE XII.

Trials by jury. — When on a contested probate the objections contain a demand for a trial of controverted questions of fact with a jury and when in any other proceeding such trial is demanded, the party making such demand shall pay a jury fee of $3 at the time of the demand and shall, within two days thereafter, serve on the opposing party or parties, with a two days' notice of settlement, a proposed order which, in addition to directing such trial with a jury, shall also state the questions of fact which he deems controverted and desires tried with a jury. And in default of the service of such order any opposing party may within three days after such demand is filed serve such proposed order stating the questions of fact, if any, which he deems controverted and desires tried with a jury with like notice of settlement.

RULE XIII.

Id.; notice of trial and note of issue; notice of hearing of objections on contested probates. — Notice of trial of such controverted questions of fact must be served at least fourteen days before the first day of the term at which the trial is to be had, and a note of issue stating in addition to the usual requirements the date of entry of the order directing the controverted questions of fact to be tried with a jury, must be filed at least twelve days before the first day of such term. Where a party has served a notice of trial and filed a note of issue, for a term at which the matter is not tried, it is not necessary for him to serve a new notice of trial, or file a new note of issue, for a succeeding term; and the matter will remain on the calendar until it is disposed of.

A petition for an order for notice of hearing under § 2618 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall in all cases where such notice is required be presented by the proponent within five days after the filing of the objections, and on his failure so to do any contestant may present such petition.

Notices of hearing of objections on contested probates where a jury trial has been demanded, as required by § 2618 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall specify as the day of trial the same date specified in the notice of trial.

RULE XIV.

Submission of papers to opposing counsel. — If upon a trial any party shall offer in evidence a paper in his control, without having before trial submitted the same to opposing counsel for inspection, the court may place the matter at the foot of the calendar or otherwise postpone the trial, in order that all papers intended for use on the trial, except such as may be reasonably reserved for the examination or contradiction of a witness, may be submitted to opposing counsel for inspection.

RULE XV.

Reports of referees. — When a referee's report is filed with the testimony said report shall be confirmed as of course, unless exceptions thereto are filed by any party interested within eight days after a written notice of such filing and a copy of such report has been served upon the opposing party; and in case exceptions are filed any party may bring on the hearing of the same on any stated motion day on eight days' notice.

RULE XVI.

Orders, decrees and settlement thereof. — Two days' notice of the settlement of an order on a litigated motion or of a decree or decision shall be given in writing to all the parties who have appeared by attorney in the proceeding in which such order, decree or decision is to be made, and to any special guardian appointed therein.

When a proposed order, decree or decision is served, with notice of settlement thereof, the party served shall not submit any complete substitute therefor, but may submit proposed amendments thereto, properly referring by page and folio to the papers sought to be amended and containing after each amendment a statement of the grounds therefor.

RULE XVII.

Miscellaneous. — No petition for the probate of a will or for the grant of letters of administration or of guardianship, or for the appointment of a testamentary trustee, will be entertained during the pendency of a prior proceeding for the same or like relief, respecting the same estate or fund, or the estate or person of the same infant.

RULE XVIII.

Notice of appearance. — A respondent who files an answer or objection shall file therewith a notice of appearance.

RULE XIX.

Reports of special guardians. — Special guardians shall file their reports within eight days from the time of their appointment, except where an answer is filed and an adjournment is had or the time to file the report is extended by order. Where a contest has taken place he shall file an affidavit stating in detail the work done by him and the number of days spent in its performance.

RULE XX.

Costs. — No costs will be allowed to the petitioner who takes proceedings to compel the filing of an inventory by an executor or administrator, unless such executor or administrator shall have unreasonably delayed to make and file such inventory after having been duly requested to do so by or in behalf of the petitioner.

Whenever a party to a decree shall deem himself entitled to costs, the application will be considered and determined by the surrogate on two days' notice of adjustment. With said notice shall be served a statement showing the items of costs and disbursements to which the party may deem himself entitled, which disbursements shall be duly verified, both as to their amount and necessity. The disbursements for referee and stenographer's fees must be sustained by affidavits or detailed proof.

At the same time, and on like notice, the surrogate will pass upon any application for an additional allowance. Such application must be accompanied by an affidavit setting forth the number of days necessarily occupied in the hearing or trial, in preparing the account for settlement and in the preparation for the trial; the time occupied on each day in the rendition of the services, their nature and extent in detail, including the drawing, entering or executing of the decree. In case such trial shall have been had before a referee, the time necessarily occupied before him may be shown by his certificate.

RULE XXI.

Compromise. — Upon application for leave to compromise the petitioner's attorney, if any, shall state the total amount of compensation he has received or is to receive from all sources; the net amount to be received by the petitioner as a result of the settlement; whether or not he has become concerned in the application or its subject-matter at the instance of the party with whom the compromise is proposed, and whether or not he has received or is to receive compensation from such party, and the amount thereof, if any.

Notice of the application must be given to the next of kin of the decedent of full age within the State who are entitled to share in the proceeds of the compromise, or the consent of such next of kin must be submitted with the application. (As am'd June 11, 1915.)

RULE XXII.

Transfer tax proceeding. — A special guardian will be appointed to protect the interests of infants upon the return of the appraiser's notice of time and place of appraisal, if it appears that their rights are involved and they are not otherwise adequately represented.

Upon the filing of the appraiser's report in a transfer tax proceeding the petitioner shall submit an order determining the value of the property and the amount of the tax in accordance with the said report; upon the failure of the petitioner so to do within five days after the filing of the report any other party to the proceeding may submit such order upon notice thereof to the petitioner. The surrogate, upon the presentation of such order, will immediately enter the same. The matter will not appear on the calendar at this stage, nor will the court then consider objections to the report.

A party having objections to the report or the order entered thereupon may, within sixty days after the entry of such order, file a notice of appeal. Said notice must specify the grounds of objection, be served upon all parties appearing before the appraiser and be filed, with proof of service, in the office of the clerk of the court. Thereupon the proceeding will be placed upon the calendar for a motion day not less than eight days after the date of the filing of the notice of appeal, and may be noticed for hearing on at least eight days' notice thereof. (As am'd April 26, 1915.)

Rules of Surrogate's Court,—Kings County.

(Amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

When court open; calendar days. — The Surrogate's Court is open for the transaction of business on every secular day as follows: From September 1 to June 30, from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M., except on Saturday; from July 1 to August 31, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M., except on Saturday; on Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 12 M.

RULE II.

Papers used in court, how endorsed. — Every paper to be used in the Court shall be endorsed with the title of the proceeding to which it relates, a description of the paper and the name and post-office address of the attorney presenting it.

RULE III.

Petitions; to be open to public inspection. — Every petition received in the office of the Court, unless an order to the contrary shall be endorsed thereon, shall be forthwith marked with the date of its receipt and placed in a repository suitably labelled and displayed. Until disposed of by the Court such petition shall there remain, open to the inspection of the public, except when removed for proper examination.

RULE IV.

When papers entrusted to attorneys or parties, or delivered to referees. — No paper in the office of the Court will be intrusted to any attorney, party or other person except for proper examination thereof in the said office.

If any referee appointed by this Court shall request the delivery to him of any such paper for use before him, the same shall be delivered to him upon his execution of a receipt therefor and by a clerk or messenger of the Court.

RULE V.

Probate proceeding; will or copy, when filed. — In a proceeding for the probate of a will, not lost or destroyed, a copy of the will shall be filed with the petition and on or before the return of the citation the original will shall be filed.

RULE VI.

Who to be cited, when more than one instrument is offered for probate. — Where two or more instruments are offered for probate, citation shall issue to each legatee, devisee or other beneficiary in being named or indicated in any one of such instruments, if any other of such instruments purporting to have been made after the instrument in which he is so named or indicated contains provisions which might adversely affect his interest.

RULE VII.

Letters of administration upon estates of foreigners. — Upon application for letters of administration, where it appears that an intestate was at death the subject of a foreign power whose Consul is entitled by treaty to the right of administration or intervention, notice of the application shall be given to the Consul whose right is concerned.

RULE VIII.

Prior proceeding pending for probate or grant of letters. — No petition for the probate of a will, or for the grant of letters of administration or of guardianship will be entertained during the pendency of a prior proceeding for the same or like relief respecting the same estate or the same infant.

RULE IX.

Copy of will to be filed with petition and account. — On an accounting by an executor, testamentary trustee or administrator with the will annexed, a copy of the will shall be filed with the petition and account.

RULE X.

Settlement of account; statement of unpaid claims. — When an account is filed for settlement, the accountant shall file therewith a copy of any statement of a claim which has been presented to him and allowed, and which remains unpaid.

RULE XI.

Proof of service of process or motion papers; when filed. — In all proceedings the proofs of service of process shall be filed on or before the day preceding the return, and the proofs of the service of any notice of motion or order to show cause shall be filed on or before the day preceding the day therein named for the hearing of a motion.

RULE XII.

Notice of appearance. — A respondent who files an answer or objection shall file therewith a notice of appearance.

RULE XIII.

Submission of papers to opposing counsel for inspection. — If upon trial any party shall offer in evidence a paper in his control, without having before trial submitted the same to opposing counsel for inspection, the Court will in a proper case place the cause at the foot of the calendar, or otherwise postpone the trial, in order that all papers intended for use on the trial, except such as may be reasonably reserved for the examination or contradiction of a witness, may be submitted to opposing counsel for inspection.

If any party shall offer in evidence any paper in his control without having previously submitted the same to opposing counsel for inspection, or if any party shall vexatiously question the authenticity of any paper which has been submitted to his counsel for inspection, the failure so to submit the paper or the making of such question will be regarded by the Court in the adjustment of costs or the consideration of any matter of discretion.

RULE XIV.

Trial of proceeding for accounting; statement of items to be presented. — At the opening of the trial of a proceeding for accounting the accountant shall present to the Court a statement in writing of the items for which no voucher is filed, the items as to which he holds the affirmative, the objections which he concedes to be well taken and the modifications of the account to which the parties consent; and the objectant shall present to the Court a like statement of the objections which he withdraws.

RULE XV.

Reports of special guardians. — Special guardians shall file their reports within eight days from the time of their appointment, except where an answer is filed and an adjournment is had, or the time to file the report is extended by order. The report or an accompanying affidavit must state in detail the work done and the number of days spent in its performance.

RULE XVI.

Allowance to accountant for services. — No allowance will be made to an accountant on the settlement of his account unless there is contained in or appended to his bill of costs a verified statement of the services for which he seeks allowance.

Such statement shall show in detail the number of days upon which services were rendered in preparing the account, the time occupied on each day in such services and the nature of such services.

If the accountant seeks allowance for services to be rendered in drawing, entering or executing the decree, such statement shall show the nature of such services.

RULE XVII.

Notice of settlement of orders, decrees, or decisions. — Two days' notice of the settlement of any order on a litigated motion or of any decree or decision in writing shall be given to all the parties who have appeared in the proceeding in which such order, decree or decision is to be made and to any special guardian appointed therein.

RULE XVIII.

Settlement of orders, decrees, or decisions. — When a proposed order, decree or decision shall be served, with notice of settlement thereof, the party served shall not submit any complete substitute therefor, but may submit proposed amendments thereto, properly referring by page and folio to the portions of the paper sought to be amended and containing after each amendment a statement of the grounds therefor.

RULE XIX.

When court sits for litigated business. — The Court will sit for the disposition of litigated business during the weeks commencing on the first, second and third Mondays of each month, except July, August and September, and during the week commencing on the third Monday of September.

RULE XX.

Calendar of returns of process and of motions; when called; adjournments. — A calendar of returns of process and of motions will be called on each secular day of the year except Friday and Saturday.

Upon the call of the Calendar on any day not appointed for the disposition of litigated business, all cases in which an issue is joined and all motions which are opposed, except such cases or motions as shall be submitted or specially set down for early hearing by order, shall be adjourned to a day thereafter appointed for the disposition of litigated business.

RULE XXI.

Calendar of cases for jury trial. — A Calendar of cases in which orders shall have been made for the trial of any question before the Court and a jury will be called on the first Monday of each month, except July, August and September, and on each day thereafter while the Court shall sit for the purpose. Such cases, so far as any question therein shall require trial by jury, will then be tried in their order unless adjournment is granted upon proof of legal excuse.

RULE XXII.

Calendar of motions, and of cases to be tried without a jury. — A Calendar of motions and of cases to be tried by the Court without a jury will be called on the third Monday of September and on the second Monday of each other month, except July and August, and on each day thereafter while the Court shall sit for the purpose. Such motions and cases will then be heard unless the Court is occupied with the Calendar of Jury Cases, or adjournment is granted upon proof of legal excuse.

RULE XXIII.

Order for trial by jury.—Where a trial by jury has been lawfully demanded, the order therefor shall state distinctly and plainly each question of fact to be tried and if the trial is to be had in the Surrogate's Court, the order shall set down the trial for a day therein appointed.

Such order must be submitted for settlement at the time of the demand for a trial by jury or in default thereof it may be thereafter settled at the instance of any party in the same manner as if it was an order upon a litigated motion.

RULE XXIV.

Principals and sureties on bonds and undertakings; how to qualify. — Principals and sureties upon bonds and undertakings, if natural persons, must appear and qualify at the same time before the Administration Clerk. No bond for a sum less than fifty dollars will be approved. No bond given by a surety company, the penalty of which is more than two thousand dollars, will be approved unless it shall be accompanied by the certificate of the surety that the principal has made an agreement with it for the deposit of the moneys and other depositable assets of the estate in the manner declared to be lawful by section 818 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and that such agreement has provided for such deposit with one or more depositaries previously designated in writing by the Surrogate.

RULE XXV.

Petition for application of infant's property to his support or education. — A petition for the application by a guardian of an infant's property or any portion thereof to the support or education of the infant shall show that an annual accounting has been duly filed or that good cause exists for disregarding the omission.

The petition shall show the terms of any previous order for the application of any portion of the infant's property. The order thereon shall state the period during which the application of the infant's property shall continue and if an order for its continuance for more than one year is sought the petition must show the circumstances which justify such order.

When the infant is over fourteen years of age he shall join in, subscribe and verify the petition, and when the petition is made by a person other than the guardian of the property, a copy of the petition, together with two days' notice of the time when it will be presented to the Court, shall be served upon such guardian.

RULE XXVI.

Application for leave to compromise. — Upon application for leave to compromise, the petitioner's attorney, if any, shall state whether or not he has become concerned in the application or its subject-matter at the instance of the party with whom the compromise is proposed and whether or not he has received or is to receive compensation from such party.

Rules of Surrogate's Court, Queens County.

(Adopted February 1, 1914; Amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

Business hours. — The Surrogate's office is open for the transaction of business, except on Sundays, Saturdays and Holidays, as follows: From September 1 to June 30, from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.; from July 1 to August 31, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.; on Saturdays from 9 A. M. to 12 M.

RULE II.

Calendar. — The regular calendar will be called at 10 A. M. on Tuesday of each week, except during the months of August and September.

A calendar of cases in which orders shall have been made for the trial of any controverted questions of fact by the court, with a jury, will be called on the last Tuesday of each month, except July, August, and September and on each day thereafter while the court shall sit for the purpose. Such cases will then be tried in their order unless adjournments be granted upon proof of legal excuse. (As am'd Feb. 11, 1915.)

RULE III.

Cases not answered. — Cases appearing on the calendar and not answered will be marked adjourned for one week; if not answered on the adjourned day they will be marked "off calendar" and can then be restored only upon two days' notice to, or the written consent of all parties.

RULE IV.

Proofs of service. — Proofs of service of citations or orders to show cause in all proceedings must be filed on or before the day next preceding the return day in order to have the cases placed on the calendar.

RULE V.

Form of papers. — All petitions, decrees, orders, objections and other papers must be written or printed in black ink and endorsed with the title of the proceeding, indicating the nature of the application, and the name and post office address of the attorney. A proposed order must not be attached to any other paper.

All petitions, bonds, proposed orders and other papers must be filed and entered in the office before being submitted to the Surrogate.

RULE VI.

Appearances. — Parties to proceedings may appear personally or by attorney. An attorney appearing for a party duly cited must file a written notice of appearance, and when appearing for a party not cited he must, in addition to the notice of appearance, file a written authorization from such party, duly executed and acknowledged as a deed to be recorded.

RULE VII.

Objections; trial by jury. — Objections in probate, accounting or other proceedings must be in writing, duly verified, and a copy must be served upon the petitioner, or upon his attorney, in case he has appeared by attorney.

Within five days after a jury trial has been demanded, the party making the demand shall present, on two days' notice of settlement to the attorneys of all parties who have appeared, a proposed order directing such trial which order shall state the controverted questions of fact to be tried by jury. If a party demanding a trial by jury should fail to serve and present such order, it may be presented by any party to the proceeding. (As am'd Feb. 23, 1915.)

RULE VIII.

Stipulations for adjournments. — Stipulations for adjournments must be in writing, signed by all parties who have appeared in the proceeding and filed on or before the day next preceding the date set for hearing.

RULE IX.

Probate proceedings. — In probate proceedings the original will and a sworn copy thereof must be filed with the petition, unless upon good cause shown by affidavit the Surrogate dispenses with the filing of the original will, in which case it must be filed at least two days before the return day of the citation.

RULE X.

Foreign wills. — All exemplified copies of foreign wills shall be accompanied by a petition and an order for recording the same.

RULE XI.

Letters of administration. — No letters of administration will be issued while another application for letters on the same estate is pending.

RULE XII.

Citizens of foreign countries. — Upon application for letters of administration, where it appears that an intestate was at the time of his death the subject of a foreign power whose Consul is entitled by treaty to the right of administration or intervention, notice of the application shall be given to the Consul whose right is concerned.

RULE XIII.

Contest of probate of will. — A party seeking to contest the probate of a last Will and Testament must file with the Clerk of the Court, a written and verified answer, containing a concise statement of the grounds of his objection to such probate, and any facts he may allege tending to establish a want of jurisdiction of the Court to hear such probate. In case such jurisdiction shall be denied or the right of any objecting party to appear and contest shall be questioned, the Court will first hear and pass upon the question of jurisdiction, or the status of the contestant, unless, for the convenience of the parties or the Court, it shall be ordered otherwise.

In all cases of contests in probate proceedings, the proponents shall, within five days after objections to the probate are filed, present a verified petition for and procure and enter an order directing notice of the time and place of hearing of such objections to be given, and prescribing the manner of giving such notice, to all persons in being who would take any interest in any property under the provisions of the will, and to the executor or executors, trustee or trustees named therein, if any, who have not appeared in the proceeding, as required by § 2617 of the Code, and such petition shall contain the names and addresses of such parties, and state whether any, and which of them, are infants or of unsound mind. In case the proponents shall not present such petition and enter such order within the time aforesaid, such petition may be presented and order entered by or on behalf of any party or parties interested in the estate.

RULE XIV.

Certain persons must be made parties in probate proceedings. — Whenever a party shall put in issue on probate the validity, construction, or the effect of any disposition of personal property under § 2624 of the Code, if it shall appear that all persons interested in such construction are not before the Court, the determination of such question shall be suspended until such persons shall be made parties; and the executor named in the will shall not be held to represent the legatees therein for the purpose of such construction.

RULE XV.

When person not executor entitled to costs. — Whenever any person shall appear in support of the will propounded under § 2617 of the Code, such person shall not thereby become entitled to recover any costs on the probate of said will unless it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the interest of such person was not sufficiently represented and prosecuted by the executor named in the will and his counsel.

RULE XVI.

Accounting. (Petition.) — When a petition for a voluntary accounting is presented the account and vouchers to which it relates shall be filed therewith.

RULE XVII.

Statement of unpaid claims. — When an account is filed for settlement, the accountant shall file therewith a copy of any statement of a claim which has been presented to him and allowed, and which remains unpaid.

RULE XVIII.

Account. (Copy of Will to accompany.) — On an accounting by an executor, testamentary trustee, or administrator with the will annexed, a copy of the will shall be filed with the petition and account.

RULE XIX.

Appointment of special guardian for infant. — In the absence of a petition by an infant over fourteen years of age for the appointment of a special guardian in any proceeding, the Surrogate will appoint a special guardian upon his own motion. No special guardian to represent the interest of an infant in any proceeding will be appointed on the nomination of the petitioner or his attorney, or upon the application of a person having an interest adverse to that of the infant. To authorize the appointment of a person as a special guardian on the application of an infant or otherwise in a proceeding in this Court, or to entitle a general guardian of such infant to appear for him in such proceeding, it must appear that such person, or such general guardian, is competent to protect the right of the infant, and that he has no interest adverse to that of the infant and is not connected in business with the attorney or counsel of any party to the proceeding. Whenever an infant interested in any proceeding in said Surrogate's Court has a general guardian no decree will be entered without appointing a special guardian to represent said infant's interest therein, unless such general guardian shall file his appearance in writing and his affidavit of no adverse interest, with the Clerk of said Surrogate's Court.

RULE XX.

Reports of special guardians. — Special guardians in accounting proceedings shall file their reports within five days from the time of their appointment, except where objections are filed and an adjournment is had, or their time to file report is extended by the Surrogate. The report or an accompanying affidavit must state in detail the work done and the number of days spent in its performance.

RULE XXI.

Bill of costs. — No allowance will be made to an accountant on the judicial settlement of his account unless the bill of costs contains a detailed statement of the days employed in connection with the account, showing the time occupied on each day in the rendition of the services, and their nature and extent in detail.

RULE XXII.

Notice of settlement of decree. — In a proceeding where a notice of appearance and demand has been filed, or a special guardian appointed, two days' notice of settlement of decree must be given, unless all parties who have appeared consent to the entry of the decree.

RULE XXIIa.

Proof, on an accounting, of having paid the transfer tax. — Where a representative of an estate is required by law to pay a transfer tax, no decree judicially settling the account of such representative will be entered in this court unless there has been filed in my office a receipt for the payment of such tax, sealed and countersigned as provided by § 236 of the Tax Law, or it has been shown that the estate is exempt from taxation. (Added Feb. 16, 1916.)

RULE XXIII.

Hearing of disputed claim. — Where the parties consent that the Surrogate may hear and determine a disputed claim against the estate of a decedent upon the judicial settlement of the account of an executor or administrator, as provided by § 1822 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the attention of the Court must be directed to this fact on filing the petition for accounting in order that the matter may be placed on the appropriate calendar.

RULE XXIV.

Amendment of proposed decree, etc. — When a proposed order, decree or decision shall be served, with notice of settlement thereof, the party served shall not submit any complete substitute therefor, but may submit proposed amendments thereto, properly referring by page and folio to the portions of the paper sought to be amended and containing after each amendment a statement of the grounds therefor.

RULE XXV.

Papers not to be removed from office. — No record or paper on file in this Court will be intrusted to the custody of the attorneys or parties, except for the purpose of proper examination, in the office where it is deposited; and if any such document or paper shall be needed before any Referee appointed by this Court, the same shall be entrusted to a Clerk or messenger of this Court and delivered to the Referee, who shall execute a receipt therefor, and for its redelivery.

RULE XXVI.

Allowance for support of infants. — No allowance will be made to infants for support or education under § 2846, Code of Civil Procedure, unless the petition shows that an annual accounting has been properly filed or good cause is therein shown why it has not been filed. The petition shall show also the terms of any previous order in the same estate, or, if none has been made, that fact shall be stated. Except in exceptional cases, an allowance will be made for the period of one year only, and the order must so provide. Where the infant is over fourteen years of age, he shall join in the petition; and when application is made by any person other than the guardian of the property it shall be made on at least two days' notice to such guardian.

RULE XXVII.

Motions for reargument. — All motions for reargument must be submitted on papers, showing clearly that some question decisive of the case, and which was presented by counsel upon the argument, has been overlooked by the Court; or that the decision is inconsistent with some statute, or with a controlling decision to which, through the neglect or inadvertence of counsel, the attention of the Court was not drawn.

RULE XXVIII.

Transfer Tax Proceeding. — 1. Upon the filing of the appraiser's report in a transfer tax proceeding the Surrogate will immediately enter the order determining the value of the property and the amount of tax. The matter will not appear on the calendar at this stage, nor will the Court then consider objections to the report.

2. A party having objections to the report, or the order entered thereupon, may, within sixty days, file a notice of appeal. Said notice to be served upon all parties appearing before the appraiser, and proof of service must be filed with the clerk, with the notice of appeal. Thereupon the proceeding will be placed upon the calendar for the next regular calendar day. This notice must specify the grounds of objection.

3. A special guardian will be appointed to protect the interests of infants upon the return of the appraiser's notice, if it appears that their rights are involved and they are not otherwise adequately represented.

4. A proposed order on a motion to exempt an estate from taxation, must be accompanied by a copy thereof.

Rules of the City Court of New York City.

(Adopted December 6, 1911, to take effect January 1, 1912. As amended to May, 1916.)

RULE I.

Trial terms. — Each trial term shall begin on the first Monday of the month for which it is assigned, and be continued until and including the Friday preceding the first Monday of the following month, unless the justice presiding shall continue the term. No Trial Term shall be held during the months of July, August and September, except as hereinafter prescribed. The justice assigned to the Special Term during the months of July, August and September, with a jury, or without where none is required by the parties, may try "marine cases" or any case in which the defendant may by order of a justice of this court be actually confined in jail and unable to furnish bail, and when the circumstances of the case are, in the judgment of said justice, such as to demand a speedy trial in furtherance of justice, and in such cases the justice assigned to the Special Term during those months may hold such trial in that branch of the court. (As am'd Jan. 1, 1916.)

RULE II.

Special calendar for short causes. — There shall be a Special Calendar to be called in Part I, Trial Term, for the trial of actions placed thereon, pursuant to the following direction: The justice assigned to Part I, Trial Term, shall send such causes as are placed on this Special Calendar to Part II, Trial Term, for trial. In case Part II shall not have business enough to occupy it during court hours, causes from the Regular Calendar at Part I shall be sent to it for trial. (In effect April 1, 1915.)

In actions on contract, of replevin, or for conversion, where a note of issue has been filed and the cause noticed for trial, either party may apply to the Special Term on two days' notice to the adverse party for an order placing the cause on the Special Calendar. Upon such application, if it satisfactorily appear by affidavit and the pleadings that the trial of the action will not occupy more than two hours and that no good reason exists why the same should not be promptly tried, the court may by order place the cause on the Special Calendar for trial. The order shall specify the number of the cause on the General Calendar, and a copy thereof must be filed with the calendar clerk. If the trial shall actually occupy more than two hours, the court may in its discretion send the cause to the foot of the General Calendar.

No action brought for the recovery of less than $250, which could have been brought in the Municipal Court of the City of New York, will be advanced to the Special Calendar.

All actions hereafter advanced to the Special Calendar shall be called and tried or otherwise disposed of in the order in which the same are placed thereon, unless postponed for legal cause shown by affidavit.

Subd. 2. Special Calendar for Commercial Causes. — In any action now on the General Calendar, or which may hereafter be placed thereon, wherein the plaintiff seeks to recover a specific sum of money upon a bond or undertaking or other written obligation or upon a negotiable instrument or for the rent or hire of real or personal property or for money had and received or for money loaned or for goods sold and delivered or on a guaranty, any party to a cause may upon proof of service of a copy thereof upon the attorneys for all parties who have appeared in the action file with the calendar clerk a notice to the effect that the cause is one of those enumerated hereinabove and that the same is moved as a Commercial Calendar cause, and thereupon the calendar clerk shall place the cause upon the Special Calendar for Commercial Causes in the order in which such notices are filed. Such calendar shall be called in Part III and the causes thereon tried and disposed of at Parts III and IV. If the party who has moved the cause as a Commercial Calendar Cause shall not be ready to proceed with the trial when the cause is called for trial, the court in its discretion may allow an adjournment or send the cause to the foot of the Trial Calendar or direct a dismissal or inquest or otherwise dispose of the same as justice may require. Whenever there shall not be sufficient causes on the Calendar for Commercial Causes to occupy the time of the courts held in Parts III and IV, causes shall be sent to such part or parts for trial from the Day Calendar by the justice holding Part I. (This subdivision in effect November 2, 1914.)

RULE III.

Preferred causes. — Application for a preference under section 791 of the Code of Civil Procedure must be made in Trial Term, Part I, and notice thereof served with the notice of trial, agreeably to section 793.

RULE IV.

Actions transferred from other courts. — In actions transferred to this court by consent from other courts of record, the party filing the order of transfer shall file with the clerk of this court engrossed copies of the summons and pleadings in such action, and the clerk shall, on filing such process and pleadings, enter said cause on the Trial Calendar.

RULE V.

Pleadings furnished to court; duty of attorney. — It shall be the duty of the attorney by whom the copy of the pleadings shall be furnished for the use of the court on a trial to plainly designate on each pleading the part or parts thereof which are claimed to be admitted or controverted by the succeeding pleading.

RULE VI.

Cases in which a new trial is ordered at appellate court. — In lieu of the pleadings in actions wherein a new trial is granted the party moving the case for trial must furnish the Justice with a printed copy of the appeal book and a copy of the opinion of the appellate court on whose order the case is remanded for the new trial.

RULE VII.

Marine cases. — Marine cases must be commenced (under the Code) by summons, and if the plaintiff applies for an order of arrest to accompany the summons it must be in the form and to the effect required by section 3178. The pleadings may be oral or in writing; if oral, the clerk must enter the substance thereof in the minutes. If a jury is demanded, the Justice presiding at Special Term may in his discretion transfer the action to any one of the Trial Terms or he may cause to be impanelled a jury for the purpose and try the cause at Special Term, and said tribunal is hereby declared to be a Trial Term for the special purpose of considering and determining such cases.

RULE VIII.

Jurisdiction. — Torts committed on board a foreign ship on the high seas must be considered as having occurred within the territorial limits of the foreign nation to which the vessel belongs, and the parties having the ship's equipage, though actually here, are still deemed within the foreign jurisdiction. In such case the court, having discretion to exercise the power, will decline jurisdiction unless it is made to appear either: First, that the plaintiff or defendant has been regularly discharged from his ship by competent authority; or, second, that either of the parties is a resident or citizen of the United States. In the excepted cases only will process be allowed.

RULE IX.

Special term for litigated motions; when held. — There shall be a Special Term of this court for the hearing of litigated motions, to commence on the first Monday of each month and to continue until the Friday preceding the first Monday of the succeeding month, which term shall be held every day, except Saturday, Sunday and legal holidays. Court shall open at 10 o'clock in the morning and shall continue until all business before the court has been disposed of. This Special Term shall be known as Special Term, Part I. During the months of July, August and September the Justice assigned thereto shall also be assigned to hold Special Term, Part II. Demurrers shall be heard and determined at Special Term, Part I, and may be brought on for hearing upon the usual notice of argument and the filing of the note of issue provided for in Rule XII.

RULE X.

Special term for ex parte business; time of sessions. — There shall be a Special Term of this court for the transaction of ex parte business, to be held on the first Monday of each month, and to continue to and including the Saturday prior to the first Monday of the following month. Court shall open at 10 o'clock in the morning and shall continue in session until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, except Saturday, on which day the court may be adjourned at 12 o'clock noon, and shall be open every day in the year except Sundays and legal holidays. This Special Term shall be known as Special Term, Part II. The Justice assigned to Special Term, Part II, shall also attend to the drawing of jurors for the Trial Terms of the City Court.

Nature of Motions and Proceedings to Be Determined at the Special Term for Ex Parte Business.

Application for all court orders, ex parte or by consent, or where notice is not required or has been waived, must be made to Special Term, Part II. All applications for judgment in actions where the defendant has failed to appear or has waived notice of motion for judgment or has consented thereto shall be made to Special Term, Part II. All orders for the examination of parties or witnesses in supplementary proceedings or to perpetuate testimony or for the examination of parties before trial shall be made returnable before the Justice assigned to hold Special Term, Part II. No ex parte order of reference in supplementary proceedings will be made by this court or any Justice thereof.

RULE XI.

Extension of time to answer. — No extension of time to answer for more than two days will be granted, unless upon notice to plaintiff's attorney.

RULE XII.

Daily motion calendar. — The clerk assigned to Special Term for litigated motions shall prepare a motion calendar for each day of the term, other than Saturdays, and place thereon all causes in which notes of issue have been filed not later than 4 P. M. of the day previous to the return day of the motion, and furnish a copy thereof to the New York Law Journal for publication. The Justice presiding at Special Term may add to the calendar on a day for which it is noticed any motion not appearing thereon. Motions must be made returnable at 10 A. M., at which hour the calendar will be called and defaults noted.

RULE XIII.

Order to punish for contempt in supplementary proceedings. — Orders in supplementary proceedings to punish a judgment debtor for contempt shall not be made returnable in less than three days from the time of service thereof.

RULE XIV.

Calendar practice: Trial calendar. — At least eight days before the first Monday of a trial term or whenever the justice assigned to Trial Term, Part I, shall direct, the calendar clerk shall prepare a Trial Calendar containing so many of the pending causes on the General Calendar as the justice holding Trial Term, Part I, shall direct, and such Trial Calendar shall be posted in the calendar clerk's office and published in the New York Law Journal four days preceding the day set for filing the notice hereinafter mentioned. Any party to a cause appearing on such Trial Calendar may serve notice on the calendar clerk and on the attorneys for the other parties to the cause at or before 4 o'clock on a day to be set, following not less than four days after the first publication of the calendar in the Law Journal, to the effect that the cause is to be marked ready for trial, but if no party shall serve such notice the cause shall be marked off and restored to the General Calendar and shall not be again published upon a Trial Calendar until the last number of such calendar which is marked ready shall have been reached on the Day Calendar for trial. Causes appearing more than three times upon the said Trial Calendar shall, unless such notice is served, be placed upon such future Trial Calendar as the justice assigned to Part I, Trial Term, may designate. (This paragraph amended September 1, 1914.)

Day calendar.—Said clerk shall make up a Day Calendar for each day from the causes for which a notice is served as aforesaid, upon which shall be placed all such causes marked ready from the previous Trial Calendars or remaining undisposed of from Trial Calendars theretofore posted and published. Such Day Calendar shall be called at Trial Term, Part I, of this court at 9:45 A. M. each day. Three causes therefrom shall be assigned to each of the several trial parts, except Part II, for trial. (This paragraph amended September 1, 1914.)

Equity Causes. — Equity causes for the foreclosure of mechanic's liens, and in the nature of interpleader, shall be placed upon the Equity Calendar upon five days' notice of trial and upon filing a note of issue therefor with the calendar clerk. Causes shall be placed on such calendar in the order in which notes of issue are received. Such calendar shall be called in Trial Term, Part III, on the second Monday of each term and the causes thereon shall be assigned for trial during the two latter weeks of the term at Trial Term, Part IV. All applications for postponement or delay of the trial of equity causes shall be governed by the rules applicable to causes on the Trial Term Calendar. (This paragraph added Sept. 1, 1914; amended Jan. 1, 1916.)

When a cause thus set down on the call calendar on any Friday as "ready" appears upon the day calendar, it must be tried or go to the foot of the general calendar, unless it appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the justice calling the day calendar that the trial cannot with justice to one of the parties proceed. The court may then by order set the cause down for trial on another day in the term or place the cause on the call calendar for a subsequent call.

In a cause upon the day calendar for trial, where it shall appear to the court by affidavit that counsel who is to try the cause is to argue a cause on the day calendar of the Supreme Court of the United States, or upon the day calendar of the Court of Appeals of the State of New York, or upon the day calendar in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, or is actually engaged in the trial of a cause in a court of record of the counties of New York or Kings, the cause shall be passed for the day, or until such argument or trial is concluded, unless the trial in which counsel is engaged is a protracted one. In no other event shall a cause upon the day calendar be passed for the day.

In no event shall a cause on the day calendar be passed from day to day on account of the engagement of counsel for more than two days. Not more than two causes shall be held "ready" on the day calendar for one counsel in addition to the cause in which he is engaged, and in all causes the counsel who is to try the same must be designated, if required by the court, on the call of the day calendar. Actions in which new trials are ordered will, upon application to the Special Term for Litigated Motions, upon two days' notice, be placed upon the call calendar without filing a new note of issue.

RULE XV.

Miscellaneous; fees paid to the clerk not returnable. — Fees paid upon filing notes of issue are, so soon as they reach the hands of the clerk, in the constructive possession of the City of New York, and it is made the official duty of that clerk to pay them, with other lawful fees collected by virtue of his office, into the city treasury.

RULE XVI.

Special rules concerning the duties and obligations of the clerk of the City Court of the city of New York. — 1. The clerk, on assuming office, shall make and file, in duplicate, his oath of office, one of which duplicates shall be filed in the office of the city clerk and the other in the clerk's office of this court, and give a bond as now prescribed by law.

2. The clerk, or, in his absence, the deputy, shall make statements in writing, duly verified by his oath, of all moneys received for fees or otherwise by him as said clerk, and shall pay into the Finance Department of the City of New York all such moneys so received by him for the use of or belonging to the city, as required by law; and these acts shall be done once in each and every month, and a duplicate of such statements in writing, also duly verified, shall be at the same time delivered to the chief justice of this court, or, in his absence, to the justice then presiding at the Special Term, Part II, accompanied by a voucher from the said finance department showing that such money has been actually so paid over after the auditing and approval of the monthly statement by the department.

RULE XVII.

Complaint dismissed at Trial Term; restoration. — Where a complaint is dismissed or an inquest allowed at a Trial Term, the cause will not be restored on consent of the parties, but the facts may be presented to the justice presiding in the part where the cause was disposed of, or at the Special Term, by motion for action thereon.

RULE XVIII.

Clerk to keep alphabetical index of actions and special proceedings; papers to be filed must bear index number. — The clerk of the City Court of the City of New York is hereby authorized to inaugurate and maintain in his office an alphabetical index of the actions and special proceedings commenced in the City Court, which shall be numbered consecutively for the year in which such action or special proceeding is commenced, and each pleading, order, affidavit, judgment, final order or other paper filed in such action or special proceeding shall be filed under the same number, so that in the index book provided for that purpose the record of the filing shall appear. After the action or special proceeding shall have received a number, each paper filed therein shall have indorsed thereon the number assigned thereto, and the clerk is authorized to refuse to receive or file any such pleading, order, affidavit or other paper, including the judgment roll or final order, upon which such number does not plainly appear.

RULE XIX.

Settlement of orders on remittitur. — At least three days' notice of settlement of all orders upon remittiturs from the Appellate Term and Appellate Division, Supreme Court, shall be given before presenting the same for signature and entry.

SPECIAL RULE.

Notes of issue. — Counsel are directed to file only typewritten notes of issue for motions or for trials. (Added June 2, 1914.)

[1] The former Municipal Court Act (L. 1902, c. 580), which will remain in force until August 31, 1915, will be found in the 1914 edition of this Code.

§ 1. The court and justices continued; term of office.

The municipal court of the city of New York, as it exists on the 31st day of August, 1915, shall be continued; provided, however, that from and after the first day of September, 1915, it shall be a court of record. The justices thereof in office when this act takes effect shall continue to hold office until the expiration of their respective terms. The successors of said justices shall be elected for terms of ten years by the electors of the several municipal court districts, as hereby constituted, at the general election to be held in the years at the end of which the respective terms of said justices shall expire.

§ 2. Qualifications and duties of justices; oath of office.

No one shall be eligible to the office of justice of this court, after the first day of September, 1915, unless he be a resident and elector in the district for which he shall be elected or appointed and shall have been an attorney and counselor-at-law of the state of New York for at least five years or unless he shall have served as a justice of such municipal court. No justice shall engage in any other business or profession, or hold any other public office, or act as referee or receiver, but each justice shall devote his whole time and capacity, so far as the public interest demands, to the duties of his office. Before entering upon his duties each justice elected or appointed pursuant to this act, shall take and file with the city clerk the oath of office prescribed by the constitution.

The justices may, by virtue of their offices, administer oaths, take depositions and acknowledgments within the city of New York, and certify the same in the manner and with like effect as justices of other courts of record.

§ 3. Salaries of justices.

The salary of each justice, except those appointed or elected from the boroughs of Queens and Richmond, shall be eight thousand dollars a year, to be paid in equal monthly installments by the proper officers of the city and the salary of each justice appointed or elected for the boroughs of Queens and Richmond shall be seven thousand dollars a year, to be paid in the same manner; provided, however, that whenever a justice elected or appointed for the borough of Queens or the borough of Richmond shall hold court in either of the boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn or The Bronx, he shall receive the additional sum of ten dollars for each day on which he shall so hold court, not exceeding, however, such sum as shall, together with his said salary, make the amount received by him in any one year equal to the salary of a justice of one of the other boroughs. Such additional sum shall be paid on the certification of the president of the board of justices that the holding of court by such justice was necessary, in consequence of the illness or necessary absence of the justice regularly assigned to hold the same, or on account of pressure of business.

§ 4. Vacancy in the office of justice.

A vacancy occurring in the office of justice of this court otherwise than by expiration of term, shall be filled at the next ensuing general election for the unexpired term commencing on the first day of January next after said election; and the mayor of the city of New York shall appoint a duly qualified attorney to fill such vacancy in the interim, within twenty days after the same occurs.

§ 5. [Am'd, 1916.] Districts and number of justices therein.

The several boroughs composing the city of New York are hereby divided into districts, in each of which sessions of the court shall be held, and justices shall hold office therein in number as follows:

a. In the borough of The Bronx there shall be two districts, as follows:

1. The first district embracing the territory described in chapter 934 of the laws of 1895; in which district there shall be one justice.

2. The second district embracing the remainder of said borough; in which district there shall be two justices.

b. In the borough of Manhattan there shall be nine districts, as follows:

1. The first district embraces the territory bounded on the south and west by the southerly and westerly boundaries of the said borough; on the north by the center line of Fourteenth street and the center line of Fifth street, from the Bowery to Second avenue; on the east by the center lines of Fourth avenue, from Fourteenth street to Fifth street, Second avenue, Chrystie street, Division street and Catharine street; in which district there shall be three justices.

2. The second district embraces the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Fifth street, from the Bowery to Second avenue, and on the south and east by the southerly and easterly boundaries of the said borough; on the north by the center line of East Fourteenth street; on the west by the center lines of Fourth avenue, from Fourteenth street to Fifth street, and of Second avenue, Chrystie street, Division street and Catharine street; in which district there shall be four justices.

3. The third district embraces the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Fourteenth street; on the east by the center line of Seventh avenue, from Fourteenth street to Fifty-ninth street, and by the center line of Central Park West, from Fifty-ninth street to Sixty-fifth street; on the north by the center line of Sixty-fifth street and the center line of Fifty-ninth street, from Seventh to Eighth avenues; on the west by the westerly boundary of the said borough; in which district there shall be two justices.

4. The fourth district embraces the territory bounded on the south by the center line of East Fourteenth street; on the west by the center line of Lexington avenue and by the center line of Irving place, including its projection through Gramercy park; on the north by the center line of Fifty-ninth street; on the east by the easterly line of said borough; excluding, however, any portion of Blackwell's island; in which district there shall be two justices.

5. The fifth district embraces the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Sixty-fifth street; on the east by the center line of Central Park West; on the north by the center line of One Hundred and Tenth street; on the west by the westerly boundary of said borough; in which district there shall be three justices.

6. The sixth district embraces the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Fifty-ninth street, and by the center line of Ninety-sixth street from Lexington avenue to Fifth avenue; on the west by the center line of Lexington avenue, from Fifty-ninth street to Ninety-sixth street, and the center line of Fifth avenue, from Ninety-sixth street to One Hundred and Tenth street; on the north by the center line of One Hundred and Tenth street; on the east by the easterly boundary of said borough; including, however, all of Blackwell's island and excluding any portion of Ward's island; in which district there shall be two justices.

7. The seventh district embraces the territory bounded on the south by the center line of One Hundred and Tenth street; on the east by the center line of Fifth avenue to the northerly terminus thereof, and north of the northerly terminus of Fifth avenue, following in a northerly direction the course of the Harlem river on a line coterminous with the easterly boundary of said borough; on the north and west by the northerly and westerly boundaries of said borough; in which district there shall be three justices.

8. The eighth district embraces the territory bounded on the south by the center line of One Hundred and Tenth street; on the west by the center line of Fifth avenue; on the north and east by the northerly and easterly boundaries of said borough, including Randall's island and the whole of Ward's island; in which district there shall be two justices.

9. The ninth district embraces the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Fourteenth street and by the center line of Fifty-ninth street, from the center line of Seventh avenue to the center line of Central Park West; on the east by the center line of Lexington avenue and by the center line of Irving place, including its projection through Gramercy park, and by the center line of Fifth avenue, from the center line of Ninety-sixth street to the center line of One Hundred and Tenth street; on the north by the center line of Ninety-sixth street, from the center line of Lexington avenue to the center line of Fifth avenue, and by One Hundred and Tenth street, from Fifth avenue to Central Park West; on the west by the center line of Seventh avenue and Central Park West; in which district there shall be four justices.

c. [Am'd, 1916.] In the borough of Brooklyn there shall be seven districts, as follows: [1]

1. The first district embraces the territory bounded by and within the following: The center line of Flushing avenue from Washington avenue to Navy street; the westerly side of the United States navy yard from Flushing avenue to the point where it touches the waters of Wallabout channel; a line drawn from the said point to and along the center line of the southwesterly branch of the Wallabout channel from the said point to the westerly boundary of said borough; the

[1] In L. 1916, c. 479, amending this subdivision, it is further provided as follows: "This act shall not affect any action or proceeding in the municipal courts as presently constituted, now pending, or affect any of the districts mentioned in said section c of said act before this amendment thereof, or affect in any wise the justices of the districts now existing who shall until the expiration of their respective terms be and continue as justices of said court for the districts for which they were elected, and of the districts by this act territorially changed and altered bearing the same number as that in and for which they were respectively elected. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed."

Am'd by L. 1916, c. 479 (in effect May 9, 1916).

§ 6. Jurisdiction.

The municipal court of the city of New York shall have jurisdiction:

1. Of the following actions when the amount claimed in the summons does not exceed one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest and costs: an action upon a contract, express or implied, other than a contract to marry; an action to recover a fine or penalty; an action to establish a mechanic's lien on real property and to recover a personal judgment for the amount due; an action to foreclose a lien on a chattel; an action to recover damages for an escape from the jail liberties of any county within the city of New York; an action to recover damages for fraud or deceit, or for a personal injury or an injury to property, except actions to recover damages for assault, battery, malicious prosecution, false imprisonment, libel, slander, criminal conversation, seduction, or loss of society of husband or wife; an action to take, state and determine the account between partners after dissolution or other termination of their partnership relation, and to render judgment for the amount so found to be due, but in no event for more than one thousand dollars.

2. Of the following actions and proceedings: an action to recover a chattel or chattels the aggregate value of which does not exceed one thousand dollars, with or without damages for the taking or detention thereof; a summary proceeding authorized by the code of civil procedure to recover possession of real property situated wholly or partly within the district where the application is made, and in such a proceeding it shall not be necessary for the court to sign the warrant, but it may be signed by the clerk; an action in behalf of the people of the state or the city of New York, brought by the direction of a commissioner of public charities or an overseer of the poor, upon a bastardy or abandonment bond; an action upon the bond of a marshal of the city of New York.

3. To issue or vacate a requisition to replevy, a warrant of attachment, a warrant to seize a chattel and an order of arrest; to grant or vacate a stay of execution or of other proceedings, including a warrant in summary proceedings to recover possession of real property, provided that in summary proceedings no stay shall be granted for more than five days; to render judgment in an action, or to make a final order in a summary proceeding, upon confession or upon the consent of both parties.

4. Of actions and summary proceedings, within the foregoing limitations, by or against the city of New York; by or on behalf of the people of the state of New York; by or against a domestic corporation or a foreign corporation; by or against a domestic or foreign executor or administrator in his representative capacity; by or against a committee of an incompetent.

5. Of actions and proceedings of which the municipal court of the city of New York had jurisdiction on the 31st day of August, 1915.

6. To provide systems of conciliation and arbitration and to enter judgment upon an award of arbitrators.

7. To open a default; to direct or set aside a verdict; to vacate, amend, correct or modify any process, mandate, judgment, order or final order, in furtherance of justice, for any error in form or substance; to grant a new trial upon any of the grounds for which a new trial may be granted by the supreme court in an action pending therein, including the grounds of fraud and newly discovered evidence.

§ 7. Board of justices.

1. The justices of this court shall constitute the board of justices and shall discharge the functions thereof. They shall elect from their own number a president of the board of justices, and may at pleasure remove him and elect a successor in his place. The meetings of the board shall be public, and, so far as practicable, shall be held at regular intervals; and all its proceedings shall be recorded by its secretary and shall be preserved. A majority of all the members of the board shall constitute a quorum. The board may by resolution provide for the conduct of its meetings, the keeping and preservation of its minutes and the public inspection thereof at reasonable times; for the order of judicial business, the manner of its discharge and the maintenance of order in and about the courts; for the establishment of parts of the court and for the yearly assignment of justices to hold the several parts so established; provided, however, that no justice shall sit in any one district for two successive months, or in the borough of Manhattan for more than three months in any one year, or in the other boroughs for more than the minimum number of months under a system of complete rotation by the justices within such boroughs respectively.

3. The president of the board of justices shall preside and be entitled to a vote at all meetings of the board. In addition to all the other powers of a justice, he shall exercise general supervision of the business of the court and have such other powers as may be conferred by resolutions of the board. He shall, whenever he deems it necessary for the prompt disposition of business, assign, in the borough from which he was elected, any justice temporarily to hold court in any district in said borough other than that in which he had been assigned by the board, and may assign a justice, with his consent, regardless of borough lines, to any district within the city, and transfer cases for trial from one district to another in the same borough. The acts or directions of the president of the board of justices may be vacated, amended or modified by a majority vote at a regular or special meeting of the board.

4. The board of justices may designate a clerk of said court for one of said districts to act as secretary of said board and from time to time substitute another and fix a compensation to be paid for such service, not exceeding the sum of one thousand dollars per annum. The secretary of the board of justices shall have charge of such administrative work and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the board. He shall maintain an office where he shall keep such records as the board may direct.

§ 8. Rules of court.

The board of justices may adopt and amend rules relating to the following subjects:

1. The hours during which the court shall be open.

2. The duties of the secretary of the board, clerks, deputy-clerks, assistant clerks, stenographers, interpreters, attendants and employees; the manner of keeping records and papers, the collection and disposition of moneys and accounts thereof.

3. The forms and practices of the court, including forms of pleading and all matters of procedure not specifically provided for in this act.

4. The calendar practice and the designation of a part or parts of the court where special classes of cases shall be brought or tried,

5. The establishment of a system of conciliation whereby controversies may be submitted by consent of the parties to a justice of the court for informal hearing and decision without entry of judgment.

6. The establishment of a system of arbitration and the procedure thereof.

Such rules shall be submitted to the presiding justices of the appellate divisions of the supreme court for the first and second departments, or to the justices presiding therein, and, when approved by them, shall have the force of law.

§ 9. Death or removal of justice not to affect proceedings.

No process, action, judgment, execution or proceeding shall abate or be discontinued by reason of the death, removal from office or vacancy in office of any justice, but another justice shall proceed to hear, try, determine and give judgment in and upon the same, and upon all matters and things pending and undecided or not acted upon.

§ 10. Time and place of holding court.

It shall be the duty of the commissioners of the sinking fund to provide a suitable place for holding court in each district in the city of New York; and more than one place in any district may be provided by them if the board of justices shall certify that the public convenience requires such additional places.

The justices assigned by the board of justices shall hold court in one or more parts in each district as established, and on such days as fixed, by said board and at the places provided by the commissioners of the sinking fund. In each district in the boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn, and in the second district of the borough of The Bronx, on every day of the year except Saturdays, Sundays, legal holidays and during the months of July and August, at least one part of the court with a justice in attendance shall be open for the transaction of judicial business. During the months of July and August the court in each district shall be in session for at least two days in each week and shall try summary proceedings, actions for wages and, on good cause shown, other actions where the rights of the parties may be jeopardized by delay, and such other actions as the court may deem proper to be tried.

§ 11. Seals.

The court in each district shall have an official seal on which shall be engraved the arms of the state of New York, the name of the court, the borough and the district. Such seals shall be furnished at the expense of the city of New York.

§ 12. Access to court houses; expenses of court, how paid.

The justices of the court shall have access to and possession of the court houses. It shall be the duty of the board of aldermen of the city of New York and its several officers charged with duties in that behalf, to supply and pay for whatever may be necessary for the transaction of the business of said court and the justices thereof, to supply all proper accommodations, books, stationery and furniture, and to pay all salaries, compensations and expenses and disbursements herein authorized; and the board of estimate and apportionment shall annually include in its final estimate such sums as may be necessary to pay the same.

§ 13. Criminal and civil contempt.

All of the provisions of the judiciary law relating to civil and criminal contempts shall apply to this court, except subdivision 7 of section 753 of said law and except that the provisions of said law relating to sheriffs shall apply to marshals, subject to the provisions of section 151 of this act.

§ 14. Process; where service may be made.

The court shall have power to send its process and other mandates in an action or special proceeding of which it has jurisdiction to any part of the city of New York for service or execution, and to enforce obedience thereto, and the power and authority of said court extends to the whole of said city of New York, except as otherwise expressly prescribed in this act.

§ 15. Conformity to supreme court practice.

Except as otherwise provided in this act or in the rules, the practice, pleadings, forms and procedure in this court shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the practice, pleadings, forms and procedure existing at the time in like causes in the supreme court, any statutory limitations, heretofore enacted, to the contrary thereof notwithstanding.

TITLE II.

Venue and commencement of actions; parties.

Sec. 17. Venue.
18. Commencement of action.
19. Requisites of summons.
20. Form of summons.
21. Method of serving summons.
22. Who may serve summons or precept; proof of service.
23. Substitutes for personal service of summons.
24. Endorsement upon summons in action for penalty.
25. Endorsement upon summons for execution against the person.
26. Guardian ad litem.
27. Joinder of parties; interpleader.
28. Prosecuting or defending as a poor person.

§ 17. Venue.

1. An action must be brought in a district in which either the plaintiff or defendant or one of the plaintiffs or one of the defendants resides, unless all the plaintiffs or all the defendants reside out of the city of New York, in which case the action may be brought in any district; but an action brought by the assignee of the cause of action shall, upon the demand of a defendant made as provided in subdivision two of this section, be transferred to the district in which the defendant resides, and the court must make an order for such transfer, as provided in said subdivision. The district in which is situated the place for the regular transaction of business of an individual who does not reside in the city of New York, and the place where a corporation transacts its general business or keeps an office or has an agency established for the transaction of business, or is established by law, shall be deemed the place of residence under the provisions of this section. The city of New York may sue or be sued in any district, except as provided in subdivision three of this section.

2. If the action is brought in the wrong district, it may nevertheless remain there unless the defendant demands that it be transferred. Such demand must be made in writing and filed with the clerk before or at joinder of issue and must specify the district to which the defendant desires the action to be transferred and facts under oath showing that such district is the proper one. The court must thereupon transfer the action to the proper district, and may in its discretion impose five dollars costs against the plaintiff.

3. All actions by or on behalf of the city of New York, or any department thereof, to recover a fine or penalty, must be brought in the district where the violation of law occurred.

4. An action or special proceeding may upon consent be transferred by the court to a district other than that in which it is pending.

5. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the board of justices from designating a part or parts of the court where special classes of cases shall be brought or tried, or the president of the board of justices from transferring cases from one district to another in the same borough.

§ 18. Commencement of action.

An action must be commenced by the service of summons or by the voluntary joinder of issue by the parties; but for the purpose of saving a cause of action from the operation of the statute of limitations an attempt to commence an action is equivalent to the commencement thereof when the summons is issued by the clerk, provided that actual service thereof is made with due diligence.

§ 19. Requisites of summons.

The summons must be addressed to the defendant by name, or, if his name is unknown, by a fictitious name, and must summon him to appear before the clerk of the court within five days from the date of service, exclusive of the day of service, and make answer to the complaint. If no written complaint is served with the summons, the plaintiff, or, in case of his inability to do so, the clerk, must indorse upon or attach to the summons a brief statement of the nature and substance of the cause of action, and the summons must state the amount for which the plaintiff will take judgment if the defendant fails to appear and make answer. The address of the plaintiff must be stated on the summons. The summons must be subscribed and issued by the clerk of the court of the district where the application for the summons is made, or by the plaintiff's attorney in his own name. When the summons is issued by the plaintiff's attorney, he must add to his signature his office and post-office address.

§ 20. Form of summons.

The summons must be in substantially the following form, the blanks being properly filled:

MUNICIPAL COURT OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

BOROUGH OF....., DISTRICT.

plaintiff, against
.....
defendant.

To the above-named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to appear in this action in the municipal court of the city of New York, borough of....., ... district, before the clerk of the said court at his office at....., in the borough of ....., in the city of New York, within five days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of service, and to make answer to the complaint; and if you fail to make answer, judgment will be taken against you for the sum of $....., with interest thereon from the..... day of....., 19.., together with the costs of this action.

Dated, New York city, the....day of....., 19...

....., or .....,
Attorney for the plaintiff. Clerk.
(Office and post-office address.)
Plaintiff's address.....

§ 21. Method of serving summons.

1. The summons may be served upon the defendant within the city of New York in like manner as though the summons issued out of the supreme court, except as otherwise provided in this act or in the rules, provided that it shall not be served by publication.

§ 22. Who may serve summons or precept; proof of service.

1. Personal service of summons or service of a precept in summary proceedings shall be made by a marshal or by any other person over the age of eighteen years and not a party to the action.

2. Proof of service shall be made by the certificate of the marshal or by the affidavit of the person by whom the service was made; and such certificate or affidavit shall be indorsed upon or annexed to the summons or precept.

3. Within two days after service, the summons, or the summons and complaint if the complaint was served with the summons, must be filed with proof of service in the office of the clerk in the district where the action is pending.

§ 23. Substitutes for personal service of summons.

An order for the service of a summons upon a defendant residing within the city of New York may be made by the court in the district in which the action is brought, upon satisfactory proof, by the affidavit of a person not a party to the action, that proper and diligent effort has been made to serve the summons upon the defendant, and that the place of his sojourn cannot be found, or if he is within the city that he avoids service so that personal service cannot be made. The contents of the order, the method of service of the summons, the proof of service thereof, and the method of filing the order and the papers on which it was granted shall be the same as though the summons were issued out of the supreme court, unless otherwise provided by the rules; except that the service must be made and the order and papers filed with the clerk within five days after the order is granted. On filing proof of due service, the summons is deemed served, and the same proceedings may be taken thereupon as if personal service thereof had been made, except that no execution against the person shall issue upon a judgment entered upon such service.

§ 24. Endorsement upon summons in action for penalty.

If no written complaint is delivered to the defendant in an action for a penalty or forfeiture, the summons and the copy thereof delivered to the defendant must bear an endorsement substantially in the following form: "according to the provisions of," adding such a description of the section of the statute or ordinance as will identify it with convenient certainty.

§ 25. Endorsement upon summons for execution against the person.

If no verified complaint is served with the summons in an action where execution against the person may issue upon the judgment, the summons and the copy delivered to the defendant must bear an indorsement substantially in the following language:

"Plaintiff claims defendant is liable to arrest and imprisonment in this case."

§ 26. Guardian ad litem.

When a guardian is necessary he must be appointed by the court as follows:

1. If the infant is plaintiff, the appointment must be made before the summons is issued, upon the application of the infant, if he is of the age of fourteen years or upwards; if under that age, upon the application of some relative or friend. The consent in writing of the guardian to be appointed and to be liable for costs if he fails in the action, must be filed with the clerk of the court in the district where the action is brought, except that the guardian shall not be liable for costs where the plaintiff has received leave to prosecute as a poor person.

2. After the filing of proof of service of the summons against an infant defendant, no other proceeding shall be taken in the action until a person has been appointed as his guardian for the purpose of the action. Upon the nomination of the defendant, the court must appoint a proper person for that purpose, but if the defendant neglects or refuses to nominate, the court may, on application of the plaintiff, appoint any proper person as a guardian upon the filing of such person's written consent with the clerk. The guardian so appointed is not responsible for costs.

3. Where no guardian has been appointed, as in this section provided, the court shall, at any time before judgment, make such appointment. The guardian so appointed is not responsible for costs.

§ 27. [Am'd, 1916.] Joinder of parties; interpleader.

1. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this act, all questions as to the joinder of parties shall be determined by the provisions of law applicable to like cases in the supreme court.

2. No action shall be defeated by the nonjoinder or misjoinder of parties. The names of new parties may be added and the names of parties misjoined may be struck out, by order of the court, at any stage of the cause and upon such terms as justice may require.

3. Upon the application of the defendant in an action brought to recover upon a contract or to recover a chattel, the court may make an order of interpleader or an order joining adverse claimants as parties defendant, according to the provisions of law applicable to like cases in the supreme court.

4. [Added, 1916.] The deposition of a party to an action in this court or of a person who expects to be a party to an action about to be brought in this court may be taken at his own instance or at the instance of an adverse party, or by a co-plaintiff or co-defendant at any time before or during the trial, in the same manner as such depositions are taken under the provisions of law applicable to like cases in the supreme court.

Am'd by L. 1916, c. 610 (in effect Sept. 1, 1916).

§ 28. Prosecuting or defending as a poor person.

Except as otherwise expressly provided in this section or in the rules of the court, a person may obtain leave to prosecute or defend an action as a poor person and to have an attorney assigned to conduct his case, in accordance with the provisions of law applicable to like cases in the supreme court. The petition for such leave may be verified before the clerk of the court in the district where the action is brought, and the certificate of the clerk that he has inquired into the facts of the case and that in his opinion the plaintiff has a prima facie cause of action or that the defendant has a prima facie defense, as the case may be, shall have the same force and effect as the certificate of an attorney.

TITLE III.

Provisional remedies and actions to foreclose liens on chattels.

Article 1. Arrest.
2. Attachment.
3. Replevin.
4. Action to foreclose a lien on a chattel.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Arrest.

Sec. 29. Grounds of arrest.
30. Procedure.
31. Return of summons; directions in order.
32. Proceedings after arrest; detention of defendant; adjournment of trial.
33. Plaintiff to be notified of arrest.
34. Discharge on giving bail or making deposit; bond for jail liberties.
35. Qualifications of bail.
36. Papers to be delivered by marshal; notice of rejection of bail; notice of justification of bail.
37. Discharge on motion.
38. Motion to reduce bail or to increase security given by plaintiff.

§ 29. Grounds of arrest.

A defendant may be arrested in any case of which this court has jurisdiction and in which he might be arrested were the action brought in the supreme court.

§ 30. Procedure.

The procedure in cases of arrest, including the charging and exoneration of bail, shall conform as nearly as may be to the procedure in like cases in the supreme court, except as otherwise provided in this title; and the provisions applicable to a sheriff in such cases shall apply to the marshal. The order of arrest must be issued by the clerk when granted by the court or a justice thereof.

§ 31. Return of summons; directions in order.

When an order of arrest is issued to accompany the summons, the summons must be made returnable to the court immediately upon the arrest; the order of arrest must so direct and must fix the sum in which the defendant may be let to bail.

§ 32. Proceedings after arrest; detention of defendant; adjournment of trial.

1. The marshal, upon arresting the defendant by virtue of such an order, must at the same time serve upon him the summons and a copy of the order of arrest and of the papers upon which it was granted. Unless bail is given or the deposit made as prescribed by law, the marshal upon arresting the defendant must take him forthwith before the court in the district where the action is pending; but if the court is not then in session, he must take him to the jail of the county embracing said district, to be kept there until the next day when the court is in session, on which day the marshal must take him before the court; and thereafter the defendant must be kept in the jail until discharged by law, except that the court or a justice thereof must direct that he be brought into court at the trial and may direct that he be brought into court at any other time.

2. The detention of the defendant shall in no case exceed two days, excluding Sundays and legal holidays, from the time of his first being taken before the court, unless within that time the trial of the action is commenced and continued without unnecessary interruption or unless an adjournment is granted at the defendant's request. An adjournment for more than two days may be granted on application of the plaintiff, provided that the defendant be discharged from custody, in which event the action may proceed and the defendant will be liable to arrest on execution if judgment is recovered against him.

§ 33. Plaintiff to be notified of arrest.

The marshal making the arrest must immediately give notice thereof to the plaintiff and indorse on the order of arrest and subscribe a certificate, stating the time of serving and of giving notice to the plaintiff.

§ 34. Discharge on giving bail or making deposit; bond for jail liberties.

A defendant may be discharged from arrest by giving bail or depositing the sum of money specified in the order of arrest, or, when actually confined in jail by virtue of an order of arrest and judgment has been rendered in the action, he may at his election be admitted to the liberties of the jail on giving the necessary undertaking therefor, whether execution against his person has issued or not.

§ 35. Qualifications of bail.

The qualifications of bail shall be the same as those prescribed in like cases in the supreme court, except that each of them must be a resident of and a freeholder or a householder within the city of New York.

§ 36. Papers to be delivered by marshal; notice of rejection of bail; notice of justification of bail.

1. Within two days after bail is given the marshal must deliver to the plaintiff or his attorney copies certified by the marshal of the order of arrest, return and undertaking.

2. Notice that plaintiff does not accept the bail must be served upon the marshal within two days after said copies are delivered. Notice of justification of bail must be served within two days after the notice aforesaid, and the time of justification shall be not more than three days after the service of the notice thereof.

§ 37. Discharge on motion.

The defendant may move for his discharge from arrest as follows:

1. Without notice, on the plaintiff's appearance in court.

2. On two days' notice, at any time before judgment.

3. On one day's notice, if the plaintiff fails to issue execution within twenty-four hours after he is entitled to do so.

§ 38. Motion to reduce bail or to increase security given by plaintiff.

A motion to reduce the amount of bail or to increase the amount of the security given by the plaintiff, or both, may be made by the defendant on two days' notice at any time before judgment.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Attachment.

Sec. 39. In what actions granted.
40. Grounds; affidavit.
41. Issuance and contents of warrant.
42. Undertaking by plaintiff.
43. Execution of warrant; inventory.
44. Property subject to levy.
45. Manner of making levy; effect of levy and certificate of sale.
46. Certificate of defendant's interest in property.
47. Actions by marshal.
48. Service of summons, warrant and inventory.
49. Undertaking by defendant to reclaim property.
50. Claim by third person; bond and delivery thereupon.
51. Judgment on bond.
52. Action on undertaking when warrant vacated.
53. Return by marshal attaching.
54. Vacating or modifying warrant and increasing security.
55. Judgment when summons not personally served.
56. Exception to and justification of sureties; reclaimer of attached property.

§ 39. In what actions granted.

In an action of which this court has jurisdiction, a warrant of attachment against the property of one or more defendants may be granted on the application of the plaintiff, if such a warrant might be granted were the action brought in the supreme court.

§ 40. Grounds; affidavit.

To entitle the plaintiff to a warrant of attachment he must show by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court:

1. That a cause of action for which a warrant of attachment may be granted exists against the defendant; and if the action is based upon a breach of contract, that the plaintiff is entitled to recover a sum stated, in excess of all counterclaims known to him.

2. That the defendant is either a foreign corporation or not a resident of the state; or, if the defendant is a natural person and a resident of the city of New York, that he has departed or is about to depart therefrom with intent to defraud his creditors or to avoid the service of a summons, or keeps himself concealed with the like intent; or, if the defendant is a natural person or a domestic corporation, that he or it has removed or is about to remove property from the city of New York with intent to defraud his or its creditors, or has assigned, disposed of or secreted, or is about to assign, dispose of or secrete property with the like intent; or, where for the purpose of procuring credit or the extension of credit, the defendant has made a false statement in writing under his own hand and signature, or under the hand and signature of a duly authorized agent made with his knowledge and acquiescence, as to his financial responsibility or standing; or, that the defendant, being a natural person of full age and a resident of the state, has been continuously without the state for the space of six months or more immediately before the application, and either that he has not made a designation of a person upon whom to serve a summons in his behalf as prescribed in section 430 of the code of civil procedure, or that a designation so made no longer remains in force.

The affidavit must be filed in the office of the clerk of the court in the district in which the action is brought.

§ 41. Issuance and contents of warrant.

The warrant may be granted by the court or a justice thereof and must be issued by the clerk, when the summons is issued or at any time after the commencement of the action and before final judgment. It must briefly recite the grounds of the attachment and must require the marshal to whom it is delivered to attach and safely keep so much of the defendant's personal property as will satisfy the plaintiff's demand, together with the costs and expenses of the action, and forthwith make return of his proceeding thereon to the court. The amount of the plaintiff's demand must be specified in the warrant.

§ 42. Undertaking by plaintiff.

Before granting the warrant the court or a justice thereof must require the plaintiff to give an undertaking to the defendant, with one or more sureties approved by the court or a justice thereof to the effect that if the defendant recovers judgment or the warrant of attachment is vacated, the plaintiff will pay all costs which may be awarded to the defendant and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking, which must be at least twice the amount of the plaintiff's demand as stated in the warrant and in no case less than two hundred dollars, and that if the plaintiff recovers judgment he will pay to the defendant all money received by him from property taken by virtue of the warrant or upon any bond given therefor, above the amount of the judgment and interest thereon.

§ 43. Execution of warrant; inventory.

The marshal to whom the warrant of attachment is delivered must obey the directions therein contained and must immediately make an inventory of the property attached, stating therein the estimated value of each article or item.

§ 44. Property subject to levy.

An attachment may be levied upon any property within the city of New York upon which an attachment may be levied in an action in the supreme court, except real property and interests therein.

§ 45. Manner of making levy; effect of levy and certificate of sale.

The manner of making the levy, the effect thereof and the effect of the marshal's certificate of sale, shall be governed by the provisions applicable to like cases in the supreme court.

§ 46. Certificate of defendant's interest in property.

Upon application of a marshal holding a warrant of attachment, a certificate of the defendant's interest in property or in a debt or demand owing to him must be furnished to the marshal, and a person may be ordered to attend before the court and submit to an examination in respect thereto, according to the provisions applicable to like cases in the supreme court.

§ 47. Actions by marshal.

The duties and powers of a marshal with respect to the collection of debts, effects and things in action attached by him, and with respect to the maintenance by him of actions and special proceedings to reduce personal property to his possession, shall be the same as those of a sheriff, subject to the provisions of section 151 of this act.

§ 48. Service of summons, warrant and inventory.

Immediately upon making the inventory the marshal must serve the summons, if it has not yet been served, together with the warrant of attachment and inventory, upon the defendant by delivering to him personally a copy of each, if he can with reasonable diligence be found within the city, or, if he cannot be so found, by leaving a copy of each, certified by the marshal, at the last place of residence of the defendant in the city, with a person of suitable age and discretion, or, if such person cannot be found there, by posting them on the outer door, and also depositing another copy of each in the postoffice, inclosed in a sealed post-paid wrapper, directed to the defendant at his residence; or, if the defendant has no place of residence in the city, by delivering them to the person in whose possession the property attached is found.

If personal service of the summons upon the defendant has previously been made, the marshal must serve the warrant and inventory as herein provided.

§ 49. Undertaking by defendant to reclaim property.

The defendant or his attorney or agent may at any time before judgment is rendered, execute and deliver to the marshal an undertaking to the plaintiff in a sum specified therein, at least twice the value of the property attached, as stated in the inventory, with one or more sureties approved by a justice of the court, and to the effect that if judgment is rendered against the defendant and an execution is issued thereon within six months after the giving of the undertaking, the property attached shall be produced to satisfy the execution. Thereupon the marshal must deliver the property to the defendant.

§ 50. Claim by third person; bond and delivery thereupon.

If a person not a party to the action claims any property attached, which is not reclaimed by the defendant as prescribed in the last section, he may at any time after the seizure and before execution is issued, execute and file with the clerk a bond to the plaintiff, with one or more sureties approved by a justice, in a penalty at least twice the value of the property claimed, and conditioned that, in an action upon the bond to be commenced within three months thereafter, the claimant will establish that he was the general owner of the property claimed at the time of the seizure; or, if he fails so to do, that he will pay to the plaintiff the value thereof, with interest. The marshal must thereupon deliver the property claimed to the claimant

§ 51. Judgment on bond.

A judgment for the plaintiff in an action on a bond given as prescribed in the last section must award to him the value of the property seized and delivered to the claimant, with interest thereon from the time of the delivery. If the amount so recovered exceeds the amount which the plaintiff recovers in the action in which the warrant of attachment was issued, he is liable to the defendant for the excess.

§ 52. Action on undertaking when warrant vacated.

If the warrant of attachment is vacated or annulled the defendant may maintain an action upon the bond and undertaking specified in the last two sections, in his own name, in the same manner and with the like effect as the plaintiff might have done if the warrant had remained in full force.

§ 53. Return by marshal attaching.

The marshal executing the warrant of attachment must at the time when and the place where it is returnable make a return thereto under his hand, stating all his proceedings thereon. He must deliver to the clerk, with the return, each bond or undertaking delivered to him, pursuant to any of the foregoing provisions of this article, and a copy, certified by him, of the inventory of the property attached. The return must state the manner in which the warrant and inventory were served, and, if they were served otherwise than by delivering a copy thereof to the defendant personally, the reason therefor and the name of the person to whom the copy was delivered, unless his name is unknown to the marshal, in which case the return must describe him so as to identify him as nearly as may be.

§ 54. Vacating or modifying warrant and increasing security.

The court may of its own motion vacate a warrant of attachment at any time on the ground that the issuance of the warrant was unauthorized. A motion to vacate or modify a warrant of attachment or to increase the security given by the plaintiff may be made on at least one day's notice. In all other respects the motion shall be governed by the provisions applicable to such motions in the supreme court.

§ 55. Judgment when summons not personally served.

If the defendant has not appeared generally, and the summons has been served otherwise than personally, and his property has been duly attached by virtue of a warrant which has not been vacated, the judgment is only presumptive evidence of his indebtedness in an action subsequently brought.

§ 56. Exception to and justification of sureties; reclaimer of attached property.

The provisions of this act contained in sections 62 to 66, inclusive, shall apply as nearly as may be to cases of attachment of property.

ARTICLE THIRD.

Replevin.

Sec. 57. When action of replevin will lie.
58. When chattel may be replevied; affidavit and undertaking.
59. Requisition to replevy.
60. How executed and served.
61. Return to requisition.
62. Exception to and justification of sureties.
63. Defendant's reclaimer of chattel.
64. Qualifications of sureties.
65. Method of justifying.
66. Allowance of undertaking.
67. Practice in supreme court applicable.
68. Third party may interplead and defend.
69. Defendant may demand judgment for return of chattel.

§ 57. When action of replevin will lie.

An action to recover a chattel, with or without damages for the wrongful taking, withholding or detention thereof, is maintainable, when within the jurisdiction of this court, in the cases where such an action is maintainable in the supreme court.

§ 58. When chattel may be replevied; affidavit and undertaking.

At the time of issuing summons or at any time before joinder of issue, or, if the defendant makes default in pleading, at any time before entry of judgment, the plaintiff may cause the chattel for the recovery of which the action is brought, to be replevied by a marshal. For that purpose he must file with the clerk an affidavit and undertaking which shall be governed by the provisions of law applicable to such affidavits and undertakings in the supreme court, except as otherwise expressly provided in this act. The sureties on the undertaking must be approved by the court, or a justice thereof, as hereinafter provided.

§ 59. Requisition to replevy.

Upon submission of the affidavit and undertaking, the court, or a justice thereof, must endorse upon or attach to the affidavit a requisition requiring the marshal to replevy the property described in the affidavit. The requisition must be issued by the clerk. The affidavit, undertaking and requisition must be delivered to the marshal.

§ 60. How executed and served.

The requisition to replevy shall be executed and the requisition, affidavit and undertaking shall be served in the same manner as if the action were in the supreme court, subject to the provisions of section 151 of this act. If personal service of the summons has not been previously made, the summons must be served together with, and in the same manner as, the requisition, affidavit and undertaking.

§ 61. Return to requisition.

The marshal must make a prompt return to the requisition, stating all his proceedings thereon, and file it, with the affidavit, undertaking and requisition with the clerk. The return must state the manner in which the summons, affidavit, requisition and undertaking were served and the particulars of the service.

§ 62. Exception to and justification of sureties.

Within three days after the chattel has been replevied, the defendant may serve upon the plaintiff or his attorney or upon the marshal a written notice that the defendant excepts to the sureties; otherwise, he is deemed to have waived all objections to them. If such notice is served upon the marshal he must immediately deliver it to the plaintiff or his attorney. Within three days after the service of such notice the plaintiff must serve upon the defendant or his attorney a notice that the sureties will justify before the court at a specified time which shall be not more than three days after the service of the notice of justification. At the time specified the sureties, or other sureties on a new undertaking to the same effect as the first, must appear and justify before the court.

§ 63. Defendant's reclaimer of chattel.

If the defendant does not except to the sureties he may file with the clerk, within four days after the chattel has been replevied, a notice that he requires the return of the chattel, and with the notice he must file the following papers:

1. An affidavit containing an allegation either that the defendant is the owner of the chattel or that he is lawfully entitled to the possession thereof by virtue of a special property therein, the facts with respect to which must be set forth.

2. An undertaking executed by at least two sureties or a duly authorized fidelity or surety company to the effect that they or it are bound in a specified sum, not less than twice the value of the chattel as stated in the affidavit of the plaintiff, for delivery thereof to the plaintiff, if delivery thereof is adjudged, and for the payment to him of any sum which the judgment awards against the defendant.

If the plaintiff has stated separately in his affidavit the value of one or more chattels, or classes of chattels, the defendant may require a delivery of any or all of the chattels replevied, and the undertaking shall be conditioned accordingly.

Upon filing the undertaking the defendant must serve upon the plaintiff or the latter's attorney a copy of the undertaking and a notice that the sureties named therein will justify before the court at a time specified, which shall be not more than three days after the service of the notice.

§ 64. Qualification of sureties.

A surety may be either an individual or a fidelity or surety company duly authorized by law to act as surety. Each individual surety must be:

1. A resident of the city of New York and a freeholder or a householder therein.

2. Worth twice the sum for which he becomes obligated in the undertaking, exclusive of property exempt from execution.

§ 65. Method of justifying.

For the purposes of justification, each individual surety must attend before the court at the time and place mentioned in the notice of justification and be examined on oath, touching his sufficiency, in such manner as the court in its discretion deems proper. If required by the adverse party, the examination must be reduced to writing and subscribed by the surety.

A fidelity or surety company shall justify through its officers or attorney in the manner required by law.

§ 66. Allowance of undertaking.

If the court finds the surety sufficient, it must annex the examination to the undertaking, endorse its allowance thereon and cause them to be filed with the clerk.

§ 67. Practice in supreme court applicable.

The provisions of law applicable to an action of replevin in the supreme court, in so far as they concern the duties and liabilities of a sheriff with respect to the taking, keeping and delivery of a chattel replevied, the proceedings upon a claim of title by a third person, the indemnity to be furnished by the plaintiff to the sheriff upon such a claim, the defendant's answer of title in a third person, the method of ascertaining damages on the defendant's default, the character and contents of the verdict or judgment and of the execution, and the respective rights of action of the plaintiff and defendant upon undertakings, shall apply to like matters in this court in so far as such provisions can be made applicable thereto and except as otherwise provided in this act; and subject to like exception, all such provisions relating to a sheriff shall apply to a marshal, as prescribed in section 151 of this act.

An undertaking to indemnify a marshal against a claim made by a third person to the chattel replevied must be substantially the same as that given to indemnify a sheriff in a similar case, except that the amount thereof need not be more than double the value of the chattel claimed and except that the sureties must possess the qualifications stated in section 64 of this act.

§ 68. Third party may interplead and defend.

At any time before a chattel which has been replevied is actually delivered to either party, a person not a party to the action who claims a right to the possession of the chattel so replevied or any part thereof, which right is claimed to have existed at the time when the said chattel was replevied, may make an affidavit and deliver the same to the court, stating that he makes such claim without collusion with the defendant, specifying in such affidavit the chattel to which he makes claim, setting forth the facts upon which his right depends, and praying to be impleaded as a defendant in the action. The court may thereupon grant leave to said party to appear and defend, and the provisions of this act in relation to the defendant originally proceeded against, so far as applicable, shall apply to the said party, and the court may in its discretion make such order or direct such delivery of the property as may be just, and thereupon the entire controversy may be determined in the action. Nothing in this section, however, shall be construed to affect the right of any party to maintain a separate action or to recover damages for the wrongful taking or detention of a chattel, unless judgment is awarded against him on the merits. In that case the court may grant leave to said third party to appear and defend, and the provisions of this act in relation to the defendant originally proceeded against then apply to said party.

§ 69. Defendant may demand judgment for return of chattel.

Where a chattel has been replevied and the defendant has not required the return thereof pending the action, he may in his answer demand judgment for the return thereof, either with or without damages for the taking, withholding or detention.

ARTICLE FOURTH.

Action to foreclose a lien on a chattel.

Sec. 70. What deemed lien on chattel.
71. Warrant of seizure.
72. Affidavit and undertaking.
73. When other actions not maintainable.
74. Judgment.
75. Marshal's power under execution.
76. Exception to and justification of sureties; reclaimer of chattel.
77. Application of this article.

§ 70. What deemed lien on chattel.

For the purpose of this article a chattel mortgage to secure the purchase price of chattels as well as a contract of conditional sale of personal property and a hiring of personal property, where title is not to vest in the person hiring until payment of a certain sum, shall be deemed a lien upon a chattel; and an action to foreclose such a lien may be maintained.

§ 71. Warrant of seizure.

In an action to foreclose a lien upon a chattel, a warrant commanding the marshal to seize the chattel and safely keep it to abide the judgment, may be granted by the court, or a justice thereof, and must be issued by the clerk. Sections 60 and 61 of this act shall apply, as nearly as may be, to a proceeding taken under this article.

§ 72. Affidavit and undertaking.

To entitle the plaintiff to such a warrant he must file with the clerk an undertaking and must show by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court that the plaintiff has a lien on the chattel, the amount thereof and the facts out of which the same arose and that the plaintiff is not in possession of the chattel. The affidavit must contain a description of the chattels so that they can be readily identified. The provisions applicable to an undertaking to procure a warrant of attachment shall apply, so far as practicable, to the undertaking required by this section.

§ 73. When other actions not maintainable.

No action of conversion or replevin arising on an instrument mentioned in section 70 shall be maintained against the conditional vendee, lessee or mortgagor.

§ 74. Judgment.

In an action to foreclose a lien, the judgment in favor of the plaintiff must specify the amount of the lien and, when the chattel is not in the custody of the marshal by virtue of a warrant, must command the marshal to seize the chattel. The judgment must direct a sale by a marshal of the chattel after fifteen days' personal service of the notice of sale upon the defendant, unless such service shall be dispensed with by order of the court, to satisfy the lien and the costs, if any, in like manner as where a marshal sells personal property by virtue of an execution, and the application by him of the proceeds of the sale less his fees and expenses, to the payment of the amount of the lien and the costs of the action. It must also provide for the payment of the surplus, if any, to the owner of the chattel, and for the safekeeping of the surplus, if any, by the clerk of the court, until it is claimed by him. If a defendant upon whom the summons is personally served is liable for the amount of the lien or for any part thereof, the plaintiff may also have judgment for the deficiency, if any. The execution to be issued to the marshal shall be in accordance with the terms of the judgment.

§ 75. Marshal's power under execution.

For the purpose of seizing a chattel by virtue of an execution, the power of a marshal is the same as where he is required to replevy a chattel.

§ 76. Exception to and justification of sureties; reclaimer of chattel.

Sections 62 to 66, inclusive, of this act shall apply, as nearly as may be, to a proceeding taken under this article.

§ 77. Application of this article.

The provisions of this article shall not affect any right or remedy to foreclose or satisfy a lien upon a chattel without action, and do not apply to a case where another mode of enforcing a lien upon a chattel is specially prescribed by law.

TITLE IV.

Pleadings.

Sec. 78. Pleadings; bills of particulars; special appearance.
79. Joinder and severance of causes of action.
80. Judgment by default.
81. Offer of judgment.
82. Complaint.
83. Answer; contents thereof.
84. Counterclaim.
85. Joinder and severance of counterclaims.
86. Amount recoverable on counterclaim.
87. Reply to counterclaim.
88. Objections to jurisdiction and to pleadings.
89. Objections which may be taken by answer.
90. Disposal of objections.
91. Judgment upon the pleadings.
92. Signature to instrument; when deemed genuine.
93. Construction and amendments of pleadings, judgment and process.
94. Order that issues be tried unnecessary in action against corporation.

§ 78. Pleadings; bills of particulars; special appearance.

Pleadings in actions may be oral or written, verified or unverified, except that the pleadings in an action to establish a mechanic's lien must be verified. Pleadings shall consist of complaint and answer and, when ordered, a reply.

1. When an action is commenced by service of a summons only, a statement of the nature and substance of the plaintiff's cause of action shall be endorsed upon or annexed to the summons.

2. Issue must be joined within the time limited by the summons; provided, however, that when the last day falls on Saturday the defendant may answer on the next business day.

3. If a written complaint is served with the summons a written answer must be filed; and if the complaint is verified, the answer must be verified; provided, however, that in an action where the amount claimed is one hundred dollars or less, the defendant, if he appears in person, may answer orally. When a defendant answers orally a statement of the nature and the substance of the answer shall be endorsed upon or annexed to the summons. The address of the defendant, or the office and post-office address of his attorney, shall be endorsed upon the summons.

4. At any time before judgment, the court may direct the filing of a written pleading, verified or unverified.

5. On or before the defendant's last day to answer, his time to move or answer may be extended by filing with the clerk a written stipulation of the parties, or by order of the court upon cause shown.

6. The original or a copy of a contract or other writing on which a cause of action or a defense or a counterclaim is founded may be filed with the pleading and shall be deemed a part of the pleading. Within three days after service of a written demand by either party, the adverse party shall file with the clerk the original or sworn copy of any such contract or other writing specified in such demand. If the paper is not duly filed, the court may order that it be filed and may exclude it from evidence if not filed accordingly.

7. In a proper case a written demand for a bill of particulars of the complaint or counterclaim may be filed with the clerk. The defendant may file his demand at the time of answering. The plaintiff may file his demand three days after the counterclaim is interposed. In either case a bill of particulars must be filed with the clerk within three days after the demand is filed and the court upon motion or notice may preclude the party failing to file such bill of particulars from giving evidence of the part or parts of his affirmative allegation of which particulars have not been filed. The court may order a written bill of particulars, with or without verification, to be filed and served by the plaintiff or by the defendant interposing a counterclaim.

8. For the purpose of raising a question not involving the merits of the action, a party may appear specially by filing with the clerk, on or before the last day for answering, a notice of special appearance stating the particular purpose for which he appears. In that event the case shall be set down for hearing, and the party thus appearing need not plead further until directed to do so by the court.

§ 79. Joinder and severance of causes of action.

The plaintiff may include in the same complaint any cause of action of which the court has jurisdiction, to the end that all matters of difference between the respective parties may, so far as practicable, be determined in one action; but if it appears to the court that causes of action so joined should not be tried or disposed of together, the court may order them to be tried separately, or that the action be severed, and may make such other and further orders as may be necessary or expedient for the separate disposal thereof.

§ 80. Judgment by default.

If the defendant fails to answer within the prescribed time, judgment for the plaintiff may be taken by default, without application to the court, in a case in which the complaint or the statement endorsed upon or annexed to the summons sets forth one or more causes of action upon which a judgment by default may thus be entered in an action in the supreme court.

In such a case, if a verified complaint has been filed and served with the summons, the clerk shall enter judgment forthwith; otherwise the clerk must at plaintiff's request ascertain the amount due and enter judgment therefor in the manner prescribed for like cases in the supreme court. In all other cases where the defendant makes default in pleading the plaintiff can recover judgment only on application to the court and proof of his cause of action.

§ 81. Offer of judgment.

At the time of answering the defendant may file with the clerk a written offer to allow judgment to be taken against him for a sum of money, or for property therein specified, with costs. If there are two or more defendants, and the action can be severed, a like offer may be made by one or more of them against whom a separate judgment may be taken. If the plaintiff thereupon, before taking any other proceeding in the action, files with the clerk a written acceptance of the offer, the clerk must enter judgment accordingly. If an acceptance is not filed, the offer cannot be given in evidence upon the trial; but if the plaintiff fails to obtain a more favorable judgment, he cannot recover costs. Instead of making a written offer a defendant may deposit the amount of his offer with the clerk, if it be a sum of money, with like effect.

§ 82. Complaint.

The complaint must state in a plain and concise manner the facts constituting the cause of action.

§ 83. Answer; contents thereof.

The answer must contain:

1. A general or specific denial of each material allegation of the complaint intended to be controverted, or a denial of any knowledge or information thereof sufficient to form a belief. A denial must not be evasive, and unless the defendant intends in good faith to controvert all the allegations of the complaint or of a particular part thereof, the denial must be directed to the specific allegation intended to be controverted.

2. A plain and concise statement of any new matter constituting a defense or counterclaim.

3. When the judgment may determine the ultimate rights of two or more defendants as between themselves, a defendant must demand such a determination in his answer, which must be in writing; and a copy of such answer must be served at least two days before trial, or at such other time as the court shall direct, upon each defendant to be affected by the determination or upon his attorney in the action.

§ 84. Counterclaim.

Except as otherwise provided in this act, a counterclaim and judgment thereon shall be governed by the provisions of law applicable to like cases in the supreme court.

§ 85. Joinder and severance of counterclaims.

There may be included in the counterclaim any claims or causes of action mentioned in section six of this act, against the plaintiff, or, in a proper case, against the person whom he represents, and in favor of one or more defendants between whom and the plaintiff a separate judgment may be had in the action. But if it appears to the court that any of the claims or causes of action so joined should not be tried or disposed of together, the court may order that they be tried separately, and may make such other and further orders as may be necessary or expedient for the separate disposal thereof; and if it appears to the court that any claim or cause of action alleged by way of counterclaim should not be tried or disposed of in the pending action, the court may strike it out, without prejudice to the bringing of another action or proceeding.

§ 86. Amount recoverable on counterclaim.

A counterclaim may be interposed and judgment thereon in favor of the defendant may be rendered for any sum not to exceed one thousand dollars exclusive of interest and costs.

§ 87. Reply to counterclaim.

A reply to a counterclaim is not necessary; but the court may order a written reply, verified or unverified, at any time before judgment. When no reply is filed, the allegations of the counterclaim shall be deemed denied, except as otherwise provided in this act.

§ 88. Objections to jurisdiction and to pleadings.

An objection that the court has no jurisdiction of the person of the defendant or no jurisdiction of the subject of the action may be taken by filing a notice of special appearance as hereinbefore provided. All other objections which heretofore might have been taken by demurrer may be taken by motion. The notice of motion must specify the grounds thereof and the particular defects or objections upon which the moving party relies.

§ 89. Objections which may be taken by answer.

An objection to the sufficiency of the complaint, or an objection which, if sustained, disposes of the action without putting the plaintiff to his proof, may be taken by alleging it as a defense in the answer in lieu of a motion, and on application of either party it must be disposed of before the trial. When an objection is thus taken, the answer must specify the particular objection or defect upon which the defendant relies.

§ 90. Disposal of objections.

1. If the court overrules a defendant's objection taken by motion, the court must allow him to answer; and as a condition thereof may impose costs.

2. If the court sustains an objection taken by a motion or answer upon the ground that the pleading is insufficient, the court must allow it to be amended; and as a condition thereof may impose costs; and if the party fails to amend, the defective pleading or part of pleading may be struck out.

§ 91. Judgment upon the pleadings.

If either party is entitled to judgment upon the pleadings, the court may, on motion at any time after issue joined, give judgment accordingly.

§ 92. Signature to instrument; when deemed genuine.

A signature to a written instrument which is pleaded shall be taken as admitted unless the party sought to be charged thereby files with the clerk, within eight days after joinder of issue, a specific denial of the genuineness of the signature and a demand that it be proved. Such denial and demand by a defendant may be included in his answer.

§ 93. Construction and amendments of pleadings, judgment and process.

1. The allegations of a pleading must be liberally construed for the purpose of doing substantial justice between the parties.

2. At any stage of the cause the court must allow amendment of any summons, process, mandate, pleading, order or judgment, including a petition, precept, answer and final order in a summary proceeding, if substantial justice will be promoted thereby; and as a condition thereof may impose such terms as may be just.

3. Upon like terms the court may direct that a return made by a marshal or other officer be amended in matter of form, either before or after judgment.

§ 94. Order that issues be tried unnecessary in action against corporation.

In an action against a corporation, an order directing that the issues presented by the pleadings be tried shall not be required.

TITLE V.

Proceedings between joinder of issue and trial.

Article 1. Bringing cause on for trial; adjournments; subpœnas; attachment against and liability of defaulting witness.
2. Commission to take testimony; depositions; physical examination.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Bringing cause on for trial; adjournments; subpœnas; attachment against and liability of defaulting witness.

Sec. 95. How cause brought on for trial; notice of trial.
96. Adjournment of trial.
97. Subpœna.
98. Service of subpœna.
99. Attachment against defaulting witness.
100. Liability of defaulting witness.

§ 95. How cause brought on for trial; notice of trial.

Upon joinder of issue the clerk shall place the case upon a general calendar. Where either party appears in person, the clerk shall fix a date for trial not less than five nor more than eight days after joinder of issue, and shall immediately notify the parties by mail of such date. Unless otherwise provided by the rules, where both parties appear by attorney either party may serve a notice on the other fixing a date for trial not less than five nor more than eight days after the service of such notice, and shall file such notice, with proof of service thereof, with the clerk, who shall thereupon place the case on the calendar for trial. When a jury trial is demanded and no day is fixed for the attendance of a jury within the time limited as above provided, the clerk shall set the case down for trial at the earliest practicable date on which a jury will be in attendance, and shall notify the parties or their attorneys by mail of such date.

§ 96. Adjournment of trial.

The trial of an action may be adjourned:

1. By the court for good cause shown and upon such terms and conditions as the court may deem just.

2. By stipulation of the parties, to be filed with the clerk; or upon request of the plaintiff where the defendant has made default or upon consent of the parties in open court.

§ 97. Subpœna.

A subpœna requiring a witness to appear and testify on the trial of an action or a special proceeding, shall be issued on the demand of either party, by the clerk of the court in the district where the action is pending; but when a party is represented by an attorney, the latter may issue the subpœna and shall subscribe thereto his name and his office and post-office address. The subpœna may be served anywhere in the city of New York and may require the witness to bring with him any book or paper relating to the merits of the action.

§ 98. Service of subpœna.

A subpœna may be served by any person over the age of eighteen years by delivering a copy thereof to the witness personally and by paying or tendering to him a fee of fifty cents for one day's attendance at court. No mileage need be paid or tendered to the witness.

§ 99. Attachment against defaulting witness.

1. Upon satisfactory proof by affidavit or otherwise that a person duly subpœnaed has refused or neglected to obey the subpœna, and upon the oath of the party in whose behalf the person was subpœnaed, or his attorney, that the testimony of such person is material, the court must issue a warrant of attachment directed generally to any marshal, to compel the attendance of such person.

2. Such a warrant of attachment must be executed in the same manner as an order of arrest. The fees of the marshal for serving it must be paid by the person against whom it is issued unless he shows just cause or a reasonable excuse for his omission to attend, in which case the party procuring the warrant must pay them and add them to his costs if he recover any.

§ 100. Liability of defaulting witness.

A person duly subpœnaed who neglects or refuses to obey the subpœna, is liable to the party in whose behalf he was subpœnaed for all damages which the party sustains by reason of the neglect or refusal, and fifty dollars in addition thereto, and is subject to any fine or punishment which may be imposed in accordance with the provisions of law governing contempts punishable civilly.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Commission to take testimony; depositions; physical examination.

Sec. 101. Commission to take testimony.
102. When commission may issue.
103. Open commission.
104. Power of commissioner.
105. Execution and return of commission.
106. Suppression of deposition.
107. Deposition to perpetuate testimony.
108. The same; affidavit on application.
109. Order for examination.
110. Witnesses' fees; punishment for disobeying order.
111. Service of order and affidavit.
112. Adjournment of examination.
113. Witness confined in prison.
114. Examination; manner of taking and returning deposition; refusal to answer.
115. When deposition may be read in evidence.
116. Effect of deposition.
117. Physical examination.

§ 101. Commission to take testimony.

When it appears by affidavit upon the application of either party to an action or special proceeding that the testimony of one or more witnesses, not within the city of New York, is material to the applicant's case, the court shall issue a commission to a competent person named therein, authorizing him to examine under oath the witness or witnesses named therein upon interrogatories annexed to the commission and to be settled by the court or by the written consent of the parties, and to take and certify the deposition of each witness and return the same and the commission by mail, addressed to the clerk.

§ 102. When commission may issue.

Such a commission may issue:

1. When the defendant has made default in pleading and the testimony is required upon the assessment of damages.

2. Before joinder of issue when there is reason to apprehend that before issue is joined, and an application for a commission can thereafter be made, the witness will die or become unable to give his testimony or remove so that his testimony cannot be taken.

3. When issue has been joined in an action or special proceeding and the testimony is material to the applicant in the prosecution or defense thereof.

4. When an appeal or a motion for a new trial is pending and the testimony may be material to the applicant upon a new trial.

§ 103. Open commission.

When issue has been joined in an action or special proceeding and application has been made as provided in section 101, a commission may, in the discretion of the court, issue without written interrogatories, or partly upon written interrogatories and partly upon oral questions.

§ 104. Power of commissioner.

When a commission is executed within the state, the commissioner shall have the same power to issue a subpœna, to swear a witness and to compel his attendance that this court has in an action pending before it.

§ 105. Execution and return of commission.

Except as otherwise provided in this act or in the rules, all matters with respect to the issuance, execution and return of the commission, the disposal of it when returned and the effect of the deposition as evidence, shall be governed by the provisions applicable if the action were in the supreme court and the deposition taken without the state for use within the state.

§ 106. Suppression of deposition.

On proof by affidavit that a deposition has been improperly or irregularly taken or returned, or that the personal attendance of the witness at the trial could have been procured with due diligence by a subpœna or that either party or his attorney has practiced any fraud or unfair conduct to the prejudice of the adverse party in the course of the proceedings, the court may order the suppression of the deposition upon application of the party aggrieved, upon notice.

§ 107. Deposition to perpetuate testimony.

Upon proof by affidavit as prescribed in section 108, either party to an action or special proceeding may apply to the court in the district where the action or proceeding is pending, for an order that the testimony of a witness be taken to be used conditionally as hereinafter provided; or, except when the person to be examined is confined in a prison or jail within the state, such an order may be granted on written stipulation of the parties.

§ 108. The same; affidavit on application.

The party desiring to take a deposition as prescribed in the last preceding section, must present to the court in the district where the action or special proceeding is pending, an affidavit showing:

1. The title and nature of the action or proceeding and the name and residence of the person to be examined; and that the testimony of such person is material and necessary for the prosecution or defense of the action or proceeding.

2. That the person to be examined is about to depart from the city of New York, or that he is so sick or infirm as to afford reasonable ground to believe that he will not be able to attend the trial, or that any other special circumstances exist which render it proper that he should be examined; but this subdivision does not apply where the person to be examined is a party to the action, except in case of his sickness or infirmity.

3. If the party sought to be examined is a corporation, the affidavit shall state the names of the officers or directors thereof whose testimony is necessary and material, or the books and papers as to the contents of which an examination or inspection is desired; and the order to be made in respect thereto shall direct the examination of such persons and the production of such books and papers.

§ 109. Order for examination.

The court to whom an affidavit is presented, as provided in section 108, may, if the opposing party or his representative is not present, require that a reasonable notice of the application be given, or may act on the application at the time of such presentation, and must grant an order for the taking of the deposition, if satisfied of the truth of the matter stated in the affidavit, and may in its discretion designate and limit the particular matters on which the examination is to be conducted. The order may require that the examination be conducted before the court or at another place named in the order, in which event the order shall require the witness to be sworn before an officer authorized to take and administer oaths.

§ 110. Witnesses' fees; punishment for disobeying order.

Witnesses' fees, as provided in this act, for attendance upon a trial, must be paid or tendered when the order is served upon the party or person required to attend. If the party or person so served fails to obey the order his attendance may be compelled, and he may be punished in like manner, as if he failed to obey a subpœna issued from the court.

§ 111. Service of order and affidavit.

A copy of the order and of the affidavit upon which it was granted must be served at least two days before the time fixed for the examination, upon the attorney for each party to the action or special proceeding in like manner as a paper in the action; or if a party has not appeared they must be served upon him as directed by the order.

§ 112. Adjournment of examination.

The time for taking such examination may be adjourned in like manner as the trial of an action.

§ 113. Witness confined in prison.

Where the party or other person to be examined is confined in a prison or jail within the state, under sentence for a misdemeanor or felony, that fact must be stated in the affidavit, and his deposition may be taken as if he were not so confined, except that in such a case the granting or refusing of the order is always in the discretion of the court. The order must require the production of the prisoner by the person in charge of the prison or jail, at the prison or jail, but it may prescribe such regulations and restrictions with respect thereto as the court deems proper.

§ 114. Examination; manner of taking and returning deposition; refusal to answer.

The deposition shall be in the form of question and answer, and when completed must be carefully read to and subscribed by the person examined; and within three days thereafter, unless sooner required by the order, must be filed in the office of the clerk of the court in the district where the action or special proceeding is pending, together with the stipulation or the affidavit on which the order was granted, with proof of the service of the order and of the affidavit. If upon an examination, the person examined refuses to answer, that fact must be reported to the court, which must determine whether the question was relevant and the witness bound to answer.

§ 115. When deposition may be read in evidence.

The deposition may be read in evidence by either party at the trial if it be satisfactorily proved that the witness is dead or is unable to attend by reason of his insanity, sickness or other infirmity, or that he is confined in a prison or jail, or that he has been and is absent from the city of New York, so that his attendance could not, with reasonable diligence, be compelled by subpœna.

§ 116. Effect of deposition.

The deposition so read in evidence has the same effect, and no other, as the oral testimony of the witness would have; and an objection to the competency or credibility of the witness, or to the relevancy or substantial competency of a question put to him, or of an answer given by him, may be made as if the witness were then examined, and need not be noted upon the deposition.

§ 117. Physical examination.

Where a party alleges, either for a cause of action, defense or counterclaim, damages for personal injuries, the court shall have power to order that he submit to a physical examination by one or more physicians or surgeons under such conditions as the court shall deem proper; and the court must make such an order whenever the adverse party shall present proof to the satisfaction of the court that he is ignorant of the nature and extent of the injuries alleged. If the party to be examined is a female, she shall be entitled to have the examination made by physicians or surgeons of her own sex. The order must direct the service of a copy thereof within the city of New York not less than five nor more than eight days before the date fixed for the examination, except that a different time for service may be directed when special reasons therefor are shown to exist and are recited in the order.

Trial; jurors; submission of controversy.

Sec. 118. Jury trial; how obtained; jury fee.
119. Time for rendering judgment or decision.
120. Number of jurymen; fee for jury of twelve.
121. Jury term; trial jurors.
122. Special jury list; how such jurors summoned.
123. Trials by special jury.
124. Submission of controversy upon agreed facts.

§ 118. [Am'd, 1916.] Jury trial; how obtained; jury fee.

1. Either party at the time of pleading or within three days after joinder of issue may demand a trial by jury. The demand may be made in writing and filed with the clerk, or orally and endorsed upon the summons. In a special proceeding the demand may be made in open court on the return of the precept. The party demanding a trial by jury shall forthwith pay to the clerk the sum of three dollars, which shall be applied so far as necessary, to the payment of the lawful fees of the server for summoning the jurors, and of a fee of twenty-five cents to each juror, which payment shall be made to him by the clerk at the end of the trial.

2. Unless a demand is made and the jury fee paid as above provided, a jury trial is waived and the court must hear the evidence and decide all questions of fact and law; provided, however, that the court may in its discretion, at any time before or during the trial, direct that a trial be had by jury, and thereupon a trial by jury shall be had in the same manner as if either party had demanded it, and the jury fee shall be paid by the plaintiff.

3. If an action is settled or discontinued before trial, all jury and jurors' fees paid by any party as provided in this act shall be returned forthwith to such party by the clerk of the court to whom such jury fee was paid.

Am'd by L. 1916, c. 123 (in effect April 3, 1916).

§ 119. Time for rendering judgment or decision.

1. If a jury trial is not demanded or directed as provided in the last preceding section, the court must render judgment within fourteen days from the time when the case is submitted for that purpose, except when further time is given by the consent of the parties. If no decision is rendered within the time thus limited, the case shall be placed upon the calendar for causes reserved generally.

2. A motion must be decided within fourteen days after it is submitted for decision, except when further time is given by the consent of the parties; and if no decision is rendered within the time thus limited, the motion may be renewed.

§ 120. Number of jurymen; fee for jury of twelve.

1. Except as hereinafter provided, a jury shall be composed of six men.

2. In a special proceeding or in an action where the claim for damages or of the value of the chattels exceeds two hundred and fifty dollars, either party may demand a trial by a jury of twelve. In such a case the jury fee to be deposited shall be six dollars.

3. In a case provided for in the subdivision next preceding, if one of the parties has demanded a jury of six and has paid the fee required therefor, the other party may at any time before trial demand a jury of twelve, and upon making such demand must pay to the clerk a fee of three dollars, which shall be applied as provided in section 118.

§ 121. Jury term; trial jurors.

Jury terms shall be held as the board of justices shall from time to time direct. Trial jurors for such terms shall have the same qualifications and shall be selected, drawn and notified by the same authorities and in the same manner as trial jurors of the supreme court held in the county in which such terms are held; and all provisions of the judiciary law and of the code of civil procedure, as they may be amended from time to time, except such as are inconsistent with this act, are hereby made to apply to this court and to trial jurors therein. At least twenty days before the opening of any term the number of trial jurors to be drawn for such term shall be fixed by the board of justices, and due notice thereof shall forthwith be transmitted to the official directed by law to draw such jurors. So far as the commissioner of jurors, or other official charged with the duty of drawing jurors in each county shall find it to be practicable, each juror drawn shall be summoned to the district nearest to his residence or place of business. Such jurors shall be paid the same compensation as trial jurors in the supreme court held in the county in which they serve. All returns required by law to be made after adjournment of the term shall be made by the clerk of the district in which such term is held, except as provided in section 123 of this act. In all proceedings for the remission and enforcement of fines of jurors the justices of this court shall have the same power and authority as justices of the supreme court and judges of the county courts in the respective counties. The board of justices may, upon request of the commissioner of jurors or other official charged with the duty of summoning jurors, depute one or more officers of this court to assist in summoning such jurors.

§ 122. Special jury list; how such jurors summoned.

If requested to do so by the board of justices, the commissioner of jurors or other person charged with the duty of summoning jurors in each county within the city of New York, must, on or before the first Monday in September in each year, furnish to the clerk of one or more districts of said court within the county for which said commissioner or other officer acts, a list of not more than one hundred names of qualified trial jurors residing in such county. The clerk of the court who shall receive the jury list must write on a slip of paper the name, residence, place of business and occupation of each of the persons named on said list and place the same in a box to be called the "undrawn special jury box." Whenever there is an action or special proceeding to be tried with a jury at a time other than a regular jury term, the clerk in such district must upon the order of a justice as provided in the next succeeding section, and in the presence of a justice, draw the required number of said slips of paper from the undrawn special jury box and deliver the names to a marshal or to one or more of the officers of the court, with a written or printed notice directed to each juror, requiring him to attend at the time and at the court specified in the notice. The officer, upon receipt of the said notices, must immediately summon each juror by delivering the notice to him personally or by leaving it at his residence with some person of suitable age and discretion, and must thereupon make a return to the clerk of the court as to the manner in which such service was made by him. After such panel of jurors so summoned has been discharged by the court the clerk must make like return as in the case of jurors summoned pursuant to the next preceding section, and such jurors shall be entitled to the same compensation and paid in the same manner as jurors summoned for a regular term. The slips containing the names of the jurors so summoned must be placed in a box to be called the "drawn jury box" until all the names have been drawn from the undrawn jury box, and as often as that happens the whole number must be returned to the undrawn jury box.

§ 123. Trials by special jury.

If in any action or special proceeding trial by jury is demanded at a time when no jury is in session and it appears to the justice presiding that the rights of a party may be prejudiced by delaying the trial until the next jury term, such justice shall order the clerk who has received the jury list provided in the last preceding section to summon, in the manner therein prescribed, such number of jurors as such justice may direct, to appear at the court where the action or proceeding is pending. When the jury is summoned to a court other than the one the clerk of which has the custody of the said jury list, the clerk of the court where the action or proceeding is pending, shall, upon the discharge of the jurors, forward to the clerk having the custody of the said jury list, such detailed information, certified by him, as will enable the said clerk to make a proper return as required by law.

§ 124. Submission of controversy upon agreed facts.

1. At any time after joinder of issue in an action or special proceeding, and before the case is called for trial, the parties, if of full age, may agree upon a written statement of the facts for submission to the court. The statement must be accompanied by a written submission and by the affidavit of one or more of the parties that the controversy is real and that the submission is made in good faith for the purpose of determining the rights of the parties.

2. The controversy is submitted by filing the statement, submission and affidavit in the office of the clerk in the district where the action or proceeding is pending; and subsequent proceedings are subject to all the provisions of this act, except that an order of arrest, a warrant of attachment, a warrant of seizure, a requisition to replevy or an execution against the person cannot be granted therein.

3. The action or proceeding must be tried by the court upon the statement alone; and the statement, submission, affidavit and the judgment rendered or final order made, and any orders or papers necessarily affecting such judgment or order, shall constitute the record. If the statement of facts is not sufficient to enable the court to decide the controversy, the court may permit the filing, within a fixed time, of an additional or supplemental statement, in default whereof the court must dismiss the submission without costs to either party.

TITLE VII.

Judgment and execution.

Article 1. Judgments.
2. Execution.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Judgments.

Sec. 125. Judgments.
126. Dismissal for neglect to prosecute.
127. Judgment for or against any of the parties; severance of action.
128. Judgment when defendant liable to arrest.
129. Vacating and amending judgments and orders; opening defaults and granting new trials.

§ 125. Judgments.

Within the limits of jurisdiction defined in this act, the court shall have power to render any judgment that is consistent with the case made by the pleadings and embraced within the issues. A judgment dismissing the action may be rendered either on the merits or without prejudice to a new action, as the case requires, and the court shall make a proper note thereof. A decision as prescribed in an action tried without a jury in the supreme court shall not be required. All proceedings on the part of the party against whom judgment has been rendered, or who is required to pay the costs of any motion, except to review or vacate such judgment or order requiring payment of costs, are stayed without further direction of the court until the payment thereof.

§ 126. Dismissal for neglect to prosecute.

When an action has remained for more than six months upon the calendar for actions reserved generally, it may be dismissed by the court upon application of the defendant on notice; or, if the action has remained upon said calendar for more than one year, it may be dismissed by the court of its own motion.

§ 127. Judgment for or against any of the parties; severance of action.

The court shall have power to render judgment for or against one or more plaintiffs and for or against one or more defendants, to determine the ultimate rights of all the parties and to render judgment accordingly; but unless the court otherwise directs, a controversy between defendants shall not delay a judgment to which the plaintiff is entitled. When there are two or more defendants and a several judgment is proper, the court shall have power to render judgment, or to require that the plaintiff take judgment against one or more of them, and to direct that the action be severed and proceed against the others as sole defendants.

§ 128. Judgment when defendant liable to arrest.

When a judgment is rendered in a case where the defendant is subject to arrest and imprisonment thereon, it must be so stated in the judgment and entered in the docket. The clerk must in any transcript issued by him insert the words "defendant liable to execution against his person," and a like note must also be made in the docket of a judgment by a county clerk where such a transcript is filed with him.

§ 129. Vacating and amending judgments and orders; opening defaults and granting new trials.

1. Upon proof by affidavit or otherwise that a judgment has been taken or a final order made without service of summons or process, the judgment or final order must be vacated and set aside by the court in the district where it was entered.

2. A motion to open a default and to vacate and set aside a judgment entered thereon must be made with due diligence and upon good cause shown and in no event more than one year after entry of the judgment; except that where the summons was served as prescribed in section 23 of this act, such motion must be made in no event more than two years after entry of the judgment. Upon granting such a motion the court must set the case down for trial. If a judgment taken by default or any part thereof has been collected or otherwise enforced and the defendant is successful upon the trial, such restitution may be compelled as the court directs; but title to property sold to a purchaser in good faith under execution issued upon the judgment shall not be affected.

3. A motion to set aside the verdict of a jury and to vacate, amend or modify a judgment rendered upon a trial by the court with or without a jury, and for a new trial, must be made at the close of the trial or within twenty days after the entry of the judgment.

4. A motion for a new trial upon the ground of fraud or newly discovered evidence must be made with due diligence and in no event later than one year after the entry of the judgment; and unless the court otherwise directs, it may be made upon affidavits without making and settling a case.

5. A new trial may be limited to the questions with respect to which the verdict or judgment is found to be wrong, if such questions are separable. If a verdict or judgment is set aside solely because the damages are excessive or inadequate, it may stand in all other respects and the new trial may be limited to the question of damages.

6. Upon opening a default, amending, modifying or vacating a judgment or order, or setting aside the verdict of a jury and granting a new trial, the court may impose such terms and conditions as may be just.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Execution.

Sec. 130. When and how issued.
131. Issuance and filing of transcript and effect thereof.
132. Proceedings against joint debtors.
133. Docketing judgment in another county.
134. Execution against marshals.
135. Execution; requisites.
136. Execution against the person.
137. The same—as affected by joinder of causes of action.
138. Renewal of execution.
139. Judgment and execution in favor of wage earners.
140. Time limit of execution.
141. Liability of marshal to execution creditor.
142. Return of execution and satisfaction of judgment.

§ 130. When and how issued.

An execution may be issued upon a judgment either by the clerk of the court in the district where the judgment was entered, within six years thereafter, the execution being directed to a marshal, or by the judgment creditor or his attorney after filing a transcript of the judgment with a county clerk as provided in section 131, the execution being directed to a sheriff. But no execution shall issue out of this court after a transcript has been issued, and no transcript shall be issued while an execution of this court remains outstanding, except a transcript showing that the judgment has been modified, vacated or set aside. When the execution is issued to a marshal the prospective fees of the county clerk and sheriff must be omitted. An execution issued to the sheriff upon a judgment in an action to establish a mechanic's lien shall authorize and direct the sheriff to sell the right, title and interest of the owner of the premises upon which the lien set forth in the complaint existed when the notice of lien was filed.

§ 131. Issuance and filing of transcript and effect thereof.

1. Upon application of a judgment creditor the clerk must deliver to him a transcript of the judgment, except as provided in the last preceding section. If the judgment is for the plaintiff in an action to establish a mechanic's lien, the clerk shall insert in the transcript an additional statement that the action was brought to establish a mechanic's lien and that the lien has been duly established and adjudged against the interest of the defendant in the property described in the complaint when the notice of lien was filed.

2. Upon presentation of the transcript and payment of the fees therefor, the clerk of the county in which the judgment was rendered must endorse upon the transcript the date of its receipt, must file it in his office and must docket the judgment as of the time of the receipt of the transcript, in a book kept by him for that purpose as prescribed by law; and if the judgment is for the recovery of a chattel which has been delivered to the unsuccessful party or for the value thereof, or for the establishment of a mechanic's lien, he must enter in the docket the particulars of the judgment as stated in the transcript.

3. Upon the docketing of a judgment as prescribed in this section it shall be deemed a judgment of the supreme court and may be enforced accordingly. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent this court or a justice thereof from vacating, setting aside or modifying the judgment or staying the execution thereof.

§ 132. Proceedings against joint debtors.

An action, judgment and execution against one or more of several defendants alleged to be jointly indebted upon contract, shall be governed by the provisions applicable to like cases in the supreme court, including those whereby a plaintiff who has recovered judgment against one or more of such defendants may maintain an action and recover judgment against the others to charge their property with the sum remaining unpaid on the original judgment. When an execution upon a judgment against one or more of such defendants is issued out of this court, the clerk of the court shall make the same endorsements upon the execution and the same entries in the docket that a county clerk is required to make when execution is issued on a like judgment of the supreme court.

§ 133. Docketing judgment in another county.

The county clerk with whom a transcript is filed, must furnish to any person applying therefor and paying the fees, one or more transcripts of the docket of the judgment, attested by his signature. A county clerk to whom such transcript is presented must, upon payment of the fees therefor, immediately file it and docket the judgment in the appropriate docket book kept in his office in like manner as the judgment was docketed by the first county clerk. The judgment when so docketed has the like effect as it has in the county in which it was docketed upon the transcript from this court.

§ 134. Execution against marshals.

Execution on a judgment against a marshal or his sureties shall issue only to the sheriff after transcript filed with a county clerk as provided in this article, and must be made returnable to the county clerk.

§ 135. Execution; requisites.

The execution, when issued out of this court, must be directed to a marshal and subscribed by the clerk of the court in the district in which the judgment was rendered, and must bear date of the day of its delivery. It must state the names of the parties, the district where and the time when rendered, the amount of the judgment and the amount due thereon. It must require of the marshal substantially as follows:

1. If it is a case where the defendant cannot be arrested, it must direct the officer to collect the amount due on the judgment out of the personal property of the debtor and to pay the same to the clerk or to the party entitled thereto.

2. If it is a case where the defendant may be arrested, in addition to the foregoing it may direct the officer, if sufficient property of the defendant liable to execution cannot be found to satisfy the judgment, that he arrest the defendant and commit him to the jail of the county wherein the district in which the judgment was entered is situate, until he pay the judgment or be discharged according to law.

3. When a defendant was served with summons otherwise than personally and did not appear generally, but his property has been duly attached under a warrant of attachment that has not been vacated, an execution on the judgment against him must require the marshal to collect the judgment only out of the property so attached.

4. In all cases it must further direct the officer to make proper return of the execution to the clerk of the court from which the execution issued, within twenty days from the time of the receipt thereof.

§ 136. Execution against the person.

If the execution directs the arrest of the defendant for want of sufficient personal property, and if there is not sufficient personal property subject to levy found by the officer, or if upon demand by the officer the defendant fails to produce sufficient property, the officer must immediately arrest the defendant. When arrested, the defendant must be conveyed to the common jail of the county wherein the district where the judgment is entered is situate, and there kept in custody until the execution, with costs, is paid, or he is discharged by due course of law.

§ 137. The same—as affected by joinder of causes of action.

When a cause of action for which a defendant may be arrested was united with a cause of action for which a defendant may not be arrested, an execution against the person of the defendant cannot be issued upon the judgment unless it appears that the judgment was rendered solely upon the cause of action for which he might have been arrested.

§ 138. Renewal of execution.

At the request of the judgment creditor an execution may be renewed before the expiration of the twenty days by the word "renewal" being written thereon with the date, and subscribed by the clerk of the court. Such renewal has the same effect as an original issue, and may be repeated as often as necessary. If an execution is returned unsatisfied, others may be issued on like request from time to time until the judgment is satisfied.

§ 139. Judgment and execution in favor of wage earners.

In an action by a journeyman, laborer, or other employee whose employment answers to the general description of wage earner, for services rendered or wages earned, if the plaintiff recovers a judgment for a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, exclusive of costs, and the action was brought within three months after the cause of action accrued, no property of the defendant is exempt from levy and sale on execution; and if the execution is returned wholly or partly unsatisfied, the clerk must, upon the application of the plaintiff, issue an execution against the person of the defendant for the sum remaining uncollected. A defendant arrested in such a case must be actually confined in the jail and is not entitled to the liberties thereof, but must be discharged after having been so confined for fifteen days. After his discharge another execution against his person shall not issue upon the judgment, but the judgment creditor may enforce the judgment against his property. This section shall apply whether the defendant be male or female.

§ 140. Time limit of execution.

A defendant cannot be arrested nor can his property be sold on execution after twenty days from its issue or renewal, but property levied on within the twenty days may be sold after renewal.

§ 141. Liability of marshal to execution creditor.

A marshal is liable to an execution creditor for the amount of the execution in the following cases:

1. Where he suffers the twenty days to elapse without making a true return of the execution and filing the same with the clerk of the court, and paying to him or to the party entitled thereto the money collected thereon.

2. Where he willfully or negligently omits to levy on property of the defendant, or, if the defendant is liable to arrest, to arrest and imprison him within the twenty days, or, having arrested the defendant, fails to commit him to the county jail within the twenty days.

§ 142. [Am'd, 1916.] Return of execution and satisfaction of judgment.

1. Judgments of this court may be satisfied and discharged and the record thereof cancelled in the same manner as judgments of the supreme court, except as otherwise provided in this section.

2. If no execution has been issued to a marshal and no transcript of the judgment has been filed in the office of a county clerk, the judgment may be satisfied by depositing with the clerk of the court in the district where the judgment is entered the full amount due on the judgment, with interest to the date of deposit; whereupon the clerk must mark the record of the judgment satisfied.

3. When a transcript of a judgment has been filed in the office of a county clerk and no execution has been issued to a sheriff, the judgment may be satisfied by depositing with the said county clerk the full amount due on the judgment, with interest to the date of deposit, accompanied by a certificate of the sheriff of the same county, dated on the day of deposit, that no execution upon the judgment is in his hands; whereupon the said county clerk shall cancel and discharge the docket of the judgment.

4. When a judgment docketed in the office of a county clerk has been satisfied or discharged, the county clerk must issue, on payment of his fees, a certificate of the fact, and upon filing said certificate in the office of the clerk of any other county where the judgment has been docketed, the clerk of such county must enter satisfaction of the judgment accordingly.

Am'd by L. 1916, c. 508 (in effect May 11, 1916).

TITLE VIII.

Clerks and Marshals.

Article 1. Clerks.
2. Marshals.

ARTICLE FIRST.

Clerks.

Sec. 143. Duties of the clerk.
144. Destruction of records and papers.

§ 143. Duties of the clerk.

The clerk in each district shall:

1. Exercise the powers imposed and perform the duties conferred upon him by this act and the rules and the resolutions of the board of justices, and those usually appertaining to his office; and in the exercise of such powers and the performance of such duties, conform to the directions of the court.

2. Keep the seal of the court and affix it to such papers and documents as he may be required to certify.

3. Keep a docket book in such manner as the rules may prescribe, and all other records and proceedings of the court, and act as custodian of all documents, books and records.

4. Keep the office open for the transaction of business during the hours designated by the rules and resolutions of the board of justices.

5. Attend the sittings of the court, administer oaths, receive verdicts of juries, and, in a proper case, adjourn causes, or, when no justice appears, adjourn causes to the next judicial day.

6. Assume charge and control of, and be responsible for, the general conduct of the business of his office and for the faithful discharge of the duties of the deputy and assistant clerks and other officers connected with the court.

7. Collect and receive all the fees, and account for and pay the same into the city treasury monthly, under oath, on the first day of each and every month or within three days thereafter, which account shall contain the title of each case and the amount of fees received therein; and the salary of such clerk shall not be paid until he shall have so accounted and paid. He shall perform no service until he shall have received the legal fees therefor.

8. Deliver to his successor in office the official seal and all papers, books and records on file in his office.

§ 144. Destruction of records and papers.

The board of justices may by resolution direct the clerk of a court to destroy any records or papers deposited or filed in his office which may be considered as no longer necessary.

ARTICLE SECOND.

Marshals.

Sec. 145. Marshals to continue in office; appointment of their successors; vacancies.
146. Bond of marshal.
147. Action on marshal's bond.
148. Filing of transcript of judgment with city clerk; reducing bond.
149. Reducing bond on payment.
150. Mayor to compel renewal of marshal's bond; removal of marshal.
151. General powers, duties and liabilities of marshals.
152. Removal and suspension on charges.
153. Payment of money received by marshals.

§ 145. Marshals to continue in office; appointment of their successors; vacancies.

The marshals of the city of New York in office when this act shall take effect shall continue to hold office until the end of their respective terms. The successors of said marshals shall be appointed by the mayor of said city for terms of six years. No person shall be appointed a marshal in a borough of which he is not a resident. The removal of a marshal from the borough in and for which he was appointed shall vacate his office. If a vacancy in the office of marshal shall occur otherwise than by the expiration of a term, the person appointed to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of the marshal whom he succeeds.

§ 146. Bond of marshal.

1. No marshal shall be permitted to enter upon the duties of his office until he shall have given a bond as herein prescribed. The bond shall be executed by the marshal with two sufficient sureties, who shall be residents of the city of New York and each of whom shall be the owner of real estate therein of the value of double the penalty of the bond, which shall be the sum of three thousand dollars. The bond shall provide that the marshal and the sureties shall jointly and severally answer to the city of New York and any persons that may complain, for the true and faithful execution by such marshal of the duties of his office. The bond shall be submitted for approval to a justice of the court in the district in which the marshal was appointed; and such justice shall have power to require that the sureties justify before him within five days after the bond shall have been submitted, and shall approve or reject the bond within five days thereafter. When so approved, the bond shall be filed with the city clerk of the city of New York.

2. The bond must be executed, approved and filed within thirty days after the appointment of the marshal or he shall be deemed to have declined his appointment and another person shall be appointed in his place.

§ 147. Action on marshal's bond.

An action upon the bond of a marshal may be brought and prosecuted to judgment in this court, upon leave obtained from a justice of this court, according to the provisions relating to an action in the supreme court by a private person upon an official bond.

§ 148. Filing of transcript of judgment with city clerk; reducing bond.

Upon the filing with the city clerk of a transcript of a judgment on the bond of a marshal, the city clerk shall make a memorandum on the bond of the time when and the court whereby such judgment was rendered and the amount thereof, and he shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents therefor, which the court rendering the judgment shall have power to include therein; and the bond shall be reduced by the amount of the judgment.

§ 149. Reducing bond on payment.

Whenever the sureties of the marshal shall pay the amount for which the action on the marshal's bond is brought, and the costs and disbursements incurred therein, or any part thereof, they shall be entitled to have such sum credited upon the bond upon presenting to the city clerk the affidavit of the plaintiff or his attorney in such action, acknowledging the payment; whereupon such clerk shall endorse the payment on the bond and the bond shall be reduced by the amount so paid.

§ 150. Mayor to compel renewal of marshal's bond; removal of marshal.

Whenever judgment shall be rendered on the bond of a marshal, or the bond shall be reduced as provided in the last preceding section, the city clerk shall report the fact to the mayor. If the amount of the judgment is equal to or greater than the amount of the bond the mayor shall direct the marshal to furnish a new bond; or, if the amount of the judgment is less than the amount of the bond, or in case of a reduction thereof, the mayor shall direct the marshal to furnish an additional bond in the penal sum of double the amount of the judgment or the reduction. If the marshal fails to comply with such direction within ten days after notice thereof, he shall be removed from office.

§ 151. General powers, duties and liabilities of marshals.

The authority of a marshal extends throughout the city of New York. Except as otherwise prescribed in this act or in the rules, every execution, order of arrest, warrant of attachment, requisition to replevy, warrant of seizure, or other mandate of the court shall be served and executed by a marshal, and all provisions of law relating to the powers, duties and liabilities of sheriffs in like cases and in respect to the taking and restitution of property, shall apply to marshals. Every marshal shall keep a record of his official acts in such manner as shall be prescribed by the board of justices.

§ 152. Removal and suspension on charges.

The mayor may remove any marshal for cause, provided that written charges are first filed with the mayor, and that the marshal be given due notice thereof and be afforded an opportunity to be heard; and the mayor may, in his discretion, suspend said marshal from the performance of his official duties pending a hearing upon the charges. Upon charges being preferred against a marshal by a justice of the municipal court, the mayor shall forthwith cause notice of suspension of the marshal to be served upon him, and the marshal shall thereupon remain suspended until the hearing and determination of the charges. The mayor may, in his discretion, delegate to the secretary to the mayor the power and duty of hearing the evidence to be produced upon the said hearing, and in such case the said secretary shall have the power to issue subpœnas, administer oaths and take the evidence and shall submit the same to the mayor who shall forthwith make a determination thereon, which shall have the same force and effect as if the evidence had been taken before the mayor in person.

§ 153. Payment of money received by marshals.

Within five days after a marshal shall have collected or received any money upon any process of the court, he shall pay the same, less his lawful fees and disbursements, to the person entitled thereto, or to his attorney, or to the clerk of the court in the district from which such process was issued. Upon his failure to do so he may be proceeded against as for a contempt. The clerk of the court with whom such money is deposited shall pay the same on demand to the person entitled thereto or to his attorney.

TITLE IX.

Appeals.

Sec. 154. Judgments and orders appealable.
155. Review of intermediate orders.
156. Time to appeal.
157. Notice of appeal.
158. Supplying omissions; amendments.
159. Stay of execution pending appeal.
160. Exception to and justification of sureties.
161. Settlement of case and return on appeal.
162. Death of party.
163. Remittitur and return of papers.

§ 154. Judgments and orders appealable.

A party aggrieved may appeal to the supreme court, except when the judgment or order or final order was rendered or made upon his default from

1. A judgment in an action;
2. A final order in a special proceeding;
3. An order granting or denying a new trial;
4. An order granting or denying a motion to open a default and to vacate a judgment entered thereon;
5. An order granting or denying a motion to vacate a judgment or a final order upon the ground that the judgment was rendered or the final order made without service of summons or process;
6. An order granting or denying a motion to discharge a defendant from arrest, or an order granting or denying a motion to vacate or modify a warrant of attachment or a requisition to replevy or a warrant of seizure;
7. An order sustaining or overruling an objection taken to a pleading as prescribed in sections 88 and 89 of this act, provided that leave to appeal be granted either by the justice who made the order or by a justice of the appellate court;
8. An order which the court had not the power to make.

§ 155. Review of intermediate orders.

An appeal taken from a judgment or final order brings up for review an intermediate order which is specified in the notice of appeal and necessarily affects the judgment or final order and has not already been reviewed upon a separate appeal.

An order made after judgment or final order is deemed to have been made in the action or special proceeding within the meaning of this section.

§ 156. Time to appeal.

An appeal must be taken within twenty days after the entry of the judgment or order or final order. The right to review an intermediate order is not affected by the expiration of the time within which a separate appeal therefrom might have been taken.

§ 157. Notice of appeal.

An appeal is taken by filing with the clerk of the court in the district where the judgment, order or final order is entered, a written notice of appeal, subscribed by the appellant or by his attorney, and the clerk shall give notice thereof to the respondent or his attorney in the manner prescribed by the rules.

§ 158. Supplying omissions; amendments.

Defects or omissions in the proceedings necessary to perfect an appeal or to stay execution of the judgment, final order or order appealed from may be supplied, or amendment of such proceedings may be granted, by the appellate court in like manner as though the appeal were taken from a judgment, final order or order of the supreme court.

§ 159. Stay of execution pending appeal.

1. The appellant may stay execution by filing with the clerk and serving, as hereinafter provided, a written undertaking executed by one or more sureties approved by a justice of the court, to the effect that if the appeal is dismissed, or if judgment is rendered against the appellant in the appellate court and an execution issued thereon is returned wholly or partly unsatisfied, the sureties will pay the amount of the judgment or the portion thereof remaining unsatisfied, not exceeding a sum specified in the undertaking, which must be at least one hundred dollars, and not less than twice the amount of the judgment; or, if the judgment is for the recovery of a chattel, that the sureties will pay the value of the chattel together with costs and the damages, if any, awarded by the judgment. If execution has been issued, the service upon the sheriff or marshal of a copy of the undertaking, certified by the clerk or accompanied by an affidavit showing that it is a copy thereof and that the original has been duly filed, stays further proceedings under the execution, subject to the provisions of the section next following.

2. In lieu of an undertaking, the appellant may stay execution by depositing with the clerk a sum of money equal to the amount of the judgment, with interest thereon for one year, and fifty dollars in addition.

§ 160. Exception to and justification of sureties.

The respondent or his attorney may, within five days after notice by the clerk of the filing of the undertaking, serve upon the appellant or his attorney a written notice that he excepts to the sufficiency of the sureties. Within five days thereafter, the sureties, or other sureties in a new undertaking to the same effect, must justify on at least three days' notice, before the court in the district in which the judgment was rendered. The court must endorse upon the undertaking or a copy thereof its allowance or rejection of the sureties. If the sureties fail or refuse to justify after service of the notice of exception, the respondent may proceed as if no undertaking had been executed.

§ 161. Settlement of case and return on appeal.

1. When an appeal has been taken as herein prescribed, the stenographer's original transcript of minutes must be furnished to the clerk within ten days after the fees therefor have been paid. Immediately upon receiving such minutes the clerk shall cause notice of that fact to be sent to the attorney for the appellant, or to the appellant if he has not appeared by attorney. The appellant or his attorney shall then procure the case to be settled on a written notice of at least three days to the clerk and to the attorney for the respondent or to the respondent if he has not appeared by attorney, returnable before the justice who tried the case. The clerk must thereupon make a return to the appellate court, which must contain the summons or precept, pleadings, evidence and judgment or final order and all other necessary papers and proceedings, and have annexed thereto the opinion of the court, if any, and the notice of appeal. The justice before whom the case was tried shall within five days from the date of the submission to him of the case on appeal, settle the case and endorse his settlement on the return. The clerk must thereupon cause the return to be filed with the clerk of the appellate court. After a justice is out of office he may settle the case in any action or proceeding tried before him and may be compelled by the appellate court so to do.

2. Where no testimony was taken and a settlement of a case is not required, the return shall be made by the clerk forthwith upon filing the notice of appeal. Such return shall contain the judgment, order or final order appealed from and all the original papers upon which the judgment, order or final order was rendered or made, duly authenticated by the certificate of the clerk having the custody thereof, or copies thereof duly certified by such clerk, and shall have annexed thereto the opinion of the court, if any, and the notice of appeal.

3. Upon an appeal from an order granting or denying a motion for a new trial, upon the ground of fraud or newly discovered evidence, the stenographer's minutes of the trial shall be included in the return of the clerk and the provisions of subdivision one of this section shall apply to such an appeal.

§ 163. Death of party.

When a party dies before an appeal has been taken, or when a party to an appeal dies before the appeal is heard, the proceedings after his death shall be governed by the provisions applicable to similar cases in the supreme court, and an order substituting the proper representative of the decedent as a party may be made on application by the survivor or by such representative, on notice.

§ 163. Remittitur and return of papers.

The judgment or order of the appellate court must be remitted for enforcement to the court below; and the clerk of the appellate court shall return to the clerk of the court in the district from which the appeal was taken, all the papers upon which the appeal was heard.

TITLE X.

Costs and fees.

Sec. 164. Sums allowed.
165. No costs on plea of bankruptcy.
166. When defendant entitled to increased costs.
167. Costs allowed by court.
168. Costs in action by working woman.
169. Taxation of costs and disbursements.
170. Disbursements allowable.
171. Review of taxation.
172. Costs upon appeal; amount.
173. Fees payable to the clerk.
174. Employee's action; no fees.
175. No fees or costs in state and city actions.
176. Witnesses' fees.
177. Stenographer's fees.
178. Marshals' fees.

§ 164. Sums allowed.

In all actions there shall be allowed to the prevailing party, if he shall have shown that he has appeared by attorney, the following sums as costs:

1. To the plaintiff. Where, upon issue joined and after trial, the plaintiff recovers judgment: For fifty dollars and under one hundred dollars, ten dollars; for one hundred dollars and under two hundred dollars, fifteen dollars; for every additional one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof, five dollars.

2. To the plaintiff. If the defendant interposes a counterclaim in excess of plaintiff's claim and the plaintiff recovers judgment, costs shall be allowed on the amount of the counterclaim at the same rate as if it were the amount of the plaintiff's recovery. If the counterclaim is less than the plaintiff's claim, costs shall be governed by plaintiff's recovery.

3. To the plaintiff. Where the plaintiff recovers judgment upon the defendant's failure to answer, costs shall be allowed at one-half of the rates prescribed in subdivision one of this section.

4. To the plaintiff. For each necessary defendant served with the summons by a person other than a marshal, one dollar.

5. To the plaintiff. Upon settlement after service of summons and before trial, plaintiff shall be entitled to costs at the rates prescribed in subdivision three of this section, determined by the amount of the settlement.

6. To the plaintiff. Upon settlement during or after trial and before entry of judgment, plaintiff shall be entitled to costs at the rates prescribed in subdivision one of this section, determined by the amount of the settlement.

7. To the defendant. Where the defendant recovers judgment after trial, costs shall be awarded to him at the rates prescribed in subdivision one of this section, based on the plaintiff's demand in the summons, but if the defendant recovers judgment in excess of the amount claimed by the plaintiff in the summons, costs shall be based on the amount of the recovery of the defendant.

8. To the defendant. Where the defendant recovers judgment on the plaintiff's failure to appear, costs to be awarded to the defendant shall be one-half of those provided in subdivision seven of this section.

9. To the defendant. Where the plaintiff discontinues before trial, costs to be awarded to the defendant shall be the same as those provided in subdivision eight of this section; and where the plaintiff discontinues during the trial such costs shall be the same as those provided in subdivision seven of this section.

10. To either party. Where no provision for costs is otherwise made, the court, in its discretion, may award a sum not exceeding ten dollars.

11. If the action is for the recovery of a chattel or the foreclosure of a lien, the amount of the costs shall be governed by the value of the chattel or the amount of the lien as determined in the judgment or claimed by the adverse party, as the case may be.

12. The costs provided for in this section shall in no event exceed the sum of seventy-five dollars.

§ 165. No costs on plea of bankruptcy.

Where the defendant recovers judgment upon the defense of bankruptcy, he shall not be entitled to costs.

§ 166. When defendant entitled to increased costs.

The provisions applicable to increased costs to a defendant in the supreme court shall apply to this court, except that the costs recoverable shall be the amounts prescribed in this title and, in addition, one-half thereof.

§ 167. Costs allowed by court.

The court may, in its discretion, in addition to the other terms and conditions in this act provided, impose costs not exceeding ten dollars, in the following cases:

1. Upon granting or denying a motion.
2. Upon sustaining or overruling an objection taken to a pleading as prescribed in sections 88 and 89 of this act.
3. Upon allowing an amendment to a pleading.
4. Upon adjournment of a trial.

§ 168. Costs in action by working woman.

In an action brought to recover a sum of money for wages earned by a female employee, or for materials furnished by her in the course of her employment or in or about the subject-matter thereof, or for both, the plaintiff may, in the discretion of the court, be allowed the sum of ten dollars as costs irrespective of any other costs which she may recover; provided, however, that if the amount of damages recovered is less than ten dollars, she may be allowed the sum of five dollars as such additional costs.

§ 169. Taxation of costs and disbursements.

Costs, and in addition thereto, fees paid to the clerk and the prospective fees of the county clerk and the sheriff, must be taxed by the clerk forthwith upon rendition of judgment and inserted therein. Other taxable disbursements shall be taxed by the clerk on two days' notice to be given by the party entitled thereto to the adverse party. The clerk shall also tax costs allowed by the appellate court and shall enter all items of costs and disbursements in the docket book. All disbursements taxable on notice must be verified by affidavit. The clerk must examine all items presented to him for taxation, and, before allowing any disbursements, must be satisfied that the items were necessarily incurred or that the services for which they are charged were necessarily performed.

§ 170. Disbursements allowable.

A party to whom costs are awarded shall be allowed his necessary disbursements as follows:

1. All fees paid to the clerk or a marshal, including jury fees.
2. The legal fees of witnesses.
3. The legal fees paid for a certified copy of a deposition or other paper recorded or filed in any public office, necessarily used or obtained for use on the trial.
4. The reasonable compensation of commissioners for taking depositions.
5. Prospective charges for filing a transcript with the county clerk and the sheriff's fees for receiving and returning an execution.
6. Such other reasonable and necessary expenses as are prescribed by law or taxable by express provision of law.

§ 171. Review of taxation.

Within ten days the clerk's taxation may be reviewed by the court upon two days' notice. The order must disallow any items wrongfully included in the judgment or add any items wrongfully omitted therefrom, and direct that any sum so disallowed be credited upon any execution or other mandate issued to enforce the judgment. Unless a motion for review of the taxation is asked for, the clerk's taxation cannot be questioned on appeal.

§ 172. Costs upon appeal; amount.

Costs upon an appeal may be awarded by the appellate court in its discretion, and if awarded shall be as follows:

To the appellant upon reversal, not more than thirty dollars.

To the respondent upon affirmance, not more than twenty-five dollars.

To either party upon modification, not more than twenty-five dollars.

§ 173. Fees payable to the clerk.

There shall be paid to the clerk the following sums as court fees in an action, and there shall be no others:

1. Upon filing summons with proof of service thereof, one dollar.
2. Before or at the beginning of the trial, as a trial fee, one dollar.
3. On filing notice of appeal, two dollars.
4. For issuing an order of arrest, a warrant of attachment, a requisition to replevy, or a warrant of seizure, one dollar.
5. For entry of judgment upon confession, one dollar.
6. On demanding a trial by a jury of six, three dollars; by a jury of twelve, six dollars.
7. For certifying a copy of a paper on file in the clerk's office, ten cents for each folio of one hundred words, except a return on appeal.

All fees shall be prepaid before the service shall be performed.

§ 174. Employee's action; no fees.

When the action is brought by an employee against an employer for services performed by such employee, the clerk shall not demand or receive any fees whatsoever from the plaintiff or his attorney, if the plaintiff shall present proof by his own affidavit that his demand is less than fifty dollars, that he is a resident of the city of New York, that he has a good and meritorious cause of action against the defendant and the nature thereof, that he has made either a written or a personal demand upon the defendant or his agent for payment thereof and that payment was refused; provided that if the plaintiff shall demand a trial by jury, he must pay to the clerk the fees therefor.

§ 175. No fees or costs in state and city actions.

In an action brought in the name of the people of the state of New York by the attorney-general, or in the name of the city of New York or of any department, board or officer thereof, by the corporation counsel of the city of New York, for the recovery of a penalty, no fees shall be required to be paid by the plaintiff to the clerk and no costs shall be taxed against the plaintiff; but in case such plaintiff recovers judgment, the costs and taxable disbursements shall be included therein, and if collected shall be accounted for.

§ 176. Witnesses' fees.

Witnesses in an action or a special proceeding or before a commissioner or justice of this court taking a deposition, are entitled to a fee of fifty cents for each day's attendance.

§ 177. Stenographer's fees.

In all cases of appeal from an order, final order or judgment, where a transcript of the stenographer's minutes of the testimony given on trial or hearing becomes a necessary part of the return on appeal, the stenographer's fees for making up such transcript shall be ten cents for every one hundred words actual count, and shall be paid in the first instance by the appellant and be taxable by him as a disbursement on the appeal.

§ 178. Marshals' fees.

Fees shall be allowed to marshals as follows:

For serving a summons, precept, order of arrest, requisition to replevy, warrant of seizure or warrant of attachment, on each defendant served, one dollar.

For a copy of a warrant of attachment served on a person other than the defendant and for the making of an inventory of the property attached, fifty cents.

For levying an execution or selling under an attachment, five cents for every dollar collected to the amount of one hundred dollars, and two and a half cents for every dollar collected over one hundred dollars.

For every mile, over one mile, one way only, when serving an order of arrest, requisition to replevy, warrant of seizure, warrant of attachment or execution, six cents, to be computed from the clerk's office of the court out of which the mandate was issued to the place where it was executed;

For accompanying a party to obtain security ordered by the court, one dollar for each hour actually consumed;

For taking the defendant into custody on an order of arrest, execution or commitment, two dollars and fifty cents;

For serving a subpœna, fifty cents;

For every levy actually made by virtue of an execution, one dollar;

For executing a warrant in a summary proceeding to recover possession of real property, one dollar, and the same fees for traveling to execute the same as are herein allowed for executing other mandates;

For advertising for sale any property by virtue of an execution, one dollar;

For each day's necessary attendance at such sale, one dollar.

The said marshals shall perform all other services required of them by law, without any fees or compensation, and no other fees, charges, or compensation shall be allowed to, demanded or charged by them.

TITLE XI.

Definitions; construction and effect of act.

Sec. 179. Definitions.
180. Presumption of regularity.
181. Saving clause.
182. Construction.
183. Sections of code not applicable.
184. Laws repealed.

RULES OF THE MUNICIPAL COURT OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

Rules of the Municipal Court of New York City.

(Adopted July 13, 1915, to go into effect September 1, 1915.)

(Amended to May, 1916.)

Rules 1 to 26, in effect September 1, 1915.
Rules 27 to 32, in effect October 23, 1915.
Rule 33, in effect March 1, 1916.
Rule 34, in effect January 19, 1916.

RULE I.

When court open. — Court shall open at 9 o'clock in the forenoon. At least one of the justices shall be in attendance until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. On Saturdays one justice shall be in attendance between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 12 o'clock noon in each borough in a district to be designated by the board of justices for the transaction of such business as may be determined by a justice of this court. During the months of July and August, court shall be held on such days as the justice presiding in each district may designate.

RULE II.

Call of calendar; in what part. — In a district where more than one part has been established the trial calendar shall be called, and precepts in summary proceedings, orders to show cause and notices of motion shall be returnable in part one. The call of the calendar shall precede the transaction of any other business. Motions shall be heard immediately after the call of the calendar.

RULE III.

Daily trial calendar. — The clerk in each district shall prepare a daily trial calendar which shall be posted in the clerk's office two days in advance. Causes shall be placed on the trial calendar according to their dates of issue. Adjourned causes shall be placed on a subsequent trial calendar in the order in which they have been adjourned.

RULE IV.

Order of causes on trial calendar. — Causes shall appear on the trial calendar in the following order:

(a) Causes in which judgments on default in pleading must be rendered on application to the court.

(b) Actions for wages.

(c) Other actions in which the amount claimed does not exceed fifty dollars.

(d) Summary proceedings to recover possession of real property.

(e) Hearings on objections taken under §§ 88 and 89 of the Municipal Court Code.

(f) Causes marked for a preference by the court on a preceding day.

(g) Actions on a written instrument for the payment of money only.

(h) Causes, not hereinabove enumerated, appearing for the first time on the trial calendar.

(i) Adjourned actions in causes not hereinabove enumerated.

RULE V.

Order in which causes will be tried. — Causes shall be tried in the order in which they appear on the calendar unless otherwise directed by the court; and in a district where more than one part is held, the justice calling the trial calendar shall assign causes for trial to a disengaged part in the order in which they appear on the calendar.

RULE VI.

Application to court for judgment by default; placed on calendar for what day. — Where the plaintiff can recover judgment upon the defendant's default in pleading only upon application to the court, the clerk, providing the plaintiff appears in person, shall place the cause upon the calendar on a day not less than three nor more than five days after the expiration of the time within which the defendant might have appeared, and shall notify the plaintiff by mail of the date. Where the plaintiff has appeared by attorney the clerk shall place such cause upon the trial calendar for a day to be fixed by the attorney in a notice to be filed with the clerk, such date, however, to be not less than three days from the filing of the notice unless otherwise directed by the court.

RULE VII.

How defendant to appear. — Where the defendant does not appear by attorney, he must at the time of answering give his address in writing to the clerk.

RULE VIII.

Filing of summons, or summons and complaint, with clerk; effect of not doing so. — If the summons, or the summons and complaint, is not filed in the office of the clerk as provided by subdivision 3 of § 22 or by § 23 of the Municipal Court Code, the defendant may within the time limited for joining issue, on complying with subdivision 3 of § 78 of the Municipal Court Code, file the copy of the summons, or of the summons and complaint served upon him, together with an affidavit of such service. Upon the request of the defendant the clerk must thereupon dismiss the action and in a proper case tax costs on such dismissal, or the defendant may have other appropriate relief.

RULE IX.

Calendar of causes reserved generally. — There shall be in each district a calendar of causes reserved generally on which calendar the clerk, unless otherwise directed by the court, shall place any cause after the same shall have been three times on the trial calendar. Any cause may be placed on such calendar by consent, or upon stipulation of the parties. Causes may be restored to the trial calendar on three days' notice, or on consent of the parties, for a day to be fixed by the court. Before an action shall be dismissed by the court pursuant to § 126 of the Municipal Court Code the clerk shall give such notice to the parties as the court may direct.

RULE X.

Extension of defendant's time to move or answer. — The defendant's time to move or answer pursuant to subdivision 5 of § 78 of the Municipal Court Code shall not be extended by an ex parte order for more than three days, and when said time shall have been extended by stipulation or order for three days or more, no further time shall be granted by order, except upon notice to the adverse party of the application for such order.

RULE XI.

Consent giving court further time to render judgment or order. — A consent giving the court further time to render judgment or decide a motion as provided in § 119 of the Municipal Court Code must be in writing or noted upon the minutes of the trial.

RULE XII.

Motions; on notice, and ex parte. — (a) Motions may be brought on for hearing on not less than three days' notice unless otherwise directed by the court.

(b) Ex parte applications may be made to and granted by any justice. The affidavit shall state whether any previous application has been made for such order, and if made, to what justice and what order or decision was made thereon and what new facts, if any, are claimed to be shown.

RULE XIII.

Papers in actions to be submitted to clerk, and to be sent by him to the justice. — All papers in actions or proceedings shall be submitted to the clerk of the district in which such actions or proceedings are pending and it shall be the duty of the clerk to forward such papers promptly to the justice to whom they are to be submitted.

RULE XIV.

Attorney's endorsement on summons, etc., deemed an appearance. — The endorsement of the name and address of the attorney on the summons, pleading or any other paper filed in an action shall be deemed an appearance within the meaning of § 164 of the Municipal Court Code.

RULE XV.

Papers on appeal to Appellate Term. — All copies of papers which are to be included on the return on appeal and prepared by the appellant as provided by rule 4 of the rules of the Appellate Term, for the hearing of appeals from the City Court of the City of New York and from the Municipal Court in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, shall be furnished by the appellant to the clerk at the time of filing the written notice provided for in § 161, subdivision 1, of the Municipal Court Code.

RULE XVI.

By whom case settled, in case of death or disability of trial judge. — In case of the death or disability or prolonged absence from the city of a justice the case on appeal may be settled by the justice presiding in part one in the district in which the judgment was entered with the same force and effect as if he had tried the case.

RULE XVII.

Precepts in summary proceedings; when filed. — Precepts in summary proceedings must be filed at least one day before the return day thereof, unless by direction of the court they are made returnable on the same day as issued, or the day after.

RULE XVIII.

Secretary of Board of Justices to preserve papers, records, etc. —It shall be the duty of the secretary of the Board of Justices to safely keep in his possession, as public records, all papers, documents or records which he is required by law or by the rules or resolutions of the Board of Justices to keep, which records shall be open for public inspection.

RULE XIX.

When office of clerk open and employees to attend. — The office of the clerk shall open at 8:45 o'clock in the forenoon of each day and shall remain open for the transaction of business until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, excepting Saturdays, when the office shall close at noon, and the months of July and August, during which months the office shall close at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The clerks and other employees shall report for duty promptly at the places to which they are assigned at 8:45 o'clock in the forenoon of each day and shall be in attendance until the close of the office or such later time as may be required to complete the business of the day, or as the court may from time to time direct.

RULE XX.

Duties of deputies, assistants, interpreter, stenographer, etc. — (a) The duties of the deputy clerks, assistant clerks, and other employees shall be designated by the clerk in conformity with the statutes and the rules of this court and subject to the approval of the justices of the district to which they are assigned or a majority of them.

(b) The attendants shall while on duty wear such uniforms and badges as may be prescribed by the Board of Justices. The interpreter shall wear an official badge during the sessions of the court.

(c) The stenographer shall be in attendance during the sessions of the court and at such other times and places as the justice to whom he is assigned may direct.

(d) It shall be the duty of the attendants to maintain order in and about the court and the offices thereof and perform such other duties in connection with the work of the court as the justices shall require.

(e) The clerk shall each month, at such time and in such manner as required by law and the rules of the finance department of the City of New York, pay all moneys received by him for the use of or on behalf of the city during the preceding month to the Comptroller of the City of New York. A summary of such receipts and a detailed statement of the business of the court for the preceding month shall be filed with the secretary of the Board of Justices not later than the fifth day of the following month.

(f) The clerk in each district shall keep account of the moneys received by him and from day to day shall deposit such moneys in such bank as the Comptroller of the City of New York may designate.

RULE XXI.

Books kept by clerk in each district. — The clerk in each district shall keep the following books and make therein the entries hereinbelow directed:

(a) Books to be known as the current docket books. Each page in each book shall be numbered in a series of consecutive numbers for each year and shall be devoted to one action. On the page so numbered the clerk shall enter the title of the action with the names of the plaintiff and defendant and attorneys in full, and in chronological order the dates of filing the summons and pleadings, and the verdict, judgment, or other disposition of the action as of the date of rendering thereof; also all orders in the action, and the date of the appeal, if any, together with the disposition thereof. Specific entries shall be made of the judgment, the costs and disbursements as taxed and the prospective disbursements together with the execution, if issued, or transcript, if given, and any other matter affecting the judgment. All entries shall be made in the action on the same page of the docket, except in actions where the entries are so voluminous as to require one or more additional pages, in which case the entries shall be continued under the same number upon other pages of that, or a subsequent docket book, references thereto being noted at the end of the first and all additional pages.

(b) An alphabetical index of all actions entered in the current docket books during any year shall be indexed in the name of the plaintiff, or where there is more than one plaintiff in the name of the plaintiff whose name first appears on the summons. The serial number of the action as it appears in the current docket book shall be entered opposite the name indexed.

(c) An alphabetical index of all judgments entered in the current docket books, on which an execution is issuable. The judgments shall be indexed in the name of the judgment debtor; or where there is more than one judgment debtor, in the name of each judgment debtor. The name or names of the judgment creditor or creditors shall be entered opposite the name of each judgment debtor. The serial number and year of the action in which the judgment was rendered shall be entered opposite the name indexed.

(d) A docket book of summary proceedings in which shall be entered the date of the precept, the time of its return, the date of filing of other pleadings, the particulars of the final order, the date of the issuing of a warrant and to whom the same was issued, the return thereof and the particulars of such return. Such docket book shall contain an index of each proceeding to be entered in the name of the petitioner. The requirements as to indexing and numbering for actions shall not apply to summary proceedings.

RULE XXII.

Date of placing cause on calendar to be entered on general calendar. — It shall be the duty of the clerk to enter upon the general calendar provided for by § 95 of the Municipal Court Code the date on which each cause is placed upon said general calendar and the date upon which it shall first be placed on the trial calendar, together with the serial number of the cause.

RULE XXIII.

Each action to have a serial number in current docket book, and all papers filed to bear said number and the year. — The clerk shall upon receipt of the first paper of an action to be filed in his office stamp the same upon the front page with one of a series of consecutive numbers and the proper year and immediately make an entry in the current docket book as provided by rule 21. All papers thereafter to be filed in the action shall bear the same number and year as the first paper filed as aforesaid. Each number shall constitute a part of the title of such action. After the action shall have received a number the clerk is authorized to refuse to receive or file any paper upon which the number and year assigned thereto does not plainly appear. Whenever a paper appertaining to any action begun prior to the first day of September, 1915, is filed with the clerk, the clerk shall upon receipt of such paper stamp the same on the front page with a number, and the year, and shall make such entries in the current docket book for that year as if such paper were the first paper filed in the action, and the clerk shall stamp or endorse that number upon every paper in said action theretofore filed in his office, and shall make the proper entries in the docket book in the same manner as if such docketing had been begun with the first paper in such action.

RULE XXIV.

Practice as to numbering actions, when causes transferred from one district to another. — Whenever a cause of action and all papers relating thereto are transferred from one district to another, the clerk in the district to which the action has been transferred shall stamp the same with a serial number and the year, as if it were the first paper filed in his office and shall make proper entries in the current docket book, as if such docketing had been begun with the first paper in such action. Where an action shall be transferred from one district to another for trial only, the clerk of the district to which the cause shall have been transferred for trial shall not stamp the papers with any serial number nor make any entries in the current docket book, but shall make an appropriate minute upon the general or trial calendar and shall after the conclusion of the trial upon the rendering of the verdict or receipt of the justice's decision forthwith remit all the papers in the action to the clerk of the district from which the same has been transferred.

RULE XXV.

Notice by clerk of the filing of an appeal. — The notice of the filing of an appeal as provided by § 157 of the Municipal Court Code shall be given by the clerk immediately upon the filing thereof by mailing a prepaid postal card, to the attorney for the respondent, addressed to his office, or where the respondent has not appeared by attorney, to the respondent at his address. A minute of the mailing of such notice shall be entered in the current docket book.

RULE XXVI.

Stenographer's minutes; his fees for transcripts. — (a) The stenographer's minutes of the trial shall be transcribed and typewritten on such paper and in such manner so as to conform with the rules in that respect which may from time to time be adopted by the Appellate Terms for the First and Second Departments, respectively.

(b) The fees of the stenographer for a transcript of his minutes pursuant to § 177 of the Municipal Court Code shall be deposited with the clerk of the district where the action or proceeding is pending, who upon filing of the transcript shall pay the amount deposited to the stenographer. The deposit must be made by the appellant within five days after the filing of the notice of appeal as provided by § 157 of the Municipal Court Code, and within ten days after such deposit the stenographer must file the transcript of his minutes with the clerk.

RULE XXVII.

Transfer of action to proper district; application therefor. — Where a demand for a transfer of an action to the proper district has been filed in accordance with subdivision 2 of § 17 of the Municipal Court Code the application for the transfer must be made to the court on notice to the plaintiff.

RULE XXVIII.

Service of summons upon co-defendants. — Where two or more defendants are joined in an action the plaintiff shall file the summons or the summons and complaint with proof of service upon the first defendant served as required by subdivision 3 of § 22 of the Municipal Court Code and shall file proof of service upon the other defendants within two days after service upon each of them.

RULE XXIX.

Entry of judgment by default against co-defendants. — Where the clerk is required to enter judgment forthwith upon the defendant's failure to answer pursuant to § 80 of the Municipal Court Code, the plaintiff may at any time before entry of judgment file with the clerk a request in writing not to enter judgment against one or more defendants specified in said request. Upon the filing of such a request entry of judgment shall be postponed until the filing of a further request to enter judgment.

RULE XXX.

When damages are assessed by clerk, when judgment is taken by default, plaintiff is to file statement of cause of action. — Where the clerk upon defendant's failure to answer must ascertain the amount due to the plaintiff before entry of judgment as required by § 80 of the Municipal Court Code, the plaintiff shall file a statement setting forth the facts constituting the cause of action. The statement must be made by the affidavit of the person specified in § 525 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

RULE XXXI.

How hearing brought on when notice of special appearance is filed. — Where a notice of special appearance is filed pursuant to subdivision 8 of § 78 of the Municipal Court Code the hearing shall be brought on in the manner provided by § 95 of said code for bringing a cause on for trial.

RULE XXXII.

Notice of trial, when filed. — The notice of trial required by § 95 of the Municipal Court Code to be filed with the clerk, must be so filed at least three days before the date fixed for trial.

RULE XXXIII.

Each attorney to serve copies of papers upon opposing attorney. — Where both parties appear by attorney, copies of all pleadings, notices, demands and other papers in an action, which are required to be filed with the clerk, shall be served by the attorney filing the same upon the attorney for the adverse party, with notice of the date of filing, within one day of the date of such filing.

RULE XXXIV.

Security for costs. — The security for costs which plaintiff may be required to give, as prescribed in title 3 of chapter 21 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall be in such amount as the court or a justice thereof may direct, but in no case less than $25. An order to give additional security may be made by the court on notice, from time to time, as provided in § 3276 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
